How It Looks From Here

By RAY FREEDMAN

Every year, and indeed all year, our local merchants are called upon to donate, contribute, support and participate. These merchants are expected to participate in any and all fund raising programs generated by the schools, churches, and local organizations.

When the FFA and 4-H need buyers for their project animals in the annual stock show, it is business who puts up the major share of the over $40,000 that was contributed.

When new band instruments and uniforms are required, local merchants do more than their share in support of these programs.

Each and every small town business learns very quickly, that to stay in business, they must have a tremendous feeling of community responsibility. This community responsibility is not simply a project of the businessman. We are all involved as citizens of the community. We need to show these merchants and businessmen that we have not forgotten all they have done for us. When we as citizens have needed a helping hand, we have always been

Lions Chili Supper

The Sudan Lions Club is sponsoring a Chili Supper December 16 at the Community Center from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 for children under 12 and $2.50 for all others.

The club is selling tickets for $1.00 on the door prize of a 870 Remington Shotgun. Drawing for this will be that evening. You need not be present to win.

All proceeds will go to the Lions Club to further their projects that concern those who need help in our community.

The Lions Club has also set up an Ambulance Fund at the First National Bank and are selling the tickets for the gun. These proceeds will go directly to the Ambulance fund for additional equipment that must be purchased for the ambulance that the County is buying.

A $50.00 Plaque will be hanging in the City Hall and those who donate as much as $50.00 to this fund will have their names engraved on the plaque. Purchase of the tickets for the gun is not counted in the $50.00 donation.

Date Changed

The Sudan Community Improvement Association has set December 15 for a "Christmas Fantasy" with several activities planned for December 15. The date had been set and previously published as December 14th but due to the Annual Christmas Band Concert, the date has been changed to Friday, December 15.

There will be a Lighting Contest for homes. Anyone wishing to enter this, should contact Billye Doty.

A "Tasting Party" will be held at the Community Center at 6:30 p.m. that same day with a lot of new and delicious recipes on hand for your tasting.

A Bazaar will be held at the same time, also in the Community Center and if you have any Arts or Crafts that you would like to sell, you should contact Mary Olds for a space.

Santa Claus will be making an official visit at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center on December 15th.

There will be community singing at the Hotel to top off a festive December 15th so make your plans now to attend.

Tickets are $1.00 per person and may be purchased from any member of the Association.

Help Wanted

Members of the Sudan FFA Alumni Association are looking for new members. In the past several months, interest has been growing for the development of an organization for Farmers, Ranchers, Businessmen, Parents and interested people in helping our FFA and 4-H Young People.

In the past, it may have been called Young Farmers Alumni Association or Ag Boosters or whatever. But we need to get going now!

In the month of January, a Sudan Stock Show needs to be held. If you can and will work, please come to the meeting Tuesday, December 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the Sudan Vo-Ag Building.

Read A Thon

In the random drawing Charles Kessler and Melissa Nix received "Mystery Sleuth"; Johnny Ruiz and Teresa Williams and Raymond Espinoza received MS T-Shirts and Brenda Testerman received a certificate for a free hamburger and coke from the B&M Dairy Bee.

Each participant received a certificate stating they had participated in the MS Read-A-Thon.

This Read-A-Thon was sponsored by the WOW and they wish to thank the following merchants for donating money for prizes to award the students who participated: Lance Insurance, Central Compress, Sudan Ag Supply, First National Bank, B&M Dairy Bee and Nix Department Store.

They also want to thank all the students who participated and collected their money after reading the books and to all the people who pledged money and contributed to this worthy cause.

Open House

In connection with the Christmas season and to show their appreciation, the owners of the Main Place in Sudan will be having an Open House Saturday, December 9th. Along with the open house, special door prizes of two turkeys, a Christmas arrangement and a crystal salad bowl will be given away. Also a purchase entitles you to register for other gifts.

This Open House begins at 9:00 Saturday morning and will last all day with the drawing for door prizes to be at 4:30 p.m. Your presence at the drawing is not necessary to win.

Mike and Patsy Fisher invite you to come by and visit with them and while there, take advantage of the "25 percent Off" bargains plus several unadvertised specials.

Refreshments will be served.

