Cotton harvest completion nears; tops million bales

The South Plains cotton harvest passed one million bale mark this week, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of U.S.D.A.

Samples from 1,012,000 bales of cotton have been received by the Lubbock, Brownsville, Lamesa and Levelland office through Friday, January 21st.

Sample receipts began a gradual decline as the harvest neared completion. Cause of this decline in sample receipts the seasonal office at Levelland advised on Friday, January 21st, he received cotton from the Levelland area to be classed in Lubbock.

Estimates indicate that 90 to 95 per cent of the South Plains crop is now out of fields.

Samples from 118,000 bales were classed in the four area U.S.D.A. classing offices during the week ending Friday, January 21st. This brought the total classed season to 987,000, compared to 1,620,000 at this time last year.

Low Middling Light Spotted was the dominant grade at Lubbock last week at 41 per cent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted made up 23 per cent, Strict Low Middling Spotted 18 per cent and Low Middling Spotted 12 per cent.

Samples were predominantly 29 to 31. Fifty-seven per cent had a staple length of 29, 55 per cent stapled 30 and 11 per cent was 31.

Only two per cent of the cotton "miked" in the Lubbock office was in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.3, 5 per cent "miked" 3.3 and 3.4, 26 per cent 3.0 through 3.2, 42 per cent was 2.7 through 2.9 and 25 per cent was 2.6 and below.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported a decline in trading on the Lubbock market as the harvest neared completion. Cotton prices were steady. Prices ranged from 28 to 32 cents with most cotton selling between 29 and 31 cents.

Average prices for the most predominant qualities in the 3.0 to 3.2 micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 29 — 30.15, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 30 — 30.45, Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 29 — 29.70, Low Middling Light Spotted, Staple 30 — 30.05, Low Middling Spotted, Staple 29 — 29.40 and Low Middling Spotted, Staple 30 — 29.75.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed ranged from $40 to $70 per ton with most prices in the $48 to $54 range.

One dead, two hurt in Bledsoe highway accident Sunday

Roberto Garcia, 24, of Morton, was pronounced dead at the scene of a one-car accident an estimated 1 1/2 miles west of Bledsoe at approximately 2:30 a.m. Sunday, according to police reports.

Two men riding with him, both of Morton, were seriously injured and were recovering in Cochran Memorial Hospital Wednesday. Joe Cabazuela was in serious condition with head injuries and Amato Tavarez was in fair condition suffering from a broken arm and other injuries.

The accident occurred when their vehicle, reported to be a 1964 Plymouth, failed to negotiate a curve, left the highway and struck the embankment of a barrow ditch. The vehicle was reported to have turned over numerous times, completely destroying itself.

Garcia was pronounced dead at the scene by Cochran County Justice of the Peace Joe Gipson, who conducted an inquest into the death. The other two men were transported to the hospital in Morton by ambulance.

DPS patrolman T. A. Rowland investigated the accident.

School board election scheduled for April 1

The date for the 1972 school board election was set for Saturday, April 1, 1972 as the deadline for filing for a position for March 2, 1972. The dates were set for the regular monthly meeting of the Morton Independent School District Board Education meeting Monday night.

In other business, the board voted unanimously to extend the contract of Morton schools superintendent Bob E. Travis one year with in-district expense remaining the same as it is now. The extension makes the superintendent's contract effective to July 1975.

The resignation of Miss Sharon Michl from the teaching staff effective December 31, 1971 was accepted by the board. The hiring of Miss Cheryl McDaniel to teach the fourth grade was approved.

Workman named as Lubbock's outstanding young man of '71

Former resident of Morton who is presently a member of the board of directors of the First State Bank here has been named Outstanding Young Man of Lubbock for 1971 by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce. Don Workman, 34, a graduate of the First National Bank of Lubbock and member of the board of directors of the Morton bank, was honored by the Lubbock Jaycees at their Dinner.

Approximately 75 persons attended.

"This award is presented to the young man in the community who has excelled in all areas," Jaycee officials said, including "community service, church and civic work and family dedication."

Workman, a Texas Tech University graduate, will be presented in statewide competition for possible selection as one of Texas' Five Outstanding Young Men honorees, Gandy said.

The recipient received his master's degree in agricultural economics from Texas A&M University in 1962 and has since been active in community service.

Workman was associated with the Morton bank from 1963-66, serving as a vice-president, and returned as a board of director member in early 1971.

The Jaycee president, George Gandy, announced the selection of Workman for the award which was presented by Mayor James Granberry, keynote speaker for the ceremonies and recipient of the honor in 1964.

