LISTEN TO LUKE

The average age of the world's civilizations has been 200 years. These nations progressed through this sequence:

From Bondage to Spiritual
From Spiritual Faith to Great
From Great to Liberty
From Liberty to Abundance
From Abundance to Selfishness
From Selfishness to Complacency
From Complacency to Apathy
From Apathy to Dependence
From Dependence Back Again to Bondage

In 14 years, the United States will be 200 years old. This cycle is inevitable — IT DEPENDS ON YOU.

From The Scottish Rite Torch

We saw someone's interpretation of the reason for the use of the new ZIP code number that really made sense: It's for the postal employees who are unable to read.

The story on this page about the report of the hospital committee is given a place of prominence and in a prominent way, in our opinion, it should have a place of prominence in the thoughts and actions of all citizens.

We are not going to say that anyone should be for the proposal regardless, the same as we think that people should not be against it for the same reason.

We would hope, and it is the hope of even the most avid proponents of the proposal, as far as we are able to find out, that every eligible voter in the county will carefully weigh the facts presented by the committee. There is any doubt about any figures or estimates, make an investigation of your own and find out for yourself what the facts are, and bring these facts to light.

It is our opinion that the committee did exactly what the Commissioners' Court asked them to do, and we believe they did it in the absolute best way they knew how to do it without bias or prejudice.

One will have to understand that there are some big questions that cannot be erased or overlooked. This fact is true in any and all ventures that are considered under any circumstances and by any group. One of the big questions will be the extent to which doctors and administrators cooperate in paying down expenses of the operation. Another is the extent to which patients go to pay the bills incurred.

Always a big question is the willingness of the governing body to try to furnish an adequate facility at the lowest cost. We have the same thing in our schools, our county government, and in our water district, and it will always be up to the people to solve it.

We could have an imbalance in facilities in our schools, as well as an imbalance in science, or history, or any other subject. We could have an administrator that was interested in building a reputation to the extent that it overshadowed the need to build young men and young women in a well-rounded education.

We could have a county government that was interested in building a monument to themselves in the form of a building other than in the form of respect of the citizens for a job well done.

But remember, that whatever is done in these governments is done WITH THE CONSENT OF THE PEOPLE.

We believe that we still get

Hospital Committee Reports

The committee appointed by Terrell County Commissioners Court composed of County Judge R. S. Wilkinson, Troy W. Druse, James Word, and Edward Kerr, has completed their report. The group was charged with the responsibility of ascertaining the needs, desires, costs, and recommendations for a hospital for Terrell County. The group made trips to neighboring towns, wrote letters, sent questionnaires, etc., to gather some of the figures for the proposal and worked up the table of costs in taxes to several categories of taxpayers, based on the estimates of cost of the hospital and operating deficit.

Following the completion of the report and its presentation to the commissioners, that group asked that they be given copies of the report to study and that the committee meet with them at a later date to review the report.

Following this meeting, the commissioners requested that the report be submitted to the people of the county for their consideration and that following a period of consideration on the part of the resident taxpaying voters that if there was sufficient interest expressed by a sufficient number of voters, it would be considered for approval or disapproval by the voters.

A petition asking for the vote on the proposal will be necessary before further action can be taken by the commissioners.

The committee expressed hope that there would be an interest expressed on the part of voters to cause them to study the proposal and recommendations of the committee, and where there are misunderstandings or a lack of understanding on any point, to make an effort to clarify the situation so that an intelligent vote may be cast if and when a vote is requested by a petition.

The complete report of the committee is printed here for the information of the readers:

Coin Machines Burglaries Cleared

Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey reported last weekend that the burglaries of the coin-operated machines from two local businesses was cleared up with the arrest of two youths in Alpine recently. Cooksey stated that the boys had been questioned about the local burglaries and had made confessions of the crime and complaints, charging the burglaries have been filed.

It is expected that the youths will be brought here for trial following trial in Brewster County for similar violations, Cooksey stated.

Willie Grigsby Accidentally Shot

Willie Grigsby of McCamey is in satisfactory condition following an accident at his home Sunday morning when he was shot in the groin.

