

Second guessing after buzzer useless exercise

EDITOR'S NOTE—David Murrah, former Morton High School teacher who is presently studying at Texas Tech for a Ph.D., has many years experience as a sports writer for the Tribune. His analysis of the basketball tournament is published in order to give Tribune readers as much background information as possible on the great event.)

BY DAVID MURRAH
Those last 29 seconds will be the topic of many a discussion for the next several years for it was in that brief span of time that Grand Saline was able to stave off

Morton's last attack of the 1973 season, a feat which shifted the state AA basketball crown from the far extremities of West Texas to a like spot in East Texas.

When you catch yourself saying, "He should have..." or "Well, if it hadn't been for..." remember that the success of basketball seasons are not determined in the last moments of the last game, but rather during the weeks from November to February. Thus, the Indians capped one of the finest seasons ever by dropping a close 62-61 contest to the Grand Saline Indians Friday afternoon in Austin.

The loss marked the first time since December, 1971, that Morton had lost to an AA ball club. Now the string begins again.

The Morton Indians are not the only group to be commended for their Austin performance. The Morton basketball fans put on one of the best shows of sportsmanship and courtesy of any group there.

During the closeness of the Grand Saline game, especially when the East Texas team was shooting free throws, Morton fans did not boo, did not hiss, but instead maintained a steady flow of positive support for their own team. With Grand Saline it was a different story. Saturday night in the finals against San Augustine, the huge Grand Saline crowd boomed in chorus with each San Augustine free throw. But, they got what they deserved. San Augustine showed a smooth and balanced attack as they edged by the taller Grand Saline Indians, 60-58.

Morton fans were in Austin by the droves, as usual. Although many did not stay over for the finals, they stayed long enough to conclude that Morton had a better team than Grand Saline.

Now we all realize that this writer is prejudiced in front of the Morton Indians, but it doesn't take much sense to interpret statistics. Grand Saline shot 48 per cent from the field in the game;

Morton hit only 38 per cent, yet lost by only one point. The Indians were cold, yet they nearly pulled it out.

Also, the taller Grand Saline played loose basketball and thus took advantage of some rather loose officiating. Now we are not ones to blame a loss on officiating, but one only needed to stay in Austin long enough to see the same officials call some other games.

Ask any Lamesa fan; they will comment on those officials. In Lamesa's first round game, the Tors were ahead by ten in the fourth period, but they hung on to win by two, no thanks to the refs.

The poor officiating came to a head in the Grand Saline-San Augustine game Saturday night. It got so bad that at one point in the game, fans from both sides were on their feet booing the refs for their poor calling.

The state basketball tournament is a glorious affair and this year's was no exception. Well-attended, this year's program drew up to seven thousand fans. Some 5500 saw Morton play Grand Saline. Apart from the fans from the participating towns, the stands were full of coaches and basketball lovers from all over the state, many of whom make the

School board election lacking in candidates

Of three local elections taking place on March 7, only the school trustee race was held. A single candidate application as a deadline for filing was rapidly reaching at press time Wednesday.

With William Hodge, school tax collector, revealed that there were no applications filed for a place on the school board by shortly after noon Wednesday. At that time there had been a total of five candidates file for city council posts and three for places on the school district board.

Revenue sharing meeting tonight

A meeting called by County Judge Jerry Thompson for the purpose of explaining to county citizens how the revenue sharing funds may be used has been scheduled for tonight.

The meeting, which was originally set for February 22 and later postponed, will be held in the county activities building at 7:30 p.m.

Judge Thompson urges all interested citizens to plan to attend this meeting and bring your ideas with you as to how you think these funds should be handled by county officials.

Plains cotton harvest resumes

Cotton harvest operations began increasing once again on the South Plains as fields dried out, according to W.K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the U.S.D.A. Most activity was in the counties east and south of Lubbock but activity was increasing over the whole area.

This is the latest cotton harvest on record. Samples from 300,000 bales were classed at the South Plains U.S.D.A. cotton classing offices during February and samples from approximately 150,000 more bales are expected. There have been many late harvests in past years but none approach the present one in number of bales harvested this late in the season.

