City Meeting Held Monday Begins Sunday

W. Blankenship evangelist

G. Kitterman Music

Since we have been printing minutes of the city meetings, and school board meetings, we have received several "thank you notes" from our readers. Now, we are going to try and run these stories as news, and not miss any of the items covered.

When we make a mistake in our covering the city news, or the school board news, we will be the first to apologize to any or all persons offended. Our readers might be interested in knowing that the record of how a member of the school board, or city councilman votes is not recorded unless one of the members request that the record is made. However, when this record is kept and is a matter of public record we will attempt to print it. This is a good rule, and keeps the so-called "busy bodies" from calling up a public servant and "tossing him out" for doing what he thought was right at the time. Nothing is more disgusting to this newspaper, than the fellow who reads in the paper how another public servant voted, and then goes around and tells everyone he is mad because so and so didn't vote like he wanted him too. On the other hand, we know that of our 7,000 readers who will read this story, about everyone of them will be glad that the local paper is covering the news and news more pleased with the way our public servants are serving our town.

So, here goes for the City meeting of September 27th, 1971 at 8 p.m. (While most of us were home watching the football game on TV).

First, the minutes of the Sept. 12th and Sept. 23rd meetings were read and approved by the councilmen.

Second, the Beautification Committee, headed by J.L. Brock, met with the council. Mr. Brock and four local women stated that their committee would make a survey of the town, and mention the areas that needed to be cleaned up. The committee would then contact the individuals and ask them to clean up their area. The beautification committee asked the city if they, the city, would enforce the local ordinances to make property owners clean up their areas, after the committee had done all they could to encourage this. Of course, the city stated that they would enforce the ordinances which include old buildings, and other general cleanliness in the city.

The airport board, once again, did not show up at the meeting, to discuss the needs of the local airport. They are requested to meet with the city council on October 11th.

The 1971-72 Budget Hearing was held and adopted. It was learned that the evaluation of the city had increased $80,966.00, since one year ago. The 1971 tax bill approval was as follows: Real estate valuation was $3,390,096. Personal property evaluation was set at $1,384,398. This totals $7,514,404 total evaluation. Almost $90,000 over last year's tax roll.

Tax Ordinance No. 352 was adopted. This is an ordinance that sets the dates for collection and discounts on the city taxes. The discounts are 3% in October; 2% in November; and 1% in December. No discount in January. February 1st, the taxes will become delinquent.

Bids for the big new civil defense siren warning system were let to the Bill Story Fire and Safety Co. Installation of all equipment included at a bid of $4,078.25.

The swimming pool financial statement was presented to the city by Allen Simpson who managed the pool this summer for the city. The pool netted $756.07. The city had to pay $143.13 to make the guaranteed $900.00 per agreement for operating the pool.

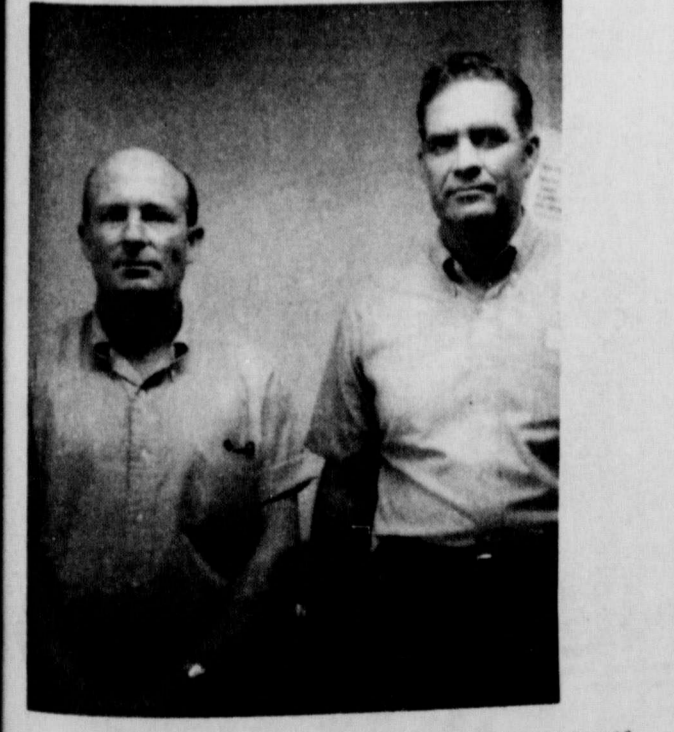

Bills for the month were read and approved.