Arts & Crafts Needed

If you have any Arts or Crafts of any kind that you would like to sell, please contact Mary Olds or any member of the Sudan Community Improvement Association for a space in which to sell these during the "Christmas Fantasy". These will be sold during the "tasting Party" to be held at the Community Center on December 15th at 6:30 p.m.

The Association needs your support.

Bazaar Underway

The Church of God of Prophecy is holding their annual Christmas Bazaar that will continue through Saturday, December 9 from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. at 201 Wilson.

They have many items from which to choose including toys, windmills, baked goods, balance men, wood cocks, and arts and crafts.

If you are unable to go by during the set hours, you may call Mrs. Buford Walser or Mrs. Kenneth Richards and they will be happy to help you.

Letters to Santa will be printed

With Christmas, Santa Claus, brightly wrapped packages, and blazing fireplaces just around the corner, dreams fill a child's mind of all those special things he or she hopes to find under the tree.

This year, as in years past, the Sudan Beacon News will again have our special Christmas Edition. Part of what makes up the paper are those letters to Santa Claus in the North Pole. We would like to remind all the children in the area to send their letters to Santa in care of The Sudan Beacon News, Box 197, Sudan, Texas and we will make sure these letters arrive on time so that Santa might know what their Christmas wishes are.

So be sure and bring or mail your letters to the Sudan Beacon News office before December 15, and may you have a Merry 1978 Christmas.

Chatwell Rites Held Young Homemakers

Services for James W. Chatwell, 71, of Sudan were at 2 p.m. Thursday in First Baptist Church with the Rev. Wayne Perry, chaplain of Highland Hospital at Lubbock, officiating.

Never leave a baby or small child alone in a bathtub or even in the bathroom, warns Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Babies can easily be scalded if they turn on hot water or drown in very small amounts of water in the tub, the specialist explains.

The WMU women are gathering items to be sent to the Buckner Children's Home in Lubbock for Christmas. Items that have been requested by those there at the home are for girls; slips, (various sizes) panty hose, pajamas or bras (34-36B) and for boys: underwear, socks, and pajamas.

Of course, baked goods such as cakes, cookies, candies and pies are more than welcomed for the children's Christmas joy.

If you are able to donate any of these items to be sent, please contact Mrs. Floy Arnold who is the Mission Action Chairman or call her at 227-2460.

These items will be delivered to the home on Friday, December 15, so they need to be taken to the church or to Mrs. Arnold by December 14.

"Hotel Employees Trained To Save Lives"

Quietly, a company which operates 50 hotels in 14 countries around the world has been training its employees in the most current techniques of "immediate action" life-saving.

They've completed courses in various methods of dislodging blockages of the air passage and in the Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) procedure of reviving an arrested heart. In addition, employees receive regular refresher courses conducted by Fire Departments and Red Cross units in the cities where Western International Hotels are located.

"Responsibility for success of the program falls on the management of each hotel," said C.R. Lindquist, Executive Vice President of Western International. "There is no governmental agency that requires that a hotel guest be provided anything other than reasonable care and attention. In fact, there are no regulations that require any of the types of training we provide. But we feel that when a person is a guest at one of our hotels he or she should be in the best hands possible. Our employees should be ready to react in any emergency situation."

Several cases have been reported where Western International hotels guests have had such emergencies and have been saved by quick action on the part of the hotel's staff.

Cecil Ravenswood, general manager of the Arizona Biltmore hotel in Phoenix, was awarded the Western International Hotels President's Award of Merit for assisting a guest in his hotel's main restaurant. He had been dining at an adjoining table when he noticed a woman who appeared to be choking. When he reached her, she had lost consciousness.

He responded immediately by applying the maneuver he had been taught to dislodge food stuck in the throat. The woman quickly regained consciousness. Although the room was crowded at the time, the rescue was handled so deftly that most guests were unaware of what had happened.

Employees of Western International Hotels are being trained in the most current techniques of "immediate action" life-saving. Here, Roy Moody of the Seattle Fire Department instructs Ken Mead, Nancy Meyers and Malcolm Walter of the Washington Plaza hotel in the Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) procedure of reviving an arrested heart.

