LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:---

We had a ball last weekend with all of the relatives here, but will probably have to do without food for several days, but probably that wouldn't hurt since we had a little to eat during the time they were here, and doing without would just even things up.

We really appreciate the nice things done for mother and dad in connection with their golden wedding observance.

Area papers that we read all are telling about the passing of policies by the school board to authorize action against students guilty of using dope, hallucinatory drugs, intoxicants, indicted by grand jury action, etc.

Policies have been adopted by our local school board to take care of certain contingencies, also.

We don't know what to think about such necessities!

First, the fact that young people will degrade themselves to such a degree, bring such remorse and embarrassment to their family and friends, and be so negligent of their own pride and well-being, to us is almost incomprehensible.

Second, that the school board has to have a written policy before they can take action on each and every specific violation seems a little out of line with good thinking.

About the only protection for the schools' maintaining any semblance of order and discipline, then, would be for the board to state that they can and will take disciplinary action against any student who is guilty of violation of any of the Code of Criminal Procedure of the State of Texas, the book of laws that govern us all, in and out of school.

For example, now that the use of drugs is covered in the schools' policies, but what about the use of profanity, vulgarity, etc., in the classroom or halls, or other school activities in addressing a teacher? Or is smoking in class, or eating in class covered?

We are not fussing at the administration or the board for not passing all of the potential policies that will be needed, but fussing at the need for them to pass any policies!

And the greatest problem of our land today, in our opinion, is the fact that with all of our laws, there is so little punishment for the violator.

If the policies need to be passed to give the schools a big stick to have discipline and order, then pass the policies and have enough of them to cover everything, then use them to do what the schools are intended to do - educate the children - rather than an institution to be the sounding board for all of the gripes of the juveniles.

In many of our activities, by our lack of action we consent to certain things. This is true, possibly in the case of Mrs. Madlyn Murry O'Hara's efforts to prohibit the reading of scripture in future space flights. She is the avowed atheist who has

Legion Observes 50th Anniversary

The Legion Auxiliary joined the American Legion in celebrating their 50th anniversary last Saturday night. Legion posts all over the nation and the world were celebrating the event climaxing the celebrations with the lighting of the Freedom Flame which was placed at the Tomb of the Unknown in Arlington Cemetery by the American Legion and Auxiliary.

The keynote speaker for the local celebration was Ray Hodgkins, post adjutant. He centered his speech on the history and services of the American Legion during its 50 years of existence. He closed his speech by reading the names of the local Legionnaires with 40 years of continued membership. L. H. Gilbreath is the only Legionnaire of this Post who has 50 years of continuous membership.

Mrs. E. E. Farley, Auxiliary president and master of ceremonies for the evening, paid tribute to the charter members of this Post by reading the names of all ex-servicemen appearing on the charter for membership October 5, 1930. Willis Harrell and Tom Breeding are the only charter members living in Sanderson.

Veterans of World War I and II were introduced and each gave the branch of service in which he served and some interesting incident connected with his service. This proved to be interesting as well as informational.

Mrs. Farley then paid tribute to the founders of the local American Legion Auxiliary by reading the names of the women

R. V. Sanchez, 23 Former Resident, Killed In Crash

Mrs. Mario Romo and family attended funeral services in Andrews last Monday for her nephew, Reymundo Villegas Sanchez, 23, who died early last Saturday morning after fatal injuries received earlier that morning when the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole on the Andrews highway out of Odessa. He was a roofing worker and died a little more than an hour after the accident, receiving severe head injuries.

Several hours later, his 15-year-old companion, driver of the car involved in the crash, was charged with negligent homicide. Two other Andrews men in the car escaped serious injuries.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rosa Sanchez, and two daughters of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Magdalena Sanchez of Andrews; also a sister and five brothers.

Sanchez was a native of Sanderson.

Band Wins First In Sight-Reading At Lamesa Fete

The Sanderson High School Band won a Division I in sight-reading at the Midland festival last Saturday.

According to Miss Patricia Thomas, band director, Sanderson was competing against Farwell in sight-reading and concert and the two judges decided after much discussion, to award a first place to each of the two schools with the other getting second place in alternating events. There was no method given for the selection of the school to receive the first place in each event.

