It Depends on How You Look At It!

To any fisherman who was on Lake Amistad Friday of last week and caught his limit of black bass, it would have been a good day, regardless of how you look at it. But it was a particularly beautiful day in that the lake was as calm as could be, the day was warm, and we were on the lake, and we caught our limit of black bass.

We read recently: "The harder I fish, the luckier I get!", and we have to say that this is a truism.

We have something else to say to bass fishermen: Spinner baits work well on Friday, November 7, 1975, on Lake Amistad with weather conditions like they were. Another thing, we found lots of merit in the Double ∞ 365D Spinner Baits. More information about this bait is available in other columns of The Times.

We have read in several papers recently comments about the slow, steady encroachment of federal authority in so many areas. We hear the same thing in the news and editorial comments.

We join in that revelation (?) of facts.

But at the same time, who is saying that WE all should begin reversing our policy of taking government hand-outs. Or who wants to admit that the funds received from the various governmental bureaus are hand-outs?

We all want our share, and most people rationalize that everything we can get is not near our share!

Deer hunting season is right before us and the resulting influx of hunters, visitors, and relatives and friends is about to take place.

The project of the Terrell County Chapter of the American Cancer Society in selling food of all kinds for the benefit of hunters is a project that has received immediate good response and is growing each year. The ladies who cook and bake in preparation for the sale and who brave the elements to put their goods before the potential buyers beginning at a very early hour in the morning deserve the plaudits of everyone who is interested in the benefactor organization.

We are hereby extending our plaudits to those ladies!

A law that is gaining quite a bit of attention over the state, and one which will probably receive a lot more interest in the near future is one that permits no sex discrimination in schools, neither in classrooms, athletic endeavors, or extra-curricular activities sponsored by the school -- equal funding, equal opportunities, equal facilities for all students. We wonder how far this can go -- or how far it will go.

Imperial Beats Sanderson 46-6

The Buena Vista (Imperial) Longhorns remained unbeaten in district football competition Friday night of last week by defeating the Sanderson Eagles 46-6.

The statistics of the game were reflective of the power of the Cowboys. They showed 18 first downs for Imperial to 8 for Sanderson, 405 yards rushing to 185, with Imperial making 57 yards on passes to 31 for Sanderson. Imperial tried six passes and completed three, while Sanderson had four completions of 14 tries. The Eagles had the misfortune of three turn-overs by loss of fumbles, and Imperial lost the ball only once on a fumble.

Sanderson's penalties were two for 20 yards, and Imperial's penalties were 4 for 50 yards.

Imperial's Rodney Powell ran for four of the touchdowns on runs of 28, 30, 30, and 68 yards. Tommy Daniel ran the opening kickoff back 90 yards for a score, Junior Montoya scored on a 15-yard run, Kenneth Calvart added a touchdown on a 30-yard run.

Sanderson's lone score was a 37-yard run by Kendall Billings in the fourth period and the try for the extra point was no good.

The Eagles will go to Dell City Friday for their final game of the season. School will be dismissed on Friday so that students may also attend the game.

Thanksgiving Service Day Set

The Sanderson Ministerial Alliance met Saturday in the home of Rev. David Marx, minister of the First Presbyterian Church. Present, also, were Rev. Paul Tatum, minister of the First Baptist Church; Rev. John Pierce, St. James Catholic Church; Rev. Edwardo Rodriguez, El Buen Pastor United Methodist Church; Rev. David Treat, First United Methodist Church; and J. A. Gilbreath, treasurer of the organization.

Plans were made for the union Thanksgiving service to be on Sunday, November 23, at 7:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church. Rev. Paul Tatum will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

Everyone in the area is urged to attend the service.

Sanderson High School students in the photography class taught by Don Malone, have some of their work on exhibit in the Sanderson State Bank.

The photographs there cover a wide variety of subjects and make for an interesting display, and well as a beneficial and interesting hobby for the participants.

Local persons are encouraged to view the display.

VFW Conclave Draws 80 Here From Over District

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of this district held their convention in Sanderson last weekend, with the Fierro-Garza Post #8912 as hosts. There was also a district meeting of the V.F.W. Auxiliary here.

Festivities for the weekend began with a dance at the V. F.W. Hall Saturday night and was attended by a large crowd of local and visiting delegates and friends.

A barbecue dinner was served beginning at 11:00 a.m. Sunday.

There was a joint meeting of the V.F.W. and Auxiliary beginning at 1:00 p.m. Sunday. Rev. John Pierce of St. James Catholic Church gave the invocation to open the meeting. Johnny Joe Cardenas of Alpine, district commander, presided at the meeting. He introduced Manny Rivas, junior vice-commander of the Department of Texas, who spoke to the group about activities of the V.F.W..

Oscar Marquez, commander of the local V.F.W. Post, introduced Terrell County Judge Charles Stavley who gave a history of the Fierro-Garza Post V.F.W. and extended a welcome to the visiting delegates.

Mrs. S.M. Chalambaga, district Auxiliary president, presented a "Citation of Merit" to Mrs. Eleno Marquez, president of the local Auxiliary, for the organization's participation in various activities.

About 80 people were here from Fort Stockton, Alpine, Marathon, and Marfa.

Commander Marquez asked The Times to relay his appreciation to all who had helped in any way to make the convention a success, with special thanks to the Auxiliary and to Albert Fuentes Jr. and Raul Flores, who cooked the meat for the barbecue.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clifford last week were his mother, Mrs. Mary Clifford, of Sierra Blanca, her daughter, Mrs. Pat Garlick, and her grandson, Henry Garlick, and wife, all of Marfa. Mrs. Clifford remained for a longer visit.

