LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert: ---

We would like to clear up what may or may not have been a misunderstanding on some people's part: Advertising, and the sale of it, is one of the ways that we try to make a living in this business. And there is a lot of difference in advertising and a news story.

Some people sell gasoline, some sell groceries, some sell wool and lambs, and so on down the list. We sell advertising!

If a club or organization or individual does something that is of interest - and fit for publication - that is news. When a business wants to let the people know about something they are selling or a service they have, or a new facility, that's advertising.

Another of the differences in the two, is that when a company or individual has a large name in an enclosure with type usually much larger than this, it's advertising and it is all paid for at the going rate. When it's in type like this, usually with a heading on it, and it doesn't have "adv" at the end of it, it's a news story and there is no charge for it.

And we are funny in that we decide what's advertising and what we want to run free of charge.

This is not to discourage your efforts to have your news publicized, we like that sort of thing, and in a sense, it's the life blood of the newspaper - what makes it tick. But the advertising is what keeps us in business!

The free air, water, and service are no more essential to the service station than news articles are to us, but each must depend on selling a product to make the free services available.

Someone has been doing a good job of cleaning up at the Santa Rita Cemetery during the past couple of weeks. The tumbleweeds had just about taken over down there and many of the headstones and graves were covered up by the pesty weeds. But someone saw the need for some effort, and got together a group, we understand, and took care of the situation. The job was well done and was timely.

County Judge R. S. Wilkinson went to the meeting in Alpine this week to find out more about the many ways in which towns can participate in the poverty programs that are available.

The meeting was for the mayors, judges, and others interested in such programs and lasted one evening and the next day.

For a person to say that he is opposed to these things - to some people is taken as saying he wants people eligible for the poverty program to continue to live in squalor, starvation, need, ignorance, etc..

This is not necessarily true! Not by any means!

There is a vast difference in opinions as to the best way to help such people and we have not been convinced that the help that is available under the poverty program is the best way to do it.

General Election To Be Tuesday

The general election will be Tuesday of next week all over the state of Texas and four voting boxes will be open in Terrell County.

The race probably drawing the most interest in the state is the one between incumbent Senator John Tower and challenger Waggoner Carr.

Besides naming the peoples' choice from the various parties on the ticket, Texas voters will also have the choice of approving or disapproving each of 16 proposed constitutional amendments, all of which have been summarized in The Times as well as in other newspapers and by speakers over the state.

The voting will be from 8:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. in the usual voting places in the county.

Two Wildcats Are To Be Drilled In Terrell County

Hunt Industries, Dallas, will drill two wildcats in Terrell County, 15 miles west-southwest of Sheffield, 11 miles west of the Yucca Butte multipay field and three miles south of the depleted one-well Schuler (Leonard) field of Pecos County.

The No. 1-6 Blackstone-Slaughter, a 4,500-foot test, is 660 feet from the south and west lines of 6-162-B. F. Allen.

The No. 1-8 Blackstone-Slaughter, a 6,000-foot test, 1/2 mile south of the No. 1-6, is 1,950 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of 8-162-Lem Barton.

Iraan Whips Sanderson 41-7; Eagles To Meet Top-Ranked Sonora

The Iraan Braves whipped the Sanderson Eagles last Friday night on the home field by a 41 to 7 score, having the best first half, in the opinion of many of the fans, they have had all season. The score at the half-time was 15-0.

Iraan received the opening kickoff and ground their way to the 22 and after a 15-yard penalty completed a pass to the 5 from where Pat Gladden, the quarterback went over after faking a handoff. Gladden threw a pass to Jim Bob Smith for the two extra points.

In Sanderson's first chance with the ball they worked down to the 37 and lost the ball on downs.

Iraan fumbled and Sanderson recovered and went on to the 10-yard line before the first quarter ended.

In two plays, the Eagles gained the 3-yard line and a 5-yard penalty and an 8-yard loss put them back on the 15 where they tried a field goal which was no good.

Iraan threw a pass on their first play and Sanderson intercepted on the 34 and in two plays had a pass intercepted by the Braves. In three plays the Braves had a touchdown, the final play going for 32 yards on a pass from Gladden to Ricky Rylander. Gladden converted the extra point on a kick.

The balance of the first half was played in mid field.

Pat Little, Eagle quarterback that was injured last week, was replaced by Emie Ayers and Roman Gonzales, who had been out for several games was back in the lineup for the entire first half, but did not play in the second half because of a personal foul committed on the last play of the first half.

