LISTEN TO LUKE

The two party primaries are all over and candidates are already loading and firing at each other in an effort to get the upper hand in the general election.

In our humble opinion, a political race lasting from February through the early part of November is too long a political race.

During such a time, candidates run out of money and must obligate themselves far beyond reason to stay in the race, people get more than fed up with all the political smears, and lose out on the continuity of their TV programs.

Since the date of the primary was moved from July to May to assure the fact that Lyndon B. would have some kind of place on the general election ballot and since he was on there twice and got elected to both the Senate and vice-president, and resigned the Senate post to take the VP job, and is now the President and probably won't be running for two offices again, it appears that we could have the primary moved again back to July.

And how do you like that sentence?

And we are convinced that we are not particularly fond of the two-party system, either.

To give you a good example of what could conceivably happen: A good man running for sheriff on the Democratic ticket was opposed by a scoundrel. An excellent man running on the Republican ticket for county attorney was opposed by a shyster. It is impossible to vote for the best man in both primaries to assure a county having the best possible officials. So you must choose!

In the normal processes of choice, most of the "white suits" choose to elect the "good" sheriff and the resulting vote also leaves the shyster as the choice on the general election ballot.

And a good sheriff and an ineffective county attorney are the results of the election! And so: what would you have?

Party lines are sometimes pretty plain lines, but sometimes the easiest lines to follow lead to trouble.

The party brand does not make a man any more than the "running W" makes a Santa Gertrudis out of a dogged Jersey Hereford cross.

When you can put all the beans in one pot, you can pretty well get the helping of beans you want.

And opposition, politically or otherwise, for the sake of opposing, is a pretty cruel act.

Nine months of politicking can cause some pretty wide gaps in friendships and segments, and can also cause some bindings to become a little more so.

When office-seekers become obligated to certain people, then political plums begin to show up.

Most everything that has been said about the ear-pulling of beagles has been said. Almost everything.

It was said that the pulling of a hound's ears makes him yipe and few people would deny that! If making the hound yipe is

To Retire Soon From Teaching

Mrs. Ervin Grigsby retiring as teacher

Mrs. Ervin Grigsby will retire from her teaching duties in the Sanderson schools at the close of the current school year.

Mrs. Grigsby, the former Miss Melburn Glass of Sterling City came to Sanderson on her first teaching contract in 1930, teaching typing and history in the high school. The next year she taught the fifth grade which was the same age as the group she has been teaching since the scholastic age was lowered to six from seven.

Miss Glass was married to Ervin Grigsby in 1933. With the law making married ladies ineligible to teach, she left the system for 10 years, doing substitute teaching throughout the period. During the war years, her substitute duties became so regular that she consented to taking a full-time contract in 1943 since by that time the law regarding hiring married homestead lady teachers had been repealed.

Mrs. Grigsby holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from Sul Ross College.

Since the Grigsbys are owners of the Desert Air Motel, she stated that keeping house and helping with the motel would take care of any plans she might have for her after-retirement years; that in the future she will not be working all summer on getting her house and clothes ready to teach in the fall and also they will get to take vacations at some time other than in the summer.

Soil Stewardship Week Is May 3-9

The week of May 3-9 has been designated as Soil Stewardship Week across the nation.

Bulletin inserts and program books have been presented to all local churches by the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District for use in recognizing Soil Stewardship Week.

"Stewardship of our national resources should be of prime concern to all of us. If our future generations are to prosper as we have prospered, each of us must do his part toward conservation of our God-given natural resources," said W. O. Ray, local Soil Conservation Service unit supervisor.

Bill Stavley Injures Knee In TWC Football Practice

Mrs. Irvin Robbins, at the organ, will play "Morning Song" by Clarke; "Prelude in A" by Chopin; and "Processional" by Nordman.

New Changes In Postal Services Are Announced

The vast majority of the residents of Terrell County will not be affected by the recently-announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window services, Postmaster J. R. Hodgkins said this week.