Samples from 41,000 bales were tested and classed at the Lubbock office during the week ending Friday, March 2nd. This brought the total classed for the season to 1,819,000 bales.

Estimates indicate that 90 to 95 percent of this season's crop is now out of the fields.

Grades of cotton were about the same pound steer for $1 per pound. Total proceeds from the livestock sale soared to a record $19,713.70 with the average price paid for all animals amounting to $303.26.

Cody Dewbre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dewbre of Morton and Cochran County 4-H Club member, was the big winner at the 1973 FFA and 4-H Junior Livestock Show as he showed his heavy-weight Hereford steer to the Grand Championship here Tuesday. He was a winner in more ways than one as his 1,136 lb. calf brought an even $1 per pound from Maple Coop, buyer of the animal.

The grand total of $19,713.70 in receipts from the livestock sale that followed the show set a new record and wound up one of the most successful two-day shows in the event's history. The $303.26 average price paid for all animals in the sale is thought to be another new record.

Other top winners included: Ty Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, whose 206 lb. heavy duroc hog took Grand Championship honors. Ernest Gentry Ford of Levelland purchased the champion at a price of $1.50 per pound.

Thomas, Harvey All-South Plains

Two Morton Indians were selected on the first team and two more made Honorable mention on the Class AA All-South Plains basketball team announced by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal last week.

Jimmy Harvey and Ted Thomas were picked for the eleven-man first team and Jerry Silhan and Larry Thompson received honorable mention. Both Thomas and Harvey are seniors who have closed out their basketball careers at MHS, while both Silhan and Thompson are juniors who will return to the Indian squad next year.

The two first string selections have had outstanding careers with the Indians, having played in two state tournaments and contributing a large share to the state AA championship won by the Tribe in 1972. Silhan and Thompson also have participated in two state tournaments and all the lesser tournament levels leading up to it.

The four Indians join a select group from over the South Plains who would be representative in any similar area in the United States.

With no positions listed the first team includes: John Clark, Lockney; Jay Depanion, Frenship; Mark Dovel, Tulia; Jimmy Harvey, Morton; Ray Martin, Abernathy; Reggie Moore, Post; Kenny Ringo, Dimmitt; Dick Rogers, Abernathy; Jerry Teel, Tulia; Ted Thomas, Morton and Lyndall Trout, Denver City.

Carl Irlbeck, of Abernathy, was named coach of the year, replacing Morton's Ted Whillock who won the honor in 1972.

Player of the year: Dick Rogers, Abernathy.

Honorable Mention players include: Joe Evans, Abernathy; Robert Qualls, Denver City; Randy Settle, Abernathy; Jerry Silhan, Morton; Kent Snodgrass, Abernathy; Larry Thompson, Morton and Mark Vinson, Floydada.

Tribe tomahawked by Indians

By John Coffman

Although they were probably the best of the four teams involved, the Morton Indians were eliminated in the opening round of the AA tournament last weekend at Austin by the Grand Saline Indians 62-61.

To say that the Morton team lost the game is not quite correct; actually, they beat themselves with the least productive fourth quarter of the entire year. But, slice it any way you want to, the one point deficit wrote finis to basketball for our Indians until next year.

There were four teams involved in the AA tournament. Our Morton Indians, the Grand Saline Indians, the Mathis Pirates, and the eventual AA winner, the San Augustine Wolves.

Of these four, Mathis was definitely out of their depth, was proved by their 26 point loss at the hands of the Wolves in the second game of the initial afternoon. It was the third time to advance to Austin for Mathis and Morton, the first time ever for Grand Saline and San Augustine.

All of the games were played in historic Gregory gym, the home of the Texas Longhorns for nearly four decades. A new sports complex is being built in the near future to replace the old relic and should result in much better accommodations for players and fans alike. At times, the temperatures inside the gymnasium were those of an oven and the seating provided left much to be desired.

Grand Saline brought a record of 29 wins and 3 losses into the tournament, one of their wins over the team from Whitehouse coming in the bi-district pairings. Whitehouse was the team the Indians beat for the title last year.

