

WELCOME TO BROWNFIELD LEGIONNAIRES AND AUXILIARIES

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY OFFICERS—Present day officers of the local chapter are shown above as they looked over scrapbooks containing clippings since organization of the Auxiliary in 1918, and the second chapter. The Auxiliary was re-organized in 1930 and a permanent charter made in 1944, containing the following charter members' names: Elizabeth Dumas, Nancy Dumas, Jane Lee Pyeatt, Eldora Lewis, Emily Miller, Ruth Welch, Kate Spivey, Mesdames Clarence Lewis, A. P. Anfield, Oscar Covey, W. E. Johnson, Jesse A. May, J. F. Winston, W. N. Lemmon, and Lissie Winston, Theresa Lemmon, and Lillian Webb. Officers shown above, back row, left to right, are Mrs. R. N. Lowe, president; Mrs. Mon Telford, and Mrs. Homer Winston. (Staff Photo.)

BROWNFIELD PUTS THE WELCOME RUG OUT FOR LEGION AND LADIES

From what we can gather from those in charge of arrangements here for the 19th District Convention of the American Legion and the Auxiliary, the planners have everything in shipshape, and the convention should move off without a hitch. Most people here are expecting a great and glorious time Saturday and Sunday, even if it is dry. Maybe the convention will bring us a rain.

Of course the main speaker will be the National Commander of the American Legion, Arthur J. Connell, of Middletown, Conn. Mr. Connell is a noted speaker, and he will have something of real value to the Legionnaires, as well as all others who hear him. Aside from Mr. Connell, will be many State and District officials of the Legion and Auxiliary.

We, of Brownfield, are glad to have these officials, delegates, or maybe just visitors, with us for the two days. And let's all try our very best to make the stay of these people for the two days, one long to be remembered. We hope all of our people are so nice and genteel to these visitors, that they'll want to come back some time and visit longer, or even make their homes here.

Sometimes it is the little things that count. Such as giving directions to certain places, or finding the name of some party and his telephone number. We know our food dispensers well enough that we do not doubt they'll give value received in all instances. We just never have had the other kind here—the kind that will take advantage of a large gathering to hike prices. Such people wouldn't last long in this burg.

So, let's all be on our good behavior, and with a good old Terry County smile or grin, even if the sand is blowing. Most of the visitors here will understand.

Discussion centered on "What the Democratic Party Stands For," and Morgan Copeland read the party constitution. It was voted to adopt the constitution.

The following officers were elected: Harold Simms, president; J. C. Powell, vice president; Mrs. R. N. Lowe, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Robert Beasley, state committee woman; H. L. King, state committeeman; and George Weiss, county chairman.

Simms, who presided over the latter part of the meeting, is a Brownfield High School graduate and attended Texas Tech two years prior to his three and a half year service with the Air Corps in England. He served 30 missions as a bombardier and in 1950 was called back for two years' service as a bombardier instructor at Mather Air Force Base in Sacramento, Calif., and Harlingen Base at Harlingen. Simms received his degree in business and marketing from Southern Methodist University in 1948 and is currently employed with the Stanolind Oil Company here as clerk. He is married to the former Charlotte Dial.

The signing of membership cards and 21 members paying their dues concluded the program.

COWGILLS AND COPE TO ATTEND MEETING

Dr. D. M. Cowgill, director of the local health unit, and his wife, and Bill Cope, director of the laboratory, are planning to attend the annual Texas-Mexico Border Public Health Association meeting to be held at Albuquerque.

Discussion will be held, April 7 through 9, on border problems in public health, and those mutually important between the two countries. Between 350 and 400 representatives are expected to attend.

LATE NEWS BULLETIN

At presstime Thursday night, firemen were making gradual headway against a stubborn fire which was discovered in the Palace Drug Store about 10:30 p. m., and the entire contents can be written off as a total loss from fire, smoke and water damage. Heavy smoke damage was done to Copeland Hardware, adjoining the Palace on the west and to buildings to the north.

Units from fire departments of surrounding towns were on hand to assist in fighting the blaze.

A large amount of merchandise was removed from the Hardware store when the fire for a time threatened to spread to it.

The fire, which started from defective wiring, is estimated to have caused more than $150,000 damage.

The Palace Drug is owned by Arthur and Gilbert Nunn.

HIGH TENSION was evident at the Young Democrats of Terry County organizational meeting last Monday night in the County Courtroom. Discussion centered around the authenticity of the charter and by-laws, which were accepted at the meeting. Pictured above, left to right, are Amy Evans, who served as temporary chairman; Morgan Copeland, reader of the charter and by-laws; George Weiss, county chairman; and principal speaker of the evening, Tom Murphy, of Lubbock. ### VOTERS GO TO POLLS SATURDAY TO ELECT SCHOOL TRUSTEES

All four of Terry County's school districts—Brownfield, Meadow, Wellman and Union — will hold trustee elections Saturday, April 3, with polls opening at 8 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. Two trustees are to be named from each district.

In the county school board race, members from Precincts 1 and 2 are up for re-election. Currently the two posts are held by Hugh Harred, Precinct 1, and Ben Finley, Precinct 2.

Three candidates have filed for two vacancies on the Brownfield Board. Current president of the board, C. G. Griffith, has filed for re-election, and other candidates are Mrs. E. C. Davis and J. L. Newsum. Alton Webb, whose term is expiring, will not run for the office again.

The Meadow race promises to be one of interest with seven candidates, including both incumbents, running for the two positions open on the board. Seeking re-election are Carl Russell, board president, and J. H. Eubanks. The five remaining candidates are Homer Barron, Curtis Hulse, Horace Belw, Ben Hinson, and Lee Bartlett.

Election officials for the Meadow vote will be Max Kisor, election judge, working with Mrs. F. A. Sharp and Mrs. Mary Fox, clerks.

At Wellman, Alton Loe and G. I. Simms, retiring members of the board are the only candidates for election. At Union, retiring board members, W. Holliday and Claude Montgomery, have announced their intentions of running for re-election. Although no other candidates have filed, since printed ballots are not prepared at Union, other candidates might possibly be named.

Members who will retain places on the various school boards are: Brownfield, I. M. Bailey, Bill Carter, L. V. Alexander, Hubert Thompson, and Cecil O'Neal. Meadow, J. T. Fulford, Fred Finley, Perry McCallister, B. R. Smith, Jr., and Carl Pendergrass. And Wellman, Pete Golden, president; Elmo Adair, Robert Hamm, G. M. Bradley, and D. B. Oliver.

Voters in Precinct 1 will vote in the Union school house or the County Superintendent's office. Precinct 2 election will be held at the Meadow school and in the County Superintendent's office.

Glen Paden, Jr., Glen Sargent, Orville Miller, and Jerrell Rowden, all students at Abilene Christian College, recently visited here with their parents, during school holidays.

TEC MAKES NEW SIX-WEEK BRACERO CERTIFICATION, MON.

Texas Employment Commission certificates to the need for Mexican National Labor for only the minimum six weeks period, a new policy, which became effective Monday, due to the drought's causing unemployment.

Previously TEC had certified the need for laborers from Mexico for contract periods up to six months, with farmers guaranteeing three-fourths of the contract. In other words, if a Texas farmer hired braceros under a six months' contract and then found that he did not need them that long, he still had to pay for at least three-fourths of the contract period.

The new policy will protect Texas farmers by keeping them from being tied to long-term contracts and will protect Texas citizen labor

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MCCOY AND JOYCE ELAINE

Evangelist John McCoy Moves to Brownfield

It is with a great amount of pleasure that the elders of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ announce the arrival of the John McCoy family in Brownfield to be with them. While Brother McCoy will preach in the Sunday morning service, he will not begin his regular work with the congregation until the third Sunday in April. He is to be engaged in a revival meeting in Bloomington, beginning April 4, and will return to Brownfield on April 15.

He is a native of Victoria County, while his wife was reared at Sweetwater. They were married in 1947 and have one child, Joyce Elaine.

Brother McCoy began preaching as a senior in high school, at the age of 16 years. The following year he entered Victoria Junior College and after one year was drafted into the Navy. Following two years of service with the Navy, he entered Abilene Christian College and graduated with a BA degree in Bible and a minor in Speech. Following his graduation he preached for the church in Throckmorton and then moved to Justin and entered North Texas State for two more years of college work. There he received a MA degree in Secondary Education and a minor in Sociology.

