

CHICAGO COTTAGE ORGAN are the Varied Seasons and us their Moments Fly."

Summer has gone, Autumn has returned us with the usual demand for New and Winter Goods.

great pleasure in informing the public that I am from New York, Philadelphia and other Eastern most complete stock of General Merchandise ever North West Texas, all of which will be sold at for cash than the same goods have ever been West Texas.

also respectfully inform the people of Jack, Wise, Archer, Young and adjoining counties that I have opened two stores in the town of JACKSBORO, Texas, found the largest stocks in all the lines west of Dallas. Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, Clothing, Hats, Ladies' Furnishing Goods, Notions, Fancy Goods, Cloaks, Jewellery, Jerseys, wraps, &c. These goods are fresh purchased at the head of the market enabling my customers on equal footing with the leading houses in Dallas. No house in Texas can sell goods as cheap as I can. My stock of Groceries and Provisions is far Superior Quality, Variety, and Price in the west. These goods have been bought in enabling me to buy them considerably cheaper than in small quantities. I am prepared to sell any Dry Goods or Grocery line either by Wholesale or Retail any other house in Texas. I am making a specialty of boots, shoes and hats. I have a cotton yard in my stores where I will be pleased to store my goods free of charge. Liberal inducements will be made to all who want to buy. All I want is a trial to prove that the above goods will be sold at their merits. No representation to draw customers.

Thankful for the universal patronage I have received during the past few years, by close business, fair dealing and close prices, I am very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
D. C. BROWN.

Just received a new line of dress gowns, suits, etc. navy blue suits at D. C. Brown's which he is selling at close prices for cash.

McConnell, the druggist, has the finest line of pipes and smokers' articles ever shown in northwest Texas.

When you go to Weatherford don't forget or fail to see Lewis & Price the best hardware, stove, and tinware men.

D. C. Brown is receiving new goods daily from New York and Philadelphia. His stock is nice, new and fresh, when you buy from him you get the best goods for the least money.

McConnell will order for you from cuts and samples any design of genuine Meerschaum pipe your mind can conceive.

One to walk in the old McKeehan house under the new management would think the dead had come to life, and G. P. Frazer says the goods must go.

If you want a good farm, good grazing land, good ranch, a good residence in Jacksboro, or a nice lot to build on, apply to Hughes & Whipp, Jacksboro.

Lewis & Price, hardware merchants of Weatherford, Texas have the largest and finest line of cooking and heating stoves, hardware, tinware &c. west of Dallas.

T. E. Horan will duplicate any price on the railroad. He will sell a good set of wagon harness for $14 to $25 and saddles cheaper than ever sold before this time.

I have just received an elegant line of fine stationery and writing materials, blank books, writing tablets and colored inks. My stock is always complete. H. H. McConnell, Batcher Shop.

M. M. Joyce is running a first class butcher shop on the south side of the square, in the Brick Front. He keeps a good supply of the best beef.

Place a Teaspoon Drop in one minute. German Corn Remover Kill Corns & Bunions.

The Methodists will give a social to-night at the residence of S. W. Eastin. All are cordially invited to attend.

The "Favorite Cook Stove" is the best and most convenient stove in the market. Sold by Lewis & Price, corner North Main street and public square, Weatherford.

Knox has just begun to receive his new goods and from appearance he will have an immense stock. He assures us he is going to have a very elegant stock of goods in all departments.

Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

All parties wanting deeds can get them by calling at the CITIZEN office. We have just finished a new lot of the most approved form, they have stood the test of the most critical lawyers for two years.

I have just received a nice lot of Box and Parlor heating stoves that I will sell with very little margin for cash. My motto is "quick sales and small profits." Try me and see. A. L. Stinson.

If "peace hath her victories no less renowned than war," we may cheerfully class as one of them that valuable preparation known as Home Sanative Cordial, meeting as it does the requirements alike of the healthy and the invalid.

Hundreds of letters from those using Ayer's Hair Vigor attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and curing baldness, and cleansing the scalp, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

All parties wanting new wagons should not neglect to call on A. L. Henson as he has received a carload of the celebrated Moline wagons and is prepared to sell on better terms than any one. Don't neglect the opportunity he comes and get your wagon. A. L. Henson's Jacksboro is the place.

