Greene named No. 1 for '71

Outstanding citizens were named in four separate categories as the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce held its Tenth annual awards banquet in the schools cafeteria Saturday night.

A large crowd was on hand to voice their approval as Van Greene, Mrs. Leroy Johnson, Dan Keith, of Whiteface, and the Dalton Redman family were revealed as winners of the coveted awards. Greene was named Outstanding Citizen of 1971; Mrs. Johnson Outstanding Woman of the Year; The Redmans as Farm Family of the Year and Keith as Outstanding Conservation Farmer of the Year.

Bill Wells, outgoing chamber president, was presented with a plaque and a present by chamber members in appreciation of his services.

Featured speaker at the banquet was Keith Vaughn, economic development specialist with the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity in Austin. Vaughn spoke on the topic, "Which Way Up or Down" which dealt with the grave problems of the rural areas of Texas and what can be done to reverse the trend of migration from these areas to the metropolitan centers.

He warned that unless strong, positive action is taken now to slow the population losses and hold the youth in the rural areas, that in 20 years time there may not be a rural Texas.

Vaughn challenged chamber members to take action on such problems. He suggested, "You must take farmers, ranchers and businessmen into the problem. Often these elements of a community don't work together to meet common problems because of a lack of communication."

"In an area of more than 30 Texas counties north, south and east of Morton, only one county has gained population in the past 10 years. The others have lost 20 to 39 per cent of their people. They can't continue to lose such members and expect to survive in any fashion."

Vaughn said, "Rural areas face loss of adults and students. Businesses are closing, leaving empty buildings downtown. Farmers and ranchers are leaving their professions and there are no job opportunities in many communities."

He warned, "Some rural problems are so severe that local funds can't overcome them because of the loss of a local tax base. We need a new breed of men pounding on legislators' desks demanding solution of rural problems."

In introducing Greene as the citizen of the year, chamber president Wilcox gave

CAT SKINNERS DELUXE . . .

THE RATHER CARELESSLY CLAD group above are not holding hands because they are cold . . . they are celebrating the fact that they have just managed to skin a group of cats that have proven to be somewhat difficult in the past, namely the Dimmitt Bobcats. This was the game they looked forward to these many weeks and, they were just beginning to savor a great victory over an old nemesis. This win puts them presently in the drivers seat in district competition with a 5-0 record. The Tribe subsequently defeated Littlefield Tuesday to run their record to 6-0 and clinch a tie for the title in first half play in 3AA.

Indians turn 'Cats into 'kittens'

Ted Whillock and his Morton Indians had to wait 11 long months to gain their revenge for a last-second defeat in last year's district playoff by the Dimmitt Bobcats; and the Tribe wiped out the memory of that loss with a convincing 68-54 victory over the Cats. The win was a great team effort as the Morton squad had five players in double figures in the Friday night fracas.

The Indians again used a strong third quarter effort to propel them to victory. During this period the Tribe outscored Dimmitt 22-13 and moved out to a 50-35 lead going into the final 8 minutes. Coach Whillock and the Morton fans had some anxious moments in the action packed last quarter as both Elton Patton and Keith Embry left the game because of fouls.

The last half of the game found the Indians hitting their best percentage of the year, and it could not have come at a more opportune time. The Tribe hit on 16 of 25 shots from the field in the final two periods for a fantastic 64%.

The leading scorer for Morton was Embry who bombed the bucket for 16 points including several long range cannon shots. Patton popped in 13, Jimmy Harvey hit 12, Ted Thomas had 11, and Bryant Lewis added 10 points to round out the balanced scoring attack.

The victory puts the Indians in the driver's seat for the first half championship in the district race. Only winless Littlefield and Friona stand between the Tribe and undisputed possession of the top spot.

The fans also got an added bonus in the B-team game, as it took two clutch free throws by Kevin Franks in the last few seconds of play to lift the junior Indians to a 60-56 win. The game was close throughout with the lead changing hands several times.

Mike Gilliam scored 21 points to lead the B-teamers, and he was aided by Jerry Sihhan with 16 points and Mark Fluit with 13.

Public hearings on county salaries, grievances slated

The Cochran county commissioners' court room will be the scene of two public meetings within the next week, both of which will deal with salaries for county employees, and neither of which would have been possible a short month ago.

