DRY GEORGIANS CORE GOVERNOR

Her Spirited Away to State Constitutional to Avoid Mob Violence, Reiterating Protests of Innocence Cheerfully Faces
Sentence.

Atlanta, Georgia, June 21.—Sixteen members of the Georgia National Association of Women arrived at Governor Slaton's residence at 11 o'clock tonight to form a cordon in front of the residence. The Governor proclaimed martial law for a distance of a mile on each side of his home, and instructed Capt. Cheron, commanding the soldiers, to order a line of about seven hundred people and boys, in front of the residence to disperse.

Atlanta, Georgia, June 21.—Leo Frank, whose sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan was commuted to life imprisonment early in the year, began serving his term at the state prison farm at Milledgeville a few hours later.
He will be known as "Convict No. 13750."

Frank secretly took Frank by his automobile from the At-lantia to Milledgeville and soon after Governor Slaton gave out the sentence giving his reasons for changing the sentence which was to be executed tomorrow.

Frank was delivered at the state prison at 4:20 o'clock this morning.
It became known in Atlanta that Frank had gathered in the different streets. Within three hours demonstrations had resulted in the closing of all "near-beer" saloon clubs where liquor could be obtained.

Frank gathered on the capitol steps and listened to several speeches. One of these asserted that Frank had not been removed from the county jail. A committee was appointed to visit the jail to ascertain if Frank had or had not been removed. They responded to the crowd that they had not been removed to Milledgeville.
Frank began to march to "Five Cent Saloon" where demonstrations were held.

Frank tonight the throngs on the streets appeared quiet.
Marietta, 20 miles away, the home of Mary Phagan, Governor Slaton was hanged in effigy. An insult to the dummy read:
"Slaton, Georgia's traitor."

Governor went fully into defence when he commented the sentence of his 15,000 word statement.
His decision "may mean I will be in obscurity the rest of my life, but I would rather be in a field than to feel for the rest of my life that I had a good on my hands."

Frank did not know until a few days before he started on the train to Milledgeville that he was to be released that night. His distinctive eyeglasses were seen. He wore a slouch hat, and a few persons at the railway station did not recognize the prisoner. However his identity became known when the train reached the station at Griffin, and at Macon he was reported to be very nervous, and the support of the Sheriff was transferred from the train to an automobile.

Frank was released from the prison today, nevertheless he regained the outward appearance of a man who had been in prison for two years.
He again protested his innocence, expressed gratitude to Governor Slaton and said that he intuitively believed he at last had got a commutation of

SERMON BY HOMER L. MAGEE

(The following is condensed from a sermon preached in the Christian Church at Pecos, Texas, Sunday evening, June 20, 1915, by the minister, Homer L. Magee.)

A Funeral

When a minister is called into a home where death has entered and he has the full assurance that the deceased is "Safe in the arms of Jesus," then he has but to open the promises to find a "balm of healing" for the broken bleeding hearts To render such a service is one of the sweetest experiences of his ministry.

But when the preacher is called to conduct the funeral of one for whom, he is reasonably sure, there is no hope for Life,—how hard and exacting is such a service as that.
At such a time there are just two courses open for an honest man to follow. He cannot stultify himself and set at naught the Gospel by giving assurance of hope. He must either tell the whole truth about the life of the deceased, or else say nothing about his life.
The latter course is usually followed.

Suppose, however, the preacher told the whole truth, how would it suit the public ear? He could say of

The Christian

We are here to pay our last tribute to an honest Christian man.
In early life he heard and heeded the call of his God, accepted Christ as his Savior and conformed his life to the teachings of the Son of God. His moral character was a bove reproach. His heart was clean, and, therefore, his speech pure,—nothing unclean passed his lips. His word was as good as his note. Just and honorable were his dealings with his fellow man.

His Christian life was ideal. He loved the house of God,—the place of prayer and praise. With the Psalmist he said, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of Jehovah," and "I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness." To the best of his ability he did every good deed that was asked of him. He heard the orphan's cry, the widow's appeal, the call of a lost world, and responded. He gave his time and his money to extend the Kingdom.
Often did he lift his voice in prayer and he was not ashamed to speak a good word for Christ as he went among his fellows.

SPINELESS CACTUS FOR PECOS

A short time ago The Pecos Times announced the organization of the Texas Cactus Company with a capital stock of $100,000, and the company has now perfected plans whereby they are going ahead with the project establishing a big nursery for Spineless Cactus at Hermosa, near Pecos, Texas.

The company has engaged Mr. P.
R. Payne of Pecos as their superintendent and he has already assumed charge, and will look after the ploughing and the planting of approximately 26,000 spineless cactus slabs to begin with.

The Pecos Commercial Club has already welcomed this new industry, and cattle and dairy men in this section of the country will watch this new forage with keen interest.

Luther Burbank, the world's greatest horticulturist the man who after seventeen years work gave to the world what he terms his masterpiece, has just issued a set of books on this plant and plant life endeavors. In this publication the spineless cactus is rated, compared, with alfalfa, and corn as follows:

"Under favorable conditions the corn produces on a basis of about one ton and a half of food per acre.
"Alfalfa, the wonder crop, itself, produces as high as 5 tons of food per acre.

