COMMISSIONERS COURT MEETS

On June 30, the court was in session and allowed H. C. Roberson $83.35 for work which he had done on the Sullivan bridge.

On motion a proposition from G. C. Mountcastle to deed to the county certain lands for road purposes in lieu of the land in the old flume road through the North Pecos Addition was accepted and Judge Ben Randals was appointed and authorized to make the change of deeds.

On July 5th the court reconvened and transacted the following business:

The clerk was ordered to draw warrants of $50.37 for Chas. Prindle, and one for the same amount for Floyd Goodrich, in payment for work they had done on the Porterville bridge.

The court canvassed the votes cast at the Trustee election held on July 2nd in the Pecos Independent District and declared the following persons duly elected:

S. M. Prewit, B. G. Smith, D. W. Bozeman, Dr. J. McCamp, Jas. F. Ross, John Lilley and J. G. Love.

On July 12th the court met with the entire membership present and transacted the following business:

E. J. Vaughan of Toyah made his butcher's report of stock killed which was examined and approved.

F. P. Richburg, Justice of the Peace of Precinct No. 1, made his report which was examined and approved.

Upon motion $625.00 was transferred from the General County Fund of Loving County to the Road and Bridge Fund of the same county.

The court purchased Block 95 from R. C. Warn for use as a cemetery for the indigent poor, for the sum of $100.00.

The winter's supply of coal was purchased from R. P. Hicks and the clerk was ordered to draw warrant for same as soon as it was delivered.

The following is a list of the accounts allowed at this session:

Groves Lumber Company, lumber for the Sullivan bridge.	$214.93

W. C. Cargill, work on road in Precinct No. 2.	23.00

ITEMS UNINTENTIONALLY LEFT OUT LAST WEEK.

We were late getting out The Times last week and during the rush of closing up the forms the following two items were unintentionally left out:

The school election which occurred last Friday was fairly well "attended," there having been over 150 votes cast, and although there was a little rivalry to the "Mass Meeting" nominees, it passed off with all good feeling.

The following is the nominees and the number of votes each received, the first seven being elected:

S. M. Prewit	132
B. G. Smith	129
D. W. Bozeman	126
Dr. Jim Camp	123
Jas. F. Ross	114
Jno. Lilley	106
J. G. Love	105
J. W. Moore	62
Pen Morris	61
R. P. Hicks	55
T. J. McIlvain	39

THE P. V. S. Ry. CELEBRATED THE FOURTH.

The Pecos Valley Southern Company celebrated the Fourth on the 5th, by putting on for service again their passenger coach No. 1, which had been in the shops some time for repairs.

It was in fine shape and looked as good if not better than when the car was first used. It had been fully repaired and repainted and it shone in fine shape. Their employers are certainly master hands at their work for the job would be a credit to any railroad shop in the state.

THERE WERE SOME CHANGES GOING ON.

The following are a few of the changes in workmen which have taken effect this week:

J. S. Johnson has resigned his position with the Texas & Pacific and E. F. Calvert takes his place; Bob Morrison takes Calvert's place with the Santa Fe, and Phillip Buchanan takes Bob's place with the Wells Fargo Company.

All of these young men are faithful, hard workers, and we feel sure that each of them will give their employers entire satisfaction.

Reeves County should make the best showing we have ever had at our fair this year.

If you want to find the truth, read the Pecos Times.

W. A. McWhortan, road work	6.00
Ben Randals, 5 days road work, etc.	16.10
R. C. Hatch, I. A. Hanna, J. C. Camp, election judges, each	1.00
J. B. Sullivan, one day's work on each Sullivan bridge, Stockton, and Arno roads.	9.00
W. E. Poer, one and a half days work on Toyah Creek bridge	5.00
W. A. Hudson, legal advice and work	50.00
R. N. Couch, 8 days work on Porterville, Salt Draw and Asher-ville bridges and on the Hermosa road	24.00
C. R. Prindle, work on road and Porterville bridge	350.00
Floyd Goodrich, work on road and Porterville bridge	267.05
Pruett Lumber Company, lumber and cement	182.00

The court allowed scalp bounty for the following: 54 wolves, 9 cats and nearly 5,000 jackrabbits, totaling $357.40.

SOCIAL EVENTS

DELIGHTFUL LAWN PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Beauchamp, and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Parker on Monday evening gave a delightful lawn supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rarey and their mother, Mrs. A. J. Cooksey, who will soon move to the Cooksey ranch. Albert Cooksey tried to appropriate the honor of the party as he said it was "one" of his birthdays.

Those present were: Mrs. A. J. Cooksey, Mrs. L. C. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rarey, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cooksey, Miss Leota and Ruby Mae Beauchamp, Mr. T. H. Beauchamp, Mr. C. C. Koutz, and Dr. R. E. Barr.

As the informality of the supper on the lawn led to everyone having such a good time, the merriment which started then was carried to a late hour when everyone went home very well pleased with having spent such an enjoyable evening.

THE POTATO-CHIP FIEND.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Monday afternoon from three to six, Jewell Roberta Hollebeck entertained her little friends with a birthday party.

At the appointed hour the little tots began to come and when all had arrived they were taken across the street to play on the lawn at the Gibson place.

Games such as "Drop the Handkerchief," "We're Marching on the Levy," and numerous others were played and enjoyed very much by all the youngsters.

After refreshments which consisted of ice cream and cake, were served, Mrs. Smothers came with a kodak and took a snapshot of the little ones.

Those present were: Nell Smothers, Harold Moyer, Ira and Mitchell Black, Mara and William Taggart, Lee Morris, Dorothy Bean, George Morrison, Ila and Ira Brown, Laura Mary and Elvera Wiley and Katherine Milligan.

ANOTHER GOOD FAMILY HAVE GONE.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hatch packed up their belongings last week and shipped them to Big Springs where they will make their home in the future.