And by the way, speaking of McConnell's stock, do you want a fine hair brush, flesh brush, tooth brush, nail brush, clothes brush or bonnet brush? Do you want a fine perfume for the toilet, cologne or bay rum by the pint, or is there anything you ever saw or heard of in a drug store? Then, go to McConnell and call for it.

Mr. J. J. Findley of Danatur came over on Tuesday, bringing with him, he says, a good man whom he wished to locate in our county. Mr. Findley owns the Patrick Osborne survey of 1470 two miles east of town. That's right. Come again Mr. Findley. Help us to settle up our county and we will assist you in selling your land.

The people seem to be appreciating the extra inducements being offered by Knox in the way of taking country produce for goods, as they are busy unloading wheat, potatoes, etc. all the time. It is certainly a great benefit to the farmers to be able to get 75 cents per bushel for their wheat and get goods at the low prices at which he is offering them.

McConnell is already receiving his holiday goods, and will show the finest line of these goods ever brought out west, by anybody. He will be prepared to job many of the fancy goods he has bought, to country merchants, having purchased them at bottom prices, in large quantities from first hands. Later on, the CITIZEN will issue McConnell's Christmas greeting as usual.

Capt. Davis, a well to do and prominent citizen of Limonstone Co. is in town prospecting and says he will very probably locate at Jacksboro and also buy land for the purpose of a ranch and farm near town. He is much pleased with our rich and finely watered lands and thinks that Jack county is one of the best counties in the State. The fame of our college attracted him here and he compliments the judgment and enterprise of our citizens in establishing such an excellent institution at this point.

Judge I. Stoddard and Rev. W. H. Niles with their wives got in from their trip to St. Paul at Dallas last Thursday evening. They report a very pleasant meeting notwithstanding the fact that many were sick with the dengue fever making the popular meeting small. On the return trip they took in a part of Collin county and made a visit of a day to an uncle and some cousins of Judge Stoddard whom he had not seen for years. It seems they had lost track of one another and though Mr. Stoddard had been in the same place for sixteen years it was only recently that the Judge had ascertained the fact through the Farmers Alliance of which they were all members.

The whole trip was made in the comfortable hack of Judge Stoddard and they report that the most of the country roads were very good.

Personal. L. O. Martin of Sherman is in town.

W. W. Duke has gone west to see about his cattle. Joe Moore is seriously ill at his brother's with fever.

Wm. McKeehan and his daughter Minnie made a flying trip to Bowie this week.

Mrs. Amerson who has been quite ill for several days is some better this morning.

G. H. White Esq., formerly of this place but now of Henrietta, was in town yesterday.

E. W. Nicholson and wife are at Weatherford for a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Rev. J. G. Putman left this morning to attend the meeting of the annual Conference at Corsicana.

Mrs. Pickett of Roanoke, was in town last week looking at property with a view of locating in our town.

Miss Mollie Meek who has been sick with dengue for several days, we are glad to say is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Davidson, while working on Adamson's mill last week, was severely wounded by a shaft falling on his foot.

Hunter Craycroft, representing A. Miller & Co., wholesale druggists of St. Louis is here in the interest of his house.

Mr. E. Nesbitt, moving from Erath county passed through town to-day on his way to Kirklund where he intends to locate.

Jacksboro has at last awakened from her lethargy and the spirit of improvement universally prevails in the minds of the people of our little city. Oward is the cry, and right manfully are our people responding to the call. Since our worthy Commissioners decided that a new Court House (which by the way, is to be a model of perfection and beauty) was indispensable, several of our energetic citizens went to work, and the result is, several substantial, private residences have been erected, others have been renovated, fences and chimneys have been built, and other improvements are expected to begin soon. No one is necessarily idle and our business men are reaping a harvest. The cry of "hard times" is no longer heard, and the people are prosperous and happy. All we need is a railroad connection with the outside world, and a good flouring mill. As regards the mill we will soon have that, judging from the tall building that looms up so conspicuously on the eastern part of the town. The old machinery has been moved, another engine has been put down, latest improved roller process, new bolting chest, heater, purifier and all the machinery necessary to thoroughly cleanse the wheat, and in short, we will have a first class mill, second to none in Northwest Texas. Truly, the heart of the average Jacksboronite should throb with pride when he sees the rapid strides his town is taking in the way of improvements. We have as fine schools as there is in the state, (or at least west of Ft. Worth) good churches, and as a cotton market she takes the lead paying as much as Galveston for the "decey staple." Her society is unsurpassed and ere long, we will have the nicest little town in the northwest.