"The Burbank cactus, on equally good land, is now producing as high as 200 tons of food per acre.
"To express the comparison concretely, one plot of land which formerly produced $35, an acre in Indian corn now produces $1,200 per acre, annually in Burbank spineless cactus.

If merely by improving the common potato Luther Burbank has created an actual wealth comparable with that of the Standard Oil Company, what estimate can be made of the value of this new Burbank food cactus as a farm product, and with three billion acres of unproductive land to plant it to?"

The Texas Cactus & Cattle Company is financed solely by Chicago men and most of them are interested heavily in two large California companies already producing cactus for the market. It was because of their faith in the wonderful Pecos country that they were induced to come down into this section to start a nursery, and there is no doubt that Pecos will see immense acreage of spineless cactus set out in this great country.

The officers of the company,

Mr. and Mrs. Collins and baby

RETURNED FROM EXTENDED TRIP TO EAST TEXAS.

Hez Kountz and family of the Toyah Creek country returned to their home Sunday from a visit of three weeks in East Texas. They made the trip and return in their Ford.

When asked how the country around Kimble County was looking he said he couldn't see it for the brush, but stated that the folks in that section had been blessed with an abundance of rain.

The family enjoyed the diversion occasioned by the trip, were glad to again meet their old time friends but were elated to again be back home.

In summing up the trip, Hez's characteristic expression was: that

THE SCHOOL MASS MEETING

At Convention Last Friday Evening, Seven Men Were Suggested for School Trustees.

On Friday evening last a large number of our citizens met at the music hall for the purpose of discussing school matters and making selections of seven trustees as provided for by the new law.

Judge Ross called the meeting to order and Dr. Moore was elected as chairman; Albert Sisk was elected secretary.

After the purpose of the meeting had been stated the chairman called upon Judge Ross, who impressed upon the people the importance of selecting good men, who are well qualified and willing to serve the people as trustees. He stated, among other things, that because of the change in the law, the new trustees would have absolute control of the school, the selection of teachers and the expenditure of all the monies belonging to the district, and urged the people to select men who are not only well-qualified but also who have the best interests of the school at heart.

At the close of Judge Ross' talk the names of the following gentlemen were suggested by various patrons, in the order named, and the suggestions were unanimously approved, to wit:

- JAS. F. ROSS
- DR. JIM CAMP,
- S. M. PREWITT,
- B. G. SMITH,
- JNO. LILLEY,
- D. W. BOZEMAN,
- J. G. LOVE.

All of these gentlemen with the exception of Dr. Camp and Mr.
Love, who are out of town, have signified their willingness to serve should they be chosen by the people.

Judge Hubbard then offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That it is the sense of the citizens of Pecos, at this meeting assembled, that the persons nominated as candidates for the office of school trustees of Independent School District No. One, are well qualified for the office and that they will receive our hearty support at the polls. It is further

Resolved: That it is desirable that the election be held at an early date, in order that there may be as little hiatus as possible between the old form of school government and the new, and that we may not be long without officers in charge of our schools; and that Saturday, July 3rd, would be a convenient day for such an election. It is further

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be handed by the secretary to Hon. Ben Randals, County Judge of Reeves County, Texas, who is hereby respectfully requested to call such election for said day.

Judge Randals has called the election for Friday, July 2, that date being chosen because of a barbecue at Barstow on the 3rd.

All voters are urged to go to the polls and vote.

If you want to know where to find something good to eat, look in

CONFEDERATE GRAYS MEET GERMAN SAILORS

Fort Worth Veterans Returning From Reunion Visit Interned Ships at Newport News, Va.

Saluted with a spirited rendition of "Dixie" and by salvos off cheers when they visited the interned German cruisers Eitel, Frederick and Kron Prinz Wilhelm, at Newport News, en route home from the recent Richmond convention, Fort Worth Confederate Grays responded with a rousing "rebel yell." They fraternized with the German sailors, sang Confederate songs and cheered the German national airs played by the ships' bands.

This was only one of the series of interesting and enjoyable experiences of the Fort Worth veterans during their Richmond trip. A dairy kept by P. H. Goodloe, official "reporter," gives an entertaining account of the excursion.

Goodloe speaks highly of the reception given the old soldiers by Richmond citizens and tells of the selection of General Young as commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans after a spirited contest. At the close of the convention the Fort Worth delegation went to Washington, where they called at the White House and visited the Panama building, the national museum, the capitol and treasury building. They took steamer at Washington and journeyed down the Potomac to Norfolk, viewing en route Washington's home at Mount Vernon, Old Point Comfort, and Hampton Roads, where the Confederate ironclad Merrimac played havoc with the Federal fleet. At the navy yard they went aboard the Prinz Eitel and Kron Prinz Wilhelm and viewed with amazement the big guns of the battleship Vermont.

In the government armory they saw the guns of the frigate Constitution and the cannon captured by Jackson during the battle of New Orleans. Among those accompanying the veterans on their sight seeing trips were Miss Mattie and Mamie Whitley, Jessie Hancock, Mrs. Dorsey, all of Fort

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

I---Introductory

Through the Press Service of Agriculture and Commerce, the master minds of this nation will be invited to the public forum and asked to deliver a message to civilization. Men who achieve seldom talk, and men who talk seldom achieve. There is no such thing as a noisy thinker, and brevity is always a close companion to truth.