Mrs. Hatch and the children with the exception of Miss Winifred, who will remain and do stenographic for E. L. Collings, left in No. 34 Saturday evening and Mr. Hatch left during the night with their car of household goods.

We are very sorry to lose these good people from among us, but all join in heartily recommending them to the people of Big Springs and our loss is Big Springs' gain.

CARD OF THANKS.

With broken hearts we wish to try to express our thanks to the many friends and neighbors for the help and attention they gave our dear baby during his sickness and death, and for the help and comfort they gave us. May God's great blessings be upon you all, is our earnest prayer, especially

Mr. and Mrs. Van D. Davis, Mrs. A. A. Mansfield, Mrs. J. B. Gibson.

WEDDINGS.

RICHBURG-SOMES.

Last Saturday evening, July 10, 1915, at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Richburg, occurred the marriage of Miss Maud Somes and G. Clifford Richburg, Rev. Homer L. Magee performing the ceremony.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties and Mrs. G. G. Nesbitt, Misses Thelma France and Grace Andrews and Ted Bannen, of Spur.

After the newly weds had been heartily congratulated by those present, light refreshments were served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. S. M. Somes, and she has many accomplishments and by her ladylike bearing, has won many friends among our citizenship during her residence in Pecos and the vicinity.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Richburg, and has been working for some years past for the Pecos Light and Ice Company, and is a faithful, hard-working employee.

These prominent young people will go to housekeeping soon in the J. F. Christian residence just east of Mrs. B. R. Stine's residence and they have the hearty congratulations of their many friends who trust that they may have a long happy life down through their married journey.

DAWSON-LOCHNER.

On Tuesday evening July 8th, at the residence of the bride's parents Mr. Risor M. Dawson and Miss Fannie May Lochner were united in matrimony.

The occasion was quiet and very pleasant, only a few friends of the family were present and after the marriage delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Lochner was a recent, but quite popular addition to the young society of the town.

Mr. Dawson is a prosperous business man of Kingston, Oklahoma. Whither they have gone to make their future home.

HERE IN THE INTEREST OF BORDERLAND ROUTE.

Col. John T. Sweatt and M. L. Johnson, the latter one of Grandfalls' prominent business merchants, autoped yesterday to interview our Commercial Club and business men in regard to the auto road which is being built from here to Midland, via Pyote, Grandfalls and the Edwards ranch.

The work is progressing nicely, and they report that when it is finished it will be in first class shape.

The following Grandfallsites accompanied them: Pat Herron, Milton Johnson, C. A. Goodwin, and Dick Stallings. They report that everything in the Grandfalls country is looking fine.

THEY HAVE GONE SCALP HUNTING.

Carruth and Fred K. Little went out to the Valley View Farm, J. T. Sisk's—for a week's stay, and as the boys are pretty fair shots we expect that they will bring in a large bunch of Mr. and Mrs. Jackrabbit's scalps.

A large number of boys are busy these days hunting scalps and undoubtedly the "Four Sectioners" and Coyotes will suffer for the lack of rabbit meat to eat.

WE WERE MISINFORMED LAST WEEK.

In our items in last week's issue of The Times in regard to the position that Jess Woods had at Henrietta we stated that he would be assistant auditor, but instead he is Assistant General Manager, which is a much more responsible position.

Jess is capable of holding down this position as well as he could the other. We are glad to make the correction.

SANTA FE OFFICIALS HERE.

Tuesday three of the Santa Fe officials were Pecos visitors for a short time. They were T. H. Sears, General Superintendent, F. J. Evans, Division Superintendent and Willard King, Roadmaster.

They were in their special car, and were on their monthly inspection tour over the south end of the road, and found everything in pretty fair condition.

GOES TO LUBBOCK.

Rev. J. B. Cole left Pecos last Tuesday morning on the early train for Lubbock where he has accepted the call to the pastorate of the Baptist Church at that place. His family are loading out the household goods today and will leave on the early train tomorrow. Several of the family leave this evening. John will go with the car of goods but Bob will remain for some two months before joining the family at their new home.

COUNTY COURT IS IN SESSION

With County Judge Ben Randals in the chair the Reeves County Court has ground out the following cases up to Thursday morning:

Continued by agreement.—Hazel Loomis vs. Pecos Mercantile Company; Pecos Mercantile Company vs. L. P. Smart; E. S. Bujac vs. T. A. Ezell; E. O. Olds vs. W. E. McLendon, et al; E. O. Olds vs. N. Costa, et al; Victor Dziedziuch vs. J. F. Grogan; Mrs. D. M. Jackson et al, vs. T. A. Ezell; Hillside Land and Irrigation Co. vs. W. W. Carpenter, et al; E. G. Lastinger vs. Toyah Valley Irrigation Co., et al; Dismissed at plaintiff's cost.—Max Krauskopf vs. C. B. Harbert; S. L. Allen & Co., vs. Max Krauskopf.

Continued to perfect service.—Pruett Lumber Co. vs. G. W. Morris, et al; Balmorhea Mercantile Company vs. L. E. Walker.

Daudridge, et al; Christine F. Werner vs. Leslie A. Needham, et al; Spencer B. Pugh vs. the Trans-Pecos Land and Irrigation Company.

State of Texas vs. Files Sloan, found guilty and fined $100 and costs.

MORE STOCK SHIPMENTS.

Last Saturday the Santa Fe Ry. train brought down two carloads of stock cattle and horses which had been loaded at Riverton and transferred them to the Texas & Pacific and they carried them to Odessa. They were the remnant of the Armstrong herd which had been being pastured up there.

Monday evening the Pecos Valley train brought in a car of hogs which had been loaded at Sanguosa and were the property of Mrs. A. S. Davis, and were transferred to the Texas & Pacific and carried to the Fort Worth market.