Brother McCoy's work as a gospel preacher has carried him into all parts of the State of Texas, as well as Oklahoma, Iowa and South Dakota. He has labored as local evangelist for the churches in Throckmorton, Justin, and Nacoma, Texas.

A very cordial invitation is extended to the people of our city to hear Brother McCoy teaching and preaching the gospel. You will find him to be very friendly and courteous, as well as very anxious to know you and to be of help to you in any way that he can be. Their home is located at 301 East Oak Street, immediately behind the Crescent Hill Church of Christ.

Tornado time of year is upon us. It is true that tornadoes do on rare occasions develop sooner than April 1, or late in October, but April, May and June are generally thought of as the cyclone months. And as they usually take their greatest toll of life and property during that period. North Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are the main cyclone areas in Texas, but they can develop at other places. For instance, some of the worst ones last year were at San Angelo in West Texas, Waco in central and several in East Texas, but the main one was at Waco, where it hit the heart of the business district. San Angelo was hit in the suburban districts, and the loss of life was small compared to Waco. Of late years what is generally known as Civil Defense organizations have been set up in the larger cities, especially, and men and women trained to immediately get on the job in case of any disaster. And such disasters include fires, or the possibility of a bomb attack from a foreign foe, as well as cyclones and other natural disasters. In the larger centers, like Fort Worth and Dallas, the defense centers are set out as much out of the city as possible, and we understand Dallas is moving their project over in Denton County. The official name of such defense setups is, Texas Defense and Disaster Relief. Some one may ask how people are to know when a cyclone is brewing, and the answer is, the weather is generally hot, soggy with southerly winds, and threatening clouds overhead. Sometimes the clouds are topsy-turvy, and bulging down instead of up. But the USWB is setting up stations in many larger cities over the State, and they are prepared to broadcast any possibility of any general disturbance. The size of such areas in which a cyclone may be confined to some 10,000 square miles, this year, the areas will be greatly reduced, so that most neighborhoods may be included. Generally speaking such cyclones range from ten to 40 miles, but may continue dipping and rising for 300 miles. The width is usually 300 to 400 yards, but some have been known to be a mile wide. They travel from 25 to 40 miles an hour, but the wind speed in the whirl may approach 500 miles per hour. We have had a few in this area, one many years ago in the O'Donnell-Draw area in Lynn County, and back in the late 1940s, over at Sundown in Hockley County, that took a few lives and destroyed considerable property.

There is legislation before both the Congress and the State Legislature to make it harder on the Commie ideas. In Texas, Gov. Shivers was reported to have said something about making a law that could mean capital punishment for the Commie, but undoubtedly the Governor meant those who were really subversives. But knowing as we do that the general idea of Communism is the overthrow of the present government of the USA or any other country not already practicing the Moscow idea of government, that it would take J. Edgar Hoover and all his men to distinguish between the partyite and the subversive Communist. To say the least, to most of us any person who is known to have been mixed up with the Kremlin ideas, and falls back on the Fifth Amendment of our Constitution, to hide behind it, is not a safe person to be in our nation, state, county, or community. Also, so far as most of us are concerned, the sooner these off-brand folks are put behind the bars, and go over to Russia to live under Mr. Malenkov, the better it will suit us. But the Herald got a stemwinder from what is known as the Texas Council of Church Women, the past week, with considerable whereases and be it resolved, hatched out at their meeting at Houston on March 11. These good ladies seem to have the idea that a positive belief in Jesus Christ would be moral courage enough to handle the Commies. The big idea with the good ladies, who are probably members of divergent denominational churches, is that they fear the people in general are becoming worked up too much over the Commie business, and are likely to do something desperate, or perhaps put forward too radical legislation. And they positively state as unjust the branding of every Communist as a traitor to his country, especially in this time of "hysteria." And they go on to resolve, the assumption of guilt by association. Well, we at this great distance, fearfully arise to ask the good ladies if these people, even those who just "associate, are too guiltless," why hide behind the Fifth Amendment? One of the ladies, who is given as the President of the TCCW, lives in Fort Worth, while the Legislative Committee Chairman lives in Waco. Of course they want you to write Gov. Shivers and the Legislator from your district to go slow in legislating against the Commies, is the way we get their message. Take your choice folks, we are for the old USA.

In almost the same mail, as the article from which we wrote the above editorial came, there was another, and it was also by a woman, Elizabeth Ellen Evans, and her subject was "I Speak for Democracy." And she addressed her words to both Fascists and Communists. At the outset, she tells these off-brand Americans that she is an American and speaks for democracy, and of course she means the kind of "democracy" that we have known for more than 178 years. She tells these foreign "ism lovers" right off the bat that her ancestors shed their blood at Lexington and Valley Forge, Ft. Sumner and Gettysburg, the River Marne and Argonne Forest, the beachheads at Salerno, Normandy and the sandy shores of Okinawa, and on the bare bleak hills of Pork Chop and Old Baldy over in Korea. That she is the same kind of people as the small boy who laughs at the clown at the big circus, or enjoys a good ice cream cone or a bottle of soft drink at the ball game. She comes from the same kind of people who have made America great with their great herds in the west, the big wheat and corn fields of the Middle West, the cotton fields of the South, or the great steel furnaces of Pittsburgh and Birmingham. And she does not claim that one race, or religion has all the patriots. They come from the Jewish home, who says the sacred words, to Him, of the Torah. Or to the Catholic lass who prays through Mary to her Lord, or to the Protestant boy who sings, "A Mighty Fortress is our God, a Bulwark never failing. All these 160,000,000 people who love America above all other nations, have more roast beef and potatoes than any other people on earth. They have more good fertile land and automobiles, safety razors and bathtubs, all based on the fruits of American initiative and free enterprise. Not only that, they have more and better schools and insurance policies. They have more laughter and song than any other nation—and a reason for it. And her closing message to Fascism and Communism is: "Show me a greater country than our country; show me a people more energetic, creative, progressive—a bigger-hearted and happier people. Not 'till then will I consider your way of life. I am an American, and I speak for democracy." A pretty good answer to the Commies, we call it.

Most of the songs written, of the popular variety, are all the rage for a few weeks, then are forgotten, as some other boogie-woogie takes its place. But Wayne Gard, of the editorial department of the Dallas News gave us some history the past week on a song that has been popular since the early 1870s, and generally known as "Home on the Range." Although the song has had many other fitting titles, including the original, known as the Western Home, and first put in poetry by Dr. Brewster Higley of Kansas. Some of the other titles have been My Home in the West, Home Where the Buffalo Roam, Colorado Home, and My Arizona Home. But like some other tunes, the wording in different sections, were perhaps different for some time. Let us take the idea of a lone cowboy, who added this stanza: "Give me a jail when I can get bail, if under the shining sun. I'll wake with the dawn, I'll chase the wild fawn, I'll ride with my saddle and gun." Sorter like Texas' own semi-official song, The Eyes of Texas. Many will argue that the original music was "I'm Working on the Railroad." And this is literally true, but for that reason, many don't want The Eyes of Texas and Prefer Texas, My Texas. But during two World Wars and the Korean conflict, Texas soldiers and sailors and marines have made the Eyes song far more well known over the universe than Texas, My Texas. Some have been led to believe that the latter is the high brow idea, and The Eyes of Texas, is the low brow idea of an official song. But there is just something in The Eyes that catches on, just like the old Home on the Range, and holds on. It was said that Home on the Range was the favorite song of the late President Roosevelt, and we have heard others say it was also the favorite song of the late Will Rogers, the humorist. Any way, during the first term of FDR, this song was declared to be the top song in 1934. But even before that time, and up to the present, wherever sung, The Home on the Range gets close attention. As we stated above, the song originated in Kansas, a frontier physician and homesteader. But according to Gard, the present version was written by John Lomax, after hearing a negro cook in San Antonio sing it in 1908. Lomax was from Dallas, however. It is said that the singing of this song was not by any means confined to America, but spread to many other countries.

