

ALWAYS A SILVER LINING . . .

REGARDLESS OF HOW BAD THE WEATHER IS, there is usually someone who derives some benefit from it. In the above case, it accrued to a group of high school students who were determined to put the snow and ice currently covering Morton to good use. They utilized a pickup truck, an inverted auto hood cover and a tow rope for some good sport on the city streets. They weren't available following the caper for comment on just how much fun it turned out to be.

Winter storms causing cotton harvest standstill

Unfavorable weather interrupted all cotton harvest activities on the South Plains and cotton sample receipts declined to a few thousand daily at the four U. S. D. A. cotton classing offices, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the U. S. D. A. Classing Office in Lubbock. However, ginning, sampling and classing continued due to accumulated backlog of cotton harvested before the snow. This backlog was depleted by early this week and bad weather continued to hold up the harvest.

Samples from 1,252,000 bales had been classed at the Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland offices through Friday, January 5th.

Personnel at the four offices tested and classed samples from 239,000 bales during the week ending the 5th.

Estimates indicate that approximately three-fourths of this season's crop is now out of the fields.

McAlister will speak at chamber banquet

Plans for the annual Morton Area Chamber of Commerce banquet were completed this week with the confirmation of R. B. McAlister, state Representative and radio and television pioneer of Lubbock as principal speaker. Chamber President Tobe Hendon announced Monday.

The banquet, which features the naming of the Citizen of the Year, Farm Family of the Year, Conservation Family of the Year and Woman of the Year, will be held at the county activities building banquet room January 27, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The banquet will be catered by the Morton Gourmet Restaurant.

"We hope to top last year's attendance which numbered well over 250, and obtaining a speaker of Mr. McAlister's outstanding qualities should add a great deal of interest to this year's banquet. If the people of Cochran County want to hear a really interesting and capable speaker, they should not miss this opportunity," Hendon stated.

Banquet tickets are now on sale at the chamber office and can also be obtained from any chamber board member.

WINTER'S ARTISTIC MANTLE . . .

THE ICE-COVERED BRANCHES of the weeping willow tree above present a picture pleasing to the eye following several days of accretion from the ice fog and freezing rain that has plagued Morton residents for the past week. This photo was snapped Monday, and by Wednesday noon the ice buildup had become so heavy as to threaten the tree's very existence. The scene is typical of that over the entire Panhandle and South Plains which are in the grip of one of the most severe winter storms in the past 50 years.

Ice, snow isolate local area

The name "Texas Last Frontier" took on new meaning for Cochran countians this week as winter tightened its icy grip and virtually isolated the area from the world outside.

The steady accumulation of ice and snow which began on New Year's night and has yet to abate, has cut off communications sporadically with surrounding towns both by automobile and telephone. The accretion of ice on telephone and power lines and on all highways has caused loss of communication and has made travel extremely hazardous for the past several days. Hundreds of power line breaks are visible around Morton and the ice coating is threatening thousands of trees in the area.

No immediate relief was in sight at press time Wednesday, with the U. S. Weather Bureau forecasting more of the same at least through Saturday.

It all started for Morton in the early hours of January 2 when a freezing rain began to fall which later turned into snow, with a total accumulation measured at one inch for the day. Three more inches of snow fell on January 3 and .20 inches of moisture, comprised of snow, sleet and freezing rain was measured on January 4. On January 5 and 6 no measurable moisture fell, but ice fog continued to build up on trees and power lines.

Three inches of new snow (.50 inches of moisture) covered the area January 7 and light snow continued to fall on January 8 and 9. Both maximum and minimum temperatures showed a steady de-

March of Dimes Cake-A-Thon slated January 27 by KRAN

The annual March of Dimes Cake-A-Thon, sponsored by Radio Station KRAN in Morton, will be held Saturday, January 27, Hi Duncan, station manager, announced this week.

"We intend to have the biggest and best Cake-A-Thon ever and accordingly have raised our quota this year to a whopping $1,500," Duncan stated. "We have raised the quota each year that it has been held and we have never failed to top it," he added.