Tuesday W. D. Hudson delivered to Lee Russell at Pyote about 800 head of one and two-year olds, from his Diamond and a Half cattle ranch in New Mexico. They were a fine bunch.

They were loaded at Pyote and shipped to some point up in Oklahoma.

FIRE ALARM—WHISTLE BLOWS—FALSE ALARM

The blowing of the Siren Whistle this afternoon about 2:45 notified our people that there was a fire at the residence of Ed. Vickers.

The boys made a quick run and connected the engine to a well in the rear of the Biggs residence and were stringing two strings of hose when they were notified that it was only the wood pile on fire and was put out. The fire boys has the engines, two hose carts and the two chemical engines there in about seven minutes, and it is twelve blocks from the firehouse to Mr. Vickers' house, and the fire house is two blocks from the main part of the city where most of the boys are at work. We call that mighty good time for a volunteer company.

ARTICLE "FOR BETTER ROADS"

Weays in Which the Department Offers Advice and Assistance to Communities.

Communities interested in the improvement of roads are recommended by the department to apply for a lecturer on the subject. Lecturers will be sent at the government expense wherever there is reason to believe that audiences will be large enough to make the expenditure of time and money worth while. Whenever possible it is, of course, desirable for a number of communities in the same vicinity to make arrangement for lectures at the same time, since in this way traveling expenses for each stop made by the lecturer are

The number of lectures at the disposal of the department is limited and it is not always possible, therefore, to comply with every request. When a lecturer cannot be sent, however, the department will loan a set of suitable lantern slides to any responsible local association or individual who will pay the express charges. The only requirement is that the slides be made of active and practical use in the community and that they be returned in good condition in 90 days. In addition, a brief outline of a lecture to accompany the slides will be forwarded on request.

In addition to this educational work, the department is always ready to respond to requests for practical assistance which may take the form of special advice and inspection, superintendence of county roads, road surveys, experimental road work, or the development of a model system of highways for a county. To obtain such assistance local authorities should secure a blank form from the office of public roads on which to make applications. Request from corporate villages or cities cannot be met however.

Bridge work is one branch of road building in which the department may be of particular service to local authorities. Typical designs have been prepared and copies of these can be furnished on request. A few minor alterations would probably make such a design suitable for special conditions, or an engineer may be assigned to inspect the site and offer suggestions. In some cases designs by bridge companies have been received by the department for the benefit of local officials.

Possibly the most important way however in which the department assists individual communities is in laying out a model system of highways for a county that is about to expend a large sum of money on roads. In such cases the department assigns an engineer to make a thorough study of the district. He ascertains where the best road materials are, what roads are the most important, and, therefore, to be improved first, and provides for the location of each road so as to secure the best possible drainage and grade, and indicates the most type and model of construction including drainage structures, to meet the needs and means of the community. When his work is completed the county officials have at their disposal the results of an exhaustive study of the whole problem and should be able to carry out the work with far more efficiency and economy than would otherwise be possible.

Road materials are also being continually tested by the department and the information thus obtained is available for any community in double as to the kind of a road they purpose to build. Similar tests can also be secured on dust layers, such as road oils and tars, and the department will furnish to anyone instructions as to the selection and shipment of samples. The tests are made free of charge when they are desired in

$293,000,000 INCREASE IN U. S. EXPORT TRADE

All of This Brings Trade Balance In Favor of This Country to $1,060,889,505

Washington, July 10.—An increase of nearly $293,000,000 in export trade and a decrease of $220,000,000 in imports is shown by the analysis of the United States foreign trade for the eleven months covering the European war, issued today by the Bureau of Foreign Trade balance in favor of the United States is estimated at $1,060,889,505.

The analysis shows an enormous increase in exports of crude foodstuffs and food animals the total exportations amounting to $481,110,884, as against $126,408,965, for the same period last year.

Crude materials for use in manufacturing fell off nearly $300,000,000 in exports owing to the closing of European factories which use American raw material.

Exports to France more than doubled, to Italy they nearly tripled and to Great Britain they increased by nearly $300,000,000. Export trade to Germany fell from $328,115,430 to $28,861,587 and to Austria from $21,280,037 to 1,240,167. During May less than $400 worth of merchandise went over to Germany.

NEW ORLEANS' 3,500,000 COTTON WAREHOUSES AND TERMINALS

With the completion of New Orleans' $3,500,000 cotton warehouses and terminal not only will there have been solved one of the most perplexing details in connection with the South's cotton handling and marketing plan, but the project will mark the great epoch in the general port development in the United States. The drawing shown on this page give one an idea of the immense construction plan. The capacity of the project is nearly 2,000,000 bales with all modern methods of handling and storing the baled staple. The compress and warehouses for local cotton will be finished and ready for occupancy before the 1915 crop moves for export.

Ford, Bacon & Davis, eminent engineers of New Orleans, with different offices in New York, San Francisco and Chicago, designed the new warehouses and terminal, embodying in their construction the highest points of efficiency and system. The terminal buildings cover an area of about 50 acres. Including the trackage adjacent to the plant, the total area covered is approximately 100 acres. The wharves are being constructed of reinforced concrete, two-story, 2,000 feet long and 180 feet wide. There are six warehouses and, in counting the capacity of the wharf sheds, they have a normal capacity of more than 450,000 bales with an emergency capacity of 600,000 bales.

Before the designs of the wharf and shed structures were adopted, the details of the latest types of such construction in New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and oth-

Cloves Are Dried Buds

The buds of an East Indian tree are picked, dried and then graded according to the percentage of oil they contain—this oil is the source of the clove flavor.

But unless care is taken in grinding, even oily cloves lose much of their flavor. After grinding, the cloves must be protected from evaporation by most careful packing.

