

Thunderstorms, tornadoes threaten Morton

There was no lack of excitement in Morton the past few days and the cause of it all can be summed up in one word, "Weather". And it came in sufficient varieties to give at least some trouble to just about everyone.

Between wading to work through curbed streets, nursing automobiles across flooded street and highway crossings and staying up in the night watching for near-reported tornadoes, the average citizen was a little nervous and gun-shy by the return of relatively calm weather Tuesday morning.

Monday night especially was a night of terror for many Morton residents who huddled in storm cellars or in the more substantially constructed rooms in their homes awaiting a tornado that was reportedly sighted approximately 10 miles southwest and headed directly for the town.

The warning was sounded by siren and city police and firemen patrolled the streets to warn the public. The radio station went on the air for several hours to report on progress and sound further warnings.

Many report running to storm cellars through the lashing rain in their night clothes while others report sleeping soundly through the whole event. The first alarm was sounded at near 1 a.m. and the final all-clear at approximately 3:30 a.m. Tuesday. The funnel apparently lifted before reaching Morton.

Except for a reported evacuation of one family from a house flooded by the waters of a rising Lake Strickland, there was little other known damage in Morton or the immediate area. Some businesses reported leaks and light flooding in some of their buildings, but the property damage estimates were not substantial.

The courthouse, however, is reported to have received substantial amount of damage to carpets, floors and furniture when rain, believed to be entering through the building joint, flooded some of the interior. The county library was reported the hardest hit. The water had been removed and the damage repaired when the library was inspected by a Tribune reporter late Tuesday.

A check with County Agent Roy McClung indicates that the rains will be more beneficial than harmful to farmers in the area. Not much grain sorghums had been planted and the damage from runoff will be fairly light, but there will be some of it," McClung said. "As soon as that sun comes out, the soil will dry rapidly on top and the extra moisture under it will put it in real good shape for both cotton and feed grain planting.

"As for the soil temperature needed for planting, if we get some sunshine now, this moisture will not set it back much if at all," he added.

All in all, McClung appeared to take a very optimistic view on what the additional moisture will do for crop prospects for the year.

In another vein, Bob Metzger, agronomist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in Lubbock said Tuesday that the rains have definitely slowed the cotton-grain sorghum planting over the South Plains area.

"Some April-planted grain sorghum is up to a good stand. Replanting will be necessary in some fields due to heavy rains. Wheat generally is in the soft dough stage and continues to make good progress. Some alfalfa is being harvested for hay. Recent moisture has put ranges in excellent condition," Metzger added.

Metzger was apparently referring to grain sorghum stands in the more southern counties as there is little or none standing in Cochran county.

The severe weather experienced here was just a part of a large system that ranged over the entire High Plains area and most of the state. Tornadoes and funnel clouds by the dozens have been sighted over the entire area during the past few days.

The Earth community in Lamb county was hit by a tornado which caused severe damage to property but no deaths and little if any injuries.

The nocturnal twister dripped out of the darkening sky about 8:22 p.m. Tuesday, slamming into Earth. One small laundry was destroyed and "10 to 12 other buildings" were heavily damaged, Civil Defense authorities said.

Power lines were down all over town and telephone service was disrupted. Trees were up-rooted and other debris was scattered over several blocks. Hitting in southeast Earth, the tornado hop-scotched to the northwest.

The Department of Public Safety reported "at least a dozen funnel clouds" dangling from low-hanging black thunder-head at the time.

Weather slows LL ball action after first night

David Silhan of the Cards hit the first home run in the opening game Monday night as the Little League season got off to a running start in Morton.

Unfortunately, the running start slowed to a walk as wet grounds cancelled the two games scheduled for Tuesday night. The wet grounds were the result of the torrential rains that made virtual lakes of all low ground areas throughout the city.

The rain has put in doubt the two games scheduled for Thursday and it wasn't known at press time whether or not they will be played.

Ragged play that will smooth out as the season progresses marked the first two games. There was no lack of enthusiasm on the part of the players, however. The boys came to play, and play they did.

Due to a mix up in arrangements by the Tribune, there is no report on the first two games in today's paper. They will be included in our roundup of games next week, however.

The Little League schedule will continue through June 24, with two games scheduled each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday. The first game begins at 7:30 p.m. and the second at 9 p.m.

The Minor League will begin on May 16 and will have three games scheduled each Friday night for five weeks. The first games will begin at 5 p.m., the second at 7 p.m. and the third at 9 p.m.

There will be six teams in the Minor League this year instead of the usual four. This is with the addition of the Enochs Dodgers and the Three Way Yankees as new and separate teams.

In the past the boys from those communities played with the Morton teams which worked considerable hardship in travel to and from practice sessions and games. So it was decided at a meeting of Dads and officials last week to add the two teams and do away with the difficulties.

The new alignment is responsible for the heavier schedule of games — from two to three per night — and the cutting of the season from six weeks to five, Cecil Williams, learge president explained.

Boxes on boxes . . .