Coming to hand this weekend, the 3rd and 4th to be specific, is one of the most important gatherings ever to assemble in Brownfield. And let us admonish one and all that, taking care of the gathering of the 19th District of the American Legion is not going to be a pushover, if we are unmindful of the matter until it is at hand. But, on the other hand, if we have given the matter urgent consideration for the past several weeks, we shall find that Brownfield is able to take care of all the Legionnaires and the Auxiliary ladies in a way by which we shall all be proud. In making this statement, we are not unmindful of the fact that for the previous weeks, a study of arrangements has been put forth by the local Legionnaires. They have done their part in a handsome way, and have studied the matter from all angles. But they expect and must have 100 per cent cooperation from the town and community. If the weather happens to be ideal at that time, several hundred of the ex-service men and their wives, as well as Auxiliary delegates and visitors will be on hand. These visitors must be provided with places to stay—a bed if you please, but not necessarily board. There will be several free feeds for the visitors, and most delegates had rather take their other meals at some cafe, at meal time. In that way, they feel free to eat as early or as late as they wish, and still be on time for any program. At the least calculation, there are not enough rooms in all the hotels, boarding houses, and tourist courts to care for all these visitors by a jug full even if these for hire rooming places were not mostly already taken by regular guests. No one would be so stupid as to ask these regular guests to step out, and go some other place, while the convention is under way. As a consequence, people are asked to notify those in charge of arrangements if they have a spare room, and many have. And let us add right here that whether you have a place to rent at all times, or have opened a room or two in your home for these visitors, don't take the fact that they are here and have been glad-handed by the Legionnaires who live here, as a sufficient welcome. Make it a point to tell these visitors that you are glad they are here, and that you welcome them in your home. Remember these old Vets, which include Spanish War, World War I and II, and Korean, have upheld the honor of our country at the risk of their own lives.

Surveys made last fall indicate that grasshoppers may be numerous enough in the Texas Panhandle to cause heavy damage to crops and pasture land this year. However, weather and other natural conditions may change the situation. Farmers and ranch operators should be on the alert for these pests.

Processed poultry offal with fat and water removed, may soon be utilized by Texas broiler producers as a source of high content protein feed. It is now being tested by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The processed offal contains approximately 63 per cent protein, and amino acid about equal to that of fish meal.

Productive land is the main source of the food, clothing, and shelter for the American people. The conservation and improvement of this resource for sustained, productive use is an undertaking of vital concern to citizens of all walks of life.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is an important part, but only a part, of a coordinated effort to help landowners and operators attain soil conservation objectives. The total effort includes research, education, technical assistance, cost-sharing, and such indirect aids as credit.

The 1055 Agricultural Conservation Program

The new farm program recently recommended to the Congress by the President recognizes the importance of our soil and water resources to our national economy. One of the goals of this new program is to increase incentives to conserve and improve our soil and specific reference was made to the use of Agricultural Conservation Program funds to help farmers use land diverted from production in a manner that will advance soil conservation and long-term efficiency.

The Agricultural Conservation Program is an important part of this new farm program. County groups are requested to review the 1954 National Program for possible changes which might be made to increase conservation problems arising from needed land use adjustments.

The Terry County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the designated representative of the Soil Conservation Service in the county with the members of the Board of Supervisors of the Soil Conservation District, the Agricultural Extension Agent for the county as ex-officio member of the county committee, and the County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration and other interested farmers of the county, will meet April 7, 1954, to develop the county recommendations with respect to the 1955 National program made by R. D. Jones, Sr., chairman of the Terry County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Time Automatic Dryers To Prevent Over-Drying Fabrics

Careful timing of automatic clothes dryers to prevent over-drying will save both fuel and fabric, says Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist.

Overdrying—leaving clothes in dryers after all moisture is removed—adds materially to the cost of operating the appliance and may be hard on fabrics. Yet, Mrs. Claytor says, it is a common mistake of new owners of dryers. The specialist adds that table linens especially, if left too long in a dryer, come out so limp it is difficult to restore their crispness without moistening them over again before ironing.

An instruction manual usually comes with new dryers and contains a timing guide for different items. Mrs. Claytor says as the housewife becomes familiar with her dryer, she can work out exact timings for various laundry pieces.

Shirts, sheets and pillow cases, table linens or other items to be ironed should come out of the dryer while still damp. Bath towels, chenille spreads, bath mats, cotton rugs and corduroys, however, can be fully dried and will come out fluffy and ready for use.

Once a load is dry, she con-

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. What is the status of a person who is killed in an accident while enroute to report to his draft board for the first time. Is he covered by the Government's free $10,000 indemnity?

A. No. The law clearly states that only those draftees who are enroute under orders from the draft board to an induction center are covered by the indemnity. In the case you cite, the person had not yet received orders to proceed from the draft board to an induction center.

Q. I have a $10,000 GI life insurance policy on which I am paying premiums on a monthly basis. How do I go about changing my payments to an annual basis and where do I find out how much the annual payment will be?

A. Write to the VA District Office to which you are paying premiums, asking what the annual premium on your policy would be and the earliest date you may start payments on an annual basis. That will give you the information you need to determine whether or not you wish to make the change.

Q. I am a Korean veteran discharged before August 20, 1952, when the Korea GI Bill was enacted. I understand I have to be in school by August 20, 1954, if I wish to take advantage of the Korea GI Bill. If I enroll in a summer course this year and am in school by August 20, would that qualify me for further education under the GI Bill?

A. Yes. Summer school courses are permitted under the Korea GI Bill, so if you are in a summer school before your deadline for starting education, you would be permitted to continue after that date under the Korea GI Bill.

Q. I notice that you keep advising veterans to check all contracts before purchasing a home under the GI loan program. Does that include a deposit agreement, too, or do you mean just the GI loan contract itself?

A. That means every contract or agreement you are requested to sign as a part of the deal. If you are in doubt about any agreement or contract, see your lawyer first before you sign.

Q. I'm going to night school under the World War II GI Bill. I'll have to stop training for a while because my employer wants me to make an emergency two-month trip to another city. This is the first time I've had to travel on the job. Will I be allowed to continue with my GI Bill schooling after I return?

A. Yes. Provided you resume your course within 30 days after your return, or at the first time enrollment is permitted, whichever is later.

This is the time of the year when every subscriber should see that his label bears a date in advance.

If you owe local merchants small items make a point to pay them up and keep your credit on a worthwhile basis.

tinues, it's economical to take it from the dryer promptly. It's also efficiency when more than one load of clothes is to be washed and dried. The dryer should be ready to receive the new load as soon as the washer has finished with it.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Reducing on "Three Squares" A Day

Many people who want to lose weight make things difficult for themselves because of a mistaken notion. You've often heard a reducer complain that he doesn't lose weight fast enough, adding "And I eat only one square meal a day!" That may be his trouble.

These reducers usually follow a schedule like this. They have only coffee or fruit juice for breakfast, or skip that meal entirely—and "starve" all morning. Then, at noon, they eat a skimpy lunch—and "starve" again through the afternoon hours. All day long, they look forward to a decent meal, and when dinner time comes, they are apt to eat an enormous amount.

This is all wrong, says Dr. Sylvia F. Becker of the Newark (N. J.) Beth Israel Hospital. To prove her point, she cites an experiment made several years ago with laboratory animals. For this study, the investigators divided a number of animals into two groups. Both groups were fed the same food, the same number of calories a day. But there was one difference. Group A was fed its rations in several small meals a day. Group B got its entire daily allowance in one meal. Both ate exactly the same amount—but Group B, on one meal a day, gained weight much more rapidly than the other.

These results suggest that reducing is not just a matter of limiting calories, but of distributing them fairly evenly throughout the day. Here's why, according to Dr. Becker. When you go for a number of hours without any food to speak of, "the total metabolism of the body becomes reduced." In other words, your body processes slow down, and the food you eat is not "worked off" in energy. On the other hand, when you distribute your diet more evenly throughout the day, you not only feel better, but you use up those calories more efficiently.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Q. What vitamin should I take for protection against colds?
 A. There is no specific anti-cold vitamin but to protect yourself against infections in general you need adequate amounts of all vitamins.

Elmer W. Johnson Accidentally Killed On Construction Job

Elmer W. Johnson, 42, of Modesto, Calif., and son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, Rt. 1, Brownfield, was accidentally killed, Friday, March 26, while working on a construction job near Coalinga, Calif. He was crushed by a tractor he was greasing when it overturned after being hit by another tractor on the job.

Johnson worked for the Texaco Oil Co., and on various other jobs here for about 10 years prior to his entering the Service in 1942.

Survivors include his wife, Evelyn, of Modesto; his parents; a brother, G. H. Johnson, Rt. 1, Brownfield; two sisters, Mrs. Clyde Brewer, of Salinas, Calif.; and Mrs. Clay Hinson, Farwell, Texas. Also a son, E. Joe Johnson, who resides here with his grandparents.

Texas Needs More Commercial Scale Egg Production

More commercial production and fewer backyard flocks are needed to stabilize Texas' fluctuating egg market.