Cake-a-thon

The annual March of Dimes Cake-a-thon will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday. KARAN will be broadcasting from the LeFleur Flower Shop on East Washington.

Ron Mayberry, chairman, urges everyone to bake a cake and participate in the auction for this worthy cause. "Last year we broke the record with $1200, and this year, we plan to set a new one", Mayberry stated.

Flu 'bug' closes city schools

All Morton schools were closed, hospital patients were overflowing into the corridors and the sale of remedies for colds and the flu were proceeding at a brisk pace this week as the illness reached epidemic proportions after a two to three week buildup.

Superintendent Bob E. Travis announced the closing of the Morton schools from Monday, January 24 until Monday January 31 after the number of absentees among students and teachers alike had reached prohibitive levels. He reported that absences were running above one hundred a day by the end of last week and had risen to 170—or 16-17 percent of the enrollment — by Monday morning.

Following consultation on the matter with Dr. N. L. Dubberly of Cochran Memorial Hospital, the decision was made to close the schools for one week in the hope that the flu attacks, which appear to be of a relatively short duration in most cases, would have run their course by the end of a week and a sufficient number of students and teachers would be recovered, warranting their reopening.

Travis ruled that both basketball games scheduled for this week in Morton would be played, and the Tuesday night game against Abernathy was played before an average crowd. The game against Floydada, which is scheduled for Friday night is considered to be of a much more crucial nature in district play and will undoubtedly attract a much larger audience than the Abernathy game. The form of flu presently suffered here is described by medical officials as being highly contagious and can spread rapidly through any gathering.

An informal survey around Morton made by the Tribune indicates that the flu "bug" had made its presence known in just about every area of community life. Stores and business houses are having difficulty in keeping sufficient personnel on hand to operate their businesses. A shortage of workers is noted everywhere and a large majority of those interviewed indicated that they are presently stricken with the flu or have suffered from it in the recent past.

No deaths directly attributable to the flu had been reported to the Tribune by press time, but a substantial number of very serious illnesses that could eventually cause death have been reported. Every available bed in Cochran Memorial Hospital was reported filled early this week, with additional patients awaiting space. There was also a substantial number of local citizens reported traveling to Lubbock and Levelland for treatment.

WHERE ACTION IS HOTTEST . . .

MORTON INDIAN BRYANT LEWIS, No. 40, goes high in the air to contest a rebound with Danny Ebeling of the Dimmitt Bobcats in a crucial district game played here Friday in which the Tribe came out on the long end of the score by 14 points. Ebeling, as which Morton rooster can never forget, dunked a 20 footer with four seconds to go in the district playoffs last year to defeat Morton by one point which sent them up the ladder to bi-district and regional play. This game brought the Tribe's record to 18-4 for the season and 5-0 in district competition.

Tribe closing in on 3-AA crown

The Morton Indians took a giant step toward getting into post-season play-off action by capturing a resounding 73-47 victory over the host Friona Chieftains last Friday night. The win gave the Tribe a 7-0 record in district play and brought with it the championship of the first-half of conference activities.

The Indians jumped out to a 25-11 first quarter margin thanks to a fantastic 70 shooting percentage in the opening period of play. The big surge was led by Elton Patton who dropped 12 points through the hoop in the first 8 minutes.

The Tribe's shooting dropped off to 50 for the 2nd quarter but they were still able to pull out to a 43-25 margin at intermission.

The 3rd period, which in the last few games had been the Indians' strong quarter, almost became a period of grief for the Morton squad. The black and gold warriors came out and hit five quick points, but for the next three or four minutes the Tribe couldn't buy a bucket. Then the mighty mite, Keith Embry, came through with 3 straight baskets to get Morton back to the business at hand.

Patton finished the game with 22 points to lead all scorers. Embry added 16, Ted Thomas had 11 and Bryant Lewis had 10.

In the B-team game, the Tribe came out on top in a hard-fought contest 33-48. Mark Fluitt and Mike Gilliam topped the Indian point makers with 12 and David Barrera had 10.

Tuesday night Morton began second-half action in district play just as they did the first-half that being a big win over the Abernathy Antelopes. The victory becomes even more important since Floydada, the Indian's opponent Friday night, defeated Dimmitt 56-52 Tuesday.

Abernathy's pressure tactics on defense caused the Tribe to have to take longer shots than normal and as a result the Indian's shooting percentage fell to 30 for the 1st half of the game, but the Antelopes were not doing much better and were behind 32-21 at the end of two quarters of play.