LEON KESSLER, Morton Area Chamber of Commerce manager, checks over a number of the boxes used by various business firms for registration for Trades Day drawing prizes. The boxes contained hundreds of names from which the winners were drawn in a radio broadcast ceremony on the courthouse square Monday afternoon. Kessler will use the registration slips to further analyze the trade area business volume and will submit his findings to the Chamber board of directors who will use his figures in formulating plans to stimulate business in the area.

atter up! . . .

THAT WAS the battle cry as Little League baseball once again got underway in Morton with the first two games played Monday night between the Cards and the Colt 45's and the Cubs vs. Giants. Here an unidentified Card takes a healthy swing for the fence as the season gets off to a roaring start. There will be two games of Little League play each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday night through June 24. Heavy rains washed out games scheduled for Tuesday night this week.

★ X-rays available

Today is the day that all in the Morton area who want them can obtain a chest X-ray for the nominal fee of $1.

An X-ray unit, operated by the West Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, and sponsored by the Morton Lions Club, will be open for business most of the day at the Doss Thriftway parking lot.

The doors of the large van, which is equipped to take a large number of X-ray pictures per hour, will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m.

The charge of $1 is to support the operation of the unit and Lions Club members urge all persons in the area to take advantage of this important service at such a low price.

Nursing home open house slated Sunday

There will be an open house held at the Roberts Nursing Home on Sunday, May 11, Mother's Day.

All residents of Morton and the surrounding areas are cordially invited by the management to visit the home and get acquainted with the many senior citizens residing there.

This will give many a good opportunity to make this a really special day for both the mothers and fathers there who might not otherwise receive a visit or recognition on that day, the nursing home supervisors say.

Second Trades Day proclaimed success by Morton merchants

The second Trades Day in Morton, and the first one in which there was time and opportunity to properly plan and publicize it, was deemed a solid success by participating merchants Monday.

The day of bargains and prizes for all was climaxed late Monday afternoon with a radio broadcast of the drawing for prizes from the registration boxes of approximately 35 businesses throughout the town. The drawing and broadcast took place on the west side of the courthouse square beginning at 5:15 p.m. It is planned to make this public drawing a regular feature of the Trades Day program and broadcast the drawings in the same manner to climax the day each first Monday of the month.

Word of the public drawing did not reach a few businesses in time for them to participate, but in those cases each one had an individual drawing of their own and will notify the winners by telephone.

Chamber of Commerce spokesmen say it is too early to tell what definite effects the Trades Day promotion is having on business volume but are optimistic in their evaluation of the response being received through drawing registrations.

Some merchants interviewed expressed enthusiasm and stated their business volume shows a definite rise, while others are not ready to make an evaluation as yet. All seem eager to keep the promotion going and express their willingness to back it to the hilt.

A list of drawing winners, their prizes and the businesses giving them is as follows:

Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive is swinging

The Morton Area Chamber of Commerce membership drive rounded into full swing this week with two teams of salesmen vying for the honor of signing up the most new members.

The drive, which got underway May 1 and will end May 10, is on a point basis with the winning team captain and the high man each receiving a trophy.

Emphasis is being placed this year on expanding the base of the Chamber membership and making it a truly representative area organization. Special efforts are being made to sign up farmers and ranchers throughout the area.

A running total of signings is being kept by the Chamber office so each team can check on the other's progress at any time. Each team has 10 members with one team headed by Ray Griffith and the other by Bud Fountain.

Griffith's team consists of the following members: Herman Bedwell, Leon Kessler, Mike Barrett, C. E. Dolle, Neal Rose, Jerry Iley, Short Lemons, Tip Windom.

Hawkins, who was unopposed, will as president head a staff of mostly new faces who will assume responsibility for the club's activities for the coming year.

Other officers elected include:

- Bud Fountain, first vice-president.
- Leonard Groves, second vice-president.
- Jim Walker, third vice-president.
- Lloyd Miller, secretary-treasurer.
- Orville Tilger, lion tamer.
- Neal Rose, tail twister.
- Rex Mauldin, song leader.
- Deryl Bennett, crippled children project director.
- Rusty Reeder and N. G. Shelton, new directors.

Hold over directors are C. E. Dolle and J. C. Reynolds.

The rains came . . .

THE ABOVE SCENE was typical in the Morton and Cochran county area as heavy thundershowers continued to fall over the Plains for the third straight day Tuesday. These motorists ran into trouble at the western city limits of Morton where the water covered Highway 116 to running-board depth. Closed highways and curb-full streets were the order of the day as over five inches of rain mixed with hail soaked a widespread section of West Texas.

★ Minors to try out

Minor League tryouts will be held beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday at Morton's Little League Park, Cecil Williams, league president has announced.

All boys who want to play Minor League ball must be there, Williams emphasizes, as there will be no hold-over team members from last year due to the addition of two new teams and a realignment of the league. Many will be changing team membership this year and you may not be on the same team as last year.

Drawings for team members will be held at the park immediately after the tryouts, Williams stated.