One meeting will be a public hearing before a grievance committee for the purpose of hearing complaints by employees seeking adjustments in their salary scale. The second will be a commissioners court hearing on the feasibility of raising the salaries of elected officials.

The reason neither could have been held a month ago is because there was no provision for them in the large jumble of state laws pertaining to compensation for county employees. All previous state laws dealing with this area were repealed by the Legislature in 1971 and one composite measure, House Bill 385, was passed which combines them all and puts the setting of county salaries squarely in the hands of the commissioners court.

The bill also sets up a nine-man grievance committee composed of four public members and five members drawn from the ranks of county elected officials. The four public members are drawn by lot from the previous year's grand jury list.

Cotton harvest nearing windup, 85-90 percent claimed out of fields

The Levelland area cotton harvest was about eighty to ninety percent complete early this week according to C. R. Wharton, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton classing office in Levelland.

Most gin managers reported that they have only a few hundred more bales to gin.

The U.S.D.A. Classing Office at Levelland classed 11,770 samples during the week ending Friday, January 14th, bringing the season's total to 72,000. At this date last year the 1970 harvest was complete and samples from 128,000 bales had been classed.

Grades of the cotton classed at the Levelland office were about the same as those of the previous week.

Low Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade with 30 per cent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted made up 24 per cent. Strict Low Middling Spotted 12 per cent and Low Middling Spotted 21 per cent. Fifty-six per cent was reduced in grade because of bark.

Staples were predominantly 29 to 31. Forty-seven per cent had a staple length of 29, 30 per cent stapled 30 and 6 per cent was 31.

Only one per cent of the cotton "miked" in the Levelland office was in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, 5 per cent "miked" 3.3 and 3.4, 27 per cent 3.0 through 3.2, 43 per cent was 2.7 through 2.9 and 24 per cent was 2.6 and below.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported increased trading in the new crop cotton. Cotton prices fluctuated during the week but ended the week $5.00 per bale lower. Prices ranged from 28 to 32 cents with most cotton selling between 29 and 31 cents.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.0 to 3.2 micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 30 — 31.05, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 31 31.20, Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 30 — 30.65, Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 31 30.85, Low Middling Spotted, Staple 30 — 29.60 and Low Middling Spotted, Staple 31 29.60.

Prices paid farmers for cotton seed ranged from $42 to $70 per ton.

a brief resume of his long list of community services, not only for the award year of 1971, but for the many years since he moved to Morton in 1946. He cited schools, community, service organizations, city government and as immediate past president of the Morton Industrial Foundation which brought the Owen Brothers Feed Lot, Prairieland Packing Company and the Morton By-products industries to the Morton area.

A large number of Greene's family members and relatives were on hand to make a surprise appearance when his award was announced.

In her introduction of Mrs. Johnson as outstanding woman of the year, Mrs. Neal Rose cited her long career of service to her community at all levels of activity. Presently president of the Caprock District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which encompasses over 80 clubs and 1,500 members, she has utilized the resources of these clubs in furthering good works among youth organizations in the area. Her efforts on behalf of Girlstown USA are especially noteworthy.

"Her history of public service goes back many years, and these activities as well as her contributions to our community in 1971, more than qualifies her for the title of Outstanding Woman of the Year," Mrs. Rose concluded.

Mrs. Johnson's husband Leroy, son Briley, of Dallas and daughter Mrs. Truett Latumer, of Austin, were present to share the honors with her.

The Dalton Redmans, Farm Family of the Year, are not only earnest farmers and stock raisers, but take a very active part in community affairs as well. Moving to this area in 1966, the Redmans now farm 1,300 acres and raise cattle commercially. They are active members of the First Baptist Church. Redman serves on the board of directors of the FHA, is a member of the Morton Industrial Foundation and is on the cotton committee of the National Farm Organization. Mrs. Redman is president of the YM Study Club of Morton, is assistant leader of the third grade Blue Birds and is a member of the Last Frontier Cotton Council. The Redman children are Karen, 9, a third grader and Darrell, 6, a first grader. Dan Keith, Outstanding Conservation Farmer of 1971, runs a large farm in the Whiteface area on which he practices the very best in soil and water conservation measures. George Martin, director of Cochran Soil and Water Conservation District, stated in his introduction.