When poultrymen make favorable returns one year there's a tendency for backyard flock owners to jump into the business the next. This causes a slight upsurge in production and a mild drop in prices, says John G. McHaney, extension economist.

Although this "in-and-out" of the business trend might seem insignificant, it's enough to keep egg production in Texas on an unstable keel.

More commercial flock owners are needed—producers with, say, 1,000 hens or more.

Although there has been a trend toward large-scale production in Texas in recent years, producers in areas of the United States with a higher degree of commercial production constantly receive higher prices for their product.

DEALERS SELL OUT STOCK NEW NASHES

Detroit, March 30.—Initial dealer stocks of the new Nash Metropolitan were sold out the day after its introduction last week, according to George W. Mason, chairman and president of Nash-Kelvinator Corporation.

Dealer and customer response has been so gratifying, Mason said, that production rates are being increased by 60 per cent immediately and will be further increased as rapidly as possible.

"Metropolitan sales exceeded cars in dealers' hands by 34 per cent within 24 hours of its public announcement, March 19," H. C. Doss, vice president in charge of sales, said.

Texas Draft Quota Is Set At 999 Men

A draft call for 999 men from Texas for May was announced by State Selective Service headquarters this week.

The call compares to an April quota of 1,030, and a March quota of 985.

Director Paul L. Wakefield said in addition to the May induction call, another 1,000 men will be sent for combined physical-mental examinations the same month.

The examinations will be allotted to only 31 of the state's 137 local boards. Wakefield said the 31 were those having the largest number of older men registered.

"Tother day we had a card from 'Anna' and the lady did not want us to make any other engagements or plans for Tuesday. Patiently we waited for 'Anna' to appear, but the lady never showed up.

We did learn later, however, that Anna didn't "show up" but that "Anna was a show," or was in one, and she expected us to contact her at the show place.

THE WELLMAN NEWS

By Rev. Alvin F. Hamm

Roland King Injured
Roland King of the Welch community, who has been working on the new High School building, fell from a scaffold last Thursday about noon, and was rushed to the hospital in Lamesa by the Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance. King, 28 years old, landed on his back across some brick tile. He received severe bruises, but Sunday afternoon was resting good. He will remain in the hospital for several days, however.

Korean Relief
The Wellman Public Schools are receiving new and clean used clothing, blankets, overcoats, and any kind of bed clothing, to ship overseas for the Korean relief. Bring your clothes to the Superintendent's office and Mr. J. T. Bryant, superintendent, will be glad to take them, and will see that they are shipped to the right parties.

Lunch Room Nears Completion
The new lunch room is fast becoming a reality. It is expected that it will be completed and ready for occupancy in less than thirty days. If the weather permits the brick laying on the $300,000 high school building will be complete in the very near future. Some of the top of the building is already being put on and it will just be a matter of days until the rest is put on.

No Rain So Far

There has been no rain up to this writing and the sand is still moving about except that which is in the roads where the school buses run. The writer has been driving a bus for the school for several weeks and every day now it is unusual to get "stuck." But when the bus tears up in a sand bed and no one around for miles, it surely makes a person unhappy.

What You May Hear On The Streets

One of our good friends stated Tuesday that he would sign the "Welcome Ad" to the American Legion and Auxiliary, if we'd guarantee there would be no drunks in the crowd. We could only promise that we wouldn't get drunk, and he signed up. Some consolation he had that much confidence in us.

Then there was another mighty good friend, who has stayed by us come rain or sandstorms, whom we found just a bit miffed. He mentioned that several—he didn't call names, nor did we ask for them—whom he termed as fair weather friends. If they wanted to buy on credit, they flocked into his store, and it was brother this and brother that. But if times get pinchy, and they have a bit of cash, they shop around for "bargains," but pay cash on the spot. Do you blame him for being sore?

Learned this week that the Commissioners Court is drawing near to a settlement for right-of-way on the four-lane thoroughfare to Lubbock. Just one bunch of heirs in north part of city holding up the deal, and we understand court proceedings may be taken in this instance. We sincerely hope this matter can be straightened out without condemning proceedings.

On the streets we heard that the Young Democratic meeting Monday night was not exactly a love feast. But you know Democrats are always ready for a fight at the drop of a hat.

Mesdames Arch Fowler, R. L. Bandy, and Walter Gracey visited Monday, with Mrs. D. E. Harris, who is in a hospital at Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Dalton had as their guest over the week end, a niece of Mrs. Dalton's, Mrs. A. E. Lavern and husband, of Stamford. They also visited the Ed Crosslands, 302 East Broadway.

Mrs. Louie Clay and Mrs. L. J. Dunn, Jrs., were in Lubbock on business, Thursday.

BETWEEN CLASSES AND ROUND TOWN

with Jane Griggs

Let me tell you some more of the Interscholastic League teams. Sandra Yandell, Sandy Casstevens, and Beverly Wartes are the ready writers, and Patsy Teague and James Brandon are the extemporaneous speakers.

The Interscholastic One-Act play won fourth place in the contest last Friday. Members of the cast were Skeet Whitley, James Brandon, Nelva Brasher, Lolly Bryant, Charles Wilks, Marilyn Miller, Wanda Black, and Johnny Johnson. They presented it to the high school at assembly last Tuesday morning.

All of the kids were really duded up today! Today is Western Day and everybody really looks like a cowboy or somebody Western.

Thirteen (maybe not unlucky) girls have turned their names in to Mrs. J. D. Miller to try out for cheerleader. They are Garole Dallas, Betty Cabbiness, Patsy Teague, Sandra Yandell, Gail Cottrell, Joy Faye Martin, Jean Criswell, Theresa Stephens, Donna Christopher, Janie Dickson, Betty Daniell, Era Black, and Janel Bragg. They'll try out in the last part of April and will be voted upon when next year's student council officers are elected.

The Home Ec girls are now engaged in learning to take care of sick people, a course being taught to them by Mrs. Viola Simmonds, Red Cross representative. They've been taking it about three weeks and the course is supposed to last about 20 class hours.

The main activity of the school (that's besides the last day of school) was last night with the Jr.-Sr. Prom. It was a huge success!!! and everybody had a perfectly scrumptious time. Some of the dates last night were Flora and Curtis Stockton, Royda Dumas and E. V. Murphy, Herbie Singleton and Merlin Speed, Betty DuBose and Tommy Hamilton, Janelle Lewis and Doyle Criswell, Demeris Little and Gail Armstrong.

Charlotte Jones and Jack Stricklin, Betty Cabbiness and Bill Thomason, Betty Daniell and Jerry Don Brown, Gloria Angus and Dicky Green, Patsy Teague and Robert Butler, Janie Dickson and Kelly Mac Sears, Virlene Sharp and Nicky Greer, Sandra Yandell and Bobby Green, Gail Davis and Jesse Scott, Beverly Bryant and Robert McIntyre, Sandra Collier and Skeet Whitley, and Janel Bragg and Alton Messingill.

Becky Herndon and Chester Albert are going steady.

The Girls' Choir wore all sorts of rigmorales to the costume party last night at Donna Christopher's. Spanish ladies, Calamity Jane, and Huck Finn, etc., were all present when refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

—Bye.

New Fashioned Machine Washday

Machines are responsible for this latest trend, but even washday is going modern.

It's now considered much more efficient for housewives who have machine washers to scrap their weekly washday and spread the family's laundry work through the week, says Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist.

Wash a load of clothes each day instead of four or five loads on a single day, she explains. This way there's less tax on the hot water supply, on the space for drying and even on the space for clothes storage—all considerations in today's smaller homes.

Many mothers are finding that by washing more frequently, the youngsters actually need fewer clothes. Thus, less closet and other storage space is needed and, in addition, the children are more likely to wear out than grow out of their clothing.

As new labor-saving machines come into homes, working habits of housekeepers are effected. Machines will give full returns for the money only if they are used in the right way.

During recent years, about one farmer out of four worked at off-farm jobs more than 100 days annually. In contrast, one out of ten worked that much off the farm 30 years ago.