You see then that it is not only pure cloves you must insist on, but selected cloves which have been handled throughout the best way to keep them full of the oil which flavors. That's why we suggest that you insist on White Swan Cloves. Selected from the best grade, ground by our "cool" process to retain flavor and strength and packed in air-tight tins. Your grocer sells White Swan Cloves—the cost is a little more, but the economy is greater because a tin lasts longer.

ABOLISH WAR AND LIQUOR

This is Plea of Clinton N. Howard of Rochester Before Christian Endeavor at Convention.

Chicago, Ill., July 10.—Addressing the Christian Endeavor convention here today Clinton N. Howard of Rochester said:

"America's greatest single item of expenditure is for the liquor; Europe's greatest single item of expenditure is for the war. Abolish both. Wipe out war by arbitration, Wipe out drink by prohibition."

Incidentally the speaker asserted that trade rivalry and jealousy are back of the war.

"Millions in money, now wasted, in drink, if diverted into wholesome channels of trade, would give the overstocked nations a home market for their own goods larger than their foreign markets over the whole world," said Mr. Howard.

Roy Creighton of the California Christian Endeavor Union, said that moral conditions in the high schools are bad. He said children are in great need of support that will build stronger character.

"The conditions in high schools are such that they cannot be mentioned in mixed company," said Mr. Creighton. "California has the reputation of having the worst moral conduct in its schools, but this is only because the limelight has been turned on our schools. The same exists throughout the United States."

er domestic ports together with those of foreign countries (such as Liverpool, Hamburg, Bremerhaven and Havre) were carefully considered. As a result, the general design of the wharf and shed embodies the latest developments that have proved successful in other ports, with such modifications as best adapt these developments to the conditions of this port. The depressed railroad tracks in the rear of the warehouses permit of unloading freight cars practically within the reach of the ship's tackle, while the tracks upon the apron of the wharf allow direct transfer from car to ship or vice versa. In addition to the transportation of cotton by means of the upper and lower runways and electric trains, the entire yard trackage together with the locomotive and freight car or other equipment may be used in the transfer of cotton from warehouse compartments to the wharf and vice versa. The appliance other than runways and specially designed bridge cranes for the handling of cotton consist of gantry cranes on the wharf front for the loading of cotton into ships or receiving cotton from river boats or lighters, together with continuous conveyors for cotton handling at the shipside similar to those employed for other commodities now located on the wharf front.

Other appliances are automatic grapplers attached to the cranes used in lifting and lowering cotton bales and mechanical devices for pulling or pushing bales from any point in tiers of cotton piled ten and fifteen bales high.

The warehouses and terminal, which involved an estimated expenditure of not less than $3,000,000, have been designed.

1. As part of a comprehensive plan which may be enlarged in storage capacity terminal trackage and wharf area.

2. At a minimum of cost commensurate with permanent construction and as would insure the greatest protection from fire.

3. To permit the installation of economical, mechanical-conveying equipment with its consequent reduction of labor costs.

4. To enable the plant to be operated at maximum earning power and therefore when not required for cotton, to provide for the storage of coffee, rice, jute and other standard package commodities.

5. To permit of the receipt and handling of cotton and other commodities from vessels and their transfer to freight cars, adapting the plant to a two-way operation.

6. So as to be adaptable to the present methods of inspecting and weighing and classing cotton, as well as to any new methods.

7. So that flat, as well as compressed cotton, may be handled and stored economically.

8. To handle Factor's cotton, F. O. B. cotton and through cotton with equal efficiency.

9. To enable the port of New Orleans to supply the world.

16,134,930 BALES 1914 COTTON CROP

Washington, July 8.—The American cotton crop of 1914—the largest ever produced—reached 16,134,930 equivalent 500-pound bales, which if placed end on end, would reach more than half way round the world. That figure announced today by the census bureau, is the government's final report. The former record crop of 1911 was 442,229 equivalent bales less.

The statistics are 32,787 bales more than the census bureau's preliminary estimate of last March, and 168,930 bales more than estimated by the agricultural department's crop reporting board last December. Linter cotton, now being used extensively in manufacturing big shells for big guns amounted to 791,464 bales, making a total production of 16,926,394 equivalent 500-pound bales of cotton including linters.

Texas produced more than one-fourth of the crop—4,592,112 of the bales—Georgia one-sixth of the crop, 2,718,037 bales. Those states with Alabama, South Carolina, Oklahoma, and Mississippi, produced more than four-fifths of the entire crop. Alabama total was 1,751,375 bales; South Carolina's 1,533,810 bales; Oklahoma, 1,262,176 bales; Mississippi, 1,245,535 bales. The remainder of the eighteen cotton growing states each grew less than 1,000,000 bales.

Cotton production in California is increasing rapidly, 49,835 bales having been ginned there, or more than double the 1913 ginning. In Arizona an increase is also noticeable though the quantity is still small—7,142 bales against 2,299 in 1913.

Ellis County, Texas, was the banner cotton county of the United States, having grown 143,714 bales or approximately 75 per cent more than the entire crop of Missouri and Florida, about three times that of California, and nearly six times that of Virginia. Ellis county has an area of 975 square miles and a population of about 55,000.

FIRST BALE SHIPPED.

Luford, Texas Agains Leads Ginning Season.

Brownsville, Texas, July 8th.—The first bale of cotton of the 1915 season was ginned today at Luford, Texas, near here, and shipped to Houston Cotton Exchange late today.

It came from several farms and weighed about 500 pounds. This is the third successive year that Luford has shipped the first bale of the season's cotton in the United States.

DO YOUR PART AND BE CHEERFUL.

A great deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything he attempts to do. There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride, in surveying such a work—a work that is rounded, full, exact, complete in all its parts.—which the superficial man, who loves his work in a slovenly, slipshod unfinished manner can never know. It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, well done, becomes artistic.—William Matthews.

