CLAN McCLELLAN GATHERED HERE SUNDAY, JUNE 1st

Members of the Clan "McClellan" gathered Sunday June 1st in the Spearman Home Demonstration Clubroom for their annual reunion. Nine families of the children of Lee Smith McClellan and Lizzie Ethridge McClellan were present. Of the original 10 children, these were present: Lee McClellan and Mrs. Walter Wilmet, Spearman; Elmo, D.L. and Ted McClellan of Gruver; Mrs. P.B. Higgs, Amarillo; Miss Orene McClellan, Dallas and Mrs. Howard Hunt, Lubbock. Four generations were represented. Following the blessing of the food by Elmo McClellan Jr., lunch and visiting was the order of the day.

Lynn McClellan of Gruver introduced family groups and presented gifts to Lawrence Gruver (eldest present), Paula Kay Phillips of Lubbock (youngest present) and Bob King of California (longest distance traveled.)

Ronnie McClellan of Gruver, accompanied at the piano by Anne Sanders, was the star entertainment, giving two vocal selections.

WIND STORM---this trailer home at Spearman airport was upset Saturday night in the storm which recorded 70 to 80 mile an hour winds. The trailer, belonging to Aaron Cantrell, was demolished.

Damaging Windstorm

A severe windstorm which hit the Spearman area about 8 p.m. Saturday night ripped off large tree limbs, broke out plate glass windows and literally scattered everything that was not tied down. The city of Spearman, Sunday morning, resembled a "trash heap."

Winds gauged at 70 to 80 miles an hour broke TV antennae like match sticks and upset a trailer home at the Spearman airport.

Clark Bridges, occupant at the trailer house, had just left his home and was gone approximately 10 minutes. When he returned, the trailer was laying on its side. Aaron Cantrell, owner of the mobile home, said the insurance company "totaled" the trailer.

Utility and telephone lines were knocked out disrupting power for at least an hour. Area farmers reported quite a lot of corn broken but thought the green wheat which was blown down would straighten up again.

Although the Spearman area received only a sprinkle of rain, the region to the north received soaking rains and damaging winds which uprooted trees. Funnels were reported near Texoma.

The storm caused the Spearman celebration rodeo to be postponed until Sunday afternoon.

Symbolizing the spirit of Bluebonnet Girls' State is this comely young Texan, Miss Debra Brock of Spearman, former Girls' State Governor. Leadership, character, scholarship and physical fitness are the attributes developed by Girls' State, an Americanism training program in city, county, and state government sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Department of Texas. The 1969 session will be held June 11-20 at St. Edward's University in Austin.

BLUEBONNET GIRLS STATE SET FOR JUNE 11 - 20

More than 8,000 young Texans have been trained in city, county and state government and democratic processes in the 25-year history of Bluebonnet Girls' State, to be held this year June 11-20 at St. Edward's University. From the program's inception, except for two years, it has been headquartered in Austin.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, with some additional backing from various local civic clubs, Girls' State accepts young ladies who have completed their junior year of high school. These "citizens" then return to their home high schools to spread the beneficial knowledge they have gleaned from this two weeks' experience.

Citizens selected to attend include Karen Baggerly and Sandra Shufeldt of Spearman; Judy Hudson, Frances Wood, Mindy Murrell of Gruver and Judy Teaves of Morse.

Miss Frances Goff, special projects supervisor for the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, is the volunteer director. She has served in this post since 1952.

Citizens representatives are selected by various approved procedures after being recommended by their schools on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship and physical fitness.

The more than 450 girls who attend the '69 session will study and actively participate in the processes of city, county and state government, as these are structured through Texas by Texas statutes. The citizens are divided into two political parties in order that they may learn about the American democratic system.

After the citizens have chosen their form of city government, they then file for city, county and state offices. Upon election the state officials are "inaugurated" at the Texas Capitol, where their real counterparts will escort them to their inauguration.

City and county "officials" visit the Austin City Hall and the Travis County Courthouse. The entire assemblage will tour the State Legislative chambers and the Governor's Mansion. During one day, the citizens will conduct their own legislative sessions within the Capitol chambers.

