FORTIETH YEAR

SUDAN, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1964

NUMBER 5

WOODWORK BY DALTON

Miss Bonnell, Robert Weir Are Married

STOP ME if you've heard this, but don't you think it would be worth your time to go vote Saturday and next Tuesday, too, if you live in the city limits.

If you live in Sudan or in the Sudan school district, then you have a choice to make, and no matter what your preference, you should make some kind of choice. I have little patience with people who are qualified to vote, but who just don't do it, then sit around all year griping about who got elected. If you didn't vote at all, and could have, you have no gripe coming, so vote, no matter who it's for.

If you live in Amherst or in the Amherst School District, the choice is easy, since none of the races are opposed. But if you like the ones in office now, you should go vote for them, to show your support and appreciation for the thankless job they're doing. And if you don't like them, you should have rounded up some candidates.

THE TEXAS PRESS ASSN. every year has a contest among member newspapers, rating the top entries in news presentation, editorials, layout, and some other stuff, including columns. Of course, they judge only those who enter, and if you enter, you send in an entry in whichever division or divisions you want to compete (entering editorials in the editorial contest, columns in the column contest, etc.).

Well, no doubt this will cripple the TPA's entire show considerably, but I'm not going to enter a column for judging.

Ordinarily, I understand, they list the winners and then give ratings on every entry, down to the umptyninth place, with a brief commentary by the judge on each entry.

It was two years ago that I entered some choice columns, or so I thought. I was particularly looking forward to the judge's comments.

I was a little disappointed that I didn't win first or second place, especially when I saw who did win. One, in particular, was from a paper whose columnist I read often and privately always figured had pretty crummy offerings.

I was downcast that I didn't win third, fourth or fifth place. I was insulted at not winning seventh, eighth or ninth, and downright mad when I finally discovered my entry wasn't even discussed.

I don't know who the judge was that year, but they usually get someone from out of state. That year they must have got some Yankee with absolutely no sense of humor, some frozen-faced bigdome who was expecting his columnist to discourse mightily about the United Nations, the stock market or some deep topic.

So, with deeply wounded pride, I have abstained from entering my column in any more contests. No need for you birds down at the Texas Press Assn. headquarters to beg me; I ain't gonna play no more. I absolutely and positively will not enter my column in your old rigged contest this year.

Besides, yesterday was the deadline, and I never did get around to it.

The marriage of Miss Geraldine Edwina Bonnell and Robert Foster Weir was solemnized in a ceremony at 8:30 p. m. Friday at Asbury Methodist Church, Dallas.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mears Bonnell of Dallas and Rev. and Mrs. S. Frank Weir of Sudan.

Rev. Weir, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Sudan officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. John Larry Magness of Arlington, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Beth Parr of Childress and Miss Bobbie Parker of Jayton was bridesmaid. Jim Smith of Memphis was best man. Thomas Borman of Stuttgart, Ark. and Jim Uselton of Hereford were groomsmen.

A. J. Johnson of Childress and Robert Darden of Clyde seated the guests.

Musical selections were presented by Miss Carolyn Clift of Hémleigh, soloist.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of gardenia white organza, fashioned with a basque bodice, long, tapered sleeves and a deep collar of Venice lace. The bouffant skirt swept into a chapel length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus and fringed carnations atop a white satin covered Bible.

The bride is a graduate of South Oak Cliff High School and is a junior at McMurry College. She is a member of Delta Beta Epsilon, Kappa Delta Pi and Sigma Tau Delta.

Weir is a graduate of Willingham High School and is a junior at McMurry. He is president of Forum, secretary of Kosari, men's social club, member of Sigma Tau Delta and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

At the bride's table were Misses Peggy Thompson of Claude and Lu Ann Cator of Gruver, and at the bride's book was Mrs. Kenneth Trammel of Dallas.

A rehearsal dinner honoring the wedding party was held Thursday preceding the wedding, with Rev. and Mrs. Weir as hosts. Shows given included one on Feb. 29 by Mrs. R. L. Radloff of Dallas, on March 22 by Mrs. S. W. Oefinger, Mrs. George Hubert Carter and Mrs. Vernon Polson, and a bridal tea and shower March 7 by the Sudan WSCS and WSC in the church at Sudan.

Supt. W. E. Hancock said Tuesday the number was "about 50", and indicated the school board might meet this week to begin the titanic job of choosing one from the list.

MRS. HUTCHINSON LEADS STUDY

Those present were Mesdames Joe Foster, Joe Fisher, Quinton McCaghen, Weldon Wiseman, John Withrow, James Withrow, R. S. Gatewood, Monte Berry, Bernard Wilson, T. Pife, M. E. Blake.

Alaskan Kin Of Sudan Residents Unhurt In Quake

The awesome earthquake which devastated Alaska last week apparently caused no serious injuries to any of the known relatives of Sudan people in the quake area, as all but two had been heard from by Tuesday.

At that time, Mrs. Polly Kent had not heard from her two brothers, Barney Maser and David Kiser (formerly of Buld) who live in Anchorage, a city of 100,000 hardest hit by the tremors.