Whitetail Deer Estimates High In County, State

Estimates of the white tail deer population in Texas are that there are more of that species now in Texas than ever in the history of the country. Population estimates from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department place the figure at 2-1/2 million to 3-1/2 million whitetails in Texas.

This figure also gives Texas the highest whitetail population of any state in the nation.

People who travel the highways in Terrell County, particularly RM2400 between US285 and Tx349, attest to the numerical abundance of the whitetail deer population.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department also estimates that the whitetail harvest in Texas is 350,000 animals annually.

Leasing of hunting privileges on ranches in Terrell County is said to be extremely heavy this year, with the numbers of applicants heavier this year than ever before, according to some sources.

Whitetail deer season this year is November 29 through December 22 in Terrell and Pecos Counties.

Bucks and does have been seen together during the past several days, a disappointing fact to some hunters, but a fact that assures, to some degree, a bountiful harvest of deer for next year and some years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Winn Haynes of Uvalde were visitors here Wednesday with his mother, Mrs. Sadie Willing, and family.

Walter Grigsby and his pup are shown in the picture taken in front of the Lee Grigsby home a long time ago. The heavy snow seems to have been a little more common at that time than now. L.R. Grigsby loaned us the picture. The first house was located where C.G. Riggs now lives and the second house is the one recently occupied by Willis Harrell prior to his death.

Commissioners Have Meeting

The Terrell County Commissioners' Court met in regular session Monday morning at 9:00 a.m. in the county court room in the courthouse.

The action of the court on the agendaed items was as follows:

Read and approved minutes of the preceding meeting;

Approved bills;

Received three bids for 60-gallons of anti-freeze and accepted the lowest bid of $4.00 per gallon from Western Auto Store;

Authorized use of Terrell County Airport to a missionary group for use as a training center pending drawing up of a contract;

Tabled the consideration of computerizing the voter registration list;

Approved auditing the books after the close of the calendar year;

Tabled the consideration of leasing the grazing rights on the Gaines County School Land to give commissioners the opportunity to see the land;

Tabled the consideration of publishing the legal description of the recently-drawn voting precincts and commissioner precincts;

Tabled the consideration of purchasing the used truck for sanitation;

Approved the monthly Justice of the Peace report;

Canvassed the election returns;

Granted leave of absence for County Clerk Ruel Adams for the days of December 16-31, 1975;

Approved purchase of a siren for the ambulance.

County Judge Charles Stavley stated that the last two items were on the agenda posted at the courthouse, and were added following the delivery of the agenda to The Times Monday of last week, but following the deadline of this paper for publication.

Mrs. T.O. Moore Jr. and her daughter, Angela, were visitors in San Angelo last weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Early.

Let's throw out a few "ifs"! A sweetheart for the band and football team, and a sweetheart for the FHA may be a person of the opposite sex than those normally presumed as likely candidates, otherwise, there will be discrimination. A girl may take shop training and a boy may take homemaking, otherwise there will be discrimination. Whew! There's no telling what the future holds, is there? But we are not anxious to evade the possibility of personally seeing all of it we can!

Field Trip For Geology Students

The members of the geology class of Sanderson High School were taken on a three-day field trip to the Big Bend National Park, leaving on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 28. Accompanying the students were Mrs. R.C. Holcombe, their teacher, Mr. Holcombe, Mrs. W.C. Baker, who drove the bus, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Couch, who had the "chow wagon". Several stops were made en route to the Big Bend National Park basin. Side trips were made to "the window", Santa Elena Canyon, Boquillas Canyon, and Rio Grande City. The group returned to Sanderson Saturday afternoon.

County Judge Charles Stavley was in Fort Stockton Tuesday of last week on business.

Sheepmen Plan Industry Uplift

Directors attending the semi-annual meeting of the American Sheep Producers Council in Denver unanimously endorsed the Blueprint for Expansion as a 10-year master plan to rebuild the industry. The intensified effort to halt the decline in sheep numbers was spearheaded by Howard Derrick, council president. "We're about to stop the decline and start the serious job of rebuilding," he told the 41 directors of the two-day meeting, October 23-24, in Denver, Colorado. One positive sign is that an increasing number of producers are withholding more ewe lambs and getting better prices for older ewes. "I foresee the time when our industry will have it all together," Derrick said, noting: "We're well on our way with the help and understanding of the National Wool Growers' Association, the National Lamb Feeders Association, the council, the Sheep Industry Development Program, and farm flock representatives. "Self-determination as an industry," Derrick emphasized, "is the first step." He said that we can no longer speak with many mouths, but rather we must speak in one loud voice. He singled out the Blueprint for Expansion as "one of the most important projects we can support. Unless we stop the decline in sheep numbers, all our efforts otherwise are futile." Details of those plans are being developed now and will be outlined at the National Wool Growers' Association annual meeting in Wichita Kans., on January 26-29. In 1960, some 768 million pounds of clean wool were available to consumers. Now, those numbers are reduced to 400 million pounds of lamb and 60 million pounds of grown wool.

COVERED-DISH SUPPER FOR M-O-D GENERAL MEETING
There will be a covered-dish supper for the March of Dimes general meeting at the Legion Hall, November 20, at 6:30 p.m. All residents of Terrell County are invited to bring a dish, their families, and attend the Thursday meeting. Terry D. Woodcock, South Texas field representative of San Antonio, will show a film and speak.

