LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:---
We cannot but wonder, as we write this, about the future of the countless thousands who have lost so much as a result of the Beulah hurricane damage. It was a terrible disaster.

Calls began coming to our office soon after the hurricane hit the Texas Coast from people wanting to know what they could send and to whom they could send it for the assistance of some of the flood or hurricane victims. These were calls from local people who could remember only too well what others did for them and of their obligation to be of whatever assistance they could.

If not before you have read this, then probably real soon, items will have been collected to be sent to the disaster area to be distributed by some agency to the victims.

It should not be difficult for the Red Cross chapter here to have a nice collection to send in when we think about the fact that it was just over two years ago that the Red Cross spent over $200,000.00 in Sanderson aiding flood victims here. Not only is it our time to help pay from this standpoint, but time to help those who need our help so much.

The power of wind and water has not been completely demonstrated yet, but we have seen some examples of the destruction that those forces can cause.

In last week's mail we got a book that was published to commemorate the 50 years of existence of the Texas Highway Department. It is, in fact, a history of the organization in pictures and words. And very interesting, too! We took the liberty to use one of the pictures from that publication on the front page this week. It shows the opening of the Pecos River bridge in 1923 and is an interesting shot, we think.

No history of the Texas Highway Department would be complete without a history of D. C. Greer, who has been the head of that organization for many, many years.

Because of his leadership, Texas roads are what they are today. And considering the hundreds of thousands of miles of highways within the state and the thousands of miles that are in the planning or construction stage, Mr. Greer is responsible for a lot of highway.

And, another thing that can and should be said in his behalf, is the fact that during all of his tenure as the head of that state department, there has never been any hint of any scandal or malfeasance or irregularity concerning state or national funds used in the construction of roads.

We do not know Mr. Greer, but the highways, bridges, culverts, roadside parks, local and district offices, and other tangibles will stand a long time as a monument to a man who was able to get things done well. And even long after the passing of all these things, there will be living in other people the results of the examples that were set by him in leadership, integrity, and stewardship of talents.

DO UNTO OTHERS---Some local ladies are shown above in the St. James Hall on Monday afternoon sorting clothing that will go to aid the victims of Hurricane Beulah. Clothing and bedding began coming in Sunday afternoon to the collection point and every garment is being inspected for cleanliness, necessary repairs, if any, and sorted as to type of garment, if for male or female, and for size, so that it can be distributed more rapidly when it arrives at the site. The clothing is being rounded up to be distributed by the Salvation Army. The request for canned and prepared foods is also being heard locally and a good supply of these items has been collected also for distribution by the Salvation Army. As is noted in another story, contributions of cash are being received by the local Red Cross chapter to aid the flood victims in that manner. Sanderson residents showed eager response to the call for help from the two organizations, both of which were so helpful locally during the flood here in June of 1965.

Sanderson Loses To Grandfalls 15-8; Rankin To Be Here Friday in District Tilt

The Sanderson Eagles lost a close one to the Grandfalls-Royalty Cowboys Friday night on the local gridiron. It was a non-district tilt.

The visitors drew first blood when a punt was blocked and Danny Shieler picked up the ball and ran 37 yards for a touchdown. Roberto Vasquez kicked the extra point.

In the second period Andrew Riess ran 18 yards for a Sanderson score, and Carlos Garza passed to James Alexander for two points, giving Sanderson the lead 8-7 at the halftime.

Rain came about halfway through the third period and fell intermittently during the rest of the game.

Early in the fourth period Vasquez scored from 18 yards out and ran the ball over for two points to give a 15-8 margin over the Eagles.

Later in the game, Sanderson had the ball on the two yard line on a punt and gave it up on downs before the final series ended with the Cowboys killing the clock on the ground.

The Eagles lost the ball four times on fumbles, and had two punts blocked.

Sanderson will host the Rankin Red Devils Friday night to begin their district competition. The game will begin at 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. H. A. Smith Dies In Alpine Tuesday Afternoon

Appreciation for Local Flood Aid Shown In Efforts To Help Hurricane Beulah's Victims

Cash Donations Sought By Red Cross

The local committee of the American Red Cross is asking for cash contributions to assist those who suffered great losses in the recent disaster on the Texas Coast. Contributions will be received by Mrs. C. P. Peavy, chapter treasurer, or by R. S. Wilkinson, member.

It has been pointed out that there is a possibility that a house-to-house campaign will be waged over the United States to collect money to aid the flood and hurricane victims as the Red Cross expenditures are expected to reach into the millions and the only way they have of getting money is by contributions.

Clothing, Food Drive Is Extended

The local drive for non-perishable food and clothing for relief of victims of Hurricane Beulah is being extended through Thursday.

The last load of supplies which had been collected, sorted, and packed for three days at St. James Hall, left for San Angelo Wednesday night and will be taken from there by the Salvation Army to the flood area.

Anyone having clothing, bedding, or food which was not turned in during that time is requested to bring the supplies to the home of Philip Hanson at 312 Persimmon St. Thursday and then the last load will be taken to San Angelo.

Surveyors Work Toward Planning Of Dam Sites

Terry Reynolds and John Hart of Fort Worth, Harold Marks of San Marcos, and Don Smith of Sanderson are working in the Sanderson area preparing data for the making of contour maps of the Sanderson Canyon Watershed.

By the use of aerial photographs, an elaborate radio device, and readings made of distances between points on the photograph, topographic maps showing given contour intervals are made. These topographic maps are the key to the design and location of the watershed dams to control the watershed.

The crew will be working on the watershed for several weeks.

An on-site demonstration of the method of determining surface distances was given to a Times representative and an explanation of how this data was used in the preparation of the topographic map.

The surveyors, all employees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, stated that they were working on this project for one purpose only - to keep flood water out of Sanderson.