The junk car ordinance was not presented as more information was needed by city attorney Dick Countiss.

The Panhandle-Regional Health appointments were discussed. Mrs. Bob Skinner accepted one of the appointments at the PRPC Health Board and Bruce Sheets declined. Jesse Davis was appointed in Mr. Sheets place, subject to his acceptance.

The October meeting dates were set for the 11th and 25th. The council discussed and reviewed the past due utility accounts.

Gene Kitterman's music ministry at the Amarillo Church, includes an enrollment of 503 in ten choirs. His youth choirs have toured over 28,000 miles during the past 8 years, singing over 200 concerts from the east to west coast. This year they will tour the Bahama Islands under the auspices of the Foreign Mission Board.

The public will enjoy hearing this outstanding musician. Rev. Blankenship has been pastoring churches since 1957 and is currently pastoring College Heights Baptist Church, Plainview where he has been since 1966.

County's Financial Report Paints Rosy Future

Hansford County is in excellent shape, financially. If nothing unforeseen comes up within the next two years, the county will be completely out of debt.

These facts were discussed at the Commissioner's Court meeting Monday morning following the treasurer's report submitted by Mrs. Selma Reaue.

Hansford County's current indebtedness includes: Hospital & clinic $107,000.00; Courthouse & Jail $38,000; Road Dist. 2, $50,000 for the new bridge & road repairs just completed; Road Dist. 4 $22,000.00 (for road bond issues); Precinct 3 $10,000.

Precinct No. 3 will be out of debt this year and Road Dist. 4 has on hand $22,000 in investments, the exact amount it needs to become debt free.

Other investments in the General Fund includes $10,000 for Courthouse & Jail and another $25,000. In the Permanent Improvement Sinking funds.

The report also revealed that the current balance in the General fund totals $30,488.57 as of September 27.

Commissioners agreed that the county will probably be able to pay off all indebtedness in the next 24 months, and looking back to 1950 and the huge amount owed at that time, the court has a lot to be proud of.

It was in 1950 when the county road program began which incurred a debt close to a million dollars. In 1956 the

Judge Lee Reports Juvenile Conference

Hansford County Judge Johnnie C. Lee attended the Governor's Juvenile Justice Conference held last week in Brownwood, Texas. Out of 130 juvenile judges in Texas, 90 were present for the important meeting.

Texas Juvenile Judges met there to receive instruction concerning the Supreme Court's new ruling on the handling of juvenile cases. In the past such cases have been tried strictly as civil cases, with the juvenile's parents named as "guardians." The Supreme Court has ruled that henceforth, outside guardians and an Attorney must be appointed to the case at the arraignment of juveniles. Also, the case, according to Judge Lee, must be tried on a level between "criminal & civil."

Juveniles are classified in the age groups of 10 to 18 for girls and 10 to 17 years old for boys.

Judge Lee said this was an "eye-opener conference" for juvenile judges of Texas, and many of these men said they would go back home and resign from their position. Lee said "more and more we are learning that the law is leaning toward the protection of the criminal, and tying the hands of law enforcement officials."

Judge Lee named one judge who said he was going to resign his position this week. This man had one of his cases sent before the Federal Court and the action which transpired went entirely in favor of the "criminal" who had filed suit against this county judge.

Approximately 15 juvenile cases are tried in Judge Lee's court each year here in Hansford County and most of these are "first offenders." Lee said nine out of ten of these juveniles "we never see again." Lee has always tried these cases as "unofficial," where the docket never reveals the case just as if it never happened. "We protect our youngsters in this way," he said. The Judge indicated that he would not change the procedure of his juvenile court in the future so long as he continues to receive the cooperation from parents.

"Here in our county the parents have always cooperated with this court to the fullest extent of our wishes," he said. As long as this policy prevails, we will be able to get along as usual here in Hansford County, he concluded.