The Cake-A-Thon, which benefits the March of Dimes for the prevention and care of birth defects, features an all-day auction of cakes, pies, cookies, candies, etc. to be held in Liner's Pharmacy beginning at 8 a. m. January 27 and continuing until station sign-off time that evening. "If there are still some goodies evening," "If there are still some goodies un-sold at sign-off time we will open the bidding at noon January 28 and continue until everything is sold. Mike and Donna Liner have notified us that they will be glad to open the store for the continuation of the auction Sunday afternoon.

All good cooks in Cochran County — men, women boys or girls — are invited to demonstrate their culinary artistry in support of this worthy cause," Duncan concluded.

Study club Bridge tournament announced

The 5th annual L'Allegro Study Club bridge tournament will get underway January 29. Registrations are now being accepted.

Mrs. Van Greene is chairman of this year's event and registrations may be made by calling her at 5591 or Mrs. J. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Harold Drennan or any club member.

Five rounds will be played. The final round, a play-off, will be held at the County Activity Building. The date for the play-off will be announced at a later date.

All proceeds from the tournament will be donated to Girlstown and other local organizations.

Mrs. Green urges those who plan to enter this year's tournament to make their reservations as soon as possible.

HARVEY FIRES FOR TWO . . .

MORTON INDIAN JIMMY HARVEY fires over the outstretched arms of Levelland Lobo Greg Mathbin for two points as the Tribe fought the Lobos down to the wire in a recent game in the Morton gym. The Indians lost this one and a subsequent loss to the Lobos in the Denver City tournament, Tuesday night they lost to the Lobos once again by 12 points for their only three losses of the season against 15 wins. The chips will soon be down when 3AA district play begins on January 16 against Olton.

Indians fall to Lobos for third loss of year

There is a saying that goes: "The third time is charmed," — but any charm in the third meeting between the Morton Indians and the Levelland Lobos accrued to the Levelland team as they defeated the Tribe for the third time this year Tuesday night 68-56.

The Indians played the best game of the three this time against the taller and AAA classed Lobos, but failed to check the point output of Levelland ace Grant Dukes who contributed exactly half of the points the Lobos put on the board.

It was a nip and tuck first quarter with both teams battling on even terms through the period. Levelland had the edge when the buzzer sounded by one point 11-10. The Lobos took the time out at the sideline for the intermission, then came back to start the second quarter with a flurry of points that Morton could not match.

The second quarter saw Levelland hit their best point production of the game and it was enough to carry them ahead for the rest of the way. Dukes poured in 14 points during this quarter, three more than the total output for the entire Indian team.

It was 34-21 at the half and Dukes had 23 of them to his personal credit. In com-

Babson Report takes 'moderate view' of 1973 developments

By BABSON'S REPORTS, Inc.

GOOD FOR FARMERS

The step-up in grain exports this past year has stiffened agricultural commodity prices materially, and 1972 is winding up as one of the best years in history for the nation's farmers. Realized net income could reach $18.8 billion, a total which would outstrip the previous peak of $17 billion reached back in 1967. Farm income next year should hold near this all-time-record level. Domestic demand for agricultural products will remain strong, while exports are expected to rule on the upside. Farmers are already "champing at the bit" to start tilling and planting 1973's spring crops. The farm-equipment market is booming, and demand for fertilizer and seed will be brisk. Farm real estate prices have also strengthened.

CONSUMER PSYCHOLOGY

All told, the nation's consumers can look forward to a good year in 1973. There will be some dissatisfaction over prices as well as occasional tremors among workers unsettled by labor-management confrontations, but the overall atmosphere will be heartening. Employment should move above the record rate already achieved during 1972. Already the "Help Wanted" newspaper sections are reflecting an increase in numbers of job openings. On the other hand, unemployment will shrink only a trifle from the current 6% of the civilian labor force, possibly reaching the Administration's target of 5.5%. This is scarcely satisfactory to labor leaders, but it must be recognized that it is difficult to reduce jobless totals — even when employment is on the rise — if there is a massive influx into the labor force of young people and mothers seeking part-time or full-time work. And this will be the case during 1973.