The Grand Saline team has been regarded as a team of opportunists all year, and certainly, took advantage of every opportunity to wrest victory away from our Morton team. This ability to come from behind almost took them to the top at San Augustine had to really struggle to pull out the title game on Saturday night 60-58.

In this first meeting between the

Date changed

The date for registration in the newly forming adult education classes had been changed to March 23.

Anyone wishing to register may call Mrs. W.G. Freeland at Morton High School. Classes in typing, auto-mechanics for women, woodwork, crafts and sewing machine operation, upholstery, small motor mechanics and preparation for G.E.D. are being offered.

TRUTH is flashed on the scoreboard in Gregory Gymnasium in Austin as the final state championship game between Morton and Grand Saline came to an end. The awful truth is that with time run out, Morton (designated Lower) has no chance as far as the 1973 basketball campaign is concerned. The one point victory over Grand Saline for state AA finals which they lost by two points to St. Augustine Saturday. Morton completed a highly successful season with a 28-6 won-lost record including district, bi-district and regional championships they won in 1972.

Highlights and sidelights from the State Capital

By-Bill Boykin
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex.—"Future financing of public schools in Texas is the most talked about, but least understood, problem in the state today," Sen. Pete Snelson told the West Texas Press Association at their winter meeting in Midland.

"The courts have said that the wealth of a school district cannot be the criteria for future financing," he explained. "And all future school financing in the state is affected by the court suit on the Edgewood district of San Antonio. Public school financing has been challenged in the courts in 30 states."

He compared Edgewood with Odessa's school district. Odessa has 24,984 pupils, 1,119 teachers with a starting salary of $7,445. Edgewood has 22,134 students, 805 teachers with a starting salary of $6,000. This is not the "equality" promised under the 14th Amendment, the courts have ruled — and the U.S. Supreme Court is looking at the appeals on this and other state cases.

The U.S. Supreme Court decision will write the next public school financing formulas in Texas, Snelson added, which might force a special session of the Texas Legislature — after this 63rd regular session has adjourned.

He speculated on the future of school districts — pointing out that ideas have ranged from a "statewide school district" to more "consolidations of school districts" — unitizing all districts in counties and statewide "property assessment at true market value."

Snelson, vice-chairman of the Senate Education Committee, quoted an El Paso newspaper clipping which said: "We are watching the demise of public education in Texas."

"The wealth of Texas as a whole will determine our future laws on public education," Snelson concluded — and asked these questions: "What will be the effect on the state tax structure? What will it do to consolidation of 1,100 school districts?" and "Will there be room for local enrichment programs?"

CONSTITUTIONAL PANEL PICKED—Legislators have until the end of the week to lodge their objections to the 37-member Texas Constitutional Revision Commission selected by the state's top six officials.

In order to reject the slate, a majority of both houses would have to signify their objections with the Secretary of State. Apparently, a relatively small number of objections will be lodged, although complaints on equality of representation on the Commission lodged by blacks, Republicans, Mexican youth and a West Texas Mexican-American were also among signs of the objection petition.

Former State Supreme Court Justice Robert W. Calvert was named chairman of the Commission which reports its recommendations to the Legislature by November. Mrs. Malva Milburn of Austin, former Republican state vice chairman, is Commission chairman. The Legislature will sit at constitutional convention next year, and the Commission's work as its state point.

The Commission includes 10 Republicans, four women, three blacks and three Mexican-Americans. Negro representation was satisfied with its numerical representation, although individuals named by the selection committee generally drew commendation.

Farmers and farm suppliers, individually and organizationally, over the years have spent millions of dollars to improve the image of American agriculture in the minds of the non-farm consuming public. Success of the effort has been less than spectacular at best.

Agriculture is still much maligned in the urban press, on radio and television, and in the halls of Congress. Derogatory news stories, editorials, television documentaries and impassioned speeches against agricultural interests—most always fraught with misleading statements if not blatant distortions of fact—are still the order of the day. The result has been harassment from public, state and federal agencies, inordinate public resistance to fair prices for farm commodities, and inequitable legislation. The cost to farmers is beyond calculation.