Judges present at the conference spent one whole day in classroom work under Max P. Fluscher, Assistant Attorney General who represents all Juvenile Judges in Federal Courts.

Local FHA Office Closed 30 Loans

Nearly a half million rural people were able to move into new or improved homes financed by the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal year 1971. A record loan total of $1.399 billion for the year was reported by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin for this rural credit service of the Department of Agriculture.

"Rural America entered the 1970's with half the poor housing in the U.S.," James V. Smith, Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration noted. "Helping rural families with limited income to obtain safe, decent housing is a major national concern and the Farmers Home Administration is moving vigorously to increase the rate of home building in rural areas. During the past two years the Administration has tripled Farmers Home Credit funds for housing--from less than $500 million in fiscal 1969 to nearly $1.4 billion in fiscal 1971, with $1.6 billion projected for fiscal 1972," Mr. Smith said. Farmers Home Administration loans are made to families with low or moderate incomes who will occupy homes in rural areas. The money is used to buy, build, improve, or relocate homes. Loans for construction of rental units for senior citizens and other qualified families and for farm labor housing benefited another 2,600 families in fiscal year 1971.

"Farmers Home is demonstrating that it can deliver credit to rural America. The agency's widely dispersed leading offices not only provide housing for needy and worthy families, but also create jobs for rural workers markets for building supply dealers," Mr. Smith said. The Farmers Home agency has improved delivery of credit through a number of administrative and procedural improvements made during the past year. County supervisors have been given increased loan approval authority; the application, employment record and family budget forms have been consolidated, and direct payment of housing loans to the St. Louis Finance Office greatly relieves time demands on the county supervisor.

Two innovations have involved the private sector as a full partner in government operations to improve rural housing: A new housing commitment authority makes it easier for builders to borrow to build housing for families with low or moderate incomes, and a method for packaging housing applications makes it easier for eligible families to apply for Farmers Home loans.

"The credit services provided by Farmers Home supplements all other housing credit available to rural people. It is one more path that rural areas can travel on the way to achieving equal status in modern America," Mr. Smith said.

The local Farmers Home county office in Perryton closed some 30 rural housing loans in this area in fiscal year 1971. In March, 1971, authority was received to process rural housing loans in towns with up to 10,000 population. This made Farmers Home housing loan assistance available to low and moderate income families in all towns of this area except Borger.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kirk last week was Professor T.F. Wjensen of Lubbock. Also the Kirks have just returned from Oklahoma City where they visited their son and wife Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kirk.

Fat Bus

Harvey never knew what hit him until they told him about it afterward in the hospital.

He had been standing on a sidewalk near the curb, gazing to the north, when a bus approaching from the south moved in for a stop. The front corner of the bus, which overhung the curb, struck him a glancing blow on the forehead.

Under these circumstances, was Harvey entitled to collect damages from the bus company? In a court test, the company said, "The driver had a right, argued the company, to drive as close to

In the eyes of the law, a sidewalk is a safety zone in which the pedestrian reigns supreme. As the court put it:

"A pedestrian is entitled to assume there is no danger from traffic as long as he remains on the sidewalk."

Would it matter if the pedestrian had actually seen the bus coming toward him? That should make a difference, claimed the bus company in another injury case, because it would have been so easy for him to take one step backward—to be safe.

But again the court ruled in the pedestrian's favor. The court said he simply had no reason to expect that the bus would intrude where it had no business intruding.

Still, there is always the possibility that at the very moment of impact, the pedestrian may have been leaning over the curb into the street.

One woman was struck by a bus while she was standing on the sidewalk between a fire hydrant and an electric light pole. Yet, even though both the hydrant and the pole were at the very edge of the curb, neither of these objects was even scratched.

Applying common sense, the court concluded that the woman herself must have been at fault. The judge said that, at least for a brief instant and a brief distance, she must have leaned out of her safety zone on the sidewalk, into the danger zone on the street.

MRS. GARY NEAL SCROGGS
nee Karon Elizabeth Mathews

Miss Karon Elizabeth Mathews, daughter of Mrs. Virgil Mathews, 322 S. Endicott Street, and the late Mr. Mathews became the bride of Gary Neal Scroggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Scroggs Stinnett, at 7:00 p. m. September 25 in the home of the bride's mother.

