Cable TV installation begins

Operation is expected by April 15

Cable television for Morton took a giant step forward this week as workers began stringing the wires down the alleys which will eventually bring even more of the outside world to the community.

Following installation of the wire, a receiving tower will be raised on the southwest edge of town and the full installation is expected to be operational by April 15, according to Harold Thomas, assistant general manager of Community Cable Services, which is in charge of construction.

Parent company owning the cable franchise is Diversified Communications, Inc. with headquarters in Levelland.

The installation represents an $80,000 investment and will include five television stations on the cable in this area. Later it is expected that stations from more metropolitan areas will be hooked in. Those stations included in the original services will be the three major stations in Lubbock, the Roswell, New Mexico station and one of the Amarillo stations, Thomas said.

Facilities for local origination of closed circuit programs will be installed and operated by the cable service in the Morton schools and the county activities building. This will be at no cost to either the schools or the county, Thomas informed the Tribune. He indicated that the type

Workers are shown in the alley behind the county activities building Monday as they began laying the wire for cable television which is expected to become operational by April 15. The cable will serve all the homes in Morton and provide closed circuit broadcasting facilities for the Morton schools and the county activities building.

county has 54 acres committed to planting for this year and the association is working toward a 200 acre commitment for next year. Planting of the seedlings began immediately upon receipt on 13 farms in the county. Left to right above are: Sandy Asbill, J.W. Smith, Donald Bales, George Martin, an unidentified man and Dan Keith.

Joe Gipson rites held here Monday

Services for Joe Gipson, Cochran County Justice of Peace, Precinct I, were held Monday at 4:30 p.m. in the First Missionary Baptist Church. The Rev. W.W. Hobson of Borger and the Rev. Rois Standifer, pastor, officiated.

Burial with Masonic graveside services were in Morton Memorial Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home.

Gipson, 71, was dead on arrival at Cochran Memorial Hospital about 6:25 p.m. Saturday after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home.

A native of Dickens, he was born March 19, 1902 and moved to Eastelle at an early age. He attended schools in that city, Gunter Bible College in Gunter and Baylor Dental College in Dallas.

Gipson and the former Lena Marie Block were married in Sherman in 1923. They moved to West Texas in 1929, first living in Dumas before coming to Cochran County in 1933.

He had been justice of the peace since 1965 and served as city manager from 1949 until 1954. He was a barber and operated a restaurant for 17 years. He was a member of the Antelope Masonic Lodge No. 1245 where he held life membership. He was also a member of the South Plains Scottish Rite and was active in

'Greatest' harvest ending

South Plains cotton reached the 2 1/2 bale mark the past week according to Paul R. Travis in charge of the Cotton Classing Office, U.S.D.A. This is the largest volume crop ever on the South Plains.

The previous high was set in 1962 when samples from 2,275,000 bales were classed. Most field operations are now confined to picking cotton up from the ground. Most cotton remaining to be ginned is stored in ricks in the counties east and south of Lubbock. Ginning, sampling and classing are expected to continue on a limited scale for some weeks due to the volume of this ricked cotton remaining.

The U.S.D.A. Classing Office at Lubbock tested and classed samples from 27,000 bales during the week ending Friday, February 15th. This brought the total classed for the season to 2,492,000.

Quality of cotton continued excellent and this crop is one of the highest quality crops ever produced on the South Plains.

Surprise in 1974 tax forms?

(This is the first in a series of five articles on 1973 Federal Income Tax returns written by Burke Haymes, President, The Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

Taxpayers will find that the biggest surprise in the tax returns this year is the fact that they are easier to fill out.

Less detailed information is required on both medical expenses and contributions to charity. Doctor, dentist and hospital payments can now be lumped and the total given without itemization. The same is true of cash contributions for which receipts or cancelled checks can be produced if the IRS requests them.

In previous years, taxpayers were required to supply detailed information to be used by Uncle Sam in assigning revenue sharing funds to local communities. This has now been boiled down to a space for one's county of residence.

