GUARANTY STATE BANK

OCCUPIES NEW BUILDING

The Guaranty State Bank held "open house" Saturday in its new home, on the corner of Broadway and West Seventh streets, having moved into the building the morning after. During the afternoon and evening there was a continual stream of people in the building, being shown through by the bank officers. The Guaranty State Bank has been under construction since the first of the year. It is a modern business building, having cost an expenditure of $50,000, and is one of the most modern and commodious individual banking buildings in West Texas.

The exterior is of brown rough brick and white stone, with horizontal lines. The windows are barred with steel.

The interior is wainscoted with French Tavenille marble taken from quarries in France, and the floor is the crystallization of waxes and oils. The marbling of the polished marble is very beautiful.

The upper part of the building is done in soft cream cement plaster, and the coloring harmonizes with the marble wainscoting, the Tennessee marble floors, the Carthage stone bases, the waxed oak woodwork, the plate glass fixtures.

The president's office is in front of the lobby, and the cashier's office is on the left of the entrance. The president's office is next with the cashier's office.

The cages of the paying and receiving tellers, and bookkeepers are in oak, glass and steel, with modern equipment in the way of calculating machines. Back of these are the desks of the stenographers and clerks.

The lobby of the bank is very commodious, with seats and desks for

"Lubbock won twentieth place. We were not advised as to the standing of other counties by number of ribbons won."

A GOLDEN WEDDING GIFT

Dear Heart of Mine, do you recall that it's fifty years today
Since we stood before the altar and I heard you gently say
The words that bound you to me—that linked our hearts as one—
When we left the church house happy, and the preacher's work was done,

And we faced the world together with a meager start in life,
I, a boy with soul ambitious, you a trusting, girlish wife?

Let's forget today the sorrows of the lean years that we spent
In the struggle for existence when our forms with toil were bent;
Let's forget the pain endured as we saw our children go
From the hearthstone of the home nest to a life they did not know;
Let's forget all things that hurt us, let's forgive and try to live,
Let's be happy and contented for the sake of God above.

For today's our Golden Wedding and we're here to celebrate,
And I'm going to make a present, 'tis one that will elate;
It is on that's sure to please you—one you've wanted all these years,
Take this packet, Love, and keep it, 'tis my greatest gift to you,
It's a deed to eighty acres where the Southern skies are blue.

'Tis in the Valley of the Blessed, that cool and happy land,
Where the flowers bloom forever, on the Lower Rio Grande;
There's naught too good to give you for the wife you've been to me,
And I give it to you, darling, that happy you may be;
And tonight, when shadows lengthen, we'll be wending on our way
To the Valley of the Blessed, on our Golden Wedding Day.

—Join the excursion to the Rio Grande Valley every Monday night.

J. M. COFFEY, General Agent. W. E. Stewart Land Co.

Certain cotton growers' associations are urging the farmers to gather their cotton and store it until the price advances. This "not gin it" advice is foolish. Ginned cotton is easier handled and stored, and when the price goes up can be more quickly marketed. Farmers have a lot of foolish advice pitched at them, for most everybody thinks he is capable of advising the farmer what to do.

A SOLEMN PLEDGE

There are those who contend that the pledge printed on the democratic primary tickets in July and August is not binding. All we have to say is: The person who voted the democratic ticket in the primary solemnly declared himself to be a democrat and pledged himself to support the democratic nominees. It was a moral pledge, and the person who refuses to abide by that pledge in the November election perjures himself. This is straight talk, but the News never resorts to camouflage.

To argue that a man is not morally obligated to vote the Democratic ticket, after participating in a primary election, is the same as arguing that no moral obligation is binding on a citizen. Why partisan primaries, if the result is not binding on those of the faith of the party holding same? True the pledge is voluntary, but should be more binding on that account. No one can compel another to vote in the primary, but if he is interested in the party and wants to see its candidates win and assist in their selection, as a good citizen and true to his promise, he will go to the polls in the general election and vote for the nominees. That was the rule even before primary elections were authorized by law in Texas—the oldtime Democrat voted for the nominee every time. This is a real test of his fealty to the party and why should less be expected of democrats in this day and time? To say the least, the man who votes in the primary an goes back on his pledge in the general election, is a deceiver and hypocrite.

Hale county is growing as a farming section. The census shows there were 1,031 farms in this county January 1st. Ten years ago there was 731; in 1900 there were 259.