HOW ABOUT IT?

The average business man is too busy and gets very careless in regard to his duty to his family. It seems to us if he loves his family as much as himself it would not be so hard to remember what he owes them. What wife is there that knows what neglect means but she would rather by far have plainer clothes and food, plainer furniture and more love from her husband, love that means kindness at all times, remember that the sweetest moments of a woman's life is when a husband is kind and also thoughtful of her comfort. A man that loves his wife does not have to be reminded of the little acts of kindness he can give so many times a day. If a man does not love his wife he ought to be as thoughtful and courteous to her as to her neighbor, anyway.—Ex.

PRESERVING EGGS IN WATER GLASS

There is not another farm product that fluctuates so much in value, giving you a good chance to make money by keeping it as do eggs. I am getting lots of them now, but they are low in price, so I am putting them in water-glass, and will sell them in winter when they are a good price.

Eggs have been kept as long as ten months here, and then I have found them good. Water-glass is a transparent liquid, very thick, and is used commercially in the manufacture of glue. When you put eggs in a solution of it it covers them with a coating of glue thru which no germ laden air can enter.

Get a stone crock holding about five gallons, being sure it is well glazed or it will absorb the solution. In this put a ten percent solution of water-glass and place the eggs in it. Buy the water-glass at any drug store, and make the solution by putting one part of the water-glass into nine parts of the water that has been boiled and allowed to cool. The crock is filled about two-thirds full of this solution and then you may put in the eggs as you get them.

It is necessary that the eggs be put into the solution as soon as possible after gathering, and no dirty or cracked eggs should be put in. Keep the crock in a cool place and put the eggs in any time. Always have enough of the solution in the crock to cover the eggs at least an inch deep.

When you have filled the crock put in a cool place, a drak cellar, and examine frequently as the water will evaporate and get low.

Eggs preserved in this way are used in any way fresh eggs can be used, but in boiling them it is necessary to pierce the shell, or they will burst owing to the solution, making the shell impervious to the air.

WELFARE MOVEMENT GROWING

Women in every state, and for that matter, very nearly every community, are interesting themselves in the rural welfare movement.

A woman in Kansas has built a community home where the people not only of her own community, but of the state as well, may congregate to study any problem of general welfare that may appeal to them.

The Kansas City Star giving an interesting account of this home, says:

A Kansas farm home open to the men and women of the community and state to study farm life problems first hand, will be established within the next few months by Mrs. Cora Wellhouse Bullard, daughter of the pioneer apple-grower, and, until his death, "apple king" of Kansas, Mrs. Bullard, who has been active in matters of public welfare for many years, has announced her new home, when it is completed, will be open to the use of public-spirited people of the state as a place to study any problem of general welfare that may appeal to them.

In a way, the Bullard home near the historic town of Tonganoxie, Kansas, will be like the farm colony of Ralph Waldo Emerson, and his contemporaries. Emerson tried to work out a particular idea and gathered together men and women of a certain view and with a particular object in mind. The social service home near Tonganoxie will not be a one-sided institution. It will be devoted to the improvement of rural life conditions in Kansas and to any other problem of general welfare to the people of the state. It will not be a place for believers in some particular propaganda but a home where there may be conferences of the many-minded.

When Mrs. Bullard decided to build her community home she did not seek talented architects to plan a country home based on their experience in building city homes. She drew the plans and worked out the specifications. She did not go down and stayed on the job herself. When a stonemason did not lay a stone to suit, Mrs. Bullard told him how to lay it and saw that he did it.

The house is practically sixty feet square and has three stories and basement. It is of the rustic, bungalow type. The great pillars of the porch are of red glacier granite boulders, common in northeast-

The timid old lady asked the baggage master if her parcel would reach "Frisco intact."

Said that official, "Let's see."

Thereupon, he threw it on the floor. Once, "That's for Chicago." Twice, "That's for Kansas City." Third, "That's for Denver." The fourth time, he dashed it on the floor with extra violence. The box broke. The contents were scattered about.

"You see, mum, it wouldn't reach."

Fortunately, you are not in that position. You do not have to RISK the trial of the various things you need in your home or business. You can pick out a well-known article, one that has been tried and tested for years under actual working conditions in other places. Among such articles the trade mark "Texaco" has secured for Texaco Products the recognition to which their careful preparation and their suitability for the purpose entitles them.

Whether you use steam, electricity, or gas; whether you operate a farm, cotton gin, laundry, ice plant—anything.

There is a Texaco Product for you—under the "Made-in-Texas" Red-Star-Green-T emblem. Order from our agent.

Sam Crenshaw's barn caught fire last Tuesday morning and was partially consumed before the fire could be extinguished, the feed house adjoining was saved.

Miss Durrell Moorehead of Dallas is here visiting relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. A. L. Black and children, who have been visiting relatives in this section for the past few weeks left Tuesday for their home in Oakhurst.

Announcement has been made that the holiness people now holding at Balmorhea would commence a meeting here next Friday night.

Rev. C. A. Dickson the Baptist pastor filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

The Methodist church is being remodeled by having two new windows placed in either side, which adds much to its appearance and greatly to its comfort these hot days.

Floyd Crenshaw, Regan Waskom and Aubrey Gathings went to Pecos Sunday so as to be on hand early Monday morning with their rabbit scalps.

Mrs. A. S. Davis shipped a car of fat hogs to Fort Worth Monday.

C. W. Armine shipped a car of hogs to Mann last Wednesday consigned to Sol Mayer.

Buck Shot

By D. J. M.

A farmer marked his initials on a dollar. The first year it came back to him twice and helped pay his taxes once and the preacher one time. The second year it returned three times, helped pay a grocery bill, paid for labor hire, and with it made a donation to charity. At the beginning of the third year it returned to his pocket again and he sent it away with an order to a mail order house. Since that day he has never seen that particular dollar.—Cisco Round-Up.