Now, there is new hope. Farmers and farm suppliers many of whom have had good but fragmented efforts in the past, have for the first time formally joined forces. Producers of agricultural commodities have formed the National Agricultural Institute (NAI) to be funded primarily by cotton, feed grain, wheat, soybean, corn and other commodity organizations.

Suppliers will coordinate their end of the effort through the National Agricultural Communications Board (NACB), with representatives from producers and distributors of feed, fertilizer, fuel, machinery, chemicals and other supplies used in farm production.

NACB and NAI will share a joint staff and funding of communications programs in a unified national effort, providing research, promotional materials and services never before available.

Formation of these groups is an outgrowth of a private, year-long study of agricultural communications problems undertaken at the suggestion of Congressman George Mahon (D-Tex.) and Senator Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) The final report of the study recommended a nationwide program of coordination to be supported by producers and suppliers, which is now approaching reality.

"The benefits to agriculture," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "while they will not occur overnight, can be substantial indeed." PSG was one of the early supporters of NAI and continues an active membership. Another High Plains Member and booster of NAI is Lubbock based Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, also enthusiastic about the possibilities for agricultural advancement through NAI and NACB, stated "The purpose must be to establish a genuine dialogue, and thereby bring about more profound communication and more complete understanding between the most basic producer in our economy, the farmer, and the ultimate recipient of his products the consumer."

Congressman Mahon and Senator Curtis issued a joint statement which said

SHORT SNORTS

The Senate confirmed appointments of Joe Christie of El Paso to the Insurance Board, Maj. Gen. Thomas Bishop of Austin as adjutant general and Joe Golman of Dallas to the state board of cosmetology.

In part, it is gratifying to note that an effort begun only one year ago as an informal, non-partisan and completely independent study has now entered the action phase which, hopefully, will bring about concrete results."

Donnell Echols of Lamesa, a past president of PCG, was one of the original NAI directors and remains one of its strong advocates. "When we have given the non-farm population a better understanding of agriculture's contribution to the national well-being and of the problems involved with maintaining that contribution," Echols believes, "we will have made great progress toward securing our fair share of the national prosperity."

WELFARE BUDGET QUESTIONED—

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby asked additional data from the Welfare Department to justify its case for major budget increases.

Hobby complained the department is asking for 2,851 new staff positions at a time when the federal government will take over cost of public assistance payments to some 275,000 aged, blind and disabled. While more Texans may qualify for state Medicaid coverage under the new federal provisions, Hobby said, he is not convinced the number of recipients of the medical care will be doubled as estimated by the Welfare Department.

Texas Research League, meanwhile, accepted Governor Briscoe's request to make an analysis of the impact of new Social Security amendments on state finances and welfare programs.

Mrs. Schooler gives program for club

Mrs. J.L. Schooler presented a program on lighted "niches" for the Whiteface Garden Club at their meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. Rube Abney.

In describing a niche, Mrs. Schooler told the members that any recessed space or box designed for displaying pictorial beauty or the objects in it is a niche. She continued by saying "light may be used to emphasize or sharpen shadows. If the light is above shadows will be at the base, reminiscent of the moon; if the shadows are long, one might be reminded of twilight." She exhibited an Easter arrangement made from driftwood with lilies with a cross behind and above. She demonstrated the different moods which could be created by placing the light in different positions.

Members answering the roll call with "A Program I Would Like to Have Next Year" were Meses Elmer Orr, R.C. Cotton, S.J. Bills, E.E. Jennings, G.C. Keith, Jerry Marks, R.D. Hensley, Schooler, Burris and Abney.

Post Mortons

BY BILL SAYERS

Isn't it amazing how much further it is driving back from Austin than it was driving down—when one little factor intercedes to add length to the journey—we didn't win?

Well, if we fans and boosters think it's rough on us, let's pause a moment to think what it means to the Indian team members and coaches. Especially for those seniors, for whom there is no tomorrow, and who have worked their boots off over a long, grueling season in preparation for defending their proud championship and, let's face it, to please their parents, families and boosters.

Our thoughts should be only of them—and we don't say this in a mood of mourning, but in a feeling of high elation! After all, look where those boys have taken us over the past four seasons: All the way to the state tournament three out of four times and a state championship one of those three times.

