Homecoming November 10-11

The 1978 Homecoming has been set for November 10 and 11th with the Sudan Hornets hosting Sundown Friday night, October 10. The supper, sponsored by the Sudan Band Parents, will be served at 7:00 p.m. Saturday in the School Cafetorium and will consist of Chicken Fried Steak, potatoes, green beans, salad, cobbler, tea and coffee. Classes to be honored this year are those ending in 7 & 8 such as 1927-28; 1937-38; 1947-48; 1957-58; 1967-68; and 1977-78. Everyone who has attended classes at Sudan Schools are invited—not just graduates. If you know of someone who has attended classes here in the past, and if you can, please invite them and let them know that they are welcome. This is for ex-students, graduates and ex-teachers. Unusual and different entertainment will be presented on Saturday following the meal. There will be a Homecoming Queen crowned before the games on Friday, November 10th. Candidates will be announced later. It has been announced that invitations are not being mailed to local people but everyone is urged to attend and make this one of the most exciting and largest Homecomings ever! It can be, if you come and and also if you invite everyone who ever attended school here in Sudan.

Pierce Takes First

Brad Pierce guessed all ten football games correctly this week giving him first place in the contest.

Five persons missed only one and once again the tie breaker score determines second and third places. Joe Bellar takes second with a tie breaker score of 45-0 and Harvey Willeby third, with a score of 45-7. The Actual score was Sudan 53 and Whiteface 0. Others having nine correct are Mary Devinney and Totsy Noles.

The majority of entrants guessed eight correct this week with nine persons giving the win to Lazbuddie over Sundown; also the majority guessed Cincinnati over Buffalo, which accounts for most of the losses.

Those having missed only two include Arlene Provence, Ronald Gatewood, Wayne Rogers Don Noles, Lisa Smith, Susan Baker, Nell Ingle Missy Fisher, Blake Lacewell, Jamie Ingle and Jerry Price.

Having missed only three include Randy Humphreys, Mickey Gilbert, Verna Ingle and Larry Vaughn. Jeff Gordon had six correct and Linda Locke, five.

Gilbert leads in the overall standings by just a hair. He has 55 correct; Kenneth Carr has 54 and Blake Lacewell's ten last week and his eight this week brings him to a very close third of 53. Bellar's nine for this week brings him to an exciting 52 with Arlene, Missy and Ronald running a close 51. Susan Baker, Wayne Rogers, Jeff Gordon and Nell Ingle each have 49; Mary Devinney, 48 Linda Locke and Larry Vaughn, 47 each, Brad Pierce and Randy Humphreys each 45. Dont drop out now!!!The game is getting exciting and we have only three more weeks.

Hotel Association

The Sudan Hotel Association will have a board meeting Monday night, October 30 at the First National Bank at 6:30 p.m.

A representative, Glenda Morgan of the Texas Historical Commission will be here to consult with the group and make recommendations as to the feasibility of the establishment of a museum for Sudan.

After the meeting the board will make recommendations to the association as the future use of the hotel; should we have a museum or a community meeting place.

The association members are invited to attend this board meeting, along with other interested parties so that the public's view can be considered. Your support is needed.

The hotel belongs to the City of Sudan and the findings of the association will be presented to the council at a later date.

Come to this meeting to help decide what to do with your property. Everyone is invited and urged to attend this meeting.

Music Festival At Sudan

The Sudan Lions Club and Sudan Fire Department will once again be sponsoring the Sudan Music Festival on Saturday, October 28 at 7:00 p.m. in the Sudan School Cafetorium. There is no admission fee.

The Sudan Baseball Association will have a concession booth open for your refreshments.

Little Miss Kelli Wiginton, a local favorite, will be presenting some new selections and no one will want to miss this. Also Sudan's own "Last of a Kind" will be among those featured as well as other groups from Sudan and surrounding areas.

If you or your group would like to be a part of this, call 227-2230 or 227-2024.

