By Albert---

There were many different things that happened at this latest Democratic convention, but the one that upset me was the constant reminder to the viewing public that the convention was made up of a certain percent of women, a certain percent of people under 30, and other categories designated were whether male or female, Indian, black, and even the financial status was listed several times.

No mention was made of the percentages of convention delegates that were: union-affiliated, self-employed, Moslem, Jew, Christian, Irish, Lithuanian, amputees, left-handed, blue-eyed, curly-headed, and on and on and on and on and on...

What we are getting at is this: some people in the category of under 30, black, female, poor could represent me to my satisfaction, the same as some could in the opposite categories. But why all the display of diversity in so many categories when the majority of those people went there dedicated to one candidate in the first place?

The diversity showed that there could be that among the McGovern supporters, but it did not show that the diversity could be reasoned with, persuaded otherwise, or were open-minded, did it?

We do not know if the nominees of that convention were the best men or not, but we are going to say that the majority of the delegates were not there to try to find the best man -- they went there dedicated to one man and his cause only! And the age, sex, race, status in society, or whatever makes no difference in this kind of a situation, except designating that those are all possibly brought into the same persuasion!

Anyone who makes a point of showing openness by percentages of color, race, age, sex and financial condition, and omit the legless, ambidextrous, dual-sexed agnostic who has not earned one penny of his millions, who is a veteran of at least two wars, presently under conviction as a Christian, was a member of the Brotherhood of Amalgamated Confused Shepherders, etc., etc., etc., just cannot say that they represent everyone.

So why bother with the percentages in categories? Maybe it depends on how you look at it?

We still say that Larry Brien summed up our feelings best when he repeated again at the close of the session, "just be honest, with ourselves and with other people!"

The caterpillars or worms whatever they are, are getting fat on the trees and shrubs in town at the expense of the trees and shrubs.

This poses some problems with which most of us should be familiar -- each one of us

Ed. note: we are printing the picture of the ex-students here for the July Fourth celebration again, only larger, at the request of several readers. The smaller picture used last week was not as clear as some readers would have liked. We are able, and are glad to comply.

Trans-Pecos Deer Season Longer For Whitetails

White-tailed deer season in the Trans-Pecos portions of Terrell and Pecos Counties has been extended seven additional days, according to information received this week from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The regular deer season in the Trans-Pecos runs from November 25 to December 10, 1972. The season for the white-tailed deer east of the Pecos will be from November 18 to January 1, according to the news source.

The season for mourning dove has been split into two parts in both the north and south zones of the state. In the north zone, the season will be September 1 through October 14 and January 6 through January 21 in 1972-73 season. In the south zone, the season will be September 23 through November 5, 1972, and January 6 through January 21, 1973, except that in counties having an open season for white-winged doves the open season for mourning doves ends November 2 during the fall segment of the season.

ROUTINE AUDIT OF LOCAL RECORDS MADE

A routine audit of the records of Terrell County offices and of the Terrell County Water Control and Improvement District #1 was begun the first of the week. An accounting firm of San Angelo is responsible for the audit again this year.

The audit of the records of Terrell County Independent School District is scheduled for the fall.

Mrs. Liborio Escobar of Ben Bolt is visiting her son, George Escobar, and family.

Rains Fall Here During Past Week

About one inch of rain was reported by several local residents last week, but the rain was restricted to the area adjacent to town, according to all the reports we were able to get.

Cloudy skies, threatening rain, light mists at times, and cool weather has prevailed all during this week and Tuesday morning there was a light shower fell before noon, and threats of rain continued throughout the rest of the day and forecasts were for further chances of rain.

Some rainfall was reported to the south and west of Sanderson on other days during the week past, but there has been no general rain over this area for some time.

us has to take care of our own problems or they spill over onto our neighbors and then if each one doesn't do for himself, then there is no point in anyone doing for himself -- then pretty soon we ask the government to do it for us -- and then we gripe about the taxes and government controls.

That was a pretty big introduction for tree-destroying caterpillars, wasn't it?

If everybody in town -- sprays their trees for the caterpillars save one person -- then we all sprayed in vain!

If every ranchman fights screwworms save one, then the fight is not going to be successful. The same thing with predators, salt cedar, the stench of an uncovered cess pool, inadequate educational facilities for some segment of our society, stray dogs, garbage collection, or whatever you want to name. No man is an island!

Often we are asked about the current status of the securing of easements for the construction of the flood prevention dams on the Sanderson Canyon watershed above the town.

Currently there is still successful activity in that field and we will have a complete story in the very near future about the success of the commissioners in the securing of these easements. The project is not dormant by any means and success is being made. At this stage of the project, it does take time.