Early in the second half, Iraan had a TD called back because of a clipping penalty, but they really broke loose during this period and scored two other TDs and converted single extra continued to second page

'Cave Man' Indicted On Four Counts

Alfredo Hernandez, the "cave man" 35-year-old Mexican accused of shooting Terrell County Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey in November of last year, was indicted by the grand jury Monday on four charges.

The true bills of indictment alleged robbery by assault in connection with the shooting and theft of a pistol and wallet from the sheriff and three burglary charges.

Bond of $2,000 was set on each of the burglary charges but was denied on the robbery by assault charge.

District Judge Sutton appointed Arturo Gonzales of Del Rio to represent Hernandez in the court proceedings.

Hernandez is charged with assault and burglary in Val Verde County.

Girl Scout Leaders To Ask for Funds

The Girl Scout leaders of Sanderson will make a house-to-house canvass next Tuesday for funds for the support of the local organization.

Mrs. Herbert Brown, Sanderson Neighborhood Committee Chairman, stated that this plan was decided upon because of the urgent need for funds and the lack of response to letters in recent years.

There are presently over 50 girls participating in five troops and 10 adult leaders are active with the Brownies and Girl Scouts.

The leaders and members of the Neighborhood Committee will comprise those making the house-to-house canvass for funds.

All residents of the town are asked to consider the amount of their contribution to the effort so that when the solicitors arrive they will have their donation ready.

It was pointed out that there are many more girls of Scouting age in Sanderson who have not yet joined any of the troops and it is hoped that they may do so in the near future.

The picture below should bring some pleasant and unpleasant memories to many people and furnish some conversation that is good for a laugh or two. This new Ford was driven out onto the flat for this picture, probably a brand new model or a brand new owner. Note the tags on the spare tire over the door that wouldn't open anyway, the brass radiator, carbide light, top half of windshield folded down, collapsible top, etc. Our best information is that this model was called the "Runabout". The lady driver is not known, nor is the year model of the car. Mrs. W. J. Ferguson Jr. loaned us the picture.

RIVER JUNCTION — From observation point near Amistad Dam people can see where the Devil's River flows into the Rio Grande. The new reservoir will back water about 85 miles up the Rio Grande, left, and 25 miles up the Devil's River. Completion of the dam is scheduled for late 1968 or early 1969.

Star-Telegram Ranch and Farm Writer

FISHING HAS been predicted to be better below the dam than in the water it impounds. Outdoor writers say this probably is because fish from Falcon, some 200 miles down the Rio Grande, will swim upstream.

The underground water table is expected to rise 50 feet or more on ranches surrounding the lake.

Saddling the generally lazy, and destructive waters of the 1,248-mile Rio Grande between El Paso and Brownsville, started long before explorations of its canyons began in 1915.

Henderson said early proposals called for sites much farther upstream than Amistad. Reconnaissance in 1941 from Presidio to Roma led to establishment of the site for Falcon.

Meanwhile, to head off potential squabbles over water rights, the United States and Mexico made a treaty in 1944 which basically divided the international water.

points following each. The first was a run from the 8 by Gladden, and the second was a 70-yard run by Gladden.

Maxey Watts kicked both the extra points.

In the final frame, Smith carried over from the 8 for a TD for Iraan, and after one play by the Eagles after receiving the kickoff, Iraan intercepted a pass and called for Abel Baeza to take the next play and he did — all the way from the 35 in what was probably the most spectacular play of the game.

After receiving the kickoff, Sanderson got to the 30 and the ball was given to Dalton Thacker. On the play there were penalty markers thrown and many of the Iraan defenders seemed to think there would be a whistle blowing. Thacker did not slow his pace and ran 71 yards for a touchdown. The flags were to mark an off-sides penalty for Iraan, which was refused by Sanderson in favor of the TD.

Andrew Riess kicked the extra point for the Eagles.

Riess, who does all the kicking for the Eagles, got off one punt that went over 60 yards in the air from the point of the kick and he was credited with a 60-yard punt from the line of scrimmage.

Sanderson will meet Sonora in that city next Friday night. Sonora has the top-ranked spot in the district and are expected to give the Eagles a hard time in holding on to their record and making some impressive statistics for future opponents.

The final game of the season will be here with Junction on November 11.

Listen to Luke —

We will also be the first to admit that many needy people have been unaided while someone is trying to make up their minds which is the best way to go about helping them.

