SECOND TIME AROUND . . .

A CITATION for distinguished service to education was received by the Morton Tribune from the Texas State Teachers Association this week. The citation, which reads in part "in recognition of having significantly advanced community understanding and support of public education through incisive interpretation of issues affecting public schools in the state of Texas", marks the second year in a row that the Tribune has been honored by TSTA in its Texas School Bell Award competition. Kenneth Baker, Morton High School Principal and president of the Cochran county chapter of the TSTA, left, presents the award to Tribune publisher Bill Sayers.

Federated women's clubs honor Mrs. Dorothy Rose

Mrs. Neal H. Rose is one of three ladies whose names have been added to the Diamond Jubilee Bronze Plaque of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Edgar Bolsche of Bellinger and Mrs. Reed Slay of Hillsboro are the other two receiving the honor.

Mrs. Rose first entered Federation when she became a member of the Excelsior Club of Gorman in 1948. Her mother and her sister were members of the same organization.

Since 1949, Mrs. Rose has been active in the 1906 Study Club of Morton. She was president in 1957-58 and was the first president of the City Federation (now the Council of Women's Clubs). While serving as president, she was instrumental in establishing a Student Loan Fund.

She has been a member of the Caprock District Board for the past 12 years and is now serving as corresponding secretary. Mrs. Rose is a TFWC division chairman of the Fine Arts Department and was selected "Outstanding Clubwoman—over 10 years service" of Caprock District then TFWC at the state convention in Dallas in 1967. She attended the TFWC Leadership Development Seminar held at St.

Mary's University in San Antonio in 1968.

Mrs. Rose is curriculum coordinator for the Morton Schools. She holds a B.A. degree from Baylor University and M. A. in Education from Texas Tech University. The Area Council named her "Teacher of the Year" in 1961. She is also chairman of the Cochran County Historical Survey Committee and Museum Association.

Mrs. Rose has two daughters, both of whom are in the teaching profession. Mrs. Ted Moulton, of Richardson, who teaches music and Mrs. Don VanPelt, of Wellington, who is presently teaching kindergarten. Her husband owns and operates Rose Auto and Appliance in Morton.

Baker is installed as chapter president of teacher association

Kenneth Baker, principal of Morton High School, was installed as President of the Cochran county chapter of the Texas State Teachers Association and the Tribune received their second award from the Association at a dinner meeting Monday night.

The hundred and ten members and guests attended the final meeting for 1971 in the Morton School lunchroom, and T. J. Patterson, teacher in the Business Administration School at Texas Tech University and Freshman Advisor, challenged the members to examine their goals, urged the teachers to seek their goals with determination and have confidence that they can be reached.

Mrs. Flora Bryant presided over the business meeting and Baker, the delegate to the T.S.T.A. meeting in San Antonio, reported on that meeting.

The Cochran County Teacher Unit entered the Morton Tribune in the Texas School Bell Award competition and Mrs. Bryant announced that she received a letter from judges and a Citation for Distinguish-

DST strikes again!

It's that time of year again — the time of year, that is, to be a full hour late for church this coming Sunday.

The reason? That old bugaboo Daylight Saving Time, of course, which will go into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday, causing those who forget to set their clocks forward one hour to be 60 minutes late in everything.

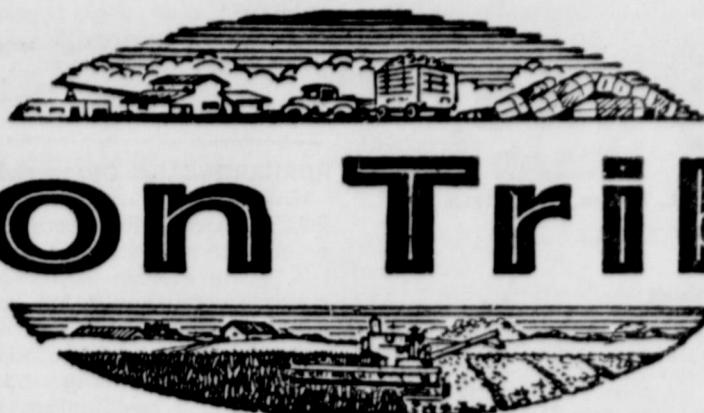

So, set your clock forward, gripe your allotted amount, and wait patiently until the last Sunday in October when you will regain that precious lost hour of sleep.

HOPING FOR CLEAN SWEEP . . .