Jr. High Defeated

The Sudan Junior High team was defeated by Whiteface Jr. High Thursday by a score of 18-22.

It was a very well fought ball game by both teams. They each scored three times, however Whiteface made two extra points, while the Hornets made none.

Lester King threw 8 yards to Brad Franks for the first TD for Sudan. In the second half Matthew Wooley ran for 50 yards and the second touchdown. An eighty yard King to Wooley pass resulted in the final touchdown for Sudan.

The Junior High team will not be playing this week.

As of noon Tuesday, there were to be no games this week as Smyer forfeited their games.

Booster Club To Sponsor Spook House

The Sudan Booster Club will be sponsoring a Spook House, fishing pond and a ball throw at the Community Center on Monday, October 30 at 7:00 p.m.

At the meeting this past Monday the film of Sudan-Whiteface game was shown with the coaches making comments. The scouting report was also made.

Plans were finalized for the "Spook House".

J V To Play

It has been announced that the JV Hornets are tentatively set to play Portales' JV here Thursday, October 26 and the time is tentatively to be at 6:00 p.m.

Hornets Axe Antelopes

The Sudan Hornets jumped to a 21 point first quarter lead and were never slowed as they topped the Whiteface Antelopes by a 53-0 score.

The Hornets struck paydirt the first two times they touched the ball as halfback John Miles scampered in from the 20 and 25 yard line following fumble recoveries. Miles added another 6 pointer on a 35 yard run in the first quarter and successfully converted on all three extra points.

Again in the second quarter, it was Miles; this time on a 35 yard dash to give the Hornets a 27-0 lead.

The Hornets increased their lead before half as Timmy Williams scored from the three and Freddie Freeman tallied from the 24, to give Sudan a 39-0 lead at halftime. Williams added his second TD of the night from two yards out in the third quarter with Miles converting the extra point. Sudan capped the scoring with a 45 yard run by Joey Bellar and the extra point by Mike DeLoach. The Hornets had a massive ground attack, piling up 386 yards on the ground and adding another 31 through the air as QB Dan Messamore was successful on four of his nine tosses. Miles, Bellar and Freeman each rushed for over 100 yards.

Defensively, the Hornets, led by LB Ken Williams, allowed only 60 yards total offense by the Antelopes and only five first downs.

Players of the week are Joey Bellar, Odell Johnson and Ken Williams.

Fridays game with Smyer has been canceled. The Hornets next outing will be November third at Amherst.

Baseball Assoc Quilt

The Sudan Baseball Association is still selling chances to win a quilt which will be given away at the October Music Festival Saturday, October 28 at the School Cafetorium. Chances are a dollar each and you do not have to be present to win.

The quilt will be on display at Curry Furniture. Proceeds will go to Sudan Baseball Association.

Anyone wishing to purchase a ticket, contact Geneva Glascock or Mary Ann Gordon.

State Teachers Association

About 4,000 school personnel are expected for the eleventh annual convention of District XVII, Texas State Teachers Association, to be held in Lubbock October 27. Sudan will be dismissing classes Friday so that the local faculty may attend this convention.

Dr. James "Doc" Blakely, a humorist and inspirational speaker from Wharton, will address the morning session that gets underway at 9:45 a.m. in the Lubbock Civic Center. All members of the teaching profession are welcome to attend the meeting whether or not they are members.

Hance Charges Bush Trying To "Buy" Election

Democrat Kent Hance levelled a barrage of charges at his Republican opponent in the November 7 race for U.S. Congress, 19th District, during a face-to-face confrontation here recently.

Sitting only inches away from George Bush during a joint appearance before the Greater Lubbock Press Club, Hance claimed:

—That Bush was "trying to buy the election";
—That he was deceiving voters in television advertising;

—And, that he was not making it clear which George Bush is running for office.

Hance's blast on the campaign expenses followed a report published in The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal indicating that Bush is running a well-financed campaign backed by a list of supporters resembling a national "Who's Who" roster.

