Lets Cat Out of the Bag

The attorney who represented the contestants at Crockett last Friday used language something like this: "The reason we are so much interested in a road superintendent is we have recently voted a bond issue on ourselves and will need the services of a road superintendent." Now this spoils everything—lets the cat out of the bag completely. This is the very thing that Crockett has denied. But the attorney who represented them evidently knew what he was talking about else he would not have represented them.

Another thing: Those parties at Crockett who contested the election on the grounds that illegal votes were cast at Grapeland should have been more consistent. They ought not to tell their neighbors to wash their faces when their own is besmeared with smoot and grease. It developed at the trial Friday that there WAS AT LEAST SEVEN ILLEGAL VOTES IN THE CROCKETT BOX. Grapeland wanted to recount ALL the boxes and Crockett objected. What do you know about that?

Not So Sure

The writer is not unmindful and unappreciative of the benefits and beauties of civilized society as it exists today, with all its inconceivable horrors. To contemplate the progress of centuries, in the fields of labor-saving machinery and the arts and sciences, overwhelms the average mind. I give it all due reverence, but when I think again of the great, throbbing mass of humanity, whose daily lives are so fashioned by heredity and environment that they can enjoy so little of the products of this wonderful civilization, I am not so sure of our prosperity after all. For if thousands must toil that one may be idle, if thousands must live and die in rags and poverty that one may live and die in luxury, if thousands must be poor that one may be rich, if thousands must die unwept, unhonored and unsung that one may be wept for, honored and praised, I ask it in good faith, dear reader, in the name of God and justice and all that humanity holds dear, of all that is beautiful, true and good in earth and in heaven, for whom is civilization intended? For whom is organized society constructed and practiced? Whose business is municipal government? For whom has the earth been made, the waters to run, the sun to shine and the stars to twinkle? Are they to be principally for a chosen few who happened to be born under a lucky star, or for a few who happened to go that way by fortunate circumstances? Or is the world made for us all and therefore owned by us all alike to live in and enjoy its unlimited blessings, for as we all come so we must all go.

Upon the correct solution of these questions hang the destiny of nations, the happiness of humanity and the fate of souls. ALPHA.

From Old Gray

Blair's Farm, June 18.—One month yesterday was the last rain we have had in this vicinity until this evening. We have had a light rain which will tend to cool the atmosphere for awhile and will be of some benefit to cotton. As to corn, the die is cast. We don't think that we ever witnessed such a complete failure in corn throughout this country. We were in Augusta yesterday and we found that the same conditions prevailed in the surrounding country—no corn. At present cotton is doing fine, growing nicely and fruiting well. Peas and sweet potatoes are in the back ground for the want of rain.

Since our last Mrs. Neil McMillan of Augusta has surrendered her soul to the God who gave it. Mrs. McMillan had lived in Augusta for nearly forty years, and none knew her but to love and respect her. She had lived the life of a christian and she has gone to receive her reward due the faithful. She is survived by two daughters and one son—Mrs. Hugh Long and Mrs. Will Sheridan of Augusta, and Bud McMillan, now of Bosque county. The entire community sympathizes with the family in their sore distress.

Our better half is away on a visit and through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. May Jones we were highly entertained at their home for supper and breakfast. A feature of the occasion was the robbing of very nice bee gum—plenty of the most delicious honey you ever tasted. May the mantle of life fall gently up on your shoulders and bless you for your kindness to others.

The great issue of the day is not being discussed in this portion of the vineyard, as there is but one side of the question here and that is the right side—antis. Since the speeches of those great, bramy fellows at Fort Worth the people are opening their eyes and getting themselves together in a way that will give the antis an overwhelming victory, and then peace and Gov. Colquitt will reign once more in the land.

The health of this community is good.

We are sorry to state that Miss Myrtle Newman and Mrs. Walter Newman of Augusta are quite sick. OLD GRAY.

News of Rock Hill

June 19.—This community is very dry, having had no rain in over five weeks. The crops, especially corn, are damaged very much from the drouth. The writer has never seen corn in as bad condition at this time of year. Some of the corn is a total failure and all will be so if it don't rain. Cotton, for its age, is excellent but on account of the rainy weather in early spring the farmers were late in planting their cotton. Most all are up with their work and enjoying a few days rest. Fishing trips are numerous.

Our Sunday school is doing fine. On the first Sunday afternoon in June we heard an excellent sermon preached at Antrim by Rev. J. I. Weatherby. On the second Sunday and Saturday night before Rev. W. D. Andrews delivered two good sermons at Antrim and that night at Rock Hill.

Friday night, June 9, there was an ice cream supper at Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Weisinger's, and a great crowd of the young folk attended.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cook of Lone Star have been here on a visit to Mrs. M. E. Cook, who has been very sick for some time. We have several sick ones in our community at present, among them are Mrs. Lucy Matthews, Luther Campbell, and Miss Ola Willis.

Willie Gee of Grapeland is spending a few days here visiting relatives.

Miss Eva Wallace and little sister, Ila May, of Athens have been spending several weeks here with friends and relatives. H. E. Gee and C. M. Streetman went to Crockett Friday.

Next Sunday, June 25, we are going to have music at Rock Hill all day, conducted by Prof. F. W. Woodard. Don't ask if you are invited—just come and let us prove that you are welcome.

The trustees have employed Miss Bula Sheridan to teach our school next term. Think we will have a good school.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN

Women suffering from any form of illness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

Historic Event Celebrated.

Australia recently commemorated the one hundred and forty-first anniversary of Captain Cook's first landing. It was in 1770 that H. M. S. Endeavor, a barque of 370 tons, entered the inlet first called Sting Rays Harbor, but afterwards Botany Bay, from the beauty and variety of the plants growing about its shore. The vessel remained eight days, and before she left the British flag was hoisted. As is the custom on each recurring anniversary, the flag was again unfurled upon the spot where it was first displayed, and was saluted by the guns of the warships in the harbor.

Do not expect a friend to ask of you; anticipate his need.—Socrates.

WAYS OF SERVING CHEESE

Some Suggestions for the Housekeeper Who Wishes to Avoid Monotony.

The housekeeper who does not believe in monotony does not serve cheese in the same way two days in succession. A little planning will enable her to run three or four different kinds of cheese at the same time, keeping them all fresh by putting them in an airtight cold place.

As most cheeses spoil quickly it is well to buy in smaller portions, especially in warm weather. Some cheeses are so perishable that grocers will not handle them in summer, and they should not be bought unless to be eaten at once.

The same kind of cheese may be served in various forms. Take the popular cream cheese, probably more used than any other one make. If you pass it out in squares one day, the next mix it in balls sprinkled with parsley; again mix with chopped pimientos; or thin slightly with whipped cream, mix with chopped red peppers, and remold into a flat thin cake, which is passed whole.

Instead of serving bar-le-duc and cream cheese separately, stir together into a mixture about the consistency of creamed butter and sugar.

Fried cheese balls are delicious served with plain lettuce and French dressing. Mix into the cheese chopped parsley, a dash of cayenne, a pinch of salt, and two drops of onion juice. Mold into balls, dip in egg and bread crumbs, and fry in boiling lard before serving.

Another fried cheese with lettuce is made of the English or ordinary American cheese cut in strips like French fried potatoes. Dip these in seasoned egg and bread crumbs and fry in deep fat when ready for use.

IT GRATES ALL THE NUTMEG

New York Man's invention Will Save Housewife From Grating Off Fingernails.