Should be good fit

Molding fibers into fabrics, then into garments, may be a clothes manufacturing method of the future, predicts Extension clothing specialists. Molding may replace weaving and someday people may dress themselves by stepping into a clothes-making machine, pressing a button and molding his outfit on the spot.

TOTAL ANNUAL teenage spending in the U. S. passed the $20 billion line last year, according to Extension home management specialists.

Accent on health

Do you gamble with your life when you head out onto a city street or highway in your automobile?

You may be doing just that if you don't hook up your seat belt, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Prevention of accidents is a function of the Health Department through the Division of Civil Defense and Traffic Safety.

With summer vacations just ahead, now is the time to start thinking about safety and working toward good seat belt habits.

Traffic claimed 3,481 persons in Texas last year and the injury total was placed at 216,972.

Nationally, 53,100 persons were reported killed in traffic accidents in 1967, last full reporting year. Of these victims, 35,300 were drivers or passengers in automobiles. If all these persons had been using safety belts, the National Safety Council estimates that at least 10,000 of them would still be alive.

Some people feel they don't need safety belts for low speed, "neighborhood" driving. But studies show that nearly half of all fatal accidents occur at impact speeds of 40 miles per hour or less and that three-fourths of all traffic accidents happen within 25 miles of home.

The main advantage to wearing a safety belt is that it can help prevent the "second collision" when car occupants are thrown around inside the vehicle during an accident.

After the car stops suddenly, people without safety belts continue traveling in the direction the car was moving and ordinarily strike part of the interior. The driver moves forward in a seated position. His legs which are sometimes trapped under him may be turned, twisted and fractured. His abdomen and chest may strike the steering wheel and column. His head may hit the windshield or his face strike the steering wheel.

The right front seat passenger, who doesn't have the steering wheel before him, crashes into the windshield and instrument panel during a collision. Safety belts can minimize such collisions inside the car.

In a crash, safety belts can also keep you in your car, thus increasing your chance of survival by five times.

Along with the use of safety belts, the State Health Department advises the use of safe driving habits. Don't drive while drinking or while sleepy or tired. Obey all traffic laws and don't speed to reach your destination sooner. Be especially alert and slow down at night or in bad weather.

Someone else enjoys Amus' fishing efforts

The editor received a letter in the mail Wednesday that should come as quite a shock to one citizen Amus Taylor of Morton. It seems that someone else is currently enjoying the fruits (or fish) of his labors.

The letter, from Veda's Camp, Texas and signed by Shirley Twain Mickler, reads as follows:

Dear Sir,

"Here is a picture of Ford Taylor of Spur with a 37 lb. yellowcat taken off his brother Amus Taylor's trotline Monday morning on Lake Stamford. Wish you were here Amus! (We bet Amus does too.)"

A thoughtful little P.S. says: "Thought Taylor family would enjoy the joke since Amus baited the trotline."

We have no comment, Amus. Have you?

Fresh green peas

Green peas are produced in Texas from March through May. They should be stored in the refrigerator and shelled only right before cooking. Cook in covered saucepan with enough water to prevent burning. Cook until tender but not mushy. Season with salt, pepper, butter, and a trace of sugar. This nutritious vegetable has 75 calories per 2/3 cup and contributes vitamins A and C and iron to the diet. To freeze, cook for 1 1/2 minutes, cool and drain.

Blanchard - sponsored service medal bill signed into law

Sen. H. J. Blanchard, author of Senate Bill 297, an act creating a Texas Distinguished Service Medal award, witnessed the signing of the bill into law by Governor Preston Smith Thursday.

"This act permits for the first time an opportunity to recognize Texans who have been outstanding in their field," Blanchard said.

"I plan to make recommendations to the awards committee for such outstanding citizens to be given the first awards as the late Homer Garrison, former director of the Department of Public Safety, Walter Prescott Webb, historian, and astronaut Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders," Blanchard stated.

The bill contained provision that "a committee to be known as the Texas Distinguished Service Awards Committee shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate to consider and approve or reject, by majority vote, recommendations for the award of the Texas Distinguished Service Medal."

The bill also states that "no more than five persons shall be eligible to receive the decoration in any one calendar year, except that in exceptional circumstances, additional decorations may be awarded by the governor if authorized by concurrent resolution of the Legislature of the State of Texas."

The bill provides that "not more than ten awards of the Texas Distinguished Service Medal may be made for achievement attained or service rendered prior to the effective date of this Act."

Any person may make recommendations to the committee by letter. The governor will make the presentation "in an appropriate ceremony."

New winter wheat available for certified seed producers

A new hard red winter wheat — Caprock — will be available to certified seed producers for planting this fall.

The variety, equal to or better than Sturdy wheat under test conditions, was developed cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Crops Research Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. H. O. Kunkel, acting director of the Texas station, said Caprock has short straw, a winter growth habit and broad, moderately upright leaves. The heads have awns or beards and white chaff with black stripes. Grain is red, hard and of medium size.