He has recently installed over 900 feet of underground irrigation pipeline, constructed 75,130 feet of parallel terraces and has carried out a comprehensive cropping system designed to keep the land in the peak of production. Martin said. His conservation methods are a model to be studied by others in learning to utilize their soil and water resources to the utmost, Martin concluded.

Keith is assisted in his farm activities by his wife, Sandra and five children. New chamber officers also were introduced during the banquet. They are: Wayne Wilcox, president; James St. Clair, vice president; Carl Proctor, secretary; and James Dewbre, treasurer.

ACORNS AS A FOOD? — Several graduate students at Texas A&M University are studying acorns for potential human use. And they are using a panel of squirrels as taste testers. The study involves taste and nutrition, and developing a processing technology to cheaply and quickly remove bitterness found in nearly all acorns.

IN APPRECIATION...

BILL WELLS, outgoing president of the Morton Area Chamber of Commerce, receives a token of appreciation for his excellent service from incoming president Wayne Wilcox at the Chamber of Commerce banquet held here Saturday night. Wells, who has served as president for over a year, will remain as a member of the Board of governors.

Tuesday night, following the sweet Dimmitt victory, the Tribe came alive in the 2nd half to rip off an 85-31 drubbing of the outclassed Littlefield Wildcats. The tenacious Indian defense caused the Wildcats to give up the ball 28 times and many times they were able to score easy baskets after a seemingly effortless steal by one of the quick-handed Tribesmen.

Coach Whillock's Warriors continued their superb shooting from the floor as they connected on 49 of their field goal attempts. Elton Patton topped all scorers with 24 points. Ted Thomas added 19 points and Jimmy Harvey chipped in with 16.

The Tribe now owns a 19-4 ledger for the year and is 6-0 in district and the Indians next travel to Friona in an attempt to wrap up the first half of the district scramble.

On the JV game Mark Fluit ripped the nets for 19 points as the Morton squad rolled to a 67-28 waltz over the junior Wildcats.

The Veterans Administration is urging veterans to take 22-week courses in water pollution control now available at nine community and technical colleges around the country.

Public hearings...

The county judge sits as chairman of a committee but has no vote. Purpose of committee is to hear grievances and take action when it is deemed warranted.

The grievance committee hearing will take place Friday, January 21, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the commissioners court room. Public members drawn to serve for one year here are Ira Brown, O. Huckabee, Eddie Lewis and Edward Debre. Elected members include Jack Walker, county attorney; Leonard Gross, tax assessor/collector; Bill Crone, county treasurer; Hazel Hancock, sheriff; J. Vinson, county clerk and Glenn Thompson, county judge, chairman.

The new law and its resultant procedure became effective January 1, 1972, since that time several employees have submitted written grievances, thus bringing about the meeting Friday night.

The commissioners court hearing on the raising of salaries for elected county officers is scheduled for Monday, January 24 in the commissioners court room. Both meetings are open to the public.

Dentists can now keep abreast of advances in dental treatment through color and sound film provided by the Veterans Administration.

BY BILL SAYERS

Little things mean a lot . . . at least that is the way the song goes . . . and, by jingles, we agree. Considering that everything, as the age old saying goes, is relative, we would like to mention a relatively according to whom is speaking) small thing in the way of athletics that took place on the weekend.

We'll bet that you have already figured it out that what we are talking about is the glorious victory of good over evil which resulted in the 24-3 mishap of the Dallas Cowboys over the Miami Dolphins. Sorry, you couldn't be more wrong.

While the triumph of the intrepid band of Shakespearean prima donna thespians of the Texas Stadium Opera house was something of a turf-shaking event, it could in no way compare with the drama, hysteria, self fulfillment and deep-down satisfaction that ran its course in the Morton High School gym Friday night as the Indians skinned the Damdimmit Bobcats. "Enough is enough," the Tribe decreed, and they smote their long-time tormenters hip and thigh. It was a sweet victory, considering that the same team beat us out by one point and four seconds in district last year — and a possible state championship.

It was a remarkably easy win but, we still have to face them on their home court in the second half of district play — and that may not be the easiest cat in the world to skin.

So, Indians, keep that momentum going, play them one at a time and we'll bet that we are all going to have ourselves a vacation in Austin come March!

We really didn't mean to get off the basketball theme all that — quick, as we had a very important observation to make and that is simply the fact that a state tournament class basketball team has proven to be one of the very best things that can happen to a community.