Mrs. Kent's son, Pat Kent of Sudan, an amateur radio operator, reportedly has been trying to establish contact with his uncles in Anchorage. Although this contact had not been made Tuesday, it was reported that another Sudan radio operator, Charles Logan, had received a report about another Sudan man, Howard Weaver of Anchorage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vera Weaver of Rt. 1, and that Weaver apparently made it through the disaster okay.

Acie Dentell of Sudan Tuesday received a letter from his son, Donley, in Fairbanks, reporting that he and his family were all right. And Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Hay of Sudan received a telephone call from their daughter, Paulette (Mrs. James Ryan of Anchorage), to the effect that she and her family were unhurt, and that she had information which indicated another former Sudan resident in Anchorage, U. B. Porter Jr., was safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Hay were visiting their other daughter and family, Maj. and Mrs. W. H. Richan in Colorado Springs, when they learned of the Alaskan tragedy Friday. The anxious parents had no news until they returned home to Sudan after the weekend, when they received a relayed message which said tersely (from Ryan's mother in California), "We've had word from Jim that the family is okay."

Tuesday morning, although she had heard that phone service had not been restored, Mrs. Hay placed a call to Anchorage, leaving word for the operator to call her back if she could establish contact. She was surprised and overjoyed to hear her daughter's voice at 11:26 a. m. Tuesday when the phone rang at the Hays' Sudan home.

Mrs. Ryan, whose husband is a superintendent of the power plant serving Anchorage and the surrounding area, reported that all her family was fine, and that damage to their home, about two miles outside Anchorage and in the opposite direction from the hard-hit coast, was slight, except that their chimney fell. Paulette, and children, Stephen 9, and Phyllis, 6, were home when the quake hit, but Ryan was at the power plant. Ryan came home immediately after the big tremor, and stayed about an hour to be sure his family was all right. Then, with all

City; School Votes Set

Qualified voters in and around Sudan will ballot on two contested elections within the following week, starting Saturday when the Sudan Independent School District ballots lists four candidates for three posts to be vacated on the school board.

Scheduled to expire are the terms of board members Lee Roy Fisher, W. C. Masten and Billy Gore. Masten and Fisher are seeking re-election, and the other two candidates for the school job are Jerry Ray and Marvin Bowling. All four are farmers.

The top three vote-getters will be elected to the three seats on the seven-man board. Other board members are W. B. Jones Jr., Nolan Parrish, Guy H. Walden and Wiley Mudgett.

Four days later, voters who live in the Sudan city limits will make their choices in the city election, where the three incumbents, Mayor Joe H. Rone and commissioners Wayne Brown and Marvin Tollett, are on the ballot with a slate of new comers. Opposing Rone for the mayor's job is Kenneth L. Burgess, and running with Brown and Tollett for the two seats on the commission are Calvin Jordan, Arnold Reed and A. A. Pinkerton. This means five are candidates are candidates for the two commission seats, with the top two to be elected in Tuesday's vote.

Trades Days Draws Crowd

Sudan Trades Day drew a good crowd for the auction and pony rides, as the weatherman cooperated fully. In addition to having the biggest group yet for the auction, a large group was present on the square for a drawing of a baby beef given away by the Sudan Catholic Assn. to help raise funds for a church location here. Winner of the baby beef was Dean Heard, Sudan grocer, who donated the beef back to the association. A spokesman for the Catholic group expressed appreciation to Heard for his action, adding "We wish to thank everyone who bought tickets."

Ticket salesmen who aided the Catholic project included Gregorio Huerta, president; Rudy Vela, vice president; Vicente Rivera Jr., secretary; and Pete Trevino Jr., treasurer of the association. A spokesman for the Catholic group expressed appreciation to Heard for his action, adding "We wish to thank everyone who bought tickets."

Hull Earns High Sales Honors

Don Hull, sales manager of Baccus Chevrolet in Sudan, has been awarded Chevrolet's highest honor for salesman, membership in Chevrolet's Hall of Honor for an outstanding record of sales during 1963.

Hull was an Honor Club member, member of Hall of Fame and American Legion of Leaders prior to receiving the Hall of Honor award.

Hull was one of only 28 salesmen among more than 35,000 in the southwest territory to earn the high honor bestowed at an awards banquet in Oklahoma City March 23. The honor is based on the dollar value of units sold, and no other salesman in a town as small as Sudan achieved the honor, it was reported. Hull sold about 450 units, new and used cars, trucks and pickups, totaling more than $460,000 during the year, a figure which veteran salesmen in the company said never could be achieved in Sudan.

"Naturally, I'm very proud of the honor," Hull said, "But the real credit, of course, goes to the customers of Baccus Chevrolet, who have been loyal to us."

JIM C. LANGDON is now serving on the Railroad Commission and doing a fine job. Texas oil production has gone up 3 per cent, meaning more income for Texans and more tax revenue. JIM LANGDON is a former high court judge who understands the problems of oilmen, truckers, butane dealers, the railroads and other industries he helps to regulate in the public interest.