The variety is resistant to many races of leaf rust but is susceptible to stem rust and mildew, Kunkel said. Milling and bread baking trials showed strong gluten and good overall quality.

Grain yield, weight per bushel and plant height are equal to or surpass Sturdy, and hardness, hail tolerance and lodging are about the same. Caprock is better in yield under irrigation and has a higher test weight.

"It is a sister selection to Sturdy by breeding but differs from it sufficiently to have merit in Texas as a companion variety, especially under irrigation in northwest Texas," Kunkel said.

He added that Caprock is not recommended for planting in states north of Texas.

About 2,000 bushels of seed will soon be ready for release to seed producers for fall planting. Seed can be obtained from the Foundation Seed Section, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas, 77843.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture does not have seed for distribution.

Good grooming items 'must' for vacationer

Keeping hair, nail and complexion at their best is not always easy during the hustle and bustle of a happy vacation, but good grooming is of particular importance when visiting new places and meeting new people.

When planning a trip, the very first things to consider are those that will be needed for hair, skin and nails. The smart planner makes a list of all the things that will be needed, from emory boards to hairpins, and then makes sure they are packed in special luggage that can be kept close and used when needed.

Grooming items packaged in plastic containers, such as shampoos, lotions and sun-tan oils, will present fewer problems than those in breakable containers. Since space is important, grooming preparations in small sizes is recommended.

RETIREMENT is having a hobby, choose one that you like, avoid one that will "play out" soon. Select something which requires some knowledge or skill. Reading and writing are almost inexhausted hobbies.

Production goals for '69 feed grain slightly higher than '68

The supply situation plus expected increases in domestic usage; production goals for the 1969 crop which are aimed at holding output slightly below 1968-70 needs and an expected decline in exports are strong factors in the outlook for feed grains.

John G. McHaney, Extension economist at Texas A&M University, said the 1968-69 marketing year supply is estimated at 216.3 million tons, up only 1 percent from 1967-68 marketing year. The smaller crop in 1968 helped to keep the supply of feed grains from increasing to any great extent, the economist noted.

This season's starting smaller "free" supply (privately held stocks plus production) coupled with a projected increase in total requirements for 1968-69 could result in a tighter supply situation later this spring and summer than was experienced in 1968. A smaller "free" carryover into 1969-70 may also result, he said.

Domestic use during the present marketing year is expected to be 5 to 6 million tons above a year ago. Grain consuming animal units are expected to reach 184 million, up 5 million from last year and heavier unit feeding is also forecast, McHaney said.

Exports of feed grains will probably be somewhat smaller than the 23.3 million tons exported during the 1967-68 season, he said.

As for sorghum grain, McHaney noted that the 1968-69 supply was 13 percent below the 1962-66 average, but 3 percent larger than last year. Domestic usage is expected to continue strong and will probably exceed last season's demand. Exports, on the other hand, he said, are expected to be down from last year.

The larger quantity of sorghum grains going under loan in 1968-69 marketing year, together with the generally strong domestic demand should give support to prices during the remainder of the marketing year, he said. Further price advances may be limited by the larger supplies available for domestic use, especially since prices are now above the loan rate.

Boy Scout council announces camping schedules for summer

Boy Scouts in the South Plains Council are showing great interest in the special camping opportunities being offered this summer, according to Camping Chairman Howard Schmidt. In addition, the regular summer camp session at both Camp Post and Camp Tres Ritos are filling rapidly.

The council's trip to the Somers Wilderness Canoe Base at Ely, Minnesota, has been filled for some time. Schmidt said, but the council is still accepting reservation for the Forestry Camp at Tres Ritos, June 1 to 7; the Aquatics Camp at Camp Post, June 22-27 and the Philmont Treks, July 20 to August 1. Boys wanting to attend Philmont Scout Ranch must be at least 14 years old by September 1.

The Forestry Camp is one of the new innovations in the council's total camping program. It will be operated with the help of the U. S. Forest Rangers in the Carson National Park in New Mexico.

Another new opportunity for troops and posts this year is a Mountain Man Camp for those Scouts and Explorers who want a rugged week-long hiking and camping experience in the mountains of New Mexico. Different groups will participate in this experience each week, operating out of Camp Tres Ritos during the regular five-week session.

Scouts, Explorers and parents who are interested in filling the few remaining vacancies in any of these camps can receive additional information from the Service Center in Lubbock.

Dedication of USDA's Ginning Laboratory at Lubbock, to which the public is invited, will begin at 2:00 p.m. May 17 instead of at 10:00 a.m. as was originally announced.

The change, according to Shallowater ginner Bill Thompson, Chairman of the Dedication Committee, was made to accommodate Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin who will appear on the program.

Secretary Hardin will be introduced by 19th District Congress George Mahon who played a substantial role in securing the Ginning Laboratory for the High Plains.

The Agricultural Research Service facility is located next door to the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center, seven miles North of Lubbock on the Amarillo highway.