Virtually the same circumstances occurred in a restaurant at the Washington Plaza in Seattle where a waiter's quick action dislodged the food stuck in a male guest's throat resulting in dramatic improvement. The man even asked if he could finish his meal but was requested to go to the hospital for a brief check. He agreed. The checkup showed he was okay and he was quickly released.

At the Winnipeg Inn in Manitoba, Canada, a hotel guest was revived from heart failure by a hotel employee using CPR. The technique is universally accepted for use by people not trained as medical personnel. It does require some professional training by Red Cross or Fire Department instructors.

The training isn't always applicable, but it does create a real sense of awareness on the part of employees. At the Peachtree Plaza, Janet Bell, a room attendant, passed a guest room and heard sounds inside like restricted breathing and what appeared to be painful outcries. The hotel assistant manager was immediately summoned and opened the door to the room with a passkey. A young woman was found suffering from what the Fire Department aid crew eventually diagnosed as a drug overdose. But quick action and a trip to the hospital resulted in her complete recovery. For her part in the saving of a guest's life, Janet Bell received the first President's Award of Merit.

Western International periodically conducts "fire drills" among its employees. On an unannounced schedule, each hotel tests its emergency action procedures and reports the findings to corporate headquarters in Seattle. "Most of our hotels have emergency action teams which review lifesaving and disaster procedures on an ongoing basis. This team-review process makes the hotel environment safer than in many people's own homes. Our main objective is to be ready for any difficulty and hope that it never occurs," said Lindquist.

Stuttering

Stuttering might seem like a minor health problem—but not to the afflicted. The ridicule and social discrimination that stutterers are often subjected to can foster shyness, a poor self-image, and other psychological problems. Talking on the phone or ordering a meal in a restaurant can be a nightmarish ordeal for more than two million people in the United States who stutter.

When children first learn to talk, their speech is nonfluent; they hesitate, stumble over words, stop and start over. By age 4 or 5 most children achieve fluency. Half the children who stutter at age 8 can be cured before reaching adulthood.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
I attended an A.A.M. meeting at Shallowater on November 30th. We discussed what happened at the late Farm Bureau meeting this week. We were disappointed that our Farm Bureau supported the Noland Bill which had been dead since April 12, 1978. We had asked for support of the Noland Bill since the Dole bill was killed.

We are asking that the Department of U.S.D.A. enforce the 90 percent of parity that is written into the 1977 Farm Act. We believe the group who wrote the 1977 Farm Act (before the AAM ever began) knew we would have to have 90 percent of parity to stay in business, or this clause would not have been in it.

We had a meeting at the Willie Room November 30 at 7 a.m. coffee and donuts were served to 25 farmers. We need some farmers to go to A&M Conference on December 3, 4, and 5th. The purpose of this Summit meeting is to discuss how the U.S.A. can live with 250 thousand farmers, and what to do with the 2 million who will be eliminated. Our Secretary of Agriculture will be speaking at this meeting.

At our meeting we also discussed the parity Tractor Trade to D.C. in January. We are still in need of financial help. We are planning 5 tractors from this office. We need some more pickups, camp trailers, and men or women to help drive.

If you want to help call Jerry Cox, Bula; Don Pringle, Spade; Duane Gray, Fieldton; Tommy Wheatley, Earth; telephone 965-2448 or Oscar Tomlinson, Littlefield.

We have some more of Gerald McCathern's books, from the White House to the Hoosegow, for sale.

The A.A.M. are now selling tickets on an all cotton western suit donated by Ware's Department Store.

We need the luggage sale items brought to 601 Delano Ave. before December 15th. It will help if you price your items before bringing them. If you need help contact Mrs. Jerry Cox, Bula; Mary Beth Willey or Oscar Tomlinson. With your help this will be a successful project.

Yours truly
Oscar Tomlinson & The AAM

County Youth Wins Top Honor

Donna Smith of Littlefield was a first-place winner in the District 4-H Food Show Saturday, December 2 at Lubbock.

Miss Smith, 10, is a student at Littlefield Elementary School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Smith and she has been a member of the Littlefield 4-H Club for 1 1/2 years.

Donna won top place in the Snacks and Beverages Class of the Junior Division with "Apple Crunch" as her entry.

Others from Lamb County who placed at the district level were:

DKG Meeting

Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday December 2, for their Christmas party. It was held in the fellowship hall of the Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Mary Smith read a Christmas poem and an initiation of new members was held.