A nutmeg grater that grates all the nutmeg, down to the last scrap, has been designed by a New York man. It also saves the housewife from grating off her fingernails and the tips of her fingers. The grater proper is circular and is affixed to a wooden handle.

Pivoted to the center is a revolving handle resembling a miniature motor-man's controller, with a little cup in one end to hold the kernel and a spring cap to keep it in place and press it against the grater plate. The nutmeg is placed in this cap and the handle turned until the desired amount is ground off, the operation being much speedier than when kernel has to be rubbed across the grater by hand. Furthermore, the hand method results in waste, as after the nutmeg has been ground so small that it cannot be scraped without scraping the fingers as well, it has heretofore had to be thrown away.

Cream of Lettuce Soup.

Wash and remove the poor leaves from three heads of lettuce and place in the saucepan of a double boiler. Cook until the leaves are tender, then press them through a fine sieve and put back into the saucepan. Add one and a half pints of white stock and bring to a boil. Mix a tablespoonful of flour with a little milk and stir into the soup. When the soup is of a creamy consistency add a tablespoonful of butter and season with salt and pepper.

China Chilo.

Cold roast mutton should be diced and placed in a saucepan with a good pint of green peas, one head of lettuce torn into shreds, sufficient gravy to moisten and a good seasoning. Simmer for half an hour and serve with an accompaniment of boiled rice.

Convenience for the Ironing Board. A large pocket tacked on the back of your ironing board is useful to drop ironing wax, iron handle, stand, etc., into when you are through with them.—McCall's Magazine.

"DEAF" BEGGAR COULD HEAR

Incident That Struck Householder as Being Along Slightly Humorous Lines.

"Many funny things happen in a flat during the course of a few months," said a Milwaukee flat dweller, "but one of the best things I ever saw happened yesterday.

"I was suddenly roused from my slumber by three loud knocks on the door. Jumping to my feet and into a bathrobe, I hastened to see what was wanted. I opened the door in time to see a young fellow half way up the flight to the next floor.

"Hello, there!" I yelled at him. "He turned around, hastened back and handed out a small envelope, pointing to the inscription. I glanced at it. It was an appeal for aid because the applicant was deaf and dumb.

"Say, I was mad enough to kick him down stairs. Then the joke struck me and I slammed the door in his face and went back to bed laughing."

HARD ON CHOLLY.

Cholly Chumpleigh—Would you leave your happy home for me?

Miss Caustique—Yes, if I saw you coming and the back door wasn't locked.

Willing to Support Proxy.

Albert Tiedemann, a freshman of the University of Pennsylvania, was called upon to vote for officers in a recent gathering. Not being well acquainted with the nominees, he thoughtfully hesitated before filling out his ballot.

One of the company left the room with the explanation that he would "vote by proxy."

"So will I," said Albert, and with his pencil poised above his paper, leaned over to a companion on his right and asked:

"Say, what's Proxy's first name?"

Outdone.

Willis—I'm raising 500 chickens on a five-foot lot.

Gillis—That's nothing. You ought to see the relatives my wife is taking care of in our flat.—Puck.

Heartless Father.

"I need some help with my household duties," announced a woman when her husband came home the other night.

"What's the matter with our daughter?" the husband wanted to know.

"Our daughter? The idea! Why, Jim, you know she's awfully delicate, and she would die if she had to do any household work. She has her school, and—"

"And what? Her teacher's report shows that she isn't doing a bit of school work."

"But she is the star member of her basketball team, and you know she is eager to take the prize at the gymnasium contest. But that's just like a man—wanting a delicate girl to engage in rough, hard labor. Be ashamed of yourself, Jim Jenkins! You have no feeling."

"The Bard of Odon."

The Rev. George F. Culmer, "the bard of Odon," celebrated his eighty-sixth birthday yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Culmer was born May 22, 1825, in Kent, England, during the reign of George Frederick (George IV.), for whom he was named. At the time of his birth John Quincy Adams was president of the United States.

Dr. Culmer has been a minister for many years in the Methodist Episcopal church until his advanced age made it necessary for him to retire. He is a scholar and poet. Many of his poems have been published in magazines and newspapers.—Washington Correspondence Indianapolis News.

First Aid.

George Ade, at a luncheon in Chicago, paid a gallant compliment to a well-known actress.

The actress wore a harem skirt of the new flame color and Mr. Ade said to her:

"It is pretty. And what an odd color it is! Tell me the name of the color."

"Flamme de Vesuve—flame of Vesuvius," the actress answered.

"Be jabbers," said Mr. Ade, "ye make a vurry purty crater."

Dress.

If a man prefers the kind of clothes he can jump into and wears another only under compulsion;

While a woman prefers such clothes as she cannot put on without toil and trouble and the expenditure of time, and will unless under compulsion, wear nothing else;

Then what of permanent equality is it going to avail for the law to call the sexes back to the tape and start them all over again?—Puck.

Use of Ants in Nature.

Prof. J. C. Branner, in the Bulletin of the Geological Society of America, describes the immense importance of ants as geologic agents, especially in tropical regions. Ant burrows have been found at a depth of 3.5 meters, and they ramify over vast areas.

Some Day Ask Your Physician

To tell you the curious story of how the mind affects the digestion of food.

I refer to the condition the mind is in, just before, at the time, or just following the taking of food.

If he has been properly educated (the majority have) he will help you understand the curious machinery of digestion.

To start you thinking on this interesting subject, I will try to lay out the plan in a general way and you can then follow into more minute details.

Pawlow (pronounce Pavloff) a famous Russian Physician and Chemist, experimenting on some dogs, cut into the tube leading from the throat to the stomach.

They were first put under chloroform or some other anaesthetic and the operation was painless. They were kept for months in very good condition.

When quite hungry some unappetizing food was placed before them and, although hunger forced them to eat, it was shown by analysis of the contents of the stomach that little if any of the digestive juices were found.

Then, in contrast, some raw meat was put where they couldn't reach it at once, and a little time allowed for the minds of the dogs to "anticipate" and create an appetite. When the food was finally given them, they devoured it ravenously and with every evidence of satisfaction. The food was passed out into a dish through the opening before it reached the stomach. It was found to be mixed with "Ptyalin" the alkaline juice of the mouth, which is important for the first step in digestion. Then an analysis was made of the contents of the stomach, into which no food had entered. It was shown that the digestive fluids of stomach were flowing freely, exactly as if the desirable food had entered.

This proved that it was not the presence of food which caused the digestive juices to flow, but the flow was caused entirely and alone as a result of the action of the mind, from "anticipation."

One dog continued to eat the food he liked for over an hour believing he was getting it into his stomach, whereas, not an ounce went there; every particle went out through the opening and yet all this time the digestive juices flowed to the stomach, prepared to quickly digest food, in response to the curious orders of the mind.

Do you pick up the lesson?

Unappetizing food, that which fails to create mental anticipation, does not cause the necessary digestive juices to flow, whereas, food that is pleasing to the sight, and hence to the mind, will cause the complicated machinery of the body to prepare in a wonderful way for its digestion.

How natural, then, to reason that one should sit down to a meal in a peaceful, happy state of mind and start off the breakfast, say with some ripe delicious fruit, then follow with a bowl of crisp, lightly browned, thin bits of corn like Post Toasties, add a sprinkle of sugar and some good yellow cream and the attractive, appetizing picture cannot escape your eye and will produce the condition of mind which causes the digestive juices nature has hidden in mouth and stomach, to come forth and do their work.

These digestive juices can be driven back by a mind oppressed with worry, hate, anger or dislike of the disagreeable appearance of food placed before one.