The Laboratory consists of a complete ginning system, a machine shop and several offices. The fourth of its kind in the U. S. and the first to be located in Texas, its purpose is to seek improved methods of handling, drying, cleaning and packaging machine stripped cotton.

Thompson, who will serve as master of ceremonies for the event, says the dedication is the culmination of efforts to secure such a facility for this area which were begun by the Texas Cotton Ginners Association back in 1960.

He recalls that the effort first took formal shape in 1962 when he and five other industry people met in Lubbock at the offices of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., area cotton producer organization.

Others at that early meeting were the late George W. Pfeifferberger, then Executive Vice President of PCG; Roy Forkner, ginner in the Canyon community East of Lubbock; Ed Bush, then Executive Vice President of the TCGA; Jack Funk, Harlingen ginner, and Anton ginner Orville "Sleepy" Bailey.

Forkner and Donald Johnson, current PCG Executive Vice President, are serving as co-chairmen of the speakers committee, and have announced that there will be three other speakers in addition to Congressman Mahon and Secretary Hardin.

They include Dr. H. O. Kunkel, Dean of Agriculture and Director of Experiment Stations, Texas A&M; Dr. Gerald Thomas, Dean of Agriculture at Texas Tech, and

Dr. John Bradford, Dean of Engineering and Director of the Textile Research center at Texas Tech.

Secretary Hardin is also on the program for the dedication of a new soil conservation facility at Bushland, Texas, beginning at 10:00 a.m. May 17. He is expected to arrive in Lubbock with Congressman Mahon at 3:00 p.m.

A new population study by the Library of Congress has re-emphasized the steady decline in farmer voting power.

According to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, it shows 21 states in which not one district has farmers numbering over 15 per cent of the voting population.

Only 83 of the 435 U. S. Congressional Districts have 15 per cent or more of their population living on farms and farmers comprise only 25 per cent or more of the populace in only 31 districts.

California, which always ranks either first or second in value of total farm production, has 38 congressmen, but not one of them represents a district with more than 15 per cent farm resident. Eight other big farm states, including New Mexico, Arizona and Florida, are also without farm congressmen.

But Johnson points out that the small numbers alone doesn't necessarily mean the farmer has lost his voice in Washington.

"A lot can be done to overcome the lack of farmer influence in legislative matters," Johnson says, "if farmers will get together, speak with a single voice and get more deeply involved in political affairs."

He adds that this has been done by some agricultural commodities and is being done by others, "but unfortunately we in the business of producing cotton are far behind the field in the matter of national unity and in political involvement."

It is generally conceded that at least some of the tax reform measures sought by President Nixon and the Treasury Department will be enacted by Congress during this session. And few would argue that no reforms are needed.

But Don Anderson, President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, points out that one of the proposed law changes would be highly detrimental to an already depressed farm economy.

He refers to the President's recommendation that the 7 per cent investment tax credit be repealed.

The investment tax credit permits the deduction of 7 per cent of the cost of new equipment or plant facilities from the Federal income tax load for the year of purchase.

It was originally adopted by Congress as a tool to stimulate a lagging economy. Now the Administration is recommending that it be repealed as a deterrent to the inflationary pressure of a booming economy.

Without commenting on the need for slowing the Nation's economy in general, Anderson says there is certainly nothing in the farm sector that can be described as "booming".

Noting the decline in prices for agricultural commodities "almost across the board," he says "this can hardly be called inflationary."

He concludes that "The need for stimulating the farm economy is now greater, not less, than it was when the law was enacted. And if the law is to be repealed, agriculture obviously should be exempted."

In connection with tax reforms generally, it is interesting to note that, based on information in a newsletter from New Mexico's Congressman Ed Foreman, the "little man" needn't expect a great deal of help with the tax burden from the "rich" or high income segment of the population.

According to Foreman, approximately 80 per cent of the revenue from personal income taxes are paid by the folks in the 20 per cent bracket. He goes on to say "the little man is the poor chap saddled with the soaring spendthrift cost of big government."

"This might be one reason why the majority of Americans, at least those who are paying the bill, want to reduce the size, cost and control of federal government," Foreman states.

IT'S POSSIBLE to breed a steer for more and bigger steaks, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists. But, they say, there is little hope for breeding steers with more sirloin steak and other desirable cuts and less stew beef and less desirable cuts.

SARDINE AREN'T really sardines at all. The fish is an Atlantic herring, one of the most abundant and important food fish in the North Atlantic. Sardines will be plentiful during May.

Street or lake? . . .

THE INTERSECTION of Highways 116 and 214, under the light in Morton, resembled a lake more than it did a street late Sunday afternoon following a heavy shower of mixed rain and hail estimated at over 2 1/2 inches. Conditions worsened instead of improving as the heavy showers continued through Monday and Tuesday. Well over five inches of moisture is estimated to have fallen in the area since the rains began Sunday afternoon. Tornado funnels have been reported touching down in the area and warnings have been in effect much of the time over the past several days.

Mommy power A-Go-Go . . .