The Work goes Bravely on. The prices that D. C. Brown is paying for cotton as well as the extreme low cash prices he is selling goods has given his business the greatest boom known in the history of this county. His house is crowded daily with customers who identify themselves with the market but as he buys his goods from first hands and is selling for cash or its equivalent he is enabled to offer his customers advantages that no other house can offer in Northwest Texas. Take your cotton to him and buy your goods where you will benefit of the many advantages he has over all other merchants in this country.

Notice. Lewis & Price have just received a mammoth stock of Galvanized and black sheet iron and are prepared to make well-asings as cheap as can be made in the State. See them before contracting elsewhere.

Prevented. The disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health. Julia McCallan, cor. Bridge and Third Sts., Lowell, Mass., writes: "I have had a complication of diseases, but my greatest trouble has been with my kidneys. Four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla made me feel like a new person as well and strong as ever." W. M. McDonald, 36 Summer St., Boston, Mass., had been troubled for years with kidney complaint. By the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, he not only prevented the disease from assuming a fatal form, but was restored to perfect health.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It purifies the blood, cures all skin diseases, and restores the system to its normal state. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25 Cts. Six bottles, $1.50. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U. S. A.

Red Star Cough Cure. Trade Mark. Cough Cure. Free from Opium, Stimulants and Poison. Safe. Sure. Prompt. 25 Cts. St. Jacobs Oil. Trade Mark. German Remedy. For Pain, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, etc.

ELLIOTT & ROE, DEALERS IN LUMBER, SHINGLES Sash, Doors, Blinds, Moulding, Lime, Cement, Plaster, and Mixed Paints

We have now on hand the largest and best selected stock of building material ever brought to this market. Bottom Prices Guaranteed. Weatherford Texas.

DISEASES OF THE MOUTH. Dentistry. DR. CHAS. A. OTTERBEIN, West side North Main Street, WEATHERFORD, TEXAS.

Mason & Hamlin. Pianos. New made of strongest Do. with square case. Price $100 to $500. Organ and Piano Co. 115 Tremont St. Boston. 46 E. 14th St. (Union Sq.) N. Y. 149 Wabash Av., Chicago.

JACKSBORO MILLS! Wheat and Corn Grinding, Cotton Ginning, Satisfaction Guaranteed. L. P. ADAMSON, Proprietor.

What's in a Name? Shakespeare says: "What's in a name? a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." The healing power of St. Jacobs Oil does not of course, lie in its name; but that name has virtually become a household word all over the world, because when men hear it, they recognize it as the conqueror of pain.

For Sale. One small magic lantern, nearly new, with a large variety of slides, price ten dollars. This is a bargain, and the purchaser can give a vast amount of pleasure to his family and friends at a small cost. H. H. McConnell.

Ague-Shaken Sufferers. Who resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, experience speedier and more complete relief than they can hope to do by the use of quinine. This well authenticated fact is of itself sufficient to have established a high reputation for the Bitters. But the article is not a specific merely for the various forms of Malarial Disease, it endows the system with a degree of vigor, and reforms its irregularities with a certainty that constitutes its best defence against disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, especially rife where the atmosphere and water are miasmata tainted. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are remedied and prevented by it, and it also removes dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, &c. Take this medicine on the first indication that the system is out of order, and rest assured that you will be grateful for the hint.

Do You Mean Business? Well, if you have strength to push your business, it is well. But many a man's business has broken down because the man was broken down, and had to push in him. If you want to make a success, build up your system by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters. Mr. W. M. Winfree, of Petersburg, Va., says: "There is no medicine equal to Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility." It cures dyspepsia, enriches the blood and strengthens the muscles.

Plenty of Fresh Eggs. Messrs. Bass & Bro.—I take pleasure in stating that your Chick-on Cholera Cure is a success. My chickens a month ago were dying, and all the old ones seemed to have the Cholera. Their combs now look red and they have gone laying and I feel sure of plenty Christmas eggs. Respectfully, Jas. W. Hornbeak.