The last-half found the contest just reversed as the Tribe got its pressuring defense in gear and were able to completely dominate action in the final 16 minutes of play.

The Indians again had a balanced scoring attack with 3 players in double figures. They were paced by Embry who burned the nets for 21 points. Elton Patton popped in 19 and Ted Thomas hit 13. Patton grabbed off 11 rebounds in the game and had 4 blocked shots to his credit.

The junior varsity game was a spintangler as Abernathy's Martin hit a 15-foot jump shot at the buzzer ending an

Voter registration holds own despite deadline drop

There is no longer a deadline for registering to vote, but registration at the tax-assessor-collector's office is at about the same point or possibly ahead of the number who had registered last year when the deadline was the last day of January.

Voters are urged to get their registration in since this is an election year. Under the new system, a person eligible to vote must register 30 days before an election.

Last year the 18-19 and 20-year olds who registered were kept separate from those 21-year-old and over, but this year there is no reason to separate the newly enfranchised young voters since they can vote in city, county and district elections as well as state and national.

This year may be the last year voters have to register, if they exercise their voting rights. Under the new state law, when a person registers now it will be for three years. Then by voting in any election during those three years, the registration is automatically renewed for another three years.

Applications for registration were mailed out with tax statements. Registering is a very simple matter if these applications are signed and brought in or mailed to the tax office.

Several county officials' terms are expiring this year. The primary election will be May 6. Then the general election will be in November.

The tax assessor-collector's office will mail extra voter registration forms if necessary.

Those who are about to become 18 years old may register 30 days before their 18th birthday, or any time thereafter.

There is no single voter registration deadline under the new system, but each election carries its own deadline.

The county has to have its first voter registration list ready by March 1, so voters are urged to register as soon as possible.

Measures to reduce cotton root rot is given by specialist

Cotton farmers throughout much of the state must contend with cotton root rot each year. But through certain management practices, the disease can be controlled or at least reduced.

"Deep plowing, early planting and crop rotation all help reduce cotton root rot," says Dr. Walter Walla, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Deep plowing is one of the oldest practices for reducing the disease and is most effective following harvest. Using a mold board plow at a rapid pace will invert the plow layer and expose the disease-causing fungus to the air.

Early planting is especially effective in certain areas of the state, points out Walla. If a crop can be matured in the Blacklands by the middle of July, it will escape most of the damage from cotton root rot.

Rotating cotton with grain sorghum and oats will also help reduce the disease, adds the plant pathologist. Crop rotation is especially effective when combined with deep plowing of crop residues.

he culprit causing the cotton disease is a fungus that lives in the soil. It can survive for long periods and grows on cotton or other susceptible crops when they are planted in an infested area. According to Walla, once the fungus begins to grow, it sends strands toward the soil surface which attack plants at the ground line. The plants are girdled and die rapidly.

"Proper management practices will help fight cotton root rot so that the crop can be economically grown," stressed Walla.

The Veterans Administration employs more than 11,500 Vietnam era veterans, including a record 5,500 hired under Veterans Readjustment Appointment Authority.

"You're lucky—your mom only expects you to be president...mine expects me to get an 'A' in math."

Feedlot veterinarian appointed to serve Panhandle region

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has appointed an area feedlot veterinarian to serve the Panhandle region. He is Dr. Gene E. Cope who formerly was in private practice in Hereford.

"Cope is filling a new position which was created to serve the area's rapidly growing feedlot industry," noted Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Extension Service, in announcing the appointment. The Panhandle is now feeding about 2.4 million head of cattle a year, and animal health is a critical aspect of the industry. Statewide, 3.7 million head of cattle were fed in 1971.

The veterinarian will provide specialized assistance to feedlots to combat costly disease problems, said Hutchison. The estimated cost of diseases to the Texas feedlot industry is more than $8 million a year. Cope will also be devoting some time to swine disease control.

Cope is a native of Sterling City where he was reared on a ranch. He received his doctor of veterinary medicine degree from Texas A&M University in 1959. He served as a student assistant in San Angelo during the summer of 1958 and as an assistant veterinarian in Clarendon in 1959. He has been in private practice in Hereford for the past 12 years and has served as a consultant to feedlots on animal health problems.

The veterinarian is a member of the American and Texas Veterinary Medical Associations and the Southwestern Cattle Feeders Association. He holds Honorary FFA degrees from the Dimmitt and Hereford FFA chapters.

Others include Sunday school teacher at First Baptist Church, president of the Baptist Young Men, deacon of the First Baptist Church, board of overseers Ranch Headquarters Association, American Red Cross advisory committee and many other church, civic, city and state committees and boards, Jaycees said.

