A controversial section of the new Texas Regulatory Loan Act, passed last year after 36 years of legislative wrangling over loan control, has been declared unconstitutional.

District Judge Herman Jones of Austin held invalid the provision that at least 51 per cent of stock in lending firms operating in Texas must be owned by Texans.

Jones emphasized that this was the only section of the 1963 act affected by his ruling in a suit brought by three out-of-state firms.

The companies whose subsidiaries operate in at least eight Texas cities charged the in-state ownership requirement violated state and federal due process and equal protection guarantees.

American Investment Co., a Delaware corporation; Industrial Finance and Thrift Corp. of Louisiana; and Consolidated Credit Company of Charlotte, N. C., joined by a number of other out-of-state firms, instigated the suit.

Their subsidiaries operate in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, El Paso, Ft. Worth, Texarkana, and Arlington.

The Governor's Committee on Higher Education Beyond the High School is well ahead of the schedule, reports Dr. A. B. Martin, executive director.

Earlier this year, the committee—made up of leading industrialists and educators, set an April date for preliminary reports for the recommendations due Gov. John Connally in August. Studies on education in public and private colleges and universities, and professional and technological needs have advanced so well that subcommittees and their consultants have been discharged, Martin said and the April date has been moved back to February 19.

Park Improvements Started Tuesday's ground-breaking ceremonies at Falcon State Park in Starr and Zapata Counties near Zapata launched a three-year

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have loved you.

When we follow Jesus' example we are filled with love—so much so that we express understanding and forgiveness and handle every situation and circumstance with love.

improvement program which will cost $1,041,966.

The $279,416 in improvements at Falcon will include a boat ramp, parking area, paved road 24 shelters, 50 tent campsites with water, cooking grills, tables, three restrooms with showers and laundry units, rangers' residence and concession building.

Similar improvements are planned for Dam "B" Park near Jasper in East Texas and Late Whitney State Park in Central Texas, according to J. Weldon Watson Parks and Wildlife Department executive director.

Tourist Plan Unveiled A pilot plan designed to bring more foreign visitors to Texas was announced by Governor Connally.

Sen. Walter Richter, the governor's representative, and Walter Meyer of San Antonio, who originated the plan, took off for Germany Sunday to test the program.

They hope to encourage 40 to 50 German citizens to make a 10-day red carpet tour of Texas' leading cities and historic spots from October 15 through November 2.

Texas Tourist Development Agency is sponsoring the projected program in cooperation with Chambers of Commerce and interested private citizens. No public funds are involved.

The tourists, of course, will pay their own way, although some will benefit from hospitality in Texas homes. First visitors will get special low plans fare and at-cost prices all around.

It is hoped the initial visit by the Germans will establish guidelines for a continuing long-range program to boost travel in Texas by globe-trotters from other lands.

Court Rules on Land In a 5-4 decision, the State Supreme Court overruled lower courts and directed a new trial in a dispute over oil income on 10,000 acres of Winkler County land.

Crippled Boy Wins Sports Letters With Assist from March of Dimes

A boy who can scarcely walk because of arthritis wins a letter in athletics. Impossible, you say. Not if the lad has the grit of Tim Ewald.

Even though this 17-year-old from Minneapolis can barely "inch" along with the help of a cane, he wears the monogram of Golden Valley High School in both football and track.

How come? How is all this athletic activity possible when it takes this likable youngster as much as 15 minutes merely to tie his shoelaces?

You must look back seven years to find the answer. As the second-oldest of five sons, Tim at the age of 10 could outrun all his brothers and even his parents, Graydon and Diane Ewald.

At touch football, no one could lay a hand on him. Tim dreamed of a high school and college career in football and track.

Then, at the age of 10, came disaster. One night the boy was struck by the indescribably severe rheumatoid arthritis throughout his body. His temperature soared. For long months he had to be hospitalized in body casts and treated with cortisone.