CHURCH OF CHRIST'S WEEK OF SERVICES END
Tonight (Thursday) will mark the concluding service of the gospel meeting at the local Church of Christ which started Sunday. A covered-dish dinner was served after the morning worship service Sunday. There have been services each evening at 7:30 p.m. and a devotional service each morning at 7:00 a.m. "Abe" Lincoln of Lubbock has been doing the preaching at the services.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I guess my change of address did not reach you. I'm finding a few minutes between mixing cement and helping to lay the cement blocks to write personally and say "help" and send our new address.

Don requested release from active duty with Uncle Sam in September, and we are presently building our log home in the vacation and hunting spot of the world, the Rocky Mountains of Colorado. We hope to have our home complete by early spring '76. We would welcome very much any of our friends visiting anytime. We are located 17 miles west of Fort Collins on State Highway 14 in Poudre Canyon. My dad, Ruel Clark, and step-mother, Gussie, are still living in San Antonio and doing fine. Daddy is still completely retired from the railroad and enjoying playing dominoes and watching TV. Thanks so much for continuing to mail me the hometown paper. I read it from cover to cover as soon as it arrives. I would love to hear from someone there, and would love even more to have visitors any time. I'm not practicing my nursing presently, but substituting it with two growing boys, and a husband going to college, so I have plenty of time to entertain company. Thanks so much and looking forward to my next paper, Bethy Clark Smith. 700 Poudre Canyon Route Bellvue, Colorado 80512

Sul Ross State University's Museum of the Big Bend, a place where a visitor can stroll, at his own pace, through some 1,500 years of history, has revised its policies and established new hours. Kenneth Perry, director of the museum, has announced that there would no longer be an admission charge for the general public and that the museum would be open to the public Tuesday through Friday from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. and Saturday from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m.; with Sunday hours from 2:00 to 6:00 p.m. In making the announcement,

Perry said, "In eliminating the admissions charge, the museum presents itself as an open educational facility. I feel that the museum should be as accessible to the public as possible".

Pastors' Corner

Ed. Note: - The Sanderson Ministerial Alliance sponsors the items under this heading. Comments, questions, or interest should be directed to that group.

"Blessed is the man that sitteth not in the seat of the scornful." Psalms 1:1b.

A person who can succeed as a scormer will be a practical failure at anything else. When a person gets the idea that he is of more value than he really is, he will find himself growing critical of other people. The critical person fast becomes cynical and this leads to the seat of the scormful.

Young people growing into maturity are often scormful of the "old-fashioned" parents. The earth is new to each generation and the children of each generation are prone to look with scorm upon the ideals of the generation which is just passing. A beautiful young lady imagined that, because she could not speak English more perfectly than her parents who were from the "Old Country", she was in some sense superior to them. This had led her to become ashamed of their broken speech. She was making herself unhappy and cheap at the same time. She was sitting in the seat of the scormful. People who are duller or who have smaller abilities or talents who look with a jealous, almost murderous scorm upon their more talented brothers and sisters will also come to sit in the seat of the scormful.

Difference in material holdings or ownership - wealth - can be a source of scorm. In our ignorance of real values we imagine that the wealthy are fortunate. This is not always true. The world has been helped as greatly by the poor as by the rich. In many ways, the poor have carried the candles by which progress has been lighted. Men look upon the pocketbook, but God upon the personality.

The lowest depths to which scorn can sink is when, supposedly good people look down upon those who are bad. This is the worst form of perversion to which goodness can go. I do not mean that badness is good, or that goodness is not superior to badness, but I mean that goodness ought to be so humble and thankful that it will look with tenderness and pity upon weakness and badness, and not with scorm. When morally good people scorm morally bad people, the morally bad become so fixed in their badness that they conclude that goodness is sham and pretense. This leads them to the seat of the scormful.

God pity the soul into which scorm enters. Heaven help the family which develops a scormer. God save the church or the community that develops candidates for the scormer's seat.

We always hope and pray the drunkard will repent and reform, that the criminal will be reformed, that the wild temper will become mild, that the wagging gossiping tongue will be controlled, but when a soul becomes so deformed that the seat of the scormful fits him, there is little hope that he will ever be different.

MRS. DUDLEY HARRISON IS PURSE-SNATCHER VICTIM

Mrs. Dudley Harrison was in San Angelo last week to be with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Lowrance, who had surgery, and was the victim of a purse-snatcher when they went to their motel Wednesday evening. The man ripped her purse with a sharp instrument and grabbed her billfold and ran. He was pursued by Mrs. Harrison's other daughter, Mrs. Billy Golden, but she gave up the chase when the man ran into some bushes.

The man was not apprehended.

Mr. Lowrance was also in San Angelo with his wife, but was at the hospital at the time of the purse-snatching incident.

"They say you don't understand American business... I say you do."

The American Free Enterprise System operates on the premise you get what you pay for.

When the flour a bakery buys goes up, the baker must sell a loaf of bread for more money, or go out of business. If he cannot buy the ingredients, pay his rent, taxes, fuel bills, employee wages and have a little money left over for himself, then he must close his doors. That's the way the American system works, and it is the best system we know.

Community Public Service Company is doing everything possible to keep charges for electric service at a reasonable level, consistent with good business practices. Transmission lines and transformers must be repaired, improved, and in some cases replaced. Maintenance equipment must be kept in good working order to service the lines, poles and substations that keep you and your family supplied with dependable electricity.

