WOODWORK BY DALTON

POET OGDEN NASH once wrote a parody on Joyce Kilmer's famous poem, "Trees", in which Nash declared:

"I think that I shall never see
"A billboard lovely as a tree."
There are many of us, including President Johnson, who feel the same way. The President has asked Congress to consider putting strict rules on billboards along new sections of interstate highways, and a big fuss over the whole deal is expected. Advertising men — bums who use billboards instead of newspapers — are sure to fight any restrictions put on their billboards.

One of the things I never did like about billboards was that they aren't changed often enough. You still can see signs around saying "Vote for Gordon McLendon" or some such, and most folks by now probably can't even remember who Gordon McLendon is.

Another thing I don't like about them is that my kids have a habit of reading them aloud as we drive along, with their mother and I trying to converse. It usually goes something like this: "Will you be in early tomorrow evening?"

"I don't know, why?"
"Sprite — Naturally Tart."
"Well, I may have to go — (Thirty-Four Miles to the Dew Drop Inn) — to a church meeting — (law, it said Eighty-Four Miles) — and I'll want you to watch — (It did not, it said 34!) — the kids while — (It did! it didn't! It did, it didn't, it did, it didn't, it did, it didn't, it did, it didn't) — I'm gone."

Maybe I can be back — (Vote for Coldwater, I mean Goldwater) — in time — will you kids hush a minute? — to take care of them. I'll have to — (Dine Out at The Royal Smorgasbord — what's a smorgasbord?) — have to hurry, though. How can I get to Anton and Amherst both and still get back in time?"

"Put A Tiger In Your Tank!"
In spite of all this confusion, and in spite of the fact that I don't care much for billboards, I have to admit they serve a purpose. A purported expert on hypnosis once told me that without the billboards, a driver going for long distances is likely to go to sleep, or actually, hypnotize himself by the unbroken stream of the roadway ahead, simply because his view is the same all the time.

Billboards, he said, are good because they break up the monotony of the landscape and highway ahead, and help keep the driver awake.

Any driver with three or more average children under 15 in the car doesn't need a billboard to keep him awake, though.

Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Williams and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Williams and families were at Palo Duro Canyon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eddie of Fort Worth are here this week to be with his father, W. O. Eddie, who was to undergo surgery Wednesday.

Mrs. Noel Lumpkin was in O'Donnell last week to visit her grandmother, Mrs. H. W. Sells, and her uncle, Walter Sells, who was ill.

Church Vows Unite Carol Watkins-Jerry Brantley

Miss Carol Ann Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Watkins of Sudan, became the bride of Jerry Lynn Brantley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brantley of Amherst, at 7:30 p. m. Friday in First Baptist Church of Sudan. Rev. Wayne O. Perry, minister of the First Baptist Church of Roperville, and former minister at Sudan, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of Arctic white silk veiled over Peau de Soie. It featured a pseudo bolero embroidered in pearl clusters, portrait neck and long tapered sleeves. Soft gathers at the back enhanced the A line skirt, and unpressed pleats swept to a detachable panel train. The bridal veil, of imported scalloped illusion sprinkled with pearls, was attached to a matching pillbox. She carried a long, tapered bouquet of lilies of the valley, stephanotis, and gardenias dressed with pearls.

Mrs. Jerry Bridwell of Lubbock served as matron of honor, and Miss Judy Kay Bryant of Sherman was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Cecelia Joan Brantley of Amherst, Miss Carole Harper of Sudan, Miss Carol Sue Nickelson and Miss Frances Rogers of Littlefield, and Miss Karen Wallace of Waxahachie.

The attire of the bridesmaids carried out the bride's chosen colors of pink and American beauty. Their formal length dresses were petal pink lace and chiffon designed with a fitted lace empire bodice featuring a scoop neck, short sleeves and a demi-bell shaped skirt. They wore matching halo head pieces and carried bouquets of Pride of Harlem tulips which echoed the long, tapering lines of the bride's flowers.