Those from Sudan who attended were Mary Tollett, Pam Wiseman, Georgeann Rasco, Loretta Reid, Maxine Nichols, Mary Smith and Dianne Humphreys who was the new member initiated.

Knowing I'll never pass this way again,
Oh, Lord, help me not to walk this way in vain.
Let footprints behind me remind them of You,
Let others find Thee in all that I do.
Turn thoughts to Jesus when hearing my name,
Oh, Lord, help me not to walk this way in vain.

Beautiful Texas

Citizens of Sudan and the surrounding area are invited to attend an informal meeting and training program conducted by leaders of the Beautify Texas Council (BTC).

The meeting begins at 1:00 p.m. on Tuesday, December 12, at the Garden and Arts Center, 4215 University in Lubbock. Coordinator of the meeting is Latrelle Joy, District Governor of the Beautify Texas Council for the Lubbock area.

For more information on the December 12 area meeting in Lubbock or for future activities and programs of the Beautify Texas Council, citizens are urged to contact BTC District Governor Latrelle Joy, 3321 55th St. Lubbock or telephone the Beautify Texas Council via the toll free Watts line: 1-800-252-9642.

Clothing Drive

The annual drive to provide the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys' Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began recently.

Providing new clothing for the boys through the Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for friends of the boys who contribute $45.00 for this purpose. Special discounts by Amarillo merchants and differences in prices of clothing for younger and older boys make the average cost of $45.00 possible. The suits replace those that have been worn out or outgrown and, in many cases, they are the first new suits some boys have ever owned.

The boys get to select their own clothing in Amarillo stores, and the suits will be worn by graduating seniors next spring. Virgil Patterson, Ranch President, said, "A new suit is the best Christmas gift a boy can receive because it is a year-round reminder of those who really care."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch Office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79174, or taken to the offices at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo.

FACTS & FIGURES

According to the United States Bureau of Economic Analysis, Americans spend about $60 billion on clothing every year. Back in the 1950's, we spent less than a third of that.

According to industry economists, a new cotton dust standard would require the cotton industry to purchase up to $2.6 billion in new equipment and would drive up consumer apparel and home furnishings prices. Industry spokesmen say the unneeded regulations are an example of regulatory overkill.

The Bible Says--

BY ART LYNCH

"But David encouraged himself in the Lord his God." 1 Samuel 30:6

How many reading this today need encouragement? (A better question might be, "Who doesn't need encouragement?") Recently our community has been sorrowed and distressed at the passing of friends and loved ones. Sometimes it is hard to find an encouraging word.

How can we encourage and strengthen ourselves and others? I believe the first step is trusting God. The "great" men of the Bible had a simple and yet devoted trust in God that puts you and me to shame. Can you imagine what Joshua thought when God told him how he was to fight the city of Jericho? Joshua was a military general of the highest rank. He was a battle hardened soldier. He knew the strategy needed and the manpower needed to wage a winning battle against this fortified city. And yet in simple obedient faith he marched around Jericho and watched God work.

As the Hebrew writer said: "And what shall I more say? For the time will fail me if I tell of Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah: of David and Samuel and the Prophets:..." Hebrews 11:32.

One thing all these men had in common, a simple, trusting and deeply abiding faith in an almighty God. God loves an obedient person. David was an obedient person. I did not say a perfect person, just an obedient person. When we obey, God works all things out for our good, then we, like David, can "encourage" ourselves, we can encourage others in the simple truth that brings life! The question is, Are we obeying?

able to find it. Now it is time for us to help that helping hand. There is ample parking in down town area and the selections of merchandise will more than equal that of Lubbock and Amarillo and some of the larger cities that seem to draw our shopping dollar during the holidays.

Lets show these hard working businessmen that we are aware and thankful for their "contri. Ltions to Community Awareness."

A study by the General Accounting Office "shows conclusively" that paperwork demands the Federal Government makes on U.S. businesses "add significantly to inflationary pressures in this country."

According to the study, federal agencies themselves estimate that they require businesses to spend 69 million hours filling out 2,125 different kinds of forms at a cost of over $1 billion a year.

This represents "only the tip of the burden iceberg," the study says, since it includes only those agencies that must clear their paperwork demands through GAO or the office of Management and Budget.