We learned that very well in the spring of 1970 when our boys went all the way to Austin — and equited themselves rather well. We were fairly new in Morton at the time, but we will never forget the great optimism, unity of spirit and what a really beautiful time we and many, many others had in forming a literal convoy of Morton citizens for the long 300 and more miles to Austin. We had a community totally united behind a small unit of outstanding performers and we were as proud as could be of them, and all felt a part of the over-all effort. It was a lovely era in Morton.

We would like to pledge ourselves — and hope that a large number of local citizens will join us — in giving these boys our all-out support and, if they are so fortunate, follow them to the Texan Dome, the Tech Coliseum and all the way to Gregory Gym in Austin. If they don't get out of the district, however, we'll still be just as proud of them.

"The Constitution does not provide for first and second class citizens." Wendell — Lewis Willkie.

Ole' George Wallace sure caught them flatfooted didn't he He was half way down the track before the Democratic party got out of the starting gate. By entering the Florida primary as a Democrat, —he has thrown the whole apparatus into a tizzy. When you can get the "great Stone face" of the Demo party chairman O'Brien shook up, it's got to go in your favor. And you don't have to take our word for it, he is shook.

The consensus by inside political observers indicates that if he does real well in the Florida primary and maybe one or two more, that Wallace will split from the party again and run under his American Independent Party banner thus confounding both the Democrats and Republicans. We believe that he has never abandoned his primary goal of throwing the election into the House of Representatives.

This sounds like pure sour grapes from here — we feel that fun and games with our national government is not an acceptable form of recreation. Wallace has been saying many things that need to be said and things that are music to the ears of we "silent majority WASPS" who have been so long besieged by taxations without representation, overcontrolling by big government, etc., but talk won't do it. We need positive programs that will work.

Sages down through the ages have reiterated the maxim that "everything is relative," and we, with our limited knowledge and experience in the ways of the world are in no position to contradict the point. In line with this precept it has been advocated that the small pump that brings great distress to an infant causes little or no concern for the adult. Can this not also be applied to the small community as opposed to the larger metropolitan areas

We are striving, of course, to relate the loss of a valuable citizen in our small community to the comparative loss in a larger city and how important that person would have to be to equate our loss. Considering that in a small community, every individual has his niche, slot or what you may call it, and is known more or less intimately by all the other citizens, gives him a special importance.

When a town the size of Morton loses a highly valuable and well-regarded citizen, gives him a special importance, that must be absorbed by the entire community. We lost such a citizen Saturday week when James McClure was accidentally killed in a home workshop accident. His loss has created a void in this community that will take a long time in filling.

We claim nothing more than a warm business acquaintance with Jim McClure, but being in the newspaper business, we try to keep up with both persons and events in our community and we have a good deal of knowledge of Jim and his works — every bit of which prove out first rate.

The conduct of his life and his business activities indicate that Jim was motivated entirely by a love of his family, his church, his fellow man and the betterment of his community. He leaves behind a record to be imitated by generations to come, and for his family to cherish in his memory.

Mr. A. M. Tewksbury writes in the Oregon Voter Digest: "The U.S.'s careless way with its balance of international payments is often criticized by contemptuous Europeans. They conveniently forget that $19.1 billion of their World War I debts to the U.S. remain unpaid. Then our government has loaned $46 billion in taxpayers money to other countries in the period 1939-71. Of that $27.6 billion hasn't been repaid. If these Europeans would get busy and pay us these huge sums, our balance of payments would be very healthy indeed."

Our congratulations are extended to all who were involved in making the annual Chamber of commerce banquet such a success Saturday night. We especially single out Bill Wells, outgoing president; Wayne Wilcox, incoming president; John Coffman, master of ceremonies and last, but not the least bit least, good ole' Tennie Wall, chamber secretary, who spent so much time and effort on the project. (And a special thank you to Opal Massey who catered the dinner! That roast biff was delicious).

The choice of a speaker was excellent and the entertainment he brought with him was on a par with his address. We would say that it was an all-around good show — one that will take some topping next year.