It is no longer necessary to use a separate form to allocate a dollar of one's tax payment (two dollars in the case of joint returns) to an election campaign fund to be drawn by all political parties in future presidential races. Now it's just a matter of checking a box on Form 1040. A second box can be checked if the taxpayer failed to allocate a dollar to the election fund last year but wishes to do so retroactively.

Last year, taxpayers with income from dividends or interest over $200 had to itemize on a separate Schedule B. Now Schedule B has been eliminated. Total amounts received from dividends and interest are entered on page 1 of Form 1040.

Elimination of Schedule B also makes it possible for persons with interest or dividend income over $200 to use the short form, 1040A, if they wish. Generally, Form 1040 A has been simplified, too—along the lines of the changes in the long form.

The improvements in the tax form mean that now, more than ever, taxpayers who had no complicated financial transactions during the year should be able to prepare their own tax returns.

FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

In the last three articles we have been searching for the answer to the question "What do people who are saved JOIN—some religious order—some church—or what?" Necessary do that search we searched the New Testament enough to learn just WHO were referred to as the "saved." Read the last three articles. One thing we failed to find is that different "kinds" of saved people—"disciples" (these were also called "Christians—Acts 11:26) were found to be approved of God; instead, ALL who were saved heard the same thing, believed the same thing, obeyed the same commands of God. They heard the same GOSPEL, believed and obeyed the same GOSPEL. Was it a saving gospel if it was not the same gospel? Let the thinking reader turn to Galatians 1:6,7 and 2 Thess. 1:7-10. After reading this, answer: just how can one be saved while refusing to believe these words? Would you, friend, believe one who would tell you that he had authority from God to "change" these words of God, or so render them that they would not mean what they clearly assert? The following, therefore, refers to all today who submit themselves to the authority of God—no more—no less.

In a recent article in this search we learned that all who were saved under the gospel of Christ, beginning on Pentecost (Acts 2) and to the end of the world, are added to the number already approved of God. All saved are called by the gospel of Christ—2 Thess. 2:14. The word "church" as an English word is used in the popular translations wherever the original word in the Greek used in the New Testament occurred. That word is the Greek word EKKLESIA—the definition of which is "called-out; a called-out assembly". It is used in the New Testament to refer both to all the "called-out" of the world and the "called-out" in local areas. The context determines which in each case. We have learned that the Lord does the adding. This is both the called-out of the whole world and the local assemblies. No one looked around to choose WHAT he was to JOIN. The Lord added the saved to the EKKLESIA. No more and no less. More later.

Please remember your welcome to the assemblies at Taylor and SW 2nd. Sts.

Averaging of income is important tax tool

A higher farm and ranch income in 1973 does not necessarily mean a higher income tax bracket, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"A technique called 'income averaging' can reduce taxes in situations where taxable income changes measurably from year to year," continues the Texas A&M University System specialist. "For the technique to apply, your taxable income must be at least $3,000 more than your yearly average income for the four immediately preceding tax years."

In addition to ordinary income, capital gains on the sale of livestock and other assets may also be included in income averaging. In filing for income averaging, Schedule G must be completed and turned in along with Form 1040, advises Hayenga. It is not necessary to amend returns for the four years, but the tax returns from years must be available to recalculate taxable income reported.

The economist suggests a simple way to determine if income averaging will save tax dollars. First, compute "average taxable income" for the four years. Then, multiply that figure by 120 per cent to get the "average period income." The "average period income" is determined by subtracting the average base period income from current taxable income. If the difference is more than $3,000 income averaging is possible.

"In figuring your income tax method, the progressive rate schedule is eliminated on the top four-year averageable income," points out Hayenga.

The Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported steady trading on the Lubbock market. Prices were $15.00 to $25.00 per bale higher than at this time last week. Prices ranged from 2800 points over the Government Loan for short staple cotton up to 4300 points over the loan for long staple cotton. Typical lots were bringing an average of 36 cents per pound over the loan and were selling in the price range of 45 to 60 cents per pound.