Specific examples of reporting requirements by federal agencies include:

- *1.9 million "Census of Wholesale Trade, Retail Trade, and Service Industries" reports sent out annually by the Department of Commerce which, they estimate, require 45 minutes each to fill out;
- *600,000 "Plan Description Reports" sent out by the Department of Labor which require 160 minutes each to fill out;
- *4,160 "Standard Broadcast and FM Station Program Logging Rules" from the Federal Communications Commission which require 4,380 hours each to fill out;
- *and 100 "Passenger Origin-Destination Survey Reports" from the Civil Aeronautics Board which require 1,000 hours each to fill out.

The deeper we go, the more ridiculous it gets.

The South American country of Brazil derives its name from the reddish tree the Spanish and-Portugese call brasil, and which we call Brazilwood.

The City of Sudan collected at least three Bacteriological samples each month during the three month period ending September 30, 1978. The results of the coliform bacteriological samples exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards", which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act", Public Law 93-523. Drinking water containing coliform bacteria in excess the standard may constitute a potential threat to public health. Your water system has collected additional check samples as required by the "Drinking water Standards", and in the final check report no Coliform Count was found. The presence of coliform organisms in water is an indicator of bacteriological contamination of the sample either from the water system or from a sampling error.

Most good farmers don't wait until planting time to buy Pioneer-brand seed . . . not anymore.

The best farmers seem to think that having the seed with the greatest potential is too important to leave to chance. So ordering next year's seed as soon as they've seen this year's results is becoming a habit . . . practically a tradition. Why? Because, when you compare Pioneer performance to brands that are always available and compare the advantages of ordering early to the disadvantages, you've got to pick up the phone and call a Pioneer dealer.

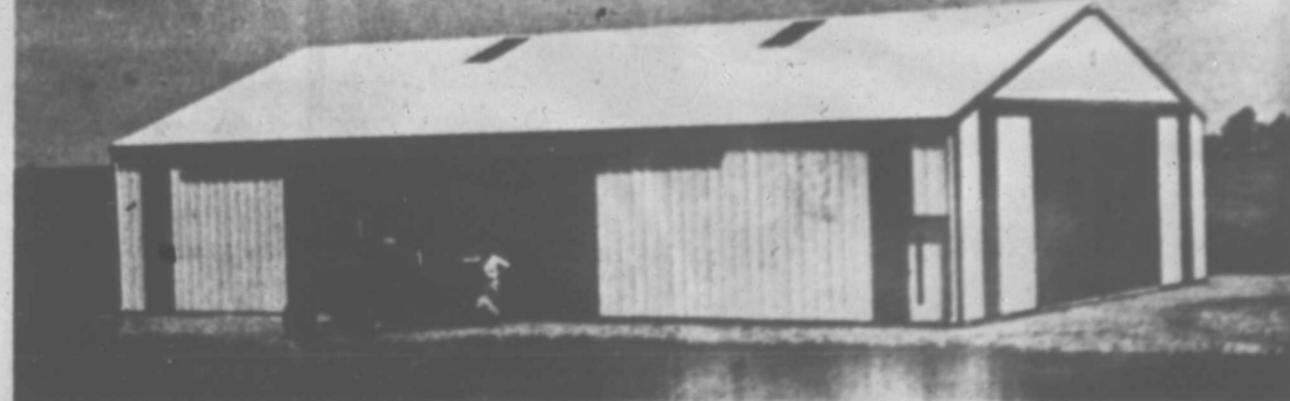

AND TO CAP IT OFF - Pioneer will acknowledge your early order by sending you a sprightly green, foam-lined gabardine cap.

STALK DESTRUCTION IMPORTANT CORN BORER MANAGEMENT TOOL—Problems with southwestern corn borers this season could mean more trouble next year unless certain cultural practices are followed.

Cultural practices such as winter stalk destruction by double disking or chiseling are the most reliable management tools to minimize losses next year due to this pest. Mature borer larvae overwinter at or near the base of the plant crown. If left undisturbed, they have an excellent chance of surviving the winter. However, any tillage practice that exposes the tap root to freezing weather will decrease corn borer survival. Tillage done as late as February on the High Plains will still greatly reduce overwintering populations.