Grigsby and his family were going on a trip to El Paso when he decided to take his 22 pistol in case he saw any snakes on the highway. In going out the back door, the pistol slipped from the holster and discharged when it hit the concrete step. He was taken to an Odessa hospital for surgery on account of internal bleeding, according to reports which also stated that the bullet did not strike any vital point.

His father, F. G. Grigsby, and Mrs. Grigsby, who were visiting in Fort Stockton, went to Odessa upon receiving word of the accident. Mrs. Lee Grigsby joined them there later and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grigsby went over Monday, bringing them all home Monday night.

Eagles Drop Game To Tigers In 4-0 Thriller Monday

The Sanderson Eagles lost the baseball game with the Alpine Tigers here Monday night after a full four and one-half innings of scoreless ball. The two teams are in the teen-age league.

In the first half of the fifth inning the Tigers got a runner on after an error and in trying to pick the runner off at first base, another error was committed by a wild throw and the runner went to third. Then the Tigers got a hit to score and a series of errors scored three more runs.

Dyer was the winning pitcher and Frank Garcia was the loser in a pitching duel. Both pitchers did an excellent job and very few hits were chalked up against them. Weston was on the receiving end for the Tigers and Lupe Cerda for the Eagles.

These two teams were in first and second place in league play and this was the first game of the season to be played here.

Friday night the Eagles will play the two remaining teams here in a double-header. Large crowds are expected to these games and the Sanderson fans will get to see some good baseball from these teen-agers.

Rodeo Events Of Last Weekend End 4th Festivities

Rodeo events sponsored by the Sanderson Rodeo Club ran through Saturday afternoon last weekend to wind up the celebration of the Fourth of July here.

The final winners of events as announced by D. W. Vawter were: two-calf average: Bill James, Phoenix, Ariz.; ribbon roping, Clay Cade, Marathon; wild cow milking, Dan Galvan, Sanderson; bronc riding, Ronnie Minica, Alpine; steer riding, Johnny Mathers, Sanderson; barrel race, Allen Askins, Pumpville.

A western dance on the slab at the Legion Hall on Thursday night wound up the events sponsored by the American Legion and Auxiliary for the Fourth of July. The prizes offered by the Auxiliary for the man and woman wearing the best western costumes went to Ray Brotherton and Mrs. J. R. Hodgkins.

The winners of the three prizes given by the Legion were: Jesus Martinez, Sanderson, the electric dishwasher; C. B. Cordova of Marathon, the 270 rifle; and Bill Nunn of El Paso, the 3-piece luggage set.

B. C. Farley Family Has Reunion Here

Relatives of B. C. Farley gathered here this year to join him in celebrating his 91st birthday Sunday. Mrs. E. E. Farley, his daughter-in-law, and her two daughters, Eloise and Beverly, were hostesses for the occasion.

The visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Farley of Burbank, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brotherton of Del Rio; Mrs. Inez Nutter and son of Big Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Van Farley of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Nutter and children, Larry and Michele, and Clifford Nutter of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Merritt and daughter, Lillie Jean, of Dryden; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Farley, Sanderson; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rogers, Fort Stockton.

So far as is known, Mr. Farley is the oldest in residence in Terrell County, having lived here for the past 80 years.

He has three sons and two daughters. Mrs. Raymond Phillips and children returned to their home in El Paso Friday after visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Billings, and her sister, Miss Eva Billings, for several weeks.

SCS Supervisor Names Benefits Of Deferring Land

"Resting a pasture or so between now and September could mean a substantially reduced feed bill this winter and a much-improved range condition", according to W. O. Ray, work unit supervisor of the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District.

The District offers the following guidance for range deferment. This year, so far, has been one which will offer the maximum benefits from this practice.

1. Resting should begin early in the spring and continue until the grasses have produced a seed crop.

Don't abuse part of the range in order to rest another part. You may be robbing Peter to pay Paul. Livestock should be adjusted to the amount of forage produced.

3. In order to obtain maximum results remove all livestock from the pasture during the time of deferment. A very few animals can eat a lot of choice grasses needed for seed production.

4. On rangeland which has little or no vegetation, two or more successive years of deferment during the growing season will be more beneficial.

5. Rest the best pastures first. They give the quickest improvement in building up forage production. A good pasture can be hurt much quicker than a poor pasture can be improved.