The Reverend R. A. Christenson, Pastor of the Union Church of Spearman read the double ring ceremony before a fire place decorated with garlands of smilax and baby's breath. Golden candelabra holding lighted tapers flanked the setting. Floor standards of white princess glads and pom-pom mums formed the background; beneath was a kneeling bench of white satin.

Mr. Eddie Gail Martin, Spearman, pianist, played traditional wedding music and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Twelfth of Never". After exchanging vows and while the bride and groom were still kneeling, Mr. Martin sang "The Pledge".

The bride was escorted to the altar along a white satin aisle runner, by her brother, Stephen Mathews, who gave her in marriage. She wore a formal gown of bridal crepe designed with high-rise bodice overlaid with a band of imported Venice lace, a standing lace neckline, long Juliet sleeves with fitted cuffs and a controlled skirt in front with flowing fullness in back. Her veil of imported illusion bordered with a matching band of Venice lace was attached to a Juliet cap of bridal crepe. She carried a cascade of white sweetheart roses and stephanotis interspersed with tufts of maline tied with showers of pecked satin. For something old the bride wore her father's wedding band on a gold chain around her neck; something, her gown; something borrowed an embroidered lace handkerchief belonging to her cousin Mrs. Bob Parrish; something blue, a blue garter, and a lucky six-pence, bearing her birthdate for her shoe, given to her by Mr. Charles Cox of Spearman.

Mr. Stephen Mathews, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of gold crepe styled with a fitted bodice, high-rise neckline, long full sleeves with fitted cuffs, and a sash of gold velvet accented tie waistline. Miss Sandi Burke, Spearman, was maid of honor. Her floor length gown of moss green crepe was styled identically to Mrs. Mathews'. Both carried cascades of bronze mums tied with matching satin streamers.

Miss Robin Mathews was flowergirl and Miss Rhonda Mathews was ringbearer. Both young ladies are nieces of the bride. Their floor length dresses of white crepe were styled on the same order of the matron of honor and maid of honor.

Mr. Lon Kirby, Spearman, was best man. Mr. Burl Scroggs, Stinnett, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsmen.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mathews wore a mint green silk ensemble, with bone accessories. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Scroggs, mother of the bridegroom, wore a champagne suit dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was also of gardenias.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, in honor of the newlyweds. The serving table was draped in a floor length cloth of white organza over satin. The table was centered with silver epergnes holding golden yellow CANYON, Tex. --Soprano Lynda Sharman, 1971 West Texas State University graduate and recipient of numerous music awards, has distinguished herself in the New York opera world.

Miss Sharman, a former voice student of Elsa Porter of the WTSU music faculty, was awarded this week an $850 scholarship toward work on a Master of Music Degree in opera from the Manhattan School of Music.

The Morse Club has also reorganized. Their officers are president Monte Dixon; vice president Beth Willis; secretary Kim McCammond; reporter, Randy Reid; and council delegate, Kim McCammond. Since the wet weather of last week probably several of you are wondering what you will do with your youngsters indoor all winter long, I'll try to give you some ideas from time to time to help you keep them happily occupied. This week let's consider finger painting. This offers a challenge to the artistic abilities of children of all ages and adults as well. For finger painting you will need a smooth washable surface. A table is fine but be sure to place it where a little spilled water will do no harm. If you wish to protect the table top cover it with oil-cloth or paper. The paper to be used for the actual finger painting needs to be glazed on one side. Ordinary shelf paper that comes in rolls would be fine. Or you could use oil-cloth but this would not give a finished painting and having "something to keep" is important to the child.

Homemade Finger Paints-- 3/4 cup laundry starch, 1 1/2 cup soap flakes, cold water, 1 quart boiling water, coloring (food colors, bluing, water colors, or poster paint). Mix starch with a little cold water. Pour the mixture slowly into one quart rapidly boiling water. Stir constantly until the mixture thickens; when it cools slightly, add the soap flakes. Stir well. Divide in several parts coloring each a different color.

An alternate idea is to use liquid laundry starch and add powdered tempera paint. This is better for older children who enjoy mixing the colors on their paper.