TAKE ME ALONG if-a-you-a-love-me is one song that Cindy and Gary George will probably never have to sing because they have a mommy that feels that a family that bikes together likes each other. When shopping time comes, and father is out breadwinning, there is no problem of babysitters, etc., they merely go together. While mother pumps away, Cindy, three and Randy, 14 months, enjoy their iceys and give her pointers on the route to be taken. The personable power plant is Mrs. Robert George, whose husband is a court reporter for the 121st judicial district. Designer of the vehicle was not revealed.

Mrs. Hill arranges flowers for County Garden Club

"Learn to observe with your heart and mind as well as your eyes when doing a flower arrangement" was the suggestion of Mrs. Roy Hill as she did two arrangements for members of the Cochran County Garden Club.

Mrs. Hill's first demonstration was a vertical arrangement in a white vase using white iris and white pyracantha blooms. The second arrangement, done in an ash tray, was a modern free standing composed of iris, roses, perennial sweet pea filler with the line a curved wisteria vine. "In any flower arrangement three materials are needed, spike, round and filler," Mrs. Hill told the members. She presented the free standing arrangement to the hostess for the evening, Mrs. B. K. Sayers.

Mrs. Wayne Porter, President of the club, showed different types of containers that could be used in flower arrangements. She pointed out that it isn't necessary to buy a container that by looking around the home many items can be found that may be used.

Mrs. C. D. Hill gave a report on the District One Spring Convention held in Lubbock.

The next meeting will be and Installation of new officers and a salad supper in the home of Mrs. Ray Griffith, May 19.

Peace Corps testing scheduled in Lubbock

Morton are residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 17, at Room 206, New Post Office, 1515 Ave. G, Lubbock.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The test requires no preparation and is non-competitive; an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Persons interested in serving with the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before the test. Application forms are available from post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D. C. 20525.

Fifteen thousand volunteers are currently serving in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands, working with the people of those nations in self-help projects ranging from food production to health to education. More volunteers are needed for programs which will bring training soon.

Sell by smell

When aroma counts, ads may now smell like the product they're selling. The new aroma process, called Microencapsulation, will be used this year in direct mail, consumer ads and in-store promotions to advertise a citrus product and a new food flavor.

Postal deficit is cause for increased postage rates, Postmaster Crone reports

An "inherited" postal deficit of $1.2 billion is responsible for the proposals to raise the postage bill for resident of Morton, Postmaster Crone said today.

Crone said he had been advised by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount in Washington, D. C. that the record $1.2 billion 1970 deficit compelled President Nixon to seek postage rate increases. Without higher rates the Department will be left with a staggering deficit that would become an added tax burden.

In addition to increasing mail from 6 to 7 cents, as proposed by the Johnson Administration, President Nixon also asked that second and third-class mailers help reduce the large postal deficit which would otherwise be paid by taxpayers, the postmaster said.

For bulk third-class mail and most magazines and newspapers, the rates would be increased 16 percent to 20 percent above today's levels, he noted. These percentages include rate hikes already scheduled by previous action by Congress.

The President's recommended increases will reduce the 1970 deficit by more than $600 million.

The postmaster listed these other details on the proposed increases:

First-class mail: Letters and post cards would be increased one cent, to 7 cents an ounce and 6 cents a piece, respectively, on July 1, 1969. Airmail postage would remain at 10 cents. This will yield $557.2 million in new revenues.

Second-class mail: A handling charge of 3/10ths of a cent per piece for circulation outside home counties would become effective July 1, 1969. This would yield $15.3 million annually and would represent a 12 percent increase in addition to the 8 percent rise scheduled to take effect January 1, 1969.

Third-class mail: For single pieces, rates would be increased one cent per piece. This would yield $12.4 million. For regular bulk third-class, the minimum would be increased to a uniform rate of 4.2 cents January 1, 1970, as contrasted with the present rate of 3.6 cents. The 1970 increase would lift revenues by $46.8 million annually.

Fast growing pond . . .

STRICKLAND PARK LAKE is usually no more than a small pond but a weekend of heavy rain has turned it into a fast rising giant that has covered streets to a depth of several feet and menacing many houses that are usually hundreds of yards from its shores. By late Tuesday at least one home had been flooded and the family forced to evacuate. The weather forecast for Wednesday morning indicated a good chance for more of the same and if more rain falls, it will pose a threat to many more residences including Robert's Nursing Home seen in the background of this photo over the round marker sign.

Last Frontier Miss Cotton contest will be held June 10

Plans have been made and completed for the "Last Frontier Miss Cotton Contest" to be held Tuesday, June 10. The contest will be in the County Activities Building at 8 p.m.

The Last Frontier Cotton Council, a women's cotton promotion group is sponsoring the contest.

In order to become a contestant in the contest, a girl must be a junior or a senior in high school during the school year 1968-1969 and single. She will be required to model two cotton outfits: a cotton formal and a cotton sports outfit. The contestant must also be prepared to display a talent.