Mrs. H. G. Newton, Former Resident, Dies Tuesday

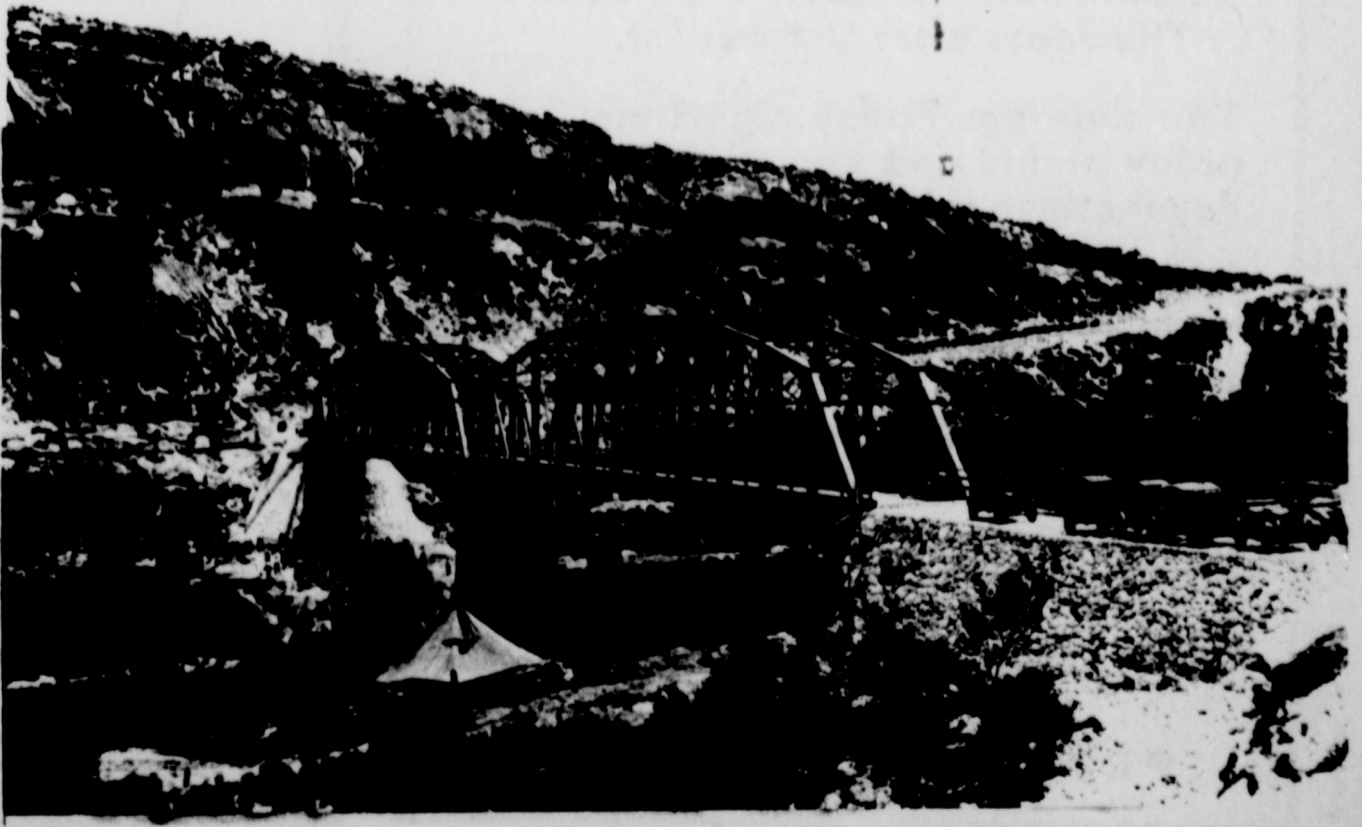

Mrs. Beulah Newton, 88, died in a hospital in El Paso early Monday morning. She had been in failing health for a long time but had been in the hospital only a few days.

Funeral services and interment were in that city Wednesday morning.

Besides her husband, Harry G. Newton, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mattie Morgan of Colorado Springs, Colo.; a brother, Raymond L. McLean, and a sister, Mrs. Kathleen Chamberlain, both of El Paso.

The Newtons are former Sanderson residents, moving to El Paso after his retirement as an SP engineer.

The picture below is of the Pecos River Bridge when it was opened in June of 1923. It was in service until July of 1954 when it was washed away by flood waters which fell in the area and spawned by a hurricane. The picture is from the book published to commemorate the 50 years of the Texas Highway Department. Notice the long line of cars on the east side of the bridge back up the hill.

Shearing Head Short Injures Jack Riggs Saturday

A short circuit in an electrical shearing head nearly caused the death of Jack Riggs Saturday. He is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily, but is still sore from the electrical charge.

While he was shearing some sheep in the barn at the ranch the short occurred in the shearing head. He not only had wet feet, but the animals were also wet, causing a good ground, according to reports. He was knocked over by the charge and when a Mexican who was helping grabbed the shearing head, he, too, was knocked across the floor. He finally succeeded in knocking the head out of Riggs hands.

Riggs was addled for some time following the accident. He was cut on the arm and head by the shearing head which continued running and narrowly escaped severe cuts on the body since he was unable to control the machine.

NOW OVEN CLEANING'S a SNAP

WHEN YOU HAVE AN ELECTRIC RANGE WITH A SELF-CLEANING OVEN

No down-on-your-knees hand-scrubbing and scraping. No elbow grease at all. Just close the oven door, set the automatic controls and baked-on food and grease simply vanish. A self-cleaning electric oven cleans itself thoroughly in two to three hours for an average cost of only about seven cents. Yes, a messy, tiresome job is a snap when you have a new electric range with an oven that cleans itself. Get one at your dealer's soon.
