Rodeo, Frontier Days set for July 31-August 2

JUNIOR BABE RUTH ALL STARS will be hosting the Levelland, Slaton and Lubbock All Stars in district tournament beginning July 14. Pre-game ceremonies will get under way at 6 p.m. The first game which features Levelland and Slaton will begin at 6:30 p.m. Morton will play the second game with the Lubbock All Stars. All Stars pictured are (front row l to r) Dub

Large variety of fun events

Plans for the big annual rodeo and Last Frontier Days celebration to be held here July 31 and August 1 and 2 were being finalized this week and from the schedule of events, it appears there will be fun for all ages.

The Morton Area Chamber of Commerce and the Rodeo Association have announced the schedules for their respective activities and indications are that this will be one of the biggest and best celebrations ever staged in Morton.

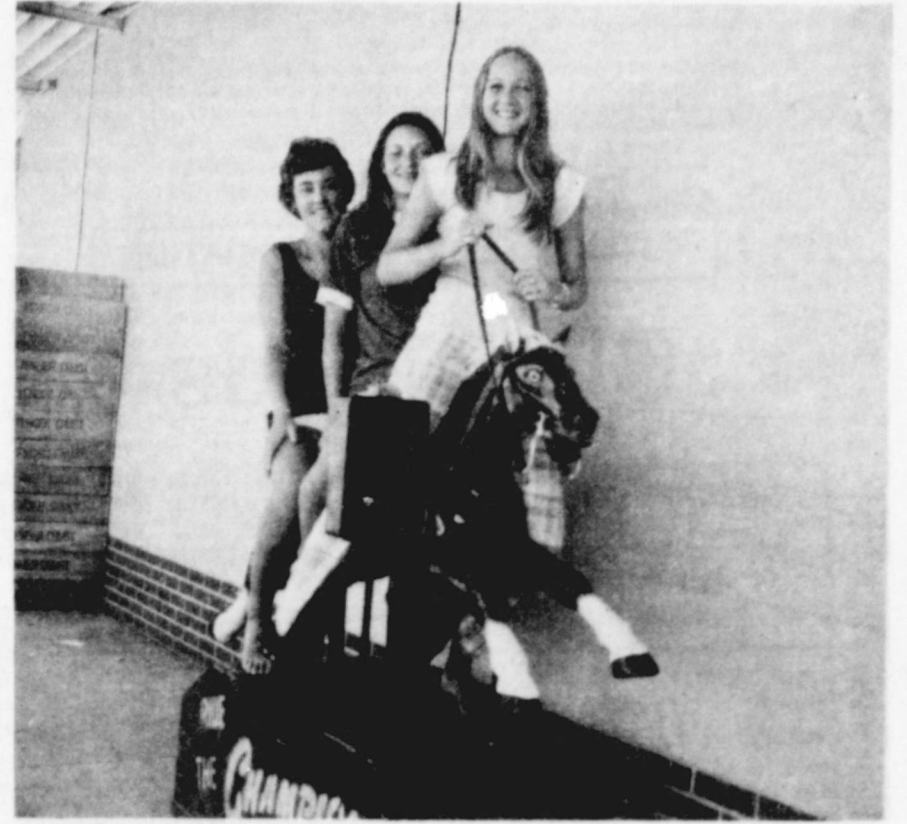

An extra added attraction to the rodeo and Frontier Days celebration, which are scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, will be an old-fashioned get-together and gospel singing festival in the Morton City Park on Wednesday evening. A delightful feature of the gathering will be large amounts of homemade ice cream of all types and flavors to moisten the vocal cords and bring out the sweetest of musical notes.

The fun-filled days will be kicked off by the traditional rodeo parade featuring riding clubs and other organizations from throughout the High Plains area vying for unit and individual honors. The parade will begin at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 31.

Following the parade, the annual giant barbecue will be held at the city park with serving beginning at 5:30 p.m. and continuing until 7:30 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office and by chamber board of director members.

The rodeo will officially begin with the Grand Entrance at 8 p.m. on Thursday and will be presented on each of the three evenings. A rodeo queen contest will be held, with the winner being announced and crowned during intermission of the Saturday performance.

Each rodeo performance will

THREE HAPPY SUMMER FACES—(And a fourth one that looks a little startled.) What could be prettier than a day in July and three young lovelies on a jog through the park. That isn't exactly the way it was, but Sabrina Wells, Vickie Cooper and Debbie Polvado seemed to be enjoying the make believe as much as reality when this photo was snapped Sunday afternoon.