As we said earlier, wage rates will climb further in the year ahead. The pattern for raises and fringe benefits for the ensuing three years may well be determined by contracts inked in the key trucking, auto, and construction industries in the new year. With multi-year agreements usually calling for the lion's share of the overall increase in the first year, average wage rates in American industry will show a significant rise in 1973, tempered somewhat by whatever controls are in effect. All of this will mean an upward push in both gross and disposal personal incomes.

SPENDING WILL RISE

The combination of full employment, soaring wage rates, and new highs in personal income will, of course, put consumer in a spending mood. For that reason the staff of Babson's Reports looks for a substantial rise in consumer spending for 1973. The continuing advance in consumer expenditures will be spurred to some degree by a decline in the rate of savings. The trend toward putting away a smaller percentage of disposable income has been in evidence since the third quarter of 1971, after hitting a peak in the preceding quarter when consumers channeled 8.6% of their disposable income into savings. For the full year 1971 the savings rate was 8.2%, but we estimate the 1972 figure will prove to have been reduced to 6.6%.

With little chance for much reduction in food prices and with consumption per capita still climbing, a fair portion of the increase in personal incomes will go for food and beverages. Consumers will also spend more for eating away from home. With new housing starts in 1972 holding up longer than was earlier expected, furniture and home furnishings are likely to remain strong areas of buyer interest. Purchases of new autos were extremely heavy during the bulk of the past year, and there is no indication that this tendency will soon be reversed. It should be noted, however, that we look for considerably less of an upward fillup in home furnishings and auto sales in 1973 than was seen in 1972. In both instances, it is getting late in the upward phase of the selling cycle. We do expect, however, quite positive gains in consumer spending for leisure-time activities and products, and for apparel and accessories.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURES

Business capital expenditures will help to stimulate the economy during 1973, but not with the same potency as in previous business booms. It is possible, in fact, that a good chunk of capital spending will not for increased productive capacity but for items of high social priority. Most firms will be laying out more money to comply with anti-pollution regulations, and companies in the oil and gas industry will expend huge sums in the search for new reserves. Major gas distributors are so hard-pressed for fresh supplies of natural gas that they are advancing millions of dollars to help pay for exploration and development costs in exchange for the right to purchase a major part of the entire output of a given area. All in all, business capital expenditures in 1973 could show a gain just about matching the 10% marked up during the past year.

INTEREST, BONDS

Since the consumer will be spending more and business will be building up inventories and pouring out more funds for capital-equipment programs, there will inevitably be some upward pressure on interest rates. But we stress once more that we do not anticipate another traumatic credit crunch such as occurred during the closing years of the 1960's. The brunt of any interest-rate rise is likely to come at the short end of the money-rate scale, with only a moderate firming of long-term rates. Keep in mind that the total of new housing starts will probably ease a bit in 1973. Moreover, corporations are generally in good financial condition after building up their resources over the past two years with the aid of the investment tax credit. The Babson staff looks for corporate profits after taxes to go up about 12% in the new year compared with 16% in 1972. Even this smaller gain, however — coupled with the freeze on corporate dividend disbursements — will enhance business liquidity.

One area of danger in the money-rate picture may be traced to the government's doorstep. The U. S. Treasury is slated for fairly active refinancing in 1973, and the unusual and unexpected tax receipts that have come in during 1972 through over-withholding will not be seen in the new year. Whether the Treasury's debt-management efforts will pose a problem depends on inflation prospects. If, as now seems to be increasingly accepted, the goneral public feels that inflation is being restrained, the federal refinancing projects are likely to occur without undue pressure on interest rates.

Hence, bond prices will probably show sporadic signs of softness in the short to intermediate sectors of the maturity scale. But on the long-term end prices should be generally well maintained. In general, 1973 should offer ample opportunity to make selected purchases of bonds and preferred stocks of good quality for investors who need to nail down a fair amount of fixed income from their investments. Wherever possible, however, some inflation hedge should be sought, even to the point of sacrificing a little income on a portion of investment capital. This part of investment funds can be placed in some attractively priced convertible debentures and convertible preferred stocks.

BIGGER TAX BITE?