Prices are dropping. The newspapers say there has been a considerable break in the prices of muslin, furniture and iron pipe. Sugar keeps tumbling down, and some stores in Dallas are selling it at less than 12c a pound.

Labor in this country is up against a hard problem, which it must solve. Labor says it does not propose to have its wages cut, no matter how low prices of farm products and manufactured goods may drop. Neither does it propose to work longer hours for the day's pay. Business circles points out that thousands of laborers are being laid off from factories, railroads and other employers of labor, and that this winter will see an army of unemployed unless labor can find a way to meet the situation by revising its wages downward. Unless it does this, hundreds of factories threaten to shut down and take a long rest. There are abundant crops of all kinds of farm products, which has resulted in lower prices; hence, the farmers are being urged by farmer organizations to plant the coming year much smaller crops than usual, only enough that the family can do the work without extra hired help, and this movement is spreading for it means the farmers will get better prices for a small crop and make more clear money than on a large crop for which they have to hire help at high wages. Farmers simply cannot at present prices of wheat, cotton, etc., pay high wages for farm labor. Labor has received excessively high wages for the past few years, has become very trifling and arrogant. A revel of extravagance—easy come, easy go. Now, the winter of adversity is about to break upon labor. It has a hard problem before it.

Mysterious Rain Puzzles Dublin, Ga. Dublin, Ga., Oct. 15—A mysterious rain which falls daily on a certain spot in this city, whether it is cloudy or fair, cold or hot, has been going on until it has awakened the curiosity of the people in the neighborhood and started much talk.

On the sidewalk of Columbia street between Franklin and Washington streets there is a spot near a tree where the rain can be seen falling in a light shower from about 11 a. m. to mid-afternoon. It is not a hard rain, but can be plainly seen and felt. Residents in the street say it has been going on this way for two years or more, and so far no explanation of it has been found.

Farmers Have Busy Season Farmers of the Plainview shallow water belt are in the midst of their busiest times, the wheat harvest season not even excepted. Over 70,000 acres of milo, maize, kafir, alfalfa, corn, feterita, and sudan grass are being harvested. The yield is heavy and labor is scarce. Fortunately, tractors and all modern machinery is making it possible for the farmers to do the work with but little man power.

Wheat Soars on Report The price of wheat went up about ten cents a bushel Friday on account of the report that President Wilson had taken up the matter of possibly urging that an embargo be put against Canadian wheat entering this country.

The war tax on soft drinks the past year brought the government $57,000,000 in revenue.

The Duponts are fighting Cox and the League of Nations. The gun and ammunition makers don't want to do away with all war.

Have you contributed to the democratic campaign fund? The party is in need of money to carry on the campaign and win a victory for democracy. Your contribution is needed.

Former Attorney General B. F. Looney declares the defeat of the proposed school amendment would be a sad tragedy, as it would mean the breaking down of our state educational system.

If Texas were divided into five states the eight or ten additional votes in the electoral ticket would have a very important bearing in this year's national campaign. But this is not the only nor best reason the state should be divided.

Senator Capper of Kansas is a republican, but in his fight for the destruction of gambling in farm products, we are hoping he will win. Why should a bunch of gamblers be permitted to fix the price of wheat, cotton, meat or any other product?

Recently a News subscriber made inquiry as to who wrote the beautiful poem, "In Flanders Fields the Poppies Blow." It was written by Lieut. Col. John D. McCrae of Montreal, Canada, who later January 28, 1918, was killed on duty in Flanders.

Cullen F. Thomas of Dallas, who spoke in Plainview just before the run-off primary, is being mentioned for U. S. Senator to succeed Culbertson. Thomas is a very able and worthy man, and could hardly be improved upon as senatorial timber.

We are quite sure that not one of the members of the bunch on the corner will ever get to heaven, for there is not an instance recorded in the Bible where the Lord ever called upon a lazy person to do anything. Only the terrors of an impending hades could scare some of the bunch into hunting a job of work.

The latest count shows forty-one nations in the League of Nations, and the president of Mexico endorses the League and that country will likely soon apply for membership. This will leave the United States, Germany, Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria outside. The League is a going concern and is doing good work already.

Many persons will vote against the proposed school amendment because it takes the lid off and permits school districts to vote any rate of school tax a majority of the people wish. That is a very bad feature of the amendment and is indefensible. There should be a conservative limit on all taxation, and to not place a limit could lead to burdensome taxes. But, likely only in a few districts could non-property owning citizens saddle excessive taxes on the property owning minority.