Gary Shovajsa of Amherst served his cousin as best man. Groomsmen were Michael Montgomery and Gary Fulton of Littlefield, Richard Click and Sterling Kenty of Dallas, J. R. Ritterberry of Amarillo and Philip Shepherd of Graham. Ushers were Robert Dean Smith of Sudan, Jerry Bridwell of Lubbock, and cousins of the groom Jack Wood and Edward Harris Brantley of Albuquerque, N. M.

Candle lighters were Mrs. Melvin Campbell of Littlefield and Rodney Fisher of Sudan. The couple exchanged vows in an Empire setting of graduated white Roman columns crowned with spring arrangements of white iris, white stock, and Woodwardia fern. White twisted tapers illuminated each arrangement as well as the altar rail, and trees of the Hawaiian fern flanked the scene. Lighted candles and the same spring flowers also brightened the aisle of the church.

Mrs. Bill Hunter of Amherst was the organist, and Larry Brantley, also of Amherst, sang "One Heart, One Heart", "Whither Thou Goest", and "Wedding Prayer" during the ceremony.

Mrs. Jacky Van Ness of Sudan registered the guests at the church, and Mrs. Edward Fisher of Sudan registered the guests during the reception which was held in the home of the bride.

At the bride's table an arrangement of white tulips and stock was centered on a wedding cloth that was made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. W. Childs of Alvin. It was designed with garlands of wedding bells embellished with iridescent sequins and pearls appliqued on white net over satin. Mrs. Gayle Brown and Mrs. Glenn Gatewood of Sudan, and Miss Dinah Shields of Abilene and Miss Judy Jeter of Midland served the four-tiered wedding cake while Miss Alice Rogers of Dallas and Miss Sandra Deering of Fort Worth presided at the heirloom crystal punch-bowl.

Miss Dyane Curry and Miss Kandy Miller of Sudan rendered piano selections, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Shotwell and Miss Sherry Shotwell of Littlefield offered pink and American beauty rice bags to the guests.

Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Drew Watkins of Sudan, and Mrs. Childs, grandmothers of the bride; Miss Gwendolyn Dillon of El Paso; Miss Marilyn Walls of Fort Worth; Miss Mary Repetine of Amarillo; Miss Carol Scrivener of Midland; Mrs. Charles Heffington of Spade; Miss Kathleen Barnett of Sudan; Mrs. James E. Shotwell of Littlefield; Mrs. George W. Gilchrist of Lubbock; and Mesdames Wayne Deaved, William Curry, R. E. Davis, O. E. Duvall, Lee Roy Fisher, Edward Gattis, R. E. Gatewood, W. E. Hancock, Adeline Martha, Bob Minton, J. W. Miller, E. C. Maynard, C. E. Nichols, Rodney Nichols, F. M. Smith, J. S. Smith, Guy Walden, F. W. Watts, W. O. Williamson and Kenneth Wiseman, all of Sudan.

For the wedding trip to Phoenix, Ariz., the bride wore a travel suit of Madras fabric blue silk tussah fashioned with a Capri blue silk collar, with blue accessories.

The couple will reside at 3109 B 33rd Street in Lubbock where both are students at Texas Tech. The bride, a graduate of Sudan High School, is a sophomore bi-lingual secretarial student, a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority, Angel Flight, and the Dean's Honor Roll. She also attended the University of Hawaii. The groom is a graduate of Littlefield

Cancer Drive To Start In April

Sudan Cancer Drive workers are getting ready for the campaign which is set for April 22. A house-to-house canvass will be made at that time, and all businesses will be contacted.

Also, a film on lung cancer will be shown by Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Pals here in the Community Center at 8 p. m. next Monday, April 5. A discussion will follow the film. The public is invited and urged to see his film.

Mrs. Bobby Jack Markham, chairman of the Sudan cancer drive, announced this week that Mrs. Mary Olds will be in charge of the business district; Mrs. Maxine Nichols, school; Horace Collins, colored school; and Mrs. Dorothy Drake, residential.