4'H'ers win big in horse show

Cochran county 4-H'ers did themselves proud in the District 2, 4-H, Horse Show held in Lubbock June 30 and July 1.

The Cochran riders beat out all but Dawson of the twenty counties participating, and brought home the banner designating second highest point county in the competition.

The show was held at the Livestock Pavilion on the South Plains Fair Grounds.

Classes included in the show were halter, showmanship, western pleasure, western horsemanship, reining, pole bending and barrel racing.

Three county 4-H'ers earned the right to advance to the State 4-H Horse Show July 23-26 in Ft. Worth. This was real good as only 20 members will go from District 2. These were Debbie Polvado, Jo

First flag will adorn telephone book cover

Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe presented an autographed copy of a painting of the first official American flag that will appear on the front cover of telephone directories issued by General Telephone Company of the Southwest in observance of the United States bicentennial celebration.

Gray Beck, president of General Telephone of the Southwest which has headquarters in San Angelo, will present the painting during formal ceremonies in Austin. The painting depicts the flag adopted by the Continental Congress in 1777. It appears on a directory in a hanging position with the blue field at the top left and the red and white stripes running vertically.

Colonies cause outlined in paper by John Dickenson and Thomas Jefferson

As reported last week, Congress made one last plea with the "Olive Branch Petition" to conciliate the differences between the American colonies and Great Britain. The author of the document was John Dickenson of Pennsylvania.

Two hundred years ago on July 4, 1776, Congress issued another document written, to a large extent, by Dickenson, called the Declaration of the Causes and Necessities of Taking Up Arms. Dickenson was assisted in the writing of this document by Thomas Jefferson, a newly-arrived delegate from Virginia who already had a reputation as a writer.

This document was addressed to citizens both in America and in England. It was a rather strong statement justifying the need for Americans to arm themselves to protect their basic rights. It was an attempt to rally American support and a statement to Britain not to trample American liberties.

Like other documents of the period it rejected independence as a goal of Americans but stressed that military defense was necessary until Britain decided to treat Americans properly. The document stated, in very emotional terms, that Americans would die before being enslaved. A significant phrase also hinted that there was a possibility of foreign aid against Britain.

On the same day that Congress approved the Declaration, the last of the American colonies joined the ranks of the resistance. Georgia, as the youngest colony, had been reluctant at first to participate in continental activity. However, by July 6, 1975, the events of the preceding months convinced her leaders that resistance was necessary. Therefore, on that day, Georgia's assembly ratified the actions of the Continental Congress. Now, there were thirteen colonies, not yet unified, but moving in that direction.

In Spanish Texas war was not the serious matter that it was in British America. A major part in the Spanish system in Texas was played by the Church. Throughout the Spanish Empire the Church played a major role in extending the frontier. Texas was no exception.

The mission system was a major element in Spanish policy.

If an area was to be controlled indefinitely it could not be done by military force alone. The mission had as its goal the conversion of the native population to Christianity, but it also served a political and economic role as well. If Indians were converted to Christianity, they probably could be more easily controlled and could be used for labor.

More will be said about this system in weeks to come. Donald W. Whisenant, history professor, Eastern New Mexico University.

Old food stamp deadline extended

Food stamp recipients can use 50-cent, $2 and old $5 food stamps until Aug. 31, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced today.

USDA introduced a new food stamp series -- $1, $5 and $10 -- on March 1 with a deadline of June 30 for spending old series food stamps at authorized retail food stores and meal services. The deadline was extended to allow recipients who were issued old coupons in March, April and May adequate time to use them.

Grocers and meal services can redeem old coupons at commercial banks through Sept. 30.

The change, which was effectively July 1, 1975, will be published in the Federal Register of Wednesday, July 9.

Consumer Protection?

WASHINGTON—It is Spring, and a lot of foolish ideas are floating around in Congress. One of the worst is the proposed Agency for Consumer Advocacy (ACA).

The ostensible purpose of the ACA is to defend the "consumer interest" in proceedings before federal regulatory agencies. But the ACA itself would be a consumer fraud. It comes packaged with a politically irresistible name—not unlike a brightly colored box on a supermarket shelf. But the contents of the box don't begin to live up to the claims that have been made for it.

In theory, the ACA would be the friend of all consumers. In practice, it would represent the interests of some consumers against other consumers—although all would have to pay its $60 million price tag.

It would be easier to calculate how many angels can dance on the point of a pin than to define the "consumer interest." What, for instance, is the "consumer interest" in the request of an electric utility to burn coal? Is it in permitting the conversion and thus cutting electric bills? Or is it in forbidding the conversion, and thus protecting the environment?

