LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:---

During the past several days, talk between individuals has revealed the following information about taxes:

That the legislature's action, and the method of the Texas Education Agency's figuring how the state-aid money is to be allocated - all in connection with the teachers' salaries - hits the small school districts and low-income districts hard and forces some kind of a hardship on the taxpayers within those districts;

Some feel that local taxpayers can pay much more if needed for county-financed improvements or school-financed improvements;

Some feel that any additional tax of any kind will be very difficult for them to pay;

Some feel school improvements of any kind are more important than any improvements financed by the county;

There are those who feel that the school plant is in good condition as is and that some trimming of expenses is in order;

Opinions were expressed to favor local improvements of county-financed projects if a way of financing could be found;

Taxes for schools should be the same over the state so that all schools had the same facilities, according to some opinions expressed;

People get very emotional when they are talking about taxes!

One of the meanest tricks of the season, in our opinion, was the theft of at least two flags that were displayed by businesses on main street over the Fourth.

And another medal for singular effort should go to Mrs. Dudley Harrison, who was by herself mowing down weeds and grass in the Memorial Park last week prior to the Fourth weekend. We don't know if there were many who used the park or not over the holidays, but the efforts of Mrs. Harrison had made it possible for some to use the park more enjoyably.

We tried to take pictures during the parade Saturday, but didn't have any luck. We had several shots - all unrecognizable - of several phases of the parade. Sorry!

And speaking of medals and parades - we are also recommending one to those who were responsible for the parade - Mrs. E. E. Farley particularly - and those who went to the trouble to decorate some kind of vehicle or ride a horse or participate in the parade in any way. It was different and better than many we have had in previous years.

And medals of commendation should also go to those who were responsible for the barbecue dinner, the rodeo, and the dances.

Everyone who participated in any of the events of the day complimented local sponsors and it was a good and successful day.

HEALTH OFFICER PLANS ENFORCING LAWS

Dr. A. N. Clanton, Terrell County Health Officer, stated last week that after August 1, 1970, he plans to personally make inspection of every food handling establishment in Sanderson to be sure that all laws are being obeyed. He said particular attention will be paid to eating establishments and the laws governing the cleaning of dishes, cooking utensils, and food handlers' health certificates must be displayed in a prominent place.

Any questions about the requirements of the law may be answered by contacting Dr. Clanton.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Malone Mitchell received word last Thursday of the death of Mrs. J. A. White in Austin after a lingering illness. Grave-side services and burial were in San Antonio Friday.

Mrs. White was the wife of a former principal and coach here and besides her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. T. L. Williams, a brother and two sisters. She came here to teach and married Mr. White two years later. Mr. Williams, her father, was superintendent of schools here.

Mrs. J. C. Boyd of Midland was a week-end visitor with her mother, Mrs. J. R. Blackwelder.

Mrs. Emma Bradford Large Crowd Here For 4th Celebration Interred Monday

Mrs. Emma M. Bradford, 82, died in a Fort Stockton hospital early Friday evening. After fracturing her leg in a fall, she had orthopedic surgery in an Odessa Hospital and was a patient there for six weeks before being moved to a Fort Stockton hospital and then to a nursing center there. Major surgery for an intestinal obstruction several weeks ago had caused her to be in and out of both the hospital and nursing home but she seemed to be making satisfactory recovery until complications set in a few days before her death.

Funeral services were in the First United Methodist Church Monday afternoon with Rev. M. A. Walker, pastor, officiating. James Funeral Home of Ozona was in charge of arrangements and burial was in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Mack Turner, Jack Deaton, L. E. Muller, W. H. Goldwire, G. W. Kyle, and W. W. Sudduth.

Mrs. Bradford was born in Lampasas on November 15, 1887. She was married to Joe Bradford in Sonora on December 27, 1911. They had one daughter, Mrs. Emogene (Gene) Hodgkins who died in 1966.

She came to Sanderson with the Hodgkins family in 1946 and had made her home with them until she had to be put in the hospital.

Besides her husband, she is survived by five grandchildren, Mrs. Bill Shepp of Portland, Tommy, Danny, Richard and Johnny Hodgkins; a great-grandson; four sisters, Mrs. Anna Steffins of Kingsville, Mrs. J. D. Roensch and Mrs. J. C. Ballard of Houston and Mrs. A. B. Smith of La Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boykin of Houston were week-end visitors with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Caldwell, and her sister, Mrs. Gene Thompson, and family.

One of the largest crowds in several years was on hand for the 4th of July festivities in Sanderson. The American Legion, Auxiliary, Sanderson Rodeo Club, and V. F. W. sponsored activities during the day and that night to keep the crowd busy with entertainment.

The members of the Eagle Band who were available were in the forefront of the parade. They had practiced under the direction of their new leader, Glenn Wren, who was here for the practice and parade.

The colors leading the parade were carried by two Boys' Staters, Tom Allen and Brad

Harrison, who were mounted. There were commercial entries, organizational entries, and many individuals mounted and on bicycles, etc., to make up the parade.

The Legion Auxiliary sponsored the parade which began at the Sanderson State Bank Building at 11:00 a. m. and the serving of barbecue, beans, pickles, onions, bread, salad, tea, coffee, and cakes followed at the Legion Hall. The meat was prepared by a local committee in a new barbecueing oven only recently completed. Shade provided by the covering over the eating area also kept most of the line out of the sun while waiting to be served.

Beginning at 2:00 in the afternoon, the Rodeo Club had roping and other arena events at their facility north of town.

Saturday night there was a dance sponsored by the V. F. W. at the St. James Hall, and another sponsored by the Legion at the V. F. W. Hall and large crowds were on hand at both events, according to reports. There were out-of-town orchestras here for each dance.

Officials in each organization expressed their gratitude to all who helped in any way to make the events a success and for the expressions of gratitude from the public, also.

It was the observation of many that there seemed to be more former residents back for the 4th of July events this year than in many years, and there was much enjoyment in visiting during the weekend with old friends who had come "home" for a short stay.

LOCAL UTU MEMBERS JOIN IN RAILROAD STRIKE

Members of the United Transportation Union in Sanderson joined their fraternal brothers in a strike against the railroad companies across the nation. Strikers were in the picket line early Tuesday morning locally.

Other railroad employees were honoring the picket lines in agreement with the grievances of the striking employees.

The failure of the railroads to agree to negotiations with the unions over the long-disputed "firemen's contracts" was given as the reason for the strike, according to our source of information.

The strike was postponed for 60 days in action by President Nixon Tuesday and trains resumed schedules Wednesday.

J. S. NANCE HONORED

At the Fourth of July celebration in Sierra Blanca Saturday, a special award was presented to retired Texas Ranger Jim Nance from the citizens of Hudspeth County in appreciation for his long distinguished service to the region. The Nances who are now residents of Sierra Blanca are former long-time residents of Sanderson and he was Terrell County sheriff for many years before joining the Texas Rangers.

A picture loaned by B. F. Davis failed to identify any of the subjects. We hazard a guess that the teacher is Mrs. Clarence Jessup, the second girl on the front row is Ora Mae Blackwelder, the boy on the column at the right is Edward Wheeler, and the third from the right is Jimmy Davis. Our apologies to those we missed - either identified or unidentified.