Unlike the baker, we cannot change rates daily or monthly. Periodically electric rates are adjusted to a level that will enable the electric company to pay for operational costs, construction costs, and pay a reasonable rate of return to investors who provide the money to build or maintain the electric service facility.

A "fuel adjustment" clause is utilized in order to allow the Company to recover the increased cost of fuel occurring after the base electric rate is calculated.

The foreign oil embargo and exorbitant prices have put a strain on domestic oil reserves and increased the demand for natural gas, which is in short supply. These fuel increases are factors which we cannot control.

We don't like the "fuel adjustment charge" and we know you don't like it either. But until fuel prices level off, or new sources of energy are developed, we must do the best we can.

Library Friends Hear Reports, Order Cookbooks

Reports of officers were given at the bi-monthly meeting of the Friends of the Terrell County Library Tuesday evening in the library with Mrs. Dick Sullivan presiding. Eight members and two guests attended, including Mmes. W. H. Savage, E.E. Farley, L.H. Gilbreath, E.E. Harkins Jr., Mark W. Duncan, Irvin Robbins, and Sullivan, and Ray Hodgkins; also Mr. and Mrs. C.J. McAughan.

Mrs. Sullivan reported that she had ordered 300 more of the new Bicentennial Cookbooks. She also reported that the proceeds from the "sweet tooth booth" at the Halloween carnival co-sponsored by Friends and the Culture Club, were $75.16, the money to go to the Bicentennial project.

Mrs. Robbins, librarian, reported that 407 books of fiction were checked out in the past two months; 396 non-fiction; 33 biographies; 254 paperbacks; 346 magazines; 38 Spanish books and puzzles. The attendance included 483 adults and 418 children. Special gifts amounted to $410. The book "Historical Atlas of Texas" was given in memory of James Kerr, and the book "Wild Flowers of the Guadalupe" for K.V. Beerup.

Beta Iota Chapter Meets in Ft. Davis Last Saturday

Beta Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma began their new year's program of work in the homemaking department of the Fort Davis High School Saturday afternoon.

After the devotional by Mrs. C.D. McCollister, items of business were transacted. Miss Laurene Lighthouse and Miss Eva Chaffin were named as "outstanding women" to represent the chapter Saturday at the brunch given by the Alpine branch of the American Association of University Women to recognize the achievements of women in Alpine.

Mrs. E.E. Farley was in charge of the program "Emerging Awareness", "Woman: The New Spirit of '76". She was assisted by members of the program committee.

The Fort Davis members served sandwiches, cookies, nuts, and hot punch from a fall-decorated table which had a centerpiece of nasturtiums.

Mmes. W.H. Savage, W.H. Grigsby, and E.E. Farley attended from Sanderson.

Wednesday Bridge Club

Mrs. Austin Nance was hostess last week to the Wednesday Bridge Club, inviting the members and guests to a luncheon served at 1:00 o'clock in her home.

High score in the card games was held by Mrs. 101 Murrah, second high by Mrs. H.E. Ezelle, low by Mrs. Herbert Brown, with Mrs. Murrah and Mrs. R.S. Wilkinson sharing slam.

Also present were Mmes. F. J. Barrett, Carlton White, Welton Cox, and David Marx.

HARRELL-HOLMES RITES UNITES PAIR NOVEMBER 1

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick Harrell are at home on the Oasis Ranch following their marriage on November 1 in Ciudad Acuna, Mexico. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes, former Terrell County residents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Harrell. He is a graduate of Sanderson High School. The bride will continue her education at Iraan High School.

Presbyterian Circle Meet This Week

When Circle I of the Presbyterian Church met Monday afternoon in the fellowship hall, Mrs. R.S. Wilkinson opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. R.A. Gatlin gave the "Least Coin" devotional written by a woman in Ireland and titled "The Source of Strength and Courage", based on 2 Timothy 1:1-7.

In presenting the stewardship emphasis for the month, Mrs. G.K. Mitchell read letters from the Presbyterian Home for Children at Itasca, the Evergreen School for the mentally retarded, and the Evergreen Manor for the elderly, both in Minden, La.

She also was the moderator for the study on "The Hope that Frees and Unites", furthering the study of Hosea. The lesson from Hosea 2:2-23 was on "The Pursuit of Love". She gave the closing prayer after the hymn "O Love, That Will Not Let Me Go", had been sung.

Mrs. C.C. Mitchell served tea, coffee, and doughnuts. Also present were Mmes. H. A. Couch, E.E. Farley, C.A. Havard, W.H. Savage, Monty Harkins, N.M. Mitchell, and Sid Harkins.

Circle II met at the home of Mrs. Jolly Harkins Tuesday morning. Present were Mmes. David Marx, Charles Stegall, E.E. Harkins Jr., David Mitchell, N.M. Mitchell Jr., F.M. Wood, Randy Brown, and the hostess.

Mrs. Stegall explained and read an article on the "Least Coin Fellowship", and the group decided to use the material for devotional study.

The study period was opened with a prayer by Mrs. David Mitchell and the study was on the 11th chapter of the book of Romans.

Following the study, the dismissal prayer was given by Mrs. E.E. Harkins Jr.

The hostess served coffee, tea, and cherry coffee cake to the members of the circle that were present.

Reviving Romance In Marriage Is Aim Of 'Total Woman'

Consciousness-raising sessions and karate classes that promise to free women from "male tyranny" are beginning to take a back seat. A growing movement among women is aimed at re-establishing communication with their husbands and putting the sizzle back into their marriages.