Under the proposed bill, the definition of the "consumer interest" would be made not by a philosopher king—or even by your elected representatives—but by a political appointee who would have staggering power for a bureaucrat.

Supporters of the ACA say this new agency is needed because the federal regulatory agencies have been "captured" by special interest groups. But those agencies were themselves set up to "protect" the consumer. If they have failed, how can yet another federal agency do better? Supporters of the ACA give us no reason to suppose that it would not also be captured by special interests, and the evidence is persuasive that it would be.

Regulatory proceedings currently proceed with all the speed of a crippled tortoise. Seasons come and go, but rate, route and licensing hearings drag on forever. At best, the ACA would delay these proceedings further. At worst, it could throw a monkey wrench into the operation of both our government and our market economy.

The best argument against the ACA comes from the American people. A survey by the respected Opinion Research Corp. of Princeton, N.J., indicates that three out of four Americans oppose creation of this new agency. The loud support for the ACA comes from a few tightly-organized, well-financed special interest groups that have something to gain from its enactment. We'll soon find out whether Congress listens to them, or to you.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK
State Comptroller

Austin—Common sense is one of the least expensive things around, and government should use more of it.

That is exactly what we are trying to do with tax collecting in the Comptroller's Department. The sales tax particularly is an area where common sense should come into play.

One significant improvement we have made in sales tax handling is to clear up the very unfair bond situation which has been giving many businesses fits for the past year.

The problem was that the previous administration required existing businesses to post bonds whenever the business underwent any technical change in legal status such as a small business incorporating or a single ownership becoming a partnership.

Common sense should dictate that something as simple as a name change doesn't automatically require a business' taxpaying trustworthiness to be tested. There hasn't been any substantial change in ownership and management. Therefore, I decided we should take into account a business' previous taxpaying record before deciding whether or not to require a bond.

That's the system we are using now. Businesses who think they may have been unfairly required to post bond during the past year should contact their nearest field office of the Comptroller's Department.

We have also recently put a stop to what had been arbitrary and mistaken enforcement of sales tax on food sold under certain conditions by such groups as volunteer firemen's associations and similar civic groups.

To be nontaxable it is necessary that the food sale—such as a pancake supper—is not professionally catered, is not held in a commercial business place such as a restaurant or hotel and is not a regular affair (again, common sense tells us that once or twice a year is not "regular").

Past enforcement of such food sales was a hit-and-miss proposition so in cutting it out altogether the state won't be losing any great amount of money.

As hard as we try to use common sense, sometimes we just get boxed in by things beyond our control.

The recent problems the Camp Fire Girls have had with the sales tax is a good example. The Camp Fire Girls Council of Fort Worth is now going to court with it because they think it is wrong for the candy they sell to be taxable while cookies sold by the Girl Scouts are nontaxable.

I agree that it's wrong and I would like to do something about it but my hands are tied by the law. The sales tax law passed by the Legislature specifically spells out that candy is taxable, so I have no alternative but to enforce it. On the other hand, cookies are not mentioned so they are considered tax free food.

The Camp Fire Girls, besides going to court, are rightly asking the Legislature to change the law. I hope it is changed—and if the Camp Fire Girls are as good at selling this idea as they are at selling candy, I think it will be.

Incidentally, the Fort Worth Council is the only Council in the state which hasn't regularly collected and sent in its sales tax over the past several years.

Common sense in sales tax enforcement is critical because the sales tax is the single largest source of state revenue and is a major source of revenue for more than 800 of our cities.

Professional cowboys feeling little pinch by hard times

Professional Rodeo, as one of America's oldest sports, has also become one of the largest paying to its top contenders. 1974 seems to be thought of as a poor year in most countries, and regarded by most media in the United States as a disastrous year for all economy on the home front. However, even with high fuel prices, increased costs of automobiles, and away from home living expenses scoring the nations professional cowboys did well.

As in most large cities, commuter reports show car pools becoming the answer to traffic problems and a help to conserve fuel, rodeo contestants have followed in somewhat the same suit. Numerous cowboy contestants have pooled their finances and are traveling three or four to a car. To allow greater advantage for the new travel concept, the Professional Association of Rodeo Cowboys now has a program devised called the "Buddy System." Within its laws, a pair of contestants in the same event may enter a particular rodeo on the buddy plan and are guaranteed to compete at the same performance. In the case of Calf Ropers or any timed event situation this has also cut travel costs of hauling less roping horses.

Riding event cowboys, many who are pilots of small aircraft, have been able to travel as many as six per plane, and as many as four rodeos per week may be entered by most of its passengers.