Gov. Cox gives a list of the various parties that are supporting Harding and the republican party. They are: the re-actionary party, the pro-German party, the Italian party, the low wage party, the suppression or anti-progressive party, the pro-Greek party the bayonet party who believe in martial law in all industrial disputes, the national isolation party, the Liberty Bond speculators' party, the anti-federal reserve bank party, the profiteer party, the anti-League of Nations party, the munitions-making party whose interest is to have war, and the negro party. Some party, you'll have to agree.

Vote for the school amendment, which means better schools.

All three nominees for governor—Neff, Culbertson and McGregor are advocating the adoption of the school tax amendment.

Those who haven't paid their poll tax should do so before Friday night, in order to vote in the November election. You'll have to hurry.

C. W. Warwick has decided to remain in Canyon, having bought the stock of all the other shareholders in the Randall County News. Warwick is a good newspaperman.

Senator Harding is trying the interesting but difficult task of riding two horses going in different directions. He is trying to line up both the pro and anti League of Nations elements in his party.

Cox and Roosevelt in their speeches are certainly taking the hide off the republicans. They are showing them up in such a way as should cause the American people to defeat them by a great majority in the election.

Colonel Bill Sterrett of the Dallas News is making a trip through the north, and he finds that Cox is gaining rapidly in strength. He is putting a punch in his campaign that is appealing to the people, while Harding is not showing up very well. Americans love red-blooded men like Cox and Roosevelt.

The supreme court holds that Bill Haywood and his bunch of I. W. Ws., who were convicted last year, must go to the federal penitentiary and serve their sentences. Haywood is one of those criminally minded persons who should be kept in prison all the time just to keep him out of devilment. Most all the I. W. Ws. and Bolshevists are in the same class, and deserve the same treatment. Radicalism is a species of criminal insanity.

The national grain dealers' association is scared that the farmers of the nation may form a great organization and market their products in a way as to eliminate the middlemen. While it is likely necessary to have a middleman or two to distribute the farmer's products to the consumer, there is no justice in having so many as to cause the consumer to pay from twice to five times as much as the farmer receives. In many instances the middleman receives more money for merely loading and shipping than the farmer does for a year's work raising the products.

The city council should pass an ordinance prohibiting transients peddling in Plainview, especially on the streets. These street vendors cry their wares from wagons on the square, and reap a prosperous trade through conditions made possible by the local tax payers, and everybody knows the local merchants pay more taxes and contributions for the upbuilding of the town and country than any other class of people. These transient peddlers should not be accorded better treatment than the business men who make their home in Plainview.

J. W. PATTERSON

Candidate for
District Clerk for Hale County
Plainview, Texas

TO THE VOTERS OF HALE COUNTY:

In view of the fact that by virtue of Hale County's population having passed the 10,000 mark in the recent census, our state laws automatically separate the offices of County and District Clerks and as Mr. Jo. W. Wayland was nominated for County Clerk in the recent primary he retains that office and a separate office of District Clerk has been created, and I have announced for this new office.

I am thirty-four years of age and have lived in Plainview for nearly six years. Prior to moving to Plainview I had engaged in the lumber business for a number of years and became manager of the Alfalfa Lumber Co. in Plainview, serving them for three years, at which time I resigned to enter the insurance and loan business.

I have a thorough knowledge of bookkeeping and stenographic work as well as a general business training and am thoroughly competent to properly attend to the duties of the office of District Clerk.

If elected I promise a clean business administration of affairs of the office and solicit your support and that of your friends on that basis.

No names will be printed on the ballots in November for the office of District Clerk, or that of Tax Collector, which is also a newly created office, and I will appreciate your careful attention to the spelling of my name and use of my initials, that you may properly write my name on the ballot and have your vote counted for me if you so intend it.