Outstanding speakers from local, state and national governmental posts will lecture to the citizens. In the past they have been addressed by such personages as Lady Bird Johnson, U. S. Senator John Tower and Texas governors.

The staff numbers 60, most of whom are former citizens. Mrs. T. J. Manning, counselor at Clear Creek High School, is associate director (administration), and Miss Virginia Kennedy, Houston political scientific research consultant, is associate director (education).

In the '68 session Miss Sherry Clements of Plainview was elected governor, and Miss Sharon Flynt of Dimmitt the lieutenant-governor. Miss Marguerite Wilhelm of League City and Miss Beverly Fecell of Seabrook were selected representatives to Girls' Nation, in which national session both were appointed to Cabinet posts.

Doug Lackey spent the weekend visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Major Lackey. Doug is attending the summer session at the University of Texas.

Problems Of Beautification

AUSTIN -- Governor Preston Smith will keynote a one-day workshop to stimulate the preservation and enhancement of natural beauty in Texas.

The second annual clean up and beautification conference of the Beautify Texas Council will be held in Austin June 11. Governor Smith will be the featured speaker at a noon luncheon.

Dewitt Greer, chairman of the State Highway Commission, will speak at the morning session on the subject of Highway Beautification. Greer, state highway engineer for more than a quarter century, also is a member of the select national Citizens Committee on Recreation and Natural Beauty, a post to which he was named by President Johnson.

Hundreds of Texans deeply concerned with the problems of beautification and desecration of natural resources are expected to attend the day-long session. Registration begins at 9 A. M. and the sessions will start at 10 o'clock at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel. Tom H. Taylor, director of the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department, will preside.

A registration fee of $4 will cover cost of the luncheon. Due to limited facilities, advance registration is suggested. Interested persons may register by writing Mr. Jack Sloan, secretary-treasurer Beautify Texas Council, P.O. Box CS, College Station, Texas (77840). First Add, Beautification Workshop, Austin x x x (77840).

Theme of the workshop will center on local action, with emphasis both on rural and urban beautification. O. P. Schnabel of San Antonio, president of the Beautify Texas Council, will sound the conference keynote as the first speaker of the morning session.

Schnabel will be followed by P. H. (Dick) Hackendahl of Washington, D. C., director of the National Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up Bureau, who will discuss the work of the National Congress on Beautification.

Greer will discuss the Texas Highway Department's 40-year campaign to enhance the driving environment. Mayor C. P. Waggoner of Grand Prairie will conclude the morning session by describing the urban beautification program which won a national award for his community last year.

General Earl Rudder, president of Texas A&M University, will introduce Governor Smith at the luncheon.

The afternoon program will be devoted to panel discussions centered on "What You Can Do." Reagan Brown, sociologist-community improvement specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, will moderate the fast-moving and practical panel session.

Two of the State's leading women's organizations will be represented at the sessions. Mrs. E. O. Barton of Houston will appear for Texas Garden Clubs Inc., and Mrs. Henry Shaper of San Antonio will represent the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Both groups have had a leadership role in organization and growth of the Beautify Texas Council.

Beautify Texas Council was organized in 1967 to combat the litter problem and to advise and act as a coordinating agency through which business and industry, and government, public and private organizations may work together to solve the problems of Texas beautification.

Mrs. Bill Hutton visited with her mother, Mrs. W. L. Helton in Canadian, Texas last week.

Troop 51 Plans Week Camp Out

Boy Scout Troop 51 will have a camp-out at Adobe Walls beginning June 8 continuing for one week. Scoutmaster Harry Stumpf will be assisted by Bill Innis and Al Tucker in the conducting of activities.

Parents will be needed to help transport the boys to and from the camp site.