"Don's interest and love for agricultural activities has accounted for his many accomplishments in this area. In 1955 he was named the World's Champion Junior Cowboy and in 1958 he was selected as an Intercollegiate Champion Bullrider. He is a major partner and principal owner of various farming and ranching operations," officials said.

More federal funds expected for migrant education program

Texas public school programs designed especially for migrant children are expected to receive a $2.7 million increase in federal funds to help support regular and summer sessions during 1972-73.

The request for additional funds, authorized Saturday (January 8) by the State Board of Education, will boost the total federal investment in Texas migrant school programs to $15,601,986 for the 1971-72 period.

Most of the additional money, a total of $2,569,486 will be sent direct to local school districts serving migrant children, according to Lee Frasier, Texas Education Agency director of migrant programs.

Nine school districts serving some 1,000 migrants will be added to the statewide effort, boosting the total to 109 programs attended by 55,000 students.

The nine new districts include Asherton, Austin, Batesville, Cooper (Lubbock), La Pryor, Northside (San Antonio), Ralls, Springlake-Earth, and Wilson.

A $30,000 allocation to update the migrant media center at Region I Education Service Center in Edinburg will increase both the number and quality of teaching materials available throughout the state, Frasier said. The center in Edinburg develops and distributes special teaching materials for all migrant school programs in Texas.

Eight regional education service centers which offer migrant education programs in their districts will receive a total of $80,000 for staff salaries and expenses. The centers are located in Abilene, Abilene, Corpus Christi, Edinburg, Lubbock, Midland, San Antonio, and Victoria.

A Texas Education Agency research project to develop new testing methods for evaluating the true academic growth of migrant children will receive $15,000.

"Regular standardized tests just do not give us a true picture of the Mexican American child's ability," Frasier pointed out. "We hope in this project to develop an entirely new kind of test, one that will be valid for all migrant and other Mexican American children who come to school knowing little or no English."

Quarter horse show sanctioned for rodeo held at Texas Tech

Official sanction has been given by the American Quarter Horse Association for a quarter horse show to be sponsored by Texas Tech University's chapter of the national Block and Bridle club during year's annual Tech Rodeo.

According to Rick Kellison of Lubbock, vice president of Block and Bridle, plans are to conduct the show annually. This year's first show is April 22.

Competition is open to all interested persons.

Kellison said judging for the show will be done by John Trimmer of Lubbock, and the show manager will be Ken Cook, Swisher County agricultural agent from Tulia.

Tentative plans call for competing 20 halter classes and eight performance classes. Performance competition will be judged according to performance in cutting, roping, reining in both junior and senior age groups, barrels in both groups and Western Pleasure in both groups.

Kellison said awards would include trophies for class champions, ribbons and cash prizes. Money for cash prizes, said, has been contributed by area businesses.

Additional information regarding entry fees, class divisions and other details of the competition will be made known in the next few weeks.

Mystery spots on your carpet call for quick action.

When family members and pets can't give you clues needed immediately to detect spot, remove it as follows.

Blot up liquid with tissue, or scrape off semi-solid material with a knife or spatula. Use a spot cleaner of 1 quart warm water, 1 teaspoon gentle detergent (not soap) for fine fabrics, and 1 teaspoon of white vinegar. Dab on cleaner with a clean cloth. Wipe gently from the edge of the spot into the center. Keep the carpet from becoming too wet by blotting it with a dry, clean cloth. Dry the carpet quickly with air from a fan or a vacuum cleaner.

If the detergent has taken away some of the spot, use this cleaner again. Dry the carpet, then brush the carpet tufts back up gently.

However, if the detergent spot cleaner has not taken away the spot, try a dry-cleaning solvent used for clothing. Follow the directions on the bottle. Also, be sure to dab on cleaning fluid gently with a cloth. Work from the outside of the spot toward the center. Dry the carpet, then brush carpet tufts gently.

Miss Ray honoree at bridal shower

Miss Nan Ray was honored with a bridal shower Friday, January 21, in the home of Mrs. Glen McDaniel.

Miss Ray is the bride elect of Mike Love. The serving table was covered with a white cloth and featured a centerpiece of blue and gold flowers. China and crystal appointments were used. Mrs. Layne Taylor served.

Special guests were Mrs. Ohlen Ray, mother of the bride elect, Mrs. C. D. Ray, Mrs. Major Love and Mrs. Delma Fred.

Renee Anglin registered guests from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. S. A. Ramsey and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Pinson and Brandon, of Brownfield spent the weekend in Fort Worth with another daughter, Miss Peggy Ramsey.