Travel iron boon to wrinkleless vacations

Although easy-care clothing is a boon to travelers and vacationers, there are times when a quickie touch-up is needed. This is where a small travel iron is worth its weight in wrinkles.

To save time and trouble, the steam-dry combination iron is best, since some wrinkles do not respond to dry ironing, and dampening the wrinkled area sometimes leaves spots.

Travel irons can be purchased in almost any appliance store and will take care of vacation wrinkles for many years. Most come in handy cases, and one appliance manufacturer makes a steam-dry travel iron with a fold-down handle and puts it in a case with a place for the cord, a pair of small button-hole-type scissors, pockets for needles, pins, and a card with several colors of thread for emergency repair jobs.

The annual open house for the Roberts Memorial Nursing Home will be held on Mother's Day, May 11 with a Pot Luck Dinner. Everyone is invited to come and join these Great Old Timers and bring them joy with your visit. A corsage will be presented to the oldest and youngest Mothers.

Proper application of lipstick is important

There is more to applying lipstick than smearing color on the lips, according to cosmetic experts.

Most experts advise outlining lips with a lipstick brush before spreading on the remainder of the lips. To avoid smearing, blot the lips after the first application, powder the lips and then apply a second coat and blot again. This also provides a longer lasting lip coloring.

To avoid staining clothes, towels and linens, remove lipstick with cold cream before bathing or retiring for the night. Holding a cleaning tissue between the teeth when dressing will prevent lipstick stains on clothing.

By Libby Mudgett

CHARLIE DeGAULLE has resigned, after only slightly more than 47 per cent of the French people voted in favor of his reform program.

(He must have intended to resign anyway . . . many an American President has gone ahead and taken office with less percentage of the popular vote than that.)

BE THAT AS IT MAY, I hate to see him leave the public scene. All the horrendous traits attributed to him are probably true, but whenever a very colorful character retires, dies, or is assassinated, this world loses a little of its flavor, whether you agree with or approve of said colorful character's character or not.

Look at it this way: who but Charlie would have stood up in Quebec and urged the French speaking people to revolt and organize their own Free France? This is roughly equivalent to standing up in New Orleans and doing likewise, you see.

SURE, THIS WORLD needs sane, sensible, and reserved leaders, but will you ever forget Fidel Castro and his sidekicks taking live chickens into one of New York's finest and plushiest hotels?

Or Nikita Khrushchev banging the top of the desk in the United Nations with his shoe? (There's been times when I wished that I could.)

OR LYNDON pulling up his shirt and showing the news photographer his gall bladder operation scar?

Well now, just think for a moment. It's mighty comfortable to have people in control that follow protocol and Emily Post to the letter, but what would life be like without the Liz Taylors and the Gamal Nassers?

CAN YOU PICTURE Nixon going into a shouting tirade that made the corridors of the White House quiver over a portrait of himself he didn't like?

You say no and thank heavens, but you read avidly all about Lyndon's foaming at the mouth fit when he saw Peter Hurd's painting, didn't you?

And surely the end of the six day Israeli-Arab war wouldn't have been half as dramatic had it not been for Nasser's previous boastful preening and prating about pushing all the Jews into the Mediterranean.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER probably never side stepped in his life and was beyond doubt one of our greatest men, but once I saw Ike and General Patton walking down an airstrip together and just guess who lent the color to the scene? You're right. It was Patton with his swagger, his pearl handled revolvers, and his chewing tobacco.

Douglas MacArthur was a great soldier, but an even greater ham. Who can deny that his "I shall return" speech was pure theatrics, but who will fail to admit that when he did return, it was far more thrilling than if he had never dramatically vowed to?

WHICH WOULD YOU rather look at: a picture of Queen Elizabeth, slightly dowdy, prim, and oh so correct, going through her many official duties, or a picture of Princess Margaret in mod dress living it up at a night club?

(And what wouldn't you pay to see a photograph of Elizabeth's face when she sees the picture of baby sister flitting like that?)

PRINCESS GRACE isn't much less drab than most royalty, even though all the women's magazines do their dangdest

AUSTIN, Tex. — Strong determination to hold out for a two-year spending bill with new taxes now was voiced by Gov. Preston Smith after a week of conferences on the subject.

Smith took the line that he and legislators have a commitment for teacher pay raises, and that it cannot be done without a tax bill to raise about $100 million a year.

But Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Speaker Gus Mutscher, as leaders of the two houses of the Legislature, will make the decision on whether a one-year or a two-year spending bill will be passed.

"We are considering all factors, and the governor's opposition to a one-year bill is, of course, one factor," Barnes said.

Smith declared, "the House-Senate conference committee is working on a two-year bill. That would indicate to me that it has been pretty well determined."

CONFOREES did go to work on a biennial bill. House Revenue and Tax Committee has yet to come up with a tax package, although Mutscher privately has sketched out a $275 million revenue bill which includes a $90 million poroporate gains tax and increased cigarette levies.