It will be a great privilege to stand by the side of men who can roll in place the cornerstone of industry; to associate with men who can look at the world and see to the bottom of it; to commune with men who can hear the roar of civilization a few centuries away.

Too often we listen to the rabble element of our day that cries out against every man who achieves, "Crucify him." Mankind never has and probably never will produce a generation that appreciates the genius of its day. There never will be a crown without a cross, progress without sacrifice or an achievement without a challenge.

This is an age of service, and that man is greatest who serves the largest number. The present generation has done more to improve the condition of mankind than any civilization since human motives began their upward flight. The Greeks gave human life inspiration, but while her orators were speaking with the tongues of angels, her farmers were plowing with forked sticks; while her philosophers were emancipating human thought from bondage, her traffic

Worth; Miss Eugenie Sellers of Decatur and Gen. E. W. Kilpatrick, commander of the Third Brigade.

Returning to Fort Worth, the old soldiers stopped off at Chattanooga, where they visited Look-out Mountain and the battlefields overlooking the city. Reaching Corinth, Miss., Capt. George Holland secured an automobile in which they were driven to the Shiloh battleground. They saw the famous old Shiloh church, and the oak tree under which Gen. Albert Sydney Johnson died.

The veterans have adopted resolutions thanking Fort Worth business men and bankers and the press for the financial assistance that made the trip possible.

EXPERT OPINION ON VALUE OF SCHOOL GARDENS-

"The School garden idea is not a fad," declares Dr. C. D. Jarvis of the United States Bureau of Education.

It is an outward expression of an inborn belief on the part of hundreds of teachers and educators throughout the United States and other lands that children used some kind of active experience to vitalize their school studies. It is also an expression on the part of thousands of parents of the belief that in order to acquire habits of industry and to appreciate the dignity of labor, boys and girls at an early age should be encouraged to engage in some kind of wholesome employment.

The various welfare associations the International Child Welfare League in particular, are embracing the garden movement with the belief that through it thousands of boys and girls may be saved from the evils attending confinement in the shops, the mills and the mines. There have been failures in this work, due to preventable causes, and they have served to make us more cautious in the work, and have helped us to formulate plans for the future development of the work. Although school officials generally appreciate the importance of gardening, they have been slow to take it as a part of the school program. They would like to see the work standardized and a definite program substituted for the chaotic mass of recommendations. The lack of well organized example of garden activities has probably been the retarding factor.

To satisfy the demand for some definite information, Dr. Jarvis points out, the United States Bureau of Education recently conducted a survey of the school garden

EXERCISE CARE IN WASHING VEGETABLES

It Is Very Unpleasant to Find Tiny Green Specks Crawling on Edge Of the Salad Plate.

The utmost care should be taken in washing lettuce, radishes, celery, parsley, spinach, asparagus and new cabbage. After a rain, especially, the garden lettuce is often very sandy, and sometimes the tender outside leaves are covered with mud and if carelessly cleaned and washed, it not only loses its looks, but is not as crisp and tasty, and often the sand remains in the center.

The best way is to put the whole head in a pan of cold water, taking hold at the root end and plunging it up and down several times, then separate the leaves and put in plenty of fresh, cold water, let it stand for some time, lift out carefully and put in colander or wire lettuce strainer; look at it carefully that sand and salad lice are off. You may have to repeat two or three times. It is very unpleasant to find a little green speck crawling on the edge of the salad plate, and the only way to overcome it without crushing or hurting the lettuce is in handling it correctly.

While this is not celery season, there is still plenty of market which is good for salad and stewing. When using it for salad it should be well washed, before cutting it into small pieces.

Parsley should be carefully washed as soon as it is delivered, all water removed by shaking it, then put into a paper bag and placed in the refrigerator; it is much easier cut or chopped if taken care of in this way.

A word about asparagus, especially after a rain. One should be careful how it is washed. It should be put in a pan of cold water and plunged up and down so the sand which lodges in the tips will be removed without crushing the tips.

New cabbage should be very carefully cleaned, as the early cabbage often has a small green worm, which sticks close to the cabbage, and some times water will not remove it; it should be cut away the same as a bed speck on cabbage.

Radishes must be washed in plenty of water, then trimmed, before putting on the table.

SIMPLE CANNING PROCESS

Substitute Suggested for Elaborate Method Often Practiced

A simple substitute for the elaborate canning processes now in use is a bright new wash boiler. A galvanized boiler is better than a tin one, as the former will not rust.

In canning vegetables, the vegetables are packed in jars and the jars filled with boiling water. The jars should be stood in hot water while being filled, to prevent breaking. Place boards in the bottom of the boiler, for the jars to stand on, and fill the boiler with water well up the sides of the jars, but not far enough to float them. Put rubber rings on the jars, but do not put the covers on; these may be dropped in between the jars.

Some persons seal the jars at once, others prefer to scrow on the lids and allow to stand until the next day, then boil again. There is less danger of spoiling if this is done. Put the jars in cold water and boil half as long as the first day, after the water begins to boil.