Federal assistance in maintaining the income of farmers selling their commodities on the open market for less than the cost of production depends, and will continue to depend, to a large extent on communications — communications between agriculture and the public, and particularly on communications between agriculture and the nation's lawmakers and major opinion makers.

Farm programs must be passed through Congress by Congressmen, most of them from non-agricultural areas, who vote on such measures in accordance with the wishes of their constituents. So passage of legislation beneficial to agriculture becomes easy or difficult in direct proportion to agriculture's success or failure in building a favorable image with "the folks back home." And agriculture's record in this regard is none too good.

Now, a significant move is underway which could go far toward correcting the dearth of effective communication from the farmer to his city cousins.

A top level study committee the first of its kind ever formed — will conduct a comprehensive study of communications problems confronting agriculture, the nation's largest industry. The committee, formed at the suggestion of Representative George Mahon, (D-Tex) and Senator Carl Curtis (R-Neb), will seek within the next six weeks to (1) identify what is wrong with public opinion toward agriculture and (2) recommend ways in which existing misconceptions can be changed.

The work of the group will be coordinated by the National Agricultural Institute, a non-partisan, non-profit organization formed in 1970. NAI receives financial support from producers of wheat, cotton, sugar, feed grains, peanuts and soybeans. Donnell Echols of Lemesa, Board Chairman of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is one of the incorporating directors of NAI.

Serving on the study committee will be people from farming, government and industry. The industry representatives include top company and association executives in petroleum, farm equipment, chemicals, fertilizer and feed products. A first session of the group was held in Washington, D. C. January 10, at which subcommittees were formed to deal with specific areas of study.

One of the subcommittees, assigned the task of analyzing present attitudes toward agriculture, will meet January 31. A subcommittee on goals and objectives will meet February 15. Both meetings will be held in Chicago.

Senator Curtis is quoted as saying "We are extremely pleased and encouraged that such a study will be undertaken. To our knowledge it will be the first such comprehensive attempt to analyze how the public — especially the urban public — thinks about agriculture. The objective is not to create sympathy for farmers or any other group in agriculture. The objective is to gain greater understanding of the fact that a sound and stable agriculture is absolutely essential to the future of our country."

Congressman Mahon stated "We would hope that the real role of American agriculture can be explained more accurately and in greater detail to those from urban areas, which is a matter of paramount concern to many of us in Congress who encounter increasing misunderstanding on agricultural issues."

Echols believes there is more reason to hope for success from this approach than from any similar effort made in the past. "Thanks largely to Congressman Mahon and Senator Curtis we now have the highest possible caliber of people and companies committed to the effort," he said, "and the approach is far more systematic and businesslike than would have otherwise been possible."

Rural Hero Award seeking nominations

Would you help Texas honor a Rural Hero?

If you know of anyone who has risked his own life to save the life of some other person, your nomination might win that person a trip to Dallas and a nice plaque on March 20, 1972.

The Rural Heroism Award is presented annually to some deserving person who has performed some act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis. This rural safety program points up the continuing need for improved safety conditions in our rural areas — at work, at home and at play.

The award may go to a person credited building, saving a drowning person or any other such act of heroism during the past calendar year. Anyone knowing of such an act during 1971, is urged to submit a nomination for this important award.

Nominations should include a narrative of the heroic incident, giving full details. It should include the names of all persons involved. If available, newspaper clipping nomination. The award recipient will be chosen by a panel of judges, based on the material submitted.

Deadline for entries is March 1, 1972. They should be mailed to: Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, P. O. Box 489, Waco, Texas 76703.

The 1971 recipient of the Rural Heroism Award was Mrs. Martha Cook, a Rising Star, Texas, farm wife who saved her mother-in-law from an attack by vicious cows in a barn yard.

Doss attends grocers mid-winter conference

Mr. Mike Doss, Doss Thriftway Super-Market, Marston, is attending the 12th annual Mid-Winter Conference of the Texas Retail Grocers Association.

Some 200 food industry leaders are participating in the two-day meeting at the Sheraton-Marina Inn in Corpus Christi, and workshops have been designed to acquaint members of the association with problems affecting the food industry today.

Topics to be covered during the conference include motivation, expansion, financing, safety and health, wage-price freeze, wholesaler-retailer relationships, sales mix, and profit projection. In addition to the workshops, a deep-sea fishing cruise has been planned along with a golf tournament and Las Vegas entertainment.

