Pension Payments July 1.

Austin, June 10—These are questions that the people of Texas are asking. Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Old Age Assistance Commission, answers them:

Q—When will first pension payments be made?

A—July 1.

Q—Are you sure of this?

A—Yes, because both State and Federal pension money will be in the Texas treasury. Texas was granted only recently $1,181,250 by the United States government.

Q—How many of the aged past 65 years of age will be eligible?

A—As far as I can estimate now, there will be approximately 65,000.

Q—How much will each one receive?

A—Each one will receive up to a maximum of $20 a month, or $15 from the State and $15 from the United States. However, payments will be based upon need because of the Federal Social Security Law and the Texas Law. People who do not need as much as $30 will receive less. All payments considered, the average will be around $20 to each applicant who meets the requirements of the Texas law.

Q—Does not the Texas law require that each applicant for assistance be investigated?

A—Yes.

Q—Is it true that some payments will be only 95¢ or $10 per month?

A—Yes. Payments will be based on need. It is also true that payments will be $30 per month to those whose needs require it. However, the general average will be about $20 to each old person on the pension rolls. This average is in itself $5 a month more to each needy old person than he or she could get if Texas had a blanket pension program of $15 a month.

Tracing an Abstract.

A Louisiana attorney, retained by an oil company to trace the abstract of a deed, went back to 1803, the year Louisiana was bought from France. The company wrote the lawyer he would have to trace ownership of the land farther back than that, which he did in due time, reporting by letter as follows:

"Dear Sirs. I traced your deed back to 1803, but here it is complete from 1803: As you probably know, Louisiana was purchased from France in 1803, France had acquired Louisiana from the Spanish as the result of a successful war against the Spaniards. The Spaniards acquired Louisiana as the result of the explorations of an Italian named Columbus. Columbus was financially backed by Isabella and Ferdinand. Isabella and Ferdinand were given permission for Columbus' expedition by the Pope. The Pope is the vicar of Christ, Christ is the Son of God. God made Louisiana.

In a crowded street car sat a very thin lady greatly discomfited by the pressure of an extremely fat lady who sat next to her.

Turning to the fat lady, the thin lady remarked, icily: "They should charge by weight on these cars."

Fat lady: "But if they did, dearie, they couldn't afford to stop for you."

Liquor Control Board.

Austin, June 11.—Discouraged because they are finding it so expensive, bootleggers and others convicted of violating Texas new liquor law have already paid out approximately $50,000 in fines and court costs.

A number of others have been jailed.

These facts were revealed this week in a preliminary survey by the Liquor Control board's enforcement division.

"If we can continue to make it so costly, the people who are breaking the law will have it impressed on them that there's no profit out of their business, these people are to fold up and quit."

Actual money paid in fines amounted to $37,935.50, but an additional $11,914 in court costs brought the total to $49,849.50, Administrator Miller disclosed.

Counties in which convictions result are etched by the money paid in fines, he explained. Specifically, it goes to road and bridge funds.

Since the liquor control act went into effect, inspectors have filed 1569 cases and have disposed 784, leaving 785 pending. There have usually been from $10 to $100 but the maximum of $1,000 was assessed in a San Antonio case. The most severe jail sentence—60 days—was given a liquor-by-sale-drink violator in Houston.

"The Liquor Control Board's inspectors have encountered many difficulties in their enforcement work, but it has been uniformly successful where cooperation of local officials was forthcoming," Miller asserted. "Without the help of local authorities we cannot hope to accomplish as much as could be desired."

Miller said completion of the survey, which will include information from some counties yet unreported undoubtedly would show an increase to the amount of money paid in fines.

Dallas, Tex., June 6. — The Streets of Paris with the sensational picturization of Gay Paree bids fair to be the most popular spot on the entire Texas Centennial grounds.

Fashioned after the Latin Quatre of Paris, with a replica of the SS Normandie as the Centennial Club where royalty will be entertained, if royalty attends the Centennial Exposition. Three decks of the Normandie are devoted to Centennial Club rooms, two of these being air conditioned.

