Light Turnout Marks Upton Balloting --

Saturday's Judge Race Was Real Barn Burner

Prior to election day last Saturday, most folk were saying that the four-way race for the County Judge's seat being vacated at the end of this term would be a close affair. And it was. Two candidates, Walter Campbell and Peggy Garner tied with 371 votes, followed closely by Frank Robbins with 318 and Shank Bloxom with 271. Campbell and Garner advanced to the June 6 Run-Off election.

Over in McCamey, incumbent Commissioner Charlie Fletcher lost to Boob Kelton in another close race, 214-237, in Precinct 4. In Rankin Commissioner Precinct 2 incumbent Tommy Workman and challenger Shorty Titsworth put on still another close race with Workman winning 112 to 97.

Allen Moore easily carried his home county in the 21st Congresional race, polling 927 votes of the total 1340 cast; however, he was "steam-rollered" in the big city voting areas by Nelson Wolff and Bob Krueger who will meet in the June Run-Off. Wolff polled 146 votes in Upton County and Krueger got 122.

A light turnout of the more than 2000 eligible voters in the county marked the balloting. Absentees accounted for 183, Precinct 1 had 201; Precinct 2, 143; Precinct 3, 400; and Precinct 4, 413. Absentee votes contained some ballots from all four precincts.

Jim C. Langdon, running unopposed for Railroad Commissioner, was the top county vote-getter at 1079.

A breakdown of the judge race show, the following: Absentee -- Bloxom, 65; Campbell, 43; Robbins, 41; and Garner, 32;

Precinct 1: Bloxom, 112; Garner
39; Robbins, 32; and Campbell,
20.

Precinct 2: Bloxom, 82; Robbins, 34; Garner, 18; and Campbell, 8;

Precinct 3: Garner, 174; Campbell, 135; Robbins, 80; and Blox-
om, 8;

Precinct 4: Campbell, 165, Robbins, 131; Garner, 108; and Blox-
om, 4.

Absentee voting in the June 6
primary runs through May 22-25.

AND THEY RAN —

So now the first primary elections are over and some are still undecided but the big majority are over until November. There were, naturally, some who were not happy with the outcome but, at least locally, I haven't heard of anyone wanting to leave town just because they didn't win and I think all the local candidates are to be commended for the clean races they ran.

In the judge's race, most folk had said they thought it would be a close one and—taking four individuals in one race—it would have been hard to have gotten it much closer.

For Allen Moore, in the Congressional race, he and most of his supporters knew all along that it would take some sort of miracle for him to make the run-offs; however, I for one, would have thought he would have done a little better in the rural areas. I've said all along that big money can buy an election, not by anything in the way of dishonesty, but simply because with enough money, the candidate can get his name before the voters to the extent that they will mark him on the ballot on election day. I just didn't realize how much difference it could make.

Betting on horse races seems to be out for a while to come — and, according to the straw votes taken by the Republican Party — too bad the Democrats were afraid to ask the same questions—Texans don't want unions to get out of hand in the state and they want no part of a state income tax. Amen to both.

One final bit that might be observed is that a lot of people are registered but not even half, statewide, will vote. I don't know how you explain that one.

Award Ceremony for RHS Graduate

Sheryl Wilson, the former Miss Sheryl Eggemeyer, Texas Tech University junior majoring in accounting, receives the $100 Accounting Achievement Award from College of Business Administration Dean Jack D. Steele.

Mrs. Wilson is a member of Beta Alpha Psi and has been recognized for scholarship with her name on the Dean's list for three semesters. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Eggemeyer, Star Rt., Midland, and was Valedictorian of her class when she graduated from Rankin High School.

The Rankin (Tex.) News —
Thursday, May 9, 1974

State Class A golf championship title.

And so it was. These three, along with Freshmen Russell Wimberley and Clarke Turner on the team, a nervous Coach Dwayne Turner and a group of finger-nail-biting parents (I've been there, too) did go back and they did win again and became only the third school in the history of Class A golf in Texas to win back-to-back golf crowns.

Naturally, the Red Devils feel they will be back again next May and that they will then become the first team to win three-in-a-row. Well, next May is a long way off but don't take any bets just yet. This is a golfing bunch of kids, and although they will lose two good shotmakers in seniors Lester and Gray, they are not without capable people to help fill in the gap.

In any case, we can all take pride in these two golf teams that have done an outstanding job in representing their school and the community—not only on the golf links, but as individuals.

Come to think about it, I don't recall any Rankin team that has not been a credit to RHS— even if they did no more than play in district.

As for the track team, here too we can all say "Thank You" for a great effort. They do not need any excuses nor do they offer any. Any time you make it to the state finals in a classification that has as many schools participating as does Texas, you can know that you're better than good and no less than outstanding—whatever the event.