Now on to how to finger paint. Use a piece of glazed paper of a size that fits the

3 tablespoons oil
1/2 cup dark or golden raisins
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon soy sauce
3 tablespoons catsup

Prisoners Tied To Tree, Awaited Trial By Roy Bean

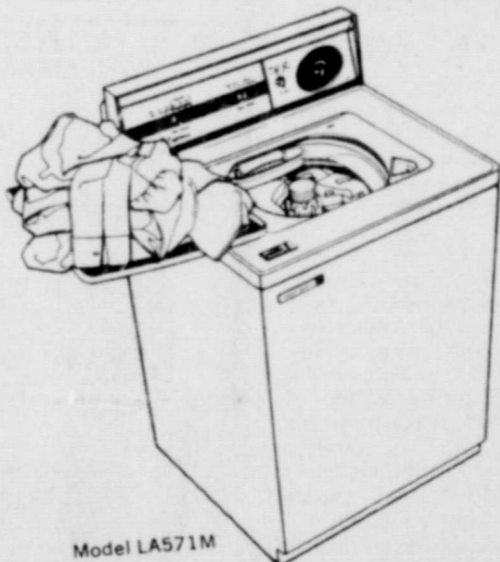

LANGTRY---Judge Roy Bean, the "Law West of the Pecos," was likely to handcuff prisoners to a handy tree 'till he could get round to a trial on his front porch. He reeled off decisions with the aid of a solitary law book, and backed 'em up with a six-shooter on the table beside him. Then to make it official, he made liberal use of his prized notary seal. The old judge is long gone, along with the frontier Southwest he so colorfully represented. But his pistol, handcuffs, book and notary seal are now on display at the Texas Highway Department's Judge Roy Bean Visitor Center in Langtry. The historic items, in private hands since Bean's death, are feature additions at the site where a slice of the old West is preserved in authentic detail. The relics are on view in a special case protected by an electronic security system. Roy Bean wouldn't believe it. The weathered old "Jemey Lilly," his saloon-courtroom-billiard hall, is just like he left it. The State Legislature, in 1939, named it a historic site and directed the Highway Department to preserve it for tourists. Next door is the department's modern, air-conditioned Visitor Center. Inside the judge would find himself the star of a half dozen dioramas, each with a special re-

FARM AND RANCH ROUNDUP

Farm Income In County, $19,828,000

From the standpoint of gross farm income, Hansford County has been producing more than farms in any other county in the state, according to a report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The increase in the three years, amounting to 33.8 percent, was more than was achieved in many farm areas. The average rise, in the United States, was 13.9 percent. In the State of Texas it was 26.1 percent.

Latest figures from the Department of Agriculture. Farmers in general are being hurt in the pocketbook, it is shown, by the pressure of high and rising operating expenses that are not fully compensated by better prices for commodities.

WASHINGTON—Tax relief for purchasers of farm trucks has been won by U.S. Representative Graham Purcell (D-Tex) it was announced today.

At Congressman Purcell's request, the Committee has written into its proposed measure a provision to exempt all vehicles of a gross weight up to 7500 pounds from the 10% federal excise tax now affecting all trucks. The bill will also follow the Administration recommendation to remove the 7% excise tax from passenger cars.

"This is the culmination of a long fight to see that farmers and other purchasers of light trucks are not burdened with this tax," the veteran member of the House Agriculture Committee reported.

"The Administration was unfavorable to removal of the excise tax from any motor vehicle other than passenger cars. However," Purcell continued, "working closely with Chairman Mills, I have succeeded in getting the Ways and Means Committee to include light trucks in the exemption."

The Texas Democrat said that he had hoped to convince the Committee to cover all farm trucks. "In view of the Administration's resistance," he stated, "I am pleased we were able to get this much. Under the circumstances, this is the best I think we can do."

The House Committee is presently meeting in executive session on the final draft of the tax bill and is expected to introduce its proposals to the House of Representatives early next week. The Purcell provision will be retroactive to midnight, September 22 of this year.

Area Cloud Seeding Meeting Is Oct. 6

OKLAHOMA CITY--Texas municipal and agricultural groups interested in the possibilities of terminating drought by cloud seeding have been invited to attend a Southern Great Plains Weather Modification conference to be held in Oklahoma City October 6.

