

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON DEAD AT TUSKEGEE.

A Special Train Will Take Alabama Officials to the Funeral of Great Educator.

Tuskegee, Ala., Nov. 15.—Funeral arrangements were made today for Booker T. Washington, negro educator, and founder of the Tuskegee Institute, who died here yesterday. Services will be held at the institute Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock followed by interment in the institute grounds. The body will lie in state tomorrow and thousands are expected to attend the funeral. A special train will be run from Montgomery to bring state officials and others.

Messages of condolence reached here today from throughout the entire country. The came from leaders of thought and endeavor in all walks of life.

While it is announced that the question of a successor will not be considered until after the funeral, Emmet J. Scott, secretary to Washington, is said to be the most likely candidate.

The educator died of a nervous breakdown four hours after his arrival from New York.

He had been in failing health for several months but his condition became serious only last week. He realized that his end was near but was determined to make the long trip south to bear out his oft-expressed statement that he had been born in the South lived in the South all his life and expected to die in and be buried in the South.

Washington was born in slavery near Hale's Ford, Va., in 1857, or 1858. After the emancipation of his race he moved with his family to West Virginia.

When he was able to scrape together sufficient funds to pay his stage coach fare to Hampton, Va., he entered General Armstrong's school for negroes and there worked his way through an academic course graduating in 1875. Later he became a teacher in the Hampton Institute where he remained until the year 1881, when he organized an industrial school for negroes at Tuskegee. He remained principal of this school up to the time of his death. The institute started in a rented shanty church and today it owns 3,500 acres of land in Alabama, and has nearly 100 buildings, valued at $500,000.

STORAGE OF COTTON.

Washington, D. C. Nov. 15.—It is very important, according to the specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, that all cotton that is not marketed when ginned should be stored or placed in a position where it will be protected from any injury from moisture.

Where cotton is exposed to rain it is subject to serious injury; and where it is sheltered but left in contact with the wet ground it is liable to serious injury. It is frequently the case that people do not realize the amount of damage that is done. In many instances cotton appears from the outside of the bale to be in fairly good condition, when it is really badly injured inside due to the fact that moisture has been allowed to penetrate the bale, thus causing mildew.

It is not unusual, according to the department's data, for cotton to suffer a loss of from $3 to $5 a bale as a result of unnecessary exposure. At all times it should be kept off the ground and properly sheltered. Where it is impossible to place it in a warehouse it should be protected by a dry shed or it may be placed on poles or timbers which will keep it several inches from the ground, and covered with tarpaulins. Protected in this way it can be held for six months or even a year with very little damage.

In some sections the farmers and business men have organized companies for the purpose of constructing warehouses in order to protect the cotton. This, the investigators believe is a move in the right direction and every community should take this precaution where the warehouses are now available for the protection of the cotton crop. They point out, however, that many of these communities are making a serious mistake of constructing cheap warehouses. It has been shown (Bulletin 216, U. S. Department of Agriculture, "Cotton Warehouse Storage Facilities Now Available in the South") that there is an annual loss of several million dollars in the cost of insurance. This loss is brought about primarily by the construction of cheap warehouses. The rate of insurance on these cheap structures ranges from two per cent to four per cent per annum, while it is possible to insure cotton in the standard warehouses, with the proper equipment, at the rate of 1-4 of one per cent per annum. The cheap structures last a comparatively few years and cost almost as much as the standard warehouse. The saving in insurance will pay for the difference in the cost of the warehouse in a very short time. While it is better to construct inexpensive warehouses than it is to allow the cotton to be damaged, it is much better and even cheaper in the long run, to construct standard warehouses.

NOTICE OF FIRE CHIEF.

To the citizens of Pecos City:

The Pecos City fire department has adopted the following plan for a system of fire alarms, and have decided to divide the city into three wards.

Ward One means one tap of the fire bell, and this ward takes in all of that part of town east of Cypress street.

Ward Two is designated by two taps of the bell, and includes all of the town west of Cypress street.

The streets are numbered north and south, and beginning at the T. & P. right of way, is First street, and one tap of the bell; the City fountain is second street and two taps; the fire house is third street, and three taps; the Carnegie library is Fourth street and four taps; W. D. Cowan's residence is on fifth street and five taps; Jac Love's residence is on Sixth street and six taps; John Hudson's residence is on Seventh street and seven taps; Mrs. Elizabeth Newell's residence is on Eighth street and eight taps; G. C. Parker's residence is on Ninth street and nine taps; and so on through all these streets running from one to nine, and from one to nine taps of the bell means in both wards, one and two.

