LISTEN TO LUKE

By Albert:-----
Now that the cease-fire has been declared in North Vietnam, there seems to have been little or no recognition of that fact locally or nationally, in a way of really celebrating or public expression. Or, at least, that's the way we see it!

There was the telecasting of a thanksgiving service from Cape Kennedy Saturday evening, but that's about all that we observed or heard other than an expression of thanksgiving in the pastoral prayer at church Sunday morning. This causes us some kind of concern, or to do some kind of thinking.

Do we not feel that there is in fact a cease-fire? Or do we feel that the cease-fire will not be lasting? Or have we sunk into such a state of lethargy that it is meaningless to us?

It seems that we should each one examine our own feelings about the cease-fire to try to tell our thoughts about it. Why? So that we can come to grips with the situation, whatever it is!

It seems that most every public prayer that we have heard for the past several years has included a petition for peace for the world. Have we not attained, to some degree, that end, and is not a prayer of thanksgiving now due, and if so, what is wrong with a public expression of our gratitude? This brings to mind the remembrance of our community thanksgiving services at the traditional time of thanksgiving. They are poorly attended. Why?

We hope that we, as individuals, and as a group, are not as ungrateful as we seem to be!

The differences between ecologists, naturalists, etc., and a way of life seems to grow more intense as days pass. There is much concern being built up by most people on both sides as to what to do about some things. The question seems to be simply: Do we want one thing or another?

The shortage of fuel is and will be further magnified by the increased demands for pure air, unless some other source of energy source is found, according to what we read and hear. Will America be more willing to cut down on the convenience of warmth or had they rather do more walking or bike riding? This is not the clear-cut choice, but it's all we have room for!

Do we want fresh vegetables under the present system of production, or do we want fewer or no vegetables that are grown without some of the chemicals that are now used?

And even the choice exists: Do we want gas from Alaska or preservation of natural beauty and wildlife?

Sally Rand, a dancer who employed large plumes of birds in an exotic dance routine and famous in the late 1930s, put it quite bluntly the other day on a television program continued to second page

CTC Being Installed on Railroad

Southern Pacific is now in the process of installing "Centralized Traffic Control" on its mainline in Texas between Flatonia and Sierra Blanca, Eamonn F. Grant, assistant superintendent of safety for SP's San Antonio Division, told members of the SP Credit Union of Del Rio as their annual meeting Monday night.

Grant outlined plans for the Centralized Traffic Control in spelling out some of the things which make Southern Pacific one of the most modern transportation systems in the world.

CTC is "push-button railroad-ing." Under this system dispatches at a far away point keep tab on train movements on electronic boards, opening and closing switches by remote control to speed operations.

Railroaders say CTC-operated rail lines can handle almost the volume of double-track railroads.

Grant said that CTC starts at Flatonia, east of San Antonio, where the "Dalsa" line from St. Louis and the Midwest merges with the "Sunset" line from New Orleans and the Southeast.

The installation will extend through Del Rio to Sierra Blanca. CTC is already in operation between Sierra Blanca and El Paso, where Texas and Pacific trains use Southern Pacific tracks as well as the SP trains.

Grant said that CTC installation crews are still working east of San Antonio on the segment between Flatonia and Hondo.

The entire stretch to Sierra Blanca will be completed late this year or early in 1974, he added.

Grant, a young railroad executive who joined SP a short time after arriving in this country from his native Ireland, said SP's famous "TOPS" or Total Operating Processing System" is the most sophisticated computer system of its type in the world. It provides instant information on any shipment anywhere in route on the sprawling 12-state railroad.

Grant revealed that the National Railways of Mexican and European railroads are negotiating for installation of TOPS systems of their own.

Grant also pointed out that the railroad's microwave system which comes through Del Rio is the largest private communications system in the world. He revealed that plans are being made to eventually add closed-circuit television to the transmissions utilizing this system.