GOV. SHIVERS AND EASTER SEAL GIRL—Dallas.—The budge-some job of running the affairs of State was forgotten for a few minutes today when Governor Allan Shivers lifted a smiling, brown-eyed little girl to his knee. Five-year-old Karen Albrecht of San Antonio, the National Easter Seal Child, called on the Governor to ask him to buy the first sheet of Seals in the 21st annual Easter Seal Campaign, which begin this week. Karen, victim of cerebral palsy due to a birth injury, was selected to represent the thousands of crippled children who have been aided by the Easter Seal Societies. Her face will appear on billboards, car cards, in newspapers and on television during the 30-day appeal. One of four children, Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Albrecht and regularly attends the San Antonio Cerebral Palsy and Crippled Children's Center, where a staff of specialists are training her to walk with the aid of braces and crutches. The San Antonio center is only one of 23 such facilities over the State supported by Easter Seal dollars. During the campaign over a million letters carrying the Easter Seal message will be mailed to homes throughout Texas. Organized in 1921, the Easter Seal Society is a nationwide federation of more than 1,200 state and local affiliates in the 48 States, District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The State affiliate is the Texas Society for Crippled Children, with headquarters in Dallas.

Easter Seal Campaign Began Here Thurs.; 3,500 Letters Mailed

You are probably one of 30 million Americans who have received through the mail a sheet of gayly colored Easter Seals and a letter of appeal, asking you to contribute to the 1954 Easter Seal campaign on behalf of crippled children. Some 3,500 letters containing seals were sent to Terry residents, April 1, according to Chairman of the local drive, Roy Fleming. Comprising his committee of workers are Leonard Lang, Tess Fulfer, Mrs. Louis Simmonds, Vernon Townes, and Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Kitty Belle Fleming.

In Terry County, there are 84 crippled children that the society helps to pay transportation to and from children's hospitals, buy shoes, clothing, etc., regularly.

The local drive began April 1, and will continue through April 30. Perhaps you have asked yourself, "Why should I help support this drive?" and "If I do contribute, what happens to my money?" Here are just a few pertinent facts which you should know about this worthy cause.

Founded on the belief that crippled children are a normal, ever-present part of society, Easter Seal funds make it possible for these disabled youngsters to make the most of their abilities and eventually take their rightful place in the world.

The annual Easter Seal appeal is a nationwide campaign conducted simultaneously March 18 to Easter Sunday, April 18, by more than 2,000 state and local Easter Seal affiliates throughout the country with units in every state, District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

MEADOW JUNIORS TO PRESENT PLAY, FRIDAY

"Just Ducky," a three-act play, will be presented tonight (Friday), April 12, at 8 o'clock, by the Junior Class at Meadow High School.

Cast will include Sonny Curtis, Eloise Keesee, Joan Hardin, Kathryn Flowers, Ben Ed McCarty, Hershel Timmons, Margaret Dalton, Joe Longley, Arnold Patton, Robert Wylie, Betty Jane Hansard, and Betty Hester.

Admission is 50c for adults, and 25c for children; and the public is invite dto attend.

Here in Terry County the Terry County Society for Crippled Children sponsors the Easter Seal drive with 75 per cent of every dollar raised remaining to meet local community needs. The remaining 25 per cent of every dollar goes to the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the parent organization in Chicago, for a nationwide direct service program, education and research.

Services and facilities financed by Easter Seal contributions include case finding, diagnostic clinics, medical care, physical, occupational and speech therapy, rehabilitation centers, camps, convalescent homes, special schools and classes for those unable to attend regular schools, vocation training, employment placement, appliances and equipment pools, psychological counseling and testing, and many others.

Thus, by opening up your heart and contributing to the 1954 annual Easter Seal campaign as generously as you can, you will be directly helping some crippled child to lead a happy, useful life. If you haven't received Easter Seals through the mail, send your contribution to "Crippled Children," in care of your local post office.

FIRST GLIMPSE OF FATHER—Little Sheila McDaniel saw her father, Cpl. Marvin McDaniel, for the first time when he returned home two weeks ago from Uijongbu, Korea, where he had been stationed in the Army Engineer Corps for the past year. McDaniel was called back to the United States upon the death of his mother, Mrs. D. C. McDaniel, who lived in Seagraves. The little nine-months old girl was born four months after McDaniel left for Korea. Sheila's mother is the former Juanelle Jones, who is a native of Brownfield. McDaniel said that the Koreans aren't as poor and destitute as the newspapers, magazines, and radios lead us to believe, and the same is true of the Japanese. He said that the Korean countryside is similar to Texas landscape in that there are very few trees and the ones that they do have are only scrubs. When he left the foreign country, the cold season was breaking and the rainy season setting in. The natives' favorite foods are rice, and a vegetable stew, covered in hot sauce. They do not drink milk, but a lot of tea. The corporal has served twenty months in the Army, one year of which was in Korea. His sister, Mrs. W. D. Howell, lives at 218 West Buckley, and his father, D. C. McDaniel, at Seagraves. He will return to Fort Bliss, April 19, for possible Army discharge, and the couple plan to live in East Texas and run a chicken farm. The mother and daughter are shown above in a kimono and pajama set, which are souvenirs from Japan. Mrs. McDaniel is the daughter of Mrs. O. L. Jones of Brownfield. (Staff Photo.)

A CROP THAT NEEDS NO RAINFALL...

Many farmers, ranchers, and businessmen are finding chinchilla breeding gives them a satisfying, profitable crop not dependent on rainfall, or affected by high feed costs.

Chinchillas are easy to raise and care for; little space is needed for housing, and feed costs no more than 3.50 a year, per animal. A corner of a basement or garage is enough space for a start.

Chinchilla breeding is still in its infancy. From one to three million quality pelts a year will eventually be needed to supply fashion needs.

You can put some quality Allied chinchillas to work for you, as a cushion against crop failures or market drops. Once your breeding stock is established, upkeep is ridiculously low, and caring for them is simple.

Chinchillas have no noticeable odor, attract no body vermin, and are unusually hardy little fellows.

HOW FAR YOUR FOOD DOLLAR GOES HERE!

We are witnessing a healthy change in the American economy. We are shifting from a seller's to a buyer's market. In other words the consumer, who in normal times is King in the American free market, is returning to his old power and glory. This is all to the good. A neighbor of mine dropped the hint that he might consider trading in his two-year-old automobile. That evening a local car dealer telephoned. And the next day four salesmen, from four different companies, drove gleaming new 1954 models into his driveway and made enticing propositions. He bought a car and he told me that he'd made the best trade-in deal he'd made on a car in 12 years.

The situation today, as our country cuts down on its war production and builds up its peacetime production, is a challenge to American enterprisers. Contrary to the propaganda moanings of the advocates of Big Government, I predict that the American enterprisers will win this "Battle for Distribution." They've had tougher battles, and they have won them.

Winning Production Battles
In 1941, when America was suddenly thrust into war, President Roosevelt called for war production quotas which everybody thought impossible to achieve. Nevertheless, American enterprisers set to work building planes, ships, tanks and guns, and new factories to produce still more armaments. They far exceeded the quotas. In fact they out-produced all the rest of the world in armaments, and this achievement won World War Two.

Then came 1945, and the war's end, and the necessity to reconvert from military production to the production of civilian goods. It was imperative that this be done without creating serious unemployment. The propaganda of the Big Government advocates said it couldn't be done, that government would have to retain fairly rigid controls over everything. They were wrong. The private enterprise system achieved new records of peacetime production, employment rose to new peacetime highs, and there was virtually no unemployment.

Other Battles Won
Next came June, 1950, and the Korean War. The government called for vast new armament production, and the economy shifted once more to one predominantly influenced by war and preparations for war. This time the government asked private enterprise to expand production facilities so that an almost adequate flow of consumer goods could be continued, averting the need for rationing. And American business and industry responded. This was another battle of production which the private enterprisers won.

With the Korean War ended, we now hear the complainers saying that production is going to be overdone, that the markets will become glutted, that unemployment will result, and that we will have another depression. It is my conviction that the private enterprisers will also win the battle for distribution and consumption. America's needs are expanding swiftly. More than 11,000 new babies are born everyday—a record! An estimated $275-billion in individual savings is awaiting to be enticed by a reawakening salesmanship and private competition.

Promising Future
If American industry produces the right things in the right quantities, it will be impossible to over-produce. Moreover, there is much that private enterprise can do to expand our foreign trade. If government gives the right kind of encouragement—vitalizing the inherent incentives in our American system—there will be a great peacetime production, adequate distribution, and adequate consumption. Our standard of living under these conditions will go up four or five per cent a year for the next 25 years, thus improving 100 per cent in a generation.