Noting that most of the contributions came from out of the district, Hance said, "There's no doubt...it would seem he's trying to buy the election."

Campaign contribution and expense statements filed by both candidates were used to make comparisons between the two candidates.

During the period from July 1 to September 30, the reports indicated that Bush raised approximately $207,650 while spending $180,000. Hance, on the other hand, raised $74,822 and spent $36,100.

Bush's thick report listed 2,060 contributors, including such notables as Mrs. Douglas McArthur, $100; former CBS president, Frank Shakespeare, $50; former U.S. ambassador to England, Anne Armstrong, $100; former Secretary of Defense, Donald Rumsfeld, $100; baseball commissioner, Bowie Kuhn, $250; and Peter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, $250. Many oil interests also were listed.

Hance particularly blasted Bush for compiling such a bloc of support from out of the district. He said it now "is an issue and I think the people of the district need to be made aware of it."

Hance also claimed that Bush's "Television ads have been somewhat misleading in that they portray George as having lived in West Texas forever.

"He has lived here part of his life but also he has lived in other parts of the country and I think that's definitely an issue," the native West Texan added.

The Texas senator also charged that "There's somewhat of a tendency in George's campaign to ride the coattails, I think, of his father (George), because you do not see a distinction in the ads between George Bush and George Bush, although I realize it's not a junior and senior situation."

Bush held fund-raisers in Washington, D.C., Houston, Dallas, and Midland and his father, a former CIA director and Republican National Committee chairman, attended all of them. The senior Bush also is being mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1980.

Bush claimed that most of the contributors were "friends of mine and friends of the family, as well as a lot of people who are concerned about the future of the country."

He also noted that his television advertising was "intendant upon letting people know I was raised in West Texas....I'm not trying to hide my educational background, but I'm bringing the facts out," by mentioning his degrees from Harvard and Yale.

Bush, a New Haven, Conn., native who attended elementary and junior high schools in Midland before moving to Houston with his family, returned to Midland four years ago to start an oil producing business.

Of the 299 contributors who donated more than $100 to the Bush campaign, 192, or 64 percent, live outside the 19th District. Midland residents account for 32 percent, while only 4 percent of the larger donations came from the rest of the district, including Lubbock. The 299 large donations accounted for $130,000 of the overall Bush total.

Hance, meanwhile, collected 11 out-of-district contributions totaling only $4,650. Most of Hance's support came from the Lubbock area.

Bush listed 55 persons who gave $1,000 or more and Hance had only six.

Meet Three People

There's these three really nice guys. They are pleasant enough to meet, easy to talk with, and seem good as gold. They almost always smile, but they are "deadly" Their specialty is destroying churches.

The first one's name is "USTA." Usta is the guy who only a few years ago was in there supporting the work. He'll tell you how he usta go to church, usta have a family altar. Usta is deader than a door nail, and the church can do nothing on what Usta offers.

Then there's "GONNA." He's loaded with good intentions. Just as soon as things slack up a little bit, he's gonna bring the good wife and get into the kind of spiritual life he wants for himself and his family. But, last Sunday was too hot, and next Sunday he's gonna be out of town. "Just you, wait," he says with an intent look. Any day now he's gonna get things done. Gonna is a killer of men's lives and of Christ's witness in the world. He's the guy usually responsible for keeping the whole family home on Sunday night. He doesn't do anything today, but he's "gonna."

The third member of the treacherous trio doesn't fool anyone but himself. His name is "OUGHTA." He knows what he oughta be doing, but doesn't do it. He's usually a quitter. He starts good things, looks good for a few weeks or months, and then fades out. He's tricky. He gives you the impression that since he knows what he should be doing, it's the same as accomplished. But it isn't, and it won't be either. Oughta is the saddest and most pathetic of the three. He's Mr. Might-Have-Been, but never is. The church where he knew he oughta help finally closed its door and went out of business.

Be on the lookout for these three killers. They have been found guilty of the spiritual destruction of millions and are known to be at large today. If you should see one of them, like in the mirror, turn him to the Father...at once.