Although rumors increased concerning possible summer special sessions of the Legislature after Smith took his stand against delayed taxation, Governor insists that will be unnecessary. He thinks lawmakers "if they apply themselves" can get through with all mandatory duties by the June 2 regular session deadline.

BILLS PASSED — With less than a month of the regular session to go, the House began to out-distance the filibustered Senate in churning out major bills.

House finally approved measures boosting drinking curfew to 2 a.m. and increasing maximum interest rates on $300 to $1,000 loans from $8 to $12 per $100.

Another House proposal passed and sent to the Senate is a constitutional amendment to permit local governments to contract with each other for services like police and fire protection, streets, waste disposal, etc.

Both Houses completed action on a bill to strengthen the law requiring open meetings and advance notice of government agencies. Legislators investigating committee sessions and consultations with attorneys will no longer be exempt. Both House also approved a bill adding four more "Monday holidays" — Columbus, Veterans' and Memorial Days and Washington's birthday — for state employees effective in 1971.

HOUSE GAVE final approval to a bill that allows children to transfer from one district to another without the permission of the home district, taking State money with them.

House sent to the Senate bills to permit to make her life look glamorous, but can you feature what life in Monaco would have been like if Liz Taylor had wound up as Her Serene Highness instead of Grace?

And who would ever have heard of that silly luncheon for the betterment of city children or something if Eartha Kitt hadn't pulled her goody? (I've always wondered if Lady Bird didn't bribe her into publicizing that.)

ENGLAND HAS HAD many devoted, capable Prime Ministers, but which one sticks in your memory? Churchill didn't win his way into people's hearts by being totally proper at all times.

So goodbye, Charlie. Hate to see you go. But then, I'm not French.

persons 18 or older to teach driver education, provide for occupational drivers licenses for persons aged 15 to 18, toughen the 1967 Consumer Credit Code restrictions on misleading advertising, and bring the state law closer to conformance with the Federal Truth in Lending Law. (It gives the State Consumer Credit Commissioner broader powers in enforcing the code.)

House voted to create a six-member committee to promote mass transportation and to make eight changes in the 1943 banking code.

Senators, braving an all-night filibuster, passed a resolution to knock the annual voter registration requirement out of the constitution.

Senate approved a $1.25 per hour state minimum wage bill and sent it on to the House.

A bill to halt the flow of unsolicited merchandise that comes by mail passed the Senate. Bill says unsolicited merchandise may be deemed a gift and the receiver does not have to return or pay for it.

SENATE PASSED a bill to change the requirements for independent school districts wishing to form junior colleges. Contiguous district with a combined taxable wealth of $30 million — instead of $9.5 million — and a scholastic population of 3,000 — instead of 7,000 — could establish a junior college.

Among other Senate-passed bills were stiff new controls for forging or altering prescriptions, curbs on obscene movies, a bill to establish a council to study the problems of children with learning defects and a measure which would permit Galveston's Moody family heirs to share in insurance company stock dividends distributed to the $165 million Moody Foundation.

APPOINTMENTS — Senate confirmed the appointment of Dr. Salvador Mora of Laredo to State Board of Examiners in Optometry. At the same time, Senate confirmed James H. Milam of Lubbock to State Securities Board, Kenneth Esmond of Odessa to State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and James F. Parker of Kountze to Ninth Court of Civil Appeals.

Governor Smith named Jerry Conn, his assistant press secretary, director of public information for Governor's Criminal Justice Council.

Speaker Gus Mutscher has been named to southern conference advisory committee of Council of State Governments and as distinguished alumnus of University of Texas college of business administration.

Gayle McNutt of Austin is new assistant director of communications for Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and Vernon M. Arrell is director of the Program on Alcoholism.

AG OPINIONS — Federal food stamp program must be operated by State Department of Public Welfare, not county commissioners courts, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held in an opinion requested by Harris County Attorney Joe Resweber.

In a torrent of other new opinions, Martin concluded that:

There is no authority in law or the constitution for a constable to form a stand-by auxiliary force for civil disaster or special police duty.

Hutchinson County can require relocation of telephone or utility poles and lines (at company cost) which are "airport hazards."

Letter to editor . . .

Stroughton Christian Assembly
Route 1, Box 1124
Stoughton, Wisconsin
Dear Editor,

I would appreciate it if you would place this in your "Letters to the Editor" column.

My wife and I have a concern for people who are lonely, whether because they are elderly, shut-in, widowed, or any other reason.

So we are developing a ministry of cheer and encouragement through personal correspondence.

If any readers of your paper would like to get acquainted with us, they are invited to write us at Route 1, Box 1124, Stoughton, Wis. 53589.

Sincerely,
David L. Handt

... and God bless Mother

This little one is aware of his mother's tender care, and responds with love. It would be wonderful if all of us showed our love for our Mothers all of the time. Even if we have been a little neglectful, we have an opportunity to go all out this Sunday, and express to her our love and appreciation for her goodness to us. The Bible tells us to "Honour thy Father and thy Mother."

On this special Mother's Day attend church and share in celebrating this time with others.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