The "bible" of this movement is a book called "The Total Woman." It was written by a housewife and former beauty queen named Marabel Morgan, and it's based on classes she has been teaching for several years. "The Total Woman," published in hardcover late in 1973 with a 7,500-copy first printing, began its steady climb up the list to become 1974's bestselling phenomenon with a total sales of more than 600,000 copies. It has just been published in paperback by Pocket Books ($1.95) with an initial printing of two million copies.

The concept of The Total Woman was born out of a failing marriage—Marabel Morgan's own. After six years the Morgans' once "perfect marriage" was on a downhill slide that Marabel didn't know how to stop. After one particularly upsetting encounter with her attorney husband, Charlie, ("I fight and argue with people all day long," he had said, "and I don't intend to come home each night to fight and argue with you.") Marabel decided to dry her tears and change her life.

"The change began with my pursuit of knowledge," says Mrs. Morgan, "I bought all the marriage books I could find. I read until I felt cross-eyed at night. I took self-improvement courses. I studied books on psychology. I studied the Bible. Over and over, certain principles emerged and I began to apply them to my marriage—with stunning results."

The results were so stunning that when friends began asking her for advice on how to save their own marriages, Marabel decided to spread the word beyond the boundaries of her own social relationships. She founded Total Woman, Inc., the Miami-based marriage enrichment course that has now spread to more than 20 states and is taught by more than 100 authorized instructors. (Graduates of the Total Woman courses include singer Anita Bryant, Mrs. Joe Frazier, Mrs. Alvin Dark, and the wives of football players from the Dallas Cowboys, Washington Redskins, Miami Dolphins, Minnesota Vikings and Green Bay Packers.)

Marabel Morgan's discoveries, her own experiences, and those of her students are related in "The Total Woman"—a practical guide that enthusiastically shares the how-to tips wives can use to improve and revitalize their lives and marriages.

"I do believe it is possible," says Mrs. Morgan, "for almost any wife to have her husband absolutely adore her in just a few weeks' time. She can revive romance, re-establish communication, break down barriers, and put sizzle back into her marriage. It's really up to her. She has the power."

In a breezy, chatty, anecdotal style, "The Total Woman" sets forth tips on how to organize one's time and duties, how to evaluate goals and plan changes. It includes rules for becoming a better mother and suggestions that can lead to a happier marital sex life.

"When you become a total woman," Mrs. Morgan says, "you help your husband to be a total man—your adoring lover, your best friend."

CULTURE CLUB TO MEET
The Culture Club will meet Thursday, November 20, in the home of Mrs. W.H. Savage with Mrs. J.N. Brown as co-hostess.

Mrs. Annie Darr of Del Rio was a business visitor here on Wednesday.

Antlerless Deer Permits Issue To Be Nov. 17-20

Antlerless deer permits for the coming season will be issued to landowners in six Trans-Pecos counties November 17-20.

In Terrell County, the permits will be issued on November 17-18 at the courthouse.

Antlerless permits are issued in limited quantities based on the over-population of deer, carrying capacity of the land, and in ratio to the portion of land having surplus deer. The permits are issued to the landowners, who then may issue them to the people of their choice.

Deer season is set for November 29 through December 14 in the Trans-Pecos counties with the exception of Terrell and Pecos Counties where the season will be extended from December 15 through December 22 for white-tailed deer only.

Persons eligible for permits, but who cannot pick them up on the above dates, may pick them up by contacting personnel of the Wildlife Division of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Marching Events In Odessa For Area Bands Saturday

The Sanderson High School band will be in Odessa Friday to participate in the University Interscholastic League marching contests.

The bands will be rated from Division I to V. Each band is allotted a maximum of eight minutes' time, and a minimum of five minutes.

Gene Flores, band director, stated that the band would compete at about 9:45 Saturday morning. They will present a fanfare formation, diamond, pin-wheel and "S" formations while they are playing "Fanfares for Uncommon Bands", "Sweet Caroline", "British Eighth", "Hawaiian War Chant", and "The Fight Song".

Four Holidays For Local Students

The students of Sanderson schools are having four holidays from school this month, the first being last Friday.

Instead of attending the District XVIII T.S.T.A. Convention in Odessa Friday, most of the teachers elected to have a workshop here and work on the self-evaluation forms which have to be completed in the near future. Mrs. Larry Choate, president of the local T.S.T.A. unit, and her mother, Mrs. E.E. Farley, attended the Odessa meeting which convened at 10:00 a.m. in the Ector County Coliseum with sessions at different locations in the afternoon.

The next holiday will be Friday when the Sanderson Eagles go to Dell City for the last conference game of the season.

Teachers and students will have two holidays for Thanksgiving - Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28.

The Girl Scouts had their regular meeting Monday afternoon. They planned their hike which is going to be on Friday. The girls will hike around town to work on their badges. Phyllis Eggleston and Della Picaso brought refreshments. Laura O'Keefe brought a letter from Nancy Condes of El Paso, a former member of the troop.

Dennis Hagelstein is the reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. S.C. Harrell were in San Angelo the first of the week on business.

AUSTIN — Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey's decision to step down at the end of his present term Jan. 1, 1977, assured a wide open race for his position next year.

A large field already is forming.

Ramsey, 71, took many by surprise with the announcement he plans to return to law practice in San Augustine in a little more than a year.

His public service career dates back to 1931 when he first entered the House of Representatives. He served six terms as lieutenant governor—longer than any Texan.

