VEE immunizations underway

A large scale program is underway in Cochran county to vaccinate horses, mules, Shetland ponies and burros against the threat of the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) epidemic that is taking a serious toll of horses in South Texas.

A large supply of TC-83 vaccine arrived in Morton Wednesday morning and the giant program got underway at the county show barns with Dr. Martin Reynolds, DVM, of Levelland performing the inoculations and county agent Roy McClung coordinating the activities.

An on-premise quarantine, that restricted all equine animals to the property of their owner was declared throughout the state by the Texas Animal Health Commission on July 15, to prevent the animals from traveling into areas where they might contact the infection. The quarantine was modified Monday to the extent that the animals may be moved to and from a central station where the vaccine is being administered.

The animals must remain on premises for fourteen days after receiving the vaccine and the owner must have a written certificate, obtained from a licensed veterinarian at the time of inoculation, in order to move the animal off his premises after the 14 day period is over.

McClung said there is an unlimited supply of the vaccine available from the distribution point at Texas Tech University, but unused vaccine must be returned to the distribution point after only 12 hours. That is why a central point was

THE ABOVE ACTION TOOK PLACE at the county show barns Wednesday morning as local owners brought their horses to that central point to receive VEE inoculations in a massive fight against the disease that has entered Texas from Mexico and taken a high toll of equine animals in the past ten days. Owner Orville Tilger holds the certificate of immunization that every owner is required to have as his animal is inoculated by Dr. Martin Reynolds, DVM, of Levelland. Over 300 horses in the county will receive the shots, county agent Roy McClung stated

Morton eliminated in 'pitchers duel'

Superb pitching by Leo Rice just couldn't turn the trick and the Morton Little League All-Stars met their Waterloo and elimination from the district tournament Tuesday night by a strong Levelland club.

In the semi-final contest, Levelland edged Morton 3-0 in a real pitcher's duel. Levelland hurler Don Yarborough gave up only two hits, a single by Troy Patton and a double by Ricky Lewis. Morton pitcher Leo Rice was almost as effective, surrendering only three hits. One of these, however was a homer by Mark Hill and the others were a pair of singles by Teddy Bassye.

In the opening game of the tourney, Morton blasted Plains 18-0. Morton pitcher Rusty Lamar threw a six-hit shut out at Plains, striking out seven enroute. Heavy hitter for Morton was Steve Polvado with three singles. Morton first sacker Troy Patton hit a double.

First baseman Brad Palmer was the big man at bat for Plains with a pair of singles.

'Crazy day' to offer big variety

A full schedule of "Crazy Day" activities will be on tap in Morton Saturday, July 24.

Main features of the day will include outstanding bargains being offered by city merchants, free money drawings for a total of $105, a flea market and swap shop to be held all day and the giant monthly month due to there being no claimants for the regular second prize of $25 during the drawings in June. There will be three prizes of $50, $50 and $5, with the drawings to be held at 2 p.m., 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. on the courthouse square.

Mrs. James Mullinax was the lucky winner of $100 in the one drawings, with Mrs. Bula Woolam receiving the $10 prize and no one claiming the second prize of $25. The $25 will be doubled this time

Frontier downs Slaton, remains in Babe Ruth tourney competition

The best Frontier Babe Ruth all-star baseball team has run from very cold to victorious glow in the tournament presently underway in Morton.

They got off to a very shaky start in the second game of the tourney played at Lubbock Monday night. The local team came out on the short end of a 17-2 score at the hands of the big city club that reflected professional-like poise and experience.

The Lubbock nine capitalized on a rash of Frontier errors to compile their 17 runs on an eight hit attack. Frontier's three hit effort payed off with two runs in the fifth scored by Mark Fluit and Jerry Thompson for their only threat of the game.

Winning pitcher was Joe Norman and the losing hurler was Randy Keuhler.

In Tuesday night's opener, Frontier looked like a different ball club as they picked up Slaton by a score of 5-2. The local team outhit the Slatonites by five singles to three with a large part of their slugging coming in the sixth inning when Chuck Dupler, who singled in the first frame, slammed out a double and Mark Fluit aided the cause with a triple.

Bro Hightower blasted a home run for the losers in the fourth.

Winning pitcher was Jimmy Hargis, with Mike Lewis taking the loss.

Levelland, who was later to take the measure of Lubbock, opened the tournament Monday with a sparkling 5-1 win over Slaton. Winning pitcher Duane Hummel allowed only three safeties in racking up the first tourney win. The Levelland hitting ran to extra bases as only one of their six hits was for a single base.

Losing pitcher was Mike Lewis.

The Levelland club continued its winning ways in Tuesday's nightcap by putting down Lubbock 2-0 in a hard-fought game that saw Levelland out-hit their opponents five hits to two.