Aided by March of Dimes

Now, after seven years of the disease, Tim is slowly regaining some mobility—thanks in great part to physical therapy given him at the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center in the University of Minnesota Medical School. This treatment is conscientiously repeated at home.

Much as the boy yearned to play, such strenuous sports as football and track were not for him. It was all he could do just to hobble from class to class. But in his freshman year at high school he resolved to be as close to sports as his crippled condition permitted.

Tim made a private vow that he would become a team manager.

He made it in his freshman year as manager of the football squad. He made it again in his sophomore year. Last year, his third, he managed the track team. He won his letters in two sports. Tim won't talk much about what his duties are. He's an excessively modest youngster but, even if it does embarrass the boy, his father says: "I looked into this with some care because it would be dangerous for Tim to overdo. I found out that these manager-ship aren't snap jobs given by the players to a classmate they feel sorry for. The work is tough—Tim goes along in the team bus to games all around the state, he checks equipment and keeps the players' records; he's a timekeeper, and so on. But he thrives on it—and it's far better therapy than gnawing his nails because of no contact with sports."

Even with his heavy schedule of classes, homework, team management, home exercises and weekly visits to the March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center, Tim finds time to draw chiefly cartoons and caricatures for which he seems to have promising talent. He thinks that someday he might like to be a sports cartoonist.

Faces Surgery

Will he walk again normally? It's quite possible. This year, after graduation from high school, he may undergo hip surgery. Dr. Keith N. Drummond, assistant director of the March of Dimes center, explains that Tim's hips are now locked in a bent position caused by contraction of the tendons and muscles and by inflammation of the hip joints. Under favorable circumstances, surgery could release and lengthen these shortened tissues.

Whether crippled for life or on his feet again, which now seems likely, Tim is determined to continue working actively in sports. That's about all he'll say. But you know that this quiet and resolute youngster means it.

Connally in Circulation

Governor Connally returned to duty at his office in the Capitol last week, for the first time since he was wounded in Dallas on November 22 by the assassin of President Kennedy.

Connally announced a traveling and speaking schedule which included visits to UPI and AP managing editors' conventions here; a Boy Scout report ceremony in the Capitol; Abilene's B-52 day celebration on February 15; the Laredo Washington Birthday festival on February 22; the Paper Industry Salesman's Association meeting in New York on February 25; dedication of the New York World's Fair Texas exhibit on February 26; and probably a visit with President Johnson in Washington on the way back to Texas.

Library Additions

Texas State Library last week obtained a historic treaty and an historic suit of clothes. Both are certain to be viewed by thousands in years ahead.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough presented the library a certified State Department copy of the El Chamizal treaty signed by President Johnson on December 20—defining the boundary along the Texas-Chihuahua and El Paso-Juarez borders. The treaty, placed on display in a glass case, ended a century-old boundary dispute.

Governor Connally, at the library's request, turned over to the state archives, the black light-weight suit he was wearing when he was seriously wounded in Dallas. He was the first Texas governor to be the victim of an assassination attempt. The suit bears bullet holes in the back, front and right sleeve. Also placed in the archives is the blood-stained shirt Connally wore on the tragic day and his black and gold silk tie.

Diversion Payments

Agri. Comm. John C. White says Texas farmers should not count on a cotton land diversion payment plan, as has been rumored.

White says Texas farmers should go ahead and release and release their unwanted cotton allotments back to their local ASC committees so the permits can be reassigned to other parts of the state. He urged cotton growers to protect their future allotments by releasing used permits before the February 4 deadline, as in years past. Bracero Program The U. S. Congress has extended the bracero program for another year — through 1964 — (Continued to page 4)

Here's why more and more stockmen are switching to MoorMan's

Feeding MoorMan's with grain and roughage makes sense to an increasing number of stockmen. And growth in numbers of livestock fed MoorMan's is even greater than this tonnage chart indicates—because each ton of MoorMan's concentrated concentrates balances and fortifies more farm-grown feeds than most ordinary feeds or supplements.