State Rep. David Finney of Fort Worth, Houston attorney Terence O'Rourke and Walter Wendlandt, an Austin attorney and former Commission division head, are announced candidates.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. said last week he is seriously considering getting in the race. White is an appointee of Gov. Dolph Briscoe, and speculation favored him to replace Ramsey if the incumbent stepped down before end of his term.

Other possible contenders for the Commission—which regulates Texas oil and transportation industries—are Texas Legislative Council Executive Director Robert E. Johnson and State Rep. Lane Denton of Waco.

Lawyer Policies Due

State Insurance Board members are considering a new type of policy covering attorney's fees.

The State Bar and agents' representatives requested approval of a plan authorized by the 1975 Legislature. The Board must approve guidelines.

The Bar is prepared to distribute group policies through a non-profit corporation, a staff member stated. Insurance Company of North America and American National Insurance Company have applied to the Board for authority to sell the coverage. Fees are expected to run $5 to $7.50 per month for such coverage as wells, deeds, advice, defense against traffic charges and domestic cases.

Minority Gains Few

A state legislator claims state agencies have made no progress at finding jobs for blacks, Mexican-Americans and women.

Rep. Paul Ragsdale of Dallas said the number of black employees in 38 agencies increased only four-tenths of one per cent in the last year, the number of Mexican-American workers 1.1 per cent, and the number of women 3.7 per cent.

Tax Distributed

More than $2.7 million is being remitted to 188 counties and 297 cities as their share of mixed drink taxes for July-September.

Cities get 15 per cent of the total tax collected in their boundaries, and counties 15 per cent. The remaining 70 per cent, $6.5 million for the last quarter, remains with the state general revenue fund.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court upheld a Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission ruling that a dry justice precinct remains dry even when the county around it votes wet.

In other recent opinions, the High Court declared:

- The son of a slain father must divide benefits with an "adopted son" who was never legally adopted.

- A $43,400 judgment for the state in an air pollution case against a roofer must be erased and a new trial held.

- Killeen's moving, zoning and licensing ordinances are legal.

Jails Studied

Only half a dozen county jails met all Health Department standards during the last six years, the new Texas Commission on Jail Standards was told last week.

The Commission met here to discuss how it can go about getting public support for upgrading jails.

A Health Department officer said only counties whose jails had a perfect score were Childress, Gillespie, Howard, Lynn, Milam, and Oldham. Eight others had a single violation out of a list of 30 items checked.

The Commission has enforcement power, can order sub-standard jails closed and transfer prisoners to other facilities.

No Tax Bill

The chairman of the Texas House of Representatives tax panel questioned whether a new tax bill will be required in the legislature of 1977.

The state has escaped new taxes for two legislative sessions, but most projections have indicated a record revenue measure will be required at the next session.

"My personal belief is that a tax increase is not going to be required at the next session of the legislature," Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington told a seminar on the state tax structure. Wyatt is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The McKnight Auto Shop was closed on October 31 and Eleno Marquez, who was the manager of that business, is now employed as the part department manager at Word Auto Supply. Martin Petty, who was working there, is now working with a construction crew in the Odessa area.

This Can Happen

DON'T DO IT, SON!
So you are stopped for a traffic violation and are discovered in possession of pot. And you are convicted of possession -- a felony -- and receive a suspended sentence. Do you think that is the end of it, son?

NOT QUITE!
You also lose your right to vote, to own a gun, or to run for a public office. You lose the opportunity of EVER becoming a doctor, dentist, certified public accountant, engineer, lawyer, architect, realtor, osteopath, pharmacist, school teacher, barber, or a stockbroker. You can't EVER hold a job where you must be licensed or bonded and you can NEVER work for a city, county, state, or federal government. You can't be admitted to West Point, Annapolis, or the Air Force Academy; but you CAN enlist in the military service -- and be assigned to a labor battalion.

Son, take it from some guys with a lot of mileage behind them: To you -- with a lot of mileage still ahead of you -- it just isn't worth it!

DON'T DO IT, SON!
Ed. Note: The above is a reprint from the Ozona Stockman, and is said to have been distributed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. We reprint it in the interest of young people. And it should be plainly stated that the same penalties would apply if the story could be written -- DON'T DO IT, GIRL!

CROP Donations Being Received

The Sanderson Ministerial Alliance will boost the campaign in Sanderson for donations to CROP, a self-help system which has been in operation for the past 38 years.

Coin-collecting folders were passed out to several local church congregations during the past two Sundays and persons interested are asked to turn coin folders, checks, or money to their pastors, or they may turn in their contribution to The Times office and it will be deposited in the CROP fund account.

Details of the organization were published in The Times last week and in other columns of The Times this week.

Miss Janet Harrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Harrell, was a weekend visitor with her parents and Terry. She is a pre-vet freshman at Lubbock Christian College.

Bloodmobile Has 19 Donors Here

The bloodmobile from West Texas Blood Service, San Angelo, was in Sanderson last Tuesday afternoon to receive donations of blood from local citizens. It had headquarters at the First United Methodist Church where the fellowship hall was used for the registration, screening, and donating process.

Mrs. Joe N. Brown was in charge of the project which was sponsored by the Young People's Chamber of Commerce and the Culture Club. The ladies of both organizations provided dinner and supper for the workers.

Of 30 volunteer donors, only 19 were able to give blood for various reasons, but the bloodmobile team was glad to leave with 19 pints of blood.

CB Users Face Possible Penalties

A news release the first of the week warns users of Citizen Band radios of "disgusting" problems for serious CB operators. The warning came from the president of the U.S. Citizens Radio Council, reportedly.