No government-owned and operated economy can be sufficiently dynamic to win such a strategic battle as the one now facing us. No government-owned economy, anywhere on earth, ever won such production battles as our American private enterprise economy has won. The hope of winning this battle is wrapped up with the hope of retaining the essential factors of our way of life—faith in God, constitutional government, and a private enterprise economy. The three are in one package. Together they are the American way of life.

Church Sunday
where we are all one with the Lord

WELLMAN CHURCH OF CHRIST, located at the corner of Sixth Street and Yoakum Avenue, in Wellman, was organized and first started meeting in the present building about 1928. The first regular preacher was Bro. Joe Chisholm, of Brownfield, and the last minister, Bro. S. A. Ribble, who now preaches for the Home for the Aged in Gunter, Texas. The Church has 83 members, 65 to 95 persons attend Sunday School. The congregation plans to obtain a minister in the near future and to remodel the preacher's home, which is located two blocks from the church building. The auditorium will seat about 125 persons and the building includes three class rooms. Elders of the Church include A. A. Slaughter, N. H. Morley, Foy Lewis, and Sewell Dean. Deacons are Tommy Woodard, Homer Jones, R. L. Burnett, R. L. Womack, D. E. Franklin, and C. H. Heafner. Only three charter members still live in Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Woodard, and Mrs. Ruth Pace. (Staff Photo.)

Stricklinly Speaking
By OLD HE

Welcome Legionnaires and Auxiliary delegates and visitors to the 19th District Convention of American Legion. May your stay with us be as gratifying to you, as to we people of Brownfield. Come again; the latch string is on the outside.

You will note from the heading of the regular column, Looking Ahead, by Dr. George S. Benson of Harding College, at Searcy, Ark., that the heading has been slightly changed. Dr. Benson was recently elected a Director of the National Educational Council.

Dr. Benson is not only a well posted writer that knows his subject, and how to impart it to others, but his services as a speaker before educational as well as Chamber of Commerce endeavors, is in demand all over the USA. While the college of which he is president, is regarded as a small one, as colleges go, this institution is becoming known far and wide, and is growing fast.

Had an article this week from G. T. Johnson, of Austin, who has announced as a candidate for Lieut.-Governor of Texas, that was quite interesting. Mr. Johnson stated that the Bell Telephone Company was asking for a radical raise in rates in some 64 counties of Texas and Mr. Johnson was very critical of the proposed raise.

He pointed out that according to Bell's own figures, they had made a net profit of 6.3 per cent, net for the year 1953, but apparently were not satisfied. What makes this stand out here in West Texas, particularly, is that there are literally thousands of firms that failed to meet outgo with the intake last year.

To hear some of the politicians talk and rant, joined in by a few of the radical papers—there is few of them—and a few of the religionists in meeting assembled, don't think Gov. Shivers and Atty-Gen. John Ben Shepperd have accomplished anything down in old Duval. To mention just a few things since the investigation started, District Judge C. W. Laughlin, a pal of Duke Parr, has been ordered to vacate his seat.

Still another count is that the Duke, himself, has had to pay a fine for carrying a sixshooter, and threatening those who didn't heed his commands. Several school board members have resigned, including a county auditor. The two banks have been made to produce their reports, and county officials must show records of expenditures, and to whom payments were made. Giving blank checks with the signature of the County Clerk and Auditor has been stopped, short. All officials and their books—if any—are being examined by state and federal officials.

What do you think of that compared to what went on down in the Dutchy just a bit more than a year ago?

FEB. TEXAS INDUSTRY SHOWED SLIGHT GAIN

Texas industrial activity was slightly higher in February than in January, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

The Bureau based its statement on a 4 per cent increase in industrial consumption of electric power. Such February consumption also was 5 per cent more than in February, 1953.

The State's total electric power consumption in February was 1 per cent more than in January, and 6 per cent more than in February, 1953.

CHEAP BUILDING MATERIAL!

In stock we have a nice supply of good lumber, but not suitable for first-class jobs in residences.

But this lumber would be ideal for pens or sheds for livestock or farm implements. If you contemplate such building on your place, it will pay you to see this lumber and low prices on it before you buy.

We also carry a line of redwood lumber for building back yard fences.

holism as a disease, and this includes many doctors. To most of us it is just a vile habit brought on by the non-resistance of the victim, just the same as the dope victim. To say the least alcoholism is much more of a problem than when the writer was a child back some 65 years ago, although the old-fashioned saloon was wide open in those days. But instead of referring to them by the pleasant name of "Alcoholics," we spoke of them as "Common Drunks," and we let their own people worry with caring for them.

Here in Terry, according to the statistics furnished us by the Commission, (RCA) there was a total of 34 arrested for DWI in 1953, but run into the thousands in the bigger counties, with many thousands in fines. No mention was made of fines for Terry County. Two people were reported as having tuberculosis; 108 families with 75 children, were being aided by the county. The cost of this last year to Terry County taxpayers was $1,732.00.

Of course not many of those being aided by the county were caused from alcohol, presumably—just hard luck and perhaps lack of initiative.

We note from the Crosbyton Review, that paper seems to be pretty wrathful about the gas company demanding payment on the fifth of the month of billing, instead of the 10th. And it mentioned there was a penalty if not paid on that date. Down here at Brownfield, with the same company in charge, we had not noted any change in date of payment, and have paid on or about the 10th—as convenient to us—as heretofore. We had supposed they had the same rules everywhere.

And we also note that another Okie Night Club up there at Durant, near the big Texoma lake, had been held up by masked men with shooting irons. And according to the newspaper report of the affair, there was just too much money on hand among the "tired business men," to be just a feed and chaffest. The business men were required to lay down in the floor and remove their britches, and thousands of dollars was extracted from their pants. All telephone communications with the "club" were cut.

But the sheriff finally arrived, and we have been wondering if he found any poker chips and the little dancing cubes laying around on the premises? No jewelry was taken. Down in old Johnson County, we note that they are making preparations to celebrate their 100th birthday this year, with the idea of long whiskers and some "hossback" riding. First in the many smaller towns over the county, and finally a grand finale to wind up the event in Cleburne.

So, as we calculate, Johnson County was somewhere the same age that Terry is presently, when we landed there on all four feet in August, 1900. If you remember, this is Terry's fiftieth birthday year.

Well the Snyder bunch of Triggs, Herman, Sallie, Sara B., and Dog, Rover, paid us a very highly appreciated visit over the weekend, and did we have fun. Eats were not exactly elaborate, as being together for some 24 hours was more to our thoughts and inclination. But we had plenty to eat.

This reminds us of the plans that our two little granddaughters have made for our future. On the way down to Snyder some three weeks ago, when Miss Mary Ann accompanied us, she must have made a mental comparison of our old 40y car, and those we met.

So, she stated that when she grew up and made some money, she was going to give us a fine new car.

Now, to top all this, Miss Sara Beth some three weeks ago decided that she would marry Pop, when she grew up, not taking into consideration that we might have a spouse already. Anyway we shall appreciate the new car, and the idea that Miss Sara Beth thinks we'd make her a reasonably good husband.

But what "warted us," they brought along a Snyder Daily News, which we found Sunday night and started out to read. There was an interesting piece about an old time bootlegger, who had promised to vamoose and stay gone, but had slipped back into Snyder, was plying his trade, and was in the hoosegow again. There were several other articles that interested us, then we noted the "funnies." Gosh! we thought, their funnies sure are way behind those in the dailies we get. Then we looked at the date of the paper. It was Friday, March 12, instead of the 26th. They had brought something wrapped in the old paper.

GOOD

It takes a mighty good housekeeper to make a deficit look like say about how bad conditions are, or how bad they will get. On the other hand, some talk much about the "Hoover Depression."

Well, at least some of us that could make both ends meet, pay all our accounts, and buy a new car now and then in the thirties and early forties, are having a hard time keeping our heads above the flood today. We'll take the old period with less taxes and less money, but the money at least worth 100 cents on the dollar.

STILL GOING STRONG

The people of the area seem to appreciate our cutting the price of the Herald on account of the drouth to—

Until further notice we shall continue the rate in our TRADE AREA ONLY. You'll have to hurry. We appreciate those who have responded with their renewals as well as the many new readers we have obtained.

As soon as conditions change, we aim to go back to the old rate of $3.00 per year in the trade area, as we really lose money at $1.50 per year.

Terry County Herald

WELL DONE, MR. SHEPPERD

The Attorney General of Texas closed out his first year in that office by aiming a spotlight on a Communist-inspired plot involving three labor unions to take over control of vital oil and shipping centers in this State. John Ben Shepperd conducted this inquiry with such thorough fairness that it stands as a model pattern for grappling with the difficult tactics of those who follow the Communist line. He did his duty as the chief legal officer of Texas so well that he inspired admiration from practically all citizens of the State.