The meeting was called by Governor David Hall of Oklahoma upon recommendation of the Oklahoma Weather Modification Study Committee, headed by Ferdie J. Deering, editor and manager of The Farmer-Stockman magazines. Governor Hall has invited the governors of Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Kansas to participate, along with a number of other leaders known to be interested in weather modification. The sessions will be open to the public, beginning at 9 a. m. October 6 in the Hall of Mirrors in Oklahoma City's downtown Civic Center.

"Research clearly demonstrates that cloud seeding is an answer to ongoing drought," Governor Hall said. "In addition, the mechanics of weather modification must be available to head off dry cycles and to increase the general rainfall in arid areas."

Experimental cloud seeding projects have been conducted in Texas, Oklahoma and several other states, but the Oklahoma committee has expressed belief that large scale operations are needed. Instead of limited programs using airplanes, the committee has recommended a continuing project covering semi-arid sections of several states, utilizing lower-cost ground-based

Rural Minister Of The Year

College Station, --Jim Ford, pastor of the Wolfe City Church of Christ in Hunt County has been selected as Texas Rural Minister of the Year.

He will be honored during the annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 14-15 at Texas A&M University. The minister will be given an engraved silver tray provided by "The Progressive Farmer," the magazine which sponsors the award in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Town and Country Church Committee. The committee is made up of ministers of all denominations.

Reagan Brown, Extension Service sociologist and program coordinator, said Ford joins a long list of rural ministers who have received the honor in past years.

"He is being cited for his distinguished leadership not only in his church but in many activities in his community," the sociologist said. "The people in Wolfe City who nominated him say he understands and appreciates rural people."

"Jim has led his congregation in a better understanding of the soil, a pride in their heritage of being a rural community, and a love of the land as God's earth. He has led his congregation in those affairs that are for the good of the total community."

"Not only is this award made to Mr. Ford, but it is a symbol of recognition for all those who are making outstanding contributions to rural life. These unselfish and often unheralded ministers in the small towns and rural neighborhoods of Texas are doing great works and deserve the everlasting gratitude of all of us," Brown said.

Ford's nomination was submitted by the Wolfe City Chamber of Commerce through its president, Joe W. Davenport.

POINT OF VIEW Some days are tough on writers

By JOSEPH THESKEN
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — It was a typical "busted play" in the life of a television writer. The day's activity called for a visit to the former home of Debbie Reynolds, a large residence off Sunset Blvd. in the plush area of Beverly Hills. Barbara Stanwyck, Barbara Parkins, William Windom and Arthur O'Connell were appearing in an ABC-TV "Movie of the Week" being shot on location at the home.

publicist commented, "This should be a good story." He had reason to regret his remarks a few moments later when he found that his party would not be allowed to enter the home. "They're shooting right inside the door, and it's too crowded in there, with people and cameras, to get in," he explained. "Let's just walk up there in the upper yard until we find out what we can do." The writers milled around, trading stories, for a few minutes. "Hey, who's that girl over there? Isn't that Barbara Parkins?" one of them pointed to a petite brunette, dressed in a Victorian outfit. "Let me see if I can get her over here to talk to you about the show," the publicist said, his spirits renewed.

He spoke to her briefly, then took her over to the group and offered introductions. "Could you tell us a little about the picture?" Miss Parkins was asked. "Its title is 'Taste of Evil.' I play a girl who returns to her Victorian home after being cured of a mental illness. Barbara Stanwyck plays my mother. "Strange things happen and I feel I am going to have a breakdown. I don't know what is real and what is fantasy." Miss Parkins, remembered for her role in "Peyton Place," put a small bouquet of flowers to her nose. "Aren't these lovely flowers?" she smiled. "They were given me by a friend." She waited for the next question: "What have you been doing since 'Peyton Place' left the air?" "Well, I'm living in London now. I just love England, and its style of living," she remarked. "Actually, I'm over here in the United States on a vacation and doing this movie at the same time. "I just recently got back from Russia. I love Georgia and the Russian music." Miss Parkins spoke so softly that one of her questioners asked her to speak up. "My sound man complains about my talking too softly all the time," she replied. The actress was asked about her role in "Peyton Place." "I did 450 episodes of 'Peyton Place' over five years," she sighed. "That was too much. I felt burned out, especially in the last year. The series lost its charm and good writing at the end." She was called away from the group for the next scene of "A Taste of Evil." "Well, we may as well leave and get back to the hotel," the publicist told the writers. "Sorry we blew it about seeing the action, but that happens at times." As the group filed into the cars, there was a remark about the cost of such an estate. "Right now, it's up for sale for over a million dollars," the publicist noted. "But if you want it, I can get it for you cheap, say around $750,000."