THAT'S WHAT MORTON LIONS CLUB MEMBERS are hoping for in their annual broom sale that got underway here Wednesday morning. They would consider it a clean sweep to sell at least one item to every household and business in the city. Lion salesmen were really using the elbow grease as they canvassed the residences and business places and Leonard Coleman, left above, appears to be gloating over sale of a mop to customer Tom Rice, right. All proceeds from the sale of the items, all of which are manufactured by the blind, will be used to purchase needed glasses and otherwise help preserve the sight of those who cannot afford needed treatment.

City employees get pay hike

A salary increase for all employees of the City of Morton was voted by the city council in its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday night.

An across-the-board raise of $22 per person was approved for all employees with an additional $10 per month being voted for two who had not participated in the last raise given by the city. Mary Lee Carter was raised the additional $10 because she was overlooked in the last pay cycle and Leo Johnson was voted the additional raise because he joined the work force shortly after the last raise and missed the next scheduled pay raise cycle due to the wage and price freeze.

All salary raises were made retroactive to April 1.

Dr. N. L. Dubberly was appointed by unanimous approval of the board to the seat on the council vacated by Marshall Leitzell when he moved up to the mayor's chair. The appointment was pending acceptance by Dr. Dubberly who was out of town at the time of the meeting.

The appointment, rather than the election, of a councilman to take a seat that becomes vacant for any reason during the term of a member is provided for in the city charter. This method is provided for the purpose of avoiding the expense of holding a special election, city manager Elra Oden explained in a prelude to the call for nominations.

In other business, the council received a briefing on the various state and federal programs available to members of the South Plains Association of Governments, (SPAG), by association representative Truett Mayes. The city of Morton is a member of the organization, which has its headquarters in Lubbock, but Cochran county is not a member.

There are 96 agencies with programs for aiding cities and counties, all of whom must have the approval of SPAG before a project can be started. Programs available for which federal funds are available

Jane Wilcox invited to acting workshop

Miss Jane Wilcox, Morton High School student, has been extended an invitation to attend an acting workshop at the University of Texas in Austin. The invitation was based on her performance and winning a place on the All Star Cast in the one-act play contest held recently.

The contest is the dramatic part of the University Interscholastic League Contest which was held in Morton April 15.

Jane won the honor after participating in "The Neighbors" by Nola Gale. In the play she portrayed an elderly woman of whom the critic, Judge Ronald Schulz of Texas Tech University, said "I wish I could visit that small town and get to know Miss Moran better."

Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wilcox.

HOSPITAL BRASS . . .

AT A RECENT business and social get-together at the Tic Toc Restaurant, staff members and members of the board of directors of the Cochran Memorial Hospital District were caught in a relaxed moment by the Tribune camera's eye. The dinner is an annual event at which the directors and staff can get together and compare notes and plan for the following year's activities. Seated left to right, Susan

Nebhut new school board prexy

Newly elected members Ben Kuehler and Mrs. Reba Brown were administered the oath of office and Dexter Nebhut was elected to head a new slate of officers as the MISD Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting Monday night.

Those elected to serve with board president Nebhut are Bob Polvado, vice president and Ronald Coleman, secretary. All were seated by acclamation.

Kuehler and Mrs. Brown took the seats of C. E. Dolle and Truman Anglin whose terms have expired.

In other business, the board held a hearing at the request of O. A. Graves whose teaching contract was not renewed when contracts were considered at the March meeting of the board. Following the hearing, the board voted to leave the decision concerning Graves' contract as it is.

Superintendent Bob E. Travis advised the board that an error in the amount of $103,000,000 had been made in computing the economic value of the county, being that much too high. The error would cause the school's economic index to increase from $60,000 to $130,000 within the next year or two. He advised the board that he and County Judge Glenn Thompson may travel to Austin soon to an effort to have the error rectified.

Approval for the payment of bills for the month of April in the amount of $85,358.71 completed the board's agenda.

Tribe trackmen place high in regional meet in Odessa

A strong field of AA track squads gathered for the regional track meet in Odessa last Friday and Saturday, and the Morton Indian tracksters came up with some top performances to capture 7th place in the meet.

The Tribe 440-yd relay team had problems in the qualifying heats on Friday, but they were able to put it all together in the finals on Saturday and ripped off a 43.5 clocking to take 3rd place. The time established a new school record for the event. Members of the squad were Kevin Kuehler, Larry Thompson, Bryant Lewis, and Elton Patton.

