

CONCERNING MORE HOSPITAL FACILITIES HERE

Commissioners To Receive Report of Committee Soon

Acting under direction of the Commissioners Court, a seven-man committee indicated strongly Tuesday that it soon would present its findings to the Court concerning additional hospital facilities for Terry County.

In a lengthy afternoon session, attended by other Brownfield men, the group decided:

That federal money would not be sought, because of the "numerous conditions under which it would have to be spent," and

That a complete appraisal would be made of Treadaway-Daniell Hospital, including equipment, fixtures, supplies and grounds.

The committee will ask a Brownfield building contractor, Loyd Moore, to appraise the hospital structure; Sid Lowery of Brownfield Savings & Loan Association, to appraise the land; and a Lubbock firm, Hunter Surgical Supplies, to appraise the equipment, supplies and fixtures.

Chairman of the Court committee is Henry Chisholm, who explained that two routes are open: "We build a new hospital, or we purchase Treadaway-Daniell Hospital and enlarge it."

The Brownfield hospital currently has beds for 36 patients, it was explained. Should the county buy the building and land, the committee indicated that it would advise enlarging the facilities for 50 beds, considered the necessary minimum for the county.

According to figures of the Texas State Health Department, said Chisholm, average cost of hospital construction per patient-bed is $15,000. A 36-bed hospital would cost, therefore, about $540,000.

Other committeemen are Marvin McNutt, Robert Beasley, George O'Neal, C. E. Ross, L. D. Hamm Sr., and Curtis Sterling.

Tuesday guests included Ben Finley, Meadow farmer; Dennis Q. Lilly, First National

Team Gets Slaton Win

Brownfield's Little League team moved into the finals of the area tourney at Slaton Tuesday night as they trounced Sundown, 15-3, for the second top-sided win in as many nights.

J. W. Harrell scattered 10 hits Monday as his teammates connected for 11 hits and a 11-6 victory over Denver City. Sam Richardson slammed a home-run for the winners and Connie Vernon made three hits in four times at bat.

In the semi-final tussel with Sundown, Richardson bewildered opposing batters, allowing only two hits and fanning 10.

Bob Casstevens and Dale Ruth hit back-to-back homers to highlight hitting for Brownfield. Casstevens registered two hits in three times at bat for the night.

The game was halted near by rain in the Slaton area.

The team was scheduled to meet Slaton Little League's Wednesday night for the championship of the area. Winner of the tilt will move to the district tournament at Lubbock today with the championship scheduled at Kuykendall-Bennett field Friday.

District winners will go to Abilene for regional play next week.

Car Rolls on Boy's Arm, Hip and Leg

Johnny H. Fincannon, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fincannon of Winston Trailers Courts, suffered minor bruises and abrasions late Tuesday afternoon when a car rolled over his right arm, hip and leg, reported police.

Investigation officers said the boy, who was left in the car on the north side of Kyle Grocery, apparently fell out as the vehicle rolled backward. The youth was treated and released after X-rays revealed no internal injuries.

COURT MOVES TO CLARIFY CURRENT SITUATION IN PRECINCT 3

Commissioner Given Notice

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

In a surprise move Monday, Judge Herbert Chesshir told Mrs. Ed Harrison, county commissioner of Precinct 3, that she must resign or the law would force him to declare the post vacant because of her recent move to Petersburg.

The move, which came in a special session of Commissioner's Court, was forced, Judge Chesshir said, because of public opinion.

Chesshir quoted Section 14, Article 16 of the Texas Constitution as follows: "All civil officers shall reside within the state; and all district or county officers within their districts or counties, and shall keep their offices at such places as may be required by law; failure to comply with this condition shall vacate the office so held."

The judge further noted that "if an officer moves to another county, he must resign or the county judge must declare it vacant and appoint a suitable replacement."

Mrs. Harrison who was elected to a four-year term last November, retorted, "I've never moved all my things from here and I plan to stay here most of the time. Most of my furniture and clothes still are here."

"Do you mean that you plan to maintain two residences?" Chesshir queried.

"I don't know what you mean, but I haven't moved everything out of my place here," answered Mrs. Harrison.

The judge reiterated that he must know what Mrs. Harrison planned to do about complying with the law "if I allow you to continue holding office and signing purchase orders, I will be violating the law," he said.

Chesshir added, "We would not have much of a county if all of the commissioners moved out of the county and still tried to run their position."

Mrs. Harrison stated that she had no idea that any question had arisen about her position as a result of her recent marriage and move to Petersburg.

Chesshir said he had been approached numerous times on the subject and he was sure other commissioners also had been approached. A poll of each had been queried on the situation.

"It's an unusual situation, but we must do something in order to comply with the law. If necessary we will declare the position vacant," stated the county judge.

The commissioner said she would give the court her decision with two or three days. It had not been made by Wednesday noon.

Judge Chesshir noted the situation came about when Mrs. Harrison remarried and moved to Petersburg with her husband. "They purchased a house and new furniture there, so it is inconceivable that they can consider the Terry County residence as home," he said.

The commissioner argued that Terry County is her legal residence because she still maintains a house full of furniture here.