We are certain that the entire population of Morton are just as proud of them as if they were state champions and we will continue to take great pride in the 3-AA District championship, the 3-AA-4-AA Bi-District championship and the Region I Championship they brought home this year—one of which so many schools would have not only settle for, but would have gladly welcomed.

We can't stop here, however, without a free choice words about the caliber of coaching the Indians have been receiving over the past several years. Our recent three trips to the state tournament would never have been possible, in our opinion, without the superb coaching and basketball program initiated and strongly pursued by Coach Ted Whillock.

Considering that all three Indian state teams have been grossly lacking in size, always going up against teams with superior height, from district right on up to state, there is no doubt but what it was purely and simply superior coaching—getting the last available drop of ability and brains out of the personnel he had, that took the Indians where they have gone these past few years.

Suffice it to say, we are the strongest of Whillock fans—we have learned more basketball just watching his teams operate than we ever imagined existed before.

A few observations on the Morton-Grand Saline game:

Our congratulations to Ted Thomas on keeping his temper and avoiding technical fouls via the obscene language route. He took a worse beating than Foreman gave Frazier every time he brought the ball down the floor—at least two times he was knocked completely to the floor with no foul being called. We realize Ted knew they were bating him, but don't think we could have kept his cool. That's the mark of a champion—and in a game settled by only one point—it was very well done.

How about Jerry Silham—with time running out he popped it to No. 24, for an intentional foul, then looked around at the referee who refused to blow his whistle, so he socked it to him again in a manner that the referee couldn't refuse. We'll bet that No. 24 was saying to himself "Holy mackerel, ref, this guy ain't exactly Tinkerbell, so call it, Man, even if we lose."

Absolutely the most beautiful play we have ever observed in some forty years of basketball observing was a fantastically coordinated pass from Larry Thompson to Jimmy Harvey over the head of the player guarding Thompson. Harvey was at the pinnacle of one of his terrific jumps close in under the basket and dunked the ball in a seemingly continuous motion from Thompson.

It's a terrible shame that these two will not be operating together again next year.

Whenever a basketball game ends with one winner and one loser and one point's difference between the two, it can be said that it could have gone either way except for one of enumerable breaks. Therefore, we feel that the Morton Indians missed being state champions again by the margin of one point—considering that their conquerors subsequently fell in the final playoff game.

Wait till next year? We sincerely hope so, and not without foundation. We have some excellent talent coming back and more coming up. If it can be done, Whillock & Co. will do it.

SENATE REFORM ACTION PLEDGED—The Senate will pass "meaningful legislation" on the topic of ethical conduct in government, Lt. Gov. Hobby told the House Rules Committee last week.

Open meetings legislation passed by the House will be on the Senate calendar soon, Hobby said, along with a House bill to limit tax and spending conference committees to adjustments in bills.

Remember last spring? We promised you "Cotton Up...even in the rain"

And delivered!

A plague of cold, wet weather... cotton seed in short supply. That was what you were facing last spring when we promised you a stand, even in the rain, with Terraclor Super-X soil fungicide. Then reports started coming in. "Amazing that cotton looks as good as it does." "Seedling disease on rampage in untreated fields." "Crop held back, but not much disease." "More in-furrow fungicides than ever used this year."

Terraclor Super-X did it again! Delivered as promised. Controlled Rhizoctonia, Pythium and Fusarium. Helped cotton make a stand in spite of the weather.

Don't forget. Terraclor Super-X surrounds the seed and emerging plant. When applied in-furrow, it provides extended protection against seedling diseases after germination. Available in granular, liquid... or dust form for hopper box application. Most popular is the granule, impregnated with a soil systemic insecticide. Once over as you plant takes care of both the fungi and early season insects. Get your cotton up this year too. See your Olin Distributor. He delivers as promised, which helps make him

An organizational meeting for the Senior Citizens was held last week in the County Activity Building with Mrs. Cammie Jackson, Chairman of the committee, presiding.

Two things are needed for a successful Senior Citizens Committee: 1) Senior Double ring wedding vows were repeated by Miss Freda Gail Layton and Corky Long in a service at 7 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church in Enochs. The Rev. Charlie Shaw, minister, officiated.