Mr. Hodgkins explained that his statement was prompted by some misunderstanding about the scope of these changes. He said there will be no change in the services on Saturday in our post office. They will continue to issue and cash money orders, accept parcels, and dispatch parcels from 8:00 a.m. to noon as in the past.

At the same time, Mr. Hodgkins said he has received information on the national scope of the service adjustments which indicate very little overall effect is anticipated from the order which started May 4.

"Many of our local people who send mail to other points, many who visit other cities and transport postal business in those areas, and many others who will be in other communities at vacation time will be interested," he explained.

He released the following national findings on the overall effect of the adjustments: Saturday parcel post deliveries in cities will be restricted to two-pounds or less.

More postal personnel are being assigned weekend duty at many post offices, and parcels will be speeded throughout the postal system for local deliveries at all points, including Terrell County. This and other actions to eliminate delays will largely or entirely offset any delays that would otherwise result from the adjustment, and it is expected overall service will be improved.

In window service, the only change will be the consolidation of window services into one window on Saturday mornings in all large offices for domestic money order service.

Money order sales on Saturday will, with few exceptions, continue in about 70,000 contract postal stations (typically located in suburban shopping centers) providing domestic money order service in virtually every city where orders are not sold at the post office on Saturdays.

Consolidated windows will continue to provide all essential services.

Postmasters at most smaller post offices will sell money orders on Saturdays.

Window services in at least 20,000 post offices which have never had more than one window open on Saturdays are unchanged.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Couch took their son, Steve, to Fort Stockton for medical treatment Tuesday after he had injured his hand. A rope which the boy was holding out the back of a station wagon became entangled in the wheels of the vehicle and mangled his fingers and hand.

Light Vote Seen In Primaries Saturday

A light vote was cast in the two primaries held in Terrell County Saturday. The Democratic primary was held in all four precincts and a last-minute call for a Republican primary held at the home of Mrs. Irvin Robbins, permitted 10 people to vote in that election.

All incumbents were re-nominated in the Democratic primary, with F. M. Weigand, county commissioner of precinct 1 and J. A. Gilbreath, justice of the peace, precinct 1, the only offices contested in the county.

The balloting for nominees in the Republican primary gave Goldwater a 6-4 edge over Lodge in the Republican Presidential Referendum. Bush received six votes; Cox 3, Davis 0; Morris 1 in the U. S. Senator nomination.

Ed Foreman, U.S. Representative of the 16th Congressional District, received 10 votes in the primary. He was unopposed.

The Republican primary was the first ever held in Terrell County.

Under a law passed by a Democratic Texas legislature, the Republican party was forced to have a primary election to nominate candidates of the party for the November general election ballot. The law requires that a party which polls over a certain number of votes for governor in the last general election must hold a primary.

"We conducted this primary to protect the rights of voters who may wish to split their ballots in the general election in November," said Mrs. Irvin Robbins, Republican County Chairman.

The primary was held in order to comply with the Texas Election Code.

Gov. John Connally has moved into the plush working quarters ever occupied by any of this state's governors.

Last week workmen put finishing touches to the first overall remodeling of the offices in 75 years. Until now, Texas Governors have been tending to state business in cramped and poorly arranged offices.

Construction has been under way since last January. Capitol visitors once again are welcomed all day in the mirrored and flag-draped gubernatorial reception room.

The governor occupies a large gold-carpeted, crystal chandeliered office. He also has an adjoining conference room, small kitchen unit, and shower cabinet.

Gold carpeting runs throughout the second floor suite. Modern ceilings, lighting and air-conditioning have been installed, and the fine old woodwork sanded and refinished to its original state.

Redecoration of the governor's downstairs offices will not be complete for 30 days. Meanwhile, part of his staff will continue to occupy temporary quarters on the Capitol's first floor.

Screwworm Eradication
The financial fate of the Southwest screwworm eradication program should be apparent by May 8. That's when the appropriation bill, embracing eradication plans is supposed to come out of the agricultural subcommittee of the U.S. House appropriations committee.