Solid facts that are worthy the attention of anyone who esteems prime health and human happiness as a valuable asset in the game of life.

"There's a Reason" for saying "The Memory Lingers" when breakfast is started with POST TOASTIES.

HAD BEEN SILENT SUFFERER

Subordinate Officer the Recipient of Hints Intended for His Superior.

A sea captain's wife tells this story of a maiden woman, sister of one of the owners of the ship on which she once made a long voyage. She had very decided opinion on most matters, and she and the captain had many spirited arguments at the dinner table.

The captain's wife, a meek, submissive little soul, fearing that in the heat of argument her husband might say something to offend their august passenger, was in the habit of kicking him on the shins to hint at moderation. Nevertheless, all these reminders passed unheeded.

One day she administered a more vigorous kick than usual, and noticed an expression of pain flit across the face of the mate, who sat opposite her.

"Oh, Mr. Brown, was that your shin?" she asked.

"Yes, Mrs. Blackie," said the mate, meekly, "hit's been my shin hall the voyage, ma'am."—Youth's Companion.

Couldn't See the Resemblance.

They have been joking Assistant Treasurer James A. Mathews of the Guardian bank, on his resemblance to President Taft, and Mr. Mathews has steadily refused to be annoyed thereby. So the jokers subsided and the joke died a natural death.

Until the other night, when Mr. and Mrs. Mathews dined together with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon and their little daughter, when the Taft resemblance was revived. Turning to young Miss Harmon, Mr. Mathews asked whether she, too, thought he looked like the president.

Dorothy studied long and earnestly. Then she answered: "Not in the face, Uncle Jim."—Cleveland Leader.

Tea Time in Chile.

Either tea or yerba mate is served in Chile at 4:00 p. m., not only in the homes but at clubs, restaurants and hotels, and many business houses. A cup of tea and a roll or small cake in the club or hotel cost from eight to twelve cents United States gold, while the business houses serve it free rather than have the clerks leave their work or go out for it.

STATEHOOD OUTLOOK BRIGHT

MAY REPORT FAVORABLY ON HOUSE RESOLUTION.

Arizonians Are in a Hurry, Willing to Vote on Judges' Recall as Provided by House.

Washington.—The outlook for the early passage of the resolution approving the constitutions of New Mexico and Arizona brightened Saturday, when at the close of the meeting of the senate committee on Territories it was announced that there will be no more hearings and that the committee will probably report the house resolution Friday. The resolution will come before the senate amended in a minor matter, which, it is thought, will prove entirely acceptable to the house. The senate committee on Territories, of which Senator Smith of Michigan is chairman, is composed of seven republicans and five democrats. Two of the republicans, Brown and Bristow, are insurgents, while all five of the democrats, Owen, Chamberlain, Shively, Johnson of Maine and Hitchcock, are progressive democrats, thus easily insuring a favorable report on the proposal to let in both Arizona and New Mexico.

At the hearing J. P. Orme, president of the Salt River Water Users' association, speaking for 2,800 Arizona farmers, said that in Arizona no objection has been uttered against the provision of the house resolution which would resubmit to the people of Arizona the question of voting on the recall of judges. He urged the speedy adoption of the resolution. New Mexico was represented at the hearing by Charles A. Spiess of East Las Vegas, chairman of the constitutional convention; Judge A. B. Fall and former Governor Curry. They took the position that while they prefer the constitution as drafted by their convention, they wanted the adoption of the pending resolution, as the people desired Statehood at once. The committee failed to report out the bill because of the absence of Senators Lippitt and McLean, and final action was put off until Friday to enable the attendance of the members of the committee.

Fortifying Canal.

Washington.—Actual construction work on the fortifications of the Panama canal was started this week. Preliminary surveys for the sites of batteries and emplacements already have been made by the army engineer. Locations for all the giant guns that will command both entrances of the great waterway have been chosen. The work of fortifying the canal zone will be done by Colonel Goethals and the force of men at his disposal on the isthmus.

Shawnee Powerless.

Shawnee, Okla.—During a severe electric storm early Sunday lightning struck the plant of the Shawnee Gas and Electric company, which was totally destroyed, entailing a property loss estimated at $150,000. Street car service has been discontinued. The city is without lights and 100 men were thrown out of work.

Potatoes at $2 a Bushel.

San Antonio, Tex.—Irish potatoes are now quoted at the highest price this year, retailing at $2 a bushel. At this time last year potatoes were only bringing 75c and 80c a bushel. Other vegetables are also high. The poorer classes are finding it about as cheap to eat meat.

Grown Cotton Bolls.

Bryan, Tex.—Several parties from the country brought in Saturday cotton bolls that were just about grown. A careful inquiry from farmers from different parts of the county elicited the information that cotton was still standing the drought with but little injury.

Bull Pen Collapsed.

Waynesville, N. C.—Four convicts were killed, twelve seriously injured and fourteen convicts and three guards slightly injured Sunday in the collapse of a bull pen near Waterville, N. C., in the heart of the Smoky, the only remaining mountain pass to the east.

Proctor Knott's Illness Fatal.

Lebanon, Pa.—James Proctor Knott, former governor of Kentucky, and prominent for many years in congress, died at his home in Lebanon Sunday at the age of 82 years. He had been feeble and partially blind for several years.

Suffragette's Campaign Fund.

London.—Five years ago the suffragettes started to raise a campaign fund of $500,000. Mrs. Frederick Petalick Lawrence announces that the war chest now amounts to $615,000. Plans have now been arranged for obtaining a total of $1,250,000.

SUFFERED FOURTEEN YEARS.

A Terrible Case of Dropsy and How It Was Cured.

Mrs. W. R. Cody, 603 Tenth St., Lewiston, Idaho, says: "Fourteen years I suffered from kidney trouble. I was so lame and sore I could hardly move. Headaches were frequent and my whole body bloated. I had chills and hot flashes and my ankles were so swollen I could scarcely wear my shoes. The kidney secretions bothered me and my nerves were unstrung. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and soon the swelling diminished. The backache and other troubles quickly disappeared and I was completely cured."

FREED FROM SKIN DISEASE

"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. Other parts of his body were affected, but not to such an extent. We tried about every advertised remedy without avail, indeed some of them only added to his suffering and one in particular, the Remedy, almost put the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to bathe the baby in buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital. He was treated as an out-patient twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We then called in another doctor and inside of a week the boy was, to all appearances, cured and the doctor said his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever.

"We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh. We left Toronto and shortly after our arrival in Duluth, the Cuticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1909, and soon the cure was complete. You would not think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return this time. We still use only Cuticura Soap for baby's bath. Robert Mann, Proctor, Minn., May 3, 1910."

I heartily recommend those excellent preparations," writes Mrs. Amy Crain, Fredonia, Ky. At all drug stores.

The Kaiser Likes the Bible.

The Kaiser is a great reader, and while he tries to keep himself abreast of current events, his favorite book is the Bible, says the London Chronicle. A well thumbed and marked copy is always by his bedside. When Mr. Roosevelt visited Berlin last year, the Kaiser made him a present of a number of books. About half of them referred to theology and the others to military subjects. These two classes indicate the Kaiser's own preferences.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 31 stamps. Comments and Observations

By George Louis Payne

June 19. Do anti-prohibitionists oppose prohibition because they think it will not prohibit, or because they fear it will prohibit? Do they oppose prohibition because they fear it will not eliminate the liquor traffic, or because they do not want the liquor traffic eliminated? They do not oppose prohibition because they doubt its efficiency; if such doubt existed, they would oppose it the more if this doubt were removed. The truth is, they do not want prohibition to prohibit, nor will they favor any law that might injure the liquor traffic.

