MODERN FABLES Fablecoft the Confidence Manand The Reformers

By RaMel

Once upon attime in a certain over-grown village that had in corporated itself as a city there dweltt a man who extracted a livelihand from the innocent and unsuspected by means of a series of darksecomplectioned transactions. He sold beautifully engraved stock certificates to fich widows, sparkling white saphires to the wisiting peasantry, and made books on faraway races and prize fights. In the winter months, when the business was slack;. He promoted wrestling matches and scalped theatre 5 39 tickets

And did the stalwart arm of the law descend heavily upon his 67 24 shouldbers and halt his serpentine transactions? It did not. For didn't hie robe himself in fine rainment, and was he not known down the entire line as a prince of good ffellows? He certainly did. Heccertainly was.

But time came when the enamel on his clandestine operations Began to wear off and they were becoming transparent. Widows began ttoplace their affairs in the hands of lawyers. Wisitors from the tall uncut grew weary and insistediupon a jeweler's examination before exchanging any more bullion for white rock. Police officers began to inforce ordinamees against book makers and ticket scalpers, and the sports off the over-grown village insisted upon square wrestling and horse racing. Immediately following these foolish reforms our establile prince of good fellows nottiged his trousers taking on a sheen of reflection and his patentileathers often went hungry for a shine.

Now itt happens that when a confidence man is severed from a prosperrous appearance he also is. severed from many other things. And so it was, that one cold morning he came down town with a hole in one pocket and a cancelled meal ticket in the other. He had recourse to but one remaining possibility. Gently folding his overcoat under his arm he transported it to the shop of a Jewish acquaintance and exchangedlitt for a ticket to a community unihampered by suffragettes and reformers.

MORAL-All pastures, however graen, must sometime die.

NEWS FROM GLOV-ER COMMUNITY

(Delayed)

June 7th 1915. Health in this community is good, while we lost our mail carrier, Mr. Beeson. We all join the family with our sympathy. We all hate to loose our friends and loved ones but God knows best.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Cook were the guests of Mr. Alonzo Thompson last Sunday.

Mr. W. T. Payne and family were the guests of Mr. S. M. King Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Cook is back at home from a visit at Kennard where she went to see her sister, Mrs. A. P. Dewitt, who has been sick for sometime, and we are sorry to say she is no better.

Mr. R. R. Thames and family were the guest of Mr. Warlick Sunday evening.

Crops are looking very good considering the late spring we had. Fighting General Green is the order of the day, but it is a pretty hard struggle between us.

We are going to build us a new school house. We are striving to have a better school this term than we have ever had. Miss Myrtle Newman is our teacher; hope she will teach us a good school, which I think she will.

TRAINED FOR WAR

In his tour of the Southwest, Dr. David Starr Jordan, president Leland Standford Junior university, has left a strong message for peace, giving encouragement to those who sincerely desire our country to maintain its neutrality. Dr. Jordan lectured to large audiences in Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco and other Texas cities and his counsel will be worth much to those who had the privilege of hearing him.

Speaking of the dangers that surround every nation that spends much money on militarism to maintain large armies and great navies, Dr. Jordan said:

"The costliest failure of history is the failure of armies and navies to preserve peace. Armament to prevent war has tailed. When we train soldiers and sailors to fight we must expect them to desire war."

This explains why nations with large armies and navies are so easily provoked to war. The speaker declared there were 150,000 young officers in Europe anxious for war. These young officers were tired of target practice-they wanted to kill. It is easy to see how such influence could cause war.

Every nation that encourages militarism may expect trouble. "They that take the sword shall perish by the sword." It is folly to expect peace when the nation is spending its resources and training a large per cent of its citizens for war.

There is a further menace from large manufacturers of war munitions. They want war because they profit on account of it. Dr. Jordan said he hoped to see the time when the governments that prepare for war manufacture their own munitions. This would place the responsibility in the hands of the government and the government could be held accountable. - Karm & Ranch,

"What is international law?" inquires a subscriber. There is no such thing.