TRGA President Robert H. Joe of Houston, in his opening remarks announced, "This is the biggest conference we've ever scheduled. This shows that we in the food industry are aware of the vital role we play in our communities, city, state and nation. However, rather than take advantage of Mrs. Consumer, we want to continue to offer her the same high quality products at the same bargain prices — thus our reason for holding seminars like these."

CENSUS BUREAU TO SURVEY NINE TYPES OF FARMS

Shortly after the first of January 1972, the Bureau of the Census will be mailing out "type of farm" survey report forms to a selected group of farmers.

There will be nine different survey forms used. One used for cash grain, tobacco, cotton; potatoes, sugar and other specialized field crops, vegetables, fruit, livestock, dairy, and poultry.

Each form is designed to collect information pertinent to that particular type of farm enterprise. Each form is designed by sections so that if the answer to the lead question is "no" the farmer may skip to the next section.

The trends shown in the 1939 Census of Agriculture indicate that there is an increasing degree of specialization. The completion of the "type of farm" survey report forms will help obtain a truer and more complete picture of this specialization and may set the pattern for future censuses of agriculture.

Farm program signup dates allow for planting intentions

The recently announced change in sign-up dates for 1972 set-aside farm programs allows time for consideration of the first available data on producers' plans for 1972, according to Clarence A. Danklefs, state farm program official.

"My understanding is that the U.S. Department of Agriculture wants to provide for both farmers and farm program officials to study the special farmers planting intentions report which is due January 27.

"So the sign-up period for the feed grain, wheat, and cotton set-aside programs will be February 3 through March 10 instead of January 17 through February 25 as was first announced," he said.

"Many farmers are asking if these new sign-up dates mean program changes are in the offing. I don't think anybody yet knows. The planting intentions report will be carefully studied and evaluated. I suppose there is a possibility that unforeseen factors will show up," added Danklefs, Chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The special planting intentions report on January 27 will be the first indication on a national scale of what farmers are planning for 1972 in the light of 1971 crop marketings.

In 1971, under a corn blight threat which didn't materialize, farmers planted and harvested a record corn crop. Wheat and feed grain production wasn't far behind and for farmers who had to sell at harvest, prices were too low. On the other hand, market competition for cotton and soybeans has resulted in good prices for farmers.

The 1972 set-aside program provisions announced by USDA are designed to help American agriculture cut back on the acreage planted to all crops and to encourage farmers to produce those crops which best fit their farming operations. The aid is to increase farm income through the markets as well as protect farm income by making crop loans and set-aside acreage payments available to program participants.

Participation in the set-aside programs is voluntary, and February 3 through March 10 is the period when farmers sign up at ASCS County Offices for participation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Watson ofampa spent Saturday night with her mother, Mrs. W. L. Miller. Sunday Mrs. Miller accompanied the Watsons to Lubbock to visit with another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Willis.

Revised farm, ranch driver qualifications announced by White

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has reminded Texas farmers and ranchers of revised driver qualification regulations which should give significant relief from the stringent regulations that were in effect in 1971.

New exemptions were made for farmers and ranchers by the U. S. Department of Transportation after many complaints were filed against restrictive farm driver qualification regulations last year.

The new regulations which became effective January 1 include:

Farm vehicle drivers operating trucks weighing 10,000 pounds or less are totally exempt from the driver qualification rules.

Farm vehicle drivers operating straight trucks weighing in excess of 10,000 pounds within 150 miles of their farms are totally exempt from the rules.

Farm vehicle drivers operating straight trucks weighing in excess of 10,000 pounds within 150 miles of their farms are totally exempt from the rules.

Farm vehicle drivers 18 years or older operating a tractor-trailer unit within 150 miles of the farm are exempt, except they must be physically qualified but need not be physically examined and certified until January 1, 1973.

Drivers employed by custom operators are granted total exemption while transporting custom harvesting machinery to or from a farm and while transporting the custom-harvested crops to storage or market.

Beekeepers transporting bees during seasonal movements are exempt.

The original regulations requiring drivers to be 21 years of age, submit to road tests, written and physical examinations, background checks and other regulations imposed undue burdens on farmers whose families helped in growing and harvesting crops, Commissioner White said.

Bullock announces directive on campaign donations, spending

Secretary of State Bob Bullock has announced that, as the States chief election officer, he has issued to all persons involved in the election process a directive governing the maintaining and reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures.

"The Texas Election Code clearly specifies," Bullock said, "that the people have a legal right to know who contributes money, how much money is contributed and how the money is expended in every campaign for elective public office in Texas."