Thompson competed in the long jump and finished in 8th position with a leap of 20'5".

Patton, who had qualified to run in the 100-yd. dash and the 220-yd. dash, was forced to scratch from the longer race because of an injured knee, but he continued his domination of the shorter sprint by capturing the gold medal for first place. Elton stopped the watch in 9.9 seconds, and to achieve his win he had to defeat last year's winner Robert Stephenson of Stamford. Stephenson had taken the title last year with a 9.6 clocking, but he was no match for the strong Patton this time around.

By virtue of his triumph Patton had qualified to run in the state meet to be held in Austin on May 5-6. Possible competition for Elton could come from Sammy Dierschke of Sealy who has taken the state title in the 100 and 220 for the past two years and who last year was named to the high school All-American track squad.

Sen. Tower announces later set-aside dates for Texas farmers

Senator John Tower announced the United States Department of Agriculture had agreed to establish later deadlines for designating set-aside acres by Texas farmers for various crops.

The new and later deadlines were established as a result of a recent letter by Tower to Undersecretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell pointing out that current deadlines come too early for most Texas crops.

Tower told Campbell that the old guidelines for designating set-aside acres would result in a hardship for cotton and feed grain producers in the High Plains and Low Rolling Plains of Texas.

Today Tower said he was informed by the USDA that under the new guidelines, farmers do not have to designate set-aside acreage for any particular crop until he certifies that crop. Under previous rules, a farmer had to designate all his set-aside acreage by May 1.

Tower had pointed out that producers in the Plains area of Texas often do not des-range over a wide spectrum which includes just about every facet of county and city governmental activity. Federal matching funds for projects such as city water and sewer treatment, vocational training schools, outside recreational facilities, manpower planning, etc. average approximately 50-55 percent of the project cost, Mayes said.

Success of the relatively new association of governments is indicated by the fact that 215 of Texas' 254 counties are now members, he concluded.

Revised voting laws seen as slowing down balloting

Voting in the primaries and general election is expected to be slower due to new voting laws.

Among the procedures is a comparison of signatures.

The secretary of state has issued a ruling that the 30-day waiting period is measured backward from election day rather than from the day on which the voter casts his absentee ballot.

No longer is the party affiliation stamped on the registration certificate of a voter who votes in a primary election. Instead, a certificate is issued for voting in the primary since registration is automatically renewed for three years by voting. Registration is effective for a three-year period, and is automatically extended through the third succeeding year whenever the voter votes in a primary or general election for state and county officers.

A voter who moves from one election precinct to another within the county may vote in the precinct of his former residence during the first 30 days after the change of residence. Thereafter, he may vote only in the new precinct, and in order to do so he must get his registration transferred to that precinct.

A registered voter who moves to another county must re-register in that county.

In absentee voting, the 30-day period within which the voter may vote as a resident of the former precinct is measured backward from election day rather than from the day on which he casts his absentee ballot.

Voters moving from one election precinct to another in the same county must get registrations transferred to the new precinct by the fifth day before the election in order to vote in the new precinct.

Upon moving to another county, a registered voter must re-register in the new county. His registration becomes effective on the 31st day after re-registering.

Where a voter moves from one election precinct to another within the county, he can continue to vote in the precinct of his former residence during the first 30 days after he moves. (This rule does not apply in bond elections). However, if he wishes to vote in the precinct of his new residence during this 30-day period, he may do so if he gets his registration transferred through the county tax assessor-collector's office by the fifth day before the election, so that his name will appear on the supplemental list of registered voters for the new precinct. If the registration is transferred by this deadline, voting may be done only in the precinct of the new residence.

Where the change in precinct residence occurred more than 30 days before the election, the voter can vote only in the precinct of his new residence, and in order to vote there he must have his registration transferred by the fifth day before the election.

Candidate Joe Beseda gives views on commissioner's post

In the past several weeks I have had the opportunity to personally contact all persons who are interested in the election for county commissioner. It has, of course, been a pleasure to talk with each of you. I am therefore like to take this opportunity to present some of my background and experience with road machinery three years and know what the problems and requirements of road construction are.

I have lived in Morton 26 years, was in the grain elevator business in Whiteface for 22 years and for the last four years in the same business in Morton and Lehman. I also farmed from 1949 through 1969. My wife and I have four children all of whom have attended Morton schools.