Twenty persons were present with representatives from Bledsoe, Morton and Whiteface. The group discussed possible meeting places and programs. Each community will meet separately with officers elected from the group of senior citizens. The entire county will join together for quarterly meetings and get-togethers.

The Morton group did vote on a name for their organization. It will be known as DMA (Don't Mention Age).

The group also decided to hold another meeting on Thursday, March 29 at 2:30 p.m. in the County Activity Building. This will be another county-wide meeting to further discuss organizing. This meeting will be open to all citizens 60 or over interested in joining the organization and we invite all those interested in helping to organize the group.

D.E. BENHAM, president of the First State Bank, welcomes Barbara DeLorimiere, senior director of Mary Kay Beauty consultants, and Mrs. Clara Williams, future director, to a workshop held here Tuesday morning.

Spruiell had played in prior years at Pottsboro, last year's class A champions, a team that went undefeated. Then he transferred to Petrolia, and carried that team into the tournament finals.

Kennard was not completely awed by the hot-shooting Spruiell. Although he scored 36 points against them, he failed to hit in the clutch and missed several shots in the final minutes as Kennard jumped to a 14-point lead in the last quarter and then won by a 77-67 margin.

The Kennard coach took his starters out with a minute to play, probably remembering that Petrolia had humiliated Sanford-Fritch that morning by leaving their starters in until the final two minutes, even though the Pirates at one time had a 30-point lead.

If there was a disappointing team at the state tournament, it would have to be Lamesa. The Golden Tornadoes looked bad against Longview Pine Tree's full court press.

The Tribe committed over 35 turnovers in losing 45-37, and those turnovers alone accounted for 24 of Pine Tree's 45 points. If only Lamesa could have borrowed Jim Harvey and Ted Thomas! The Tors would have been state champions for sure.

Austin is a pretty place in early March. In spite of Saturday's mist and fog, Morton fans left wishing and hoping that they will get to make the same trek in the near future. Chances are that they will. If past history is any indication, the team that wins the district 3-AA title will go to Austin, and next year's edition of the Morton Indians will be a tough contender for that district crown.

Once they are past that point, the Tribe has tradition and playoff experience that gives them a 10-point advantage against nearly any team.

Other teams will continue to produce individual stars, such as Petrolia's Larry Spruiell, or Grand Saline's Ronnie Moreland (no. 44), but the Morton Indians will continue to win if it maintains its present well-coached system. Morton doesn't need a star—it has a team.

Donnie Kuehler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Kuehler and Morton FFA member, took Grand Champion honors with his 87 lb. fine wool lamb. The lamb was purchased by H.B. Barker of Morton at a price of $1.65 per pound.

Deborah Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Young and county 4-H club member, won Grand Champion honors with her 102 lb. cross breed lamb. Ernest Gentry Ford also bought this animal at a price of $1.10 per pound.

Trey McClung, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. McClung, Jr. and county 4-H club member, won the medium wool class Grand Championship with his 81 lb. lamb. Morton Hog Company bought the animal at a price of $1.30 per pound.

The McClung lad also won the Grand Championship in the Southdown class with his 74 lb. lamb. Buyer was Hub Seed Company of Lubbock at a price of $1.10 per pound.

A complete list of winners and figures on the livestock sale were not available at press time, but will be published in next week's Tribune.

The large number of entries and high quality of the animals, caused this to be what is probably the biggest and best livestock show ever held here. The judges expressed great pleasure with the overall quality of the show.

Suzanne Layton, FFA Sweetheart from Bula, won the title of Junior Stock Show Queen of 1973 over seven rivals who were nominated by the various FFA and 4-H clubs and chapters who participated in the show. She reigned over this year's show with the other seven contestants making up her court.

The seven stock show princesses included Beverly Albus, Pep FFA Sweetheart; Shannon Sowder, Three Way FFA Sweetheart; Vickie Hall, Morton FFA Sweetheart; Connie Richardson, Three Way 4-H Princess; Mickie Dewbre, Morton 4-H Princess; Tareva Smith, Whiteface FFA Sweetheart and Donna McHam, Whiteface 4-H Princess.

as the previous week. Low Middling Light Spotted (52) was the predominant grade, making up 15 percent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) made up 14 percent, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) 12 percent and Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) 13 percent.