The outcry for tax reform, the staggering projected federal budget deficit, and the need for help at state and local levels indicate that somewhere along the line in 1973 there must be a heavy tax wallop. The staff of Babson's Reports does feel, however, that by closing tax loopholes of the more glaring sort and putting some restraints on public spending, the federal government can avoid an outright increase in both corporate and personal income taxes in the coming year, over and above the social security hike that is already scheduled to take effect January 1, 1973.

STOCK MARKET

The stock market during 1973 will have three powerful factors in its corner: (1) the element of peace; (2) the generally healthy economic climate; and (3) the decisive hurdling of the 1,000 mark by the Dow Jones Industrial Average which is whetting the investment appetite. These are considerations that tend to stiffen investment confidence substantially. On the assumptions that corporate profits can post another gain during the coming year and that inflation can be prevented from running away, the Dow Jones Industrial Average can be expected to work into still higher territory over the next twelve months. The possibility of a move past the 1,100 mark, to even a challenge of the 1,200 level, should not be ruled out. However, there may not be a smooth jet flight for the stock market, if only because of the overhanging danger of labor troubles which will threaten for virtually the entire year ahead.

Nevertheless, barring an unpredictable major adverse development, many of the stocks which have been in the doldrums will have an opportunity to catch up with the parade. Among the groups that can give a good account of themselves in 1973 are those related to the energy crisis; the reawakening laggards such as steels, chemicals, and insurance issues; and those which stand to benefit most from the increase in business capital spending and stepped-up foreign trade. The intense atmosphere along the labor front in the new year could also attract investors to the stocks of concerns dealing in equipment that would cut back excessive labor costs.

Promising though the stock market outlook may be at this transition period—1972 into 1973—the staff of Babson's Reports is of the opinion that investors should employ a healthy measure of conservatism in their investment moves. Resolve, for instance, not to chase stocks which have already gone whizzing upward; try to operate on a sensible investment game plan. Give due consideration to the fundamental quality of investment selections and to securing at least a reasonable degree of diversification for your portfolio. In addition, keep on hand some investment reserves at all times.

THE ADMINISTRATION

The Babson staff foresees some sharp jawboning by the Administration to convince labor and management that they must co-operate in keeping wage and price increases within tolerable range. Should such moral suasion fail, however, there is always the last resort: Price and wage controls for more restrictive and of greater scope than the partial curbs and guidelines we have been operating under for about a year and a half. With such stringent anti-inflation curbs, neither labor nor management nor the consumer really benefits or is happy. Hence, we are hopeful that the pending labor negotiations in pattern-setting fields will be resolved with only moderate price inflation and without business stoppages.

If price inflation should be held to a walk in the early months of the new year, there is a good chance that controls will be modified and eased. Although it would be unrealistic to expect total cessation of anti-inflation controls in 1973, even some relaxation would have a positive impact on public confidence. Overall, we are hopeful that price and wage hikes can be kept to around 6% in the coming year, leaving the normal productivity gain of 3% to 3.5% per annum as a partially counterbalancing influence. The Administration itself will be in the forefront of the inflation battle. While it would be overly ambitious to look for a balanced federal budget in either fiscal 1973 or fiscal 1974 (portions of both fall in the calendar year 1973), the Nixon Administration will aim for a moderate budget deficit by impounding funds allocated for certain purposes.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

Allowing for a reasonable labor climate

parison, Jimmy Harvey, normally Morton's highest pointmaker, had a total of 2 points for the first half.

The Lobos cooled during the last half of the game and the Indians began to hit, but the closest the Tribe could come to closing the gap was eight points. It was this margin at the three-quarter mark, 45-37.

Several times the Indians were down by as much as eleven to thirteen points but battled back each time to narrow that gap, but they could not close it. Coming up to the final buzzer the Indians were trailing by ten points when Vernon Kruger missed on a long shot which saw the rebounding ball land squarely in Lobo Billy Wallace's hands. He then put the ball up on the buzzer for the final margin of twelve, 68-56.

During the last half, Jimmy Harvey began to score on the taller Dukes and hit for eighteen points in the third and fourth quarters. In trying to stop the resurging with some disruptions of brief duration, the staff of Babson's Reports feels that industrial production can post a gain of 5% in 1973 over the 1972 average. This would be in terms of physical volume of output and not subject to inflationary factors. This rate of increase would amount to somewhat less than that registered during 1972.