Sorghum Growers Advised To Keep Check On Disease

COLLEGE STATION--Grain sorghum is making good growth in the South, and soon will be in the northern areas of the state. It's real important that farmers get out and see what's occurring in their fields and figure what sort of disease control measures to use for the coming year, says Dr. C. Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

Two diseases that could cause trouble are downy mildew and maize dwarf mosaic virus. Downy mildew is characterized by down or a fuzzy type of growth on the underside of the leaf surface. Stripping of young plants occurs when the plant is systemically infected. Infection causing this symptom occurs in the soil. Plants that are systemically infected are sterile and will not produce a normal seed head, said Horne.

The fungus carrying downy mildew is carried from one season to another in the soil. One helpful control measure is rotating with a non-related crop. You can also grow resistant or tolerant plants, added the pathologist. All county agents have a list of the hybrids or varieties that are resistant to the disease. Maize dwarf mosaic virus requires a living host at all times. It is carried over from season to season in rhizomes of Johnsongrass. Shoots of the Johnsongrass come out in the spring before grain sorghum is planted. Aphids feed on these shoots, and then migrate to the grain sorghum, carrying the virus. Elimination of the Johnsongrass is an effective control measure of the virus in some areas, said Horne. Tolerant hybrids should be planted. Information on these are available from the county agent.

Opportunities Plentiful In Farm Mechanics

COLLEGE STATION--Help wanted: 2,000 qualified farm machinery mechanics to begin work immediately.

That's the call from repair shops throughout Texas, a plea that will get louder because of an expected need for more than 7,000 farm machinery mechanics within the next five years, according to Dr. Earl S. Webb, professor of agricultural education at Texas A&M University.

"Unless steps are taken to meet this need, unrepaid farm machinery could cause a creeping paralysis of agricultural operations," Webb says.

A survey of farm machinery service department managers, just completed by Webb, verifies this shortage and outlines what is desired of individuals for employment as machinery mechanics. Webb made the study to determine what should be taught to high school students as preparation for this career.

Two of the reasons Webb cites as causes for the current shortage of machinery mechanics have been the lack of a training program for the job and the increasing complexity of the equipment to be repaired.

Many farmers who previously doubled as machinery mechanics, providing a good source of workers, find it more difficult to perform repair on today's machinery. The limited source of mechanics has caused businesses to pirate employees from their competitors and the automobile industry to entice mechanics from farm machinery repair.

Wages for machinery mechanics average about $2.50 per hour statewide, below that of most skilled laborers, Webb pointed out. An average work week is 45 hours, ranging from 44 to 54 hours, and...

skilled machinery mechanics usually begin at about $1.50 an hour. Thus, wages have also had an effect on the shortage, Webb said.

Action is being taken, however, to help eliminate this shortage, Webb added. In 1966, the Texas Education Agency set up a "Pre-employment Laboratory Program in Farm Machinery Service and Repair" for junior and senior secondary students. All instruction is given in the schools using facilities similar to commercial repair shops. About 35 Texas schools are now offering this program, Webb said.

Webb's survey was conducted to aid this program by accumulating suggestions from farm machinery service departments on courses of study needed to prepare students for this career. Survey information will be used to construct a more adequate curriculum of training, Webb explained.

Another approach to the problem is a cooperative program in which the student spends a half day working in a commercial shop and one hour studying related subjects in the classroom.

From his study, Webb found that farm machinery shop managers wanted, most of all, employees who have a high mechanical aptitude and who can work well with customers. Also high on the list were the ability to read and interpret repair manuals, efficient use of tools and general knowledge of making repairs.

"In these times when machines are getting more expensive and more technical all the time and so few young men are pursuing this field of training, we desperately need a source of young men who are intelligent and who have... a basic knowledge of mechanics so that we have replacements for older men who are retiring or who cannot keep up with technical advances which are being made in farm equipment," replied one manager in Webb's survey.

"To meet the demand of qualified farm machinery mechanics, we are going to have to accelerate our training programs in the schools, or else the companies will have to set up their own programs," Webb concluded.

4H Sheep May Get Fleeced In More Ways Than One

SPECIAL - Take it off. Take it all off! That's what future 4-H sheep raisers may be doing to the sheep's wool, that is.