Eighty band students made the trip and the following adults: Mrs. E. E. Harkins, C. B. Card, Jack Cosby, and Darwin Schrader.

Absentee Voting Began Monday

Absentee voting for the school board election began Monday and will continue through Tuesday, April 1.

The election will be on Saturday, April 5. Absentee balloting will be at the office of the school tax assessor-collector, A. H. Zuberbueher, in the school administration building, the old bank building.

Mrs. Austin Nance went to Del Rio Tuesday and her cousin, Mrs. Minter Parker, accompanied her to San Antonio for a medical check-up.

Russell Dyer returned to Sanderson last week after being in a Fort Stockton hospital for several days for medical treatment.

The Sanderson High School Band is pictured just west of the Masonic Hall in 1939. C. F. Pickard is the director; B. F. Davis is drum major, and Irma Lee O'Neill and Emma Faye Harris, the twirlers. The W. J. Ferguson home is at the right and neither of the two houses on the left are still there. Mrs. E. E. Harkins loaned us the picture.

Junior Tracksters Run In Crane

Coaches Roger Goertz and Lawrence Barber took the junior high school track team to Crane last Friday. Influenza hindered the team's efforts, according to the coaches.

The 7th graders scored 18 1/3 points by Robert Fline placing 3rd in the pole vault, 4th in the 330-yard run, and 5th in the broad jump; he was also anchor man on the 880-yard run which placed 6th. Running with him were Dale Harrell, Darrell Cooke, and Kevin Phillips.

Jimmy Davis was 6th in the discus.

The 8th graders made 34 1/3 points. The relay team composed of Chago Flores, Raymond Galvan, Juan Lomas, and Kendrick Harrell ran the 1320-yard relay and was third in the 440. In the preliminary 440, with Juan Saenz running instead of Lomas, the team made their best time of the year - 48.6.

Dennis Haynes tied for 4th, 5th, and 5th in the high jump. Galvan was 4th in the 100.

Mrs. Louise Causey took Mrs. John Burchett to Alpine Wednesday for medical attention.

War Widows Eligible For GI Bill-Type Education

A reminder that war widows are eligible for GI Bill-type education and home loan benefits was issued today by the Veterans Administration.

The education benefits are also available to wives of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled as the result of military service.

Under a new law which went into effect December 1, 1968, the widow of a man who died and the wife of a veteran who was permanently and totally disabled as the result of military service is entitled to 36 months of educational assistance from the VA.

An allowance of $130 a month is paid for full-time training with lesser sums paid for part-time training.

Unremarried widows of veterans who served in World War II, the Korean Conflict, or in the Post-Korean period (since January 31, 1955) and who died in service or as the result of service are eligible for VA-guaranteed GI home loans.

This eligibility expires July 25, 1970, for World War II widows, with widows of Korean Conflict veterans having until January 31, 1975, to use their entitlement. Generally, widows of Post-Korean service veterans have 20 years from the date of their husband's death or discharge from service to obtain loans.

The VA will guarantee 60 percent--up to a maximum of $12,500--of the loan obtained by the widow. Long-term mortgages (up to 30 years) and little or no downpayments remain the principal advantages of GI loans.

The VA also listed some other benefits of particular interest to women:

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation: Monthly payments for widows and children of men who died in service or as the result of service.

Payment is generally $120 a month plus 12 percent of the monthly basic pay now being received by a serviceman whose rank and years of service are the same as those of the deceased serviceman. Minimum payment is $133 a month.

Death Pension: Monthly payment for needy unmarried widows and minor children of veterans whose deaths were not related to military service. The amount of the pension is keyed to income.

Reimbursement of burial expenses: Payment not to exceed $250 may be made within two years to the widow, undertaker, or any other person who bore a veteran's funeral expenses.

Children's education: In addition to education benefits for qualified wives and widows, an allowance of $130 a month for full-time college level training is paid to children (under 26) veterans who died or were permanently and totally disabled as the result of military service.

The VA invites women who have questions about possible benefits to contact their nearest VA office.

