It Depends on

How You Look At It!

There are people who presume that this column's head is one which permits a cop-out for us, and thus they condemn the whole idea because some things are clear cut, whole truth or whole lie statements. And when they have an opinion like that, they are just like the rest of us - it depends on how you look at it.

The heading and the words printed here only point out that the reaction of people is directly related to their perception and understanding.

We know that truth is unchangeable, and we know, too, that the truth of everything is not yet perceived by all men - and by no single mortal - nor married one!

If this statement bursts the bubble of "all-knowing" of some person, we apologize, in a way by saying: "that's the way it looks to us".

Next week, if you do not receive your copy of The Sanderson Times - it's because of one or two reasons: either you have not paid for the new year beginning June 1 according to our records, or the paper was lost somehow in the mails.

In either case, please let us know that we should send you the paper.

In case you can't find a cancelled check, we'll be glad to have one cancelled for you!

Our comments on the school bus last week were our efforts to stress the need for doing things by the rules, and were not taking sides with either those who want the school bus to stop at more places, nor those who have set the rules.

If the policy for stopping only at certain places has been adopted by the school board, that possibly is amendable if there is sufficient reason for amending it - the same as the absence policy, or teacher travel pay policy, etc., etc.,

But if the stops are governed by a law of the state, handed down by the Texas Education Agency, then, as we see it, we should try to work within the law, and if it needs to be changed, then try to change it!

Another opinion that we have, based on the understanding that we have, is that it should be a simple procedure to find out just what the law says and be able to go by that and other examples and precedents tried and tested. But that is not always the case by any means. We do not know how clear-cut the operation is. It may be like the law governing elections, candidates, residence, and many others - they have to be tested individually in court to find out specifically what the law permits and prohibits.

And when questions like that

Sentences Given Defendants Here

The six persons whose pleas of guilty were heard in the 63rd District Court here last week were sentenced by District Judge George M. Thurmond as follows:

Raul Elias Dominguez was assessed a prison sentence of not more than five years nor less than two in the charge of burglary, and not less than two and not more than 10 years in the attempted rape.

Daniel Ochoa was given a three-year suspended sentence and placed on probation for three years on the charge of carrying a prohibited weapon in a premises where alcoholic beverages are sold.

Armando Ponce was fined $750 and court costs in a charge of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Chester L. Gillion, Curt Douglas Raymer, and Douglas G. Harper were assessed identical three-year suspended sentences and placed on probation for three years. Gillion and Harper were identified as service men absent without leave and are being held for military officials, according to Glenn Weatherman, special investigator for the district attorney, John F. Pettit.

Flood Scare Here Monday Night

Many Sanderson residents were up much of the night on Monday as the result of a warning of possible flooding conditions locally.

The flood warning was aired on television stations and by local firemen in continuous use of the fire siren downtown for several minutes and the circulation of the fire truck through the low part of the town with the siren blasting the warning to residents.

The success of the effort was evident in the number of citizens that were out on the highway to watch the approach of the water in Sanderson Canyon.

The water arrived at the bridge over the canyon near the local gasoline storage facilities before 10:00 p.m. and was soon lapping over the abutment at the west end of Downie St. and gradually increased the flow down that street.

The high mark of the water was near the floor level of the depot, but did not enter any local buildings or homes, as far as is known.

Local gauges varied in rainfall caught, ranging from 1/4-inch to 3/4-inch reported.

arise, people usually back off because of the time, expense, trouble, and ultimate results of somebody actually winning and somebody actually losing, and the resulting hard feelings and animosity.

Those who determine the route of the bus, the size of the bus, the salary of the driver, and the number and locations of the stops have no less or more of a responsibility for their decisions being in the interest of the over-all operation of the school than do the patrons and parents and taxpayers. It is the privilege of the parents and taxpayers to question decisions of the board, and it is some kind of a privilege of the board to explain their decisions - especially if they are convinced that their decisions are in the best interest of all they serve and if they wish to continue serving in that capacity.

A ballot box sometimes is a means people use to express their approval or disapproval of the actions, decisions, policies, etc., of those that serve them at any level.

Five Students Bring Program To Legion Auxiliary

To present the five youths who had attended Boys State and Bluebonnet Girls' State in June as a project of the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post of the American Legion and the Auxiliary, the members of the Auxiliary had a salad supper Friday evening in the Legion Hall. The families of the members of both organizations, the families of the youths and the members of the junior class of Sanderson High School were invited guests.

Each told of their experiences and impressions of the "state" which gave them an insight into the workings of government from local level on up through state. They had some of their scrapbooks, programs, brochures, etc., on display.

Cakes and iced tea were added to the salads brought by the members to be served from the bar with guests seated at tables covered in red and white checked cloths. The invocation was given by Mrs. H.E. Ezelle, chaplain.

For the brief meeting, the colors were advanced by the youths and after Mrs. Dalton Hogg, Auxiliary president, had led the audience in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Hanna Sullivan played the National Anthem as a flute solo.

Electric Bill Up?

Keeping families comfortable during the unusually hot, dry summer has caused most electric bills to be higher this year . . . and there are other factors, too.

As an example, the cost of environmentally acceptable fuel for electric generating plants has steadily increased since the Mid-East situation of last fall. Also the general cost of doing business has increased. Increased labor costs, rising material expenses and record high interest rates have contributed to higher electric bills.

This year probably more of your spendable income is going for necessities, so every penny is important. Just like you, we're feeling the penny pinch, too, but we're doing our very best to provide you with the most economical and efficient electric service possible.

Chicago, Ill. A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

This is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so write for yours now. Thousands have already been mailed, so write today to Dept. 9531, Belton Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill., 60646. adv.
