LISTEN TO LUKE

There is a lot of news that could take up lots of columns of space from lots of columnators. We doubt that any or all of them would do a lot of good. We do not have a situation as occurring in Mississippi and we don't know what we would do with it if we had it. We feel a lot of compassion for a lot of people, but we don't know how a condition could have been eliminated, under the circumstances, and we don't know the solution to the problem. We do know that an impulsive act of any kind in a situation of this nature usually winds up in creating more confusion and usually more trouble. We think that the same thing is in consideration of the solution to the Cuban situation. We all think of a thousand and one things that we should do to stop the spread of Communism to that country that is so close to us but most of our thoughts are those of impulsive actions which, if carried out, might only lead to more trouble. Things sometimes get into a mess that it seems almost impossible to get them straightened out, and there seems to be no logical solution to them. It would seem to us that with all the vast network that surely a nation must have for the inspection of valuable information, that we should not be caught in the position we now are in as regards Cuba. There are those who are in positions of responsibility for such things who now have a good and proper criteria of what our present line of action should be, who are in the same position of responsibility during the time that the situation was getting where it is. And those same men at the time did something, or failed to do something which caused the situation to be where it is. Now they say that these are difficult times and we should have our faith and trust in those leaders we have with the experience they have. Right in the middle of the beginning of the World Series in baseball, we might could draw a parallel this way: Joe Blow pulled muscle in his arm and can't throw the ball or swing, but he's sick and can't run bases, his judgment has been so poor to be a coach. But all he is good for is to go to the comers-up and tell why he's such a horrible manager as a big-leaguer. But we find out that all his team mates are at shortstop on the opening because they have faith in his experience. It is in this series!

From all the publicity that we have seen about the air show in Dallas last Sunday, one might think that the air show was the best thing that ever happened. —Continued to Page 6

Texas Rangers Get Old Badges

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced this week that the Texas Rangers are going back to the tradition-steeped Mexican silver badge worn by their predecessors in frontier days. Garrison said the new official Ranger badge, issued to each of the 62 members of the force, is a replica of the badge which old-time Rangers carved out of Mexican silver pieces when Texas became a state and their duties changed from military to law enforcement. The best information available indicates that the five-pointed star on the badge symbolizes the "Lone Star" of Texas. The points are supported by an engraved wheel. When the Department of Public Safety was created in 1937 and the Rangers became part of it, this badge was replaced with a solid badge of somewhat different shape and design. Then in 1957, a different badge was adopted for all officers of the Department, including the Rangers. This is a modern version of the old Ranger badge, with a five-pointed star surrounded by a royal blue background. The history of the Rangers dates back to 1823 when Stephen F. Austin hired a contingent of 10 men to "range" over a wide area to protect his colonists from Indians. Since that time, the force has been synonymous with the suppression of crime and lawlessness and crime — first the Indians, then the bandits and cattle rustlers, then the outlaws of the early 20th century and finally the modern-day criminals.

W. E. 'Ab' Riggs, Deputy U.S. Marshal, Retires Sept. 14

Walter E. Riggs, Deputy United States Marshal, "The Old War Horse" of 40 years of law enforcement service, will have to be retired, says the Administrative Division of the Department of Justice, since Riggs has failed to meet the medical standards for men in that position. His retirement was requested as of September 14, although he will continue with pay in a leave status until August 31, 1963, when his accumulated leave will end. The new U. S. Marshal for the Western District of Texas, Jesse Dobbs, who has known Riggs for many years, after he had received the information that Riggs had been requested to retire made a trip to Washington, D.C. to protest his retirement, but to no avail, and was told that they must stay with regulations and that Riggs had failed to meet the medical standards for Deputy U.S. Marshals. Riggs stated that he has only one good eye and that his hearing in bad in one ear, and one leg is just screwed on, but he stated that he can still do anything other Deputy U.S. Marshals can do. At the time of Riggs' retirement he will have served 24½ years as a Deputy U. S. Marshal for the Western District of Texas; eight years as a Texas Ranger; six years as sheriff of Zavala County, the youngest sheriff in the state at that time; one year as Texas Game Warden; and three years as deputy sheriff of Zavala County, under Sheriff R. A. Nash, this was when he was only 17 years old. Riggs stated: "I guess I've seen every angle of law enforcement in the past 40 years, and now intend to spend my time tending to the ranch and farm, and surely my wife won't ask me to do any work, knowing that I'm retired on a disability provision." Mr. Riggs is the father of Jack and Dan Riggs, Terrell County ranchmen, and is well known over this entire area of Texas.