Three are married and one is a MHS Junior. I am interested in the young people of the community and would like to help develop opportunities for them here at home. I know that County business is a Big Business but I will apply my experience, knowledge and time to doing the best job I can for all the people. I will, if elected, devote what ever time it takes to do the job right and will be as conservative as possible in expenditures for equipment and supplies. I will appreciate your consideration, influence, support and vote in the Democratic Primary May 6th. I will try to do the job you want done and would like to accept the challenge.

ACCENT ON HEALTH

There are thousands of children in Texas today who are susceptible to one or more preventable diseases. Most of these youngsters are between one and four years of age. State health authorities have mounted a massive immunization campaign aimed at the preschool child in an effort to reduce the number of preschoolers who remain unimmunized against several deadly and common childhood diseases. "The Texas Legislature moved last year to require certain immunizations for all school-age children as a pre-requisite for attending school," said Texas Health Commissioner Dr. J. E. Peavy, "and it will

American Legionnaires to have full agenda at spring convention

Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from the 6th, 7th, 8th, 19th and 21st Districts, comprising the Fourth Division of The American Legion, will assemble in Lubbock on Saturday and Sunday, April 29-30, for the annual Spring Convention. Robert B. Childers, commander of Post 575, has announced. Registration will open at 10 a.m. at the Ko Ko Palace on Saturday where all activities for the convention will take place. George S. Berry Post 575 is serving as host. Donald Ferris, VA Contact Representative, will preside over the Rehabilitation session at 2 p.m. The ROTC Drill Team will perform at 4 p.m. The social hour will be at 5:30 p.m.

The joint banquet for the Legion and Auxiliary will commence at 6:30 p.m. with Commander Childers presiding. Cadet Lance Schottenkirk, AFJROTC, Coronado High School, will have charge of colors and 19th District Chaplain Rev. James Enger will give the invocation. The Mayor of Lubbock will give the address of welcome and response will be by Harry Riggs of Plainview. Principal speaker for the joint affair will be Past Department Commander Aubrey L. Bullard of Waco. He is presently serving the Veterans Affairs Commission as Special Services Coordinator. A dance follows at 9 p.m.

On Sunday registration will resume at 8 a.m. Rev. Enger will have charge of the Memorial Service at 9:30 a.m.

The business session will follow with Department Vice Commander C. G. McKinzie presiding. Department Commander Gil Moody will address the business meeting. A Department Vice Commander will be elected for the ensuing year and delegates and alternates to the National Convention to be held in Chicago, Illinois in August will be elected.

go a long way toward reaching all school-age children who have not maintained their immunization levels. But even this measure will not reach what we consider the prime group of susceptible children — the preschooler between the ages of one and four."

Dr. Peavy stressed the importance of giving protective immunization to all preschool children immediately. "Otherwise, parents run the risk that potentially deadly diseases like diphtheria, polio, measles, rubella, tetanus, or whooping cough may strike their unprotected preschool child," said Dr. Peavy.

Diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (or whooping cough) can all three be prevented by triple vaccine DTP. The first dosage is given as early as two months of age, and is followed at one month intervals by the two remaining doses. All three doses are necessary before complete protection is given.

Today, one dose of measles vaccine given to children one year of age or older offers almost 100 percent protection. It's the best odds a parent can find anywhere in child health care these days.

Since the Salk and Sabin vaccines were discovered a decade ago there has been no major polio outbreak in Texas. But Texas has always had more than its share of this disease. In a five-year period in Texas, 121 of 133 victims of polio were under five years of age. Nothing further need be said on the necessity of immunizing all preschoolers against this disease. Again, three doses are necessary for complete protection.

Sandfer presents his views on duties of sheriff's office

If elected I will perform the duties of Cochran County Sheriff to the best of my abilities. I feel that the Office of Sheriff is the most important part of our local government and should be staffed by experienced and responsible people.

I am a Certified Texas Peace Officer and I will work to reduce the crime rate in Cochran County.

I want to state that I am not obligated to any group or person and will serve all the people in Cochran County, fairly and impartially.

I think this office should be filled by a man who has lived in the county long enough to know the problems of the county.

Sandfer, a resident of Cochran County since 1935, attended school at Lehman, Morton and Tyler College. He and his wife Nelda reside at 512 SW 2nd, with their children, Monte, Venita, Duane and Barry and are members of the First Baptist Church in Morton.