A few years of moderate stocking with occasional deferments during the growing season will result in a substantial increase in carrying capacity. Half of the forage produced on a good range is more than all of the forage produced on a poor range.

Subscribers Urged To Notify Times Of Address Change

The staff of The Times wishes to stress the importance of subscribers notifying the newspaper of any change in address.

The Times is penalized every time a paper is not delivered. The label is returned to us in an envelope marked "postage due", and it now requires 10c to find out whose address to change.

In the meantime, you fail to get two or three copies of the paper during the process of getting the address change made through this method. However, if each subscriber would just notify us immediately of any change in address, there will be no unnecessary delays in the delivery of your paper and we will not have to spend 20c or 30c in getting the address changed.

Since newspapers are not forwarded to a new address, a notification to the postoffice is not sufficient. Each magazine or newspaper must be notified individually of any change of address.

The cooperation of our subscribers in this matter and that of letting us know their ZIP number will be greatly appreciated.

Marquez Family Visitors

A2C Venancio de la Garza Jr. accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. Maria Ramirez, and her daughter, Alicia, and nephew, Gregorio Ramirez, all of San Jose, California, visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Andres Marquez, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Calzada, and family Monday. They were en route to Spokane, Wash., where he is stationed and had spent a month visiting his parents and other relatives in Del Rio.

Airman de la Garza visited in Sanderson frequently before his enlistment in the Air Force.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith of Del Rio were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rose.

Incentive Checks Mailed This Week For Wool, Mohair

The Terrell County ASCS office mailed checks the first week in July to area ranchmen eligible for incentive payment either of shorn wool, unshorn lambs or mohair.

There were 108 applicants who received a total of $173,558.99 for shorn wool after deductions at the rate of 1c per pound were made. The deductions, which go to pay for wool promotion, were $12,280.02.

Seventy-eight applicants for incentive payments on unshorn lambs totaled $17,148.59 after deductions of 5c per hundredweight for promotion in the amount of $1,648.89.

Seventy-seven applicants for incentive payments on mohair totaled $12,812.42. There were no promotion deductions on mohair.

The incentive payment for 1962 was 30 per cent on grease wool, 57c per hundredweight on unshorn lambs and 3.6 per cent on mohair.

Clarence Jessup, ASC committee chairman, stated that the ranchmen of Terrell County received a total of $203,520.00 for incentive payment on shorn wool and unshorn lambs and mohair.

Fort Stockton Water Carnival Set For July 18-20

The 26th annual Fort Stockton Water Carnival is scheduled at Comanche Springs Pool there on July 18-20, sponsored by the Lions Club. It will feature stage and water acts under the direction of Mrs. Fleeter B. Eason with the theme of a carnival, "Hey, Rubie!"

Preceding each night's performances will be a bathing revue with local contestants on July 18 and July 19 and the selection of "Miss Southwest" July 20.

On opening night, the tiny tots will be presented in three separate contests, from the ages of 3 to 11.

Friday night's feature will be the selection of Miss Fort Stockton from among 20 girls, plus a junior winner from girls aged 12-16.

The "Miss Southwest" contest for ages 18 through 22, will be restricted to girls who do not live in Fort Stockton.

All contestants will be judged on poise, personality, carriage, and outward beauty. Trophies will be awarded the first three winners of each category.

Thirteen Scouts Attend Camp

Thirteen Boy Scouts and their adult sponsor left last weekend for Camp Sol Meyer to spend a week. The group included Tommy Couch, Glenn Haynes, Nicky Balkum, Ricky Moses, Vernon Munson, Walter Shoemaker, Terry Kessler, John Dewey Stutes, Raymond Welch, Scotty Holland, Duke Booker, Jimmy Hill, and Eric Cooksey.

W. G. Shoemaker accompanied the boys and will stay with them during the entire session. Tilden Stewart, W. L. LaFleur, and Bill C. Cooksey will assist with the campers.

Thursday is parents' night at the camp and all parents are urged to attend.

The group will return home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Heinatz of San Angelo, who were en route to El Paso, spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Moore, leaving their sons, Clifton and Jeff, for a week's visit. Buddy Moore, who had been visiting with the Heinatzs, accompanied them to Sanderson.

County tax assessor-collectors are meeting here to try to untangle the poll tax puzzle.