Respectfully,

J. W. PATTERSON.

COX OPENS CAMPAIGN

Policy of isolation and selfishness, for American attack - speaks to voters. Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 18. - Dollars great and business stagnation, will come in the near future unless it is certain that the nation agrees to go into the future as a nation, Governor Cox declared here today, speaking to business men. "If America is to isolate itself from the world, as some political leaders advocate, we shall see that production will be interrupted, and that would mean the end of our industry," Cox said. "My judgment is that a dollar price of goods will be paid in the near future unless the nation agrees to go into the future as a nation. The only way to get out of this predicament is to go into the future as a nation, and that would mean the end of our industry." Cox said. "The democratic nominee emphasized during the thirteen remaining working days of the campaign he will attack continuously what he calls the "wiggling and wobbling attitude" of Senator Harding toward the League of Nations. His first speech here was before an organization of first time voters. "The examination is but another world for national construction," he said. "Americanization is not selfishness. It means we so love the freedom of America that wherever in the world we find the name of America is mentioned, it shall mean loyalty, progress of humanity and peace. To shut out America first, and then oppose making America first, throughout the world, is to turn our backs on progress and on the ideas which the framers of our great constitution wrote into the soil of America." Cox praised the work of school teachers in disseminating American ideals and declared they were entitled to more substantial recognition by State and Nation. The Governor said, is founded upon the spirit of American freedom. Cox declared he is confident the mothers and the young men will back the League. "Touching education, the Governor said our standard should be a triangle of moral, intellectual and physical development."

OBREGON IS HONOR GUEST AT DALLAS BANQUET

PRESIDENT-ELECT CHEERED BY THOUSANDS DURING THE PARADE

Dallas, Oct. 16.—Political and commercial friendship of Mexico and the Southwest was sealed here tonight when General Alvaro Obregon, president-elect of the Southern Republic, was the guest of honor at an international banquet by Texas State officials and business men.

Obregon sat with Governor W. P. Hobby, advocate of armed action against Mexico while it was under the Carranza regime but now one of the leaders of a strong movement organized in border states for formal recognition of Mexico by the United States. Hobby today endorsed a plan of influential Texans to run a special train from Dallas to Mexico City December 1 to carry scores of Texans to the inauguration ceremonies of Obregon.

Obregon's reception here today was unique in the history of Texas, it being the first time a president or president-elect of Mexico has even penetrated the state this far on a "friendship" mission. He was cheered by Americans as he rode through the city in an automobile, and was given a more spectacular reception by Mexicans who gathered from all parts of the state to hear him talk at a local park.

His interview here today, wherein he declared Mexico would establish law and order without being asked to by the United States as terms of recognition aroused much favorable comment.

Speaking to Mexicans in Spanish at a local park, Obregon this afternoon invited them to return to their homeland and co-operate with the people there to "make a great and powerful Mexico."

After ten years of bloodshed Mexico is now at peace and will take her place among civilized nations of the world, he declared, adding: "We will no longer be forced to blush when we say we are Mexicans."

Obregon, according to plans announced by his party, will go to Fort Worth tomorrow at 11 o'clock, and from there will return to Mexico City, via El Paso.

FOOD NOW LEADING IN DOWNWARD SWING

Level of Prices Paid Farmers 15.6 Per Cent Lower During Last Month

Washington, Oct. 16.—Food is now leading all other necessities in the downward sweep of prices.

The level of prices paid farmers for their products declined 15.6 per cent during September according to reports to the Agricultural Department covering the entire country.

Consumers already have begun to benefit from this sweeping decline, other reports show.

Prices paid the farmer on October 1 throughout the United States averaged, according to the Agricultural Department:

White potatoes $1.35 per bushel; sweet potatoes, $1.61 per bushel; apples $1.33 per bushel; butter, 54.1 cents per pound; eggs 50. cents per dozen; chickens 26.4 cents a pound, and wheat $2.14 per bushel.

Retail prices of clothing and more than 250 other commodities still are on the down grade, government reports show.

Numerous expressions of opinion by high government officials indicate price declines already recorded are regarded as the beginning of a permanent decline in the general cost of living.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston is one who believes the crest of high prices as been reached. It may take years, however, for the general decline to complete its cycle, Houston said.

Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, is another official who has declared that the decline is a permanent beginning of lower prices. The dollar is worth approximately 55 cents compared with its pre-war 1914 purchasing power. Two months ago the dollar stood for only 37 cents.

STATE RECOVERS $1,200,000 IN PLAINS LAND

Judgment Awarded in Suit Against Capitol Land Syndicate for 60,000 Acres

Austin, Texas, Oct. 15.—Judgment for the State in its suit to recover 60,000 acres of land from the Capitol League Syndicate was rendered today by Judge George Calhoun in the Fifty Third District Court of Travis county. The state alleged this land was in excess of the 3,000,000 acres which the state in 1884 gave the syndicate in payment for the construction of the Texas Capitol.

Of the 3,060,000 acres originally held by the syndicate, 600,000 acres remain, all the land being in the Panhandle section.