Grapeland is entertaining the Summer Normal of Houston County this week. The business men of Grapeland work together, and there is no doubt but that the normal will be a success, especially as far as the town can make it.-Ratcliff Herald.

Wilson's warning to Mexico is beginning to show tangible re sults and the factional leaders show a disposition to get together. Let us hope that our sister republic will speedily settle her differences without intervention by the United States.

Henry Edwards, senior editor of the Troup Banner, was elected Vice-President of the Texas Press Association in session at Corpus Christi last week. He is our neighbor and warm personal friend and we are glad that he has been thus honored. It means that he will be elected president next year, and that is an honor any newspaper man in Texas would be proud of. Henry Edwards is a man of stalwart character, genial good fellow and a Christian gentleman. He will honor the association as its president.

Elsewhere in this issue is published an article from the Houston Chronicle concerning the proposed paved highway from Palestine to Houston. Read the article and give the proposition serious consideration. Can you conceive of the benefits Grapeland would derive by being on this highway? It would mean much to us, giving an outlet both north and south to wagon and automobile traffic like paved streets in a city. We offer the suggestion that a meeting be held soon to take up the matter and send a delegation to Trinity on the fourth of July, when the matter will be discussed and some concerted action taken.

One of the amendments to be voted on next month should be given careful study, especially by the farmers. It has become the custom of late years to vote against every amendment offered and some very meritorious measures have been defeated. The amendment to separate the A. & M. College and the University of Texas ought to be adopted. It will permanently fix their locations at Austin and College Station and will provide for their permanent maintenance without appropriations from the legislature every two years. It is a business proposition pure and siege of exceptionally good health simple, and one that will pay handsome dividends to the people of Texas. Vote for this amendment and let our institutions of learning-the pride of the people of Texas-grow as they should.

for the assistance needed. This appropriation places the benefits of the college almost right at the farmers' door. The extension department is prepared to dissiminate scientific; information that is vital to agricultural industry. Questions pertaining to plant diseases, fertility, soil conservation, seed selection, rotation, and all questions affecting live stock, poultry, etc., are treated in plain and simple terms so the individual farmer may profit. If you have a problem that is hard for you, or if you want information on any special subject, write the college about it. They are anxious to serve you.

RIPPLES ON TRINITY RIVER

Reynard, June 14.-The temperature the past week has been running too high for young cot ton and old corn, and corn is at the right stage to need the middles filled with water. We have some nice pea and goober crops, but we fear not enough to make up for the shortage in corn, should it not rain before July. There is no one in the grass and farmers have their work pretty well in hand.

John Monk, T. S. Kent, C. R. Taylor and wife were visitors to our community last week; also Mr. McConico.

We are hardly reany yet to receive company, but it is right close to the time to visit our kin folks and have them visit us, have meetings and such like, have picnics, ice cream and good old soda pop; my, what good old their respective offices for the times we can have!

We are to have our annual picnic on the 19th. We do not wish to deprive our colored friends of their day, but there is plenty of room for all, and we have several reasons for having it on that date. We would be glad to have all of our former neighbors with us and any others who can come, especially you, Mr. Editor and lady. Everybody down this way are friends of the Messenger and its editor, and they prove it, for every household without an exception takes the Messenger, therefore Mr. Editor, you ought to make an effort to mix with us in our community sometimes, if possible.

THE GRAPELAND MESSENGER of the state if they will only ask REUNION OF OLD CONFEDERATES

Crockett Camp No. 141 of Houston County met in annual reunion at the court house on Thursday, June 3, commemorating the birth of the South's beloved president, Jefferson Davis, and at 10 o'clock Commander E. Winfree called the meeting to order for the regular dispatch of business. Adjutant A. M. Rencher called the roll of members of the Camp, and there appearing so many absentees who had crossed over the river since the last reunion that the hearts of those left behind were made sad at the number who had preceeded them in the "Great March", but they are only waiting under the shade of the trees resting, and beckoning for all those left behind to come and enjoy the glory of their reward.