"The situation just boils down to the fact that she no longer lives in the county. If she decides to fight the case, I will have to declare the office vacant and appoint another person to fill her unexpired term," noted Chesshir. "It is an unusual situation but I feel that we have given her every chance to comply with the law."

Chesshir noted, in case Mrs. Harrison does not resign, the case will be tried before a district court jury here. "It will be up to the jury to decide whether Petersburg or Terry County is her legal residence," he added.

To clarify the legal terminology of "residence," a letter from the Texas Attorney General's office quotes article 2958 of Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes as follows:

"Residence" within the meaning of the election laws provides that a residence of a married man is where his wife

Ruth Teams in Bitter Pennant Struggle; Plans Completed for Big Aug. 5 Finale

The Tigers tightened their grip on the Babe Ruth League lead as they eased by the hapless Yankees, 15-10, in the opening game Monday night. Roy Jones rapped a homer for the winners.

In the second game the Cardinals powered to a 27-7 victory over the Dodgers to edge nearer the leaders. Doug Mason provided the lone spark in the Dodger attack as he parked one over the fence.

As league play nears the end, plans began shaping up for the finale which will feature a game between the Blacks and Whites — two teams composed of fathers, officials, managers and coaches.

Mothers of Babe Ruth Players will officiate the game which is scheduled as the second game of a doubleheader Aug. 5. The first game will be a regular league game pitting the Tigers against the Cardinals.

An added feature of the nights' activities will be selection of a Babe Ruth Queen. Selection will be based upon the number of game tickets sold by queen candidates.

Vying for the title are Virginia Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooper of Route 5; Linda Sue Franklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. The league also will present trophies to the players with the best batting average and to the best sportsman.

Search Pushed Here

Law enforcement officers and Brownfield residents are pushing the search for a mixed breed dog that bit 7-year-old Jane Priest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Priest of 1005 East Lake, last week.

The youngster, who was attacked in the 1000-block on East Lake while her parents were in Dallas, will begin rabies inoculations this week.

She described the attacking dog as long, reddish-tan white in color and about two feet high. Police said anyone seeing a dog fitting this description is urged to contact the department immediately so the animal can be placed under observation.

Use Of Nitrogen Ups Sorghum Yields

Fertilization of irrigated grain sorghum with nitrogen at the rate of 60 pounds an acre produced the most economic yield increase of all fertilizer tests conducted the past three years at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland near Amarillo.

There was no response of the sorghum to application of phosphorus alone or in combination with nitrogen, although there was a tendency of response to phosphorus when applied with 160 pounds of nitrogen an acre.

New Hybrid Corn Is Developed in Texas

A new early-maturing hybrid which produces good yields under conditions of low moisture and high temperature has been developed in the corn improvement program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

This new hybrid, Texas 38, is a yellow double-cross with ears slightly smaller than other Texas hybrids. Its plants are usually about two feet lower.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Compulsory Union Shop Often Leads to Racketeer and Radical Leadership And to "Bleeding" of Workers by Their Employers

By MAURICE R. FRANKS (EDITOR'S NOTE: Maurice R. Franks is president of the National Labor-Management Foundation and editor of its official publication, Partners.)

Some 70 percent of union contracts signed by American business and industry, large and small, contain a union-shop clause that makes union membership a prime condition of employment.

This fact may suggest to some of us that either the principle of compulsory unionism is morally acceptable or that at least 70 percent of our workers and their employers are totally lacking in moral judgment.

Nothing could be more absurd, in either case.

The principle of imposing a toll on the right to work is still a base perversion of human liberty as we Americans understand it. To enable labor leaders to license employment is still a betrayal of human dignity, as foul as it ever was.

Likewise, a high percentage of American workers and employers are today as keenly aware of the evil of compulsory unionism as they were on the day the first union-shop contract—the first yellow-dog contract in reverse—was signed.

So let not any of us—especially our lawmakers in state and nation—get any wrong ideas and go to sleep on them.

Bad Mistake

It was a bad enough mistake in the first place, when laws were enacted that did not specially ban all forms of compulsory unionism.

The fact is that workers throughout business and industry deeply resent the bondage through collective bargaining, with full legislative and judicial sanction, at tables far beyond their reach.

It also is true that employers—even those who have signed away the human rights of their workers—despise the arrangement as vehemently as do the most indignant of the betrayed.

Both are victims of law in a framework of practical circumstance and know it. And both—the worker and the employer—know it far better than do legislators, judges and the public. It is the worker and the employer who have to live with the situation.

Union Leaders Coddled Chief among the nation shop's coddled pets are the union leaders—especially the ones who perch high in the echelons of organized labor for purposes of personal economic or political aggrandizement and who are out to get all the possibly can—for themselves or for the un-American ideals they may represent.

The racketeer labor leader demands compulsory unionism as the easiest and most prolific form of shakedown yet devised. He wants a total herd to exploit. He wants his take on a silver platter. He wants the law to enable it and the highest judges of the land to sanctify it.

The radical labor leader, too, demands compulsory unionism, for the sake of the "war chests" and "educational funds" it can provide him by the simple expedient of multiplying an imposed assessment by a figure representing total union membership.

