LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:--
 If they were giving Emmies or Oscars within the political world, we feel that the current group of national candidates in the Democratic Party would walk off with all of the honors.
 Party unity! Stay divided and be conquered! When our little minor differences are over, we will all be together in trying to win for the Democratic Party!-- These are more or less the phrases that are being mouthed again and again by the top delegates-owners as they beat the bushes and their brains in trying to get more delegates before the Big Blowout!
 And while they are shouting party unity, undivided we stand, and the other nice things about each other, they are swinging razor-sharp accusations, demeaning each other's intentions, belittling each other's morals, etc., etc., etc.,
 Humphrey, in reaching for straws, agrees now that he would accept Wallace on the ticket with himself -- under certain circumstances!
 Neither of them would think of having Shirley Chisholm as a running mate.
 Muskie not only will not donate his delegates to McGovern, but he won't even get out of the race.
 And Wallace, who is running as a Democrat right now, already has sanctioned the rebirth of the American Party just in case he loses the nomination by the Democratic Convention and contends that he remains a real strong candidate on the basis of having the largest popular vote.
 Mrs. Chisholm contends her only reason for being in the race is to have some influence of nailing down certain planks in the platform and get down "to basics instead of having all this rhetoric".
 Sure you are my friend -- WHAM! Then the tromping on begins, following by a verbal kick in the face, a stab-in-the-back action, followed by glib-tongued insult.
 Then after all this is over, "Why aren't you my friend?" Now that I've belittled you, betrayed you, insulted you, hurt you, deceived you, and shown all these other friendly actions like lying, stealing, etc., etc., why do you act like you don't like me?
 Humphrey and McGovern call one another liars to their face, claim the other is using all kinds of guises and deceit on the voters, but...
 "My distinguished friend, Mr. Humphrey (or McGovern) and I will support whoever wins the nomination."
 Maybe it depends on how you look at friendship!

It was seven years ago Sunday -- June 11-- that we had the disastrous flood in Sanderson!
 Maybe some day we will not remember with such vividness the awful and terrible sights of that day. But as of now we are not able to forget.

Census Planned Prior To Redistricting Of Terrell County's Precinct Lines

The Terrell County Commissioners' Court passed an order Monday at their regular meeting to initiate proceedings for the redistricting of the county. The redistricting will be on a population basis, according to County Judge R.S. Wilkinson, who stated that this was the requirement of a redistricting move.
 A block-by-block census of Sanderson will be made in the immediate future so that the county's population may be equally divided for the new precinct lines. At the same time, there will be a census made of the students of school age in Sanderson for the information of the local system.

Judge Wilkinson stated that it appeared that the population of the county was such that it would be necessary to bring all of the precincts into Sanderson. He added that this was one of the purposes of the enumeration of all local residents, was so that an equal distribution of the residents could be made in compliance with the law.

As the plan progresses, The Times will relay any information available for the benefit of the readers.

Oil, Gas Income In County Noted

Sale of Terrell County oil and gas production accounted for $5,757,676 of the county's economic output for 1971, according to a study by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In producing 781 barrels of crude oil and 37 billion cu-ft. of natural gas, the county ranked 126 in Texas. Value of its crude oil was $2,749; natural gas value was $5,754,927.00.

The county is among 190 in Texas with oil and gas production value topping $100,000, although 211 counties produce oil and gas.

"Terrell County oil and gas wells made a significant contribution to Texas' share of the nation's energy needs last year, but growing demand is sapping reserves in Texas faster than they can be replaced", Robert A. Buschman, Association president, said. "As fewer new fields are discovered, due to less drilling, the continuing strong economy and tax base of the many Texas counties may now depend on updating Texas oil conservation laws to encourage wider use of new recovery technology," he said.

The Association study showed that Terrell County ranchers and other royalty owners received $719,710 as their share of the production. The county's wells generated $126 in crude oil production taxes for state government and $431,620 in state taxes on natural gas.

Texas Employment Commission figures showed 47 oil and gas industry employees in the county last year, with an annual payroll of $327,372.