"Likewise, contributors themselves have the right to know that their contributions are expended for campaign purposes and not diverted to fulfill a candidate's personal financial obligations."

Unfortunately, however, it has become common practice for candidates to list names and addresses which are insufficient to identify the contributors. In addition, maintained or made available to the public concerning the sources, amounts and expenditures of contributions to local campaign committees and candidate clubs.

The failure to keep complete, accurate, and up-to-date records during campaigns has led to reports that do not sufficiently inform the electorate or conform to the spirit of the law.

An absence of any guidelines and the lack of interpretation of the reporting section of the statute have led to confusion on the part of candidates who wish to fully comply with the law but are unsure of what is required of them.

"I have the duty and the responsibility, as the State's chief election officer, to help eliminate confusion and possible evasion in the reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures and to standardize the reporting procedure."

"Therefore, I am today issuing this directive to all persons in Texas involved in the elective process. The full compliance with this directive that we expect will provide us for the first time with complete public disclosure of all campaign financing in this State."

TCFA educational film now available

A 25-minute film produced by the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, entitled "Day With the Cattle Feeder," is available for use by civic, agricultural and school groups for programs, according to Robert C. Albin, professor of animal science at Texas Tech University.

"Texas Tech has been presented a copy of the film to be made available to groups who are interested in feed operations," Dr. Albin said. The film is in color with sound and is particularly appropriate for all kinds of youth adult clubs interested in agriculture and livestock production, he said.

Groups wishing to schedule the film should write Dr. Robert C. Albin, Department of Animal Science, P. O. Box 4249, Texas Tech Station, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

Vehicle registration applications mailed; 7 1/2 million in Texas

If you own one or more of the more than seven-and-a-half million motor vehicles in Texas, some important mail is coming your way.

The first of 7.5 million renewal applications from the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department were dispatched from the Post Office's facilities in Dallas on Friday, December 31.

Owners of motor vehicles should be receiving the renewal applications — for obtaining 1972 Texas license plates early in January.

The actual motor vehicle registration "season" at county tax offices does not begin until February 1.

However, vehicle owners may go ahead and order their license plates by mail immediately.

All that is required is to send the entire renewal application, the registration fee and $1 for each vehicle to be registered, to the local county tax office. License plates will be returned by mail after registration begins formally on February 1.

Vehicle owners should allow at least 30 days for processing and delivery. The application should be sent to the local county tax office — not to the Texas Highway Department.

License plates can be obtained in person at county tax offices and designated sub-stations beginning on February 1.

In any case, registration will go faster if the owner leaves the three-part form intact and does not separate any of the three parts.

'Women in Dance' subject for 1936 Study Club meet

Continuing the study of "Women in American History," Mrs. Neal Rose gave a program on the contribution of women dancers to the development of fine arts in the United States for the 1936 Study Club.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Glenn Thompson Wednesday, January 19.

Mrs. Rose reviewed the lives and accomplishments of Maria Tallchief, an Osage Indian; Josephine Baker, an American negro; Martha Graham and Agnes DeMille.

She told the members that Miss Tallchief, born in Oklahoma, began her artistic career as a concert pianist but gradually ballet studies absorbed more of her time and, although she has danced many different roles her work always showed great restraint and classicism with reverence for artistic tradition. "Agnes DeMille, a member of one of Hollywood's distinguished families, always had a passion for American Folk Dances and realizing early that the day of the great romantic solo dancer was unquestionable on the wane, she worked more with composition and choreography. In the dance numbers for the musical 'Oklahoma', she made the ballet not only acceptable to the average theater goer, but something he could get excited and shout about," Mrs. Rose stated. She concluded the program by telling of the life and accomplishments of Josephine Baker and Martha Graham.

In a short business meeting, Mrs. Maurice Lewallen, president, urged members to participate in the March of Dimes Cake-a-thon to be held January 29.

Others present for the meeting were: Mmes John L. McGee, Lessye Silvers, W. W. Smith, M. C. Ledbetter, Joe Nicewarner, B. H. Tucker, D. E. Benham, Cyrus Fields and Bill Sayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Hester, Jr. of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sayers. Sunday they celebrated Mrs. Hester's 23rd birthday.

Carol Shelton and C. A. Baird attended a pancake supper sponsored by the Muleshoe Chapter O.E.S. Saturday night.

Cochran county veterans draw insurance windfall

Cochran County residents who are World War veterans will have their financial situation improved by approximately $7,000 a year by virtue of a special distribution of accumulated funds.

The $7,000 that is going to Cochran County will be divided by some 100 local veterans. It will not be necessary for them to apply for the money, it is noted. It will be distributed automatically.