Fruit may be canned in the same way. Pack the jars with fruit and fill with a boiling syrup varying the

DUCAL ETIQUETTE

The late Alfred Vanderbilt, at a dinner in his London flat at the corner of Park Lane and Piccadilly, once said to an American guest:

It isn't true that an American, when he visits a great English country house, is embarrassed and doesn't know how to act. Good manners are good manners everywhere. If you know how to act at a quick lunch counter, you will know how to act in a duke's castle.

TOO DEEP FOR SARCASM

A gentleman who is courteous by nature, patient by practice and not sarcastic, because he believes sarcasm is cheap and common, went into a busy downtown store to get a staple article.

When a clerk finally dragged himself up en with the customer, he gave him a deliberate "once over" and inquired wearily, "What is it?"

The customer's voice carried a smile with it as the desired article was named.

"Haven't got it," said the clerk. The gentleman asked for an article of a different brand that costs twice as much. Without a grunt, the clerk fetched it and sauck it into the customer's hands. He wasn't even curious enough to know if there was anything else.

"I am certainly much obliged to you," the customer said in his politest tone, as he paid the clerk. "Really, I can't find words to express my gratitude for this great favor."

The clerk stared at the customer, didn't see how one of his artistic temperament could do aught else.

The customer must have been spoofing though, for he hasn't been back to that store to do anything in return for the clerk's trouble.

HIS VIEWS

"Why do these old English country houses have a well in the garden?" I should suppose the well would be the better thing, for the reservoir contains mud and the water throws 'em around."

"I think fountain pens is a poor name," said the party of the second part.—Kansas City.

"I wouldn't like to be a submarine now."

"Why not?"

"Gosh, a man is liable to get submarine in his backyard."

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS DOMESTIC SCIENCE LABORATORY; FUTURE HOUSEWIVES LEARNING FOOD VALUES

Statisticians estimate that $9,000,000,000.00 is spent annually in the United States to satisfy the primary wants of man; food, shelter, clothing. Women spend three-fourths of this vast sum. Is it not the part of wisdom for the state to see to it that they are equipped to spend this money judiciously? To teach the future housewives of Texas this important art is being attempted with splendid success by the University of Texas, at Austin, through its department of domestic economy. Girls are here afforded scientific instruction in all that pertains to home-making. The student is taught to judge textiles properly, the elements of dress-making, home decoration, the value of home-furnishings, food values, cooking, and so on. In short, girls are given a thorough course in the science and art of home-making.

"AS SHE IS SPOKE"

William Lackey, the player, is a stickler for correct English on and off the stage, and he never loses an opportunity to put the erring on the right path in this respect.

One afternoon Mr. Lackey walked into a New York drug store and stated to a clerk his need—a man's comb.

"Do you want a narrow man's comb?" was the inquiry addressed to him.

"No," said Mr. Lackey, with the utmost gravity. "What I desire is a comb for a stout man with rubber teeth."—Lippincott's Magazine.

OPPORTUNITY MISSED

"It's a great pity," said the convicted burglar to his counsel, "that you couldn't have made that closing speech of yours at the opening of the case."

"I don't know how that would have improved matters," said the advocate.

"It would, though," explained the client. "Then the jury would have been asleep when the evidence came on, and I'd have stood some chance."—New Orleans States.

"Pessimistic, is he?"
"To the ultimate limit. He couldn't even imagine a castle in the air without a mortgage on it."—Judge.

82 NEW LAWS

Austin, Texas, June 21.—Out of 156 laws passed at the regular session of the 34th legislature, 82 of them became effective Sunday, it being 90 days after adjournment of the regular session. One of the laws of considerable importance is an act which permits corporations to contribute to the chambers of commerce and other bona fide commercial organizations in the state. Another act prohibits betting on elections in Texas, and provides a fine upon conviction of from $100 to $1000 and confinement in the county jail 20 to 60 days. An important sanitary measure makes it compulsory for restaurants, boarding houses, etc., to sterilize their dishes, cooking utensils, etc., in boiling water before being used.

This is a brief summary of the important laws that are now effective: Requiring hotels, restaurants, cafes and public eating houses to sterilize all dishes, cooking utensils, etc., and requiring that clean napkins be furnished; penalty $5 to $100.

Appropriating $100,000 for wolf bounty, wild cats and jack rabbits. Reorganizing the 28th and creating the 79th judicial district.

WHEN PRESIDENT WILSON pressed the button to open the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the electric impulse that was flashed across the Continent started a great Busch-Sulzer-Diesel Engine in the Palace of Machinery. Texaco Urso Oil is the only lubricant that has ever been used on this splendid machine.

Knowing that this engine would attract great attention, the builders took particular pains to secure the best possible accessories for the production of maximum efficiency. Their choice of

was made after numerous tests.

Though the Diesel Engine is a new prime mover, it has received so much attention and study from the Lubricating Engineers of the Texas Company that we are able to lubricate it efficiently and economically, and we hold the leadership in this particular class of lubrication.

This is a fair example of Texaco Service, the service which means that we can give you an oil exactly suited to any condition of speed, heat, or pressure, for steam engines, gas engines, turbines, ice machines—anywhere a piston moves or a wheel revolves.

We invite you to get in communication with our nearest office and let one of our representatives show you the Red-Star-Green-T products of quality.