Consumer alert

AUSTIN—Economists tell us that the current energy crisis and a resultant slowdown in the economy are causing some persons to be temporarily out of work, or to suffer cutbacks in hours.

If they have incurred debts and obligations based on their former income, it may be difficult for them to keep up with their monthly bills during this period.

What's the best course of action in such a situation?

My assistants in the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division say that the first thing a consumer should do is to contact all creditors as soon as possible, and explain the facts to them.

Most creditors will be sympathetic. They are having problems in the "economy crunch," too, and while they are having to work extra hard to keep working capital, they believe it is to their advantage to assist debtors over a temporarily rough period.

Sometimes, a creditor will extend a credit contract, so the debtor's monthly payments can be reduced. A professional credit manager usually can offer several suggestions to help the distressed consumer.

But if an agreement cannot be worked out, a creditor may take the route to repossession of secured goods by a special firm retained for such actions.

This is considered a last resort, and reputable lenders or creditors employ this legal method only when all other efforts to work out a repayment plan have failed.

Statements by speakers at a recent consumers' conference in Austin indicated that nationwide studies show a large majority of lenders prefer to negotiate a possible repossession case privately with the individuals involved, rather than take immediate action toward repossession.

In such cases, they said, no advance notice is required before secured property is picked up for non-payment of bills.

There have been instances in which persons have claimed they woke up to find that their car had been repossessed during the night, but most responsible firms do not find it necessary to resort to such actions.

New trends in repossession procedures seem to be merging in many states, due to a 1972 U.S. Supreme Court ruling in the case of Fuentes versus the State of Florida.

In that case, the court indicated that certain methods of repossessions raised the question of depriving a person of property without due process of law.

If repossession is a possibility, and if there is a question about the validity of the debt, consumers should contact their county attorney or the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division for further information.

"Thou wilt show me the path of life, in thy presence is fulness of joy..."
 PSALM 16:11

HERE IS THE PATH

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself."
 Luke 10:27

The basis of God's first and greatest commandment is love. God gave man the freedom to choose and therefore will not force his love on anyone. God took the first step and is always ready to receive any who would come to Him.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long survive and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Thoughts

The Living Bible will pass through the land of Egypt tonight and the oldest sons and daughters of Egypt, and the judgment upon all the sons of Egypt—for I will smite the land of Egypt. The blood you have placed on the doorposts will be proof that you are not to be destroyed. I will not destroy your firstborn children. You shall celebrate this day each year to remember this fatal day. The celebration shall last seven days. For that day you are to eat only unleavened bread.

going on the cable initially would be limited to the Lubbock stations, one Amarillo station and the Roswell station. However, we have some assurance that within six months to a year that Fort Worth and Dallas stations will be hooked in.

The probability that Morton High School basketball games—and maybe football games—will be broadcast by closed circuit television for the local audience swells out hearts with gladness.

— You are now allowed three minutes of well-deserved wild anticipation! (Blanche Wells and Dr. Dubberly please copy.)

Can't remember where we filmed the following—but rather suspect it is a repeat of one of our science-oriented son's Kindergarten "Show and Tell" sessions:

A cow is a completely automatic milk manufacturing machine. It is encased in untanned leather and mounted on four vertical movable supports, one on each corner.

The front end contains the cutting and grinding mechanism, as well as headlights, air inlet, a bumper and a foghorn.

At the rear is the dispensing apparatus and an automatic fly swatter.

The central portion houses a hydrochemical conversion plant. This consists of our fermentation and storage tanks connected by an intricate network of flexible plumbing.

This section also contains the heating plant complete with automatic temperature controls, pumping station and main ventilating system.

In brief, the externally visible features are: two lookers, two hookers, four stand-uppers, four ganger-downers and a swish-swashy.

There is a similar machine