It seems that the Legislature created a snarl which will hit the county tax assessor-collectors about October 1. That's the date when people begin paying poll taxes and getting exemption certificates.

In a special election on November 9, voters will decide whether or not they want to repeal the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting.

If they repeal it, a new law will go into effect, setting up a 25c registration fee.

To make matters more complicated, the November 9 vote really would not repeal the poll tax. In theory, it still would be due and payable. But not many are expected to pay the tax if the voting privilege is removed from it.

If the tax assessor-collectors solve their problem this fall, by waiting until after November 9 to fill out and mail poll tax receipts, they may face another crisis in the spring. This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice president, U. S. Senators and Congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment, it could be carried to law. In that event a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harrassed county tax assessor-collectors for special registration certificates — at no charge — to vote on races involving only federal offices.

1964-65 state budget bill prohibits payment of travel expenses to members of the citizens' advisory committee which meets with the State Board of Education.

This has caused the board to bid goodbye to the system which Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo calls "one of the strengths of this administration."

Rider approved expenses of advisory committees on text books and teacher examiners but cut out all others.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar remarked that the practice of using "grassroots" committees of citizens interested in education "has been the lifeblood of this agency." But he discouraged suggestions that volunteer help be used if committee members were willing to pay their own travel expenses. He said such a practice would go against the Legislature's intent and cause committees to be dominated by special-interest groups.

Riders on appropriations bills are written at the bottom of budgets for individual state agencies. It is not unusual for such riders to go unnoticed, by the lawmakers, especially when voting on bulky budget bills.

Redistricting Suit Set

Talk of a special legislative session perked up as a federal court in Harris County set a September 23 hearing of a Republican-sponsored congressional redistricting lawsuit.

Texas' 58th Legislature tried to set a formula for congressional redistricting. But a token bill died in final minutes of the session. Some who opposed it said they would rather let the federal courts settle the matter. Others said they would rather meet in a special session than leave it to federal judges.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene Locke of Austin has asked the court to dismiss the GOP suit.

Veterans Land Brings $555

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,223 acres) was "gratifying," since it brought in more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since forfeiture.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick, and Hidalgo Counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 for an 886-acre tract in Zavala County, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after some spirited bidding.

Tight Little Island

State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway Department claims that there is a quarter-mile section on U.S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive through Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty of 1948 Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the island is surrounded by American soil.

Migrant School Experiment

Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. That is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg districts are ready to participate.

McAllen and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school as they attend.

Farm Road Mileage Extended

State Highway Commission has approved construction of more than 1,000 miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties at a cost of some $24,000,000.

Completion of the 1963 F-M road program would bring the state's F-M system to more than 37,000 miles. That's just 13,000 miles short of the commission's ultimate goal of 50,000 miles. Most of the farm roads have been built since 1949.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer linked development of the system to burgeoning city growth in the state. "Farms and cities will always be inter-dependent," he said. "... getting goods to market is as fundamental to commerce as is the transaction between merchant and customer."

More Workers Working

Texas Employment Commission reports that 3,567,000 out of the state's 10,317,000 population were employed by someone other than themselves during the month of May.

Number of employed was up from April 3,542,200.

So too was the estimated population of the state. Population in April was figured as 10,297,000.

Thirty day gain in population was 20,000 persons. Employment increased by 25,500 persons.

Congressman ED FOREMAN Reports

Guadalupe National Park

A good many folks have written me requesting information regarding my views on the establishment of the Guadalupe Peak area as a national park, and in general, the National Park Service program.

I believe strongly in the conservation of our national resources. Our National Park Service has, I believe, with certain reservations, performed a worthwhile service in the preservation of our natural scenic resources for the recreation and enjoyment of our people. The Big Bend National Park and the Carlsbad Caverns are representative of the good service and conservation program of the National Park Service and meet with my approval and support.

The Guadalupe Peak area is a beautiful and picturesque piece of real estate, indeed, but at a time when our government is faced with an all time record high budget, increased deficit spending, and as a nation we are over $30 billion dollars in debt on which the annual interest alone is almost $10 billion dollars, I very seriously question the advisability of spending more of the taxpayer's hard earned dollars to purchase, develop, and maintain another new national park. Not only would such a development require an increased expenditure of new tax dollars, but it would also remove the property as a source of county, state, and federal tax income.