Bible Says

BY ART LYNCH

"Great peace have they that love thy law" Psalm 119:165

Peace is something every one in Sudan wants. Peace is something that all the world wants! Millions of books are written in the pursuit of this elusive peace. People seek it in yoga, from gurus, from money, heathen philosophers, and often from personal power.

God did not intend for man to live in turmoil. In fact God intended for man to have "peace that passes understanding." In the above Psalm, God gives the answer to the question: "Why is peace so hard to come by?" That answer is that men do not love God's law.

Peace does not come from merely keeping commandments and refraining from doing something we know is wrong. Peace comes from loving and enjoying commandment keeping and doing what is right. A man who refrains from stealing but does not enjoy being honest, may be observing the law, but he does not do it from a loving heart.

Therein is no peace. In fact therein is turmoil! Therein is conflict. Conflict is not compatible with peace. The two cannot live together.

The person who loves God will love God's law and enjoy keeping God's law because he knows that this will make him more like God. That person is at peace! He is at peace in the most important place to be at peace, in his mind!

No one who hates God's law will inherit eternal life. God is love and all his laws are objects of love to bring us closer to Him. If you and I would know peace, let us first learn to love His law.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT CANDY

Milk products are the second major ingredient of candy after sugar. They provide the body with protein, fat, mineral salts and lactose. Milk concentrates are used most often, but whole milk and dry whole milk are also used in candy manufacture.

You cannot get along without carbohydrates because they are the basic fuel of the human body. A diet devoid of carbohydrates is like a starvation diet. The body loses sodium, and, unable to prevent the breakdown of body protein, it loses energy and becomes very fatigued.

Statistics show that the average American is not eating "too much" candy, or even "too much" sugar. Americans consume about 16.9 percent of their average yearly caloric intake in sugar. This is within the accepted Recommended Dietary Allowances set by the Food and Nutrition Board of the

Wage And Price Controls

Threatened implementation of Wage and Price Controls by the White House met strong opposition from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce during the regional chamber's mid-year meeting held recently in El Paso.

Joe Kloesel, chairman of the WTCC National Affairs Committee and President of Drilco Division of Smith International of Midland, stated that it was the opinion of the WTCC that use of Wage and Price Controls currently under consideration by President Carter was not the key to the nation's inflation problem and in fact could contribute to future increases.

Kloesel reiterated the position of the WTCC calling for a reduction in Federal spending, a turn-around in the growth of big government and reform of non-productive and costly bureaucratic regulations as being the starting points in effort to bring inflation under control.

In other action, the WTCC announced that an educational effort through the State Affairs Committee, in cooperation with the Texas State chamber of Commerce, was in progress to provide WTCC members with information on the Constitutional Amendments to go before Texas voters November 7.

Imaginary Playmates

Imaginary playmates help children cope with reality they find too frightening to deal with, says Jenny Reinhardt, a family life education specialist.

An imaginary friend that is always available to listen, to talk with and to understand, can provide reassurance, support and time to work through an upsetting situation, she explains.

Miss Reinhardt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Though researchers vary in their views, those who support the belief that imaginary playmates provide a tool for coping indicate that children with imaginary playmates display the following traits:

- they are less aggressive, more cooperative, smile more, are bored less often, and

- watch less television,
- display positive personality characteristics,
- distinguish between their fantasy world and the real world,
- use the imaginary playmates to fill up "empty space," and
- prepare for life's real problems by rehearsing with their imaginary playmates.

For example, children who have mastered their fear of animals in their play can master their fear of real animals.

As long as children with imaginary friends are able to establish meaningful relationships with people and prefer people to their imaginary friends, there is no cause for concern, the specialist continues.

The child who uses imaginary friends to help solve problems is a child who works on his own mental health.