On the other hand, the increase in industrial activity should be spread over a broader base in terms of industries participating. There should also be some shift in leadership. For example, the production of automobiles and trucks which did yemen's work in pulling the economy upward these past two years may well level off, but the hitherto laggard capital-goods sector will come on strong. Other lines which are expected to contribute to the advance in industrial production include paper and pulp, containers, instruments and controls, machine tools, apparel, and both military and consumer electronics.

Harvey and the Indians, Dukes fouled out of the game late in the fourth quarter. Jerry Silhan and Mike Gilliam also had to bow out of the action because of too many fouls.

Harvey led the output of the Indians with 29 points, Larry Thompson and Mike Gilliam tied with 12 points each. Jerry Silhan had 6, Ted Thomas had 4, and Mark Fluitt rebounded out the Indians scoring with 2 points. Larry Thompson hit 8 of 8 at the line, evenly divided between the second and fourth quarters. The Indians made good on 69% of the free throws they attempted.

For the Lobos, it was mostly Greg Dukes all the way as he hit from outside and inside. His total for the game was 20 points, Vernon Kruger was a distant second with 12 points. Greg Methvin had 6, Marcus Johnson 6, tiny Allen Lockert had 4, and Steve Thompson and Billy Wallace had 2 each. Levelland hit on 76% of the tosses from the line.

For the Indians, this was their third loss of the season, with all of these losses at the hands of the Lobos. The Indians are now 15 and three. The Lobos hold a perfect mark of 18 and 0. Tomorrow night the Indians will be playing in Snyder again against a team of a higher classification. They start district play in October on January 16th.

In their first game of the evening, the Little Indians dropped their first game of the season to the Levelland JV by a score of 66-63. In a prior meeting at Morton, the Indians were successful by a score of 65-56.

Just sneeze and bear it

It's getting time of year for 'flu' bug

During this cold weather season, many of us will suffer the consequences of a cold, flu, or respiratory infection even though we may try to avoid or prevent it.

Since the chances are good to have a "cold bug" this year, it might behoove each of us to know more about what a cold is and what to do with when you have it, say state health officials.

What is a cold? The common cold is a name given to any of a number of short-lived infections of the nose and throat. All of them are highly contagious. They have similar symptoms. Sometimes they are called by other names, which simply tell you what part of the upper respiratory tract is particularly affected: rhinitis, affecting the nose; pharyngitis, the throat; or laryngitis, the voice box.

WHAT CAUSES a cold? The Texas State Department of Health points out there are many different viruses which cause a cold. A virus is a disease-producing agent so small that it goes right through the very fine filter that stops bacteria. These cold-causing viruses are present in great numbers in your nose and throat when you have a cold. They are carried on the droplets you expel when talking, coughing, or sneezing.

How do you catch a cold? Though a virus causes your cold, a number of conditions seem to increase your susceptibility (science does not yet know why or how.) People appear to catch colds mainly indoors. They get more of them during the colder months. Fatigue, chilling, and poor physical condition seem to give the virus a better foothold.

WHAT'S THE course of a cold? From one to three days after the virus takes hold in your body, the symptoms appear. (But other people can catch your cold even before your symptoms appear—one reason why colds are hard to prevent.) The first hint is usually scratchiness in the throat. Within a few hours, your nose gets stuffy and you have vague feelings of discomfort and illness. Usually you start sneezing, too.

Within 48 hours, your cold is in full bloom—eyes teary, nose running, voice husky, breathing obstructed, and your senses of taste and smell dulled. You may feel lethargic and achy. It's common to have a moderate headache, especially at the beginning (but a severe one may be a sign of some complication.) You may also have some fever, although that's unusual in adults.

ONCE THE COLD has fully developed, it usually continues at its peak for several days. Then there is a gradual letting up. An uncomplicated cold commonly lasts from seven to fourteen days.

Can a cold be dangerous? In itself, no. But it can open the door to other illnesses. And it's hard to know when the door has opened, because all the viruses that cause the common cold have not been identified. It's very difficult to say where the simple, unperilous cold leaves off and complications, which may be dangerous, begin.