Other workers include Mesdames Alma Lumpkin, Julia Gatewood, Martha Taylor, Arlene Provesce, Charlotte Brown, Virginia Nichols, Lucille Brown, Pam Wiseman, Mary Cowart, Betty Seefeld, Jackie Markham, Bonita West, Charlene Blume, Eloise Curry, Mary Jo Lambert, Beryl Markham, Ronnie Dwyall, Charis Baker, Frances Pickett, Rhoda Maynard, Marty Nelson, Hazel May, Virginia Masten, Sue Chester, Ruth Ellen Riley, Joanne Chester and Mary Wood.

Several of the workers attended a coffee in the home of Mrs. Bobby Jack Markham Monday morning when they made plans for the campaign. A guest, Mrs. J. E. Wren, was also present.

School Board Election Set For Saturday

Saturday is the day for the school board trustee election for Sudan Independent School District, reported Superintendent W. E. Hancock, who also said that he would like to see the voters really get out and vote since this has been a quiet election so far.

Voting will be at the Community Center Saturday beginning at 8 a. m. and the polls will remain open until 6 p. m.

Candidates seeking election who will be listed on the ballots are Guy Walden, Frank Lane, Bill Nix, Donnie Cowart, Bill Boyles and Calvin Baker. The voter will need to mark two boxes signifying the two candidates of his choice.

There will also be a County Trustee-At-Large elected Saturday. Albert Lockwood of Spade is the only candidate for this office. This officer's duties is to serve on a board of five, containing a trustee from each precinct, that supervises the county superintendent's office in Littlefield. Only Lamb County residents of this independent school district are eligible to vote for County Trustee-At-Large.

Again, all voters of this school district are urged to cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice in this election Saturday.

Church Revival In Progress

Revival services began last Sunday at the Church of God of Prophecy in Sudan, with Rev. Paul D. Goins, Indian evangelist of San Jose, Calif., as speaker for the services.

The services will continue this week, with prayer meetings at 10 a. m. daily and services at 7:30 each night. On Sunday, Sunday School will be held at 10 a. m., and worship services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