SEPTEMBER SONG

September, for many little ones in Sanderson, means the first day of school.

Which brings to mind a story I heard recently. Seems a young mother was patiently trying to teach her five-year-old daughter her home address in preparation for her coming kindergarten debut.

After her daughter repeatedly omitted or forgot some portion of the correct address, the mother asked, "But what will you do when the teacher asks you where you live, Debbie?"

After a moment's hesitation, Debbie replied, "I'll let Michael answer first, then I'll tell my teacher that I live across the street from him."

By golly, I'll bet Debbie does alright in school.

THOUGHT ON TELSTAR

Recalling the millions of dollars the Bell System spent in developing and launching the highly-successful Telstar satellite, one of our engineers tells me it's a good thing the world is round.

"Just think," he says, "what a square satellite orbit would have cost!"

COOK'S BEST FRIEND

What's the cook's best friend? Well, salt and pepper would rank high on the list, but for my money, a kitchen extension telephone would rate tops.

A kitchen phone lets you feed the baby . . . check the grocery list . . . or stir the stew—and keep right at it when the phone rings. A kitchen extension costs less than four pennies a day—mighty low cost when you consider all the step-saving convenience it gives.

We have colors and styles to suit your own good taste. Just call the business office or ask your telephone man.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

In Japan, there are two ways to get telephone service.

People who can wait three years for their phones apply to the Nippon Telegraph Corporation, a government-subsidized company. They must buy a $450 bond, which cannot be redeemed for 10 years and also pay a $28 installation charge.

A quicker but more expensive way is to go to a telephone broker. This costs from $500 to $1,500, if the customer is really in a hurry.

There are an estimated one million people on the telephone waiting list in Japan—210,000 in Tokyo alone.

Like I said, it's something to think about.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

State Capitol NEWS

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

Austin — Jack Cox and John Connally crossed paths on the campaign trail in Austin . . . and they waved at each other.

Connally was talking to the County Treasurers Association convention. He stepped out on the hotel balcony to watch Cox riding in a parade put on by Youth for Cox.

Inside the hotel, Connally was urging the county treasurers to pitch in and help support the Democratic ticket, else there might be Republican candidates for county treasurer next time.

Outside, Cox was urging youngsters to pitch in and help him to change Texas to a two-party state.

Office Space

Some of the legislators who get elected on November 6 will have office space at the Capitol. But some won't.

For two years now, space formerly occupied by State agencies has been in the process of conversion to offices for the 150 members of the House of Representatives. A few were occupied during the 1961 session.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, chairman of the House Rules Committee, had the chore of assigning offices, with not enough to go around.

Finally he hit upon a solution. He has 90 offices ready. So he and the Speaker-to-be Byron Tunnell of Tyler, agreed to assign the 90 offices to the representatives who will be returning.

There are 92 incumbents, including two Republicans, in the Nov. 6 election. One is Speaker-to-be Tunnell who not only will have an office, but also an apartment.

The 60 or so freshmen members will have to do what all representatives have done in the past — use their desks in the House chamber as their offices.

Court Photos
Junior Bar Association directors urged the State Bar Judicial section to leave it to individual trial judges whether to allow news photographers to take pictures in their courtrooms.

This is contrary to the views of the American Bar Association which thinks courtroom photography should be outlawed.

The upcoming Annual Conference of Texas Judges will vote on whether to adopt the American Bar's proposed ban on full news coverage of trials.

Licensing Boards

House Committee on Licensing and Examining Boards began a series of hearings in the Capitol, seeking ways to improve their operations and procedures. First questioned were representatives of the Board of Law Examiners, Board of Morticians, Real Estate Commission and Board of Examiners of Basic Sciences.