The visitors were welcomed in a few chosen words by Mark King Winfree, who eulogized the Southern leaders and Southern soldiers. Comrade A. M. Rencher gave a response to this with appropriate words. Col. N. B. Barbee paid a high tribute to the memory of the life of Mrs. John H. Wootters, who had departed this life since our last reunion, manifesting much emotion. Dr. S. T. Beasley offered a resolution, which was approved by the Camp, endorsing President Wilson in every way, and these resolutions were sent by telegram to the general reunion in session then at Richmond, Va., following with a resolution that the same officers of the Camp be re-elected to serve in ensuing year, and it was so adopted.

After the morning session was over, the D. A. Nunn Chapter of the Daughters took charge of the old soldiers as their guests, and dinner was served for them at Scarborough's restaurant; then at 2 o'clock they marched in twos, as in days of old, to the Royal Theatre (but minus the fife and drum) yet the Daughters had already prepared music there for them with an interesting program of songs and recitations, and while Attorney Jim Lipscomb addressed the large crowd on "The Heritage of the Southern Confederacy," being ably rendered and proudly enjoyed by the entire audience.

Miss Stella Sheridan appeared on the stage with a recitation. and little Miss Kate King recited also. Roy Baker and Miss Clarite Elliott sang a sweet duet together, then all the little girls in Crockett sang "Dixie" to music by Barker Tunstall's string band, piano music by Mrs. Meriwether.

Alum is a mineral acid salt, declared by many medical authorities unsafe to use in food.

Royal Baking Powder is as pure and wholesome as the grapes in the vineyard, from which cream of tartar is derived.

The only reason for using such substitutes as alum and lime phosphates is because their cost is less to the manufacturer.

Prepare to grasp opportunity by the horns, you can't hold it by

Opportunity is knocking at your door. You probably do not fully realize what this means; how much it means to you. What preparation have you made for the reception of your opportunity when it comes? Are you prepared? It will not take you long to make the preparation if you adopt the following motto "Dig," "Determine," "Deliver." To dig means to strive earnestly, conscientiously, diligently day after day, securing a practical training for which the business world pays cash, and then when you have secured this training, keep on digging-Dig, Determine, without determination you cannot make a success of your future. It takes determination to do anything, and with it you can revolutionize the world, you to buy, sell, or trade any where can accomplish everything. Deliver-that is the natural result after putting into operation the other two mottos-Dig and Determine. Can you not embody these three words in your life to an advantage? ## BANKERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH

SOUL MATERIAL HAS ENTERED THE BANK VAULTS OF THE NATION.

The Bank a Financial Power House to the Community.

By Peter Radford.

One of the greatest opportunities in the business life of the nation lies in practical co-operation of the country banks with the farmer in building agriculture and the adventure is laden with greater possibilities than any forward movement now before the American public,

A few bankers have loaned money to farmers at a low rate of interest, and ofttimes without compensation, to buy blooded livestock, build silos, fertilize the land, secure better seed, hold their products for a betetr market price, etc. The banker in contributing toward improving the grade of livestock; the quality of the seed and the fertility of the soil, plants in the agricultural life of the community a fountain of profit, that, like Tennyson's brook, runs on and on forever. Community Progress a Bank Asset. The time was when money loaned on such a basis would severely test the sanity of the banker; such transactions would pain the directors like a blow in the face. A cashier who would dare to cast bread upon waters that did not return buttered side up in time for annual dividends would have to give way to a more capable man. This does not necessarily mean that the bankers are getting any better or that the milk of human kindnesss is being imbibed more freely by our financiers. It indicates that the bankers are getting wiser, becoming more able financiers and the banking industry more competent. The vision of the builder is crowding out the spirit of the pawnbroker. A light has been turned on a new world of investment and no usurer ever received as large returns on the investment as these progressive bankers, who made loans to uplift industry. The bankers have always been liberal city builders, but they are now building agriculture.

A Dollar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does nct directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the eagle's wings as it soars upward; when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractural rights; when a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually talks solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming. God Almighty's Noblemen.