MoorMan Products are research-proven three ways by more than 75 skilled research workers: Through development and quality control; in exhaustive tests on this or one of our other two Research Farms, totalling 1,280 acres; and in Field Research on hundreds of working farms and ranches in various parts of the nation.

Typical of MoorMan leadership was first-in-the-industry development in 1952 of protein-mineral-vitamin blocks for self-feeding to cattle on grass or roughage. Giantic presses like this turn out 10 different Minitrate Blocks to fit varying pasture or roughage conditions. More than 18,000,000 Minitrate Blocks fed successfully.

Mrs. James Word Leads Study On Home Missions

Mrs. James Word led the study of the home missions book, "Apotheosis" by Kate Ellen Gruver, wife of Dr. Carlos Gruver, well known by the members of the Baptist W.M.U. who met Monday evening in the church.

Mrs. H. G. Cates opened the meeting with prayer and presided during the business session. Mrs. C. L. Hancock reported several members of the GAs almost ready for the reviewing council. The hour of the meeting was changed to 1:00 p.m. each Monday at the church with the exception of the meeting for the Royal Service program which will be in the evening and in the homes of the members.

Mrs. O. D. Gray read the scripture lesson and, after reading the names of the missionaries on the birthday calendar, she led the dismissal prayer.

Legion Auxiliary To Meet Tuesday Night

The Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Jack C. Turner.

Little change has been noted in the condition of M. H. Goode Jr., who has been hospitalized in Del Rio for medical treatment for several weeks.

Duplicate Club Has Mrs. Martin As Hostess

The Duplicate Bridge Club met in the dining room at the Oasis Restaurant Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Perry Martin as hostess. Cherry cream pie, tea and coffee were served to the guests upon arrival.

After 14 boards of bridge had been played, Mrs. H. L. Richardson held high score with 12 points and Mrs. Martin had seven and one-half points.

Also present were Mmes. A. J. Riess, James Caroline, S. H. Underwood, H. E. Ezelle, M. W. Duncan, and A. C. Garner.

Mrs. A. C. Garner Is Hostess For Jr. Duplicate Club

Mrs. A. C. Garner was hostess Saturday afternoon when the Junior Duplicate Club met in her home.

Those present were Mmes. H. E. Ezelle, Eddie Hanson, Malcom Bollinger, J. A. Mansfield, Bob Moon, Gene Thompson, and Paul Hater.

Mrs. Mansfield held high score with nine and one-half points and Mrs. Bolinger had nine points.

Mrs. Garner served cheese cake, tea, and coffee to her guests upon arrival with dips, Fritos, and cold drinks available during the card games.

Ranch Club Meets Tuesday and Has Valentine Motif

Members of the Ranch Home Demonstration Club answered roll call by giving household hints when the club met Tuesday morning in the Legion Hall. In the absence of the president, Mrs. M. W. Duncan, vice-president, presided, opening the meeting with prayer and the THDA Creed was recited in unison.

Mrs. H. E. Ezelle gave the educational talk on "The Art of Changing Yourself".

Mrs. N. M. Mitchell, delegate gave a report of the recent meeting of the Pecos County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs.

H. E. Ezelle gave a demonstration on the use of mosaic and ceramic tile, how and where to use it.

At noon, the hostesses added beans, salads, a casserole, cake, tea, and coffee to the sandwiches brought by the members for lunch.

The Valentine motif was noted in the decorations in the hall, including a Valentine tree on the table.

Other members present were Mmes. H. E. Gattlin, Woody Richards, Jack Hardgrave, J. W. Caruthers Jr., Greene Cooke, C. F. Cox, Ruby Duncan, Eddie McNutt, C. E. Litton, O. J. Cresswell, F. G. Grigsby, C. T. Wrinkle, W. F. Frazor, Clarence Chandler, and A. C. Garner and Miss Eva Billings; also two guests, Mrs. J. C. Halbert, and Mrs. H. A. Mullings.