Sandfer asks for and will appreciate your vote and support in his bid for Sheriff in the May 6 Democratic Primary Election.

Local man enlists for duty in Vietnam

Robert Forrest Baker, of Morton, has enlisted in the United States Army as a volunteer for duty in Vietnam, the Army recruiting office in Lubbock announced recently.

Baker is presently undergoing basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana which will last approximately ten weeks after which he will receive a furlough prior to entering advanced infantry training, the recruiting office stated.

Over 300 cotton farmers, ginners, merchants, bankers and others heard four days of information April 20 in Lubbock at a "Cotton Contracting Seminar" sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

PCG President Ray Joe Riley of Hart, who commented on cotton's supply-demand-price relationships and served as general chairman for the seminar, said forward contracting of cotton is an arrangement in which the producer guarantees a supply of cotton to a merchant or mill in exchange for a guaranteed price at harvest time. "Forward contracting is with us, it appears to be here for quite a stay, and our objective here today is to inform ourselves as best we can on how it works and how it can work better," he said.

Lubbock Attorney Bill Blackledge addressed the group on the subject of contract provisions and contract performance. Noting that cotton sales contracts, as all contracts, are only as good as the parties that sign them, Blackledge went on to say "Most of the problems with contract performance can be avoided if contracts are complete enough that each party has a clear understanding of what is expected of him."

Contracts should contain provisions, he stated, to cover all foreseeable areas in which misunderstanding might arise. According to Blackledge these would include, but not be limited to, language clearly defining the farm and acreage covered, deliverable quantities, delivery deadlines, crop care during the growing season, harvesting and ginning requirements, payment specifications, liens and encumbrances, when title to the crop is to be passed, and whether or not the contract applies to shares of the crop that may be owned by landlord, tenant or spouse.

Possible means to guarantee contract performance were listed by Blackledge as an escrowed fund of earnest money, performance bonds, third party guarantees and letters of credit. "However," he stated, "there are problems with each of these methods, and each will result in additional expense. But in my opinion, when a performance guarantee is thought to be necessary, the best of the lot may be letters of credit."

Later, in the question and answer period, Jerry Boothe of Boothe Cotton Company commented that his firm in 1971 had in some instances used performance bonds. The cost, he said, for a bond in the amount of $20 per acre was about 30 cents, "which I would not consider to be prohibitive."

Riley, in his remarks on world cotton supplies and prices, pointed out that the world supply of cotton in 1971-72 is up by more than 1.5 million bales from 1970-71, and that world production in 1972-73 is expected to be up about 2.5 million bales while worldwide consumption is increasing only 800,000 bales.

"If these estimates prove correct," he continued "the world supply of cotton for 1972-73 will again be up, but the increase will bring the production-consumption ratio up to only 139 percent, which would still be lower than the ratio in 1969-70 when world cotton prices started up ward."

Factors to be considered by producers in deciding whether or not to accept any given contract were outlined by Agricultural Economist Dr. James Osborn of Texas Tech University. Dr. Osborn said beyond the first step of comparing the price offered with expected production cost, the decision must hinge on the individual producer's assessment of market conditions and his willingness and financial ability to accept the full risk of market uncertainties.

In a discussion of the cotton futures market as a possible alternative mechanizing tool, broker Mike Stevens of E. F. Hutton and Co. frankly told the group that "the number 2 cotton futures contract, which at the present time is the only one active, is no alternative at all for West Texas producers." He explained that deliverable quantities of cotton on the Number 2 contract "are for all practical purposes nonexistent in this area, and the relationship between West Texas cotton and futures is scant at best. So there is really no way at the present time for our producers in this area to use the futures market as a hedge against spot market prices."

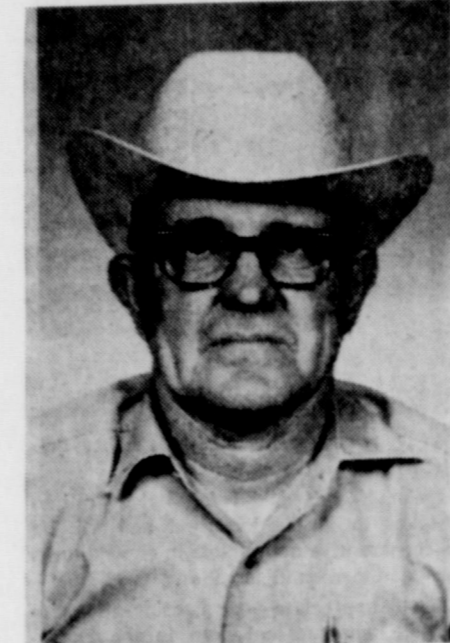

Stevens went on to comment that PCG and a lot of other people are trying to get changes made in the Number 1 futures contract which would make it usable for cotton in this area. The Number 1 contract is based on 15/16 inch cotton, as opposed to 11/16 inch cotton which is the base deliverable staple on the Number 2 contract. Both contracts now call for delivery of cotton either Low Middling White or above, Middling Light Spot or above, and with micronaire above 3.5.

