LISTEN TO LUKE

Sanderson and Terrell County residents had an opportunity to express their concern over the possibility of a doctor coming to Sanderson last Sunday afternoon. And they took advantage of that opportunity.

There was some kind of an impression had to be made on the doctor and his wife with the large number of people who turned out to meet him Sunday afternoon at the informal get-together.

It is our opinion that the good doctor and his family - a wife and their nine children - need us and we need them.

We have long felt that this is a good place to rear a family and that is what he is hunting.

If and when he decides to move his family here, we have a continuing obligation to see that he is supported in the confidence he is placing in the town in furnishing the atmosphere that is conducive to the rearing of children, and he at the same time will be fulfilling his obligation to the town, in furnishing medical aid to those desiring or needing it.

We think it will be a fine arrangement.

We extend to you, our readers, best wishes for a happy Thanksgiving and ask that you join us in expressing gratitude for the bountiful fruits of life.

Hunters Cautioned to Complete Tags or Risk Charges

David Cook, game warden, named hunters this week that it was a violation of the law to not have game tags completely filled out or filled out improperly.

Warden Cook stated that tags often were not filled out at all, and that this was definitely a violation of the law which is fully explained on the license. Fines for this violation can be from $10 to $100, Cook stated.

140 Contributed to Poppy Sales

Mrs. Clyde Higgins, poppy chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, reported that $40.00 was contributed to the local Poppy Sale on November 14.

Members made solicitations through the business district on Monday morning with the request to buy a poppy today, Veterans' Day. Several members were at the Community Public Service office that morning to serve coffee and cookies and seek contributions to the sale.

The help and contributions of everyone who helped to make a success of the sale is appreciated by the Auxiliary. The monies from the annual Poppy Sale are for rehabilitation of veterans and their families.

Postmaster Gives Rules for Mailing Cards, Packages

Postmaster J. R. Hodgkins reminds the patrons of the Sanderson post office that the Christmas mailing season is rapidly approaching and urges them to shop early, mail early and use ZIP Codes on all mail. A person who doesn't have ZIP Codes for any addresses on their list can obtain them through the Post Office.

Mr. Hodgkins issued the following information on designated mailing periods and instructions for the proper preparation of articles for mailing.

The period October 21 to November 10 has been designated for mailing Christmas parcels and greeting cards by surface transportation to members of our Armed Forces overseas. For air mail parcels, the period is December 1 to December 15.

The term "Armed Forces overseas" includes personnel of our Armed Forces, members of their families, and authorized U. S. civilians employed overseas, who receive their mail through an APO, New York, N. Y. or San Francisco, Calif. or Seattle, Wash.; Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y. or San Francisco, Calif.; or Navy Post Office, c/o Postmaster, Seattle, Wash.

Gift parcels weighing not more than 5 pounds and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined and addressed to members of the armed forces in Vietnam will be provided air-lift service from San Francisco even though prepaid at the surface rate.

All articles should be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiberboard or strong double faced corrugated fiberboard. All fiberboard boxes should be securely wrapped in heavy paper which materially strengthens the package. Each box should be well tied with strong cord. Sufficient cushioning material should be used to prevent any rattling or loosening of articles within the package. Unless tightly filled, boxes are likely to be crushed. A slip showing list of contents, and the name and address of sender and addressee should be enclosed in the parcel. Forms 2966 or 2976-A, Customs Declaration, completed by the senders are required on parcels to many destinations.

