LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert---

Several people noticed and remarked about the unusually large number of beer cans by the band hall, in the street, and around the St. James Hall early Thursday morning.

Sanderson has an opportunity this summer to place itself on the "cleanest town in Texas" this summer. With the number of boys that "have nothing to do" this summer, there is a golden opportunity for the yards and lots to sparkle with attraction in order to provide some worthwhile activity for these lads.

We have long agreed with the boys that age, ever since we were that age, that there is nothing dignified about doing yard work. We have continued to feel that way about it, and those in our neighborhood feel the same way. But there is some dignity in having a well-kept or neat yard and premises, and there is some dignity in knowing that you have done a job well.

There have been times when some of the housewives were too busy to do some of the yard work and the man of the house had to hire someone to do the heavy work in their stead, and found it difficult to hire a man to do it. This situation could be alleviated also due to the abundance of man or boy-power this summer. It's real good for toning the muscles, building up stamina, getting a tan, soaking up some vitamin C to build up a defense against whatever germs don't like people full of vitamin C, sweating off some flab, and many other things.

And for some of the girls who don't have anything to do, wife Zee says that doing some of the heavy work in the yard when she can't hire a man to do it, bending over and pulling weeds out of flower beds, etc., is wonderful therapy for backaches, sore muscles, flabby sections, good for the complexion, helps build stamina for the balance of the housework, encourages deep breathing, etc., etc., and many other benefits. She says it also helps her to kill some time between her Girl Scout work, preparation for Bible school teaching, preparation for the coming of daughter and four grandones, her two part-time jobs, and the hours she spends lazing around the neighborhood drinking iced tea with her neighbors.

There is wonderful potential in such activities, and one of the best things to be accomplished is to eliminate the devil's workshop which is the result of an idle mind.

We have known boys who earned as much as $1.25 per hour working in yards during the summer, too. And that's not bad wages.

If there are any young people who have thought up an enterprising project for the summer and want to advertise for customers, services, clients, or whatever the correct terminology for those who would be interested, we would gladly give them advertising to help them let their ambitions be made known.

With school being out last week, and the passage of the bond issue, which means the eventual razing of the junior high school building, we thought it appropriate to publish the picture this week of the entire student body in the building the first year of its occupancy - 1912. The superintendent, the man standing at the head of the stairs just to the left of the brick column, is the only member of the faculty in the picture. The grade level of the students ranges from the first grade on the front steps, and so on upward, but not strictly divided. A clue to the identity of some of the students: Mrs. Clyde Carter was in the first grade, Mrs. Tip Frazier was one of the younger ones, Willie Banner, Willis Harrell, and Jim Nance were among the older group, and Carl Cochran and Mrs. Chester Gurratt were seniors. The picture was loaned by Mrs. A. D. Brown who joined the faculty that year.

ATOMIC FUSION RESEARCH

seeking the key that may unlock a new source of electric power for the future

Recognizing that the time will come when new fuels will be needed to generate a vastly greater supply of electric power, Community Public Service joined with nine other Texas investor-owned electric utility companies ten years ago in sponsoring an atomic fusion research program.

Although researchers are far from solving difficult basic problems in the fusion process and its application to the production of electric power, the long-range program is progressing, and is currently being conducted in laboratories at the University of Texas.

For the past seven years, the program has contributed to the education of several thousand high school science students — many from the area served by Community Public Service Company — by providing nuclear science symposiums. At these meetings, science-minded boys and girls not only are exposed to the knowledge being acquired by this research, but also have the opportunity to meet and talk with some of the world's foremost scientists.

The program's educational functions are an important by-product of the continuing long-range effort to develop direct generation of electric power through the controlled atomic fusion process.

Come to Church Sunday

Eternity

"Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard . . . the things which God hath prepared for them that love him." — Isaiah 64:4

How much would you give to know exactly what will happen to you tomorrow? If you were able to determine what lay in store for next week, even next year, how would this affect the conduct of your life this very moment?

We shall have no earthly glimpse into eternity. It is not available, at any price.

If we are beset with trails and tribulations, how difficult it is to imagine in time or place a state of complete happiness!

Yet, how rewarding is the pursuit of a Christian way of life, belief in God, and an awareness of the goodness of those about us. These things can only encourage the realization that there is a higher purpose and meaning to existence.

Briseno-Flores Wedding Saturday

Miss Rita Flores became the bride of Jesus Briseno Jr., Saturday morning in a double-ring ceremony in St. James Catholic Church. Rev. Daniel Dierschke officiated at the rites.

Arrangements of white glad-decorated the altar.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Santiago Flores, the bride wore a street length tent-style dress of white lace. Her veil was attached to a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a white orchid for her bridal bouquet and later wore it as a corsage with her going-away costume.

For something borrowed, she wore pearl earrings belonging to Emma Castro; for something new, a pearl necklace belonging to Lupe Garza; for something blue, a pair of garters belonging to Yolanda Escamilla.

Mr. and Mrs. Genobevo Galvan attended the couple. Mrs. Galvan wore a blue lace street-length dress and a blue veil attached to a large blue bow. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception in St. James Hall. A bride and groom centered the bride's cake and two silver rings decorated the other cake. Chocolate, coffee, and wedding cookies were also served.

The couple left for Rogers City, Mich., where they will reside. He has been employed in Big Spring by the Geophysical Vibrators, Inc., and was transferred to Rogers City.

The bride, a graduate of the Sanderson High School, attended San Angelo College and later Southwest Beauty College in El Paso. She has been employed by the Vanity Beauty Shop in recent months.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Briseno Sr. of Tarzan. He is a graduate of the Stanton High School, later attending an IBM School in Fort Worth and Midland Junior College.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's parents and his brother, Peter Briseno, and Mr. and Mrs. Calistro Urias.

The bride-to-be was feted at a miscellaneous shower on Friday evening in the home of Mrs. George Escobar with Misses Garza, Castro, and Escamilla as co-hostesses.

The gifts were displayed on tables.

About 60 attended the shower. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, cake, cookies, and punch.

Clay Barrow made a business trip to Albuquerque, N.M., the first of the week.

Our man with the Armed Forces

Because beer is such a favorite with service men, we brewers like to do all we can to keep its surroundings right. So USBA representatives serve as adviser members of the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Boards throughout the country.

These men from the USBA operate hand in hand with service and civilian police, with malt beverage licensees, public boards and committees: military, civil, professional. Object: to protect those who are underage, and to insure strict observance of the law.

We're proud of the work they do.

We are only being observant, not critical, of the fact that it didn't take Patrick Nugent long to be discovered as a man with tremendous potential. About a year after marrying one of the Birds he became one of the executives of one of the Austin banks!