AUTOLOADING SHOTGUNS

ANY way you look at it, the Autoloader is the highest development in modern shotgun design. It puts five loads at your disposal by merely pressing the trigger. It puts the recoil to useful work—to eject the empty and slip in the fresh shell.

It saves the gunner's shoulder—rids his sport of annoyances—increases his shooting average.

Your danger is that in your enthusiasm over the autoloading principle, you may forget to insist on getting the finest embodiment of that principle—the Remington-UMC Autoloading Shotgun.

The peculiar advantages of the Remington-UMC are too many to detail here. What you want to do is to get one of the Remington-UMC dealers in this section to demonstrate them to you on the gun itself.

The Fair Association had a meet-has occurred by the moving away

Why submit a case to a jury of twelve men if the governor has the power to set aside the verdict of a jury that has been selected and chosen by both the prosecution and the defense and who has heard all the evidence both for and against the defendant and has heard the law as given by the trial judge; then this jury of twelve select men has given judgment, finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree, and he is sentenced to be hanged. All the Courts of the state, and even the Supreme Court of the United States declare that he has had a fair and impartial trial, but the governor, with his supreme authority, intervenes, and sets aside the verdict of the jury and also the sentence of the trial judge who heard all the testimony and ruled in the case, both for and against the defendant. Then the governor, by his action, sets aside these judgments and commutes the sentence from hanging to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary. We must have a change in the law; we must have the right of trial by jury repealed, or the finding of a jury must be final.
There should be no appeal from the finding of a jury of twelve men. I would rather risk my life in the hands of a jury of twelve men as to take the chance with one man.
It is said that in the "multitude of council there is wisdom." Let the finding of a jury of twelve intelligent men be final, and that the governor not be permitted to interfere with the findings of a trial jury.

PECOS INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT.

An election has been called by the County Judge, Ben Randal, for Friday, July 2nd, to elect seven trustees for the Pecos Independent School District. The citizens of this school district called a convention last Friday night and nominated seven good men to serve as trustees for the next twelve months, for this independent district. The district is composed of School District No. 1, and the School District to the South of Pecos in the Crystal Water country. It is the duty as well as the privilege of every good citizen to come out on said election day and cast his vote for some good citizen to fill the office as trustee for the school. The seven men that were nominated last Friday evening are as follows:
Judge Jas. F. Ross, Jim Camp, Sam Prewitt, D. W. Bozeman, Jno.
Y. Lilley, B. G. Smith, and J. G.
Love. Now let every man that feels an interest in the Public School of Pecos come out and cast his ballot for some good man that will feel his interest in the school.

LANSING GIVEN PER- MANENT POST.

Is Appointed Secretary of State By President Wilson And Accepts Position.

Washington, D. C., June 23.—Robert Lansing, secretary of state ad interim, since the resignation of Wm. J. Bryan, has been definitely selected by President Wilson for the permanent post, and has accepted.
Formal announcement will be made at the White House at 5 p. m. today.

Mr. Lansing, who is a son-in-law of former secretary of state John W.
Foster, became councillor of the state department upon the retirement of John Bassett Moore, and has been regarded as President Wilson's mainstay on questions of international law in all the difficult negotiations thrust upon the United States by the European war.

It was a matter of common remark that he commanded the respect and admiration of the foreign chancelleries here to a marked degree.

Mr. Lansing's home is in Water-ton, N. Y., and he is just past 50 years of age. Since 1889 he has practiced law, but he began his diplomatic work in 1892 when he became counsel for the United States in the Behring Sea arbitration.

Soon afterwards he became the counsel for the United States Behring sea claims commission and following that was solicitor for the Alaskan boundary tribunal. In 1909 he was counsel in the North Atlantic coast fisheries case at the Hague.

BUY IT IN TEXAS CAMPAIGN STARTS

State Labor Commissioner Woodman Outlines Movement to Benefit Factories and Unemployed.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 22.— The "Buy it-in-Texas" movement, fostered by State Labor Commissioner C. W. Woodman, was launched here this morning by about 1200 delegates who met in convention at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

The convention organized with Clarence Miller of Dallas, formerly of Fort Worth, as temporary chairman. It was opened by C. W.
Woodman, who also delivered an address.

Among the prominent visitors was Governor Jas. E. Ferguson, who was the principal speaker. He said the influence of the administration had been placed behind the movement at the request of the labor commissioner. His address was what he termed a "corn bread and cabbage speech," and his remarks frequently evoked applause as did those of Mr. Woodman.

Governor Ferguson's complimentary reference to President Wilson, whom he described as the best President that ever breathed, one not desirous of leading an army of soldiers, but of leading an army of employed men, was received with cheers.

Commissioner Woodman's speech dealt with the industrial condition of the state, as revealed by his research since he has been in office.
He advocated the "Buy-it-in-Texas" movement as a remedy for jobless workmen and idle factories. The motto of the convention should be he declared, "Texas products for consumption and Texas labor for production."

The convention was called to order at 10:30 o'clock after the vis-ity to inspect the manufacturers' displays in show windows in all parts of the city and those in the Chamber of Commerce. Every line of the manufacturing industry was represented in the display of goods made in Texas, ranking from bricks to automobile trucks and from candy to coal fresh from the mines at Bridgeport.