Rusty Weaver's two hit performance brought him winning pitcher honors, while Brad Bybee absorbed the loss.

AIMING FOR THE FENCE . . .

APPEARS TO BE the intention of this Lubbock Babe Ruth All-Star as he waits for the ball to come into reach of his eager bat. The action took place during the second game of the 13-15 year-old Babe Ruth All-Star tournament being played this week in Charles Hofman Park here. The Lubbock team was all business as it demolished the Frontiersmen by a score of 17-2. Frontier rebounded Tuesday to defeat Slaton and earn the right to meet Lubbock again.

Know the drug threat

(Sixth in a series)
Today's Subject: Heroin — Another Depressant

While discussing Heroin it is immediately alarming to parents to learn that most city, county and state arrests for Heroin, across the country, have increased from 100% to 250% in the past two years!

What is Heroin? Heroin is jacytimorphine, an alkaloid derived from morphine; it does not occur in opium. It is most usually a white, off-white or brown crystalline powder. It has for many years been first choice among addicts of opiates. In slang terms it is referred to as "H," "Big "H," "Smack," "Junk," "Dope." It is an injected, potent, highly addictive narcotic! Its possession is illegal.

Heroin has a generally sedative and analgesic effect. The first reaction to introducing it into the system is unpleasant to most people but a calming effect follows and, depending on how much is taken at a time, may very well progress to coma and death from respiratory failure.

TTU publications session scheduled for July 25-30

High school newspaper and yearbook staffers learn quickly about deadlines but there's one deadline they still have plenty of time to meet — that for enrolling in the 14th annual Summer High School Publications Workshop to be conducted on campus at Texas Tech University July 25-30.

The workshop, which annually attracts several hundred student journalists to Tech, features intensive training in three sections for yearbook, newspaper and photography.

Workshop director Ralph L. Sellmeyer, professor of journalism at Tech, said advance registration for participation in the photography section has already filled it to capacity due to limitations of space and equipment, but he emphasized that enrollment is continuing full speed ahead for students who can benefit greatly from training offered in the sections devoted to yearbook and newspaper.

"Today's society is making greater than ever demands on its newspapers and all other forms of print media," said Sellmeyer, "and the journalist — whether a New York Times reporter or a member of a high school newspaper or yearbook staff — is favored with greater than ever demands for professionalism."

That's exactly what this year's annual publications workshop at Texas Tech is all about, Sellmeyer added. Many adult sponsors of school newspapers and yearbooks are also expected and welcomed to attend to enhance their supervisory skills in these areas.

Special sections will be set up in the newspaper session to gather and write news stories on a competitive basis, and beginners as well as the more experienced will have equal opportunity to participate and learn during the week.

Specific emphasis will be placed on the main areas of newspaper journalism to be explored in workshop sessions devoted first to the basic question, "What Is News?," and then to editorial writing, headline writing and editing, make-up, interviewing and notes and features.

With Profs. Bob Rooker and Harmon Morgan of Tech's Department of Journalism serving as workshop supervisors, the instructional staff will be made up of skilled and experienced high school newspaper advisers including Jim Davidson of Robert E. Lee High School in Tyler, Ed Cole of San Angelo Central High School, Mrs. Nancy Crowley of Amarillo High School and Mrs. Evelyn Stredler of Crane High School.

As an added feature, for the first time this summer students participating in the workshop will produce their own special tabloid-sized newspaper which they will put together from beginning to end, from writing the stories and headlines to make-up.

Workshop coordinator Mrs. Jean Finley said Taylor Publishing Co. of Dallas will again conduct the yearbook section of the workshop, with company representative Harold Humes in charge. He will present workshopers with the latest in layout and copy techniques and provide visual aids for study.

In addition, a special staff will edit the summer yearbook which is produced annually for those attending the workshop. Mrs. Finley said those in the yearbook sessions will actually lay out sections of their own school's 1971-72 yearbook under direction of professional yearbook advisers, thus getting a jump on fall deadlines.

Along with the "work," there'll be plenty of recreation and social activity. Two dances with live bands providing the music have been scheduled, and a special beauty contest will recognize a "Miss Workshop" to be selected by a panel of judges and featured in the summer yearbook put out by those attending the yearbook section.

Another new feature has been added to this year's workshop in the form of a banquet to be held the final night. The evening events will include the presentation of Miss Workshop and awards from Taylor Publishing Co. and the Tech Department of Journalism.

For those students wishing to stay in one of Tech's air-conditioned dormitories, total cost for the workshop is $55 which includes registration fee, room and board and health fee. For registration only (no room and board) the fee is $21.

Additional general information concerning the workshop or registration procedures may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Jean Finley at the Texas Tech University Department of Journalism, P. O. Box 4000 Lubbock.