In their desperation to belittle statewide prohibition, antis are exhibiting figures showing the arrests resulting from the many violations of state prohibition and the raids made by officers on places where liquor was sold. How such argument is expected to influence votes against prohibition is beyond the wisdom of Solomon to understand. Are laws to be condemned because they protect the public from the misdeeds of criminals? Must society be imposed upon by iniquitous people, iniquitous institutions, because the elimination of these oppressions might embarrass the criminals? Must a law be enacted except that one which no one will violate? If, so, then to what purpose does a law serve? Moreover, the antis try to establish the failure of statewide prohibition upon the testimony of the testimony of the anti-prohibitionists of Maine, who is an anti-prohibitionist himself, and by the governor of Alabama, who also is an anti-prohibitionist. Could not the success of state prohibition be proven equally as well by the governor of Georgia, who is a pro, the mayor of Atlanta, who is a pro, the governor of Kansas and the governors of Oklahoma, Tennessee and other prohibition states, who are pros? Besides it might be noted that here in Texas the antis are wanting the constitution to remain intact while in Oklahoma and Maine they are declaring for a change in those constitutions.

Again are we to believe that prohibition is a failure in Kansas upon the testimony of the hirelings of the liquor trust instead of taking the word of the Topeka mass meeting of 4,000 representative citizens? The resolutions adopted by the meeting read, in part: "We, the citizens of Topeka and Kansas, in meeting assembled, do hereby proclaim: First that there is not a saloon in existence within the borders of Kansas. Second that the prohibition law is well enforced in Kansas as any other law on the statute books and far better enforced than high license laws in other states."

Most of the schools and universities are now out for vacation. We know the graduates have their diplomas all right, but what we should like to inquire is whether or not they have reached that transcendent height in education where they can correctly spell such commonplace words as "cat" and "dog" and distinguish between a comma and Halley's comet.

Perhaps it is a late hour to make such a statement, but it was a great oversight on the part of Personal Liberty Jake to overlook securing the attendance of our Knights of Rest at the saloon rally. Free booze, free sandwiches, and free railroad fare would have been entirely to their liking. However, to have inured their hearing the governor speak, it would have been necessary to close all the saloons in the city.

Our confidence in the destiny of the human race is greatly increased by a "canned fruit shower" given by the members of a Trousseau Club to a bride-elect. Such little evidence of good sense as this from time to time are refreshing oases in an otherwise untenable desert.

It is interesting to note how some newspapers take a neutral position in the prohibition campaign. In view of the fact that the prohibitionists are bankrupt and that the pages of these papers bristle with anti-prohibition advertising matter, the case becomes doubly interesting. All praise to the editor who will not accept the filthy lucre of the liquor crowd! Prohibitionists should support prohibition papers.

Summer is again with us. The long, lazy days, the glittering sun, the refreshing thunder showers, the tall waving fields of cotton and corn remind us of this fact. Time does indeed fly swiftly, for was it not only yesterday that the cold north winds were telling shivering humanity good-bye with vigorous puffs and the small grasses and flowers were tentatively peeping up here and there? Was it not only a day or two ago when the Christmas bells were ringing the yuletide joys? Was it not only a little while ago when we were welcoming the first autumn chillness as a relief from the sultriness of last summer? And now the fair queen of the season again enlivens us with her presence. Days, months, years and generations rush by as though carried by a mighty torrent, and the brief period of human life is only a time during which a soul decides for itself the choice of existence in the great aftermath.

June 19.—The much needed and long looked-for rain came last night which will be of great benefit. Rev. M. L. Williams preached us a fine sermon here yesterday which was appreciated by all. Quite a large congregation were out to hear him. Bro. Childs, Mr. P. L. Fulgum and family of Reynard were at church, also Mr. Wm Brown, wife and daughter of Hays Spring. Mrs. W. P. Kyle visited her daughter, Mrs. Bob Martin Saturday. Miss Annie Pridgen is on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Mathews of the Rock Hill community. Mr. and Mrs. Sumnar Rials visited the family of Mr. Kyle, Sunday. The W. O. W. members decorated the graves of their dead here last Sunday. We think this a fitting tribute to the dead and that everyone should do as much for their dead one day in the year anyway. Mrs. T. S. Kent visited her daughters here last Friday. She was accompanied by her daughter, Sallie, who will remain awhile visiting friends and relatives.

We are talking of a protracted meeting here in the summer. We hope all will take an interest and that much good may be accomplished. Such work as this needs encouragement and the help of the people, as such upbuilds a people greater than anything.

Election Held Illegal

District Judge B. H. Gardner held a special session of the District Court at Crockett last Friday to try the contest of the recent election on the question of a road superintendent. The contest was filed by Crockett parties on the ground that sixty eight illegal votes were polled at Grapeland and enough in the county to total 173. A representative crowd of Grapeland citizens were present at the hearing and employed counsel to represent them. A fight was made by Grapeland to have all the votes recounted, but this was fought by the opposite side and none of the votes were recounted. After hearing all the evidence Judge Gardner rendered a decision that the election was illegally held and recommended that another election be held. This was agreed to and the commissioners court went in session and ordered another election for Saturday, July 8th.

Guaranty State Bank

The above is the name of the new bank which was organized in Grapeland Wednesday of last week. The capital stock is $15,000. The following officers and directors were elected:

Dave Walling, President. M. P. Herod, 1st Vice-Pres. J. B. Thomas, 2nd Vice-Pres. Charlie Kennedy, Dave Walling, J. B. Thomas, Jim McLean, J. L. Jordan and C. O. Glenn, directors.

A cashier will be elected at the next meeting, which will be held some time soon.

The bank will be located in a prominent place on the west side of the railroad, and a brick building will be erected. The new bank proposes to be open for business by September 1st.

We Know All About These Kidney Pills

Safeguard your general health—do not neglect the minor ailments and allow them to get the better of you and become chronic. Especially is this so in the case of kidney trouble.

The Kidneys have an important duty to perform—see that they do it.

Watch for symptoms and be prompt in your treatment. It's much easier and less expensive to buy a box of Nyal's Kidney Pills with the first appearance of kidney distress and secure relief than to disregard the trouble until it become chronic.

NYAL'S KIDNEY PILLS stand first for the simple reason that they are composed of standard drugs especially known to be of value in kidney ailments—we know the formula and know they will do as represented.

Prompt and effective in their action, they cleanse the blood of all impurities and restore the kidneys to a normal condition. Do not hesitate the next time you want speedy relief—either call or phone and we will send it to you in the shape of Nyal's Kidney Pills.

Worth much more—but only 50c the box.

Any doctor will tell you that when we compound a prescription it's done right. Bring us your prescriptions.

When you feel "Blue," Half Sick, Out of Sorts, and everything seems to go wrong, you can blame it on the Liver, as that organ is usually at fault.

For a Torpid Liver You Need

HERBINE

The Remedy That Puts New Life in the Liver and Regulates the Bowels.

A liver that is torpid exercises a demoralizing influence all through the body. It hampers the kidneys in their work, clogs up the bowels, throws bilious impurities into the blood and interferes with digestion. A person in this condition is pale, sallow and discouraged, feels bad, looks bad and his general condition is bad. Food digests poorly, bowels mostly constipated, suffers from dizzy spells, occasional headaches and prefers to sit around and do nothing in place of his usual hustling energy and cheerfulness.