These bankers are God Almighty's noblemen. Heaven lent earth the spirit of these men and the angels will help them roll in place the cornerstones of empires. They are not philanthropists; they are wise bankers. The spirit of the builder has given them a new vision, and wisdom has visited upon them business foresight.

The cackle of the hen, the low of kine and the rustle of growing crops echo in every bank vault in the nation and the shrewd banker knows that he can more effectively increase his deposits by putting blue blood in the veins of livestock; quality in the yield of the soil and value into agricultural products, than by business handshakes, overdrafts and gaudy calendars.

Taking the community into partnership with the bank, opening up a ledger account with progress, making thrift and enterprise stockholders and the prosperity of the country an asset to the bank, put behind it stability far more desirable than a letterhead bearing the names of all the distinguished citizens of the comessed is the locality that has an make a welf-balanced fertilizer. up-to-date banker.

LIVE LONGER THAN FORMERLY

Figures Show That Duration of Hu man Life is on the increase-Partial Explanation.

The mean expectation of life, as shown at birth in the case of males. as shown by the last English life table (1891-1900), is 44.13 years, as contrasted with 39.31 years' value given to the life table based on the experience of 1838 and 1854.

But we have no proof that this increase is due to any circumstances affecting the conditions of life of adults, because the mean after-lifetime of persons over forty-five in both sexes, and over thirty-five in the case of males, has either remained sensibly constant or even diminished. For instance, in the case of males the expectation of life at the age of thirty-five, as shown in the last life table, is 29.24 years; the 1838-1854 table gives 29.40. At the age of forty-five the corresponding figures are 22.20 and 22.76; at the age of fifty-five, 15.79 and 16.45, and at the age of sixty-five, 10.84 and 10.82.

A partial explanation is afforded by the probability that many weaklings who were formerly destroyed by symotic diseases or tuberculosis in early life now survive to adult age, and that the life table values reflect the consequence of this slackening of selection.

The success of the nation is in the hands of the farmer.

Work for the best and the best will rise up and reward you.

Tenant farming is just one thing after another without a pay day.

SAVE POULTRY BY-PRODUCTS

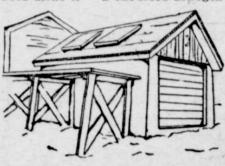

High Nitrogen Content of Droppings Make Them One of Most Valuable of Farm Manures.

(By R. PEARL.)

One of the most valuable by-products of any live stock industry is the manure. Its proper care and use is one of the distinguishing features of a successful stock farm. The high ni- reared. trogen content of poultry droppings make them in certain respects the most valuable of farm manures.

Poultry manure contains more nitrogen than any other farm manure, because in birds the excretion of the kidneys is voided in solid form (uric acid) with the undigested portions of the food. This form of nitrogen is easily available to plants. Unfortunately, however, it is not stable. Putractive processes easily change it to ammonia compounds, and unless special care is taken of the droppings one-third to one-half of the nitrogen passes off as ammonia gas.

The mechanical condition of poultry manure is poor. It is apt to be sticky when fresh and lumpy when dry. Used alone it a one-sided nitrogenous fertilizer. As usually managed, one-half or more of its nitrogen is lost, so that as ordinarily used it does not carry so great an excess of nitrogen. Because of its excess of nitrogen it will be much more economically used in connection with manures carrying phosphoric acid and potash. As both acid phosphate and kainit prevent the loss of nitrogen, it is possible munity. The bank is the financial to use them in connection with sawpower house of the community and dust, good dry loam or peat so as to which to reach the doors with the

The droppings should be well sheltered until time to apply them to the land, that is, shortly before plawing Any form of shelter may be used. For a temporary plant, or for a small farm, a small wooden building or a bin in a larger building will suffice; but for a large, permanent poultry plant a cement manure shed or tank is advisable. The Maine station poultry manure shed is so exacillent a building that it will be described here. The shed is large enough to accommodate the droppings from 1,000 binds for a period of one year, and the droppings collected from the range where 3,000 chicks are annually

The inside measurements of this shed are 12 by 7 feets. It is 5 feet high at the eaves and 8 feet 2 inches to the peak of the roof. The droppings are thrown in through trap doors in the roof, and taken out from one end, which is removable. The other three walls, the floor and the foundation are cement, The gables: are board, and the gable at the plant (removable) end of the shed is also removable to give more room when shoveling the manure into carts. It is held in place by hooks.