Wynne, Ark., Progress: "One of the old sayings is that 'words will never hurt you' but I'm not so sure that words are not to blame for some of our social problems of today. In the past, a person who used drugs habitually was known as a 'dope fiend' and was considered an out-cast from society, a degraded person to

'Garden in Glass' program for club

Mrs. J. L. Thomas presented a program on "Gardens in Glass" for the LeFleur Garden Club January 13 in the home of Mrs. Don Samford.

Mrs. Thomas told the members that glass gardens could be grown in many sizes and shapes of containers but clear glass is preferred to colors. She also stated that many varieties of plants can be grown from mosses to miniature pines. "The object of a terrarium is to create a miniature landscape. This can be achieved by adding pools, streams, hills and mountains," Mrs. Thomas concluded.

In the business meeting, following the program, Mrs. Samford reported that the Club won 2nd place in the Community Christmas Window Decorating Contest. Members voted to plant a shade tree on the Cochran Memorial Hospital grounds for Arbor Day.

Mrs. L. Z. Scoggins, Mrs. E. R. Fincher and Mrs. W. A. Woods were named by the president, Mrs. Olin Darland, to form a nominating committee for new officers. Attending the meeting were: Mmes Woods, Darland, Roy Hill, Scoggins, Thomas, Samford and Miss Lessye Ward.

The next meeting will be January 27 in the home of Mrs. Hill. A workshop will be held on making corsages of dried material.

be avoided a written off as a human being. Now, a drug-user is an 'addict' which is a pussyfooting term that somehow carries less stigma. There's even a little glamor attached to today's dope fiend, though he's still the same type of individual who has ended his useful life."

There are a couple of public meetings coming up on the county level that any Cochran county citizen interested in his local government can hardly afford to miss. The first is tonight, Thursday, January 20, at 7:30 in the county commissioners court room and the other will be at 10 a.m., Monday, January 24, also, we presume, in the same location.

The first meeting is a grievance meeting for the purpose of a recently appointed grievance committee to rule on certain pay inequities claimed by county employees and elected officials. The issues involved are not simple and involve wage price control regulation limits versus wage demands/requests, etc. This will probably go into executive session and throw all of us citizens out who is legal — but you may be sure we will be there for the preliminary bouts.

The second meeting, also concerning raises in compensation for all elected officials of the county, will be held January 24. We wouldn't care to tip our hand on the matter, but after carefully studying the entire schedule of salaries, we feel to find an over-paid employee in county government. We will suffice it to say if you are going to attract competent employees and elected officials, you must offer a compensation schedule that first get them and then keep them.

ASCS Farm News

JOHN W. HALL, CED

S. wheat producers are being offered an additional option to voluntary set-aside cropland in 1972. Since the 1972 program was announced on July 1971, wheat exports prospects have improved with the uncertainty of the dock. In addition, farmers harvested a record 1971 crop. To meet these changed conditions, the U. S. Department of Agriculture today authorized additional voluntary set aside of wheat cropland equivalent up to 75 percent of a farm's domestic allotment, in a move aimed at preventing excessive production of wheat in 1972. The payment rate will be 34 cents per bushel times the farm's established yield times the acreage voluntarily set aside.

The 1972 national domestic wheat allotment is 19.7 million acres, and the required set aside acreage necessary to qualify for program participation is 83 percent of the farm domestic allotment — the maximum provided by law.

Target of the voluntary set aside acreage program announced today is a reduction of possibly five to six million acres in the 1972 harvest.

A spring wheat producer now can offer acreage for voluntary set aside provided his 1972 planting plus additional set aside do not exceed the total acreage planted to wheat in 1971. The acreage offered must be average quality land.

Producers of winter wheat, who already have planted their 1972 crop on 42.2 million acres, can designate acreage for set aside if it is acreage planted to wheat and the growing wheat is of average quality for the farm. The planted winter wheat cropland voluntarily set aside from production in 1972 can be used for grazing or otherwise disposed of by the certification dates established by State ASC Committee or, if pastured, by the beginning of the non-grazing periods which vary from state to state. This is in accordance with the Agricultural Act of 1970, and is the same procedure followed in previous program years.

In the winter wheat area, producers at program sign up time will need to designate the acreage involved. Spot checks of the acreage will begin immediately following sign up.