Herbine changes all this by starting the internal machinery into activity again. Its reviving effect on the Torpid Liver is prompt and thorough. The Stomach and Kidneys feel its stimulating influence. The Bowels are purged of costive conditions and regular daily operations re-established. As a result of this general scouring of the interior, functional activity is resumed everywhere and the purified blood goes coursing through veins, carrying new life and energy to every part.

New Prospect

(Delayed)

The farmers are all about up with their work until it rains, and a good many are talking of going fishing. Some went last week, but we have not learned what luck they had.

There was a good crowd at the cream supper at Barton Taylor's. Everybody had a good time.

We enjoyed some good singing last Sunday conducted by Prof. Haltom. In the afternoon most of the young people attended the unveiling at the Parker cemetery.

To Old Gray: You can shoot it to us as much as you like about being crippled under the hat. We will admit that we are dull on a great many subjects, but we have sense enough to know what is best for us and our boys and girls. We will vote a pro ticket if no more than for sixty yards square.

It will soon be time for our protracted meeting, and neighbors, what are we doing? Are we sitting on the stool of do-nothing? Are we preparing ourselves and helping some one else for the glorious meeting? Let's get to work and have one of the best meetings that has ever been held at New Prospect.

Mr. Hunter says he is going to buy him a crop and never go back to Oklahoma. We are glad to have him remain with us, and we always try to make everyone feel at home with us.

County Union Meets Here

The Houston County Farmers Union will hold their meeting in Grapeland Friday and Saturday, July 7 and 8. Hon. Geo. B. Terrell of Alto, member of the legislature and prominent in Union affairs of the state, will be present, and on Friday night will deliver an address which everyone is invited to hear. Grapeland should begin now to make arrangements to care for the delegates, as the time is not far off, and people will be here from all over the county.

J. R. Crim, insurance agent of Jacksonville, was here on business last week.

The Fourth At Salmon

The people of Salmon are making big preparations for the fourth of July, the occasion being the annual old settlers reunion. A basket dinner will be spread at the noon hour, and everyone attending who can possibly do so, will be expected to bring a basket.

One of the features of the day will be prohibition speaking by able speakers of Palestine, who will discuss the statewide issue in a mild way that will not offend anyone. A division of time will be made with speakers of the other side if requested.

A general invitation has been extended to the public to attend.

Many swollen tor-burden into the satisfaction and a master thinkers has floo
Legislature with advice, thir
and offers to go on the pay roll.

Those who hunger and thirst for power have been beating the political tom tom and sending shrieking vibration through the Legislative halls, but it is a good experience for our solons, as it will fit their nerves for the strife below. In the Legislature, it is just one thing after another. Our Legislators are a jolly lot of good fellows, and with the exception of the call "to arms" that occasionally echoes through the Legislative halls, they are as happy as a lot of young colts in a pasture, but if they tried to please every body, they would please nobody and lose their jobs in the bargain.

There are as many kinds of Democrats in the Legislature as there are breakfast foods on the market and one hardly dares to get outside the Capitol building without a picture of Thos. Jefferson in hand, lest he become lost in the jungles.

The political map makers have been working over time. Many members whose districts have never been dimmed by the smoke of a factory and who have constituents that have never heard the shrill whistle of a locomotive are trying to embarrass fame by writing their names on a redistricting bill that will give either one or the other of the numerous contending factions in Texas an advantage. Some men can't be great without being dangerous.

The introduction of an amendment to the Appropriation bill increasing the contingent expenses thirty thousand dollars was interpreted by the members to cover the expenses of a proposed investigation of the last election and precipitated a bitter fight in the Legislature and finally passed both Houses on a majority vote, but in case it should not meet with the approval of the Governor, the measure will doubtless be lost, as the necessary two-thirds vote to offset a veto was not shown on the ballot. We investigate everything in Texas except our undeveloped resources.

The Governor submitted a message to the Legislature showing a deficit of a million dollars inherited from the Campbell Administration. A tax levy of one cent on the one hundred dollars will net the State, on the present basis of assessment, approximately $200,000 and it will, therefore, require a tax levy of five cents on the one hundred dollars to take care of the deficit. The Waters-Pierce wind-fall will be absent this year and to absorb the deficit and care for the necessary expenses of government, will require an estimated tax levy of sixteen cents for purposes of general revenue. Our revenue system is in rather a chaotic state and the Legislature may conclude to investigate it.

The Governor has asked the Legislature to repeal the law

Augusta News

On Saturday night, June 17, one of the most interesting plays ever given in Augusta was presented by the ladies of the Woodmen Circle. "My Aunt Heiress," title of the play, was presented by nine characters, each of whom performed their parts with force and reality. This play was given for the benefit of the church, and am glad to say it was a success. We had several visitors on that occasion, who were Mrs. Fannie Wilson of Garden City, Mrs. John Kennedy of Grapeland, Mrs. R. L. Sims and little son of Ratcliff, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Holcomb of Alto, Miss Julia Matthews of Alto, Misses Helen and Rena Cannon of Crockett, Messrs. Sam Sims and Albert Thompson of Daniel.

There has been quite a lot of sickness, but is somewhat subsiding.

Since the recent rain people are wearing brighter faces.

A FRIEND.

Don't Wait Until The Fall

We are of the opinion that if you are expecting to attend our school you cannot give a reasonable excuse for postponing entering until fall. We can present sufficient proof to convince you that the earlier you start in to obtain a practical education, the better it will be for you. We have now almost as large attendance in the summer as the winter. We offer every inducement in the summer as in the winter. Our past record shows that students attending school in June, July and August make as good progress as those attending any other three months in the year. This is due to the fact that our schoolrooms are cool and pleasant, and that our teachers put forth the same energy in the summer months as in winter. He who enters now will finish in time for a good position during the busy fall season.

If you have what you think would be a reasonable excuse for not attending school before fall, let us have it, and we will give you our side of the question. If we can show you that you can start into 1912 with more money and a practical education beside than you could to continue as you are until fall and then attend school, will it not have done you a favor? Give us a chance at your case. We have solved the problem for thousands of others, as it has proven by our large summer attendance. We have no regular term openings; a student can enter our school one day as well as another. Our school is conducted so differently from the literary schools and colleges that a student who is just out of one of those schools, will find it a recreation to get into our practical work. It is almost like accepting a position in a store or a bank. There is plenty of life, hustle and get-up-and-get about each day's work.

Now don't think for a moment that you have a good excuse and it would be of no use to write us, that we couldn't remedy your case. It's your case we want; we want to see the case we can't remedy. It's been our life work solving just such problems as yours, and qualifying young men and women to earn three dollars where they could not have earned one.

Write us by return mail; tell us frankly what is hindering you from entering before fall. Tyler, Commercial College, Tyler, Texas.

"It cured me" or "it saved the life of my child" are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true the world over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for bowel or diarrhoea complaints has received such general approval. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it cures. Sold by all druggists.

TIMLEY WARNING TO CALOMEL USERS

Calomel is a Form of Mercury, and if It Stays in the Human System, Its Effect is Terrible. Ask Your Doctor

Any physician will tell you that mercury, if it remains in the body, will soften and rot the bones, a disease doctors call necrosis of the bones. Calomel is a form of mercury, and to keep clear of danger it's a safe plan to take no calomel at all, especially, as there is a better remedy.

Both children and grown people will find a perfect substitute for calomel in Dolson's Liver Tone a pleasant, vegetable tonic that induces the liver to act and which never has any bad after-effects. In fact Dolson's Liver Tone will do everything that calomel does without any of the dangers of calomel. A large bottle costs only 50c, and Porter's drug store will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

No man can work well with a torpid liver or constipated bowels. A few doses of Prickly Ash Bitters will quickly remove this condition and make work a pleasure. A. S. PORTER, Special Agent.

