Irvin Robbins and son, Mike, left last Thursday for a visit with relatives in Illinois.

Sgt. James R. Harris, Miss Edith Almstead Wed in New York on Saturday, August 29

S-Sgt. and Mrs. James R. Harris

A nuptial mass at St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church in Patchogue, L. I., N. Y. was the setting for the marriage of Miss Edith Theresa Almstead and S-Sgt. James Robert Harris, Saturday, July 29, in a double-ring ceremony. A reception was held in the Patchogue Hotel reception room.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Attending the couple was the bride's sister, Mrs. John del Gaizo as matron of honor and Sgt. Vernon D. Thomas as best man. The honor guard from the Marine Detachment at Great Neck, L.I. formed crossed sabers at the entrance of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Almstead of Patchogue. She served four years at the Pentagon with the Waves and has been employed the past four years with the State Department Foreign Service at the embassies in Sweden and Iceland.

The groom, son of Mrs. P. G. Harris Jr. of Sanderson and the late Mr. Harris, is stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C., with the U. S. Marine Corps and has just completed two years of foreign service with the American Embassies in Iceland and Italy.

The couple will be at home in Camp Lejeune. They left last week after visiting with his mother and other relatives here for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morris returned to Sanderson Monday from Abilene where they had spent the past two months.

Program Stresses Conservation For Culture Club Meet

To inaugurate the new club year, Mrs. C. F. Cox, president of the Sanderson Culture Club, had the first meeting at her ranch home last Thursday. Mrs. R. A. Gatlin was the co-hostess.

Mrs. Gatlin, conservation chairman, was in charge of the program which followed the address of welcome by Mrs. Cox and prayer by Mrs. L. H. Gilbreath.

The first speaker was Jimmy Pate of Alpine, secretary of the Big Bend Soil Conservation District and Board of Supervisors. He discussed the organization and operation of soil conservation districts, stressing the assistance in consultation and planning available at all times to anyone needing it throughout the districts.

Lamar Kay, work unit conservationist for Soil Conservation Service in Brewster County, showed pictures and charts to emphasize soil and water conservation practices.

"Water Resources and Water Pollution" was the subject of the discussion of B. G. Hill of Alpine, county agent for Brewster and Jeff Davis counties.

Mr. Cox, who has been very active in the Big Bend Soil Conservation District, took the guests to several areas of his ranch where the results of conservation practices were observed.

A barbecue supper was served on the lawn at the Cox home to 58 guests, including the club members and their families and several invited guests, including Mrs. Carl Williams, secretary of the Big Bend District Board, Don Allison of Pecos, area conservationist for the El Paso District; C. W. Cox of Monahans, range conservationist.

Baptist W.M.U. Has 'Responsibilities' As Study Topic

The Baptist W.M.U. met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. G. Cates who led the opening prayer after the hymn "Give Of Your Best" had been sung.

Mrs. R. A. Turner Jr. gave the devotional on "Responsibilities of Parents". For the Royal Service program, Mrs. C. E. Cash discussed "Way of Sunbeam Band"; Mrs. O. D. Gray, "I Was An Alien"; Mrs. James Word, "Sharing Possessions". A special period of prayer for the missionaries followed the reading of the names on the Prayer Calendar by Mrs. Cates.

During a short business session, plans were made for the observance of the State Mission Week of Prayer beginning Monday, Sept. 11. Plans were completed for the meeting of the Big Bend Association in the local church on September 21.

Butter-pecan cake, iced tea, and coffee were served during the social hour. Mrs. G. H. Carter was also among the members present.

Mrs. Ola Burdwell of Del Rio is visiting here with Mrs. M. G. Northeast.

Tea and Shower Honors Recent Bride, Mrs. Henry Dickson

Mrs. Henry Dickson of Houston, a recent bride, was honored at a tea and miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Herman Couch. Assisting hostesses were Mesdames Jack Hayre R. S. Wilkinson, and Clarence Jessup.

A pink and white color scheme was noted in the decorations and appointments for the tea.

In the receiving line with the honoree and Mrs. Couch were Mrs. Dickson's mother, Mrs. Sid Harkins, and her grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Corder. All wore corsages of white asters. Mrs. Dickson wore a corsage of white carnations with her red crepe afternoon dress.

A pink and white bridal bouquet was on the table with the bride's book where Susan Couch and Lelee Mitchell registered the guests.

Similar bridal bouquets tied with pink satin streamers surrounded the centerpiece of white asters flanked by pink candles in crystal holders arranged on the tea table, covered in a white cut-work linen cloth.

Pink cake squares decorated in tiny white rosebuds, pink punch, mints, and salted nuts were served.