The high micronaire and grade requirements, Stevens said, plus the fact that Lubbock is not specified as a delivery point, are the principal reasons for inactivity in the Number 1 contract. He added "I have high hopes that some of these requirements can be changed and that Lubbock can be named as a delivery point."

If women ever do get equal rights it will be quite a comedown for some of them.

Tribe netters take strong fourth place in Odessa regionals

The Morton Indians tennis team ended its season last week-end with a fine fourth place finish at the regional meet in Odessa. Representing the Tribe were Keith Embry, David Barrera and Ralph Mason.

The winning squad was from Crane, and all their points came in the boys division where they won both singles and doubles but these triumphs came only after tough matches with Morton netters.

Embry captured his quarterfinal match by defeating Dennis Fallwell of Dalhart by a 6-4; 6-3 count. In the semis Keith took on Johnny Johnson of Crane and suffered a 6-2; 6-3 loss. Johnson gained some measure of revenge as it was Embry who had defeated him in last year's regional semifinal match.

Johnson went on to take the regional title in the finals.

Barrera and Mason smashed the team from Stamford 6-1; 6-2 in their first match, and then had to hustle to top the Coleman due for a narrow 6-3; 4-6; 6-4 win. In the finals the Morton twosome had to face Don Box and Jay Adams of Crane who are the defending AA state champions. The Indian sophomores could never get untracked and were blanked 0-6; 0-6.

Coach Tommy Thompson felt that this year's squad performed exceptionally well, and that the prospects for future years is excellent.

Dr. Sneed presents program for club

Dr. Eva Lee Sneed spoke on medical training in other countries at the April 18 meeting of the 1936 Study Club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. James St. Clair, Mrs. Jimmy St. Clair and Mrs. Joe Gipson were cohostesses.

Mrs. Gipson introduced Dr. Sneed to the members. She told of her training in Argentina and stated that the professional university offers advanced courses in law, architecture, medicine and other subjects free. Because of this, many people with Doctorate degrees leave and go to other countries to practice. "Before a doctor can practice in the United States he must take a comprehensive examination and serve a year of internship here," Dr. Sneed stated. She also said there were more women, proportionately in medical training in Argentina than she has encountered in America. Following the program there was an informative question and answer period.

between school districts, when the cumulative effect in either the sending or receiving school or school districts will be to reduce or impede desegregation, or to reinforce, renew, or encourage the continuation of acts and practices resulting in discriminatory treatment of students on the grounds of race, color, or national origin."

Defendants walk thin line in 'freak accident' suits

"Kite weather" sent eight-year-old Jimmy into an open field to try his luck. Using a thin copper wire for a string, he soon had his box kite scudding into the sky.

Then, tragedy. Jimmy's kite crossed a high-tension power line and deadly voltage crackled downward, killing him instantly.

Could the power company be held legally liable by the boy's family? In a court hearing, they blamed his death on the fact that the high-tension line had not been insulated.

However, the court held the company not responsible. The judge said Jimmy's use of copper wire instead of an ordinary string was too unusual to have been foreseen and guarded against.

Courts generally agree that power companies cannot be expected to take precautions against freak accidents. Nevertheless, since electricity is such a dangerous product, they do carry a higher-than-average burden of responsibility.

In another case, a boy's kite snagged on a power pole. When he climbed the pole to retrieve his kite, he touched an uninsulated line and suffered a bad burn. This time, three factors weighed against the company:

- 1) that the pole was right next to a playground;
- 2) that it had low steps, easy for children to climb; and
- 3) that no DANGER signs had been posted.

A court duly awarded damages to the injured boy, saying that the company could fairly have foreseen this kind of an accident.