New Consumer research Center Now In Operation

COLLEGE STATION--Texas A&M University's new Consumer Research Center now in operation probably comes as close to having something for everybody.

Everyone is a consumer, says Dr. Alice Stubbs, who heads the center, and everyone has consumer problems to some degree.

Areas for investigation include food, clothing, housing, textiles, household equipment and furnishings, and specialty items, such as toys or equipment for certain age groups.

Dr. Stubbs said studies also will strive for improved communications between consumers and manufacturers.

The center is an outgrowth of consumerism and consumerist movements which have been around for a long time.

Vague consumer protection laws existed even in colonial times in this country.

Early in this century, the movement stirred in earnest with passage of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, the Food and Drug Act and many others. However, the modern consumerist trend began in 1962 when President Kennedy proclaimed what has become known as the Consumer Magna Charta.

The Magna Charta stated that the consumer has certain rights in the business community: the right to safety, to be informed, to choose and to be heard.

Dr. Stubbs said A&M's Consumer Research Center will expand work done previously by the Home Economics Research Department and the Division of Rural Home Research, both of which began in the College of Agriculture in 1926. The name was changed to Home Economics Research Department in 1955.

During those many years, research projects were aimed at foods, housing, food and clothing marketing, nutrition and textiles. Efforts will now be directed toward the complex problems of today in marketing, nutritional health, family life and residential housing.

It will operate as a free standing department of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station," Dr. Stubbs explained. "Cooperative projects will be developed with other disciplines and agencies away from the campus, as well as within in the A&M system."

The center's location will temporarily remain in the brick house in the corner of the parking lot across from Sbisla Dining Hall and next to the university hospital.

PURCELL HAILS ACTION ON DRAFT BILL

WASHINGTON, J.S. Representative Graham Purcell (D-Tex) today hailed the action of the Senate in voting to halt debate on the Draft Extension Bill and agreeing to send it to the President for his signature.

The veteran 13th District Congressman said, "The Senate should be praised for coming to its senses at long last by passing the 2-year extension of the President's draft authority. We were approaching a crisis situation regarding manpower for our national defense needs while the Senate conducted long months of debate which often sounded more like wrangling.

Two major issues holding up passage of the measure were the question of an all-volunteer army and the proposed Mansfield Amendment which would have set a specific deadline for ending the war in Vietnam.

"These are undoubtedly important issues," Purcell declared, "but to hold our immediate defense manpower needs as hostage to these questions was never, in my opinion, the most responsible course of action."

The 6-term legislator explained that the bill before the President is a temporary measure. "During its two-year life," he said, "we can deal with the long range issues such as whether or not to move to an all-volunteer army."

Visiting in the home of Gertrude Jones over the weekend was Dr. and Mrs. D.L. Matthews of Tonkawa, Okla.

Children Suffer Lack Of Vitamin A

College Station--Recent U.S. surveys show a substantial number of children suffer from some vitamin A deficiency, reports Sally Springer, Extension foods and nutrition specialist.

Although the situation is more widespread in poverty areas, middle class adults have also been found to have so little vitamin A in their bodies that night blindness, the first major sign of a deficiency, is becoming increasingly common, she continues.

Other effects of the vitamin A deficiency, including skin infections, respiratory tract infections and eye disorders, have been found in many American children and adults.

America's changing food and dietary habits may be responsible for the apparent deficiencies, Miss Springer explains. For example, the per-capita consumption of whole milk is on the decline, low-fat skim milk and skim milk are replacing it. When fat is removed from whole milk to make skim milk, so is the fat-soluble vitamin A. In order for skim milk to compare with whole milk in vitamin A content, it must be fortified with the vitamin.