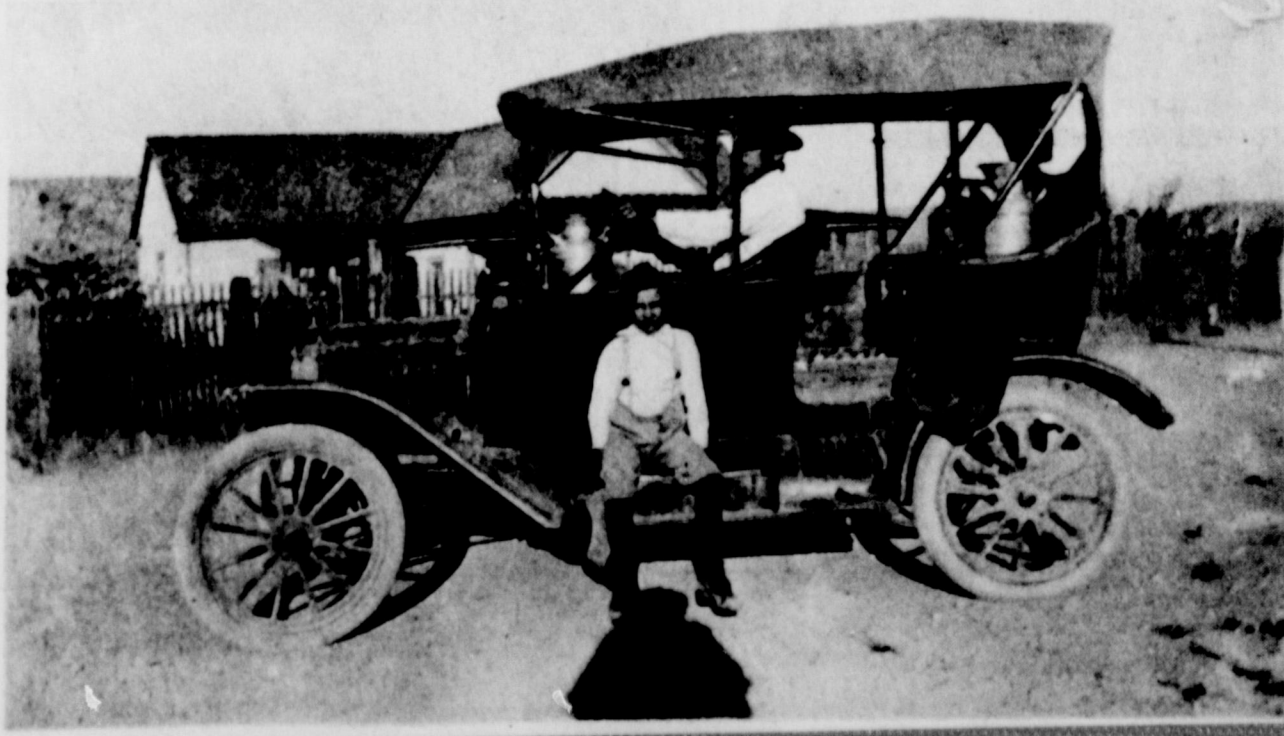

He said SP's Colton Yard, now nearing completion near Los Angeles will be completely automated and the most modern classification yard in the world.

He told of modern training methods, specially designed cars developed by SP, diversification of the company and other steps taken to make Southern Pacific the railroad of tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stavley attended the Credit Union meeting.

Ready to start delivering the milk shown in cans and cases of bottles in the back of the old car, in about 1916 are a man and boy hired by W.A. Cochran whose ranch was just east of Sanderson. A can of milk also rests in the front of the car. The picture was loaned by Mrs. E.E. Harkins Jr., granddaughter of Mr. Cochran.

At the base of the windshield is what appears to be carbide lights which served as headlamps for the auto. The boy is sitting on a tool box which is part of the running board of the car in which was kept the pump, jack, tire tools, monkey wrench, tire patching equipment, etc. I.C. "Lolo" Flores of Odessa called us Monday and further identified the picture of the group on the way to milk: him and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Flores, Marcos de la Cerda, and W.A. Cochran.

gram and said: "A similar act today would not be condemned by moralists, but by ecologists!" We think that there is a lot of truth in her statement. The choice is ours, collectively, whether we want one thing or another, and the consequence of our choice is inevitable -- there is going to have to be a sacrifice of some kind, according to what we are told by people who are more in the know than we profess to be.