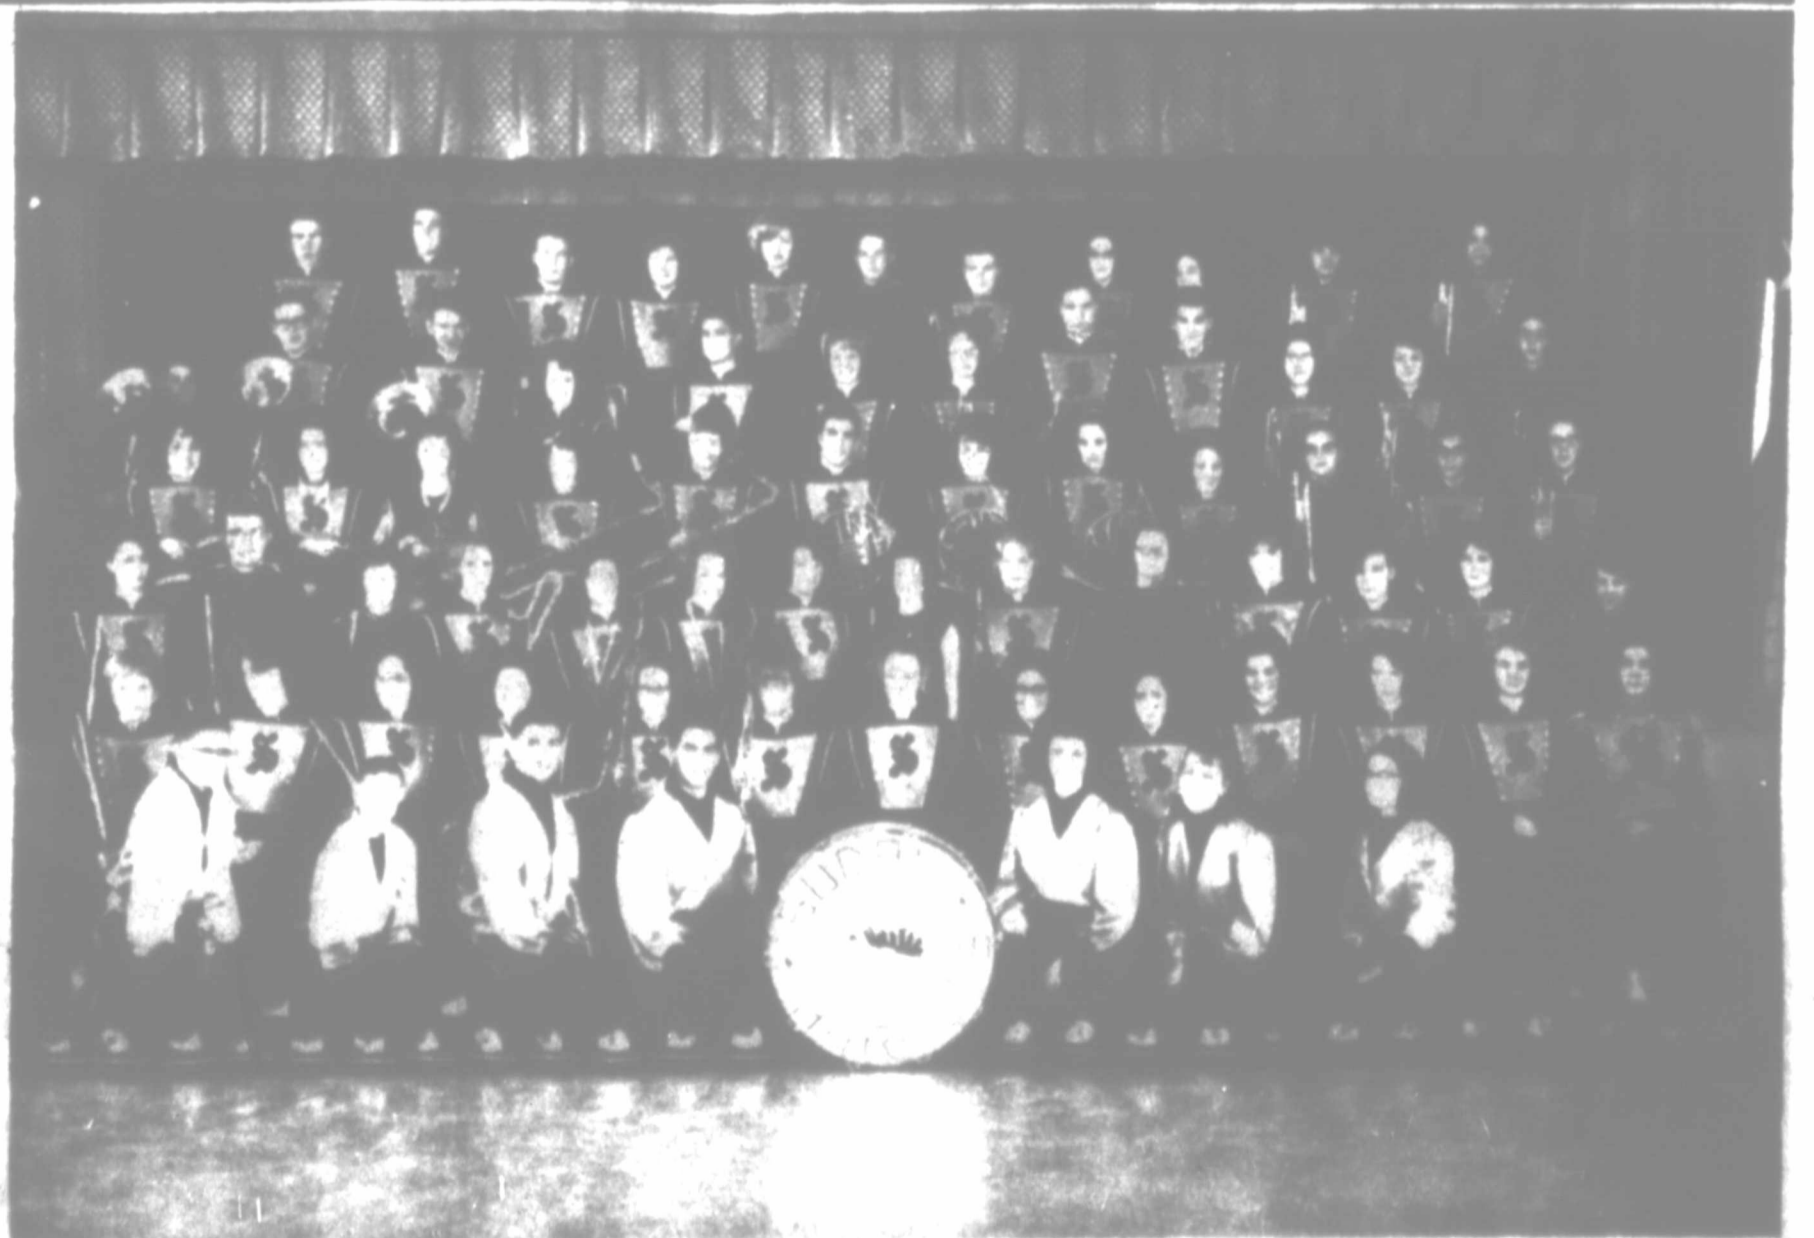

Rev. Jack Stewart, pastor of the church, and Rev. Goins said they especially invited people of all faiths to attend the services.

Rev. Goins stated to the Beacon News this week that he was an Indian evangelist here in Sudan on the warpath against sin. He issued a special invitation to all faiths to "attend this conflict and to wage a war against Satan and his powerful forces to destroy God's creation, spiritually, physically and mentally." He also stated, "Let each and every Christian in this vicinity join this Indian in this special effort to stamp out sin in the lives of our fellow man."

Zing into spring! Corvair by Chevrolet

The steering's crisper, the ride's flatter, the style's racier—even the grass looks a shade greener from behind the wheel of this new Corvair.