And, she adds, Americans are eating fewer vegetables. Carrots, squash and dark leafy green vegetables are the major vegetable sources of vitamin A.

One researcher has even found many persons without vitamin A in their lives at death, and even greater numbers with very little. This is significant as fat-soluble vitamin A is stored in the liver, she says.

MOTHER OF 3 IS COLLEGE SENIOR

CANYON, Tex.--Mrs. Patricia Ahearn, 35, of (1713 W. 48th) Amarillo is the 1971 recipient of the Albessa Stephenson Scholarship at West Texas State University.

The $200 scholarship was established in 1966 by Charles H. Stephenson of Canyon in memory of his late sister, a longtime member of the university library staff.

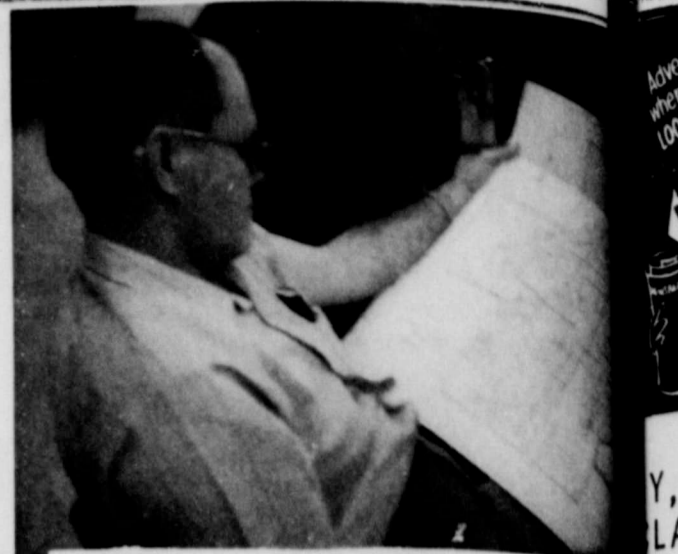

Mrs. Ahearn, mother of three sons, is a senior majoring in English. With a grade point average of 2.69 based on 3.0, she expects to be graduated in December after taking only 2 1/2 years to complete four years of college education.

Mrs. Ahearn, whose formal schooling was interrupted by marriage after graduation from high school, said she has wanted to become a school teacher for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keys were in Amarillo last week to do some shopping and attend the fair.

Arts & Crafts show at Library Nov. 6, 7

Mrs. Nancy Kirk Martin is in Lubbock visiting friends and relatives this week.

Lion Everett Tracy looks over a map of the city of Spearman. Lion Tracy will head a committee of Lions to place house numbers in front of every house in Spearman, as well as the business places downtown. Each home owner and business owner is asked to donate at least $1.00 in honor of the new house numbers. The club will use the money for local worth projects.

The tale comes out of Robert Frost's New England that a New Hampshire farmer was constructing a masonry wall on his place when a relative from another part of the state arrived.

The relative noted that the wall was four feet wide and only three feet high. "How come," he asked, "are you building it like that?"

"So when it blows over it will be higher than it was before," the farmer replied.

FOR YOUR NEW TYPEWRITER

Dear Customer:

This is to inform you that the Spearman Reporter has 20, re-built Royal Upright full size typewriters.

The typewriters are ideal for business, and school use. The machines sell for $260.00 new, and the Spearman Reporter will have a limited number of them (20) to sell for $150.00. Students, and business men alike may rent the machines for 12 mo. at $15.00 per month, and the machines will be theirs at the end of the 12 month period. This is an ideal buy for college students, and business men.

Bank financing will be available for everyone, wishing to finance their machines at the local bank.

The Spearman Reporter will also feature two roll-a tilt files, regularly priced at $167.50, for this special school sale both files for $200.00, or if you just want one, only $150.00.

The typewriters are all on pica type, and are ideal for school use, as well as business.

We guarantee these machines, and will stand behind each and every one of them...

Please inspect the machines as soon as possible. They will be in all colors, and we think you will find this is the greatest typewriter value ever offered in the Panhandle area.