We feel sure that the county judges, the mayors, and other interested business men and community leaders of this area will come up with something at the meeting in Alpine this week and we sincerely hope that it is for the best.

It is our opinion that a person who is hungry needs more than just food, and the interest and compassion that goes along with a personal concern for an individual feeds the spirit in another need.

Too often we like to put our giving on a too-impersonal basis, maybe for our own satisfaction, or for some other reason. But a dole by the federal government seems to be about as impersonal thing as we can think of, particularly when the person doing the handing is being paid to do it.

The giving of our taxes in withholdings is a good example of this type of giving. It is very impersonal! We never had the money in our hands, and those who receive it to disperse it don't know the person who gave or gets it as individuals.

Consequently, there is little feeling in the giving or the handling, or the getting.

The whole thing is far too impersonal!

No wonder some people think that money from the federal government comes off of a money tree!

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Prime Minister Harold Wilson's recent courtship of the U.S. underscored the present plight of Britain. England is in the red, with an unfavorable balance of foreign payments, upward spiraling of wages and living costs—but without increased productivity.

Both the Tory and Labor parties have refused to face the sterling crisis and the fact that the country has been living off the C. W. Harder cuff for a long period. England's exports are far short of her vitally-needed imports; she has to buy half of her food from abroad, and imports almost all the raw materials utilized by her industries.

In order to increase her competitiveness in the world market, Britain needs a reduction in the price of goods to increase her exports, and modernization of out-of-date machinery, which is not only more antiquated than the capital goods of competitors, but requires more workers to operate.

But is the U.S. less guilty of overbalancing its own economic scale? The country is still in debt despite record tax collections. The Kennedy-Johnson administrations have raised the legal debt limit six times. Aside from defense expenditures, the greatest drain on the Great Society budget is borrowing.

Although American industry has invested $190 million in new industrial equipment, and with increasing automation, © National Federation of Independent Business output per man hour last year fell below its 4-year record, returning to the low of 1961. And to compound troubles, commercial loans and investments increased twice as rapidly as the Gross National Product.

The major cities of the nation erupt like a series of smoldering volcanoes each summer, spewing fire, destruction and bloodshed. The streets of America's key cities are often as dangerous to walk after dark as headlined global hotspots.

The cities have been largely deserted by the citizens they so vitally need. Independent merchants who have been burnt out of business cannot summon the resources to start anew, and give up their enterprises.

A simple economic solution often lies in the provision of jobs for the unemployed, but the floodgates of immigration continue to admit newcomers while close to half the slum population of U.S. cities are without work.

While the Administration pours billions into Vietnam weekly, U.S. civic leaders, desperately trying to prevent further decay and destruction to their cities, are stalled in their attempts to extract a fraction of the weekly war expenditure.

The home building business is experiencing the worst recession in 12 years. Construction of public utilities and schools has not increased in volume, only become more expensive.

Is the U.S. really in a position to hand over more aid to Britain? Or is Uncle Sam merely in a less advanced state of bankruptcy than John Bull?

'Country Fair' Termed Success By Ranch Club

A large crowd - 242 people, registered to view the exhibits of the Country Fair sponsored by the Ranch Home Demonstration Club. The large area in the Sanderson Wool Commission Co. warehouse afforded an opportunity for better display than at the previous fairs which have become an annual project of the club. Mrs. H. P. Boyd was general chairman.

Booths were set up by several business firms to display their merchandise and a member of the firm was on hand to discuss their wares.

Clubs and organizations of the community also arranged attractive displays.

Antique displays were more numerous this year also floral arrangements using flowers, berries, and foliage from local gardens.

Probably handcrafts drew more attention for they were not only more numerous, but more attractively displayed. To mention some of the things on display, there were canned goods, embroidery, tatting, crochet, knitting, crewel work; quilts, pillowcases, aprons, fancy pillows, Christmas cloths, decorations, socks, tree skirts.

Aprons, Christmas gifts and baked goods provided by the members were for sale.

Cookies, punch and coffee were served throughout the afternoon.

Door prizes were given to Mrs. Lillian McAllister, Clyde Smith, Mrs. L. G. Hinkle, James Caroline, Mrs. J. Garner, Jessie Stephens of Pecos, Alfred Shelton, Mrs. Aubry Harrell, J. E. Hill, Mrs. L. E. ## Emergency Loans Are Available Here For Ranchmen

Senator John Tower said that the Department of Agriculture has authorized the making of emergency loans to eligible ranchers in the following counties: Terrell, Bell, Val Verde, Cochran, Terry, Falls and Travis.