Cowboys travel approximately 144 million miles annual not including nearly 2 million dollars spent for air transportation. Total expenditures have been statistically recorded for the year of 1974 at $32,219,931.00. This figure is to include car expense, food and lodging, insurance, telephone, Western wear, track, and equipment, horses and horse trailers.

using a particular device means only that the person signing the document attested to the claim and could prove his identity.

Widespread misconceptions and confusion about what a notary seal indicates have been used by some advertisers to mislead the public.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division recently obtained a permanent injunction against one company which used ads claiming persons who took a self-improvement course would be able to earn a certain amount per year. The fact that the claim was notarized did not, of course mean that it was true, but many consumers responding to the ad got that impression.

For assistance with a consumer problem, contact the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

When fortune knocks, be sure to open the door.

2. Protest instruments permitted by law to be protested. For example, a merchant who is given a bad check must register a sworn statement certified by a notary giving information about the transaction with the county attorney.

3. Administer oaths. Any time the law requires that a person take an oath it can be legally administered by a notary public.

4. Take depositions. In legal terms, a deposition is a sworn statement made out of court that can be used in court. Such a deposition is recorded by a notary public, then transcribed by the notary or someone under his supervision. The notary attests that the document is valid and that it was given by the person indicated. Not all notaries take such legal depositions.

A deposition can also be taken to mean an affidavit. When a notary affixes his seal to an affidavit, he is certifying that the person presenting the affidavit is who he says he is and that the person swears the statement is true.

The law does not require notaries themselves to determine if a document presented is true, however. So a notary seal on a document stating that someone lost 10 pounds by

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN -- As consumers become more knowledgeable about claims for products and services, some merchants have adopted new methods for increasing the believability of their advertising.

Unfortunately, according to the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers, some of those methods may be deceptive. One such effort to improve the credibility of advertising claims involves the use of the "notarized testimonial."

Such testimonials found in many magazines and newspapers feature statements similar to this: "Lose 10 pounds a week without dieting! Notarized testaments prove the effectiveness of our remarkable new device!"

Our Consumer Protection lawyers say "notarized testimonials" exploit the idea that many people that a notary seal on a document indicates the truthfulness and validity of that document, and therefore it may be deceptive.

The National Notary Association, an educational organization for notaries public, warns consumers that a notary seal does not guarantee the truthfulness of any document, not even a legal document.

Officials of the association say many notaries themselves may mistakenly believe they are responsible for the accuracy of a document's contents.

In reality, a notary seal on a document generally means only that a person or persons appeared before a notary public, provided proof of identity, and signed document or took an oath.

Texas law authorizes notaries public to do four things:

1. Take acknowledgments or proofs of written instruments. This means that a notary certifies that a person who signs a document before him is who he says he is.

more than a year — had been confirmed in the Texas Panhandle, the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reported July 4.

USDA Animal health officials warned hog farmers throughout the nation — but particularly in the southwest — to remain alert for signs of this costly and often fatal virus disease, which has the potential for rapid spread. Hog cholera is a disease of swine only; it does not affect other animals or humans.

Hog cholera has been the object of a highly successful state-federal eradication campaign that began in late 1962. The last previous cases of the disease were reported in Puerto Rico on May 4, 1974, and in Mississippi on February 7, 1974. Prior to the start of the eradication program, the disease affected an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 swine herd annually and cost hog producers around $50 million a year.

The current outbreak was found in a herd of about 170 hogs owned by Louis Woodford and located near Hereford, Tex., in Deaf Smith county, according to officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS).

The diagnosis was confirmed at the APHIS Veterinary Services Laboratories in Ames, Ia., from tests on specimens which had been flown by courier from both the hog farm and from the Texas A&M University veterinary diagnostic laboratory, where earlier tests had indicated the presence of hog cholera.

"Of course we are deeply disappointed at finding hog cholera when we are this close to eradication," said Dr. F.J. Mulhern, APHIS administrator. "But this does illustrate the difficulty in eliminating the last trace of a disease and the importance of remaining alert until the task of eradication is complete."

The affected swine herd had been placed under quarantine by the Texas Animal Health Commission. Additional state and federal quarantines will be placed as necessary to control the disease. Contact with infected or exposed swine is one of the primary ways hog cholera is spread to healthy hogs.

A state-federal task force has been established in the area to eliminate the disease and investigate the source of the outbreak and any possible spread. The infected herd has been destroyed and the owner will be indemnified for the loss of his hogs.