For instance: If Geo. Landrum's house is on fire; in turning in the alarm, as he lives west of Cypress street and on second street, call up central and just say: "Fire, Ward Two, Street Two. Or if Mrs. Jo Camp's residence is on fire, call up central, and say: "Fire; Ward One Street Five.

North of the track is Ward Three and a fire in that vicinity will need only three taps of the bell.

We desire that everyone familiarize themselves as to the street they live on in regard to the numbering from one to nine, as it is an easy matter to locate the ward, there being only the three, one, two and three.

When sending in an alarm first give the ward then the street. By this method we will never get lost as to where a fire is. This is for your own protection and this is the reason we wish to impress upon you the necessity of knowing just on what street you live.

LOCATING THE TROUBLE.

When one is suffering from backache, lumbago, biliousness, sharp pains, sore muscles, and stiff joints, it is not always easy to locate the source of the trouble, but nine times out of ten it can be traced to overworked, weakened or diseased kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have benefited thousand of sufferers. For sale by Pecos Drug Co.—Advt.

Two taps of the bell after the general alarm means that the fire is out.

We have one of the best volunteer fire departments in West Texas and every member is ready to answer all calls and do it quick, and the City Council has been very liberal in buying apparatus and equipment. We have the best equipped department of any town of our size in Texas. If you doubt this, just call around and see for yourself.

We have a 40-horse power gasoline engine and pump combined, that is always ready to go, an automobile hose truck that carries 1000 feet of hose and two ladders, an automobile chemical truck that carries one hundred gallons of chemical and also ladders, and we have reel cart that carries 900 feet of hose.

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began to have that croupy cough, I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for the children—than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.—Advt.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Groves'

The Old Standard Groves' Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

It was last traced to this city—Is it mislaid among a bunch of odds and ends? Is it carelessly thrown aside as a trifle, when it is worth many times its weight in gold? Surely someone is overlooking a chance to make a fortune—if you get a clue, advise M. P. Editor of this paper. Be on the watch.

R. C. Duff

On Cotton As Contraband.

Hon. R. C. Duff, one of the highest authorities on International law in the nation and one of the most capable citizens in the United States, when asked to investigate the exporting of cotton and interpret the laws of nations on this subject for the American plowman, said in part:

"Article 28 of the Declaration of London reads as follows: 'The following may not be declared contraband of war: (1) raw cotton, wool, silk, etc.' Great Britain is not only a signatory of the Declaration of London, but in fact called the conference and insisted upon the inclusion of raw cotton on the list of absolute non-contraband. Under this declaration, which was subscribed to by all the maritime nations, we have a right absolutely to ship cotton, not only to neutral ports of Europe, but to Germany and Austria themselves. Humanity shudders at the thought of the death of the splendid Americans who went down on the Lusitania, but humanity would have more cause for shuddering if it could have presented to it in some similarly striking and dramatic way the woe, sorrow and suffering that will be occasioned to multiplied thousands of men, women and children in the Southern states as a result of cotton being forced down to starvation prices.

The reason why cotton does not command 18 or 20 cents per pound is simply because Great Britain has a naval strangle hold on our shipments and, therefore, on the world supply. England sends her ships of war out into the open seas, captures American cotton, no matter to whom the same may be destined, carries it into British ports, sets up prize courts of her own nomination, which prize courts, of course, are operating in her favor and which, under such circumstances, after whatever delay they elect to impose, assess the damages of the American shipper at whatever price they see fit and then, after having by such process 'bought' our cotton, she avails herself of the extraordinary high prices existing on the continent of Europe, produced in part by her diversion of our shipments, to resell it at a profit. The American shipper has no recourse except to the government. The acts of Great Britain referred to, according to the well-recognized principle of International law constitute war against the United States.

This grievance is now of many months standing and the South is about to bring to market a larger crop of cotton. Under such circumstances one would expect that our government, without prompting, would know perfectly well how to deal with acts on the part of the British government, amounting to warfare against our trade and country.