According to the judgment the state is to recover 60,000 acres in one body, to be taken from 600,000 acres now owned by the syndicate.

The value of the land at this time is estimated to be at least $20 an acre or a total of $1,200,000 for 60,000 acres. At the time the state gave the land to the syndicate the land was valued a $1 per acre.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

AWAKES FROM LONG SLEEP

Little Town of Koenigstein Has a Brief Resumption of Military Glory of the Past.

On the great main route between Frankfurt and Cologne, the little town of Koenigstein has enjoyed an unusual, though not unprecedented, military importance this summer, owing to the fact that General Mangin has made it his headquarters. The destruction of its fortress, the building of railways and steamships for the Rhine, all these had shorn Koenigstein of its one-time importance, and during the last 130 years, but for the bustle and laughter of the periodic holiday-maker, the little town seems to have fallen asleep. Through gently rising and falling country, past gardens which are a colored tangle of climbing geraniums and other flowers, the traveler comes upon Koenigstein. And instantly his attention is arrested by the great ruin, silent, misshapen, upon the hill, forcing upon the present, inexorably, the memory of the past. Here owing to the treachery of one of his messengers, the French general, Meunier, surrendered to the Prussians in 1792; here the French returned four years later in triumph, only shortly after to destroy and then abandon their little city encompassed by its powerful walls, lest the approaching enemy should once more intrench himself there. Today, in times of peace, a great French soldier walks beneath the shadow of the fortress, while his men in their picturesque azure uniforms, climb inconspicuously about its shattered terraces and through its broken doorways.

HOLDING FRANCE TO REBUILD

Californians Responsible for the Erection of Model Village in the Devastated Region.

Anyone acquainted with the marvellous recuperative energy of France will hardly be surprised at the pace with which she is rebuilding her waste places and desolate heritages. Less than two years ago, along the banks of the Marne, all was ruin and desolation; where once had been thriving villages, not one brick stood upon another. Today, houses amidst their neatly planted gardens are springing up everywhere, and the peasant is to be seen once more serenely at work in the fields as though during these past years he had known no other setting for his labors than this silent, peaceful countryside. One thing he has gained from this destruction and rebuilding again. The dark, inconspicuous, often dilapidated home of the past has been replaced by a comfortable up-to-date dwelling. Among the most remarkable of these post-bellum French villages is one in the department of the Meurthe-et-Moselle, which has been wholly rebuilt under the superintendence of Californian women, architects and designers. An ideal model village, artistic, orderly, practical in its extreme simplicity, this little homestead is held in great esteem by its inhabitants, who are determined to prove themselves worthy of so attractive a setting.

Going "On High" in a Flivver.

Going to heaven "on high" in a flivver has come to be a fact rather than mere fancy. At least the feat has been attempted in effigy. This curious ceremony took place recently in Tientsin, China, says the Kansas City Star.

It is a custom among the rich in China to burn various effigies at the funeral ceremonies. The effigies represent every manner of thing from animals to tables loaded with money. When the wealthy Mr. Li died the family ordered an imitation of his car burned at his grave.

New Minister.

The new minister, who was rather young, and five-year-old Marian became great friends at sight. And Marian was not impressed much by his ministerial dignity even at church. The other Sunday when he went home with them for dinner she was delighted.

The little girl from next door came over to see the visitor. "He's the minister at your church—isn't he?" she asked.

Country's Leather Industry.

The leather industry ranks as the third greatest manufacturing industry in the United States. According to the census of manufacturers for 1914, about 250,000 persons are engaged in the leather industry of the United States, some 55,036 of whom are in the tanning and leather trades, the remainder being principally shoemakers and harness makers.

First Principles.

"What's your theory of collective bargaining?" "Seems to me," replied Farmer Corntassel, "pretty much like the plain, old-fashioned lawsuit. The side that kin get the smartest legal talent to represent it is mighty liable to get the best of the deal."

HAS HIS CHOICE OF MOUNTS

Many Horses Provided, From Which the Sultan of Morocco Selects the One He Will Ride.

Between the black guard and the tents five or six horses were being led up and down by muscular grooms in snowy tunics. They were handsome animals, as Moroccan horses go, and each of a different color; and on the bay horse was a red saddle embroidered in gold, on the pibald a saddle of peach color and silver, on the chestnut grass green encrusted with seed pearls, and on the bay mare purple housings, and orange velvet on the gray.