If the people of a community always kept in sight the moral contained in the above there would be no need of such campaigns as the "Made-in-Texas and Buy-it-in-Texas" movements that have recently been launched, as it were, to save the day against such disloyalty as the promiscuous buyer from mail order concerns.

Quite a party of Pecosites passed through Fort Stockton, last Friday bound for the Wakefield ranch. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dickson, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Wakefield, E. T. Wakefield, and Taylor Wakefield, Mrs. Della Lewis and Miss Lillie Buchholtz.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

And this party, like all others, who have occasion to travel the roads of Pecos county in the vicinity of Fort Stockton, are big in their praise of the condition of the roads in that section. It makes us sigh and wonder when all the tape will be unwound from the bond issue that has been voted, ratified, rectified, and otherwise manhandled for over a year, and no roads as yet, worth mentioning.

For artful dodging Germany's answer to the U. S. note of protest has the character in Dickens' Oliver Twist backed clean off the stage. It should have been sent about the holidays a year ago, for answer the following Fall, it would then have time to sink in and make them realize that we are demanding, not taking orders.

Thaw may be perfectly same at this writing, but by the time that bunch of New York specialists get through with him he will be a fit subject for a padded cell and the straight-packet.

The Van Horn Advocate, in its issue of last week, contains a very apologetic account of the recent killing at Kent. It states that Mr. Irby is in business at Kent, but fails to state the nature of that business (selling booze). It contains a long-winded statement by the man that done the killing, but not a word from witnesses to the affair, which would be too much of a conflict to the said statement, we presume.

The Pecos ball team was of very short duration. One trip to Kent is the entire schedule, as we have the dope. Well, it isn't the first impulse that came to its downfall at said town. The food they dish out at that joint is not wholesome a-tall.

We don't want to forget that the Fair is soon to begin, to be exact, the dates are September 15, 16, 17, and 18, 1915. Keep them in mind, and when you write, tell your relatives and friends, and urge them to attend if possible. Those who live in town can talk fair, those on the farm and ranches can take this as notice to get together a display of farm and garden truck or stock, that they may well be proud of and that will reflect with credit on the resources of this section.

Pecos, since the opening of the big Expositions in California, has been well represented on the coast. Its a fair sign that the hard times we hear so much of from other sections, has not made much of a dent in this locality.

F. J. Kraus of Pecos was in town Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Van Horn, and Miss Emma Clark were visitors at the home of Mrs. Van Horn father, C. C. Kountz on Toyah Creek Sunday and Monday.

H. A. Schrock, one of the old settlers in Toyah and a staunch Methodist was in town this week looking after business affairs and shaking hands with his many Toyah friends. Mr. Schrock is now living at Sierra Blanca.

George Bruce and his force of carpenters, By Johnson, Terry, Downs, Ollie Craig and Kirk Tucker, and Charlie Pruesser, the chief chef, came in Saturday from the Duncan ranch where they had been for the past six weeks erecting the new home for George and his mother, Mrs. J. L. Duncan. The building was finished with the exception of a little painting and paper hanging. Ollie Craig returned Monday morning to assist Payne finish this work. The Duncans now have one of the best and most comfortable and convenient ranch homes in this part of the country.

VIEWS OF COUNTRY BUILDERS

(By A. M. HOVE.)

"We believe that stock on the farms will make the Pecos Valley," says J. H. Mullis of the Pecos Valley Lumber Company. "My faith in the results of stock farming is so strong that I am willing to bet a silo on the outcome. In other words our company is willing to sell silos to the farmers on time and take our pay when the stuff in the feed lot goes to market. We have investigated the silo and its place on the dairy farm and in the feed lot, carefully. The silo is the ideal feed preserver and will pay for itself in short order. Take this from a lumber man. The farmer that grows and feeds stock is always a good patron for a lumber yard. He has the money and he has use for our wares all the time."

"We are stacking our hay with a view of feeding at least a hundred yearlings," says C. A. Coll, Artesia farmer. "I have farmed all my life and am getting along in years, but my sons are anxious to feed and I am willing to let them try it. I have had years of experience in finishing steers and consider this a better location than in the North. We had our doubts about getting what money we needed in buying steers, but I hear that several valley bankers are ready to loan to feeders." Mr. Coll is well equipped for business. The cows, calves, hogs and poultry he has at his place show that he knows how to farm right. His work stock is in splendid condition.

"We are strongly in favor of more stock on the valley lands or farms," says J. J. Jaffa, cashier of the Citizens National Bank of Roswell. "Our bank is ready to assist reputable farmers who have the feed and need stock on consumer. Feeding cattle and sheep is good business. This makes the market for all kinds of forage that otherwise could not be turned to profit. Stock on the farm is a sane way to conserve the fertility of the land."

"Hogs are often called mortgage lifters," says William Dooley, of Artesia. "There must certainly be some method provided to lift mortgages in this valley. Cattle, sheep, hogs, and poultry have made many other sections prosperous and with all the natural advantages the Pecos Valley has, I think it is time that the stock on the farm elixir be taken liberally. I hear about men that are unable to meet their payments. Helping such to get into the stock business might benefit both the borrower and the lender. I hear this has been tried successfully around Clovis and Portales."

H. C. Holcomb of Lakewood delivered fifty cows with calves at their sides last Friday to W. A. Stansill of Kenna. The price is said to be $69 or $3,150 for the lot. Mr. Holcomb has been growing a few cattle as a side issue and that it has paid him is easily seen by the above. It was good stock and will make Mr. Stansill some money too.

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING

Secretary.

LIGHT UP

"It's very sweet and thoughtful of you to accept me, considering we have only known each other two days," he said falteringly. "I appreciate it, Eugenia, but there is something I must tell you."