The plates and rafters are of 2 by 4 inch timbers. Inch boards are used for roof boards, gables, etc. The roof is covered with roofing paper. The two trap doors are also covered with this roofing. These doors are 2 feet 4 inches by 2 feet 10 inches, and fit over a frame in the roof, to which they are hinged at the top. A wide raised walk, gradually inclined so the end of it is only 1 foot 8 inches from the eaves, is very convenient from baskets of droppings.

THE CHEAPEST EATING-HOUSE IN TEXAS

Here's a line of boys who are working their way through the University of Texas, by cleaning up tables and serving in the University Cafateria Manager Venzey, at the extreme left, is not a student.

Fully sixty per cent of the student body of this great educational institution is either in whole or in part self-supporting, thus emphasizing the dependence of the poor student upon state-supporte institutions of higher education. Meals here average but twelve cents each, and many students get their board here on the University campus for $8.00 per month, the average is about $11.00 per month. Rooms in University Hall nearby are obtained at from $1.50 to $3.00 per month, although there are not sufficient rooms to supply the demand at these prices. Not a cent is made by the management of the cafateria-when it is discovered that a surplus is accumulating, the price of food is cut down. Here is actually board at cost. Besides furnishing cheap meals to over four hundred students per day, a half a dozen or more students are enabled to earn their board cleaning up tables, and otherwise serving the manage-

TESTING TEXAS ROAD MATERIALS, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS BUREAU OF ECONOMIC GEOLOGY

Millions of dollars per year are voted for road building in Texas, and increasing millions will be voted as the state becomes wealthier and more populous. The proper spending of this money is an enormous problem. The University of Texas is contributing to the solution by training young men in engineering and the installation of a first-class roads material testing laboratory, where over a thousand samples of Texas roads material have been tested in the last few months and recommendations made concerning each sample.

Above is a scene in the roads testing laboratory, at the University of Texas, in Austin, where the Bureau of Economic Geology is testing various stones and gravels which are found in Texas, with a view to determining their suitability for road construction. The United States Office of Public Roads maintains such a laboratory in Washington, but the University laboratory is as complete an establishment of its kind as can be found in the country. The director of this laboratory hopes to be able to test, analyze, catalogue every material of use in road-building in the state, and publish pesults of all such investigations for free distribution. County road engineers, commissioners, owners of gravel pits or limestone quarries, or indeed, any one interested in having tests made of available road material can secure a report upon the same by sending samples to the University Bureau of Economic Geology.

LIBRARY STILL OPEN

The following is a report of the Grapeland High School Library for the past session: The total number of books obtained permanently is 258, while 58 books were loaned for the ses sion, making a total of of 346 stine Herald. books available to the school and patrons of the library. The books as listed come under the following general headings: Agriculture, Biography, History, Literature, Government Records and Fiction.

The books on Niction have proved the most popular, while a close second has been histories, bulletins, and general works which have been used in debates. It has been the policy of the library to promote the discussion of questions of public interest, and by having access to the Congressional Library at Washington, as well as the State library and the University of Texas library at Austin, it has been pos sible to obtain an abundance of material. Several literary societies have gotten material from or through the library.

Every pupil in school, except the first grade, was urged to read as many as four books during term. The books loaned to the several grades show that the second grade, 27 pupils, were Via I&GN Ry., Satuday, June 19. given 147 books; the third and fourth grades, 42 pupils, 230 books; the fifth and sixth grades, 53 pupils, 286 books; the seventh and eighth grades, 45 pupils, 111 books, making a total of 895 books read by the school during the past session.