Signs of hog cholera include loss of appetite, fever and hogs that are just "sick all over." Other signs include abortions and abnormal death losses among young pigs. Hog farmers are urged to contact their local veterinarian or state or federal animal health officials immediately if they suspect hog cholera.

unveiled during ceremonies in Carrollton, June 25. All GTSW directories issued through June 31, 1976 will carry the special cover. Governors in states where General Telephone and Electronics Corp. (GTE) has telephone operations will receive autographed copies of the painting.

The flag was painted by Stevan Dohanos, who is known for his paintings of historical subjects and his illustrations of contemporary American life. Dohanos was commissioned to create the cover by General Telephone Directory Company which publishes nearly 900 telephone directories for GTE telephone subsidiaries and other independent telephone companies.

Dohanos' paintings and murals are in numerous galleries, museums and government buildings. He has also designed a number of U.S. postage stamps.

Mrs. Head graduated from Clinton, Oklahoma School of Nursing and has been employed at West Plains Hospital in Muleshoe for the past fifteen years. She and her husband, who is a farmer, live North of Muleshoe. They have three children.

"I am available for home visits that are not covered by some other agency and may be reached by calling 266-5508 and asking for medical services. The people in Morton have been so friendly and helpful that I am looking forward to spending the next fifteen years working here", Mrs. Head stated.

This will be the first time that Morton has hosted the district tournament since 1971, a year when they were eliminated from the tournament by losses to a Lubbock and a Levelland team.

Winner of this tournament will advance to the regional tournament, the time and place of which is unknown at this time.

South Plains hunter downs interesting duck

Last fall during the regular Texas waterfowl season, Jimmie B. Pickens, Idalou, bagged a male American widgeon near Abernathy, that is of interest to all waterfowlers.

Mr. Pickens noticed a worn band attached to the leg of the bird. The band was turned over to Bill Pratt, Texas game warden and he in turn sent the band to the bird banding laboratory in Maryland.

The banding ID team at the lab used an etching process to bring out the old numbers on the band. This information has been returned to Warden Pratt, indicating the duck was banded at Kerrobert, Sask. on July 21, 1958.

"Normally, waterfowl do not survive in the wild as long as this duck did," Pratt said.

"The previous bands that I have sent into the banding laboratory indicated that the ducks lived for an average of only two or three years," Pratt continued. "This 17 year old duck will help the biologists determine information that will be used in setting the yearly waterfowl seasons and limits."

During the fall and winter, over 10,000 reports are filed at the Laurel, Maryland office and in some instances, reports about collected bands are received before the band information is logged.

The details of each band "recovery" are very important. They tell not only where the bird went, but how long it lived and how it died. By adding together the thousands of individual reports received from interested persons such as waterfowl hunters, comparisons are made as to time of banding and this information is made available to scientists, students and state wildlife agencies for their studies.

The Ku'damm: Essence of Berlin

In Berlin (West) it looks like one more summer that the friendly competition between local residents and visitors for the best tables at the city's famous sidewalk cafes may beat yet another record. The best of these oases are on fashionable Kurfuerstendamm boulevard, 2 1/2 miles long and an impressive 175 ft. wide, with sidewalks in proportion and a parking strip down the center (described by one wag as a two-mile-long coffeehouse).

In truth, though, the Ku'damm (as it is called for short) is much more than that: it is also the hub for literally hundreds of elegant boutiques, smart hotels, famed restaurants, art galleries, antique shops, and a score of legitimate theatres (not to forget the many movie houses). All this is in addition to under-one-roof shoppers' paradises such as the Ku'damm Corner or the 22-story five-acre Europa Center, where a new gambling casino is slated to be opened this year.

As for the after-dark hours, perhaps it suffices to remember that the cabaret is virtually a Berlin creation. This means that the theatres and opera and concert halls are supplemented by more than fifty major locales for entertainment to every taste and purse.

But to return to our sidewalk cafes, one of the best-known is Kranzler's (at left, across the street in photo). There, or anywhere else, be sure to linger over a cool Berliner Weisse, the frothy light beer fortified with a jigger of raspberry juice and served in a bowl-sized goblet: even if only temporarily, the world will seem a far brighter place!

IS THE CHURCH PART OF YOUR LIFE?

DESTINY: THE MINOR LEAGUES?

