In Loving Valley last Saturday evening William Kiehl and his brother-in-law, Mr. Tipton while hauling a load of corn from the field to the house, were struck by lightning. Both men and horses were instantly killed. The men remained where they were killed for an hour and a half through a hard rain, when Mrs. Tipton and her mother, Mrs. Kiehl, were the first to behold the sad scene.

BUSINESS in the East seems to be reviving, as the following will show: Furnace No. 1 of the Reading Iron works, which has been idle over two years, started up the 14th, giving employment to about sixty hands. The Keystone Iron works which have been idle for a year and a half, will start soon, giving work to several hundred hands. The Columbia rolling mill has started up after a long suspension, giving employment to several hundred hands.

A WASHINGTON special says "It is noticed that the president timed his absence from the city so that it was gone but thirty days. The law on the subject allows official absence in any one year. The president holds that this applies to him as well as it does to the lowest employe of the government. In past times some of the presidents have not construed the law so rigidly and use to extend their leaves or absence for several months. Cabinet officers who felt that they were as important as the president were absent. Heads of bureaus, many of whom imagine themselves even more important than heads of departments, having had examples set them, frequently took two months and in many instances three months' leave of absence. It was not surprising, therefore, that clerks, especially the higher grade of clerks, asked for and received an extension of their vacations. The example set was bad and very expensive. I delayed public business. President Cleveland believes in setting a good example. A subordinate clerk will hardly ask for an extension over thirty days if the president does not himself take it. In fact, the business principle is already applied so strictly that clerks who absent themselves beyond the law have their pay stopped."

There shall be no Night There.

That must be a glorious place to live in; no clouds and no darkness; where can it be? Here on earth. Civilization enforces on all humanity within its influence a penalty. That penalty is sickness of many kinds and differing in degrees. Unsociality, fretfulness, anger, ill temper, rude manners, distrust, bad language, anxiety, disquiet, broken rest, impaired faculties and unsoundness of mind and body, are some of its consequences. Relief can be given, and the night of sickness dissipated in the rays of the sun of health, by using the celebrated Home Sanative Cordial.

Outcast London.

Much excitement has been made by reports recently published on the vile condition of the slums of London. In one cellar was found a family consisting of a man sick with small-pox, his dying wife, and three naked and dirty children, and one pig. In some parts there is one gin-mill to every hundred persons. What dilemma! Yet corresponding impurities often defile the human blood. They can be cast out by Brown's Iron Bitters, the great strengthener and purifier.

Mr. B. J. Strange, of Stark Lake, Florida, says, "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best blood purifier I ever tried. It gives all the satisfaction a man can want."

Temperance Finances.

The prohibition of the liquor traffic promises a greater saving of money for the masses of the people, than all other modern reforms. The yearly drink bill of the nation is nine hundred millions of dollars. The excessive taxation consequent upon this foolish habit is 700 million of dollars more, making in all 1,600 million dollars a year as the financial loss from brewing and distilling. Texas contains 1-25 of the population of our country and there fore suffers 1-25 of this loss, or 64 million dollars per year. The various temperance organizations of Texas are each, as best they can, trying to save the 64 millions. Let us consider what a valuable acquisition this sum will be every year.

Use one-fourth of this in railroads at $25,000 per mile, and you could build each year in Texas, 8,000 miles. One-eighth of it, would build each year 4000 school houses worth $2000 each. Another eighth will pay 8000 teachers, each $1000 per annum, and furnish instruction to 200,000 pupils. One-fourth of 64 millions will open 8 million acres of land for cultivation at an expense of $20 per acre. The new crop of 8 million acres would bless merchant, mechanics and railroads.

Still one-fourth of the Texas Drink Outlay is on hand. Take one-half of this and you can build 4000 churches, each worth $2000, in destitute places, and the other half will pay 8000 pastors the salary of $1000 per year to save sinners, and encourage virtue in our beloved state.

This is practical patriotism. To secure such a saving of 64 millions of dollars, for the advancement of agriculture, manufactures commerce, education and religion, is one of the most sensible ways of serving the commonwealth. This is the aim of the prohibitionist. How many of the 400,000 voters of this state are capable of understanding the above figures? Let us suppose that only 100 thousand are sufficient intelligent to discern the losses and gains involved in this question. Let us suppose that they were willing to give one cent a week to secure prohibition in the state. That sum would exceed $50,000 for the entire year; support "of educating public sentiment to prohibition," a sum at least five times larger than all our societies have hitherto expended. Brother, sister, don't give one cent a week, give a nickle a week and make the prohibition fund in Texas, at least $250,000 a year, and in 1887 you will vanquish the traffic, and be looking about for another reform to advance.