The average check to the nation's World War I veterans will be $135 and, to the World War II vets, $68. In individual cases, the payments will be above or below these figures, varying with the amount of insurance held and other factors.

The VA explains that the dividends were made possible by an increase in the amount of interest earned by the two life insurance trust funds. In addition, the mortality rate among the veterans has been lower than originally anticipated.

Many ex-service men will gain in other directions. Beginning in February, some 2,300,000 disabled vets and the families of deceased veterans will be getting an additional $195,000,000 in pension benefits on an annual basis.

Certain management practices can help reduce damage from cotton root rot the coming crop season. Dr. Walter Walla, commends deep plowing, early planting and crop rotation as key practices in the battle to cut cotton losses from the disease.

Sensing the news

BY ANTHONY HARRIGAN

For many thoughtful citizens who have examined the operations of self-proclaimed consumer advocate Ralph Nader, Naderism is the McCarthyism of the 1970's.

Mr. Nader's various organizations maintain a continuing barrage of fire against business. But the attacks rely on scare tactics, half-truths and emotionalism.

Now the Nader conglomerate is trying to move onto the campuses, using student fees as a means of financing the scare operations. The objective of the Nader organizers is to establish so-called public interest research groups. These PIRG groups, as they are known, have been set up in Oregon, Minnesota, Connecticut and elsewhere. South Carolina is among the current target states.

The shrewd plan devised by the Nader organizers is to harness student activity fees at colleges and universities. Student fees are raised $1 to provide operating funds for the PIRG. The Nader people say that those students who object can get their $1 back, but the Naderites know that few students will go through the red tape involved. Therefore, access to student activities fees means a captive group of supporters for the PIRG organizations. A PIRG uses the student activity fees for controversial purposes, precisely as labor unions use the dues of members (who are forced to join) for political purposes. Donald Ross, a 28-year-old lawyer who is in charge of the PIRG program, is candid about the aims of the movement. He was quoted in the Washington Post as saying: "This project has the potential for creating a legal revolution . . ."

Ralph Nader's PIRG concept is an exciting idea for radio-libs on college campuses. In the past, they had difficulty finding their activities. A PIRG organization, however, offers the prospect of continuous, substantial financing. If administrators or college trustees believe that the PIRG outfits will engage in sensible student activities, they should look at the record. In Connecticut, the state PIRG has zeroed in on a weapon firm alleging intentional shoddiness in the manufacture of M-16 rifles hardly an activity that a student group need pursue. If such an investigation is required, Congress is the agency to conduct it.

There's reason to believe that a PIRG group on a campus will injure a state's economic opportunities. Industrial prospects are likely to take a dim view of a state where college or university authorities authorize compulsory student financing of a free-wheeling, hate-business group. The Nader organizations are well-known for their arrogance. When the Naderites couldn't get a PIRG started in Ohio, their spokesman disdainfully stated: "We can't find anyone who wants to live in Ohio." College students have better things to do than to serve as Ralph Nader's field hands. In the first place, there is plenty of evidence to suggest that participation in Naderite studies ill-prepares a student for serious, responsible research. It is becoming increasingly clear that the Nader studies are slanted and unfair.

The New Republic magazine, a leading liberal journal, recently published a devastating criticism of a product of the Nader report factory, saying: "Like other Nader-sponsored studies, 'The Closed Enterprise System' resists assimilation to Scholarship it is not, if by scholarship one means an honest search for truth rather than a mere parade of learning. It is a highly tendentious work, in which patent self-contradiction is never permitted to blunt a good sally."

The Nader view of idealism and citizenship is questionable. Inherent in it is an authoritarian concept of our society. The basic Nader theme is that American society needs more government regulation. Presumably, Ralph Nader is to be the fountainhead of wisdom in the new society which he envisions.

A full analysis of Ralph Nader's concepts and operations has been published by the Southern States Industrial Council (a special report entitled "Naderism: The War Against Corporations," 918 Stahlman Bldg., Nashville, Tenn., 37021, 25 cents a copy). It explains in detail how Ralph Nader wants American business to manufacture by government edict instead of by marketplace democracy.

Ralph Nader has done an extraordinary job of selling himself as the expert on virtually everything in our society.

Rural car accidents light for December

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Cochran county during the month of December, according to Sergeant Pirtle, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and no persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region during the calendar year of 1971, shows a total of 6,309 accidents resulting in 264 persons killed and 3,594 persons injured. This was 142 less accidents, 21 less fatalities and 185 more injured than during the calendar year of 1970.