Famous for the peep shows, the grisettes, the sidewalk cafes, its casinos and dance pavilions, the Streets of Paris opens the Centennial with a bang. Featured as the stage show in attraction is Andre Laky's French Revue, with its 45 Continental Artists, and 24 Parisienne models. Another feature will be Francis Dittich's Art Institute, where living models will be sketched by visiting artists who seek to see how an art institute is run. Thirteen prominent artist models from Chicago have been brought here for this feature of the Streets of Paris.

Many sensational acts have been signed for the Streets of Paris to augment the French Revue. Among these are four high diving acts. Maudie, the world's famous high diver,

Taxation's High Toll

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

That government is best which governs least.

This was one of the axioms of our sturdy Americans of earlier generations. It's being forgotten today. Americans are getting a lot more government than their fathers got. And they're paying a lot more for it, too.

How much more? A recently published long-range study of governmental costs offers some interesting answers. It shows, for example:

That in 1850 approximately one cent out of every dollar earned in the United States was spent on the upkeep of government—federal, state and local.

That by 1900 the proportion had risen to six cents out of every such dollar.

That by 1929 government was taking twelve cents out of the dollar.

And finally: That by 1934 the toll had mounted to nineteen cents out of each income dollar.

Nor is that the entire story. Actually, government is spending more than it collects—and has been doing so for years. In 1934, the figures reveal, it spent approximately 35 cents out of every dollar earned by its citizens. The difference, of course, helped swell public debt.

What is the effect of this rising toll on the productive enterprise of our country? Let's consider it.

Money spent by government is, in general, unproductive. seldom does it create new opportunities for lasting employment. But money spent in private enterprise—in building homes, in expanding stores, in operating farms or factories—creates new wealth, new opportunities, new jobs.

To divert great sums from productive enterprises and individual pay envelopes into the hands of government spenders is, therefore, to limit every citizen's opportunity not only to work and earn, but to enjoy the full fruits of his toil. It is a barrier to re-employment.

America enjoyed its greatest expansion when government was economical and taxation small. It cannot recapture that swift progress so long as it is handicapped by a millstone of official extravagance and waste. Economy in government is, therefore, far more than a popular demand. It is an essential to both the progress of our nation and the prosperity of its people.

An "All-American" Platform

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman
Sentinels of the Republic

Within the next few weeks both major parties will write the platforms under whose pledges they ask the people of the United States to put them in power for the next four years.

What will those platforms include?

As this is written no one can say. But millions of Americans will agree that a time has come for all political parties, as well as for all citizens, to rededicate themselves to the American ideal of individual liberty. An "All-American" platform, based on that foundation, should include the following points:

Preservation of the Constitution, and of its guardian, the Supreme Court.

Restoration to the worker of his inalienable right to be self-supporting. This would include a withdrawal of the Federal Government from private business, and a policy of expending public funds by contracts awarded to the lowest bidder.

Vigilant protection of Freedom of Religion, Freedom of Speech and Freedom of the Press, and of the right of the citizen to retain the fruits of his labor.

Home Rule—a dominant principle in the American ideal of freedom!

Reduction of the horde of Bureaucratic public offices and officials that "harass our people and eat out their substance."

A balanced budget.

A sound currency—because a managed currency means a managed people. It discourages all long-range individual enterprise and menaces the savings and insurance of our people.

Cessation of the use of taxes for coercion or oppression of groups.

Simplification of tax statutes so the people generally will know how much government is costing them. Heavy taxation, whether direct or indirect, places a burden on all the people.

Civil Service standards, rather than the spoils system, as a basis of appointment of federal jobs.

Constitutional protection of the individual citizen in the right to live his life and conduct his affairs without being dictated to or spied upon by office-holders.

These points will be submitted to the platform-makers of both parties.

TWA Feels Texas Rush

DALLAS, Texas—Transcontinental-Western Airways officials report a tremendous traffic increase on their cross-country flights due to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas. Although the Exposition, a $25,000,000 World's Fair, does not open until June 6, the pre-exposition business already is having effect. TWA heads said. The line has direct "feeder" connection to Dallas, their coast-to-coast route.