An educational institution, Kidd -Key College of Sherman, was represented by an exhibit of works of art and practical devices in that line prepared by its students and considerable stress was laid on Mrs.
Kidd-Key's campaign of advocacy of "buy your education in Texas" by Mrs. Garfield Crawford, who is in charge of the exhibit.

Mayor Tyra of Fort Worth delivered an address of welcome to the delegates. He presented C. W.
Woodman, State Labor Commissioner, who said:

"We are meeting here today in response to a call from the unemployed—the unemployed wage earner, and the unemployed manufacturer.

"There is not a community in Texas where there are not wage earners seeking employment and in vain. There is not a manufacturing institution in Texas employed to its capacity.

"My first thought after taking office was of the unemployed wage earners of Texas; who were more numerous then than ever before in the history of our State and there has been but little improvement since.

"An investigation was set on foot the result of which quickly convinced me that the people of Texas had the remedy right at hand, that this remedy applied would not only provide remunerative employment for our own unemployed, but for a great many more.

This investigation disclosed the fact that Texans are not supporting their own manufacturing institutions except in a very limited way. It discloses the fact that 70 per cent of most of the articles consumed are purchased from beyond the borders of Texas, while home factories were manufacturing similar articles of equal quality and selling them at as low a price.

"Believing Texans would change this policy if made to understand what the result would be, the Bureau of Labor Statistics entered into correspondence with business organizations, with prominent business men, with representatives of organized labor, with officials of the Farmers' Union, with representatives of Womens' Federated Clubs, and our inspectors were instructed to interview as many persons as possible in as many cities as possible. The result is the convention

TEXAS CATTLE MAKE A NEW RECORD.

Kansas City, June 22, 1915.— Texas Cattle established a new record here yesterday and today, when a shipment in by C. O. Keiser, of Canyon, Randall County, Texas sold at $9.25, $9.15 and $9.10 these prices being the highest ever paid for any Texas fed cattle on any open market in the middle west. The cattle were handled and sold by Clay, Robinson & Co., the well known commission firm with offices at all markets. These cattle were Herefords, were fed kafir corn and sorghum silage, ground kafir corn and milo maize and kafir corn fodder, as well as two lbs of cotton seed meal a day during the past ninety days. Mr. Keiser, on June 18th, 1913, with the assistance of Clay, Robinson & Co., established a record of $9.00 for 965-pound yearling steers. Following are the weights of cattle sold yesterday and today: 24 head 1314 pounds, $9.25; 34 head, 1358 pounds, $9.25; 38 head, 1255 lbs., $9.15; 46 head, 1405 pounds, $9.10.
These cattle were pronounced by experts as being the equal to cattle coming from any section of the United States.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones.
Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

Sticking Pins in Nutmegs

That is the expert's way of telling the good ones. The natural oil in the nutmeg is what gives it its flavoring qualities—the more oil there is the greater the nutmeg's value for flavoring.

Stick a pin in a nutmeg that is full of this oil and oil will ooze out of the pin hole when the pin is withdrawn—little or no oil will follow the pin if the nutmeg is a poor one. So you see wherein two tins of perfectly pure nutmeg may differ widely in flavoring value—the one kind being ground from oily nutmegs and the other from nutmegs that could not pass the pin sticking test.

You must be certain that besides being pure the ground nutmeg you buy is oily nutmeg. Looks tell in a way—the oily kind is a smooth, rich brown—the other kind looks more grainy and is speckled with black woody particles. Your best assurance is to buy a brand that is packed by a company of integrity and reputation—and so packed that no portion of the flavor is lost through evaporation. Every bit of White Swan Ground Nutmeg is made from nutmegs that have, in the highest degree, passed the pin-sticking test—that are full of the oil that flavors. That's why White Swan Nutmeg costs a little more but, because it takes so little to give a rich flavor, is so economical to use. Your grocer sells and recommends White Swan Nutmeg—and other White Swan Goods—ask him.

THE WONDERFUL AEROSCOPE, HIGHER THAN THE FERRIS WHEEL, GIVES VISITORS MARVELOUS VIEW OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPOSITION

VISITORS ON THE AEROSCOPE 265 FEET ABOVE THE EARTH

THE GIANT FRAME OF THE AEROSCOPE AS IT APPEARED UNDER CONSTRUCTION

For the seeker of amusement there is opportunity a-plenty in the unique mechanical achievement, the Aeroscope, on "The Zone," at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The Aeroscope resembles a giant crane of a novel and intricate design, its steel construction recalling that of the Bascule bridge. At the extremity of the long arm of the crane is a two-story car with a seating capacity for 100 persons and standing room for 20 more. At the short end of the crane is a giant mass of concrete, which serves as a counter-balance for the long arm of the crane. Beneath the car are two great water tanks, which take on water or discharge it as passengers enter or leave the car, thus always preserving the balance to a nicety. When, for example, a man weighing 160 pounds enters the car an amount of water of equal weight is released from the tank, and when the passenger departs 160 pounds of water are automatically discharged into the tank below the car. The car ascends without perceptible motion, and perfect safety and a jarring ride of ten minutes is assured to passengers while enjoying this trip of 265 feet into the clouds, or four feet higher than the Ferris wheel. Two motors control the ascent and descent in conjunction with the counter-balance of the huge car, and when it reaches its extreme height it begins to swing slowly around on the wheels at its base, giving a magnificent view of the exposition, of San Francisco bay and of the city of San Francisco.

UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS IDEALLY LOCATED

By popular election in September, 1881, the University of Texas was located in Austin. The wisdom of this election becomes increasingly apparent as the years go on. Three regions typical of a vast extent of the state lie contiguous to Austin: (1) the picturesque hills of the Edwards Plateau to the west, a typical ranching country; (2) the rolling prairie to the north and east, a sample of the great blackland cotton belt of Texas; (3) to the south the Colorado river bottom, a region of large plantations, reminiscent of the earliest settlements of Texas, when colonists sought the rich bottom lands, and similar to the very productive sections on the Brazos, the Trinity, and other smaller rivers. It is particularly fitting that the State University, the head of the public school system of the state, where thousands of students, rich and poor, from every portion of the state come early for instruction, should be located in a section that sums up in itself such a vast extent of the commonwealth which it serves.

Lake Austin from the craggy side of Mt. Bonnell.

The above photograph was taken a few miles above the University boat-house on Lake Austin, where the magnificent lake, thirty-five miles long, and over a mile wide in places, invites the busy young Texans to wholesome outdoor sports when the drill of class and laboratory instruction for the week is ended.

Improve the Alfalfa Fields

In traveling over the El Paso valley the writer has had a chance to observe a great many farms and it has been thought advisable to call the farmers' attention to the condition of some of the alfalfa fields and to suggest a means of improving them.

There are a great many fields in this valley that are not producing the yields of alfalfa that they should. Some of these fields have been seeded to alfalfa for a number of years, and the stand is not uniform. In other words, the vacant spots in the fields have been allowed to go unseeded, and as a result Johnson grass and other noxious weeds have taken the place of the alfalfa. By allowing the grass and weeds to grow in the fields the quality of the hay is not what it should be, especially where the alfalfa is placed on the market. It has occurred to me to suggest a method of treating such fields, and the method that I am going to suggest will be one that will not only improve the condition of the soil, but will be very profitable.

To those farmers who have fields such as I have described, I would suggest that you plow them as deep as possible after the last cutting. By turning under the alfalfa, nitrogen is supplied to the soil, and there will be large quantities of organic matter added to the soil. The land should be disced and harrowed, so as to break up the clods. It will be necessary to double disc the field in order to get the clods reduced. The tooth or acme harrow is a good implement to pulverize the soil. The clumps of alfalfa are very hard to get reduced fine enough for a good seed bed.

After the land has been prepared, I would suggest that some good variety of hard wheat be planted. Good results can be obtained by planting the seed the middle of November. In order to insure a uniform stand, there are two things that are essential to keep in mind. First, the seed should be selected as good seed always produce a larger head and more stems than poor seed. The seed should be plump and heavy, as the difference in yield between heavy and light seed is about five bushels per acre.

To guard against smut, it is a good idea to spray the seed with formaline. Make a solution containing one pound of formaline to about 50 gallons of water. This mixture should be sprayed on the seed grain, thoroughly mixing it as the application is made. After the grain has remained in the pile two or three hours spread it out to dry.

The second factor that is essential in getting a good stand of wheat is the method employed in planting. The best way to plant wheat, if the land has been properly prepared, is with a drill. The drill will distribute the seed more uniformly and the seed will be covered more evenly. When a drill is used one and one-half bushels (90 lbs.) should be sown to the acre. If broadcasted, more seed will be required to insure a good stand.

The seed can be sown either before or after irrigating, but I would suggest planting before irrigating and then as soon as the field is dry enough, a harrow with the teeth set back should be run over the ground to break up the crust. This will not disturb the seed, but will be beneficial in getting a good germination. At all times during the growing period the land must be kept in a fairly moist condition. As a rule, the last irrigation should be given when the wheat is in the dough stage. This should give the plants enough moisture to fully mature the crop and leave the field dry at the time of cutting.

Wheat planted in November can be pastured for a short time in January. By keeping the wheat grazed down, but not too close, it will have a tendency to stool out more and a larger yield of stems will result. Wheat grown on alfalfa lands, provided it has had proper attention, should yield from 35 to 40 bushels per acre. The profit from such yields should be about $20 per acre.

After the wheat crop has been taken off the land, the ground can be prepared for one of the grain sorghums or June corn. This will enable you to get two crops from the land and if either Fetterita or Kafir corn is planted as the second crop the yield of grain should be at least 50 bushels per acre. The most profitable way to market the grain from Kafir or Fetterita is to feed it to hogs or cattle. Hogs that have been provided with a suitable pasture will not need a great deal of grain to put them in first class shape for the market. The statement has been often made that it does not pay to raise such crops on high priced lands and if these crops are raised as a cash crop I believe the statement true. On the other hand if the grain and stalks are fed to some form of livestock it will pay to raise these kind of crops.

After harvesting the second crop the land can be prepared for another crop of wheat or barley. It is best to bridge from alfalfa to alfalfa over a period of two years or more. This method should get the field clean of grass and weeds and the alfalfa sod will be broken up so that a good seed bed can be obtained. When the field is reseeded to alfalfa wheat can be grown as a pasture crop.