Other—non-cold—viruses may complicate matters by getting in their licks when you are already felled by a cold. Or bacteria—many of which live in your

ASCS Farm News

JOHN W. HALL

Producers in Cochran County are being asked to get their 1972 cotton production evidence in to the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office as soon as possible.

Complete and accurate cotton production data is vital to each producer, since payment yield for each farm is based on actual production of upland cotton, said Danny Key, Chairman of the County ASCS Committee.

Producers who are not sure of the papers needed or all of the details for turning in evidence on cotton production should check with the county ASCS office. Key said. He cautioned that producers who own, operate, or have an interest in more than one cotton farm should be careful to keep the farms' production records entirely separate. Also, these producers must use the same type of records for each farm they have an interest in.

More spot checks on production evidence are being made by the county ASCS office this year than in previous years. Also visits have been made to every cotton ginner in the county to emphasize the importance of good records and proper identification of all cotton with the farm on which it is produced.

Mrs. Gipson rites held in Abilene

Services for Mrs. Mattie Pauline Gipson of Abilene, mother of Joe Gipson, Morton Justice of the Peace, were held Saturday at 1 a. m. in Chapel of Memories of the Elliott Funeral Home in Abilene. Three of Mrs. Gipson's sons, Norman, Bill and Herbert, all ministers of Churches of Christ, officiated and were assisted by two grandsons who are also ministers.

Burial was in Turkey Cemetery at 4 p. m.

Mrs. Gipson, 92, died Thursday, January 4, in Central Nursing Home in Abilene.

She is survived by six sons, F. C. of Odessa, Joe of Morton, J. M. of Sweetwater, Herbert of Amarillo, Bill of McComb, Miss. and Norman of Denver, Colo.; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Parker of Abilene and Mrs. Johnny White of Chicago; eighteen grandchildren and thirty-three great-grandchildren.

body harmlessly during times of good health—may grow strong when your defenses are down. Or sometimes your body is allergic to the cold virus or the activated bacteria.

THE SEVERITY of the cold symptoms increases, and the inflammation and mucous discharge may spread to other parts of your respiratory system. For some people, these complications may be dangerous.

Can you cure a cold? No, you can't. There is no drug known today that can cure the common cold. Antibiotics, the "wonder drugs," are effective against bacteria, not against ordinary respiratory viruses. Doctors may prescribe these drugs for the complications—the secondary, bacterial infections—but not for the cold itself.

Micronaire readings were steady from the previous week. Only fourteen per cent of all cotton classed at Lubbock during the week had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 11 per cent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 32 per cent was 3.0 through 3.2, 32 per cent 2.7 through 2.9 and 11 per cent was 2.6 and below.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. D. A. reported brisk trading on the Lubbock market. Demand continued strong for better grade, premium micronaire cotton. Prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale higher on cotton with micronaire of 3.3 and better, steady on cotton with micronaire of 3.0 through 3.2 and lower on all cotton with micronaire of 2.9 and lower.

AVERAGE PRICES paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling (41) staple 31 — 24.55 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling (41) staple 32 — 25.25, Low Middling (51) staple 31 — 22.50, Low Middling (51) staple 32 — 23.45, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 — 23.25 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 32 — 23.45.

cline during this time with the lowest of eight degrees being recorded Wednesday, January 10. Other low temperatures were 15 degrees on January 8 and 11 degrees January 9.

What has been described by the weather bureau as probably the worst storm in fifty years has been general over the entire area of northwest Texas. The consistently low temperatures and persistent fall of moisture is posing a serious threat to livestock on area farms and ranches. Emergency measures are being taken by many ranchers to get feed and water to stock in isolated places.

The cotton harvest on the South Plains, which had reached its peak and which promised to be the best crop in seven years, came to an abrupt halt with the onset of the ice and snow. Gin yards which had an overflow of backlogged bales 10 days ago have long since ginned themselves into silence.

An estimated two thirds to three quarters of the cotton crop was estimated to be out of the fields when the storm struck. How much damage it will cause to the quality of the lint will not be known until the harvest resumes, agriculture officials state.