Putting Money in the Bank

... a bank you can draw on for customers, a job, friends in time of trouble, schools for your children, churches for spiritual help ... and the good life in this community ... where everybody is Somebody

Every time you spend a dollar in this community for goods and services, a substantial part of that dollar automatically becomes an investment in an enriched social and business life for YOU and your family and friends.

It's an investment you can draw on every day of your life ... an investment that pays big dividends in happiness and prosperity, as it strengthens and builds up the vitality of this area in which you live ... and in which YOU are important.

Contrast this with what the community-building and supporting part of your dollar does for you when you spend it away from home, send it to some mail order house, or surrender it to some migratory peddler.

It's gone. To support some other area ... to build up wealth that YOU can never draw on ... and to strengthen those who aggressively drain off the trade of your community ... to weaken your business, your schools and churches, to eliminate your job, and devalue your property.

Drug Threat . . .

A Heroin user will have "needle tracks," small needle marks on his body, most often on the arms over a vein. It can also be given in the legs. Abscesses (boils) often become apparent at the site of injections. Dirty needle diseases are common among users, such as hepatitis and nationally approach epidemic levels.

Most abusers, using Heroin, actually seem to have a dream-like disposition, but when in need of a "fix," (another dose), they become capable of aggressive and even violent behavior. Signs of use of Heroin, among others, are pinpoint pupils and a pale complexion. The body builds a tolerance for the drug and the user needs an increased dose regularly in order to achieve the same desired effect. Withdrawal pains occur when drug is not available. The psychological dependence on the drug makes the user THINK he needs the drug to function and he is extremely uncomfortable without it, once "hooked." Ex-addicts often return to the habit and the history of complete recoveries is disheartening to say the least.

Infection of the user's blood stream, lungs, and heart, can and often do result from Heroin injections. The lungs can have blood clots. When this type of infection occurs it is usually caused by bacteria that can be very resistant to treatment and therefore the death rate is very high.

Source for Heroin is the illegal "street market" and the cost is usually $3 to $5 per capsule. Physical dependence can cost from $20.00 to $200.00 per day.

What could possibly be appealing about the use of such a horrifying drug? To the user, the great appeal is that these drugs induce a sense of good feeling, depress or overcome emotional pain for a while and minimize feelings of fear, anxiety and tension. But, when it is so unmistakably evident that narcotics can become a way of life, consuming complete attention, energy and income, it is the duty of everyone, with any contact or influence with young people to educate them whenever possible about the FACTS surrounding drug misuse.

Be with me next week for more helpful information on drugs, their use and abuse.

Vaccination . . .

set up at the show barns where owners could bring their animals instead of the doctor having to travel to each farm and ranch separately. That would require too much time and slow down the program to a walk, he added.

There is no charge to the animal owner for the vaccine or for its administration by the vet. The federal government is underwriting the entire cost of the immunization program, both as to the cost of the vaccine and the veterinary services.

Dr. Nace, DVM, of Littlefield will be at the local rodeo grounds from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Thursday, today, to administer the vaccine to all animals that were not taken care of on Wednesday.

Dr. Reynolds stated that there are no strong restrictions on the use of the animals following the inoculation except that they should not be worked into a lather. Overheating could be very harmful, or even fatal, he said.

When questioned concerning the seriousness of breaking the quarantine, McClung responded that he didn't know specific punishment it carried, but had rumors that a $1,000 fine could be imposed and the possibility that the illegally moved animal could face destruction.

McClung stated that he understands that between 4,000 and 6,000 animals had died of the disease in Mexico and approximately 860 had died in Texas. These were figures for early this week and as of that time, he said he was quite sure that no cases had been reported north of San Antonio.

Horses that become sick or die following the vaccination should be reported to the county agent's office immediately, McClung stated, as he is required to make a daily status report on conditions to Austin. The information on the program compiled in Austin is forwarded to Washington where the combined reports of all five states effected are under study.

McClung stated that he expects between three and four hundred horses in the county to be inoculated at the completion of the program and emphasized strongly that all equine animals must be inoculated and urged all owners to have it done as soon as possible.

FIRST WELCOME RETURNS . . .

FRED CROW OF MORTON, right, welcomes a check proffered by Morton Industrial Foundation president Orville Tilger that represents the first returns on debentures purchased by Crow to help finance the Prairieland Packing Corp. plant that was purchased by the foundation and leased to the packing company on a lease-purchase agreement over a 15 year period. The 60 $500 debentures purchased by local citizens pay 8 1/2 percent interest for 15 years with a dividend payable every six months. Tilger handed out a large number of the dividend checks at last week's Lions Club meeting. With the Prairieland project nicely settled, the foundation can now turn to other areas of interest, Tilger stated.