Ira Butler of Fort Worth, the chairman of the bar examiners, said he had heard no complaints about the operation of his board. Philip R. Overton, attorney for the morticians, forecast legislation next year dealing with the group's rules and regulations.

L. D. Ransom, executive secretary of the Real Estate Commission, said he would ask the next Legislature to make it a criminal offense to violate real estate laws.

School Prayers

Public schools in Texas are not prohibited from allowing prayers to be said or passages from the Bible to be read (as a result of the U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Engle vs. Vitale case), so long as the State or a political subdivision does not prescribe or approve the prayer or religious activity.

So said Attorney General Will Wilson in a legal opinion requested by J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education.

Crooked Holes

What may be the final session of the House General Investigating Committee's look into the East Texas oil scandal was held in Austin. Mainly, it was to allow production and drilling for 14 major companies to declare under oath that their companies

Here's what the other '63's wish they looked like.

Today—Wide-Track Pontiac '63

Obvious, isn't it, that Pontiac's come up with another beauty this year. Fresh over-and-under headlights, clean profile—but you can see that. There's a wider Wide-Track, too, and a full line of Trophy V-6's. (That ought to be enough to make these other cars turn green.) And we haven't mentioned such happy touches as self-adjusting brakes. So what, pray tell, could be keeping you from a new Pontiac of your own? A small suggestion. Don't run down to see one. Gallop! Wide-Track Pontiac luting the Sabine River, is hurting the rights of individual landowners by its operations, as has been charged.

The hearing also gave Chairman William J. Murrah Jr. of the Railroad Commission, an opportunity to testify that the Department of Public Safety has found no evidence to link Commission employees to the scandal, other than those former employees Murray asked the state police to investigate last March do not have any illegally deviated wells.

It also gave the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Co. a chance to defend itself.

Investigators got detailed lectures on the fluid mechanics of the big East Texas field. Stressed was how daily injection of some 450,000 barrels of salt water a day — back into the vast water-bearing formation — drives the oil to the surface.

Officials hotly denied that the disposal company, set up in 1942 as a cooperative venture to get rid of salt water which was polluting the oil to the surface.

Legislators on the committee seem certain to recommend some changes in the law as a means of providing surer punishment for those who violate Commission regulations, or who swear falsehoods.

Biggest Road Project
 Largest highway program ever put together in Texas was authorized by the State Highway Commission.

Covering super-highway work only, the program costs to $287,000,000 worth of construction and right-of-way buying during the coming two years. It will build 1,063 miles of expressway and buy right-of-way for 188 more miles.

When the work is completed about four years from now, it will double the completed mileage of interstate highways in Texas under the 90 per cent Federal-10 per cent State program.

Screwworm Funds Needed
 Texas Animal Health Commission will ask the Legislature for $1,500,000 as an emergency fund to continue the fight against the screwworms.

It will request another $1,500,000 to make up the state's one-fourth of the $12,000,000 program with stockmen putting up $3,000,000 and the Federal Government $6,000,000.

A statewide group opposing the most controversial of the 14 proposed Constitutional Amendments is mapping its fight in Austin, with the help of Governor Daniel.

Under fire is the amendment which would empower the Legislature to require trial de novo in appeals from decisions of administrative agencies and executive departments of the state or political subdivisions.

State Employs 58,300
 Latest figures compiled by the state officials for the Texas Almanac show 58,000 persons working for the State of Texas. Per capita, the State of Texas functions with 65 employees for each 10,000 citizens. This is well below the 79 employee average for all states.

33 varieties offered in Big parade of 1963 Chevrolet models

Chevrolet's parade of new products for 1963 includes four lines. Heading the list, which will be announced on September 28, is the luxurious Impala Sport Coupe (bottom), Chevy II 4-Door Sedan (left center), Corvair Monza Club Coupe (right center), and the new and startling Corvette Sting Ray Sport Coupe, the epitome of advanced styling. Chevrolet's wide choice of passenger cars includes 33 models in addition to 6 variations with special optional power-train combinations.