"Save it until we are married—maybe we'll only be too glad to have something to talk about then," she replied lightly.

"No," he persisted doggedly. "It must be now. I feel that I cannot in honor allow you to become Mrs. Scratchworth until you know that I am a confirmed cigarette fiend."

"Carteret!" she cried.
"It's true," he went on bravely. "It's no use fighting it—it's got me—I smoke on an average of six packages a day."

"Carteret," she cried joyously. "So do I!"

"No?" he exclaimed incredulously.

"Sure," she assured him glibly. "I've been dying for a smoke ever since you came today—only I was afraid."

And she pulled from her hip pocket a dainty box of Lady Moalens and lighted one, then held the match for him while he opened fire on a Turkish Sandal.

Needless to say, they lived happily ever after in a perfect fog of cigarette smoke.—El Paso Herald.

STATE UNIVERSITY ITEMS

University Station, July 6th.—The University of Texas Extension Department is issuing a new handbook for school house meetings, designed especially for use in the small towns and rural districts. It consists of programs of various kinds, some musical, some dealing with agricultural matters, community health, school libraries, home economics, marketing and so on.

During the past year 282 school house meetings have been held under the general direction of the Extension department, an average of thirty people attending each of the meetings. The purpose of the Department according to Dr. A. C. Ellis, in promoting these meetings is to furnish a nucleus for a larger community life and thus enable the community to develop its best resources and ideas, incidentally adding to the attractiveness of community life through social intercourse.

A number of the special programs have been prepared in addition to the handbook, some taking the form of outline debates upon live subjects, declamations, discussions concerning conveniences and proper decorations of the home, as well as matters that deal more directly the productivity of the farm. In the latter subject the A. & M. College is lending the valuable assistance of its experts. It is the hope of the department to schedule more than a thousand of these meetings during the ensuing year. The members of the Extension staff, the school of agricultural education, and the school of domestic science have all cooperated in compiling the handbook, which will be ready for distribution within the next few days.

According to statistics compiled by the secretary of the Hogg Organization, it would seem that high education in Texas is largely in the hands of the church rather than under the supervision of the state as is popularly supposed. The state institutions of higher education are eight in number: The University of Texas, the A. & M. College, the four normals for white teachers, the Prairie View Normal, and the College of Industrial Arts. As against these eight state supported higher educational institutions, there are sixty-one denominational colleges and institutions, according to the latest available statistics, those of 1912. There are employed in the denominational colleges and universities of Texas 909 teachers, while the state supported institutions of higher education employ but 378 teachers, including tutors; in 1912 there were 14,887 students being educated in the denominational colleges and universities of Texas, while but 8,370 students were attending the state supported higher institutions of learning. Incidentally it may be observed that while denominational institutions have, roughly twice as many students as the state supported institutions of higher education, the denominational colleges and universities employ, approximately, three times as many teachers. At the present time in Texas our system of higher education could therefore with propriety be called denominational rather than state-supported, or both.

FOUR HUNDRED TWENTY-NINE PRIZES AWARDED.

University Station, July 7.—During the four years 1911-14 the Texas Industrial Congress has awarded 429 cash prizes aggregating $40,000 for agricultural products, including corn, cotton, cow-peas, peanuts, kafir, milo, feterita, hogs and baby-beef. It is a singular fact that 82 of these prizes have been won by farmers with Bohemian names, according to a statement by Mr. Wehrlein of the Division of Home Welfare, of the University of Texas. A map has been prepared by this division showing the locations of farmers winning prizes and using differently colored dots to indicate the nationality of the farmers receiving the prizes. For instance a green dot is used to indicate a prize-winning farmer of German name, a purple dot for prize-winning farmers of English Scotch or Irish names.

The map is thus interesting as showing at a glance the location of prize-winning farmers with regard to counties and soil belts of the state, and also the nationality of the prize winners.

Fayette leads every other county, having captured sixty prizes. In this county ten farmers of German names are prize winners, 5 with English, Scotch or Irish, and the rest 15, with Bohemian names. The central Neocene Soil belt area (black sandy loam) took 100 or nearly 25 per cent of the prizes, although this belt is extremely small one, comprising the counties of De Witt, Gonzales, Lavaca, Fayette, Washington, Waller, Brazos, Grimes and part of Burleson. The great black land belt, stretching in a fan shape across the state from a point on the Rio Grande in the county of Maverick to the rich Red River counties on the northeastern border, captured only 112 of the prizes, while the comparatively small area known as the East Texas Timber belt, was awarded the same number.

HOME CANNING.

Preserving fruits and vegetables in their natural state after cooking is a century-old experience. There were unearthen from the buried city of Pompeii jars or flasks that had been preserved in their natural appearance and flavor for hundreds of years. From this circumstance a Frenchman gained the idea of preserving food indefinitely by the canning method, a secret which he carefully guarded. In 1825, however, it became known to Thomas Kensett of New York and Ezra Daggett of Maine, who obtained a patent on the idea which they controlled until the civil war. At this time the need of preserved food became so great that the canning industry gained a great impetus, and since that time the canning industry has grown apace. Today almost every housewife cans a few vegetables or some fruit each season.

Perfect canning is a science. Certain conditions must be complied with to exactness. A lack of a thorough understanding of the principles which govern the preservation of the true color, flavor, and freshness of the canned product prevents many a housewife from having the wide variety of out-of-season fruits and vegetables they might easily prepare. In recent years the science of canning has been given a great deal of attention, its study promoted by the various clubs all over the country. What the corn clubs are doing for the boys the canning clubs are doing for the girls. It is very interesting to note how well the girls in the canning clubs are succeeding in keeping their products. The quality of their products is well above the standard. No acids or compounds are used to preserve the fruits or vegetables. It is a lamentable fact that a great many people are using stuff in their canning operations that is positively dangerous. There are some who would rather put a compound into their stuff than to take a little more trouble in cooking, but I am not talking to them. I am trying to get the ones who have the idea that the must use this stuff to make their fruits and vegetables keep well. This is entirely untrue. No chemicals are necessary in canning. The whole success of your canning depends on only two things: You

You pay your guest a compliment when you serve

White Swan Grape Juice is just the pure, rich, "foody" blood of selected grapes—pressed and put up to be good and stay good. You'll appreciate this the moment you open the bottle.