Aside from the scenic beauty and recreational enjoyment, we of this immediate area of West Texas and New Mexico stand to gain economically from the money spent by tourists coming to visit the site. Possibly, the economic gain alone would more than offset the cost of acquiring the property and establishing a park. If this were to be true, then we who directly economically benefit would be the logical ones to pay the necessary costs. Should little or no economic gain accrue, or such a method be deemed impracticable, then perhaps the establishment of a State Park would be the best answer.

My feeling is that whenever possible, individuals should look after themselves, economically and socially, instead of looking to the federal government for "help" or "aid". If objection is raised that private institutions lack sufficient funds, let's remember that every penny the federal government does not appropriate for "aid" is potentially available for private use—and without the overhead charge for processing the money through a federal bureaucracy.

Another possibility would be for acquisition of the property and development of a park by an individual grant or by a private association similar to the Mount Vernon Ladies Association that privately restored the home and estate of the first President of the United States. This Association, independent of federal funds, purchased the site in 1858 at a cost of $200,000.00 and has since operated and preserved this historic shrine through admission fees. Along this line, I have been in contact with a private foundation which has indicated an interest in purchasing the Guadalupe property and deeding it to the government for the development of a park. I believe this is a possibility worthy of further consideration. Also, I have had conferences with the Secretary of Interior and the property owners to discuss such a proposition.

It is entirely conceivable, and highly probable, that in order for Texas Congressmen to get their colleagues to appropriate federal funds for national park sites in West Texas, they must then reciprocate by supporting the bills and appropriating the funds for similar, or many times, larger projects such as a national park at Cape Cod in Massachusetts or federal restoration of historic old Virginia City, Nev., etc. My question in this instance, as in most others, is, "Is it necessary, and can we afford it?"

Miss Joan Wood left Friday for Mexico City where with three classmates from Texas Tech College, Lubbock, she will attend the University of Americas for six weeks. The young ladies are Spanish majors in their college.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner. And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

This because 36 states already have passed a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution outlawing the poll tax as a requirement for voting for president, vice president, U. S. Senators and Congressmen.

In January, Arizona and South Dakota legislatures will meet and if they pass the amendment it could be carried to law. In that event a provision by the Texas Legislature would set up a system by which voters would apply to their harassed county tax assessor-collectors for special registration certificates — at no charge — to vote on races involving only federal offices.

1964-65 state budget bill prohibits payment of travel expenses to members of the citizens' advisory committee which meets with the State Board of Education.

This has caused the board to bid goodbye to the system which Herbert O. Willborn of Amarillo calls "one of the strengths of this administration."

Rider approved expenses of advisory committees on text books and teacher examiners, but cut out all others.

Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar remarked that the practice of using "grassroots" committees of citizens interested in education "has been the lifeblood of this agency." But he discouraged suggestions that volunteer help be used if committee-men were willing to pay their own travel expenses. He said such a practice would go against the Legislature's intent and cause committees to be dominated by special-interest groups.

Riders on appropriations bills are written at the bottom of budgets for individual state agencies. It is not unusual for such riders to go unnoticed, by the lawmakers, especially when voting on bulky budget bills.

Redistricting Suit Set

Talk of a special legislative session perked up as a federal court in Harris County set a September 23 hearing of a Republican-sponsored congressional redistricting lawsuit.

Texas' 58th Legislature tried to set a formula for congressional redistricting. But a token bill died in final minutes of the session. Some who opposed it said they would rather let the federal courts settle the matter. Others said they would rather meet in a special session than leave it to federal judges.

State Democratic Chairman Eugene Locke of Austin has asked the court to dismiss the GOP suit.

Veterans Land Brings $555

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,223 acres) was "gratifying" since it brought in more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since forfeiture.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick, and Hidalgo Counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 for an 886-acre tract in Zavala County, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after some spirited bidding.

Tight Little Island

State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway Department claims that there is a quarter-mile section on U.S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive through Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty of 1948. Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the island is surrounded by American soil.