House Deficiency Bill Passed by Senate

THE senate by a vote of 62 to 34 passed the deficiency bill carrying $2,375,000,000, of which $1,425,000,000 is handed to the President to spend as he pleases for "relief and work relief."

Three Democratic senators voted against the bill—Tydings of Maryland, Bulkley of Ohio and Byrd of Virginia.

The bill authorizes the President to order a restudy of reports on the $200,000,000 Florida ship canal and allocate another $10,000,000 to carry on work upon it during the coming fiscal year.

Civil War in A. F. of L. Expected Soon

ONE of the richest unions in the American Federation of Labor, having more than a million members, probably will be suspended soon by the federation's executive council, and at the next convention they will be expelled if the council can command the necessary two-thirds majority.

Green wants to continue to organize industry by skilled groups while Lewis would seek to unite all workers, skilled and unskilled, by industries into one big union.

The craft unionists, it was learned, intend to suspend the charters of the nine industrial unions at the July executive council session, a power granted the council under the A. F. of L. constitution.

Lewis' group of unions includes

400,000 miners, Sidney Hillman's Amalgamated Clothing Workers, David Dubinsky's International Ladies' Garment union, the oil workers, typographers, flat glass workers, hat, cap, and millinery workers, mine, mill, and smelter workers, and textile workers.

Liner Queen Mary Fails to Equal the Record

BRITAIN'S magnificent new liner Queen Mary was given an uproarious welcome at New York as she completed the first leg of her maiden transatlantic passage. The giant steamship behaved well in every way but fell short by 42 minutes of equaling the record set a year ago by the French liner Normandie.

The Queen Mary averaged 29.13 knots on a measured course of 3,158 nautical miles, between Cherbourg breakwater and Ambrose light, completing the journey between those two points in 4 days 12 hours 24 minutes.

Business Men Oppose New Guffey Coal Bill

BOTH the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers is firmly opposed to the new Guffey-Vinson coal control bill designed to replace the act declared invalid by the United States Supreme court.

Harper Sibley, president of the chamber, and James A. Emery, general counsel for the manufacturers' association, recalled, in almost identical language, that the most widely discredited phase of the defunct NRA was price fixing through codes. The new Guffey-Vinson bill, they said, like the old bill, is designed to establish price fixing by levying a prohibitory tax on products of mines which do not submit to its provisions.

"It is time," Mr. Emery said, "that we began to analyze these stop-gaps drafted hurriedly in an attempt to make permanent law of the things that are beyond control of congress and of the federal government; things which must, in the end, be harmful to the nation as a whole. Those who object to the new Guffey-Vinson bill do not even have an opportunity to present their valid reasons for objecting."

Pope, on His Birthday, Denounces Communism

CATHOLICS the world over celebrated the seventy-ninth birthday of Pope Pius XI, and the pontiff himself marked the day by attending a solemn mass in St. Peter's in the presence of 40,000 pilgrims who went to Rome especially for the occasion. These were mainly members of the Catholic Action organization which Pius XI founded, and to them he spoke for nearly an hour. He denounced communism, as he has done on other occasions, and declared the Catholic press was one of the best forces in combating the communists.

It was evident to all observers the pope's age is beginning to tell on him and that he found the long ceremony very much of a strain. That the pope's health is causing some concern also in Vatican circles was shown by the fact that the plans that were originally made for the pope to bless the crowd gathered in St. Peter's square from the outer balcony of the Basilica were abandoned at the last minute.

Japanese Find Excuse for Action in China

THERE was every reason to believe that Japan had found, or manufactured, excuses for further encroachments in northern China, and that serious conflict between the two nations would ensue unless China were submissive. The Japanese alleged that a bridge on the railway line between Tangku and Tientsin was destroyed and that there was an attempt to wreck a troop train. The highest Japanese officers in North China were summoned to a conference in Tientsin. Yukihiro Suma, Japanese consul general in Nanking, declared publicly that China must choose either "mutual interdependence with Japan or war with Japan," and he said he had informed Generalissimo Kai-shek, Chinese dictator, of this viewpoint. "Japan has gone too far to retreat now and must advance straight ahead with immutable convictions," Suma said.