It is not necessary for us to resort to war against Great Britain in retaliation. A simple, adequate and obvious remedy would be for the president to advise Great Britain that unless she respects the law of nations as regards our foreign commerce, he will call on Congress to take such action as regards the exportation of arms and munitions of war to foreign countries

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver and you lose a day's work.

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when 50 cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you. (Advt.)

Announcement has been made at the Treasury Department today that as a result of the continued research and experiments of the Public Health Service, both the cause and the cure of pellegra have been discovered, and that the spread of this dread malady during the past few years has been increasing in the United States, may now be checked and eventually eradicated. Assistant Secretary Newton, in charge of the Public Health Service, expressed great interest in the discovery and regards it as one of the most important achievements of medical science in recent years.

Pellegra has been increasing at an alarming rate throughout the United States during the last eight years, and it is estimated that 75,000 cases of the disease will have occurred in the United States in 1916, and of this number at least 7500 will have died before the end of the year. In many sections only tuberculosis and pneumonia exceed it as a cause of death.

The final epoch making experiment of the Public Health Service was carried out at the farm of the Mississippi State Penitentiary about eight miles east of Jackson, and together with the previous work of the Service completes the chain in the prevention and cure of the disease. The work of the Mississippi farm has been in charge of Assistant Surgeon G. A. Wheeler of the United States Public Health Service. The farm consists of three thousand two hundred acres in center of which is the convict camp. The final experiment was undertaken for the purpose of testing the possibility of producing pellegra in the human body of healthy white males by a restricted one-sided, and mainly carbo-hydrate (cereal) diet. Of eleven convicts who volunteered for this experiment six developed a typical dermatitis and mild gastrointestinal symptoms.

Experts, including Dr. E. H. Galoway, the secretary of the Mississippi State Board of Health, Dr. Nolan Stewart, formerly Superintendent of the Mississippi State Hospital for the Insane at Jackson, Dr. Marcus Hulse, Professor of Dermatology, Medical College of the University of Tennessee, Memphis, Tenn., and Dr. Martin R. Eham, Professor of Dermatology in the Medical School at Washington, declare that the disease which was produced was true pellegra.

Prior to the commencement of these experiments no history could be found of the occurrence of pellegra on the penitentiary farm. On this farm are 75 or 80 convicts. Governor Earl Brewer offered to pardon twelve of the convicts who would volunteer for the experiment. They were assured that they would receive proper care throughout the experiment and treatment should it be necessary. The diet given was bountiful and more than sufficient to sustain life. It differed from the food given other convicts merely in the absence of meats, milk, eggs, beans, peas, and similar protein food. In every other particular the convicts were treated exactly as were the remaining convicts. They had the same routine work and discipline, the same periods of recreation and the same water to drink. Their quarters were better than those of the other convicts. The diet given them consisted of biscuits, fried mush, grits and brown gravy, syrup, corn bread, cabbage, sweet potatoes, rice, collards and coffee with sugar. All component of the dietary were of the best quality and were properly cooked. As a preliminary, and to determine if the convicts were afflicted with any other disease, they were kept under observation from February 4th to April 9th, two and a half months, on which date the one sided diet was begun.

Although the occurrence of nervous symptoms and gastro-intestinal disturbances were noted early, it was not until September 12th, or about five months' after the beginning of the restricted diet, that the skin symptoms so characteristic to pellegra began to develop. These symptoms are considered as typical, every precaution being taken to make sure that they were not caused by any other disease. The convicts upon whom the experiment was being made, as well as twenty other convicts who were selected as controls, were kept under continual medical surveillance. No cases of pellegra developed in camp except among those men who were on the restricted diet. The experiments have therefore drawn the conclusion that pellegra has been caused in at least six of the eleven volunteers as a result of the one sided diet on which they subsisted.

On the basis of this discovery the States of Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida have laid their propaganda through their respective boards of health for the eradication of the disease.

Which is the greatest, the devil or hell? Let him who knows speak.

One of those western storms passed through Pecos Wednesday, and it was so badly mixed with dust that a stranger could hardly tell whether it was a wind or a dust storm.

Common sense is the only rule for the common people to be governed by. A farmer, when his cotton has been picked, ginned and hauled home and there stored away under a dry shed, upon a platform that is from 12 to 18 inches above the ground, so that it will not absorb the moisture from the ground, then see that the walls protect it from the drifting rains.

IT IS ONLY ONE DAY NEARER PEACE.