Headed for the "Majors" — that's his dream. But don't count on it, even if he stays in baseball. For in thousands of cities and towns across America we know that baseball isn't just the major leagues. We know boys on their way up . . . and men on their way down and fellows who have gone about as far as they can go. A real ball player is one who gives his club his best—in any league. How close this comes to a fundamental conviction of the Church! Christianity gives a man solid footing for his faith in God and in himself. To achieve the full potential of our God-given talents is primary; to fulfill every dream is secondary. The Church promises no man earthly success. But it helps us to appraise the gifts God gave . . . to use them honestly and unselfishly. And, startingly, it points the way to new goals for beyond our dreams.

has her say

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: Several weeks ago one of your readers wrote to you to say that since she had been adopted she had always somehow felt less loved than the other members of her adopting family. May she put her mind at ease. For reasons best known to us, my husband and I raised a brood of six. Four of the youngsters were natural born and two were adopted. To be truthful Jaclyn, after a few years the differences disappeared. It is difficult to choose my favorites from amongst them. Each provided their own separate problems and their own separate joys. What happens in a household, to be quite candid, is that the parents fall hopelessly in love... with the kid's individual personality. That's what happens. Really. Signed, CHEAPER BY THE HALF-DOZEN

DEAR CHEAPER BY THE HALF DOZEN: You said it all. + + +

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: This probably the oldest story in the world, but my problem is this: My parents do not approve of my future husband. It's not that they don't like him, but they don't like his job. You see, he is a traveling salesman and my father thinks he is a bad choice. On top of it, he (my father) is always telling those terrible traveling salesman and farmer's daughter jokes whenever Ron is around.

And it is really embarrassing. I think he (my father) does it just to drive the point home. He (my father) has begun to affect our relationship (Ron's and mine) and I'm afraid that some of my confidence in him (Ron) is starting to slip. I think that traveling salesmen are just as good husbands as anybody else. What do you think? Signed, FRAN. DEAR FRAN: You know Ron better than I do. If he is a caring sensitive person, there will be no problem. If, on the other hand, Ron is a laugh-a-minute, high-powered swinger, may I remind you that the nights are long and the road is lonely.

DEAR JACLYN CLAYE: Are turkey eggs sex food? One of my friends told me that they are and that the early settlers ate them because the population was small. I'm no sex maniac but if it is true I'm going to start serving them around here. I know that fish is considered brain food so maybe it's true what they say about turkey eggs. Do you have any information on the subject? Just sign me CURIOUS. DEAR CURIOUS: Your guess is as good as mine. Tell you what; why don't you scramble up about a half dozen for hubby next week end... and then stand well back.

MR. AND MRS. BILLS SOWDER of Bula announce the engagement of Rhea Lyn Casey to Steven Mack Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.T. Newton of Enochs. Rhea Lyn is the daughter of J.W. Casey of Austin and Mrs. Maxie English of Arlington. The couple plans to exchange wedding vows July 25 at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Enochs. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

erman myth has it that headless bodies and two-legged horses roam the streets on the night of Maundy Thursday.

Mrs. Jerry Dale Nichols (Rita Layton)

Couple pledges vows in Enochs ceremony

Miss Rita Suzanne Layton became the bride of Jerry Dale Nichols Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Enochs Baptist Church. The Rev. Charlie R. Shaw officiated the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin fashioned in an Empire design with a scoop neckline. The neckline and long sleeves were trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and Baby's Breath.

Mrs. David McDaniel of Austin attended her sister as matron of honor. Miss Lisa Risinger of Bula was bridesmaid. They wore shimmering apricot polyester gowns styled in princess design and featuring Empire waistlines and puff sleeves. Each carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Donnie Nichols, brother of the groom, was best man and Gary Nichols, uncle of the groom, was groomsman.

Paula Nichols, sister of the groom, and the bride's brother, Robert Layton, served as candlelighters. Jarrol Layton and Richard Nichols seated the guests.

Mrs. Sammy Nichols of Fort Worth, organist, accompanied soloists, Mrs. J.R. Austin of Lubbock and Sammy Nichols of Fort Worth.

Following the ceremony, a reception honored the couple in Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Layton of Morton and a graduate of Bula High School. Nichols is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nichols of Enochs. He is a graduate of Three Way High School and attended West Texas State University in Canyon.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the couple will make their home at St. Rt. Enochs where he is engaged in farming.

Mr. Jester, Miss Combs exchange wedding vows

The chapel of the First Baptist Church of Morton was the scene of a ceremony uniting Miss LaNita Gaye Combs and Michael Layne Jester in marriage, July 2 at 3:00 p.m. Officiating was the Rev. Paul McClung, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Woodie Combs of 705 West Hayes, Morton, and the late Woodie S. Combs. The groom's parents are Mr. and Ms. Dean Jester of 2011 S. College, Levelland.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Larry Combs, of Muleshoe, the bride wore a formal length gown of sheer organza over bridal peau-de-loie fashioned with a victorian neckline. The empire bodice was accented with Vanice lace embroidered with pearls. Long sheer, full bishop sleeves that gathered onto a lace cuff were also accented with lace appliques. Scattered lace appliques enhanced the front of the A-line skirt which extended into a bouffant back that swept into a chapel length train. A matching Juliet headpiece held her fingertip length veil of imported illusion.