For defleecing sheep all in one piece may one day become a reality, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"No nicks, no cuts, no shears," says an article in Agricultural Research telling about chemically defleecing. Ease of removal is the main advantage, and there also would be a savings of money to the sheep rancher. Highly skilled persons needed today to do the shearing could be replaced by the nonspecialist.

However, further studies are necessary to determine if the chemical method is economically and scientifically practical, the article states.

Meanwhile, the thousands of boys and girls enrolled in a 4-H sheep project this year are interested in other scientific advances in breeding, raising, defleecing and marketing. They soon learn that success or failure depends on their knowledge of up-to-date practices.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Extension Service are chief sources of information.

Sponsor of the national 4-H Sheep program is Wilson & Co., Inc. A Subsidiary of Line-Temco-Vought Inc. More than 80,000 youths are active in the program.

Annual awards are presented to state and national winners. Last year about half of the 39 state awards of $50 U. S. savings bonds went to girls. But the six $800 national scholarships and trips to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago were claimed by boys.

One reason that raising sheep is popular with girls is because the animals do not get too large, and as one girl said: "The little lambs are so cuddly." The girls' project records are excellent, said a 4-H spokesman.

The 1969 national scholarship winners will be selected next fall, and announced during the National 4-H Congress.

about the frontier Red River Country. Word Books of Waco, Tex., is publisher.

Bowers, district clerk of Red River County for more than 20 years, began collecting interesting tales about the settling of the area many years ago. He asked Miss Oppenheimer, well known as a literary critic and radio commentator, to work with him in preparing a book about the half-forgotten names and places around Clarksville.

The co-authors went through court records, newspaper files, old diaries and personal letters to find stories of human drama and humor for "Red River Dust." They came up with material about long, raging court battles, love triangles, vigilante hangings, the Civil War and the coming of the Iron Horse.

Miss Oppenheimer and Bowers wrote about the man wanting the malaria pills, as well as chewing tobacco with the slogan, "Chew Star Navy, Spit Ham Gravy," the library on which Andrew Carnegie lost money; Dalby Springs with its healing waters; debates between Baptists and Campbellites; and the numerous river journeys on the Red River.

In an introduction to "Red River Dust," Dr. Frank X. Tolbert, columnist for the Dallas Morning News, says "A good book... one that should have been written."

Other reviewers' comments have been: "Delightful pieces of Texana," Wichita Falls Times; "realities and sparkle-arity... warmly human qualities," Leon Metz, El Paso Times; "style and material... perfectly matched," Loula Grace Erdman, author and professor; "Texana at its best... drama and excitement of pioneer days," Wayne Gard, Dallas Morning News; "fresh, new, full of the juice of life," Dr. C. L. Sonnichsen, University of Texas at El Paso.

"Red River Dust," written by Eugene Bowers of Clarksville and Evelyn Oppenheimer of Dallas, is a fascinating book

A book that tells the story of the man who traded a thousand acres of the richest Red River blackland for a thousand boxes of malaria fever pills has now gone into its second printing.

Enzyme Detergent Irritating

COLLEGE STATION--Enzymes in concentrated form--such as those present in some laundry products--may have an irritating effect on the skin.

Although the enzyme concentration in the laundry products is low, some people may be hypersensitive to the enzymes and develop an allergy when exposed either to enzymatic detergent solutions or to clothes washed in them, reports Linda Jacobsen, Extension home management specialist.

If such a problem develops, she suggests you see your dermatologist and revert to a nonenzyme detergent.

Baptists Honor Dr. B.A. Springer

R. A. Springer, treasurer of the 1.8 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas and former mayor of a Texas community, has been named recipient of the 1969 Elder Statesman of Texas Award.

Springer, who has served Texas Baptists for more than 45 years, will receive the honor June 8 at Independence Baptist Church, Independence, as part of the 45th anniversary celebration of the Independence Baptist Association. The association presents the award annually in recognition of long and outstanding service.

Born August 2, 1905, he is the oldest in point of service on the BGCT level and the youngest of 10 previous recipients of the Elder Statesman Award.