What is the propelling power of the wars at present? We will first speak of Mexico, because it was the first nation that declared war and that declaration was against its own people.

THEY WENT DUCK HUNTING. Messrs. Dr. O. J. Bryan and A. L. Wolfe returned home Wednesday afternoon from their duck hunt in the dust storm, and we understand that they were a sight to behold. Unless you are a sprinter and in good trim it is best not to ask them about their luck.

BALMORHEA.
 Only a few weeks more until the elections for Directors and a Tax Assessor and Collector of Reeves County Irrigation District No. 1.
 Verdie Pruett said that it was impossible for Billy McGarrey to finish his job of painting until he put a little touch of Irish to it, so he climbed up and painted the top of the chimney a beautiful "shamrock green."
 T. M. Delaney, the Saxon Six agent has been out on the road for the past week "peddling" Saxon care. He made a round through Pecos, Barstow, Grandfalls, and the Fort Stockton country and we understand that he made several sales.
 Will Massey, who left Balmorhea about a year ago and went up into New Mexico, has returned and says he is back to stay if the people do not run him out, and we don't think they will, for he is a mighty good citizen to have around. They will come back, for old Toyah Valley is not so bad after all.

TEACHERS WON'T GET PAID FOR 45 DAYS.
 Austin, Texas, Nov. 16.—About 20,000 school teachers in Texas are affected by the recent announcement by Prof. W. F. Doughty, the state superintendent of public instruction that there will be no apportionment of the available school fund made during the remainder of the calendar year because of the lack of funds. When the next apportionment is made next January, the state it is said will be four months in arrears in payment of teachers' salaries, about $2,000,000.

PROTRACTED MEETINGS ARE IN ORDER.
 Pecos has started its third revival meeting. The Christian church beginning Sept. 25 and continuing for three weeks, followed by the Baptist Church which held for two weeks, and after about two weeks' rest the Methodist being thoroughly organized, secured an able evangelist and singer and opened their campaign last Sunday morning, the 14th, at 11 o'clock. Rev. Neal is doing the preaching and attracting large congregations at the night services. Pecos will undoubtedly be a clean town, spiritually speaking.

HE WILL BE FROM PECOS.
 Brother Tom Lowery, of Sayre, Oklahoma, arrived Tuesday. He will lead the singing during the Methodist revival that is being conducted by Evangelist Neal, and after the close of this meeting he will go to another town and it will be the talk of the town where he is from and he will proudly say, "from PECOS, Texas, the town of towns, the youngest town of the West that has more flowing wells, more miles of cement sidewalks, a fine tlight and ice plant, a fine system of waterworks, also one of the best volunteer fire companies, when the fire alarm is turned in the rattle of the coming of the apparatus almost extinguishes the fire without any water. This is a place to be proud of. They have a large pool in the center of the city filled with water and fish, some of which are large ones, but not quite as large as the "Jonah size."

WILL DRILL FOR OIL NEAR FORT STOCKTON.
 I. E. Brown, one of Fort Stockton's prominent citizens was a Pecos visitor Wednesday. He was accompanied by Messrs. N. A. McGill and L. L. Boggs. The latter two have entered into a contract to drill for oil about 16 miles north-east of Fort Stockton and were here to meet I. W. Ross of Toyah, who is to work with them.
 They report that everything in that section of the country is getting along in fine shape. I. E. has hosts of friends in Pecos who are always glad to see him.
 The Times acknowledges a pleasant call from these gentlemen. Call again.

OFF TO A HOUSE WARMING PARTY.
 Mr. and Mrs. Sam Means and family, accompanied by Misses Winifred Hatch, Nannie Mae Collings, and Warren Collings, left yesterday on a trip to the Bill Jones ranch home in the Davis Mountains to be present at a house warming party. They expect to be gone until Sunday. Mr. Jones has the finest residence at his ranch, between Fort Worth and El Paso, and these people will, without doubt have a splendid time.

BISHOP HOWDEN WAS HERE MONDAY.
 Bishop F. B. Howden of Albuquerque, N. M., Episcopal Church Diocese of West Texas and New Mexico, was here Monday and held services at the Episcopal church Monday night, and communion; also had services Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.
 The bishop is a most forcible and entertaining speaker and the services were greatly enjoyed by those who attended.

DISTRESS IN THE STOMACH
 There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padghan Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after meals, also by constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.