Migrant School Experiment

Five school districts will be able to take part in a pilot program of six-month school sessions for the children of migrant workers during the 1963-64 school year. That is if the Texas Education Agency can find five districts that can handle the program.

San Benito and Edinburg districts are ready to participate. McAllen and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo districts are readying proposals to submit to the State Board of Education.

Pilot program would be an experiment. Hope is to solve the problem of educating children of migrant laborers who are on the move so much that their youngsters miss almost as much school as they attend.

Farm Road Mileage Extended

State Highway Commission has approved construction of more than 1,000 miles of farm-to-market roads in 172 counties at a cost of some $24,000,000.

Completion of the 1963 F-M road program would bring the state's F-M system to more than 37,000 miles. That's just 13,000 miles short of the commission's ultimate goal of 50,000 miles. Most of the farm roads have been built since 1949.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer linked development of the system to burgeoning city growth in the state. "Farms and cities will always be inter-dependent," he said. "... getting goods to market is as fundamental to commerce as is the transaction between merchant and customer."

More Workers Working

Texas Employment Commission reports that 3,567,000 out of the state's 10,317,000 population were employed by someone other than themselves during the month of May.

Number of employed was way up from April 3,542,200.

So too was the estimated population of the state. Population in April was figured as 10,297,000.

Thirty day gain in population was 20,000 persons. Employment increased by 25,500 persons.

Congressman ED FOREMAN Reports

Guadalupe National Park

A good many folks have written me requesting information regarding my views on the establishment of the Guadalupe Peak area as a national park, and in general, the National Park Service program.

I believe strongly in the conservation of our national resources. Our National Park Service has, I believe, with certain reservations, performed a worthwhile service in the preservation of our natural scenic resources for the recreation and enjoyment of our people. The Big Bend National Park and the Carlsbad Caverns are representative of the good service and conservation program of the National Park Service and meet with my approval and support.

The Guadalupe Peak area is a beautiful and picturesque piece of real estate, indeed, but at a time when our government is faced with an all time record high budget, increased deficit spending, and as a nation we are over $30 billion dollars in debt on which the annual interest alone is almost $10 billion dollars, I very seriously question the advisability of spending more of the taxpayer's hard earned dollars to purchase, develop, and maintain another new national park. Not only would such a development require an increased expenditure of new tax dollars, but it would also remove the property as a source of county, state, and federal tax income.

Aside from the scenic beauty and recreational enjoyment, we of this immediate area of West Texas and New Mexico stand to gain economically from the money spent by tourists coming to visit the site. Possibly, the economic gain alone would more than offset the cost of acquiring the property and establishing a park. If this were to be true, then we who directly economically benefit would be the logical ones to pay the necessary costs. Should little or no economic gain accrue, or such a method be deemed impracticable, then perhaps the establishment of a State Park would be the best answer.

My feeling is that whenever possible, individuals should look after themselves, economically and socially, instead of looking to the federal government for "help" or "aid". If objection is raised that private institutions lack sufficient funds, let's remember that every penny the federal government does not appropriate for "aid" is potentially available for private use—and without the overhead charge for processing the money through a federal bureaucracy.

Another possibility would be for acquisition of the property and development of a park by an individual grant or by a private association similar to the Mount Vernon Ladies Association that privately restored the home and estate of the first President of the United States. This Association, independent of federal funds, purchased the site in 1852 at a cost of $200,000.00 and has since operated and preserved this historic shrine through admission fees. Along this line, I have been in contact with a private foundation which has indicated an interest in purchasing the Guadalupe property and deeding it to the government for the development of a park. I believe this is a possibility worthy of further consideration. Also, I have had conferences with the Secretary of Interior and the property owners to discuss such a proposition.

It is entirely conceivable, and highly probable, that in order for Texas Congressmen to get their colleagues to appropriate federal funds for national park sites in West Texas, they must then reciprocate by supporting the bills and appropriating the funds for similar, or many times, larger projects such as a national park at Cape Cod in Massachusetts or federal restoration of historic old Virginia City, Nev., etc. My question in this instance, as in most others, is, "Is it necessary, and can we afford it?"

Miss Joan Wood left Friday for Mexico City where with three classmates from Texas Tech College, Lubbock, she will attend the University of Americas for six weeks. The young ladies are Spanish majors in their college.

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner. And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!