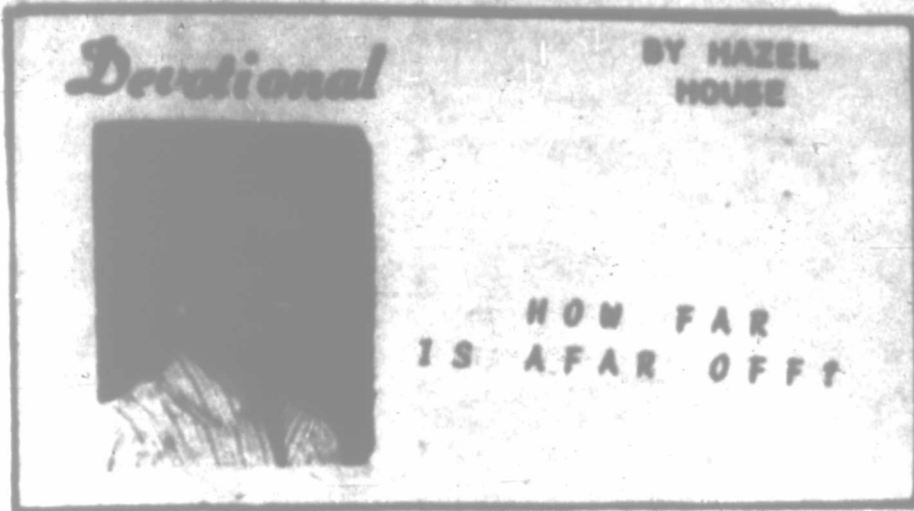

For all its finely calibrated instrumentation—tachometer, manifold pressure gauge, even an electric clock with a sweep second hand for rally buffs—the most important thing that happens when you get a Corvair Corvair out on the road doesn't register on the dash. It registers on you.

You feel it in the steering—crisp and precise—as you double back on a curve. In the flat riveted-to-the-road stability of the new fully independent suspension. In the response of the rear engine (up to 180 hp available now in Corvair's Turbo-Charged version).

Drop down to your dealer's now—while the trading's extra good—and see for yourself.

HOW FAR IS AFAR OFF?

Scripture—St. Luke 17: 12-19; Romans 10: 8-10.