The bridal bouquet of feathered white carnations and stephanotis cascaded from atop a white Bible belonging to Mrs. Roger Posey - "something borrowed." Folded in the Bible was a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother - "something old". She wore the traditional blue garter - "something blue", and wore pennies in her shoes, minted in the years of she and the groom's birth, and one minted in 1975. Her gown constituted her "something new."

The bride was attended by Mary Cadenhead of Lubbock whose blue gown carried out the chosen colors of white and blue. The groom and his attendant, Bruce Woods of Levelland, were attired in white tuxedos.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Johnny Waltrip from Oklahoma. Music was provided by Miss Karen Rozell of Lubbock, pianist and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Posey of Morton who sang, "We've Only Just Begun", "The Wedding Song", and "The Lord's Prayer" for the benediction.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the church.

Following a trip to Dallas, the couple will reside at 406-B West Avenue F, in Muleshoe. The groom is employed at Tri-County Savings and Loan Co. and the bride is employed at J and J Insurance. Both attended South Plains College in Levelland.

The Chinese were the first known people to acquire more than one name. The Emperor Fushi decreed the use of family names, or surnames, about 2852 B.C., according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Pike, Shark records set

Two Texas State Fish Records were set during March and May at widely separated spots: Greenbelt Lake in the Panhandle and Padre Island on the Gulf Coast.

James D. Bennett of Amarillo reeled in a record 17-pound five-ounce northern pike May 3 from Greenbelt. The fish was 41 inches long with a girth of 17 1/2 inches.

The previous record for northern pike came from Greenbelt in 1973 and weighed 13 pounds four ounces.

Greenbelt was first stocked with some 150,000 one-half-inch northern pike in May 1967 by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The lake seems to be well on its way to becoming a consistent producer of trophy fish.

On the coast, James S. Wilson of Corpus Christi caught a 226-pound, seven-foot eight-inch sandbar shark off Padre Island on March 21.

Landing the big shark was no easy task for Wilson: it took one hour and 45 minutes to bring in the new state record sandbar shark.

A 180-pound sandbar shark taken March 1 near an oil-drilling platform off Corpus Christi by Jo Ann Sealy previously held the state record for the species.

Many sales tax accounts delinquent in local area

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that some 1,800 delinquent taxpayers in the Lubbock area owe more than $1 million in state sales taxes and almost $250,000 in city sales taxes.

The back taxes owed in the Lubbock area are part of $59 million owed by an estimated 70,000 delinquent sales tax accounts statewide. Bullock has assigned a special task force in his office to set up an aggressive collection system.

The Lubbock area delinquents are those under the jurisdiction of the Lubbock district field office which covers the counties of Bailey, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Garza, Lynn, Borden, Dawson and Gaines.

Also Terry, Yoakum, Cochran, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Crosby, Cottle, King and Kent.

The Lubbock office is in Suite 400 of the Terrace Shopping Center (4902 34th Street); the telephone number is (Area Code 806) 795-0691.

The Lubbock area delinquents, just like the rest of the state, "show no pattern and certainly no reason why these accounts were permitted to go delinquent in the first place or why they have been permitted to stay that way."

Area-by-area reports on delinquents will be released for the rest of the state as soon as they are prepared, Bullock said. His special task force includes personnel from the Comptroller's legal, sales tax and filed operations divisions as well as from Bullock's personal office.

Bullock has warned that many of the delinquencies "may be so old that we'll never get the money."

Plant disease clinic slated in Muleshoe

A clinic to cover insect and disease aspects of ornamentals and vegetables will be held in Muleshoe, Texas, on Friday, July 11, 1975, at the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room. The clinic will start at 10:00 a.m. and run to 4:00 p.m.

The purpose of this clinic is to give home owners and local producers an opportunity to bring samples of either ornamentals or vegetable plants that have diseases, insects, and discoloration diagnosed by a team of area Extension Specialists. Any commercial producer who would like to visit with one of these specialists on any commercial insect or disease problem is welcome to come and do so.