Average staple length was about the same as the previous week. Staples were predominantly 29 to 32. Thirteen percent had a staple length of 29, 36 percent stapled 30, 25 percent stapled 31 and 15 percent was 32.

Micronaire readings showed a slight improvement. However, only 13 percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 10 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 28 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 19 percent was 2.6 and below.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported active trading on the Lubbock market. Prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale lower on most qualities from the previous week. Prices ranged from $5.00 per bale over the loan for low grade, low micronaire cotton up to $60.00 per bale over the loan for high grade, premium micronaire cotton.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 26.75 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 26.75 cents per pound, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 - 27.15; Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 30-22.00, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 31 - 22.30, Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 30 - 18.35 and Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 31 - 18.45.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $47 to $56 per ton for their cottonseed at gins.

Morton Indians and the Grand Saline Indians, the team from Big Selly drew first blood with a basket by Moreland at 7:03 of the first quarter followed by one by Stewart at 6:35 for a 4-0 lead. Baskets by Larry Thompson and Ted Thomas tied the game at 4-4, then the Grand Saline team began to hit with regularity to pull out to a 10-18 lead at the quarter.

Their star, Moreland bringing an average of 18.2 points per game into the contest, hit for 9 points during the quarter, one less than the point production of the entire Morton team.

As the second quarter got underway, Grand Saline's Dennis Jennings hit to put his team a full ten points ahead and it began to look as if our side was really in big trouble. Playing with the coolness that they have been displayed on so many other occasions this year, the Morton team chipped away at that margin and tied the score at 28-28 before leaving the floor for the halftime break.

They held Moreland to 2 points during this quarter and Jerry Silhan counted for 8 to help get matters on a more even keel scorewise. Mike Hunter's bucket with 36 seconds left of the quarter saw the Morton team take the lead for the first time in the game 27-26.

Going into the third quarter, the Morton team took the lead again at 7:07 on a shot by Mike Hunter to go ahead 30-28. The Morton Indians were playing up to their capabilities now and built up a lead of nine points by the middle of the quarter 41-32.

The Grand Saline team didn't reduce this by much as the quarter closed with the Indians commanding 47-40. Ted Thomas and Jerry Silhan had hit for 6 and 5 points respectively to lead Morton scoring and it began to look as if the Morton team would be in the finals.

The disaster struck. Morton began to foul, began missing their shots and Grand Saline began to hit. That intangible, momentum, began to swing in out opponent's favor. In that last eight minute stretch, the Grand Saline team hit on eight of nine free throws by Moreland and Stewart for an edge the Morton team could not overcome.

Moreland put his team ahead by one point at 5:22 the score was tied 50-50 at 5:10 tied at 52-52 at 4:25, tied at 54-54 with just 57 seconds to go in the game.

Hunter got one point on a foul shot. Moreland hit for 2 to put Grand Saline ahead by one point with 39 seconds. Larry Thompson fouled and Stewart hit on both ends of a one-and-one to put his team ahead by three 62-59, then Jimmy Harvey hit for 2 for the Morton Indians with 2 seconds left with the score 61-62 in favor of Grand Saline. They got the ball and held it and that was the ballgame. Jimmy Harvey led the Morton Indians by pouring Jerry Silhan had 15 points, Larry Thompson had 10 points, Larry Thompson Hunter had 9 points, Jerry Gilliam had 2 points, Morton shots at the line for a 58 per cent. Ronnie Moreland was high with 25 points, Tommy Stewart and Dennis Jennings had 14 to 15 points. Grand Saline scoring. Grand effective at the line, partly that fourth quarter, hitting shots for 67 percent. In this final statistic beat the Morton team.

Congratulations, Big Indians, exciting and successful might not have won the Austin this year, but to all champions every day. Much for your futures.

"Thou wilt show me the path of life,
in thy presence is fulness of joy."
PSALM 16:11

HERE IS THE PATH

Thou wilt show me the path of life,
in thy presence is fulness of joy.
Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose . . . and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond in that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