Have you ever come before God as a sinner? As I asked this question, knowing all have sinned, I thought of all the different ways most people today would be willing to accept Jesus. They would come if they could, be-want to think of anything so simple, much less think what it would be like to have such a sinner.

In the days of Jesus ministry on earth, a leper was healed by his cry out "unclean" if anyone came within a certain distance of him, or even Scripture says "The man that was leprosy, which need not say all." You hear that cry, which Jesus heard "Jesus, Master, have mercy on me." Then as they were about to do so Jesus approached, and immediately after they started to do so Jesus approached, they were cleansed. All ten lepers were cleansed in body; but I want us to remember that only to the one who gave God the glory and thanks for cleansing him, did Jesus say, "The faith hath made thee whole."

This Scripture is such a picture of sin—and of how to be made free of sin. Sin, like leprosy, is only seen very slightly sometimes as it begins to eat away at the soul, and then at the body, of men. But, all of us have sinned (Romans 8: 5; God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.) Then, in seeing our need to be cleansed and cured of sin. We must all come to Jesus, recognizing Him as God's Son, asking for mercy and forgiveness, and then He will hear us.

Sometimes we want to go to the Supreme Being—maybe for help in sorrow, in trouble, or in some problem where man alone can find no answer. But we want to tell God we have been anything but a sinner. We even say sometimes that we are better than someone else we know, or we say we have been a church member, or a good moral citizen. God knows man, for He made him, and my goodness plus my best neighbor's goodness all put together could not get me into God's presence. For both myself and any other person have sinned, and we have need of a Savior; of cleansing; and after we are cleansed from sin, we need to thank God, and give Him the glory of our praise and testimony. We need to get a filling of the Holy Spirit to enable us to go out to be of service to God. We need to tell others how to come to Jesus, for Jesus says "Come—whosoever will may come." That means Jesus loves us, even while we do not love Him, even while we are still "unclean". And it is only the uncleanness of sin that separates us, keeps us from coming close to Him.

If you truly believe in your heart that Jesus is the only begotten Son of God sent to save the lost sinners (which includes all of us), just start out to do (repent, turn to Him, confess Him before men), and you will be cleansed. Be obedient to what Jesus says; He does the cleansing. Find out from God's Word what Jesus says.

But you may say "I don't feel happy or joyful yet." Neither did the leper until he started to do what Jesus told him to do and was cleansed. When he turned to Jesus and began to thank God for saving him from this terrible thing, then he was filled with joy and thankfulness.

When we ask for mercy and confess to Him our sin asking forgiveness, God never turns away from any one of us because He loves you and me so much.

You will be saved from the terrible leprosy of sin into eternal joy and abundant life, if you will come to Jesus—as He says to come. Do it now, don't put it off until tomorrow, for there may be no tomorrow for you.

"As He (Jesus) entered into a certain village, there met Him ten men...."

Today, as you are reading have you "met" Jesus? What are you saying? Are you standing afar off in silence as Jesus is passing on by you, or will you say, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on me," and be obedient to do His loving commands?

Pioneer Natural Gas Earns 'Excellence' Award

An award of excellence was presented to Pioneer Natural Gas Company this week in Dallas by the National Security Traders Association. The award was in recognition of an outstanding stockholder information and education program conducted by the company in 1964.

Pioneer Natural was among a select group of 21 companies in the nation and three in Texas picked from some 3,000 whose stocks are traded in the over-the-counter market by the National Security Traders Association.

The award was made by C. Thomas May Jr., president of the Dallas Security Dealers Assn., at a luncheon in the Chaparral Club on Tuesday, March 23. Accepting the award for Pioneer Natural were C. L. Wall, president, E. F. Smith, vice president and treasurer, K. Bert Watson, attorney and secretary of the company, all of Amarillo, and W. E. Walker of Dallas, a director of the company.

"These annual awards were established to give deserved recognition to outstanding stockholder information programs by companies whose stocks are traded in the over-the-counter market," according to NSTA President Allen L. Oliver Jr. "We feel that these companies are rendering important and constructive public service by creating better informed stockholders and a wider knowledge of the investment process."