Shepperd's work in routing these tainted unions from their targets in Texas was merely the capstone to an extremely productive year, however.

During 1953, Shepperd and his staff tried 1,232 cases in the courts. They won 1,199 of them, a 97 per cent batting average, which is a very high average indeed. This is solid testimony to the sound manner in which the attorney general is doing his work on behalf of the people of Texas.

Last year, too, Shepperd and his staff received and processed 1,111 requests for opinions from state, county and local officials on problems relating to their offices and their communities. This alone represents a staggering amount of legal labor expended on behalf of the people of Texas.

In addition, Shepperd and his staff examined and approved more than $300,000,000 worth of public works bonds for various communities in Texas. This is the highest dollar total ever involved in a year's bond approval work in the attorney general's office.

Shepperd's court victories included outstanding verdicts in the Texas Company case and the gas gathering tax case. If finally upheld these will add millions of dollars to the permanent school fund of Texas and $45,000,000 in gas tax money will be freed for spending by the State Legislature. Shepperd also led a drive to dry up a leakage in Texas cigaret taxes that will add millions of dollars to state revenue.

The Texas tidelands, title to which was secured for the state by act of Congress, still continues to keep the attorney general busy, too. He spent considerable time last year defending that act against the attacks by five inland states.

With all of this energetic and productive service to the people of Texas, Shepperd managed his office so efficiently that he was able at the end of the year to turn back $25,000 in unused budget to the state treasury.

The people of Texas owe a debt of thanks to John Ben Shepperd, who has vindicated their confidence in him beyond the call to duty.—Waco News-Tribune.

Clean Premises Will Mean Better Health

AUSTIN.—At this time of the year Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer asks, "What will you have — flies, rats, diseased hogs, stench, smoke, unsightly messes dotting the landscape, polluted streams; or fewer flies and rats, cleaner air, less disease, unblemished landscapes, cleaner streams and reclaimed land? You can take your choice and the best will prove to be the most economical."

Safe, sanitary and economical disposal of refuse is a serious public health problem in most communities in Texas. Poor methods of refuse disposal increases the potential spread of disease by flies and rats that thrive in such insanitary conditions. Indiscriminate dumping of refuse along highways and streams is a filthy habit, mars much of the State's beauty and pollutes streams.

Foul smoke from burning open dumps is unpleasant to everyone. The sanitary landfill method of refuse disposal is practical and within financial reach of most communities, even those in rural areas.

A regular collecting system, designated dumping areas obtained by the city or county court with all landfill equipment moved by trucks in coordination with the collecting system can solve this serious health problem.

The Texas State Department of Health will be glad to consult with any community regarding this basic sanitation problem. When all refuse is properly collected and disposed of, Texas will have better health and a more enjoyable environment in which to work and play.

Benson Faces Critics On Their Own Ground

No one can say that Ezra T. Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, lacks political courage. He flew across the dust-swept plains to Denver to face his most severe critics, the members of the radical Farmers Union. This is the only one of the big farm organizations that is opposing his and the President's policy of flexible supports for farm products. Mr. Benson minced no words in telling those at the national convention that the policy of high, rigid supports is heading toward a complete collapse of the whole federal program of farm aid.

The Secretary pointed out that the main benefits of the present policy go to a few big producers, already millionaires. More than half the farmers receive only a few dollars each from this plan that has brought unbalanced production and huge surpluses. If the present policy should be continued, lack of storage space for surpluses and growing consumer resistance to artificially high prices would inevitably bring a breakdown in the program.

The aim of the President and Mr. Benson is not to trim the farmer's slice of the national income, but to increase it. With flexible supports at 75 to 90 per cent, instead of the present rigid one of 90 per cent, a better balance could be achieved between supply and demand. In time the farmers would have a better chance than now to achieve full parity in the prices of their products.—Dallas News.

YOU CAN GET TOO MANY VITAMINS, SAYS DR. GEO. W. COX

AUSTIN.—"Hypervitaminosis is a long word meaning too many vitamins," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The diseased condition probably was derived from the tendency of some persons to think that if a little bit does good a lot will do better. This is not the case in taking vitamins or medicines whether prescribed by a physician or taken on one's own initiative.

Millions of dollars are spent yearly in synthetic vitamin preparations by persons who mistakenly believe they will counteract carelessness eating habits or cure numerous ailments. Unless prescribed by a physician for a specific need, synthetic vitamin purchases are usually a waste of money.

Nutritionists have long urged that, except when prescribed by a physician, vitamins be secured from the grocery store in the form of green, leafy, and yellow vegetables and dairy products. This is the more beneficial and economical way of assuring an adequate intake of these necessary substances.

April Designated As Cancer Control Month By Society

April is Cancer Control Month. It is the month dedicated to a fight against the disease.

Cancer is the nation's second-greatest killer. It strikes one person in every five. It will kill 23 million Americans now living unless new preventive measures are found. Cancer does not respect age—it kills more children between 3 and 15 than any other disease.

Cancer is not contagious, it is not inherited, and it is not a disgrace. At least half of all cancers are curable if caught and treated early.

There are many worthwhile cancer research projects not now receiving support, because there is not money enough to go around. Every year research provides new knowledge to help treat cancer better.

Any of the Seven Danger Signals may mean cancer. Those signals are:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

Mrs. Homer Winston and Mrs. Annie Belle Barrow, of Brownfield, were in Dimmitt, Sunday, attending the formal opening of the new Church of Christ building there. They were accompanied to Lubbock by Mrs. Winston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whisenant, who visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Bragg.

Mrs. Neal Jennings and baby, of Tulla, visited here Saturday to Tuesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black, and with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Eakin, Jr.

Mrs. Pat McMillan, Mrs. E. B. McDaniels, Mrs. Joe Keffer, and Miss Mary Ballard, all of Brownfield, were in Lovington, Friday night, attending a Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Report, Illinois State Medical Society: "Lusty laughter will make you live longer. Guffaws ventilate the lung spaces."

It has been established that Vitamin A and D taken in excessive amounts are harmful. Other excessive uses of vitamins have resulted in cases of vitamin toxicity. Excessive intake may be dangerous as deficient intake. Take vitamins only when prescribed by a physician and only in the amount ordered by him.

THAT MISSOURI RIVER CANAL IS UP AGAIN

Some twenty years ago, as memory serves us, an engineering firm up at Washington sent us a map and some data on a proposed canal from the Missouri River, and ending down somewhere in the Winkler County area. Not only that, but they sent us a map of a map of the proposed canal, which began, as we recall, in the eastern part of Montana. At that point, it was pointed out, the elevation was some 4,500 feet, and there was a gravity flow in the canal south to Winkler or Pecos County, Texas.

We feel pretty sure we preserved the map of the map, but we had not had the time to date to look too much for it, but we intend to do so, perhaps this week end. But the fact that Congressman George Mahon has resurrected the matter in Congress, it makes the matter more urgent. As we recall at that time, there was an estimate that the canal would cost a billion dollars, and the idea of a billion dollars for a canal was ridiculed no little by many Congressmen.

But that was before the day that we thought nothing of handing over a few billion dollars annually to Tom, Dick and Harry, but using, of course, some unpronounceable names in some foreign country. Just recently we noted that the brass up at Washington was thinking of giving—not selling—the French another bunch of fighter planes to carry on a war way over in Indonesia. When there are folks out here in this three-year drouth area, that don't know where their next meal will come from. Just owing to who is to get the billion dollars, controls the thinking of a lot of people up on the old Potomac.

Anyway, we hope George Mahon keeps pushing this idea. It is high time that Congress began to think of the folks here at home, burdened with high taxes to support a lot of people all over the world. Yes, the American people, or a lot of them, could use a few billion dollars that the powers that be at Washington are handing out right and left.

As we remember, the canal, a huge one, and carrying a lot of water that might flood sections down in Iowa, Kansas, and Missouri, and destroy property, could be drained off down in this area to produce food and fibre. Hardly a year passes that there are not some serious floods in the lower reaches of the Missouri River before it reaches the Mississippi. And if it happens that the Mississippi is being flooded from the east via the Ohio, Tennessee, Cumberland, and other rivers, the flooding is just that much worse on down to New Orleans.