Though busy with denominational activities, Springer has found time for a number of outside activities--ranging from collecting trophies in league bowling to serving as mayor of Fruitdale, a small community now incorporated into the city of Dallas, from 1951-56.

The Midlothian native has contributed significantly to Texas Baptist growth since joining the BGCT state offices in Dallas in the post depression year of 1938. That year the BGCT budget amounted to some $310,000. In 1969, the BGCT operated under a $13.5 million budget.

Before coming to his present job, Springer had served for 15 years on the staffs of four Texas Baptist Churches. He began in 1923 as a young people's worker and financial secretary at Cliff Temple Church, Dallas. Then he was education director for three churches, Forrest Avenue Church (now Lake Highlands) of Dallas and the First Churches of Lubbock and Amarillo.

Other denominational activities since joining the BGCT have included board membership on two Negro schools, Bishop Baptist College in Dallas and Butler Baptist College in Tyler, and the trusteeship of the BGCT's Church Loan Corporation and of the Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education organization in Dallas.

Springer received early business training at Metropolitan Business College, Dallas, and religious education training at

MRS. JACK LEE KIDDER nee Susan Holt

Miss Susan Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holt, was married to Jack Lee Kidder, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kidder, Trinidad, Colorado, on Saturday, May 24, at eight o'clock in the evening in the First Baptist Church, Rev. B. T. Shoemaker, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar of emerald and jade foliage, spiral and arched candelabra holding pink tapers, and baskets of continental and pink puff roses and white stock. The pews were marked with hurricane lamps intertwined with greenery and tied with pink satin bows.

Mrs. Marvin Jones, organist, and Mrs. Rue Sanders, pianist, played pre-nuptial music and the traditional wedding selections. Mrs. Sanders accompanied Mrs. Gary Longanecker of Amarillo, soloist, as she sang "Come Share My Love" and "Whither Thou Goest".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta and Alencon lace. Her gown was styled on Victorian lines with an organza ruffle standing at the neckline and falling over the wrists. Alencon lace traced a pattern from the neckline to the hem at center front and was accented by covered buttons. The full, bishop, long sleeves were designed with a lace cuff fitted over the wrists. Her chapel train fell from beneath an organza bow at the back of the Empire waistline and cascaded into a bouffant train. Her Camelot bonnet was of pleated silk organza traced by tiny lace ruffles. Her full cathedral veil fell in tiers from the headpiece and was of imported English silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of continental and pink puff roses and stephanotis with streamers of white satin ribbons tied in love knots.

Mrs. Ray Slyter, Augusta, Kansas, attended her sister as matron-of-honor. Miss Pat King, Seminole, was maid of honor and Mrs. Michael Holt, the bride's sister-in-law, Miss Carol Johnel, Canadian, and Mrs. Weldon Kemp, Midland, were bridesmaids. They wore floor length Empire dresses with Victorian lines. The short-sleeved dresses had wide scooped necklines. The waists were accented with deep pink sashes and full length streamers falling from bows at the back. They wore identical deep pink bows with short streamers for headpieces. The matron of honor's dress was white dotted Swiss with pink over white and the bridesmaid's were tinted pink over pink bridal taffeta. They carried straw baskets filled with pink puff rosebuds, white daisies, greenery, and baby breath with bows and streamers of pink satin ribbon.

Dale Gruhlkey, Adrian, served as bestman. Grooms-men were David Gruhlkey, Amarillo, Michael Holt, brother of the bride, David Whitten, Adrian, and Reuben Morgan, Sunray. Ushers were Ray Slyter, Augusta, Kansas, the bride's brother-in-law; Larry Holt, cousin of the bride; and Jerry Blair, Meadow. Preceding the ceremony the ushers lighted the aisle lamps.

Miss Janice Thomas, Dumas, registered the guests. The table held the bride's book and a bouquet of pink puff rosebuds, daisies, and baby breath arranged as an old fashioned nosegay. Johnette Lee and Richard Kilgore lighted the candles. Connie Blessen, Amagillo, and Leslie Sewell, Midland, were flower girls. They carried lace baskets filled with rose petals. The girls wore white organdy floor-length dresses with bows and headpieces identical to the bride's attendants. Their corsages were of pink puff roses. Kenneth Slyter, the bride's nephew, served as ring bearer.