Genealogy Course

Those who are curious about their ancestry and who are interested in learning methods of tracing family histories may enroll in a Basic Genealogy Course to begin at South Plains College at Lubbock on October 24. Cost of the course, which will meet Tuesday nights for 6 weeks, is $25.00.

Participants will learn where to go to do research, basic research methods, and how to write family histories.

Classes will be taught at the 1302 Main Street Campus. Persons may register at the school or by phone at 747-8111.

Mary Martha S S Class

Mary Markham was hostess to the Mary Martha Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church on Thursday, October 19.

All members were present to enjoy the close fellowship always present in their socials and to reminisce about the girlhood days, the roman cing days, and the days of pioneering in the Sudan area.

This covered many years of history since these girls' ages range from seventy two to eighty seven years.

Many interesting stories were told of happy times and sad, good times and bad, and humorous ones such as Birdie Shuttlesworth's most embarrassing moment when she pinched an elderly gentleman during church one Sunday morning, for squirming, thinking it was her son Martin, who was supposed to be sitting by her but who had moved to a safer distance.

The Halloween theme was used in serving the refreshments of finger sandwiches, sugar cookies and punch.

The plates were made colorful with spooky napkins and corn candy.

Those attending were Annie Chester, Birdie Shuttlesworth, Louella Kendrick, Viola Core, Pearl Wright, Mae Baker, Daisy Ford, Lena Waller, Esther Meeks, and hostess Mary Markham.

Mrs. Taack Rites Held

Services for Elsie Eugenia Taack, 88, were conducted Thursday afternoon at Missionary Baptist Church - Morton with Rev. W.L. West, pastor, officiating.

Graveside services were conducted that afternoon at the Sudan Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home of Morton.

Mrs. Taack died at 3 p.m. Tuesday, October 17 in the Muleshoe hospital following a long illness.

She was born in Cisco and was a 45 year member of Missionary Baptist Church.

She is survived by her son Bill New of Sudan; two stepdaughters, Faye Cape of Littlefield and Nell Mangus of Arizona, a stepson, Rou Taack of Hart; 10 grandchildren, six great grandchildren and a great great grandchild.

"Great Day In The Morning"

Churches throughout the Southern Baptist Convention will observe "Great Day In The Morning", Sunday, October 29 with emphasis on high attendance. The Sudan church has set a goal of 215 for Sunday School. There is a class for everyone so dont forget-Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

A Mother was pouring root beer from one of those big six-glass one-calorie bottles. Carefully watching her every move was one of her small sons, and when the last drop had been poured into the sixth glass, he looked up at her with a puzzled expression and mused, "I wonder who got the calorie?"

Texas Dissatisfied With Criminal Justice System

The citizens of Texas want stronger measures to be taken in dealing with criminals, according to Dr. Raymond Teske, Jr., a social scientist at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Teske's comments were prompted by responses to a recent questionnaire mailed to 1,000 Texas residents. One of the questions was "If a person is out of jail for a serious (felony) offense and that person is arrested for another serious offense, should he be allowed to bond out of jail for the second offense?"

An almost unanimous 96 percent of the 642 persons who responded to the survey said "No." Respondents were also asked to evaluate the overall court system. The question asked was: "In general, when dealing with convicted criminals, do you feel the courts are: (a) doing a good job; (b) too easy; or (c) too harsh."

Three-fourths (75 percent) said that the courts are too easy; only 18 percent said that the courts are doing a good job, and 2 percent said that the courts are too harsh.

Another question concerned treatment of victims and defendants. "Do you feel that most victims of crimes are treated fairly by the criminal justice system?"

respondents were asked. Almost two-thirds (62 percent) replied "no" and one-third (36 percent)

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

Some people say...

So many Americans are busily paying homage to sports heroes and entertainment - world celebrities, that only a very few realize - or care - that many of our schools are turning out graduates unable to read, write, or spell.

The above viewpoint does not necessarily represent the opinion of this newspaper or its staff. It does represent one side of a current topic in American conversation. The editor invites your comments.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor

I have been a resident of Lamb County since 1942. I have something to say to the people of this county.