The Japanese military command, meanwhile, disclosed frankly some of their demands upon China. These included:

- 1. Privilege of building railroads, military and civilian air bases and army barracks.
2. Establishment of regular air service between China and Japan.
3. An economic, political and military position for Japan in China.

STAR DUST Movie Radio By VIRGINIA VALE

IT LOOKS more and more likely that Paramount and RKO will merge in the not-so-distant future, which will mean another of those upheavals that take place every so often in the motion picture business. It's rather like shuffling a pack of cards; the same men bob up over and over.

And, curiously enough, some of those men are not too competent. One of the big shots who gets important jobs, over and over, has consistently been a company wrecker. (Incidentally, he's not among the Paramount-RKO assortment.) Yet when one company lets him out, another one takes him on.

Olivia de Havilland, who has climbed to the top so rapidly since she appeared in "Midsummer Night's Dream," remarked the other day she had tied up her income in a trust fund, allowing herself only $250 a week. (wise girl!) and that, furthermore, she'd spend her spare time between pictures in her home town, Saratoga, Calif., because there's nothing like a small town where you know everybody to deflate your ego.

Olivia de Havilland

A girl who'd grown up with her in that same small town declares that Olivia has always been one of the grandest girls alive, an opinion shared by every one who knows that very lovely young actress. And what a break for her that she's to play opposite Robert Montgomery in "The Marriage Clause." Working together they should make a team that movie fans will talk about for a long time to come.

"Show Boat" may be pretty hard on your pocket book, because you're going to want to see it over and over again. Compared with the stage play and the screen version made years ago, it comes out on top. A hardened movie goer who had never liked Helen Morgan, a man who had seen her at night clubs and on the stage, capitulated when he heard her sing "My Bill." Another one said he felt as if he'd never heard "Old Man River" till Paul Robeson sang it this time. And Irene Dunne's dance to "Can't Help Lovin' That Man" is worth the price of admission all by itself.

A new series of historical shorts is under way, and it's about time! Most of us remember what we see on the screen, so this ought to be the best possible method of teaching children history. The first one, "Song of the Nation," dramatizes the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner," and it's finished. Some of the other subjects are Lincoln's boyhood, the fall of the Alamo, the drawing up of the Declaration of Independence, the Louisiana Purchase and the duel between Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton.

Anna Sten, whose movie career went up like a skyrocket and came down like the rocket's stick, has returned from Europe, where she made a picture. No announcements yet about her making any more over here.

A lot of the movie stars of earlier days will be seen in the picture, "Hollywood Boulevard"; some of them have been slowly coming back to pictures, others have merely wanted to. Leatrice Joy had a test the other day. And one company has been dickered with Theda Bara, but she wants lots and lots of money.

Speaking of old-timers, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., has just about decided not to make pictures any more; all the talk about "Marco Polo" has come to nothing. He admits that he's been away too long, that picture-making has progressed too rapidly for him.

Fred Astaire has finally got things fixed to suit him. From now on he'll make just two pictures a year. And Ginger Rogers (who's had some very smart new sandals named for her, incidentally) will have a chance to go dramatic in some of the ones she makes without him. She insists that she doesn't want to be nothing but a dancer, and she's right. She should have a chance to show her other talents in acting and to develop them further in pictures.

ODDS AND ENDS... Harriet Hilliard will travel to California soon to play one of the leads in "Count Peter"... Ginger Rogers has written a song—"I Can't Understand It If You Can't Understand Me"; did both words and music... Sylvia Sydney's making a picture in England, and being urged to stay and make some more... Errol Flynn almost got deported because he forgot to renew his visa... Since James Cagney just won't make new pictures, his old ones are bobbing up again, and they're still good... Edna May Oliver is having a grand vacation, her first in a long time.