Bledsoe cagers barely miss title at Olton

The Bledsoe High School basketball team defied the odds and their "B" classification and came within a whisker of defeating the Class AA Denver City Mustangs for the championship of the Olton tournament Saturday night.

A jump shot by Mustang Lyndal Trout which split the net for two points with just two seconds to go in the second overtime period pulled it out for the hard-pressed Denver City five 62-61. Bledsoe had qualified for the finals by defeating Floydada, also class AA, 63-42 Thursday and another unidentified team Friday.

The Plains-wide ranked Bledsoe cage team's record now stands at 16 wins and five losses.

Farmcast: from state ag agency

Hog Numbers Decline . . . Wheat Seeding Increases . . . Citrus Blackfly Survey Continues . . . March 1 Is Deadline . . .
Fewer hogs and pigs are reported in Texas compared to a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.
In Texas, the number of hogs and pigs total 1,264,070. This is a decrease of 10 per cent from a year earlier.

Reports based on farmers' intentions indicate that during the period now through May, 124,000 sows will farrow in Texas, four per cent above a year earlier. The average value of all hogs in Texas is $35 per head, giving a total inventory of $44,240,000.

Nationwide, hogs and pigs total 61,500,000, two per cent less than a year ago. Hogs and pigs kept for breeding are estimated at 9,609,000, an increase of six per cent.

WINTER wheat seeding for harvest is estimated at 4,400,000 acres which is a nine per cent increase over a year ago and is a fourth larger than 1971.

A crop of 70,400,000 bushels is now expected in Texas. This compared with 4,400,000 bushels produced in 1972. Wheat seeding for all practical purposes is completed with bad weather causing some delays.

Nationwide, the 1973 prospective winter wheat crop is a record 1,278,000,000 bushels. This would be eight per cent more than the 1972 crop and 12 per cent more than in 1971.

Generally, condition of the crop is mostly good to excellent. Estimated yield is 29.9 bushels per acre, just slightly below the 1971 record yield per acre.

Indications are now that 88 per cent of the seeded acreage will be harvested for grain. If realized, this would be the highest percentage since 1966 when 90.3 per cent was harvested.

SURVEYS of the citrus blackfly continue in the Rio Grande Valley. A new infestation has been found in the San Benito and Harlingen areas. The blackfly can cause great economic damage in commercial citrus. Even infestations of short duration may reduce crop yield by as much as 50 per cent.

Personnel of the Texas Department of Agriculture are cooperating with U. S. Department of Agriculture specialists in combating the fly. The survey will provide a specific picture of the extent of the problem.

Federal-state crews will survey the Valley once each month for six months, examining more than 100,000 points. Entomologists said the survey is sensitive enough to detect infestations as low as one infested tree in 33,000.

After the survey is complete, federal and state officials will decide on appropriate courses of action.

MARCH 1 is deadline for submitting your ideas on proposed changes in the Packers and Stockyards Act as it relates to bonding regulations.

Proposed changes would include recovery under bonds, bond equivalents, termination of bond, and separate coverage for selling and buying activities.

Anyone wishing to submit comments should write the Hearing Clerk, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250. Copies of the amendments may be obtained by writing Information Officer, Packers and Stockyards Administration, USDA, Washington, D. C. 2250.

Release of farmer's tax guide announced

The 1973 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide for preparing 1972 returns has been released. The Farmer's Tax Guide explains tax rules that are of particular interest to farmers. It is designed to help farmers prepare their Federal income tax return.

Included in the guide is a chapter on Investment Credit, which was restored by the Revenue Act of 1971. Also included is a separate chapter on sales and other dispositions of depreciable property and certain farm land.

Copies of the Tax Guide are available at the local county agent's office.

Time to reform the reforms, contends Texas Bar members

Around the turn of the century, Texas, along with most other states, enacted its first laws dealing with the juvenile lawbreaker.

These laws, swept in by a wave of idealism and social reform, were designed to rescue and rehabilitate the anti-social child, for the benefit of himself and society.