My daughter Ann Brantley, passed away August 28, 1978 leaving five children; four of whom are grown and married. The youngest Misty 7 1/2 years old.

Misty had lived with me most of her life and all the time for the past 4 1/2 years while her mother worked.

Three of the older children took a copy of my daughters will to County Judge Don Joyner the next day after my daughter was buried. Judge Joyner looked it over said it was no good and he gave them temporary custody of Misty without me, my attorney or the other granddaughters knowing anything about it. He didn't even bother to find out who the child was staying with or any of the details.

When I asked him about it, his only reply was "it wasn't necessary for anyone else to be there" but I am a just judge. I'm asking you is this justice?

Misty had never been away from me or her mother. She was already enrolled in school here and I had shopped for her for the school term.

Misty is ill and in need of serious surgery. It is too late to help me or my Misty, but it could save some one else the deep grief and emotional upset we have. This same thing could happen to any of you. I say we need a new County Judge.

I ask you again, is this Justice?

Thank you Mrs. L.L. Harlan

George Nickelson Rites Held

Services for George Marion Nickelson, 71, of Littlefield were conducted Friday in First Presbyterian Church with Rev. John Riches, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Nickelson died at 3:48 p.m. Wednesday, October 18 in his home. Justice of the Peace Stanley Diss rules the death to natural causes.

Nickelson was born in Blue Mound, Kansas and had lived in Littlefield 33 years. The retired farmer was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth, four daughters, Margaret Chisholm of Sunray and formerly of Sudan, Marian Pass, Lubbock, Ruth Webb, of Albuquerque, N.M. and Carol Carter of Burk Burnett, a son, George of Whitharral, a brother, 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

His phone is ringing. Unfortunately it's ringing in the living room.

If he had an extension in his work-room, he wouldn't have to work so hard to get to it.

General Telephone offers extensions in a wide range of styles and colors. And each and every phone is backed by all our years of experience.

Extension phones are a convenience you deserve and they're not expensive. Just a few dollars per month and think of all the legwork they'll save you.

Keep up an automobile's appearance, it usually pays off in the long-run.

A gleaming, shiny car looks like it's worth more trade-in than a dirty, uncared for car of the same make, model and year, says Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Most people assume that care of the car's appearance indicates care for other aspects as well, she explains.

A TAXPAYER'S BILL OF RIGHTS IS PAST DUE

Bill Clements believes we still have a chance to preserve our future by establishing constitutional protection against excessive taxation and runaway government spending.

Bill Clements believes the people of Texas should have the power necessary to ratify or reject tax policies made by legislators.

To establish this power (of the people), Bill Clements will introduce an amendment to the Texas Constitution that would give the people of Texas this right.

Bill Clements' "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights" would:

- Give Texans the right of initiative and referendum, a phrase that means we, the people, have a right to vote on the taxes to be levied on us.
- Place a ban on corporate or personal income tax in Texas.
- Require a two-thirds record vote of both houses of the legislature to pass a tax bill.
- Allow local taxpayers to call an election to ratify or reject a tax increase created by a local governmental unit.

Bill Clements believes in Texas and the people of Texas.

Bill Clements thinks that elected officials must work for the people and represent them properly.

As governor of Texas, Bill Clements will work for and with the people of Texas.

people and provide the means to insure that principle endures.

Kent Hance.

When Kent Hance began work in the Texas Senate, he did not sit on the sidelines like most freshman Senators. He sponsored Legislation to remove a State Supreme Court Judge from office following his indictment for perjury. He led the fight in the Senate trial to impeach a District Judge from Duval County for misconduct in office. This was the first such trial in more than 30 years, and was the first major effort to clean up corruption in Duval County. He sponsored measures to remove the Senate's top employee for questionable conduct.

Wherever Kent Hance found waste in government, he acted. He sponsored and passed into law "sunset legislation" that abolishes state agencies on a periodic basis unless they are re-established by the Legislature. This helps to keep agencies from getting out of hand, and to eliminate those that are no longer needed. He made welfare fraud or food stamp fraud a felony in Texas.