Lovely Lace Makes Lovely Brides

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

COMES now fashion's big moment to play up romance and the picturesque for the June bride-to-be is calling, calling for lovely gowns for herself and her attendants that shall group into a "perfect picture" on her wedding day.

What bride is not a "vision of loveliness"? Her gown is so carefully selected and fitted, her veil is made just so—to tulle perfectly to her individuality, to drape correctly, at the same time beguilingly over the head and down while the train must hang in just the right proportion and line with the dress.

Many a spring bride this 1936 found the expression of her dream of a vision of loveliness in a lace gown, and veil. With its importance in the current fashion picture generally it but follows in the natural sequence of events that lace should become first choice with brides. Now that the early brides have demonstrated how really lovely lace is for the wedding gown, June and midsummer brides-to-be have taken their cue and are enthusiastically planning their trousseaux in terms of beautiful lace.

Not only does the lace gown in itself enhance feminine charm to the utmost but lace for the bride brings up the splendor and richness of former periods, when lace played so important a part in the costumes of historical and royal brides. The fact of the lure of lace for brides was dramatically brought out in a "Bride-of-Two-Centuries" showing recently held in New York, in which fifteen period bridal costumes copied from those worn by prominent ladies in the last two hundred years was the feature. This bridal show was topped by the modern bridal party, done entirely in lace, in shades of azalea pink.

Which brings us to a very important subject—that of the fashion approval of color for the bride instead of the traditional all-white. A modern bride may wear lovely blush pink or ice blue or any tone or tint of her fancy.

One of the attractions of a "lace wedding" is that lace offers every opportunity to work out fascinating color schemes, for this existing flair for lace is not exclusive with the bride but the theme is carried out for bridesmaids as well. One of the newest gestures is that of lace dresses, with cunning lace capes for each bridesmaid.

Brides, too, are looking into the future in the selection of the wedding gown, having in mind a dress that may be worn later to social events. This feature is admirably interpreted in the very chic and lovely gown in the illustration. Since the full long train is detachable at the waist, the dress alone becomes perfect for the cocktail or dinner hour. The sweep of the train, and the smooth silhouette of the gown cut on true princess lines are the more lovely because of the lace of fine alençon of which this bridal gown is designed. The dress with its narrow waist and tailored neckline, buttons all the way down the front. Tulle is used for the veil which falls in a beguiling drape over the face and hangs quite long at the back.

The bride in the foreground chooses exquisite chintilly lace for her gown. It bespeaks an elegance of simplicity in every detail. The effective arrangement of the tulle veil adds greatly to the glory of the "picture."

HER SMART COAT
By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Mannish tailoring in suits and coats for grown-up ladies of fashion has its echo in boyish tailoring for the younger miss from toddlers to teen-agers. The cunning little girl here pictured in the double-breasted flannel coat is ready for an outing in the park, in a coat her little brother would envy. Broad lapels and wide notched collar are becoming. Fitted slightly at the waist for chic the coat is roomy and comfortable. Six smart bone buttons, masculine and substantial, trim the high double-breasted closing. This little model is the very sort that little girls are teasing their mothers to buy for them.

PASTEL TONES IN SUMMER TAILLEURS

Summer tailleurs are more fanciful than ever and synthetic fibers either are mixed with wool or replace wool entirely. Thibaut-Briou has made a specialty of novel fabrics for this type of tailleur. His collection includes several rayon crepes with a woolen appearance and some rayon serges, either plain or checked. Some of his woolen fabrics show the same chine effect produced with twisted rayon yarns that fleck the surface.

There are new mossy crepes with a woolly texture, also a number of pastel-colored fine woolens, spotted with brown or black rayon nubs or tufts. Some of these fabrics have a tweed-like appearance and are seen in very delicate pastel tones, including sweet pea colors.