Following the wedding ceremony the reception was in the home of the bride's parents in the Holt community. The serving table was laid with a white organdy cloth accented with white satin. The colonaded tiered cake was beautifully decorated with delicately tinted pink rosebuds arranged in old fashioned nosegays and by a basket filled with rosebuds, pink tulle and ribbons. Pink wedding punch was served from a silver bowl. Miss Gwen Hanners, and Miss Frances Whitson served the guests, assisted by Miss Kristi Rickard, Phillips; Mrs. David Whitten, Adrian. Miss Sara McCall, Borger, and Miss Gale Gruhlkey, Adrian, presented the guests with boxes of groom's cake decorated with deep pink bows, greenery, and a wedding ring, and also gave them rice bags nestled in little straw baskets. Members of the houseparty were Mesdames Phil Jenkins, Raymond Kirk, Ray Moore, Nolan Holt and O. C. Holt. Arrangements of white and pink peonies and roses were noted in the entertaining rooms.

The bride traveled in a candlelight two piece dress with blue scarf. Her corsage of pink rosebuds came from her bridal bouquet. After a wedding trip to points in Colorado and New Mexico, the couple are at home in Amarillo. They are senior students at West Texas State University.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Roscoe Cosby, Tulia; Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Carroll, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. H. N. James, Stinnett; Miss Norma McCarty, Wichita Falls; Miss Kathy Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blessen, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Longanecker, Mrs. Russell C. Collins, Mrs. Rol and Borger, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wilker, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril May, Mrs. Arthur Ray, Mrs. Freda Gruhlkey, Miss Patricia Ann Pickens, all of Amarillo, Mrs. Arch Marshall, Houston, Mr. Jesse Fincher, Mr. and Mrs. David Whitten, Mrs. Gladys Wagner, Miss Tanya Travis, Miss Gale Gruhlkey, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Kromer, Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Crietz and Milanie, Mr. Mike Horton, all of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Kirk, Borger, Miss Kristi Pickard, Phillips, Miss Janice Thomas, Dumas, Miss Carol Johnel, Canadian, Mrs. Gene Eisenhauer, Corpus Christi, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Kemp, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Sewell, Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kidder, Trinidad, Colorado.

On Friday evening, May 23, following the wedding rehearsal, the bride and groom's parents entertained the bridal party and relatives at dinner in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church. The tables were decorated with white and pink roses and peonies with trailing ivy and white tapers.

Kim and Kevin Townsend and Jerry Darnell, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Huse who spent the past winter in their home, have now returned to their home in Houston.

OLDEST AREA CITIZENS--Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Simpson, now of Canadian, came to this area in 1884. Mrs. Hazel Wright Morton was honored as Hansford County's oldest native citizen.

OLDEST COUNTY CITIZEN--Hazel Wright Morton, was honored at the Old Settlers Reunion. She was born here in 1892.

Old Settlers Attend Reunion

The Old Settlers Reunion, sponsored by the County Historical Society, was well attended Saturday morning with sixty persons registering.

Pictures of Old Hansford and the early days of this county were displayed in the lobby rooms at Joe Traylor Ford company and the morning was spent visiting and talking over old times.

The oldest couple present was Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Simpson of Canadian. Mr. Simpson came to the Panchandle in 1884. Mrs. Simpson came in 1894. Other out-of-town guests honored were Mr. John O. King, Guyton, 1900; Ebel Cookston, Knox County Texas, 1900.

Spearman citizens honored were Hazel Morton, born here in 1892; Gwendolyn Lackey, 1894; Delon Kirk, 1900; and Major Lackey, 1900.

Hazel Morton, honored as the oldest living citizen of the county, submitted this letter to the Editor, expressing her appreciation: "I wish to express my appreciation to the Jaycees for honoring me as the oldest living relic of Hansford County.

I've seen the county change from an almost fenceless open range to its present economy. I've known it at its best and its worst.