The United Friends of Temperance, the Good Templars, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the Band of Hope, and the Prohibition party, are each making great sacrifices, to advance the prosperity of two millions of Texans. How many of these two millions will join in this patriotic movement? * * *

WITH THEIR BOOTS ON.

Jim and Pink Lee, the Delaware Bend Outlaws, Killed.—They Die Fighting.

Jim and Pink Lee, the notorious outlaws of the Delaware Bend country, were killed on the 7th inst by Heck Thomas, of Fort Worth, and Jim Taylor and Jim Shattel of Cook county. Their bodies were taken to Gainesville where an inquest was held over them following is the account of the killing given by Heck Thomas at the inquest: Heck Thomas being sworn testified as follows: I lived at Fort Worth, Texas: about 10 o'clock yesterday morning I was informed by John Strother that the Lee boys were near his house, and he thought they had cut his pasture fence; I tried to find the Lee boys then, but failed; between 12 and 1 o'clock, while at dinner, a runner came and told me that the Lee boys were riding through Strother Brown's pasture; Jim Taylor and Jim Shattel commenced looking for them at once; about 2 or 2:30 o'clock we saw them half a mile off; they were off their horses and on the ground, and we could tell what they were doing, we hurried in that direction, but we couldn't see them; after we had got over the hill and saw them we struck the line between Strother Brown's and John Washington's pastures; we saw they had cut Strother Brown's pasture fence, and were cutting John Washington's pasture fence across the lane; we had a spy glass on us; we got as close to them as possible—about 40 or 50 yards away—and ordered them to surrender. They dropped their nippers and fired at us and missed; as Pink tried another shell on his gun he was killed; we all then were shooting at them and could not tell which killed him; about a second or two later Jim Lee was shot by one of us and about sixteen shots were fired; we kept shooting till Jim quit; don't know how many shots struck the Lee boys except Jim Taylor, Jim Shattel and myself; Jack Brown saw part of the shooting, but he didn't do any of it.

The jury found a verdict that they came to their death on September 7, 1885, from gunshot wounds inflicted by Heck Thomas, Jim Taylor, and Jim Shattel. An examination of the bodies showed that Pink Lee had but one wound. The ball went in at the right side of the neck, ranged upward and came out behind the left ear. Jim Lee was shot twice—once under the chin, the ball coming out at the back of his neck. The lower part of the right ear was shot off. The men were very much alike in appearance—Jim a little taller. Pink Lee had sandy whiskers, light hair, was about 5 feet 5 inches high, and was 25 years old. Jim Lee had sandy whiskers, light hair, was about 5 feet 5 inches high, weighed about 150 pounds, and was about 35 years old. The marks on both would indicate they were mean, desperate men.

The unfortunate victim after being removed to his residence suffered amputation above the elbow, but so great was the shock and his exhaustion from the loss of blood that death ensued. War or Revolution.

A Madrid dispatch says: Official dispatches have reached the government from the Philippines stating that a German gunboat landed troops on the night of the 24th of August at Yap island, and hoisted the German flag there. The Spanish gunboats cleared for action and the Manila was about to open on the German gunboat when she was signalled to desist, which she did most reluctantly. A third Spanish vessel, the Velozara, has arrived at Yap bay. This news caused the widest excitement throughout Spain. Crowds gathered in the streets of Madrid all night long, frantically gesticulating and calling the Emperor William, the crown prince, and Bismark the vilest traitors. Several thousand people shouting "Death to Bismark," and "Vive Espino" mobbed the German embassy, smashing the windows, breaking into the embassy building, the German arms of the embassy building, and the windows and mirrors were dashed to pieces, the people almost foaming at their mouths with fury. Many of the soberest Spaniards feel confident the affair must now either end by war or revolution.

A Cool Convict.