Lace Dresses Continue to Be Tops at Paris Show

Lace dresses continue to be tops in Paris. They're shown in amazing variety and startling numbers by all the leading designers. To emphasize the importance of this material in the feminine costume, a ball was held recently at the Hotel George V at which only lace dresses were worn. Dull albino laces were much in evidence, particularly in dark shades such as midnight blue, purplish blue, grenat, eggplant and a dark tone of tortoise shell brown.

Evening Sandals

Cut-out sandals of gold or silver mostly with high heels are first in evening shoe fashions. It is considered very chic to wear these with very sheer pastel colored hose to either match or contrast with the dress instead of the perennial flesh colored ones.

Beaded Necklaces

Beaded necklaces as wide as collars and taking the place of collars are increasing in importance and desirability.

Gay Cotton Print Dress Easy to Make and Sure to Please Sprightly Maiden

Pattern No. 1882-B

The time for gay little cotton prints both for older sister and the younger set is at hand, and nothing could be simpler than this darling dress—so easy to make—so comfortable for nimble dears—and so smart to wear.

The French bodice effect and buttoned panel are cunning details which all little maidens love, especially the flared skirt, because it provides ample freedom for playtime. Decorative features are hidden in the contrasting collar trimmed with ruffled edging, and brief puff sleeves. The material may be a printed percale, lawn linen or gingham. If it is made in a plaid or checked gingham, you can omit the ruffled edging from the collar and make the collar of plain white pique.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1882-B is available in sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 35 inch material plus 1/2 yard for contrast. Send 15 cents for the pattern.

Tomorrow a New Day

FINISH every day, and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; for get them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely, and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense. Today is all that is good and fair. It is too dear, with its hopes and invitations, to waste a moment on the yesterdays.

Courage is a virtue of no doubtful seeming; there can be no contradiction, no diversity of opinion about it.—Richter.

The world's first coins came into existence in Lydia, Asia Minor, about 700 B. C., when a metal called electrum, a natural mixture of gold and silver, was used.

Two of the most interesting coins in the history of American money are the "Pine Tree" shilling, a silver piece minted in Boston in 1782, and the Spanish-American silver coins known as "pieces of eight."

Still Perfect After 22 Years.

Twenty-two years ago, Grace Gulden, 8224 Gilbert avenue, won prizes for perfection and now, as Centennial cashier, she's still rather perfect, as the right testifies. It was at the 1914 State Fair of Texas that Grace won her perfection prize, the prize-winning pose is shown at the left when she was only 2 years old. That makes Grace 24 years old now. In 1914, Grace was a perfect brunet and attractive. Now, she still is a brunet—and attractive.—The Dallas Dispatch.

The above was lauded under a picture of Grace at the age of 2 and 24 years of age.

Grace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gulden, who moved here from Dallas about ten years ago.

Olds Officials at Centennial

There were scrolls and scrolls and scrolls when the Oldsmobile good will caravan arrived in Texas. One, with more than 100,000 signatures, was presented to the people of Texas. Presenting these scrolls are, left to right, W. J. Bryan, zone manager at Houston; D. E. Halston, J. R. Austin, zone manager at Dallas, and L. J. Blunden, regional manager in the southwest.

Biggest Steer—3,100 Pounds of Beef

"Big Jim," once owned by the late Will Rogers, is the biggest steer in the world, weighing 3,100 pounds. Rogers raised Jim from a calf, then sold him and gave the proceeds to the Salvation Army. His present owners will display him at the Texas Centennial Exposition, opening in Dallas June 6, and turn over the admission profits to the Salvation Army's Home for Boys and Girls at Lytton, Cal., long a favorite of Rogers.

Old Scottish Words.

A correspondent of the Glasgow Herald submits the following samples of old Scotch words from East Aberdeenshire: "Mowse"—To say anything is mowse means it is uncanny or dangerous. "Connached"—Spoiled; clean connached would mean utterly destroyed or rendered useless. "Blaud"—To blaud anything would mean to soil it. A child would be told, "Dinna blaud your clean pina." "Gardies" or "Gaurdies"—A child's forearm. The last is a very old expression, but I have heard it used. "Sic bonnie gardies he has," means the baby has plump arms.