In his four-year term, Kent Hance never missed a day in the Senate's five sessions, regular and special. In four of those five sessions he didn't miss a vote. In the fifth, he had a 98% voting record.

In Congress, Kent Hance will continue this kind of representation where it is needed most... at the Federal level. Kent Hance has proved that when he sees evidence of corruption, waste or inefficiency in government he does not look the other way... HE ACTS. West Texas needs Kent Hance in Congress.

Let's make sure the man we send to Congress is the man with qualifications we can measure—and count on...!

Authorized by the Kent Hance for Congress Committee, Mike Higgins, Treasurer.

Close Encounters

To die in vain is a real tragedy. Unfortunately, needless loss of life is too often the case at railroad grade crossing accidents. Texas has more than 14,000 grade crossings in the state, the largest number in the nation. Last year alone the Lone Star State recorded 1,165 crossing accidents which contributed to 63 deaths and 511 injuries. Governor Briscoe has designated October 22-28 as Texas Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Week to promote greater awareness of the hazards at rail-highway crossings. Even though the week is almost over, care should be taken every day of every week. It's no contest when a one-and-a-half-ton auto collides with a 200 ton locomotive, but then no one "wins" in a grade crossing accident.

Numerous studies have shown that the one underlying element that could have prevented most crossing accidents is the DRIVER of the motor vehicle; the engineer has very little control over stopping the train if a motorist wants to race him to the crossing. A 100-car freight train traveling only 30 m.p.h. is an awesome force. Even in the best of circumstances, it will take more than 300 yards to halt the train.

Last year the Texas railroads, in conjunction with the Texas Safety Association and other state agencies, initiated an on-going educational program called OPERATION LIFESAVER. The major thrust of this statewide program is aimed at educating the motoring public to the inherent dangers at crossings by utilizing slide and film presentations.

The OPERATION LIFESAVER campaign operates on the premise that safe drivers have fewer accidents, and the safest drivers are those who know and understand all traffic conditions. The program strives to educate as many drivers as possible about wise grade crossing procedures.

Interested persons may arrange to have OPERATION LIFESAVER shown to civic organizations and schools in the Panhandle region by contacting Santa Fe Railway's public relations department, 900 Polk St. Amarillo, Tex. 79171, 806-376-5131, ext. 357.

Our Government

Our Government gives, then it takes it away. While Americans look on with great dismay, as it makes big promises, which aren't true. Our Government talks a lot but that's not new.

They're always ready to take the poor man's pay. But when election comes, they have sweet things to say. And tells us to save, but they go here and there. Going helter, skelter, as they fly through the air.

They fill their pockets as their wages, they raise. As they take from the poor, who looks on in a daze. But they shell out the money to those overseas. Who think we're so easy, as they laugh up their sleeves.

Our Government is in deep debt, head over heels. While we're helping our foes pull off their dirty deals. And thousands of Americans are out of work. They're conscientious and their duty, they'll not shirk.

Think of America! in the world it's the best. Nation, we can think of, North, South, East and West. With all its faults, we try to help those in need. A lot of us trust in God, as we do good deeds.

I think to sum it all up, our Nation is best. We're always ready to aid those who are oppressed. And when we look at our flag, it fills us with pride. May we always love God, and our freedom abide.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--During the last several years, the number of cases filed, disposed, and pending in the courts of civil appeals has increased sharply, thus creating work load problems for some of the courts.

An attempt to deal with this problem has resulted in a proposed amendment to the Texas Constitution that would authorize the legislature to increase the number of associate justices on a court of civil appeals and permit a court of civil appeals to sit in sections.

Article V, Section 6 of the Texas Constitution authorizes the legislature to divide the state into districts that population and business require and to establish in each district a court of civil appeals, consisting of a chief justice and two associate justices, for the appeal of cases from the trial courts in that district.