Get it for home from your grocer—in bottles. Buy it by the glass at any soda fountain.

must kill all bacteria in the fruit before it is put in the can, by a heating of 212 degrees, Fahrenheit and secondly, you must keep all bacteria from entering the can by sealing it perfectly airtight. Also in order to be sure that no bacteria are sealed up in the can you must scald it before filling, or heat it to 212 degrees afterward.

Of course, if you are canning in tin cans, you put the fruit in the cans before cooking, but in canning in glass this is not usually done.

Do not be afraid of putting anything in a can and cooking it to preserve it. That method is a success, and will do for any product, though some, like beans, and corn need to be cooked longer than others, like tomatoes or peaches.—Southland Farmer.

Washington, July 10.—The population of the United States on July 1, 1915, according to the actuary of the States treasury department was a gain of 142,000 in the month of June. For the months ending June 30, the department estimates the growth in population to be 1,698,000. Since June 1, 1914, we have gained more than 10 per cent. No other country has increased per capita.

In connection with the census of the population the actuary of the States treasury department on July 1, 1915, was $388,026, or $35.59 per capita. This was a gain of 52 cents for the preceding month of June. The increase in circulation on July 1, 36 years ago, when the circulation was only $84,000,000 has increased per capita $288.

NANA GREATEST OF ALL THE YEAR FRUITS.

Right Time To Eat It Is When Covering Is All Spotted Or Almost Black.

A generation ago bananas were good deal of a luxury in this country. Because of their delicious flavor—people had not then learned of their food value—they were in popular favor.

Last year nearly 7,000,000,000 bananas were eaten by the people of the United States—an average of nearly six bananas for every man, woman and child in the Nation.

Averaging the prices that prevailed in the hundreds of thousands of places where this fruit is sold—and today it is almost impossible to get out of reach of a banana within the confines of the land we love—they sold for about 5 cents a dozen.

From pushcarts in the big cities they were often bought for as little as 6 cents a dozen while the fancy fruiters sometimes got as much as 10 cents for extra large ones.

There was not a week the year around when good bananas could not be had in any market.

For the banana is the greatest of all year-around fruits. At certain times they are more abundant than at other times but always one can get good bananas.

So great has been the growth of the banana trade in the last quarter of a century that today great fleets of large swift steamers are engaged solely in carrying the green bunches to American ports, while others fleetly serve European countries, or glide, prior to the outbreak of the present war.

Just to give an idea of the way the foreign demand has grown, in 1899 Germany used 320 tons of bananas. In 1911—a dozen years later—Germany used 30,000 tons, and last year this figure was very much exceeded.

And when the people generally have learned that to eat them raw is only one of the ways that is good, no other fruit—not even the apple—will stand comparison. Yet how many readers of this article have ever eaten cooked bananas?

How many have ever reveled in the rare delicacy of baked or fried banana? How many know that the right time to eat a raw banana is when its covering is spotted or nearly black?

These so-called "overripe" bananas, which gravitate to the pushcart or are put to one side in the fruit shop and sold to poorer patrons for a song, are really the most delicious of all. They are "ripe" bananas, and if more such were to be eaten the fame of this wonderful tropical fruit, which graces the Christmas tables within the Arctic Circle, would spread with even a more greater rapidity.

DIARRHEA QUICKLY CURED "About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhea which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Obtainable everywhere at all Dealers.

ARE YOU ONE OF THEM? Selfish people are unhappy and make themselves uncomfortable. They take no comfort in seeing others happy and envy those who may be better off than themselves in any respect; they think unkindly of them and if they could would rob them of their pleasure.

Discord and dissension are often the results of the snap and snarl of selfishness. Upon the other hand, gladness may be diffused by the use of a gentle word, a willing service gained by a kindly request, and a soft answer turneth away wrath. There is no sense in scolding. It is more than a weakness or folly; it is a sin, doing much harm to the scolder and the scolded. It is the opening of the draft to internal and infernal fires that ought to be quenched. It scorches and inflames other's hearts and minds. Scolding should be kept from evil. Scolding never does any good. Affability towards others cultivates amiability in the actor. The courtesies practiced in the social life are just as charming in the home circle. Be courteous.—EX.

TRAVELING MAN'S EXPERIENCE.

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live. That I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's colic cholera and Diarrhea remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At 5 o'clock next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack." writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. Obtainable everywhere at all dealers.—Adv.

SHERIFF'S SALE

The State of Texas, County of Reeves. By virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Reeves County, on the 6th day of July, 1915, by the District Clerk of said County, against W. B. Hipp, for the sum of Two Hundred Ninety-three and 21-100 ($293.21) Dollars and costs of suit in cause No. 421 in said court, styled W. H. Neill versus W. B. EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver. Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous; it crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe. Sold by Pecos Drug Company. (Adv.)

Boiled eggs—There are two tongs for lifting boiled eggs from the water. They are shaped so that the eggs and there is no danger of the egg rolling off on the floor.

Fruit stains on linen should be smeared with glycerine and left for about an hour. Then wash the stains in warm, soapy water. Repeat the process if necessary.

Wall paper.—If red paper is used on the walls of living rooms or nurseries there is danger of the children being made nervous, as red has a serious effect on the optic nerves.