If we can find the map of the map, or the picture in old volumes of the Herald, we are going to reproduce the picture. But as we remember, the canal passed through western Nebraska, Kansas, the Panhandle of Oklahoma, and came in near Amarillo, or just

TO STOP STATE FUNDS TO THE DUVAL DUTCHY

Austin, March 17.—State Senator Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock, west of that city, on down between Amherst and Sudan, very close to Morton, and just west of Plains.

Anywhere along this reach from Morton south, or north for that matter, the canal could be tapped by lesser canals or pipe lines, and the water carried to areas anywhere from 10 to 50 miles or more on each side of the canal.

Of course the government would furnish the engineers to plan the canal, and the money to build it. But it was the general idea, even at that time, that the users of this water, all along its entire length, would pay a reasonable meter fee, and finally reimburse the government for the money expended on the canal. And we believe that is the idea of Mr. Mahon.

Anyway, millions of acres of old hilly farms in the East are wearing out and too infertile to farm, and are being turned into grass for livestock. With this surplus and often highly damaging Missouri River water on these level and rolling Plains, they would take the place of the land back East that has played its last tune so far as crops are concerned.

If the idea strikes you as feasible, drop George Mahon a card, and tell him you are with him for the canal.

TERRY COUNTY HERALD, FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1954

Tuesday, introduced a bill to stop the flow of State funds to Duval County until missing financial records of the county and two school districts are returned and audited.

Records of Duval County and the Benavides and San Diego School Districts have been under examination by State Auditor C. H. Cavness after being impounded by a court order obtained by State Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Corbin's resolution cited three typewritten pages of "irregularities" pointed out by Cavness in Duval County and school district records, and called attention to Cavness' report that among others "Benavides School District records were missing in their entirety for all the period prior to September, 1953, except for tax records and board meeting minutes."

Corbin introduced the resolution just 24 hours before the resignation of Duval County Auditor C. T. Stansell, Jr., which followed by two hours the removal of District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin by the Texas Supreme Court.

Among the "irregularities" cited by Corbin were:

"Unlawful payroll advances made to county employees; illegal transfers of constitutional funds in the sums of $55,000, $142,415, and $141,500; checks signed in blank

by the County Treasurer and the County Auditor; the absence of evidence that fines or forfeitures have been accounted for by officials other than the Tax Assessor-Collector and District Clerk;

"A $20,000 expenditure for which the County Auditor has not made a proper accounting; a report by handwriting analyst E. N. Martin that (1) the same person signed the name of both the County Auditor and the County Treasurer to various warrants, (2) many of these warrants were also endorsed, by the County Auditor, and (3) the County Auditor issued numerous warrants in blank."

He also pointed out "affidavits by Jim Wells and Duval County citizens that certain records of the Texas State Bank of Alice and the San Diego State Bank have been destroyed or misplaced, thus preventing a full and complete audit of county and school funds."

The resolution states that $796,216.58 in State funds was disbursed to the San Diego and Benavides school districts in the years 1951-53, and that $10,176.75 in other State moneys was disbursed to Duval County in that time.

"The taxpayers of Texas cannot afford to continue to pour their money into private pockets in Duval County," Corbin said. "All State allocations to the county ought to be withheld until we find out where all this money went, and we can only find out from the missing books. Somebody knows where they are."

Ford Six and Fordomatic

The new Ford 115-h.p. I-block Six whisks you along silently, smoothly, economically. Its deep-block build provides rigid crankshaft support for smoother, quieter operation. Low-friction design and high-turbulence combustion chambers mean more miles from less gas. And, thanks to the Six's higher compression and increased displacement, you get extra "GO" power at all speeds!

Fordomatic Drive shifts for you more smoothly than you could do it yourself. It's the only "automatic" in Ford's field to combine a fluid torque converter and an automatic intermediate gear. Should you ever need an extra burst of speed for passing or hill-climbing Fordomatic's intermediate gear takes over automatically when you step down on the accelerator.

You get a double-value power package when you buy a '54 Ford with the new I-block Six and versatile Fordomatic Drive. This brilliant Ford engine-transmission combination brings you all the smoothness and flexibility of the finest no-shift driving combined with the extra economy that's built into the industry's most modern, short-stroke, overhead-valve Six. And, of course, you get the smooth, level riding comfort, the easier handling of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension, a feature exclusive to Ford in its field.

Remember, too, a Ford Six with Fordomatic Drive is automatically worth more when it comes time for you to sell!

MIRACLE OF CINEMASCOPE LETS FILM AUDIENCE "PARTICIPATE" IN ACTION

"Knights of the Round Table," M-G-M's breathtaking Cinemascope production in Color, showing at the Regal Theatre April 4, 5, and 6, kept its stars, Robert Taylor, Ava Gardner and Mel Ferrer, and a supporting cast of thousands in front of the cameras for months.
And by means of the remarkable Cinemascope technique, audiences will see exactly what Director Richard Thorpe and the men behind the cameras saw as it was happening. From left to right, their vision will encompass the entire horizon of action, with nothing limited by the angle of the camera lens.

Cinemascope, a new miracle in motion picture making, was invented by a Frenchman named Henri Chretien. Through means of a cylindrical lens known as Anamorphoscopic, it permits a wide, horizontal area to be compressed onto a film frame of the usual 35-millimeter width and then "un-squeeze" it when it is projected through a corresponding correcting lens in the theatre.
One of the most important accomplishments of the system, which projects on a screen two-and-a-half times the width of the standard, is that it permits the actors to show cause and effect, action and reaction in a single,
continuous shot.
Cinemascope is not simply a wide angle effect. It is panoramic, as in the case of a school graduation photograph. When a motion picture scene is filmed with an ordinary wide-angle lens, the cameraman wants to get height along with width, so he keeps going backward away from his subject in order to keep him in the picture frame. At the same time, however, the subject constantly diminishes in size. The Anamorphoscopic lens, on the other hand, makes it necessary for the camera to retreat only a fourth or a fifth as far to hold the subject, or several subjects, in view of the finder. The nanoramic effect keeps the audience close to the actors and still gets them all in.
"In the big battle scene of 'Knights of the Round Table' we used more than 2,000 men and 500 horses," says Thorpe, "representing the armies of King Arthur and his rival knights. We deployed this huge crowd across a field 200 yards in width. Due to the Anamorphoscopic lens we were able to see every last one of these soldiers as they engaged in combat.
The effect on an audience is staggering. It makes the spectator feel as though he is actually enveloped in the action."

other relatives last week.

A supply of good silage is "like money in the bank" to livestock producers. A big silage account is mighty good insurance against feed shortages, and it's time to make plans for planting a silage crop in 1954.

Rounding Up The "Fringe" Business Men of The City

Decided to drive out among the "fringe" or edge of town interests on a little business Tuesday afternoon, as we don't get to see these men often, taking the Seagraves Road this time. Of course we see the Patton Phillips "66" place quite a lot, when we run out of gas, or as on one occasion, a tire.
But took a fill with him anyway.

Our next stop was way out with Kersh Implement, the John Deere man. He has a fine stock, of all kinds of implements and parts, and has plenty of room out there to spread out if need be. But he was in town when we got out there, but came by briefly, with just a slight pause, and was off again, down the Forrester F-M road. Told us later he had gone down to the Golden farm, where a new irrigation well had just been brought in, and that it was a good one. But he did not state the estimated capacity.

Next stopped at the Lee Crabtree Machine Shop near the airport. Lee and his men will fix up most anything that is made of metal, whether it is bent, broken or otherwise damaged. And if necessary, they will make a duplicate.
Lee is a pleasant guy to do business with, and he and men have the machinery and the know how.

Our next stop was with C. L.
Aven at the AAA Lumber Co.
C. L. tells us that they are building homes right along up in the Oak Grove addition, just east of the Lubbock Road, several already finished and others in prospect. This addition was named for that grove of large oak trees for this area, now enclosed by the Magnolia camp.

Of course had to stop a few minutes with Ted Hardy, at his grocery and market, but we call on him occasionally when we get hungry. Same old Ted, with his old time friendly greeting. And Ted has a nice stock of human feed of all sorts, if you ask us.

mixing ingredients for the sick and afflicted in his stead.
Most of us old timers will regret the passing of that old time citizen, Mrs. K. W. Howell, who came to Terry when the town was young.
After the death of her husband several years ago, the children bought a home for her in Plainview, as the home here at that time was rather out to itself on the Tahoka road.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dalton and daughter, of Stinnett, recently visited here with his parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Scott Dalton.