Important Queries Answered! Have you Scrofula? Impure Blood? Kidney Disease or Rheumatism? Days are dangerous. You can be cured by using BROWN'S SARSAPARILLA AND DANDELION WITH IODINE POTASSIUM, a Blood Purifier that all physicians endorse. Ask your druggist to show you the formula and commence using at once. YES! 10000 boxes of BROWN'S ARNICA SALVE, sold on a positive guarantee and not one returned. 3 trays cure burns, cuts, bruises, sore eyes, piles &c. Beware of imitations, use only Brown's 25c. a box. Use Brown's Tar Troches for Sore Throat, Colds, &c. Use Brown's Peppermint Tonic for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Headache etc. No remedy can compare with it.

Studies from Nature No. 10

BY A. F. ALLEN.

Having now followed nature step by step in the order of her productions, we come to the final exhausting process of flowering and fruiting. The successive phenomena constantly presenting itself in forest and valley of germination, growth, absorption, digestion and secretion are interesting studies, worthy of our best thoughts and of the powers of mind God has given us. We behold continual change from the seed to the mature plant or tree, even here the change does not cease, but continues in flowering and fruit bearing, and during the annual decay and death; while with the perennials the process of fructification is followed by months of repose, but not of complete inaction the foliage having fulfilled its mission is scattered by the autumn winds or drifted into heaps where every particle of matter they contain slowly separates to reappear in new forms of beauty. The tiny bud bursting into life in the early spring have a charm for us after the long dreary barrenness of winter; the rich tints of autumn have a merited claim on our admiration, but these seasons of infancy and maturity yield the palm to the glories of summer when the bright buds display the full perfection of nature's matchless beauty. Then we see every beautiful shape, every shade and color and endless diversity; yet there is perfect unity, perfect adaptation of means to certain ends. If but a few simple shapes, a few simple colors were all nature had to give us we would soon grow weary of the monotonous and perhaps find more entertainment in the artificial works of man. If we were given diversity without unity, our interest would be of short duration; on the contrary the closer we study the multitudes of forms and colors, the more we recognize the complete harmony that rules even in the tiniest flower. Just now as we look around us on hill and valley we see the last of summer, yet in her retreating foot steps linger a few flowers, they too will soon be gone, and the lover of these beautiful creations will have to content in watching the deepening tints of the waning year as nature dons her wister garb. Only then as we sit around the cozy winter fire can we reconcile our ideas of life to be shut up in the seclusion of a city. I say seclusion, for to be shut out from the works of nature is certainly seclusion from the purest enjoyment it is our lot to possess. When the life invigorating breeze of spring and summer are laden with the perfume of opening buds or fragrant flowers, when the forests and groves are green, when rippling streams dance through sunlight and shade, when every square foot of earth is teeming with life and beauty, O give me the country, where no lifeless walls of brick and mortar shut out the life and joy and sunshine of the fields and forests. How many in our cities have passed their short span of life with no higher or purer thoughts than they could find among these lifeless walls; their only communion with nature being artificial like everything about them, only catching a glimpse of the blue skies by day or a few stars by night between the narrow opening of the tall buildings. No wonder that crime in all its hideous forms disdaining the cover of night but stalks forth in the light of day, where man's mind and aspirations are narrowed down to the small limit of man's work; his life is full of blemishes and imperfections like his surroundings. He may decorate his walls with pictures of glorious nature as it exists beyond his narrow bounds and from which he is self-exiled; but they are poor substitutes for the luxuriant panorama of nature's productions. Take the dwarfed soul from this artificial atmosphere out into the broad fields where the growing grain waves in long swells like an undulating ocean, where he can breathe the pure breathe of life; and to the forests where he can hear the music of birds in unceasing freedom, and can drink in the pleasures in every sense; thus freed from the constraints and fustian life, he will become a new creature. We never see the low degraded brutes in human shape dwelling in the country; they may be there for a time, but their native element is in the city. Countrymen may be rough featured and hardened by toil, unable even to shine even with reflected lustre in Madam Grady's parlor, but they have not learned to rob you with one hand while they pat you with the other. What they have learned has been gleaned from the open book of nature, where the pictures drawn by God's own hand have exerted a beneficial influence in purifying and simplifying their lives. The farmer comes near fulfilling the end for which mankind was created than does any other class; he is in daily intercourse with nature, her lessons are constantly before him, lessons taught by the Creator through the silent medium of his works; he is thus taught to look from nature's works to nature's God, and bow his knees in adoration to the Supreme Being. On the other hand the cramped spirit of city life, lays its all on the shrine of man's achievements, and boasts of its intellectual attainments. In these days of cheap literature, the arts, sciences and the best thoughts of good men are within the reach of the farmer; and there in the pure and simple life of his own home he can enjoy the companionship of the best men of the world who ever produced. The knowledge thus gained when directed by the purer influence of rural life will fit him to reach up and lay hold on the highest attributes man may claim in this existence. The studies of nature if followed out lead us to view every phase of existence, they are so closely interwoven with our spiritual as well as canaille life, in our habits, customs and modes of thought that we are forced to digress somewhat from the main subject in hand.