And tree climbing is even more foreseeable than pole climbing. Thus:

A boy got a shock from an uninsulated wire that passed through the upper branches of a tree in front of his house. Sued later for damages, the power company pointed out that there was nothing in the tree — no snagged kite, no frightened kitten, no tempting fruit — that would justify the boy's venture into the treetop.

But the court held the company liable anyhow, for misjudging human nature. "The immemorial habit of small boys to climb trees," said the court, "is a habit which corporations stretching their wires over such trees must take notice of."

School transfer deadline told

Parents who wish to transfer children from their home school to a nearby district for the 1972-73 academic year must submit their requests to the receiving district by June 1, 1972, according to an announcement from the Texas Education Agency.

Requests approved by the receiving school trustees, the request must then be cleared by the Texas Education Agency. This state approval is a requirement of the order issued by the U.S. District Court in Tyler.

The order, related to the desegregation of schools in Texas, states in part that the Texas Education Agency "shall not permit, make arrangements for or give support of any kind to student transfers, be-

Veterans discuss 'Vietnam' at Elmea Smith Club meet

Members of the Elmea Smith Junior Study Club heard two Vietnam veterans, Jimmy St. Clair and Ronnie Wallace discuss the "Pros and Cons of the Vietnam War" April 13 in the home of Mrs. Ronald Coleman.

Wallace was stationed in both Bien Hoa and Long Bin. He was first attached to the 199th Lt. Weapons Infantry Battalion, than as a personnel specialist, HHD, 1st Logistical Command. He told of the weaponry and booby traps which were used by the enemy and pointed out that the climate was very wet for six months and very dry the remainder of the year.

"Saigon is a dirty, crowded and primitive city. Millions of people are crowded in a small area and all of Vietnam is poverty stricken by American standards," Wallace stated.

St. Clair was stationed in Cam Rahn Bay, assigned to an Engineering Group and served as a clerk-typist. He explained that Cam Rahn Bay is the major port of Vietnam with most of the supplies coming through the installation.

The bay itself is one of the most beautiful in the world and the area is vastly different in climate from that of the delta region. It is warm, breezy and humid.

St. Clair pointed out that at the time he was serving his tour there were many clerical workers for every infantryman. Another point brought out was that recreational facilities were available at Cam Rahn for it served as one in-country rest and recreation area.

Slides of the people, the army facilities and the war were viewed by the members and explanations were given. After Viet Cong propaganda leaflets, Vietnamese money and military payment certificates were passed out both St. Clair and Wallace answered questions.

During the business session, Mrs. Bill Foust announced the awards won by the club at the Texas Federated Women Club Caprock District Convention. They were the following: Club President's Report, 3rd place; Yearbook, 3rd place, Mrs. Ronnie Wallace, chairman; District Department Chairman Report, 3rd, Mrs. Bob Polvado, Home Life Chairman; Home Life, 3rd place, Mrs. Ray O'Brien, chairman; Education, 3rd, Mrs. Neta Terry, chairman; and Outstanding Club Program, 3rd place, Mrs. Jimmy St. Clair, chairman.

The need for revision of the club's standing rules and constitution were reviewed and a committee was nominated for further consideration. The committee consists of Mrs. Earl Polvado, Mrs. O'Brien, Mrs. St. Clair, Mrs. Sandy Asbill and Mrs. Doug Reed.

Mrs. Sharon Hester was a guest for the meeting.

Members were reminded of the installation dinner in the home of Mrs. Bob Polvado April 27, and their responsibility for the items assigned to them.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Friends:
I welcome having the petition signed by you and others concerning the legalization of marihuana.

As you may know, the National Commission on Marihuana and Drug Abuse late last month issued a voluminous report in which it was proposed to make the possession of marihuana legal for personal use. I am not in agreement with this view and I was heartened by the statement made by the President in which he took the position that he would not favor the legalization of marihuana. I have not favored drug traffic in any form and I will continue to support efforts to combat narcotics trafficking and narcotics use, both from the domestic and international front.

In recent years the Appropriations Committee, which I head, has taken the lead in providing for the strengthening of anti-drug programs of various federal departments and agencies. Additional increases and stepped-up efforts are planned and I want to be as helpful as possible in recommending funds where it is indicated that additional personnel and programs can be helpful in dealing with this critical nationwide problem.

The concern evident in Morton is encouraging. A continuous ground swell of public sentiment is an important prerequisite to effectively meeting the situation. I want to be of maximum service here. Let me hear from you at any time.

Sincerely,
George Mahon