The sultan's hand had struck up a shrill hammering and twanging, the salute of the black guard continued at intervals, and the caparisoned steeds began to rear and snort and drag back from the cruel Arab bits with their exquisite niello incrustations, writes Edith Wharton in the Yale Review. Some one whispered that these were his majesty's horses, and that it was never known until he appeared which one he would mount.

Presently the crowd about the tents thickened, and when it divided again there emerged from it a gray horse bearing a motionless figure swathed in blinding white. Marching at the horse's bridle lean brown grooms in white tunics rhythmically waved long strips of white linen to keep the flies from the imperial presence; and beside the motionless rider, in a line with the horse's flank, rode the imperial parasol bearer, who held above the sovereign's head a great surshade of bright green velvet.

HAD ODD IDEAS OF BURIAL

Eccentric Individuals Disposed of After Death According to Instructions Left in Their Wills.

A Londoner who died recently, left a codicil to his will in which he desired that his remains should be cremated and mixed with equal portions of cement and sand and buried "in a large old jam jar which belonged to my mother."

Nor is this by any means an isolated example of the peculiarities of some people in regard to the disposal of their bodies. Perhaps the most extraordinary is that of the great philanthropist, Jeremy Bentham, who directed that, after his body had been dissected for the benefit of certain medical students, the skeleton should be reassembled, clad after the custom of the period, and exhibited in a glass case at University college, where it may still be seen.

A certain major desired that his body should be buried in a vertical position, feet upwards, on Box hill. "I am convinced that by the time I rise again the world will have turned topsy-turvy," was the eccentric soldier's reason for departing from the usual procedure in regard to burial and, it may be noted, his wishes were duly carried out.

Mystic Number Forty.

The number "Forty" plays an important part in Mohammedan ritual, the sultan gave Aladdin 40 days in which to find the lost palace. In the Thousand and One Nights' entertainment the Third Calendar had a prosperous voyage for 40 days and was entertained by 40 damsels, who absented themselves for 40 days. And then there's All Baba and the Forty Thieves. Also there is the story of Nasir, who spent 40 days in prayer and then shot an arrow through a suspended ring 40 times in succession, and when he wounded the king it took the monarch 40 days to recover from the hurt.

Varied Spelling of His Name.

In a remarkable collection of autographic material which has just come from England to America, one of the most noteworthy items is closely related to the first English settlement in America. Sir Richard Greenville, a relative of Sir Walter Raleigh, established that settlement, and his autograph remains in very few British collections and is said never to have passed through an auction room. Signatures enough remain to show that Sir Richard, like other gentlemen of his time, seems to have spelled his name as he happened to feel like spelling it at the moment. One takes one's choice between Greynville, Grenville, Greenville, and Granville.

Trade Value in Gum Tree.

In the South, where the red gum tree (Liquidambar styraciflua) grows, few are aware that the gum which exudes from this tree when its sapwood is wounded has commercial value, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. Small amounts of the dried gum have been used for some time in the manufacture of chewing gum. Storax is used in the manufacture of perfumes, tobacco, adhesives and pharmaceutical preparations, and contains cinnamic acid and cinnamic alcohol, both of which are in demand.

Memorial Trees in Utah.

Lester park, the most beautiful and best known park of Ogden, Utah, was the scene of a very unusual ceremony says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington when the members of the office of the district forester planted three memorial trees for Capt. Homer S. Youngs, Lieut. Hubert C. Williams and Forest Ranger Rudolf E. Mellenstern. The first two died in France and the last was killed arresting a draft evader.

D. C. Harrison, farmer, says: "Some time ago my back and kidneys were causing me much trouble. All through the small of my back was soreness and lameness and also an aching. It bothered me when I bent over and something like a sharp catch would take me in my back and hurt me to straighten up. My kidneys were weak and irregular in action and bothered me considerably. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and began using them. In a short time I felt relieved, I haven't used any such remedy since." Price 60c, at all dealers. ## THE STRIKE

The impending suspension of the tramway services and among the minor effects of the strike is the countermanding of public social functions. Already the visit of the Prince of Wales to the city on Wednesday has been rescinded.

THE GREAT EAST TURNING

The great east turning of the Middlesbrough district are already beginning to shut down; thousands of furnace men and steel workers are idle. This tea-district provides one-third of the whole British output of pig iron, and it is expected that the strike will be prolonged for some 25,000 men will be without work.