This action was taken because of crop damage due to adverse weather conditions, Tower said.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. McClellan, Miss Irene Pineda, Mrs. Mary Riggs, and Mrs. Joe Chisholm attended the art conference in Alpine Saturday. The conference for classroom teachers was sponsored by the Art Education Association. Mr. Chisholm also made the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Morris were weekend visitors in Sheffield with their daughter, Mrs. Jerry Fortune, and family.

Quiet Hallowe'en Reported Here

This Hallowe'en was exceptionally quiet in Sanderson, according to Sheriff Bill C. Cooksey and all others who have had an opinion on the holiday.

There was the usual "trick or treat" callers, but very little else that went on in the way of Hallowe'en pranking.

Some eggs were thrown on two local buildings, according to the reports, but they were quickly cleaned up the next morning to prevent damage to the exterior.

Special attention was called to the efforts and success of J. A. Soto and Mrs. Louise Causey in providing entertainment for the young people early in the evening, and all of the townspeople are grateful to them and to all who cooperated in making it a joyful, but sane holiday.

Mrs. D. L. Duke has returned home after visiting her daughters, Mrs. L. D. Booker Jr., in Mason and Mrs. Frank Steelman in Houston and their families, also her son, D. L. Duke Jr., and family in San Antonio.

Parks Boss Tells Plans for Amistad Recreation Areas

Developments on the lake created when waters of the Rio Grande rise behind Amistad Dam will be concentrated at specific points on the reservoir for shoreline protection and ease of management, according to Coleman Newman, superintendent of the Amistad Recreation Area for the National Park Service.

Seven sites are now government owned and are under study for development purposes. These sites are selected to provide convenient access to the lake for the visitor, Newman told members of the Ozona Rotary Club at the luncheon meeting in that city Tuesday.

PARKS BOSS—

"The necessary facilities for public use and enjoyment will be provided," the superintendent said. "Construction will involve boat ramps, boat docks, bail shops, gasoline sales area, restaurants, motels, picnic areas, camp grounds and trailer parks. All this is to support water-oriented activities such as fishing, sightseeing, boating, sailing, skiing, camping and picnicking.

"The National Park Service does not operate commercial type visitor facilities. This is done by a concessionaire, who will be required to make a financial investment in boats, docks, boats for renting, restaurants and motels and provide operating personnel. For the privilege of serving the public in a National Park Service area, a concessionaire pays a certain per cent of the gross revenue to the government. The Park Service approves the prices charged the public by the concession for services provided," Newman explained.

"Our initial planning for recreation developments indicates an expenditure of several million dollars by the government will be required in the next few years; in fact, development will be a continuing effort on the part of the National Park Service. There is no cutoff date on the vacationing public and its requirements.

"In conjunction with government expenditures, we anticipate concessionaires will also invest several million dollars over a period of years. A number of people have indicated an interest in securing a concession to provide services to the public and we hope this part of the program develops rapidly," the superintendent continued.

"The National Park Service has found, through years of experience, that a key factor in planning, management and protection of the reservoir for public use is control of access. It has been learned, at the expense of a good many undesirable situations, that private pier and boat docking privileges cannot be permitted without an overall loss of public values. To secure the greatest values for the public, the shoreline must be protected against unsightly construction, accumulated trash and pollution. In meeting this objective, all construction on the federal lands will be done by the government or by a concessionaire and for public use," Newman said.

"This practice is carefully followed on all National Park Service areas. This federally developed and managed area will help the people of our country through an improved recreational program and the economy of business always benefits as the visitors begin to participate in the many activities relating to a reservoir," the superintendent said.

Newman prefaced his remarks with a brief review of the history and responsibilities of the National Park Service, explaining the service was not authorized until August, 1916, though the United States Department of Interior was established by Congress in 1849.

This year marked the 50th anniversary of the service and August 21-27 was observed as National Park Service Week in Texas under proclamation of Governor John Connally.

"Yellowstone was the first national park," Newman said; "it was established in 1872. Prior to 1916 several more national parks and national monuments were created. In general these areas were protected and managed by the United States Army. Soon after the creation of the National Park Service, civilian personnel took over the management duties.

"Today the National Park Service has more than 225 areas under its jurisdiction. Five are in Texas—Amistad, Big Bend, Fort Davis, Padre Island and Sanford Recreation area. Perhaps Guadalupe will be established as a national park before this Congress adjourns. In 1965 approximately 12 million persons visited areas administered by the service; we estimate this figure will increase to 123 million this year," Newman said.