WASHINGTON.

Removal of wooden passenger coaches from railroads of the United States engaged in interstate traffic is proposed in a bill introduced by Representative Talcott of New York Monday.

The campaign publicity bill with the amendments recommended by the Kenyon subcommittee was acted upon favorably Saturday by the senate committee on privileges and elections. The bill has already passed the house. The amendments make the proposed law cover primaries as well as regular elections and apply it to senators as well as representatives.

The senate Friday passed the Bourne resolution authorizing an investigation of the postal system of the United States and to determine what changes are necessary in the present methods. The investigation is to be made by the senate committee on postoffices and post roads, with especial attention to the possible establishment of a parcels post.

The house democrats who favor free wool entered upon a carefully worked-out plan to "set the party right before the country as to its position on free raw materials," as these members explain their plan. For this purpose they propose to have the general debate on the wool bill close with a series of speeches in favor of free raw materials and especially in favor of free wool. These speeches will amount almost to a criticism of the pending bill, because it leaves a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem on wool, although throughout there is to be approval of the measure as a whole as being a great forward step and an immeasurable improvement over the Payne-Aldrich bill.

Representative Calloway Saturday appointed Thurman Randle of Granbury, a graduate of Carlisle institute of Arlington, Texas, as principal for the existing vacancy at West Point Military academy.

The determination of the senate finance committee to push through the Canadian reciprocity bill with all possible speed and the confidence of the senate leaders that there is a clear majority in favor of the bill without amendment, was made plain Friday when Chairman Penrose of the committee forced the bill into its second reading before the senate and announced its probable early passage.

The story of the birth of the beet sugar industry in America, its trials and temptations ever since, and how the Oxnard Bros. were enriched by more than half a million dollars profit through "the little transaction" of selling their cane sugar refinery in Brooklyn to the first sugar trust in 1887, were the features of the testimony that Henry T. Oxnard gave Saturday to the house sugar investigating committee.

Woman's suffrage joined in support of the parcels post in advocacy of the Sulzer bill Friday before the house committee on postoffices and post roads. Miss Emma M. Gillette of New York declared the cause of woman's suffrage needed the parcels post, and she praised the postoffice department as the only government department that is close to the people.

Representative Hughes of New Jersey delivered the only speech made in the house Friday on the bill to revise the woolen schedule, other matters occupying most of the session. Mr. Hughes spoke in favor of the bill.

North Texas heat wave was at least temporarily broken Wednesday by heavy showers in several counties, and thunder storms also aided in making conditions more pleasant. Amounts of the rain varies. Denton reported a quarter of an inch fall and that the watershed in which Dallas is interested because of its reservoirs had not been affected to any important degree. About the same amount of water fell at Mingo. The Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company reported rains at Denison, White-wright, Greenville, Hillsboro, Willis Point and Cedar Hill.

Edwin B. Parker of Houston, of general counsel for the Southern Pacific lines in Texas, Thursday presented an application for the registration of bonds aggregating $7,504,785 under the $10,000,000 mortgage to cover the mileage in the Galveston-Victoria division of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio. This includes the old Galveston, Houston and Northern, Gulf, Western Texas and Pacific, New York, Texas and Mexican, Gonzales branch and San Antonio and Gulf.

Before Judge Andrew P. McCormick of the United States circuit court at Dallas there was filed Thursday the report of William H. Flippen, master commissioner for the sale of the International and Great Northern railroad. Immediately after the filing, all parties agreeing, Judge McCormick made an order approving the sale in all details as reported by the master commissioner.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe has made arrangements for the erection of a six-stall roundhouse at Silsbee, Tex., to cost approximately $20,000.

Texas will get another postal bank, effective July 15. This bank will be opened in the thrifty town of New Braunfels on the same date Oklahoma will get three new postal banks, one at Alva, a second at Altus and a third at Norman. In Louisiana two new banks will open on July 15, one at Houma and another at Plaquemine.

Emerging from the sylvan shades of his East Texas home, Hon. Thomas Mitchell Campbell Tuesday made his first public appearance since leaving the office of governor, nearly five months ago, in speeches favoring Statewide prohibition at a picnic and barbecue at New Boston, the county seat of Bowie county, and at a rally in the Ardome at Texarkana.

The twenty-eighth annual commencement of the University of Texas, at Austin, came to a close Tuesday, when diplomas were presented to 227 graduates, each diploma being conferred by Governor Colquitt.

Engineer Richard Hinds of Galveston was instantly killed and Fireman G. H. Turner seriously injured Monday when Santa Fe passenger train No. 107 broke through a cocked switch at a siding a short distance outside of Houston. The train was running possibly forty-five miles an hour when the wreck occurred.

FOREIGN.

Five months of usual summer inactivity in Russia's home politics began with the adjournment of the duma by imperial decree of May 26. The session was cut short one month in order to avoid the threatened embarrassment of the government over the contentious zemstvo measure, providing self-government for the western provinces, and which was promulgated over the head of the legislature on March 27.

Beacon fires built on 2,500 of the most prominent points of the British Isles, in England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland, will on the evening of June 22 flash the tidings of the coronation of King George V to the remotest recesses of the country.

For the first time since his triumphant entry into the capital Francisco I. Madero has been handled without gloves in a public meeting. Rich hacendados and leading business and professional men of the state of Morelos gathered Saturday in an obscure section of Mexico City, and at a little known theater, to protest against the naming of General Zapata as the chief of the military forces of their state.

A dispatch to Paris from Tangier says Spain has concentrated 10,000 men, with an enormous quantity of war materials, at Cadiz for use in Morocco, should occasion arise. The forces now occupying El Araish are to be increased to 4,000 men.

A dispatch to the Temps of Paris from St. Sebastian says General Diaz declared at Vigo that when he left Mexico the treasury reserve totaled about $31,000,000, which he believed would now be squandered by the revolutionists. General Diaz insisted that the United States government was in no way responsible for his resignation.

In protesting against the occupation of El Harish by Spanish forces, Mulai Hafid, the sultan, declares he will appeal to the signatories of the Algeciras treaty against this violation of the compact.

SYNOPSIS.

Count di Rosini, the Italian ambassador, is at dinner with diplomats in the national capital when a messenger brings a note directing him to come to the embassy at once. Here a beautiful young woman asks that she be given a ticket to the embassy ball. The ticket is made out in the name of Miss Isabel Thorne. Chief Campbell of the secret service and Mr. Grimm, his head detective, are warned that a plot of the Latin races against the English speaking races is brewing in Washington, and Grimm goes to the state ball for information. In a conservatory his attention is called to Miss Isabel Thorne, who with her companion, soon disappears. A revolver shot is heard and Campbell and Grimm hasten down the hall to find that Senor Alvarez of the Mexican legation, has been shot. A woman did it, and Grimm is assured it was Miss Thorne.

CHAPTER VI.

Revelations.

Some vague, indefinable shadow darkened Miss Thorne's clear, blue-gray eyes, in sharp contrast to the glow of radiant health in her cheeks, as she stepped from the automobile in front of the Venezuelan legation, and ran lightly up the steps. A liveried servant opened the door.

"A gentleman is waiting for you, madam," he announced. "His card is here on the—"

"I was expecting him," she interrupted. "Which room, please?"

"The blue room, madam."

Miss Thorne passed along the hallway which led to a suit of small drawing-rooms opening on a garden in the rear, pushed aside the portieres, and entered.