Communications workers reject General offer

Communications Workers of America has rejected a General Telephone Company of the Southwest offer of a new contract, according to a joint news release by the union and the company.

The company made the offer last week with the union indicated that they had reviewed the package proposal and were rejecting it in its entirety. Reasons spelled out for the rejection were inadequate wage increases, retrogression in some benefits, non-acceptability of a three-year contract with wage reopening beginning in the third year, and inequities for females in wage schedules.

The company package offers included wage increases, improvements in hospitalization plan, increased company payment for hospitalization plan for employees and dependents, board and lodging and pension plan improvements.

Talks Thursday following the rejection also included discussion of classification of towns and wage rates, details of board and lodging and hospitalization plan improvements.

Negotiations are expected to continue.

Morton youths sharpen skills as photographers in Texas Tech course

Ellis Grimes and Richard Coleman from Morton were among some 30 students and a vice photographers who brought their picture taking skills and knowledge into focus during a special workshop conducted on the campus of Texas Tech University through last Friday.

The workshop was the first of two extra photography training sessions preceding the 14th annual Summer High School Publications Workshop soon to begin at Texas Tech.

According to Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Tech journalism professor and director of the annual workshops, training offered in the photography sessions is aimed not only at high school students and advisers who may be working on their school newspapers or yearbooks but also at other students and adults who simply want to learn how to take better pictures and correct processing and printing methods.

The session consists of four days of intense study and work on the basics of using a camera and doing darkroom work. Participants will also learn how to develop their own film and how to make their own contact prints and enlargements.

Farmers, ranchers in Texas receive drought relief funds

During the two weeks from June 14 through 27 the Farmers Home Administration disbursed $4.6 million in loan funds to 587 drought-affected farmers and ranchers in the State of Texas, according to a report to the President released early this week in Dallas by the Federal Inter-agency Drought Committee.

The report has been sent to President Nixon by George A. Lincoln, Chairman of the Committee in Washington which was established at the President's direction to accelerate and coordinate Federal assistance programs to the three dry Southwest states of Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

The committee is comprised of representatives from the Department of Agriculture, Department of Labor, Small Business Administration, Office of Management and Budget, and the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness. The Regional Committee is chaired by George E. Hastings, Director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness Southwest Region.

The report notes that 387 farmers and ranchers received FHA loans during the two-week period, bringing the total of loan recipients in Texas to 5,537 under the accelerated assistance program. FHA loan funds disbursed in Texas thus far total $96.5 million. Overall, FHA has made $90.7 million in loans throughout the three-state area.

The loans are in three categories: Emergency, Operating, and Ownership. Emergency loans are being used to pay for replacing livestock and equipment needed to restore operations affected by the drought.

Operating loans are being used by ranchers and farmers to buy livestock, equipment, feed, seed, fertilizer, poultry and supplies for farm and home operations. They also may be used to refinance debts or pay interest on them, pay depreciation on equipment, make minor real estate improvements, improve forest lands, or establish non-farm enterprises to supplement farm income.

Ownership loans are being used to refinance drought-related debts, buy lands, construct or improve buildings, improve farm land, develop water facilities, and establish farm-based business enterprises to supplement farm income.

In Texas, 223 emergency loans with a value of $1.3 million were disbursed during the June 14-27 period. Seven operating loans were disbursed, for $3.2 million in ownership loans were made to 157 farmers and ranchers.

The federal government has been subsidizing the purchase of feed grains to assist drought-affected stockmen in the three-state area. Thus far, 5,718 farmers and ranchers in Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma have purchased 23,422 tons of dry grain at about half the current market price.

During the two-week reporting period, 579 stockmen purchased 6,870 tons of dry grain. A total of 349 Texas residents purchased 4,549 tons.

Also during the two-week period, 1,928 tons of hay were transported by Southwest ranchers with two-thirds of transportation costs — up to $25 per ton — paid for by federal funds. To date, 234 farmers and ranchers in the three-state area have applied for and received this assistance to transport 4,482 tons of hay for their livestock.

An emergency conservation program has been initiated to permit the federal government to pay up to 80 per cent of costs for such conservation practices as water development, deep plowing, pipeline installation and water facility construction. During the last half of June, 3,133 applications for assistance under this program — 3,023 from Texas — were approved by the Department of Agriculture, bringing the total of approved applications for this drought aid to over 14,000, according to the report.

To further assist drought-area residents, the department recently deleted a requirement for a financial statement from applicants for the Livestock Feed Grain and Hay Transportation programs, Hastings pointed out.

The Regional Committee Chairman added that his staff has published a 16-page pamphlet that describes the various forms of assistance available to drought-area residents. He explained that copies may be obtained from County Agents, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Farmers Home Administration.