In 1963, there were a total of thirteen courts. In 1967, because the work load of the First Court of Civil Appeals in Houston had become too great for the three judges, the legislature created an additional Fourteenth District with the same geographical area as the First Court of Civil Appeals.

Currently, there is no provision for the assignment of judges from one court of civil appeals to another, but the Supreme Court is directed by statute to equalize dockets by transferring cases from those courts of civil appeals with too many cases to those with too few. During 1977, 431 cases were transferred, 157 of which were transferred from the Dallas Court.

The 65th session of the Texas Legislature enacted legislation relating to the membership of the courts of civil appeals that will take effect if Texas voters approve Amendment No. 6 on November 7. If the amendment is adopted, the courts of civil appeals for the First, Fourteenth and Fifth Districts immediately will consist of a chief justice and five associate justices, instead of two associate justices and may sit in panels of not less than three justices.

The First and Fourteenth Courts of Civil Appeals sit in Houston, and the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals sits in Dallas. The same legislation provides that, beginning January 1, 1983, the Second Court of Civil Appeals, which sits in Fort Worth, will also consist of a chief justice and five associate justices and may sit in panels of not less than three justices.

Another provision of the statute would allow the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court to assign temporarily either active or retired justices to any court of civil appeals regardless of whether a vacancy exists in the court to which the justice is assigned.

In 1900, there were fewer than 8,000 automobiles in America and less than 10 miles of concrete pavement.

Kitchen Design

A kitchen design for the older adult needs four "basics," says a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Pay attention to storage areas, counters, the range and the table, advises Sue Young.

Mrs. Young is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Make these four areas easy-to-see and reach, and that will make storage, preparation and serving more convenient, she says.

It will also help insure safety, Mrs. Young adds.

STORAGE
Eliminate difficult-to-reach storage areas, including space over the range. Store supplies and equipment at the point of first use. Get rid of not-needed gadgets.

COUNTERS
Make sure there is counter space next to the range and the refrigerator. Have the counter built low enough for working in a sitting position. If that isn't possible, install pull-out boards.

RANGE
Use an electric range, if possible. They pose no threat of escaping gas from a "barely-on" burner, which an older adult might overlook.

Also have burner controls at the front or side of the range, if possible, to prevent reaching over a hot burner to make adjustments.

Place the dining table in the kitchen for convenience, if there is space. Then it can serve as work space, and the "worker" can be seated.

Also, place it by a window, if possible, since a pleasant view can enhance the appetite, especially for an older adult eating alone.

Allow enough room for easy movement around the table.

Wise Clothing

Practice wise clothing care methods to conserve energy and possibly cut utility costs.

The greatest savings can occur with reduced water temperatures for laundering, points out a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Heating water accounts for three percent of all U.S. energy usage, Becky Culp reports.

Reduce energy consumption in doing home laundry 50 percent by using warm water for washing and cold water for rinsing rather than using hot water temperatures.

In fact, between 1970 and 1976, studies show that the number of loads washed in warm water increased by 15 percent while the number washed in hot water decreased by the same amount with about 50 percent of households using warm temperatures.

However, the general rule still holds true — use hot water (130 degrees F., 70 degrees C.) for the most difficult cleaning jobs or for sanitation.

Also, use warm water (100-110 degrees F., 38-43 degrees C.) on fabrics with greasy, oily stains by first pretreating and/or presoaking soiled areas, the specialist recommends.

Since lower wash temperatures can lead to an increased bacteria count at the end of the wash cycle, use a disinfectant especially during flue or cold seasons or when infant clothing is part of the regular

When using cold water wash temperatures (60-80 degrees F., 16-26 degrees C.), dissolve powdered detergents before use or use a liquid detergent or one formulated for cold water washes, she suggests.

Also, more detergent may be needed for effective cleaning.

Hot water temperatures may also result in harmful effects on garments, particularly unnecessary fading and shrinkage, Mrs. Culp adds.