Texas is, in fact, among the lowest states. Some have nearly twice as many employees, per capita, as Texas.
Statewide Trend
 A statewide trend toward conservatism in state government is predicted by State Senator C. F. Herring of Austin.
 "Trend is evident," says Sen Herring, "by the election of so many new representatives with platforms that promise to take a closer look at government spending."

The veteran Austin legislator believes the public has become agitated and dissatisfied with the tendency toward more spending. He cites the defeat of several "old timers" in the Legislature as evidence; plus the nomination of many "new faces".
For Polio Action
 Texas Medical Association has joined with the State Department of Health in urging community-wide oral polio vaccine programs.

Both groups state that Sabir oral vaccine Type I and II are fully licensed and effective for infants and children.
 More than 70 per cent of the paralytic cases in Texas through September 15 occurred among persons who had received no Salk polio vaccination, says the Health Department.
 However, polio cases are slackening off. Only two of the five cases reported last week were paralytic.

Grand Prix Sports Coupe
Star of the 1963 Pontiac Line

The custom-built 1963 Grand Prix, the most distinctive series ever produced by Pontiac represents an idyllic combination of sports car appeal and superior performance. The styling theme of simplicity is predominant in the sweeping grille, with vertically arranged head lamps flanked by impressive parking and turn signal lamps; crisply sculptured side panels and a concave rear window — an industry first. These features are accentuated by the clean-flowing lines of the rear styling that enhances the lower, wider, longer look. The Grand Prix will make its debut in dealer showrooms on October 4.

NEWS-MAKING ROOF FROM MONTEREY. The advantages of Monterey's distinctive styling go far beyond its beauty. This is elegance that works. See how the recessed rear window slants inward? It stays clearer in rain or snow. On hot days, it opens for breezeway ventilation, the overhanging roof shades rear-seat passengers from the sun, gives more headroom, keeps glare off the rear window for better rearview visibility. More good news: a Mercury Marauder 390 V-8 is Monterey's standard engine.

SPARKLING NEW MODELS FROM METEOR. For 1963, Meteor is the hot brand. Meteor is the sparkler with a whole new line of models in the low-price field — sleek new low-to-the-road hardtops, sedans, and three new station wagons. Feel sporty?

Try the racy Meteor S-33 hardtop, with individually adjustable bucket seats and a handy console. For brilliant performance to match Meteor's sparkle, a new Lightning 260 V-8 is available in every model. And you save on upkeep with Mercury service-savers.

THE LID'S OFF COMET. Now a jaunty new convertible joins Comet's all-fun line. This sleek, rakish beauty comes in two models: the Custom and the dashing S-22. All Comets now have a complete package of with bucket seats and optional stick shift. All Comets now have a complete package of service-savers like self-adjusting brakes. And Comet still heads its class with the largest trunk, longest wheelbase, and best resale value record. See Comet's whole happy '63 line-up: convertibles, sedans, station wagons. Fun-test your favorite Comet now!

* Lincoln-Mercury Division, Ford Motor Company, warrants to its dealers, and its dealers, in turn warrant to Mercury owners as follows: That for 24 months or for 24,000 miles, whichever comes first, free replacement, including related labor, will be made by dealers of any part with a defect in workmanship or materials. Tires are not covered by the warranty. Appropriate adjustments will continue to be made by the tire companies. Owners will remain responsible for normal maintenance services, routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters, spark plugs, oil-change points, wiper blades and brake or clutch linings and normal deterioration of soft trim and appearance items.

He's politician enough to know that when a good crowd is gathered in a place like in the Midland-Odessa area, that it is a good time to make a talk. We think that his ability and intelligence in this respect should be recognized along with any other talents and abilities that he may have.
We think that the people of this area should go to the various car dealers of Sanderson and look at the new model cars. There are some interesting and convenient features in all of the new models that we have seen as well as in the information and pictures in press releases that we in the newspaper business have access to prior to the showing of the new cars publicly.
It seems that all of America enjoys looking at new cars even though there is no chance for so many of the lookers to buy. It is one of those old American customs - that of looking and wishing.