Beta Iota Meets In Alpine Saturday

The Marathon members of the Beta Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma were the hostess group for a luncheon served in the Holland Hotel at Alpine at 1:00 o'clock Saturday.

Following the luncheon, each committee of the chapter met to evaluate accomplishments and to complete plans for the year. The committees gave a summation of their actions when the chapter re-assembled for the general meeting.

"Changing Political Patterns in American Culture" was the theme of the program presented, with Mrs. W. H. Savage of Sanderson as chairman. She was assisted by Dr. Ida Vernon of Sul Ross College who spoke on "The Role of Women in Political Action."

Mrs. Ruth Beard gave a talk on scholarships, in which she stressed the value of a chapter scholarship fund.

Members from Sanderson attending were Mmes. Savage, E. E. Farley, and W. J. Morris.

Miss Rosy Stroup returned to Odessa Sunday afternoon after spending the weekend here with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Miller Stroup.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Harris Jr. and son, Skipper, visited here last weekend with relatives including his mother, Mrs. P. G. Harris. They were en route to Tucson, Ariz., where he was transferred from Converse. En route to Tucson they visited her son, Tommy Werneking, in El Paso.

Manuel Garcia is in Houston where he is visiting his son, Danny Garcia, while he has a physical check-up.

Mrs. Charlie Murray has been dismissed from a Houston hospital where she had surgery but will remain in that city several weeks for further treatment and will visit their son, A. E. Murray, and family.

Mrs. T. R. Arrington of Fort Stockton visited here with friends for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher were business visitors in Fort Stockton Thursday.

J. B. Coker, who underwent surgery in a Fort Stockton hospital last week, will probably be able to come home the last of the week.

Tips Given On Prevention Of Heart Attacks

The American Medical Association offers the following news release for the information of our readers:

"What can I do to keep from having a heart attack?"

"This is a question that almost all of us ask sometimes."

"Heart disease is a broad term that covers many different types of disorders. Heart and blood vessel ailments are the leading cause of death in the United States. Millions of people are walking around with some sort of heart or circulatory problem. No one can tell you positively that a given pattern of life will prevent a heart attack. There are still many unknowns. But there is enough evidence on the causes of heart attacks to suggest a few fundamentals."

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, offers some suggestions.

"Worry about 'symptoms' that may or may not be heart disease is futile. Clear away the doubt by consulting your physician. A regular checkup will enable him to discover budding heart problems early."

"Regular, moderate exercise to keep physically fit is advised by most health experts. However, the term 'moderate' is important, and plenty of rest to ease the work-load on the heart is equally vital."

"Keep your weight down. It isn't too difficult to devise a diet that will provide proper nourishment without adding surplus pounds. Ask your doctor what you should weigh and how to reduce if you're overweight."

"Tensions and anxieties often aren't easy to reduce or eliminate from your life. But it's wise to try. Adequate vacations each year are important. A relaxing change of pace on weekends"

"Research studies have analyzed the possible roles of tobacco dietary fats and other elements in heart disorders. Extensive studies are still under way. If there are doubts in your mind regarding your personal habits consult your doctor for suggestions on new patterns."

"There are some encouraging developments. Most people who have heart attacks recover and go back to work. High blood pressure usually can be controlled. Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease, can be prevented. Strokes aren't necessarily hopeless and invalidism can often be reduced or prevented. Heart defects often can be repaired and sections of diseased arteries can often be replaced through surgery. Many patients with circulatory disorders affecting their legs and arms are helped by treatment."

"You cannot be certain of preventing heart disease. But you can control or lessen some of the factors that often are associated with a tendency toward heart troubles. Your best course is to talk it over with your doctor and follow his counsel."

Mrs. Roy Harrell received word Sunday of the birth of her fourth great-grandchild, the son born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Malone of Ozona. Mrs. Malone is her granddaughter.

Airman Andrew Marquez Jr., who is stationed at Laughlin AFB in Del Rio, was promoted to Airman First Class February 3.