"I'm sorry I've kept you—" she began, and then, in a tone of surprise: "I beg your pardon."

A gentleman rose and bowed gravely.

"I am Mr. Grimm of the secret service," he informed her with frank courtesy. "I am afraid you were expecting some one else! I handed my card to the footman."

For an instant the blue-gray eyes opened wide in astonishment, and then some quick, subtle change swept over Miss Thorne's face. She smiled graciously and motioned him to a seat.

"This is quite a different meeting from the one Senorita Rodriguez had planned, isn't it?" she asked.

There was a taunting curve on her scarlet lips; the shadow passed from her eyes; her slim, white hands lay idly in her lap. Mr. Grimm regarded her reflectively. There was a determination of steel back of this charming exterior; there was an indomitable will, a keen brain, and all of a woman's intuition to reckon with. She was silent, with a questioning upward slant of her arched brows.

"I am not mistaken in assuming that you are a secret agent of the Italian government, am I?" he queried finally.

"No," she responded readily.

"In that event I may speak with perfect frankness?" he went on. "It would be as useless as it would be absurd to approach the matter in any other manner?" It was a question.

Miss Thorne was still smiling, but again the vague, indefinable shadow, momentarily lifted, darkened her eyes.

"You may be frank, of course," she said pleasantly. "Please go on."

"Senor Alvarez was shot at the German embassy ball last night," Mr. Grimm told her.

Miss Thorne nodded, as if in wonder.

"Did you, or did you not, shoot him?"

It was quite casual. She received the question without change of countenance, but involuntarily she caught her breath. It might have been a sigh of relief.

"Why do you come to me with such a query?" she asked in turn.

"I beg your pardon," interposed Mr. Grimm, steadily. "Did you, or did you not, shoot him?"

"No, of course I didn't shoot him," was the reply. If there was any emotion in the tone it was merely impatience. "Why do you come to me?" she repeated.

"Why do I come to you?" Mr. Grimm echoed the question, while his listless eyes rested on her face. "I will be absolutely frank, as I feel sure you would be under the same circumstances." He paused a moment; she nodded. "Well, immediately after the shooting you ran along the hallway with a revolver in your hand; you ran down the steps into the kitchen, and out through the back door, where you entered an automobile. That is not conjecture; it is susceptible of proof by eye witnesses."

Miss Thorne rose suddenly with a queer, helpless little gesture of her arms, and walked to the window. She stood there for a long time with her hands clasped behind her back.

"That brings us to another question," Mr. Grimm continued mercilessly. "If you did not shoot Senor Alvarez, do you know who did?"

There was another long pause.

"I want to believe you, Miss Thorne," he supplemented.

She turned quickly with something of defiance in her attitude.

"Yes, I know," she said slowly. "It were useless to deny it."

"Who was it?"

"I won't tell you."

Mr. Grimm leaned forward in his chair, and spoke earnestly.

"Understand, please, that by that answer you assume equal guilt with the person who actually did the shooting," he explained. "If you adhere to it you compel me to regard you as an accomplice." His questioning took a different line. "Will you explain how the revolver came into your possession?"

"Oh, I—I picked it up in the hallway there," she replied vaguely.

"I want to believe you, Miss Thorne," Mr. Grimm said again.

"You may. I picked it up in the hallway," she repeated. "I saw it lying there and picked it up."

"Why that, instead of giving an alarm?"

"No alarm was necessary. The shot itself was an alarm."

"Then why," Mr. Grimm persisted coldly, "did you run along the hall-rely. "You, Mr. Grimm of the Secret Service of the United States; I, Isabel Thorne, a secret agent of Italy together here, one accusing the other of a crime, and perhaps with good reason."

"Where is the revolver?" Mr. Grimm insisted.

"If you were any one else but you! I could not afford to be frank with you and—"

"If you had been any one else but you I should have placed you under arrest when I entered the room."

She smiled, and inclined her head.

"I understand," she said pleasantly.

"For the reason that you are Mr. Grimm of the Secret Service I shall tell you the truth. I did take the revolver because I knew who had fired the shot. Believe me when I tell you that that person did not act with my knowledge or consent. You do believe that? You do?" She was pleading, eager to convince him.

After a while Mr. Grimm nodded.

"The revolver is beyond your reach and shall remain so," she resumed. "According to your laws I suppose I am an accomplice. That is my misfortune. It will in no way alter my determination to keep silent. If I am arrested I can't help it." She studied his face with hopeful eyes. "Am I to be arrested?"

"Where is the paper that was taken from Senor Alvarez immediately after he was shot?" Mr. Grimm queried.

"I don't know," she replied frankly.

"As I understand it, then, the motive for the shooting was to obtain possession of that paper? For your government?"

"The individual who shot Senor Alvarez did obtain the paper, yes. And now, please, am I to be arrested?"

"And just what was the purpose, may I inquire, of the message you telegraphed with your fan in the ball-room?"

"You read that?" exclaimed Miss Thorne in mock astonishment. "You read that?"

"And the man who read that message? Perhaps he shot the senor?"

"Perhaps," she taunted.

revolver, yes," Mr. Grimm interrupted quietly. "Is this the one?"

He raised his hand quite casually, and his fingers closed like steel around the weapon. Behind his back Miss Thorne made some quick emphatic gesture, and the new-comer released the revolver.

"I shall ask you, please, to free Miss Thorne," he requested courteously. "I shot Senor Alvarez. I, too, am a secret agent of the Italian government, willing and able to defend myself. Miss Thorne has told you the truth; she had nothing whatever to do with it. She took the weapon and escaped because it was mine. Here is the paper that was taken from Senor Alvarez," and he offered a sealed envelope. "I have read it; it is not what I expected. You may return it to Senor Alvarez with my compliments."

After a moment Mr. Grimm's hand fell away from Miss Thorne's arm, and he regarded the new-comer with an interest in which admiration, even, played a part.

"Your name?" he asked finally.

"Pietro Petrosini," was the ready reply. "As I say, I accept all responsibility."

A few minutes later Mr. Grimm and his prisoner passed out of the legation side by side, and strolled down the street together, in amicable conversation. Half an hour later Senor Alvarez identified Pietro Petrosini as the man who shot him; and the maid servant expressed a belief that he was the man who slammed the door in her face.

THIS WAITER WAS SATISFIED

Old Negro Receives One Dollar for Every Cent He Collected From Wealthy Man.

"The shrewd waiter will accept a tip, no matter how small it is, and pretend that he is satisfied," said a hotel manager yesterday. "When I hear of persons giving extraordinarily small tips it reminds me of an old negro waiter we used to have at Palm Beach a few years ago. His name was Winfield Scott.

"A wealthy but eccentric New Yorker arrived at the hotel early in the season, and Scott took charge of his table. He took his three meals at the same hours each day. At the end of the first he solemnly handed the waiter one cent. Scott was wise, so he bowed and showed his teeth and said: 'Thank yuh, suh.' The next meal the same thing happened, and so on to the end of three months, when the visitor was about to leave. Scott waited on him with the greatest punctiliousness at every meal and never hinted that the tip he got was not perfectly satisfactory.

"After he had finished his last meal the visitor said to the waiter: 'Scott, how long have I been here?'

"Jes' 90 days, suh," was the answer.

"I have given you something after every meal, haven't I?"

"Yes, suh."

"How much does it amount to?"

"Scott told him. 'Have you got all those pennies,' the visitor asked.

"Scott said he had, and the visitor told him to bring them. Scott returned with a bag 'of pennies and handed them over.