If there are any farmers in the valley that are contemplating plowing up their alfalfa fields and want any more information I would be glad to have them communicate with me.—A. C. GRAHAM, County Farm Demonstrating Agent, in El Paso Herald.

WEDDING

COWAN—THOMAS

The Times is sure pleased to make mention of the marriage of one of Pecos' most prominent young men, Marvin Cowan.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents at Abilene, Rev. Geo. Truett of Dallas officiating, on Tuesday, July 22nd, 1915, at 4:30 o'clock p. m.

The groom is the son of our esteemed citizens, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cowan, and is a young man of sterling qualities, and numbers his friends here by the scores.

The bride, Miss Lilly Thomas, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Thomas, who are among the most prominent people in Abilene. She is a young lady of unusual merit, and talented, and is well qualified to grace with honor the new home which will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowan went to El Paso on a short honeymoon and arrived in Pecos yesterday, where they will make their home for the present.

The Times heartily joins with their numerous friends in wishing them a long, happy and prosperous voyage down through life and may their pathway be strewn with roses.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A young man approached an elderly gentleman of considerable experience and said:

"Please tell me what should be the first thing a young man should do when going into business?"

"The elderly man answered and said:

"Advertise then advertise again."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Miscellaneous—

SERMON BY

'HOMER L. MAGEE

His lips are sealed, but his words of kindness will live in men's hearts. His hands and feet are lifeless, but his deeds will never die. For "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth: yea saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; for their works follow with them."

How different would be the whole truth concerning a mere

Church Member

The deceased "joined the Church" years ago under the preaching of Bro. Soinso. If his peculiar beliefs were attacked he always defended them, but a man could curse the Lord whom he claimed to worship, and he would never raise his voice in protest. He was very inactive in his church life. If conditions were quite favorable, he would attend a protracted meeting at the Lord's house, but that house as a place for prayer and for quiet worship did not appeal to him. His ears were deaf to the Apostle's warning, "not forsaking our own assembling together, as the custom of some is."

When the offering was asked for the widow and orphan, he gave a mite, though he possessed hundreds. The call of the heathen world was unheeded by him on the ground that we needed the money at home, and he was careful not to supply much of that need.

There is some question about his standing before the world. It is said that he was very negligent about his obligations. Men much preferred his note to his word. His language was not chaste. In a word his christianity was questionable, and I would not take his chances before the bar of God's judgment,—not for the universe.

Again the preacher must conduct the funeral of men who make no claims to christianity. If he told the truth about

The Sinner

He would say: He was raised by a godly mother who taught him from boyhood the story of "Jesus and his love." He used to kneel by his bedside and pray:

"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray thee, Lord, my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray thee, Lord, my soul to take."

He was for several years a member of our Bible School, but when about twelve years old he quit the Bible School, he ceased to pray as his mother taught him, he went out and joined the "crowd." In spite of his teaching, his mother's prayers and pleadings, he went the "gaits."

He used to recite the Scripture, "Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but KNOW THOU THAT FOR ALL THESE THINGS, GOD WILL BRING THEE INTO JUDGMENT. He thought he had time for that judgment, but he must face it unprepared. He has committed many a sin, he has died a drunkard, and "no drunkard can inherit the kingdom of God." He was guilty of adultery, of uncleanness; he was forever quarreling and fighting, and "they who practice such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God."

He has whitened his parents hair, furrowed their cheeks, and broken their hearts. And now he must face the God whom he has defied. Would you like to take his place?

What kind of a funeral would yours be, if the preachers should tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?

REFRIGERATOR CARE IMPORTANT

Better to Buy Fifteen Pounds of Ice Tri-Weekly Than to Have Small Compartment Filled Daily.

Fifty pounds of ice is the minimum that the compartment of a refrigerator should hold. There is no economy in having a small box which needs frequent renewal. Better a large compartment filled tri-weekly than a small compartment filled every day. A good refrigerator can not be made cheaply.

The artificial machine in one or two forms is entirely practical and as it can be attached to any refrigerator it is entirely desirable, except that its price is by some considered excessive.

The trap of any refrigerator is an important detail, and, if possible, should be connected with the sewerage system of the house, or the refrigerator may be placed so that the water drips directly to the ground outside of the detached house. If a pan is used to hold the water a small alarm may be attached to it which automatically goes off when the pan is nearly full, thus preventing the annoyance, especially in apartment houses, of an overflowing pan, to the great discomfort of the family underneath.

The care of the refrigerator is as important as its choice. A solution of washing soda weekly down the waste pipe, a complete cleansing of the ice chamber and of the food chambers daily, with care as to the way the food is placed in the refrigerator will increase its efficiency. On no account pile old newspapers over the ice in the misguided notion that it will prevent the ice from melting. Unless the ice does melt the temperature will not be lowered nor will the food keep cool. A clean specially prepared parchment ice blanket may be used. Doors should be opened as little as possible and the ice compartment itself never, except to fill with ice. The newest refrigerators have a water coil connected with the faucet which keeps cold water always on tap without the necessity of opening the ice chamber to get bottles of water. Under no circumstances should dishes of food be placed on the ice direct, as this lowers the temperature and makes the box warmer. There are so many makes of refrigerators today, either in square or round models and in so many sizes that the right selection is only a matter of wise and careful choice and a willingness to pay the price.