Pierce Johnson of Austin, attorney for the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation says the bill was written to provide $2,750,000 in federal funds to be matched by local funds. But SWAHRF officials have asked Congress to put up all $5,500,000, since the screwworm has been eradicated in Texas, and maintenance of a barrier to prevent migration of screwworm flies from Mexico is an international program.

Soil Conservation Planning costs for watersheds on upper Bosque River, Hondo Creek and Donohoe Creek cost the Texas Soil Conservation Board $134,938, according to the State Auditor C. H. Cavness who reported on the past two fiscal years.

Cavness said the Board spent a total of $552,930 on its continuing efforts to conserve state soil resources and reduce effects of flooding in small watersheds.

Legislative appropriations of $572,579 were provided during fiscal 1962 and 1963. Biggest outlay was $215,001 for almost 200 soil conservation districts which the board administers around the state.

Mosquito Eradication Planned
First allotment of federal funds — $174,198 — in a five-year $750,000 program aimed at wiping out the mosquito in Texas was received by State Budget Director Bill Cobb.

Texas State Department of Health will administer the program. The federal government co-sponsor of a Pan American Health Organization agreement to stamp out yellow-fever-carrying mosquitoes, is underwriting the plan in a nine-state area Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Mosquito abatement and education teams now are being organized for assignment in key areas of Texas. Dr. James L. Goddard of the U. S. Public Health Service said the mosquito must be eliminated from the U. S. to prevent its spreading to other western hemisphere nations.

Tourism Expanding
Two Texas officials predicted tourism in the state is going to start booming. Governor Connally said tourism will become the "fastest-growing Texas industry." He called the state's new advertising program "one of our soundest investments in the economic and recreational future" of the state.

In Texas . . . after a swim, beer is a natural
On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.
Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
In Texas . . . beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Banquet Honors High School Seniors Last Tuesday Night

The Sudduth Building was converted into French sidewalk cafes for the serving of the annual junior-senior banquet last Tuesday evening. The theme was "An Evening In Paris".

A spotlight was on a fountain in the center of the room with roses and flower petals floating on the water and a statue of Venus de Milo as the focal point. A gravel road led from the Arc de Triomphe, at one end, to the fountain and a drawing of the Eiffel Tower was on the opposite wall.

Star-studded blue crepe paper was used overhead and on one wall with simulated bricks on the paper covering the windows and other walls. Colorful flowers were arranged on the window ledges and a flower cart was at the front. Corsages and buttonnaires in the cart were available to the guests.

Quartet tables were arranged under striped awnings with appropriate signs in French attached to the borders.

The banquet was catered by Harvey's Restaurant.

The meal was served by 12 boys and girls from the junior class including Jodie Tronson, Lupe Vasquez, Pam Stavley, Lydia Munoz, Janie Sanchez, Suzanne Downie, Travis Harkins, Steve Harkins, Harry Harkins, Alejandro Romo, Atilano Bravo Jr., and Joe Mendez.

Ricky Felts was master of ceremonies and gave the invocation. Eloise Farley gave the welcome address and the response was by Bobby Hatchel. The class prophecy was ready by Wally Welch. A group of band students played several numbers.

Rev. Bob Moon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was the speaker for the occasion. Several songs were sung by a group of junior boys and girls in closing.

Eighty-two were present for the banquet, including the members of the two classes, the members of the high school faculty and the school board and their wives and husbands.

Mrs. J. D. McDaniel, junior class sponsor, and T. L. Richardson, senior class sponsor, assisted in arrangement for the affair.

We continue to be pleased, alarmed, and amazed at the slow but sure progress of the efforts of many citizens to clean up and make a showing around in different parts of town.

We would think that the Chamber of Commerce would be proud of the response of the people in this drive, and we feel sure that they are.

A steady progressive effort of this kind will make for the best final results, rather than a fast slipshod, hasty effort to do a lot in a hurry.

We saw one couple out painting the fence, and it reminded us of our last effort along that line several years ago.

Now, we're going to have to check our fence to see how that paint job is holding up.