"When Mr. Gruver came from Missouri to look for land here he stayed at our ranch. He told my father that this would be a good wheat area. Dad told him that this would never make a farming country in a thousand years. There have been times when we pre-irrigation wheat farmers have agreed with him.

"Hansford County has always been my home, I came into being in a hole, a half dugout, and my bones will rest in the cemetery at Old Hansford.

"I've been in all parts of Texas and a number of other states and I have never seen a place that I'd rather live so I am proud to be honored as Hansford County's oldest native citizen."

Kabob Cookery Delights Guests

COLLEGE STATION, Spectacular skewer cookery delights guests. Let each person construct and grill his own kabob, suggests Extension Consumer Marketing Specialist Gwendolyn Clyatt.

Make kabobs by alternating chunks of food on skewers. Use meat and vegetables which will cook at the same time. This may mean some vegetables, such as potatoes and onions, have to be cooked partially.

Or give each vegetable its own skewer so each can cook the right time.

Before broiling, season with salt and pepper, Mrs. Clyatt says, and brush with barbecue sauce or melted butter and lemon juice. Chunks of meat will cook faster and more evenly if they are not crowded.

To serve point skewer down and dip the food onto the platter or a hot roll.

The Texas A&M specialist suggests interesting kabob combinations:

... Franks, canned pineapple, or apple chunks, bacon squares

... Luncheon meat, pineapple, banana chunks

... Round lamb shoulder, tomatoes, green pepper, onion

... Beef steak, mushrooms, sliced onions

... Luncheon meat, quartered tomatoes, small cooked onions

... Chicken livers, small bacon squares, mushrooms.

Head Of Texas Cattle Feeders Says Official Made False Statements

"Government officials have an obligation to the public to assure themselves that statements they make to the news media are correct" said Jack Carrothers, President of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, today, in commenting on a statement made by Arnold Chase, Deputy Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Chase said in his comments associated with cost of living increases: "It appears that at least some of the food price increases were the result of withholding action by farmers." Chase said, "The increases come at a time when prices for these commodities, particularly livestock, usually decline, and there appears to be some voluntary withholding to bring about higher prices."

Commenting on Chase's remarks, Carrothers said, "Livestock feeders in this region and throughout the nation are marketing fed cattle with a shorter feeding time today than ever in history. Slaughter weights of fed cattle are at or near record low levels because of this reduced feeding time."

Carrothers said, "It is out of order for a Department of Labor official to be critical of livestock price levels when on April 15, 1969, the index of prices received by farmers for livestock and livestock products was up only 20% compared to the 1957-59 average. Wage rates paid by livestock producers, on the other hand, had increased 77% during the same period. Beef cattle prices in April of this year were only 85% of official USDA parity, which could hardly be classed as exorbitant."

Kenneth Dilldine, General Manager of Glover Packing Company, which has plants at Amarillo, Texas, Roswell,

N.M. and Hernando, Mississippi stated: "We are having a difficult time in finding a sufficient quantity of fed cattle which have adequate time on feed to meet our kill requirements. Feedyards throughout the area are very current, and there is obviously no withholding on the part of cattle feeder." Bill Mosley, head buyer for the packing plants, said: "The demand for fed cattle from buying interests from outside the region makes it obvious that this very current marketing condition exists throughout the nation."

"The demand for the quality beef being produced by the beef cattle industry has greatly increased", Carrothers said, "and for the first time in many years livestock price levels may allow all segments of the livestock industry closer to a fair return for their labor and capital invested. Consumers today can purchase twice as much beef for a lesser percentage of their disposable income than required 15 years ago."

"With the closer trimming by retailer, there is more lean beef in that package than ever. Ounce-for-ounce beef today is an improved protein product".

"It is very unfortunate," Carrothers said, "that a public official would insinuate that livestock producers are being unfair in their marketing practices. He should refer to the facts."

Mrs. Freeman Barkley, who has been in Houston M.D. Anderson Clinic for treatment may get to come home for several days. Mr. and Mrs. Barkley are expected home sometime this week.