See Old-age Tax Pay-in Exceeding Benefit Pay-out

By the time the 21-year-old who goes to work today (1966) retires at 65 in 2010, the value of the old-age taxes he will have paid during his working life (including interest lost) will exceed by more than $12,000 the benefits he will draw in retirement, says Tax Foundation's new study: Economic Aspects of the Social Security Tax. If such a man had saved a sum equal to his tax, and got 3½% interest, he would accumulate more than $32,000 by retirement date. On the same day the value of the social security payments he would get (assuming normal life expectancy) would amount to about $19,000.

"We are operating at Amistad by authority of Congress and specifically through an agreement with the International Boundary and Water Commission. Legislation has been introduced in Congress to establish the area as Amistad National Recreation Area. The Boundary Commission is overseeing construction of the dam and the National Park Service is planning the recreational facilities for the reservoir. When the lake has formed, we will manage the area for public use and continue building facilities to meet the public need," Newman said.

The first city officials of Old New York (Nieuw Amsterdam) in 1653 included a preacher, teacher, court messenger and dog catcher.

TEXAS IS ON THE MOVE!

In virtually every field of endeavor, our state has made dramatic progress the past four years under the strong leadership of Governor John Connally. His administration's bold, yet sensible programs have helped provide new opportunity and a better way of life for all our people.

IMPROVED EDUCATION — Since 1963, state investment in higher education has doubled, and faculty salaries have increased 40%. State support of local public schools have increased 44% in four years, including a $100 million teacher pay raise enacted in 1965. Technical and vocational training programs have been vastly increased; junior college enrollment doubled during the current bi-ennium. Special literacy programs for migrant workers and their children have been expanded. A college student loan fund of $85 million has been established. And a special Governor's Committee on Public Education currently is studying all facets of elementary and secondary education.

WATER RESOURCES DEVELOPMENT — Long range planning and development have been given top priority. $100 million in bonds have been issued for development of needed storage facilities; authorization has been granted to expand this program to $200 million for the next two years.

CONCERN FOR THE AGED AND NEEDY — Since 1963, assistance to our elderly has been increased 27%. The Governor's Committee on Aging is continually working for the benefit of our senior citizens.

OUTDOOR RECREATION — More than $2 million has been invested in improving ten of our most attractive state parks during the past two years to provide additional recreational facilities.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION — A record 855 new industrial plants have been established the past three years, moving Texas into second place in the nation in industrial expansion. Last year, more than 23,000 new jobs were created in manufacturing alone — the best year ever for the Texas labor force.

INCREASED TOURISM — More than 12 million tourists visited Texas last year, adding more than $900 million to the state's economy, and creating 140,000 new jobs. The state's tourist advertising program has been sharply expanded.

MENTAL HEALTH AND MENTAL RETARDATION — New emphasis on prevention of mental illness and mental retardation has been achieved through establishment of new community centers, replacing the former practice of "warehousing" patients. Investment for research into causes of mental disorders has doubled the past four years.

BETTER HIGHWAY TRANSPORTATION — Texas has more farm-to-market roads than any other state — more than 35,134 miles. We lead the nation in construction of interstate highways, at a cost 40% below the nation's average.

COMBAT AIR AND WATER POLLUTION — New legislation for public health, "The Clear Air Act of Texas," provides state action to combat air pollution. Similar vigorous action has been initiated to control pollution of Texas streams, bays and estuaries.

NEW CULTURAL GROWTH — The Fine Arts Commission was established in 1965 to nurture the cultural enrichment of Texans. The state's cultural heritage will be preserved and portrayed in the state's pavilion at HemisFair '68 in San Antonio.

BUSINESSLIKE ADMINISTRATION — With unprecedented teamwork, our state government has operated responsibly and efficiently. The Legislature has finished its work on time in each session. Following a pay-as-you-go policy, we have maintained a healthy surplus in the general revenue fund without curtailing essential services.

HEALTHY, GROWING ECONOMY — Business activity rose 11% last year, as Texas continues one of the brightest growth areas. Employment and income are at an all-time high, unemployment at an all-time low. Despite increased responsibilities, our state government costs only $168.78 a year per citizen, fourth lowest in the nation. No broad-based tax has been enacted the past four years. Texas still has no personal income or payroll tax, no corporate income tax, and is one of few remaining states with a limited sales tax of 2%.