The following Lubbock based specialists will be on hand to analyze and diagnose the problems: Dr. Robert McIntyre, Area Entomologist; Dr. Robert Berry, Area Plant Pathologist; and Dr. Roland Roberts, Area Vegetable Specialist.

This information is free and the public is encouraged to bring plants and visit with the specialists.

Higher, Higher, How Much Higher? ... Changes in Brucellosis Indemnity ... Summertime Harvests.

Last March, during the annual National Pork Congress held in the Midwest, a few brave optimists were talking about hogs "hitting $50 at a few markets by late summer." It sounded good, but not too much was made of it.

Now hog prices during the first few weeks of summer have hit the $60 area in many markets across the nation.

Why? Take a look at the hog numbers. Here in Texas we are not the nation's leading hog state, but what happened here is similar to the situations in the major hog states.

As of June 1, hogs and pigs on Texas farms totaled 800,000 head. That doesn't mean much by itself, but put it in perspective and you find that hog numbers in the state are at their lowest level since 1966. It also is a decrease of 14 per cent from a year ago. Breeding hog numbers are 20 per cent under a year ago.

Nationwide, the same story is true. Hog numbers are at their lowest level since 1964. The number kept for breeding, at 7.4 million, is down 17 per cent, and market hogs and pigs are down 19 per cent.

For the future, it appears, say economists, that hog prices should hold up through the year. Hog producers intend to farrow 4.7 million sows now through November, which is 13 per cent below a year ago and down 19 per cent from two years ago.

destroyed because of brucellosis as well as tuberculosis have been announced. They are:

1. Allowing indemnity payments for nonregistered (grade) bulls affected with brucellosis. Formerly, no indemnity was paid for these bulls.

2. Limiting to 15 days the extension periods which may be allowed for each of the following: identifying infected cattle, destroying infected and exposed cattle, and cleaning and disinfecting contaminated premises.

Changes in the tuberculosis indemnity payment are:

A. Allowing indemnity payments for unregistered (grade) bulls and steers affected with tuberculosis and for certain cattle which have been exposed to the disease.

B. Allowing payments for half the cost of destroying cattle disposed of because of tuberculosis - including half the cost of transporting such animals to the point of disposal - with prior approval by the federal veterinarian in charge.

C. Limiting to 15 days the extension periods allowed for destroying affected cattle, and cleaning and disinfecting contaminated premises.

SUMMERTIME HARVEST of wheat, sorghum, and other crops in Texas continues in spite of the usual slowdowns for showers and equipment repairs.

Wheat harvest for the state is now more than three-fourths completed; this is behind schedule of the past few years. Harvesting on the dryland crop is virtually complete, and is now underway in the irrigated sections.

Cotton harvesting on a major basis is still in the offing, although the first bale of cotton for the 1975 crop has been ginned.

Sorghum harvest is moving northward from South Texas; yields in that area are down from earlier estimates due to dry weather.

Write Your Congressman!

Yes! Today! Write your Congressman to let him know that you firmly oppose any new anti-gun legislation.

As a result of last year's election, the United States is at the mercy of the most liberal Congress in the history of our nation. Already there are numerous anti-gun bills in the hopper which call for new restrictions on the law abiding gun owner. One calls for the registration of all guns, another calls for the licensing of all gun owners, and the bill introduced by Congressman Michael Harrington (D-Mass.) would totally ban the private ownership of handguns!

There is a strong possibility that several anti-gun bills may become law unless we act. The threat to your right to own and use firearms is greater today than any time since 1968 when the last Gun Control act was passed.

Consider the following brief facts... and then write your Congressman!

- (1) Gun control legislation only succeeds in taking guns out of the hands of the law abiding citizen, the criminal will never turn in his gun or have it registered.
- (2) Gun legislation now on the books has had no effect on reducing crime, it has only succeeded in harassing the law abiding gun owner. Laws should punish the criminal, not the honest citizen!
- (3) A gun by itself can kill no one. The simple fact is that people kill people regardless of the weapon.
- (4) You, as a private citizen, have the right to possess a firearm for self protection. If government denies this right it is denying the very basic right to life.

Our founding fathers considered the right of a law abiding individual to own a firearm to be so important that they made it a part of the highest law of the land: the U.S. Constitution. Let us be wary lest we lose this great heritage carefully passed along to us.

So write your Congressman today and support the effort to preserve your right to own and use firearms by joining the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms. The Committee is the nation's fastest growing and most active organization working to protect the private ownership of firearms.

Yes, I will join the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms. I understand as a member of the Committee I will receive a membership card, a subscription to the Committee's monthly newsletter POINT BLANK, and all other membership services. My membership fee is enclosed.