"I'll take them," said the man. 'Now this is yours,' and he handed over to the waiter $90."

Doing Your Own Papering.

In preparing the paper for hanging, first trim off all white edges which might show afterward. Then spread the paste on the paper, very evenly, to obviate the danger of irregular drying and later spotty effects. Regulate the temperature of the room so that the paper will dry within one hour after hanging.

The following method of estimating the number of rolls of paper may be of help. This estimate holds good for rooms of from seven to nine feet in height. Measure the number of yards around the room, and multiply this by two. The resultant figure represents the number of full-length strips. For each ordinary sized window and door allow two strips each. Subtract this from the first figure, and divide by five. This will give you the number of double rolls required. This estimate makes allowance enough so that the trimmings fill in odd places.—Country Life in America.

Attribute of Success.

An American must not die; he must direct his energies toward success; success means making one's way in life; nine times out of ten, for ninety-nine men out of a hundred, that means the business world. To seize the business opportunity; to develop that opportunity through the business virtues of attention to detail, industry, economy, persistence and enthusiasm—these represent the plain and manifest duty of every citizen who intends to "be somebody."—Stewart Edward White.

Life's Ideal Pleasures.

Talesman (a politician)—What's his politics?

The Worth of the Voice.

How wonderful is the human voice! It is indeed the organ of the soul! The intellect of man sits enthroned visibly upon his forehead and in his eye, and the heart of man is written upon his countenance. But the soul reveals itself in the voice only; as God revealed himself to the prophet of old in the still, small voice, and in the voice from the burning bush. The soul of man is audible, not visible. A sound alone betrays the flowing of the eternal fountain, invisible to man.—Longfellow: Hyperion.

He Got the Pass.

"I want a pass."

"Pass? You're not entitled to a pass. You are not an employe. Sorry."

"No; but here the antipass law says free transportation can be granted to necessary caretakers of live stock, poultry and fruit." Well, I'm going on this trip with an aunt that's a hen—there's your poultry; a girl that's a peach—there's your fruit; and a nephew that's a mule—there's your live stock. Gimme a pass.—The Way-Bill.

WANTED TO SLEEP

Curious That a Tired Preacher Should Have Such Desire.

A minister speaks of the curious effect of Grape-Nuts food on him and how it has relieved him.

"You will doubtless understand how the suffering from indigestion with which I used to be troubled made my work an almost unendurable burden; and why it was that after my Sabbath duties had been performed, sleep was a stranger to my pillow till nearly daylight.

"I had to be very careful as to what I ate, and even with all my care I experienced poignant physical distress after meals, and my food never satisfied me.

"Since I began the use of Grape-Nuts the benefits I have derived from it are very definite, I no longer suffer from indigestion, and I began to improve from the time Grape-Nuts appeared on our table.

"I find that by eating a dish of this food after my Sabbath work is done, (and I always do so now) my nerves are quieted and rest and refreshing sleep are ensured me.

"I feel that I could not possibly do without Grape-Nuts food, now that I know its value. It is invariably on our table—we feel that we need it to make the meal complete and our children will eat Grape-Nuts when they cannot be persuaded to touch anything else." Mr. Grimm Found Himself Inspecting The Weapon From the Barrel End.

way and escape by way of the kitchen? If you did not do the shooting, why the necessity of escape, carrying the revolver?"

There was that in the blue-gray eyes which brought Mr. Grimm to his feet. His hands gripped each other cruelly; his tone was calm as always. "Why did you take the revolver?" he asked.

Miss Thorne's head dropped forward a little, and she was silent.

"There are only two possibilities, of course," he went on. "First, that you, in spite of your denial, did the shooting."

"I did not!" The words fairly burst from her tightly closed lips.

"Or that you knew the revolver, and took it to save the person, man or woman, who fired the shot. I will assume, for the moment, that this is correct. Where is the revolver?"

From the adjoining room there came a slight noise, a faint breath of sound; or it might have been only an echo of silence. Their eyes were fixed each upon the others unwaveringly, with not a flicker to indicate that either had heard. After a moment Miss Thorne returned to her chair and sat down.

"It's rather a singular situation, isn't it, Mr. Grimm?" she inquired in-

For a long time Mr. Grimm stood staring at her, staring, staring. She, too, rose, and faced him quietly.

"Am I to be arrested?" she asked again.

"Why do you make me do it?" he demanded.

"That is my affair."

Mr. Grimm laid a hand upon her arm, a hand that had never known nervousness. A moment longer he stared, and then:

"Madam, you are my prisoner for the attempted murder of Senor Alvarez!"

The rings on the portieres behind him clicked sharply, and the draperies parted. Mr. Grimm stood motionless, with his hand on Miss Thorne's arm.

"You were inquiring a moment ago for a revolver," came in a man's voice. "Here it is!"

Mr. Grimm found himself inspecting the weapon from the barrel end. After a moment his glance shifted to the blazing eyes of the man who held it—a young man, rather slight, with clean-cut, aristocratic features, and of the pronounced Italian type.

"My God!" The words came from Miss Thorne's lips almost in a scream.

"Don't—!"

Extra Conscience in

Wunderhose
CHATTANOOGA KNITTING MILLS

Guaranteed Four Months

YOU buy "guaranteed" hosiery to insure a definite amount of wear. But why not get more? In Wunderhose you get the utmost maximum of wear and you get extra style and texture and "finish" besides.

Wunderhose is the best of all "guaranteed" hosiery. It is superior to ordinary brands in style, fit, fineness of texture and strength of thread. It is dyed with a special Wunderdye, which preserves the brilliancy and resiliency of the fabric and makes it soft and comfortable on the feet. It doesn't get hard or stiff after being washed.

You might pay 50 cents or a dollar for hosiery that would not wear so well as Wunderhose or be so comfortable on the feet. The makers give a signed guarantee of 4 months satisfactory wear with every box of four pairs for a dollar. The experience of users is that Wunderhose outwears its guarantee, but it does not wear out the foot.

Wunderhose gives more days wear and more comfort and satisfaction than any hosiery ever sold for the price. The makers seem to have put more conscience into this hosiery than any we know for the price.

Try a box of Wunderhose on our recommendation. You will get the utmost measure of value in Wunderhose. Beautiful colors. All sizes for men, women, misses and boys.

Outside the Pale.

As the car swung sharply around from Shaker street not a man arose to offer his seat to the handsomely gowned woman who was clinging desperately to one of the straps, says the Chicago News. Whereupon Mrs. Kyckers, who was sitting next to her husband, exclaimed indignantly: "I think it is just shameful for all you men to stay seated and make that poor woman stand!" Mr. Kyckers was not impressed. "Do you know who that woman is?" he asked. "No," his wife retorted, "I don't know who she is; and it doesn't make any difference who she is; she's a woman, and ought to be treated with decency." Mr. Kyckers spoke patiently, "My dear," he said, "she is the wife of the trolley company's president."

FORECAST WIDELY SPREAD.

In Mexico the daily forecasts of the central meteorological bureau are sent at an early hour to every postoffice, and these are inserted in the postmarks of inland letters, in addition to the date and place of issue. These forecasts are made 24 hours in advance, so anyone receiving a letter the morning after it is posted knows what weather the meteorologist expects him to get during the day.

THE ENEMY OF CHILDHOOD.

The greatest enemy of childhood is the tape worm and similar parasites. They are the direct cause of the loss of thousands of children who were so weakened by the pernicious action of these pests that they became easy victims of disease. The best protection against worms is to give the children an occasional dose of WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. It not only removes worms, but acts as a general tonic in the stomach and bowels.