He is reported to have told his organization, at their annual meeting in Hot Springs, Ark., last weekend, that legitimate and serious users of the CB radios "have to straighten out the use of the radios or lose the CB channels".

It was stated that the Federal Communications Commission received 204,918 applications for CB licenses in September of 1975, compared with 38,325 received in the same month last year. The commission stated that the number of applicants for the month of October was expected to be more than 250,000.

This figure reflects more than 10 million CB radio users in the nation, which puts more than 500,000 persons on each of the 23 CB channels available.

Another warning to CB users was given in the news release: that an estimate of 30 to 50 per cent of the CB users do not have licenses -- a violation which is punishable by up to two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Mrs. Joe N. Brown is employed at the Sanderson State Bank in the bookkeeping department.

Mrs. Marilyn Bell of Del Rio visited here Friday with her grandmother, Mrs. Lena Stavley, and other relatives.

Library Board Sets Policies For Equipment Use

A policy ruling for loaning the new portable cassette player was made at the monthly meeting of the Terrell County Public Library board last week. The new audio-visual equipment recently received is the result of the library qualifying for system membership.

The two cassette players will be used in the library. The portable player will only be loaned to organizations and invalids for a stated period of time.

The county treasurer's report of the last quarter was reviewed and current bills were approved for payment.

The matter of selecting a lay representative from the Terrell County Public Library to the Advisory Council of the El Paso Resource Area was discussed, but no decision was made.

Patriotic Program Presented Tuesday By Student Council

Sponsored by the student council of Sanderson High School under the direction of Mrs. E.E. Farley, there was a patriotic program presented in the high school auditorium Tuesday morning, Veterans' Day, beginning at 10:30.

The high school students and teachers attended the program and a large crowd of local residents, as everyone had been invited to attend.

After the colors had been presented by the Boys' and Girls' State citizens, Paul Hinkle, Bryanann Stavley, Kendall Billings, Joanna James, and Bobby Hunn, Bobby gave the invocation.

Miss Stavley read "The American Flag" and Paul led the audience in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. The audience sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" with Mrs. W.C. Baker as pianist.

After a brief summary of the meaning of Veterans' Day by Kendall, he called the roll of all veterans who were on the school faculty and recognized all other veterans present.

The stage was re-arranged and in the foreground was a large plaque with rows of white crosses between red poppies and resting on a base covered in national blue crepe paper.

Miss James gave two readings: "The Memorial Poppy" and "In Flanders' Field".

"Taps" was sounded by Randy Massey.

Following a moment of silence in respect to the veterans who had made the supreme sacrifice, "God Bless America" was sung by the audience and Paul gave the benediction.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR H.B. DAVIS JR. IN SANTONE

Memorial services were in San Antonio last Wednesday for H.B. Davis Jr., 57, of that city who was burned to death in the wreck of his station wagon November 1, and burial was in that city.

It was reported that he had been out to the look at a deer lease north of Dryden and was enroute back when the accident occurred.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace Davis, a daughter, Melody Ann, and two sons, E. B. (Trey) Davis III, and John Davis, all of San Antonio.

The Davises lived here for a short time. He was a passenger conductor on the S.P. Railroad working into Sanderson from San Antonio. He was a member and deacon in the Trinity Baptist Church of San Antonio, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and United Transportation Union.

Revenue Sharing—We Missed the Boat?

By Bernard E. Nash

Congress is preparing to vote shortly on the extension of Revenue Sharing — that much-heralded program first proposed by former President Nixon as a means of "returning power to the people."

This program was perceived as a great opportunity for older Americans to bring their special needs to the attention of local governments — those officials who are assumed to be most responsible and most responsive to them. Yet, to judge by results to date, it appears that millions of older citizens have not been able to take advantage of that opportunity. And the question arises—did we miss the boat, or was the boat going in the wrong direction in the first place?

As you probably know by now, revenue sharing was designed to send Federal tax dollars back to local governments. During its first five years, some 30 billion of these dollars were parceled out, but comparatively few of them went to programs providing social services for our nation's elders.

Under revenue sharing, decisions on how to spend this money are left up to local officials, instead of the Federal bureaucracy with its remote control administration of programs and its categorical grant — or so much for this, so much for that — system of funding.

To determine how these funds were spent during revenue sharing's first year, a Senate committee surveyed 2,300 communities, and learned that the majority had allocated their revenue sharing funds for capital improvements, public works and protective services, while only a small minority indicated that "money would be channeled into social services for the poor or elderly."

And this is happening at a time when Federal funding of all kinds of social services is being cut back drastically. Of course, as recent headlines reveal, police and fire departments are not without their share of cutback problems.

Use of these funds for such things as golf courses, band uniforms, ice rinks and the like — as has been reported frequently during revenue sharing's first year, may seem frivolous to those who have to struggle daily for the basic essentials of life.

Perhaps that is what the citizens of the community want. But perhaps they are not being heard — maybe they're not speaking up.

Revenue sharing may be a great idea which has come slightly ahead of its time. It appears that the people are going to have to do some quick catching-up if they want to participate in the decision-making process.

Since these decisions are made on the local level, it comes down to a matter of advocacy — of being the squeaking wheel that gets the grease. When revenue sharing was brand new, I offered some suggestions about what you can do to help make sure that older Americans receive their fair share. That advice is still essentially the same — except perhaps that the stakes are even greater today than they were then. Thus, this is what you can do to help:

First, organize for greater effectiveness — there is strength in numbers. Join with other older people or interested younger citizens, or with organizations concerned about the needs of older persons in your community.