Several out-of-town subscribers particularly depend on us for reports about dad's condition. There is really nothing different to report. He is up in his wheel chair much of the time, has no aches nor pains, complains about nothing, asks for nothing. He always knows his family and close friends and his face and eyes light up and there is a broad smile when someone goes to see him at the nursing home where he has been for the past twenty months.

We are happy to report that we were able to bring Zee home Saturday. She is convalescing real well. She is busy at this writing catching up on "Thank You" notes to all the nice people who were so thoughtful in so many ways. And I would like to add my sincere gratitude to all our friends who did so many nice things in so many different ways. We thank you!

License Plates Available Today

New auto license plates will go on sale this Thursday in the office of the tax assessor-collector in the courthouse.

According to Mrs. A.J. Hahn, deputy tax assessor-collector, all three parts of the license plate renewal notice which motorists received through the mail from the Texas Highway Department at Austin should be brought to the office when purchasing the plates in person.

"The buyer's cost will only be the registration fees when you bring in the three-part card," Mrs. Hahn said.

If the car owner wishes to receive his license plates by mail, he should still send in all three parts of the card, along with payment for the registration fee (which is listed on the cards) plus $1 for mailing and handling costs.

Those who wish to reserve a special number on their plates are reminded this can only be done through the mail.

"For special numbers, mail in the three-part card with payment for the registration fee plus the $1 handling charge. The deadline for reserving these special numbers is March 1," Mrs. Hahn stated.

Special numbers can no longer be issued from the local office. Mrs. Hahn stated that she must sell the numbers in the order they come from the boxes and make her reports and receipts correspond to those numbers in order to reduce the workload in Austin. When a request for a special number is received by mail, when it comes up in the sequence it can be sent to the auto owner requesting it.

All checks sent for license plates should be made payable to the Terrell County Tax Assessor-Collector, Dalton Hogg.

Wildlife Film To Show At Princess

"American Wilderness" is an absorbing, eye-filling, scenic, wildlife documentary, the hardwork of a 16 millimeter nature-outdoorsman turned showman. Arthur R. Dubs is a Medford, Ore., architect-contractor. He's come up with some of the best wildlife footage seen in recent years and mostly outside the realm of Disney and the other professional filmmakers.

The film is reported the result of six-years of stalking and trekking, the 115 minutes being culled from over 30,000 feet of 16m, edited, scored, narrated and converted to 35m.

Footage deals with hunting of greathorn sheep, roams the Mexican desert, Bighorn Mountains and also concerns the hunting of a giant polar bear. Film has comparatively little bang, bang. Emphasis is more on the preparation, the trek, camping and outdoor wonders.

Several action-filled sequences spell the beauty-roving camera, notably two wild rams butting each other senseless over an indifferent ewe, wild stallions tearing at each other, a bull elk rounding up his harem of cows when danger is scented, steelheads on the hook, mule deer of eastern Oregon bounding over the mountainous terrain.

Technically, the film has much merit in the stunning scenes of wildlife seldom seen but made clear with the telephoto lens.

With all subscriptions to the Sanderson Times expiring on June 1, 1973, a new subscription in Terrell County is now $5 to that date, out of the county, $1.00. Subscribe for yourself, a relative, friend, serviceman, or college student. ad.

Tax Reduced On Phone Bill

Hard as it may be to believe, a tax reduction on one common household item has been in effect for almost a month.

"It may seem that old taxes never die, but one has been sentenced to a slow death, beginning Jan. 1," says Don Lincoln, manager for Southwestern Bell.

It's the 10 per cent federal excise tax on communications services, a holdover from World War II.

Lincoln pointed out that a one per cent annual reduction in the tax began this year and will continue through 1982, when the excise tax is due to be terminated.

The 10-year reduction schedule was established by the federal Excise, Estate and Gift Tax Adjustment Act of 1970.

Starting Jan. 1, Southwestern Bell customers are paying only nine per cent federal excise tax instead of 10 per cent. Under the federal law, the tax will drop to eight per cent on Jan. 1, 1974; to seven per cent on Jan. 1, 1975; etc., until the 1982 cutback which is scheduled to totally eliminate the tax.

With tongue in cheek, Lincoln did point out one "drawback" to the tax reduction. "It's not nearly as easy to figure a nine per cent tax as it is one of 10 per cent."

"But we'll manage to live with the problem," Lincoln said with a smile.