Now, nearly three-quarters of a century later, the State Bar of Texas is proposing that it is time to reform the reforms. A complete new juvenile law will be one of the largest bills in a package of family law revisions to be offered by the Bar at the 1973 session of the Texas Legislature in January.

Impetus for change has come from a number of sources. Several recent United States Supreme Court decisions pointed out that the youthful offender was being given harsher treatment and fewer rights than an adult who had broken the same law.

A 1972 READERS DIGEST article flatly declared that the juvenile laws "mangle the lives of thousands of children." Embarrassingly enough, the article cited Texas for some of its horrible examples. One was a juvenile judge who allegedly initiated mimeographed forms, without hearing or investigation, to send children off to reform school.

The author also bore down on the fact that many states (Texas included) do not require juvenile judges to be lawyers or to have any education whatever, for that matter.

The proposed new Texas juvenile law is the product of years of work by juvenile judges, juvenile officers and lawyers specializing in this field. Its authors feel that, if passed, it will become a model for the nation.

One of the criticisms of present law is that it draws no distinction between children who break the penal code, as by armed robbery, for example, and those who engage in troublesome behavior typical of childhood.

"It is perfectly possible," said one lawyer of the present juvenile law, "to send a kid up for an indefinite term for such 'crimes' as playing hooky, running away from home or passing his teacher or even, I suspect, for being an emotionally disturbed child whose parents want him off their hands."

THE PROPOSED new law would draw a sharp line between the child who has committed a criminal act and the one who is driving his parents and teachers up the wall. Only the child who has engaged in conduct criminal for an adult could be committed to the Texas Youth Council—or one who, having been placed on probation, has broken probation.

Juvenile judges would have to be lawyers. In counties where the county judge is not a lawyer, the district judge, who is required by law to be a lawyer, would serve as juvenile judge.

"The new constitutional requirements laid down by the Supreme Court make it really necessary that the juvenile judge be a lawyer," say the bill's authors.

Other new safeguards are provided. A child would not be allowed to waive certain rights, such as the right to an attorney, unless some responsible adult, such as parent or guardian, also agreed. The child charged with a serious offense could not waive the right to an attorney under any circumstances. Provision would be made for the appointment of attorneys for those too poor to hire one.

Mrs. Masten reviews best seller for club

The YM Club discussed the implications of Alvin Toffler's best selling non-fiction book "Future Shock" at their meeting Thursday, January 4. Mrs. Douglas Betts was hostess.

Mrs. Donald Masten reviewed Toffler's heavily documented presentation of the future. She stated that future shock is the disease of change. While 2 to 3% of the world's population hunger for change a larger number defiantly resist any change — change that is rapidly coming. She continued by saying that the acceleration of change is simple: technology feeds on technology, therefore, each new development leads to two which leads to four-to eight etc. Following the rate of knowledge growth, what is known today will comprise only 3% of what will be known in 50 years. Faced with this tremendous cognitive input, the public is in danger of mass disorientation.

Some of the highlights Mrs. Masten pointed out were that men who are making the future say that in addition to modular housing and greater mobility, the world will be filled with novelty. Man will move onto and into the sea; underwater buildings will have "gills" to extract oxygen from the water; specialized animals and byborgs will be made to serve mankind; cloning (duplication) of people will probably be done within the next 15 years; people may buy frozen embryos, guaranteed free of genetic defect, for bodily implant or for development outside the body; man may be specialized with genetic engineering; and brain transplants may be possible.

In the business meeting, members answered the roll call with "What I'd do to improve the Morton schools". A suggestion to raise state dues was discussed and plans were made to meet for preparing the annual reports. Plans were also made for the Recognition Tea slated in February.

Those attending were: Mmes. Betts, Bell, Max Clark, John Hall, Dexter Nebhut, Masten, Truman Murdock, Joe Norman, Dalton Redman, Eugene Vanstony and Jerry Winder.

She stated she is planning to have another Christmas dinner in February when number two son, Ricky, comes home on furlough. It is hoped the other children of Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt will be able to get together for a long delayed family Christmas and reunion at that time. Ricky requested the Morton tribune as one of his Christmas gifts. We hope he will enjoy the paper all year.