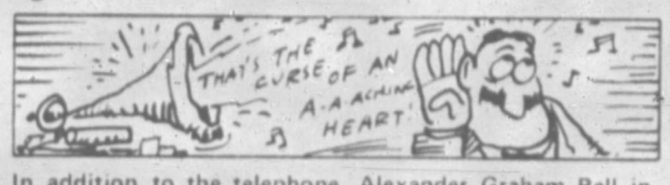

Producers planning to graze out their stalks should still consider some type of cultivation which will expose stubble roots. Grazing itself will not reduce the number of corn borers that emerge in the spring. The earlier this is done, the greater chance of still encountering weather cold enough to kill the borer larvae.

If corn stubble is not tilled in time to expose larvae to freezing weather, deep breaking will afford some control. Deep breaking often buries the borer larvae too deep for the adult borer moth to emerge in the spring.

We need area, or community, wide stalk destruction to help minimize the impact on this pest next season. Without area-wide tillage, moths from neighboring unplowed fields will infest all other corn fields in the area, negating the total management effort.

ARSENIC ACID SURVEY—Cotton producers are urged to respond to a survey by the manufacturer of arsenic acid and to give their opinions regarding the benefits of the chemical for continued profitable cotton production. Arsenic acid has been used as a harvest-aid chemical in areas where cotton is stripper harvested. However, the Environmental Protection Agency is now demanding more evidence on the benefits of the chemical before permitting further registration.

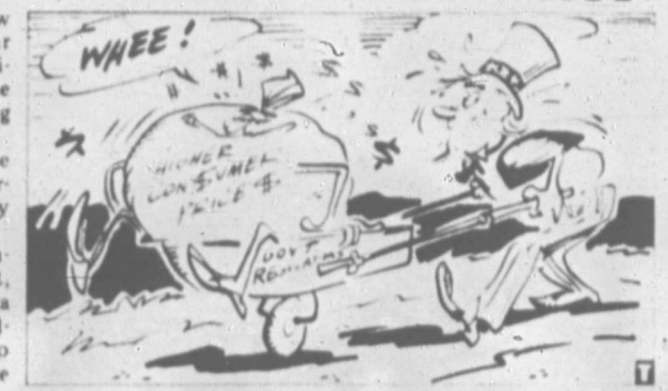

In addition to the telephone, Alexander Graham Bell invented the grooved wax cylinder with spiral sound track for Thomas Edison's phonograph.

Emeralds were supposed to be effective against snakebite.

UNDERSTANDING OUR ECONOMY

The more you know about the economy of our country, the more economical you may be able to be when it comes to handling your own finances.

Under our free-enterprise system, prices are determined to a large extent by costs.

The more it costs a manufacturer to create a product, or someone to provide a service, the more that product or service is going to cost consumers, if the manufacturer or other entrepreneur is to remain in business.

It is possible that someone else can come along and provide the same thing—or nearly so—at a lower cost, when only one or two individual manufacturers are faced with increased costs.

When an entire industry is affected, however, the situation is different—consumers are almost sure to have to pay more.

That's one reason many people are opposed to excessive government regulation of and interference with America's business.

UNDER OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM government regulation of industries could lead to higher consumer prices.

When the government forces an entire industry to comply with certain costly rules, the whole country often has to pay the price. This is especially tragic when such rules are not even needed.

Some people concerned about the rising costs of clothing fear that our cotton industry may become a victim of unnecessary regulation.

In a memorandum, Charles L. Schultze, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said that in light of President Carter's concern about inflation, it is "important to ensure that any new regulations do not impose unnecessary or uneconomic costs on American industry."

It has been estimated that the cotton dust standard that went into effect Sept. 4 will require the industry to purchase from $1.8 to $2.6 billion in new equipment and involve thousands of workers in a program of medical tests.

Money-back guarantee.

That's what U.S. Savings Bonds are all about.

Your money. Guaranteed back to you with interest. All you have to do is join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. Either way, you'll be saving regularly by buying Bonds automatically.

There's just no safer way to save.

So if you're planning for an education, vacation, or even retirement, put your money into the surest thing around, U.S. Savings Bonds.

Think of it as money back guaranteed to please.

Series E Bonds pay 8% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