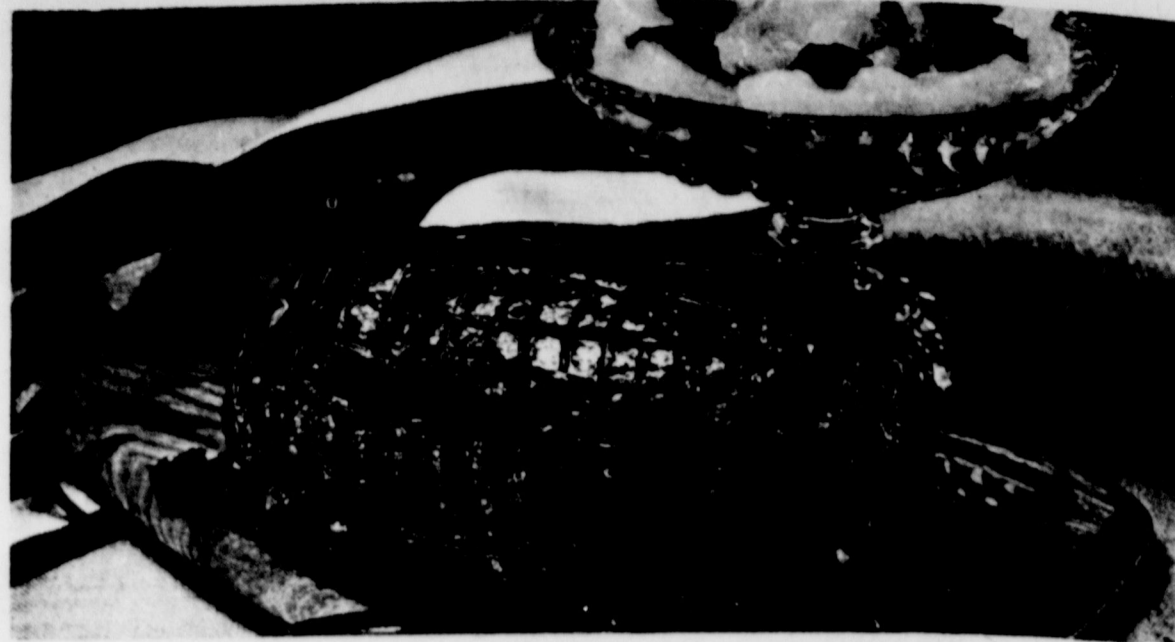

In addition to the articles normally prohibited in the mail, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed to overseas military addresses. Cigarettes, other tobacco products, coffee, and various other items are prohibited in parcels addressed to some military post offices.

The domestic rates of postage are applicable, and postage must be fully prepaid. When fourth-class or air parcel post rates are applicable, the zone rate from post office where mailed to the post office through which the parcel is addressed will be charged. Air mail articles weighing not in excess of 8 ounces are chargeable at the rate of 8 cents per ounce.

Addresses must be legible and complete and should be prepared by typewriter or pen and ink. APO numbers have been changed to five digits which are identical to the ZIP Code.

GIFT PARCELS — Mailers should be urged to mail gift parcels for distant states before December 5 to insure delivery before Christmas. Gift parcels for local and nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 15. The name of both the sender and addressee should be enclosed in each gift parcel to permit identity in case of damage or loss of the outside address label.

SNIP the netting and you'll find a tidy boned lamb shoulder underneath... all ready to carve into handsome slices of whatever thickness you desire. Serve with canned Bartlett pears and mandarin orange segments that have been gently spiced.

NETTED LAMB SHOULDER WITH SPICED FRUIT
 (Makes 6 to 8 servings)

- | | |
|--|--------------------------|
| 1 boneless shoulder of lamb, rolled and netted | 1 slice lemon |
| Salt and pepper | 1 cinnamon stick |
| 1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) pear halves | ½ teaspoon whole cloves |
| 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange segments | ½ teaspoon cardamom seed |
| | Cranberry orange relish |

Place netted lamb on rack in shallow roasting pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Roast in 325° (slow) oven 40 to 45 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 175° for medium doneness.

Meanwhile, drain pear and orange syrups into saucepan and add spices. Boil 10 minutes and strain. Pour 1¼ cups syrup over fruits in shallow dish; chill thoroughly. Use remaining syrup to brush on lamb during last hour of roasting. Drain the spiced fruit. Fill center of pear halves with cranberry orange relish; arrange on serving dish with orange segments. When roast is done, let "set" 10 minutes before carving. Turn roast over, slit netting on underside and pull netting off.

The outside address label should be placed on only one side of each parcel.

Christmas Day.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving

BY BESS SAMUEL AYRES

I THANK Thee for the fruit that did not ripen; Since then I pruned the limbs, enriched the soil; I learned both careful workmanship and patience, That later will reward my added toil.

I thank Thee for the illness and the trouble, For they enlarged my vision, made me kind. I know that if I felt no care or sorrow, To others' pain I'd be both deaf and blind.

I thank Thee for defeat, though grim, unpleasant; It makes me sympathize with others' needs; It helps to make me tolerant, forgiving, And more alert to do unselfish deeds.

Guaranteed Destruction

Supporters of the idea that the federal government should provide a guaranteed annual personal income are no longer just talkers but full-fledged promoters. A Guaranteed Annual Income Newsletter is now being put out by a group at the University of Chicago. So far, the advocates of a government allowance are campaigning on the premise that it would do away with poverty. They reason that since poverty is essentially caused by the lack of money, giving everyone an income on which to live will help cause poverty to go away.

It is one thing to say poverty will go away when everyone is guaranteed a specific income. But, it is quite another thing to overcome the economic reality that it would not work. Those who advance the theories of giving something for nothing overlook one simple fact: the government can only give to the people what it first takes away from the people. And the amount of additional taxes necessary to sustain a guaranteed dole for everyone and the accompanying inflation that would result would be enough to bankrupt the United States. A great many more citizens classed as "poverty stricken" would be the unfortunate by-product of a guaranteed dole as dependency replaced self-reliance in the United States.

ATTENTION CALLED TO SPECIAL TV PROGRAM

A television program which should be of interest to all people will be on Channel 7 on November 27 at 10:30 p. m. and on Channel 9 at 2:00 p. m. on December 11.

The name of the program is "Little Business is Big Business". All local citizens are urged to try to see one of the two showings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cole and her mother, Mrs. Ettie Smith, have moved to the Elrod home. Clayton Stubblefield, who was residing there, has moved to the Jack Hayre rent house across the street from the football field. The Coles were occupying the Farley rent house at 413 N. Persimmon.