The gifts were on display in the bedrooms.

Other members of the house party were Misses Susan Harkins, Peggie Cooke, and Susan Riley of Houston; also Mmes. Pinky Caruthers, David Mitchell, Bert Bell, and Charles Stegall.

Dr. and Mrs. K. T. Melugin of Grandfalls visited with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goldwire the first of the week.

GRASS ROOTS CAPITALISM

The newspapers recently ran a story that I thought was pretty significant. It gave real insight into our American economic system. The story reported that, for the first time, an American business had 2,000,000 owners. This important "first" was achieved by the Bell System, of which my company is a part.

Hugh and Irene Polson of Wichita, Kansas, are the two million shareowner. Pictured with them above are their two youngsters — Kay Louise, 9, and Stephen Hugh, 7.

The Polsons own and run their own pharmacy. And, even though they keep plenty busy with the drug store and duties at home, they take part in church, PTA and community activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Polson own ten shares of stock. They bought it as part of an investment plan to send their children to college. Like the Polsons, a great many investors — 3355,000, in fact — have fewer than 10 shares. Of the two million shareowners, nearly 850,000 are women and 300,000 are telephone employees.

"This is real evidence of 'grassroots capitalism,'" and I think Mr. and Mrs. Polson typify many of today's "grassroots" investors, who come from all walks of life, from all sections of the country.

As I said before, here is a truly significant story. Here is the nation's largest business, the Bell System, now owned by 2,000,000 people. Here is a dramatic testimonial to the American economic system. Here is democracy at work — with all the world to see.

TELEPHONE SATELLITES OF SAPPHIRE???
Future pathways for telephone messages and TV signals will go through space using platinum and sapphire covered satellites as relay stations. It seems incredible, and yet scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories say world-wide space communications can be a reality by 1964.

With the recent U.S. Government permission to allow A.T. & T. to purchase rockets, engineers plan to place a "necklace" of some 30 space satellites around the earth to relay signals from one country to another.

Why skins of platinum and sapphire? Well, these are active satellites which retransmit signals, therefore, they need a source of power.

Solar batteries will be used to extract power from sunlight to operate the satellite. But since a satellite needs to stay in orbit for perhaps 10 years without repairs, the solar cells must be protected from the rigors of space.

Platinum and sapphire was selected because it admits light and expands and contracts at the same rate as the other materials in the satellite shell. Incidentally, the solar cells are three times as costly as the man-made sapphire.

Isn't it interesting to know that the resources of space will eventually be harnessed for the good old television set.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

dreds of people during such a time.

Certainly, we would advocate scattering those things out so that congested conditions would not exist within each shelter or any certain area. But they could be scattered out over a lot of area in this country and still not be congested.

This would cause employment and boost the economy of the county and thus eliminate Terrell County from the list of hard-ship counties of the nation. And, too, it would be necessary to keep someone on hand at each of those sites to prevent molestation of property and contents, and to be in charge in case the shelters were used as needed. It would also be necessary to have someone in authority to distribute the necessities that were stored there, such as clothing, water, food, medical supplies, etc.

Sanderson is ideally situated to serve in such a humane capacity. Such places as this could well be the centers of civilizations in the future.

And don't scoff! Many much more hair-brained ideas as this originated in the minds of people both smarter and dumber than we are and they now are realities that are with us to stay.

School Registration To Begin On Tuesday

Lieut. Junius Peak
Ranger
"We located our man at Round Rock . . ."

Back in 1873 a hard riding, fast shooting gent named Sam Bass was holding up too many Texas banks and railroad trains. Not less than 110 Bass-hunters—detectives, marshals, deputies, Pinkertons, express and railroad agents—were after him. But it took a Ranger and his special company to catch and erase the bold, bad bandit at Round Rock, on July 20. Lieut. Junius Peak commanded those Rangers. Before this historic event Junie Peak had proved his cool courage and good judgment in quite a few encounters with enemies and outlaws. Twice wounded in the Civil War, Peak subsequently served as deputy sheriff and marshal at Dallas. He had successfully mopped up New Mexico's biggest band of cattle thieves, scouted Indians and charred waterholes in West Texas. In 1880 Peak left the Ranger service for more peaceful pursuits such as railroad construction in Mexico and ranching in Shackelford County—another Ranger to leave his signature on the pages of Texas history.

Texas lawmen have always served their state well—as have Texas industry and commerce. Providing patrols and community revenue, one industry has also provided the refreshment of moderate beverages. In Texas the brewing industry "belongs." Brewers, wholesalers, retailers and the United States Brewers Association are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.