When man was first created, the care and study of plants seems to have been an occupation perfectly adapted to the promotion of his happiness, it is not as yet in great measure. God is seen in His providences, the earth, the firmament, but is equally visible in a spire of grass. He is exhibited in His most beautiful and benign aspect in the plant creation, and His goodness is no less conspicuous in giving man a mind to receive instruction from these diversified glories. The requisite for reflections and study is found in a single plant, and cold and dead must be the susceptibilities of that heart that cannot respond to the beauties of nature.

St. Joe.

I wish to make a few remarks for the good of the Order, through the columns of our valuable paper. I have been engaged for the past month in organizing the Farmers' Alliances in Dallas county, and with the assistance of Bro. W. C. Griffith, Dallas county had up to the 17th inst. 23 Alliances with from five to twenty five applications for membership. I find the people of our country generally of one mind in this matter and as our intentions can be put into practice so soon after exposing the cause it is preferable to the Grange more with those who have been trying to carry out its intentions. I found more Grangers in Dallas county than in any other locality and must say that I think they will do more and make the Alliance what it should be sooner than in these parts where the people have hitherto had no unity of action. I am proud of my work, and feel that I have truly done my best and advanced the cause where much good will be done and successful efforts made by those who are united. I hear my brother organizers boasting of the material of which they built up certain Alliances, but you may look and listen for Dallas county and be your own judge in the future. I wish our brothers in the Order to be careful about everything they may read in our common newspapers in the way of crop statistics and references to sales made by Alliances on our methods, for I have read in our leading papers some of the most erroneous and designing reports lately that could have been originated. Let us be guarded and have statistics of our own directly from the people concerning their condition in matters of importance and not depend on newspaper's reports and interviews for the benefit of others. We can and must furnish to the public our own statements and we have a man or men in each Alliance who can write the truth to his paper near and have those who are interested in fixing the price of our products know just what is going to be made and probably we may get a better bearing in those wonderful conditions held over our land by our lords of speculation. I do sincerely hope in the space of a very few years that every laboring man will be as good a business man over ready to investigate matters relative to his interests in the country. It is just as reasonable for us to expose what we can learn of our oppressors and their prospects as it is for them to be so learned and conversant about work and products of ours and so soon as we can get other business as well understood and simple to the world as our manner of earning our living you may then look for an equality socially, mentally, morally and financially and our government will not be so complicated and tyrannical. I hear policies of all kinds, prohibition, local option and forty other doctrines which never exist in the minds of a people educated in the principles upon which a republic is built and united in action for one purpose; such things are gotten up by the most debased and reckless of political speculators and so soon as the laboring world is united and understand what is of vital impor-

Thanksgiving Proclamation

WASHINGTON, November 23rd 1885.

"The American people have abundant cause to be thankful to God, whose watchful guiding hand have been seen every stage of their progress, and protecting them from peril and danger. It is proper that a nation in every stage of its progress should, on one day in every year, pause to acknowledge gratefully the goodness and bounty of God, who has led us to this day, and to pray for the preservation of the same by the people of the land. On that day our business is suspended, our people assemble in their homes and churches, and pray and praise devoutly to the God of our fathers, for all that He has done for us, and for the year that has passed, and for the peace and safety of our country, and for the success of our arms and our navy, and for the preservation of our people, and for the prosperity of our country, and for the happiness of our people, and for the glory of our God."