History supplies ample proof that no one has ever provided more moral and material rewards for the poor than is available through U. S. freedom of opportunity.

FACT AND OPINION

The office of government is not to confer happiness, but to give men opportunity to work out happiness for themselves.—William Ellery Channing.

On the floor of the House, Illinois Congressman Donald Rumsfeld declared: "The growing problems of rising prices and inflation will not be solved by wishing they go away. It is not enough for the Government to admonish housewives to be more selective in their purchasing. It is not enough for the Government to urge business and industry to reduce spending. The Government must take the initiative and demonstrate to the American people that it too is able to do so within its means."

Tom Morris, an officer of Bylth & Company in Portland, Oregon, expresses the feeling of many Americans in this brief statement: "I just feel we cannot spend ourselves into prosperity . . ."

The Story Of Thanksgiving—A Past And Present Holiday

from "FRIENDLY FLAME"

Because of religious persecution in England, 101 Pilgrims sailed from England in the summer of 1620 in a little ship by the name of the "Mayflower," so that they might have religious freedom and be able to worship God, according to their faith, in the new land of America.

So many people on such a small ship made the voyage an uncomfortable one. The lack of fresh food made some of the people ill, and a spell of stormy weather added to their discomfort, besides throwing the ship off its course. When they finally reached America, it was found they were off the shores of Cape Cod, instead of the coast of New Jersey, where they had permission to land.

The settlers decided to stay where they were, because they thought they could get permission; however, the colony never did receive a charter from the King, probably because James I disapproved of the Separatists—as they were called in England. After exploring the coast, the Pilgrims landed, on December 21, 1620, at the place which Captain John Smith had already named Plymouth in his maps of the region.

The Pilgrims found the winters terrrible. The first winter, especially, was a very severe one, and more than half the group died, including the Governor, Deacon John Carver. They lived on the ship until they could build their houses, and were afraid to leave the boat because of the Indians. Captain Miles Standish was a soldier who helped the Plymouth colony plan their village to protect them from the Indians; however, they learned a little later that the Indians wanted to be their friends. Their Chief, Massasoit, made an agreement to keep peace with the Pilgrims and even sent Squanto, one of the Indians of the tribe, to live with the settlers to teach them how to raise corn. He even showed them how to throw dead fish into the hole to make the soil rich.

The Pilgrims had been in the New World for nearly a year. The spring-time sowing had taken place and all the summer fields had been watched with great anxiety, for all knew their lives depended upon the coming harvest. The summer crops came to a richness of fruition beyond all expectation, and late one day in the fall Governor Bradford said, "We will hold a harvest feast of Thanksgiving," and invited the friendly Indians to rejoice with the white men. The Pilgrim Fathers went hunting and fishing; they brought home wild turkey and fish; the Pilgrim Mothers baked bread, cake and pumpkin pies; the children gathered wild plums and grapes; and the Indians, dressed in skins and with painted faces, brought five large deer for the feast. The whole group played games, danced and sang before the feast, and gave thanks to God. The harvest feast lasted three days.

This was the first Thanksgiving Day celebrated in America, and little by little, as new colonies settled the land, the custom of a yearly Thanksgiving spread throughout the country.

In 1789, General Washington issued a Thanksgiving Proclamation:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey his will, to be grateful for his benefits, and humbly to implore his protection, aid and favors . . . Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto him our sincere and humble thanks for his kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various favors which he has been pleased to confer upon us."

Until the Civil War, the celebration of Thanksgiving was merely a state affair. But in 1864 President Lincoln issued a proclamation appointing the last Thursday in November of that year as a national Thanksgiving Day. Since then Thanksgiving Day has been regularly observed throughout the United States.

So as we sit at our Thanksgiving table, laden with food and surrounded by good friends, let us remember the true meaning of this day, unique only in America, and give our thanks to God for all the goodness he has bestowed upon us, as did our Pilgrim fathers, three centuries-and-some-odd years ago, in their sincere, humble and suppliant way.

I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto Jehovah.

—(Psalms 27:6)

When we see God's world of beauty our hearts soar in pure joy. Our spirit was not meant to be earth-bound. Our song of life is in tune with the sweeping rhythm of His tides. God bears us upward on wings of prayer. We touch His starry ways and find glory and triumph.

Before the wedding in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roming, 700 E. Eleventh St., Mrs. Vick was Miss Maycee Nussbaumer. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lela Nussbaumer and Joe Nussbaum-er. For her wedding the bride wore a frock of white with a choop-neckline. Her shoulder-length bouffant veil of illusion was held in place by tulle roses and pearls. She wore pearls belonging to her mother as her only jewelry and she carried white roses.

Only the immediate families witnessed the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Joe Walts Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church.

A reception followed the ceremony. The tiered white cake was decorated with white roses and topped with an arch of lilies of the valley, a white bridal bell and a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Vick is attending Del Rio High School; her husband, who was reared in Del Rio, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M.B. Vick

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too . . .

Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.