County's History Given at Meeting of Ranch Club

When the Ranch Home Demonstration Club met on Tuesday of last week in the Legion Hall, 11 members answered roll call by naming a freedom which they appreciated. Miss Eva Billings led the opening prayer and Mrs. T.H. Eastman gave the "thought for the day". Mrs. W.H. Grigsby, a guest, gave a very interesting history of Sanderson and Terrell County.

The invocation before the lunch served at noon was given by Miss Billings. The hostesses were Mrs. H.E. Belle and Mrs. Greene Cooke and they added pineapple upside-down cake, fruit cobbler, a chicken-rice casserole, cornbread, beans, sliced tomatoes, relishes, coffee, and tea to the covered dishes brought by the members for the luncheon.

The speakers' table was covered with a red, white, and blue cloth and a bouquet of zinnias was on the head table and on the mantel.

Also present were Mmes. Jack Hardgrave, Richard White, Mark Duncan, K.H. Bates, L.E. Muller, T.W. McKenzie, and Ray Clifford. Mrs. N.M. Hartzog was welcomed as a new member.

WE BELIEVE OUR $315 TYPEWRITER CAN DO EVERYTHING YOUR SECRETARY DOES WITH HER $600 ONE.

Ask yourself. Just how much use would your secretary make of an expensive electric. Better still—ask her.

No matter how hard she works, the answer will probably be—not too much. Because only a few jobs actually require all the exotic refinements that make an expensive electric expensive.

Which means you could have a few hundred bucks tied up in a machine that's never used to its full capacity.

Before now, you never had any choice. If you wanted to electrify your secretary, it really cost you. Anything from $500 to $800.

Then along came Hermes. With the low, lean, modern, Swiss-designed 10. An electric office typewriter intelligently planned to do all the useful things you expect an electric to do. But dispensing with the fancy frills that you don't need—and don't want to pay for.

So you get a space bar and 7 symbols that repeat automatically. Electric carriage return and tabulation control. Margins visible at all times with our exclusive Flying Red Margins®. 10 clear carbons. 13" carriage. Faster action than any other typewriter in the world.

But if you really need a machine that does more than the basics, we have a whole range of office typewriters, each with different capabilities to fit different needs. And at prices to suit different budgets.

Highway Stripes Are Changed To New Pattern

New "symbol" signs and pavement markings have been adopted by the Texas Highway Commission from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

In many cases, symbols, shapes, and colors have been substituted for words. It is hoped that this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

The new pavement markings have an easy method for remembering:

Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two-way highways - for separating traffic flows in opposite directions. Yellow centerlines have proven to be more visible in fog than white stripes.

White will remain on multiple-lane highways -- for separating traffic flows in the same direction as well as on one-way streets.

Red will be used on raised reflective pavement markers and will denote wrong-way movement. If you see red, you are going the wrong way.

All broken (dashed) lines will be permissive in character while the solid lines will be restrictive. The combination of broken and solid yellow stripes will indicate to the motorist what is permitted.

A dashed yellow centerline will be used where passing is permitted. Two yellow lines, one solid and one dashed, will mark sections where passing is permitted in one direction.

COOK BOOKS HERE!
 Mrs. Irvin Robbins reported the first of the week that the Terrell County Cook Books were here and available at the Terrell County Public Library and The Times.

Veronica Calzada has been visiting with relatives in Del Rio.
 Mrs. Charlie Cash of Alpine and her daughter, Mrs. Steve McKinney, of Hobbs, N.M., visited Mrs. Cash's mother, Mrs. Elma Riley, and family the first of the week.

Mrs. Peggy Sullivan was taken to an Alpine hospital Monday afternoon for examination and treatment.

Mrs. G.C. Eggleston had an appendectomy in an Alpine hospital last weekend. She had been in that city visiting her mother, Mrs. R.V. Winn, when she was stricken.

Attending the James family reunion in Kerrville last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. K.K. Robinson and their daughters, Mrs. John Sandifer, with her husband and daughter; Mrs. Barry Pendleton, with her husband and daughter; and Mrs. Charles Hutchinson of Del with her husband and son.

rection (the solid yellow line will be on the side restricting passing).

Two solid yellow lines will be used where passing is prohibited in both directions.

With yellow as the only centerline color on two-way roads and streets, drivers will have a continuing color reminder that they should expect traffic in the opposite direction.

Other uses of yellow will include the marking of obstructions and islands which must be passed on the right. Additional uses of white will include the marking of crosswalks and the edge lining of Interstate highways and other types of roads.