Walt Carruthers of Carta Valley visited here last Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carruthers Jr., and his brother, Pinky Carruthers, and family.

Citizens Urged To Be Cautious With Tax Help

Taxpayers seeking professional help in filing their 1968 Federal income tax returns should select only qualified and reputable advisors.

Taxpayers may delegate the work of preparing a return, but they are responsible for all entries and supporting documents, and for the full payment of additional tax, penalties, and interest, Wilbur G. Park, administrative officer of Internal Revenue, Pecos, said today.

While most tax practitioners are competent and honest, taxpayers were alerted to these potential danger signals:

Beware of the "expert" who will not be around to answer questions after the return has been prepared and filed;

Never sign a blank return and leave it with a stranger;

Do not sign a tax return prepared in pencil, since the return can be changed later;

Avoid the advisor who "guarantees" refunds, wants a percentage of the refund, or sup-

GUESTROOM, SEWING ROOM, ETC., ALL IN ONE ROOM

Rooms can no longer afford just to sit there—and do only one thing. Neither can furniture. As our personal share of the world's square footage dwindles, we have arrived at the age of multiple-function and dual-purpose.

Libraries, music rooms, sewing rooms, day nurseries and parlors sound like relics of a long-forgotten age to a generation who so often starts married life in one room and graduates to the bare essentials as the family grows. The extra room that had a specific function in large Victorian houses now has to pull its weight in usefulness and versatility, doubling often as a family room or to sleep a guest. For the family, make it a retreat where each member of the family can go for some relative peace, where a good book can be enjoyed without the distraction of television, where letters can be written, or homework done without interruption.

The multiplicity of today's "spare" room, furnished half for the family, half for the guest, is revealed in its decoration which should be a not-so-obvious accumulation of necessities such as a desk to spread out work or sewing, comfortable seating for relaxed reading, good lighting, shelves for books and a comfortable place to sleep.

If all this sounds like a lot of furniture for what is usually one of the smaller rooms in the house, remember that the walls can be put to work as well as the floor. Wall-hung furniture like the ingenious Royal System from Denmark provides shelves, storage cabinets, drawers and working surfaces all within the framework of the vertical space in the room. An amazing number of books, records, papers and clothes can be stored without taking up any floor space at all. That leaves plenty of room for the space-taking pieces needed for seating and sleeping, such as the new day beds that are really comfortable for both functions, as well as the streamlined new sleep sofas from manufacturers.

Manufacturers have performed wonders in providing products for our physically-reduced circumstances. It only remains for us to use them with imagination.

The National Safety Council estimates that more than 40 per cent of all traffic deaths in recent years resulted from accidents involving a single vehicle. More than half of the turnpike deaths occur this way.

WASHABLE, PREPASTED AND STRIPPABLE wallcoverings create a hot house of blooms in this closet-dressing room where unpainted furniture and cast-off case goods are given a new lease on life. Ragusa, quartz pink mini-print mixed with mint green covers dressing table, shelves. Large-scale golden poppies on white grounds brighten closet interior; sliding doors are emphasized by the black and white Mediterranean pattern, Grille.

Licenses Due before April 1

People who buy licenses for vehicles before the April deadline need to have their certificates of title and receipt for last year's registration, according to Sheriff Bill C. Cook.

The law requires this information before a new registration can be issued. This is not a new ruling or a law, but one that has been in effect for several years, the importance of which is now emphasized by computerized registrations in the Austin office.

All vehicle owners are asked to bring these papers when they come for registration this year and if the title is available routine procedure will be taken to be taken to get another title, and a deposit in obtaining a new registration.

A listing of emergency numbers for including in telephone books is available for the asking from the sheriff's office.

New housing law more liberal regarding loans

Home improvement loans have been liberalized in the new housing law. The limit on such loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) has been raised from $3,500 to $5,000 because of increased home-improvement costs, and the maximum repayment period has been extended from 5 years to 7 years. In addition, interest ceilings have been raised slightly to encourage lenders to make more of this type. The loans are obtained for central air conditioning, built-in appliances and landscaping, as well as structural improvements or repairs.