Mrs. Johnny Vasquez

Reyes-Vasquez exchange vows in Catholic Church

St. Ann's Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Rosalinda Reyes and Johnny Vasquez. The Rev. David Greka officiated the December 25th double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Polo Reyes and Mrs. Juanita Vasquez.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white bridal taffeta with Alencon lace overlay made by her mother. Rows of Alencon lace ruffles were featured on the full hoop skirt. The bodice, fashioned with long, lace puffed sleeves, ended in a V below the normal waistline and was accented with a high collar. She wore white net gloves and carried a cascade of white feathered carnations. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was edged in lace and gathered in tiers to a tiara of sequins and seed pearls.

HD Agent report

The password to men's fashions this spring echoes easy-care, wrinkle resistant knit.

Today's knit garments resemble conventional woven material but has "give" and "stretch" qualities. Men can bend, stretch, and sit freely in knit clothes. And knits are immune to travel fatigue since the fabric will not bunch or bind.

Knit garments for men are available in almost all types and sizes. Markets are stocked with knit ties, dress shirt, pants, and sport coats, and suits. And manufacturers promise even more knits for future styles.

When shopping for knits check the fabric. Double knit fabrics offer built-in give, while knits bonded to other materials limit natural give. Knit fabrics also vary from sheer nylon tricot, to heavy, bulky sweater knits of acrylic or wool, to firmly knit fabrics.

If a knit garment is lined, you should check the lining fabric. A single knit or tricot is best. A woven lining reduces the knit's natural ease.

Hangtags indicate fiber content of knit fabrics and often suggest quality. Some labels name the licensed trademark of a material, such as Avril, Fortrel, or Kofabric used in the garment has passed difficult tests to meet specific standards.

Knits also top the list of fabrics in popularity because of their minimum care qualities. Depending on fiber content and lining, most knit garments can be washed at home. And since knits resist wrinkles, the fabric remains attractive for long periods between cleanings.

When machine washing knits, use the permanent press cycle with gentle agitation. Use a warm water wash and cold rinse. Since static electricity is inherent in man-made fibers, use a fabric softener in the final rinse.

When drying, use the permanent press cycle and low heat; man-made fibers soften when heated. Do not overdry.

Sorting is also important for proper laundering. Sort by color because new knits may bleed the first few washes. Sort by weight so that each load consists of garments requiring similar drying times. Overdrying can then be avoided.

Removing oil stains, such as body oils, lipstick or salad dressing, require only a few simple steps for knits. Turn the garment wrong side out over an absorbent towel. Apply a small amount of dry-cleaning solvent to the spot. The towel underneath will help draw the stain away. Follow the solvent with an application of liquid detergent to keep the solvent from forming a ring. Then follow regular laundry procedures.

Discussion of more restrictive payments set at ginners meet

What's next for cotton under the threat of more restrictive government payment limitations will be the theme of an address at the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association annual meeting in Dallas January 24.

B. J. Mikeska, Eola, president of the state-wide ginners organization, outlined the program for the fifty-ninth convention. The event opens with a trade show in Dallas Memorial Auditorium January 23. Business sessions are planned for January 24.

Albert Russell of Memphis, Tenn., executive vice president of the National Cotton Council and a key figure in development of federal legislation affecting cotton, will speak to Association members. He is expected to discuss the future of payment limitations as well as what cotton can expect in government program regulations during the coming years. The production of cotton through a payment program.

Also on the program, beginning at 9:45 a.m., will be a special panel of authorities on cotton gin safety engineering. B. G. Reeves, Extension ginning engineer at Texas A&M University, College Station; Ken Chaffe, San Antonio, safety engineer with Cornwall & Stevens; and Jerry Cooper, Lubbock, district engineer with Texas Employers Insurance Association, will discuss compliance by gin under the federal and state occupational safety and health laws.

Albert Russell was one of the industry leaders who worked on passage of the present farm bill in 1970 and maintains close daily contact with representatives of the Department of Agriculture, as well as members of Congress in the administration of the farm programs. Tony Price, executive vice president of the ginners' association, said Russell is one of the ten best informed individuals on conditions which will dictate the writing of future farm bills, including legislation covering limitation of payments.

In the past few weeks, Russell has worked with other industry leaders to secure a liberalization of the 1972 program to insure additional acreage for Texas cotton farmers.

He joined the National Cotton Council staff in 1946 as assistant to the executive vice president. He later became administrative vice president and was appointed to the chief executive post in 1969.

Russell is a native of Oxford, Miss., and a graduate of the University of Mississippi.