Next, determine what is needed. Are any local programs — such as special services for the homebound — funded under the Older Americans Act? If so, find out if there is any expiration date for their Federal funding and if revenue sharing funds can be used to continue the program.

Then, develop a specific proposal (or proposals) to be presented to the appropriate governing body. Be sure to indicate that the proposal has widespread community support.

If your community does not have a governmental agency or committee to watch out for the interests of older citizens, urge the governing body to establish one. This fundamental step can be doubly beneficial; it not only builds into the local government structure a continuing official advocacy for older people, but it also means that your community will be eligible to receive more Federal funds for aging programs than a community which doesn't have such a committee.

Under the current revenue sharing formula, each state's allocation is divided between state, county and municipal governments, so it is important to bring your ideas to the attention of officials at all three levels.

Since other interests are competing for the same available funds, it is often necessary to convince local officials of your determination. One way is to remind them that older Americans vote in far greater percentages than their younger counterparts.

Write letters to your elected representatives, phone political acquaintances, and attend public sessions of governing bodies where time is frequently allotted for comments from the public.

Above all, when you call upon your government to provide funds for services needed by older Americans, don't plead as though asking for charity. You're not! You've contributed, and now you're asking for opportunities and resources in your hometown to maintain your independence with dignity, and for a chance to serve others through community programs. After all, that's the whole point of revenue sharing.

(Mr. Nash is the executive director of the non-profit, non-partisan National Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons.)

SPEND WEEK FISHING

Nine engineers on the Southern Pacific Railroad, an ex-conductor, and a friend went on a most enjoyable and profitable week's fishing trip to Lake Amistad below Comstock. Boy Scout News

Ten Scouts from Sanderson attended the fall Permian Basin District Camporee in Fort Stockton last weekend. They stayed overnight Friday and Saturday for the events which were staged on Saturday and Sunday.

The Scouts were accompanied by their leaders, Chris Hagelstein, Scoutmaster, and Andy Falcon, assistant.

Cub Scouts Rudy Fierro, Dominic Fierro, and Carlton Hagelstein attended special events staged for that group in connection with the Camporee on Saturday.

Scouts making the trip were Shalor Sumrall, Steve Falcon,

Steven Marquez, Mickey Corbett, Cato deLeon, Johnny Daniel, Raymond Adauto, Ele Chris Hagelstein, John Prano, Benny Fierro.

Five troops and 10 patrols participated in the camporee and included units from Fort Stockton, Crane, Rankin, and Sandersqn.

The Sanderson unit won the cobbler cooking contest, tied for first place in pioneering, knot-tying, height judging, and tied for second place in first aid and sawing the log.

The Sanderson troop was commended by its leaders for their cooperation and their interest in the Scouting events at the camporee. He said that the contests were between the 10 patrols and that one of the Sanderson patrols placed 5th.

Rep. McBee Chairs Balloting Group

State Representative Susan McBee, chairman of a special subcommittee of the House Committee on Elections, last week announced that the first meeting would be held Monday of this week.

Mrs. McBee said that the subcommittee is exploring the possibility of creating a single elections office in county government which would combine the duties now split between the county clerk who runs the elections and the tax assessor-collector who registers the voters. The panel is also considering the possibility of developing a "population bracketed" election code which would place different requirements on different sized counties.

More than 45 witnesses have already registered to testify at the hearing, Mrs. McBee said, and more are expected to show up November 10. The witnesses include county clerks, tax assessor-collectors, county political party chairmen from both the Republican and Democratic parties, and other public officials who must work closely with elections and the election code in their daily duties. A number of private citizens are also expected to testify on their views.

"It is important that we get as many different viewpoints as possible so that the subcommittee can learn just what the public thinks we should do," Mrs. McBee said, adding, "I am more than confident that the reception we have already received indicates that we will get just that kind of broad-based testimony at the hearing, "will be most welcome".

Other members of the subcommittee, appointed by elections committee chairman Luther Jones, are representatives R.C. "Nick" Nichols of Houston, vice-chairman, James E. "Pete" Laney of Hale Center, Hamp Atkinson of Texarkana, and Pike Powers of Beaumont.

CROP

HUNGER HURTS.
DESTROYS AND KILLS

25 WAYS CROP HELPS TO STOP HUNGER . . .

- Rushes food to victims of earthquakes, hurricanes, and other disasters
- Ships high protein food to kwashiorkor (protein-starved) patients, most of whom are children
- Helps refugees get resettled
- Provides food for "food for work" self-help projects
- Sends garden tools and farm equipment
- Exports millions of packets of vegetable seeds every year
- Secures new higher-yielding hybrid seeds
- Trains agriculturalists
- Establishes cooperatives
- Supports family planning clinics
- Teaches illiterates in "food for learning" programs
- Digs wells
- Reclaims unused land through terracing or irrigation
- Builds farm-to-market roads
- Constructs flood control dams
- Helps credit unions and "seed banks" get started
- Distributes chemical fertilizers
- Saves crops with pesticides and herbicides
- Plants new forests to halt erosion
- Kills rodents
- Aids Mother/Child Centers
- Fosters community action here and overseas
- Works through church-related service agencies
- Offers U.S. agribusiness firms a channel for helping hungry people
- Assists villagers around the world to attack their own root causes of hunger

This is the kind of work CROP has been doing since 1947, helping people on the basis of their need, without regard to race or creed.

Share in this crusade against hunger. Give the gift of life and hope. Be an agent of change.