An escaped convict went to a lady's house in Lufkin, and demanded of her a pair of pants. Badly frightened, she gave them to him, being glad to escape so easily. Picking up a hatchet lying in the yard, he struck the shackles from his limbs, and went to another house, where he asked for a hat, saying he had lost his on the ears. This he also obtained. He had already procured in some manner a coat. Thus, fully equipped in citizen's clothes, he walked into the town proper, went to a bar-room, took a drink, and then left, going south on the railroad track. He took dinner at a section house the same day, and has not since been seen.

There will be protracted services at the Methodist Church next week.

My stock of School Books and School supplies of all kinds will be put on for the opening of the College session on Sept. 1.

We hear one of our most daily recommend "Bile Beans" to his friend who makes some complaint of feeling badly or bilious, or out of sorts.

The boys belonging to the College have organized a base ball club with M. K. Callaway, president, and H. Oliver Stark, secretary.

Our accommodating county assessor gives us the following summary from the assessment: 52 miles of Telegraph in the county, and value including appurtenances, $1500

We do not recommend "Bile Beans" to cure all the ills human flesh is heir to, but we know they are superior in every respect, as a cathartic and corrector of the liver, to pill and liquid liver regulators.

At a called term of the Commissioners Court on the 11th inst., the Court agreed (Judge Jones and Com. Johnson, protesting) to accept Strain, Risley & Swinburn's proposition to build the Court House for $ per cent bonds &c.

The Only Sure Cure. Messrs. Bass & Brother—My chickens were dying at the rate of seven or eight a day. I bought a 50 cent package of your Chicken Cholera Cure. When I went into the yard I found six fine hens nearly dead, gave each one a good dose also gave it to the rest of my chickens. All of the sick hens are now well and laying finely, and I have not had a case of cholera in my yard since. I have tried many remedies but yours is the only sure cure. I will tell the people know of this great discovery, thousands of chickens will be cured if directions are followed.

The Art of Getting Vigorous. Is comprised in one very simple piece of advice, improve digestion. No elaborate system of dietetics is needed. If you lack vigor, use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. If you take this hint, and do not commit any excesses, there is no reason why you should not gain in strength, appetite and weight. Hosts of whom invalids are to-day building a foundation for years of vigorous health with this sound and thorough renovator of a dilapidated physique and falling energy. Dyspepsia is eradicated by it, and the constitution fortified against disorders to which, if it were exposed, it must surely succumb—notably malarial fever, Rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, nervousness, and their various symptoms disappear when it is used with persistence, not abandoned after a brief and irregular trial.

The Debate. The debaters, C. M. Wilmet of the Christian Church and Elder Cato of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, together with a fair audience assembled at the arbor near the Stradley school house on Monday morning at the appointed hour. Before proceeding with the discussion it was agreed that Heman C. Smith should take Elder Cato's place in the discussion. C. M. Wilmet stated in his opening speech that in order to meet his appointments he wished to have a night session of two hours each on Monday and Tuesday nights so as to get through the debate and the time allotted to each proposition by Wednesday evening. But Smith would not agree to this. He said he was going to hold Wilmet to the contract as published in the paper, notwithstanding this contract had already been changed by substituting Smith for Cato.

Monday and Tuesday they discussed the following proposition: The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints is, in Doctrine and Policy, in harmony with the Doctrine taught by Jesus Christ when he was on earth. Each debater made two speeches of 30 minutes each, morning and evening.

Wednesday the second proposition was discussed. "The church known as the Christian Church (vulgarly called Campbellite) is the Church of Christ." This proposition was discussed yesterday and the debate closed yesterday evening. Whatever the Book of Mormon may say as to doctrine and policy, all intelligent readers will judge of the doctrine and policy of Mormonism by the practical results just as they do of any other sect, be they what they may.

A Startling letter from Texas! GENTLEMEN:—It affords me great pleasure to send you the report of the wonderful popularity of your BROWN'S SASSAPARILLA and DANDIELLOS with LODGE or POTASSIUM in this section. First, I sent an order for a dozen and soon sold it all. Its medicinal effects made it all THE TALK. About five weeks ago I received a gross and have now only fifteen bottles left, parties taking six bottles at a time. Dr. J. F. Myrick, one of our leading physicians, testifies to having cured himself and one of his children of Rheumatism by its use. I will soon send for another gross.

Yours very truly, T. E. HORAN, JACKSBORO, TEXAS.