He wants it for the easy money it gives him to fight the traditional institutions of Americanism via legislative lobbies and the mass communication he cynically and cunningly labels "education." The radical labor leader wants the union shop for the sake of the economic strength it gives him in overcoming business and industrial resistance to socialistic programs he is determined to put over.

Strike Funds Total Millions When we hear of "strike funds," the millions of dollars with which they are speedily filled and the unsound plans announced, sometimes years in advance, by these labor leaders for basic revisions in our employment situation and our entire social economy, indeed we can appreciate how much the union shop means to the radicals of the American labor movement—especially when we perceive how much internal democracy these same leaders have been careful to uproot or circumscribe within their union organizations.

But there also are unscrupulous employers who, quite within the law, bargain away the rights of individual workers because the union shop offers such employers a real bargain.

Costs Employers Nothing It costs them nothing and may even save them money, in cases where the union drops its biggest dollar demands as a come-on for the union-shop gimmick.

There are many ways in which an "understanding" union may be of help to an avaricious employer when there are bones to be mutually picked, and often enough the union shop offers a pleasant short-cut to the pickings.

It is not hard to visualize in this connection that when a greedy employer and a foxy union leader get together for a "free ride" on the bandwagon of compulsory unionism, it is at the actual expense of the workers—who must sacrifice dollars that would have reached their pockets had they not been bartered away in exchange for a ball and chain.

Fortunately, the unscrupulous, avaricious employers are in the minority. However, many an honorable employer has been forced to sign a union-shop contract to "save his skin." I'll have more to say about these "captive" employers in my next article.

Egg producers are cautioned by Ben Wormeli, extension poultry husbandman, that nicarbazin should not be used to control coccidiosis in laying flocks. Repeated tests have shown that it drastically reduces egg production.

Mon.—4-Day— Looks as though it won't be too long before we will have a completed 4-lane highway through Brownfield—the contractor is oiling the base now in preparation for the topping. All I can say is that it won't be too soon to suit me!

It's Official: TSCW Will Become Texas Woman's University With Fall Session

Texas Woman's University (formerly TSCW) will enroll students from nearly every county in the state this fall, according to Francis W. Emerson, dean of admissions-registrar. The session opens Sept. 17-18.

The Texas Legislature's action changing the name to Texas Woman's University officially goes into effect Aug. 19.

With reference to this change, President John A. Guinn explained that "the institution which was known for more than 50 years as CIA and later as TSCW thus enters a new era in which it will enjoy the advantages of a designation appropriate to its true character."

TSCW is the only college or university in the entire South which offers the doctorate in all major subject matter areas of home economics. To date, 19 Ph. D.'s have been conferred, mainly in the fields of nutrition and textile technology.

Its research programs, which include research services available to state hospitals and special schools as well as other state institutions and establishments, are supported by industrial, governmental and private grants which in the past five years have totaled more than a half-million dollars.

TSCW's occupational therapy school has the only such degree program for undergraduates in the Southwest. Its enrollment of freshmen occupational therapy majors is expected to be the largest in the nation.

The school of Library science was the first in Texas to be accredited by the American Library Association and has been so designated ever since.

TSCW's college of nursing, which utilizes the clinical facilities of Parkland Memorial Hospital in nearby Dallas, will have more than 250 students in the four collegiate levels this fall.

The department of journalism is the only one in a woman's college ever accredited by the American Council on Education for Journalism. This accreditation began in 1948 and was renewed in June of this year.

Four new buildings of modern functional design were opened on the campus during the past year and several other important specialized buildings will be started in 1958.

A recently released survey on High Plains irrigation reveals that 4,568,880 acres are now under irrigation in 42 counties in the area.

The farm tractor, if improperly handled and used, can become a killer. Farm activities are now at a peak and this means that tractors and farm machinery must move over highways to and from the fields.

Extension Range Specialists A. H. Walker and G. O. Hoffmann say that proper range management at this season should include feed reserves, deferred grazing and brush control. Excess forage should be stored for future use.

I LEARNED ABOUT BARGAINS!

Out of town bargains may look enticing — but add transportation cost, all-day shopping time, and the "not returnable" tag and it's no bargain. So shop at home and save!

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT . . .

The money you spend with our local merchants stays in our community, helping to make it a better place in which to live. A portion of each dollar you spend in your home town goes to pay taxes. Thus you help maintain local schools, provide better streets, better lighting, better police protection. That's why you invest in your own community when you patronize local business. What could be a better bargain?

Little League Giants End Season With Lake Thomas Outing

IN THE PICTURES — Last weekend's activities probably will be long remembered by the Little League Giants, who spent the time at Lake Thomas as guest of their sponsor, Charlie Price of Western Auto. Giants at Thomas were Gene Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Daniel of 1404 East Cardwell; Wayne Choate, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Choate of 603 South Fourth; Jimmy Purtell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Purtell of 1214 East Main; Stanley Farrar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Farrar of 421 North A; Howard Moorhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Moorhead of Route 2; Clinton Newsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Newsom of Route 5; Charles Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Porter of Wellman; Rod and Brad Moore, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Moore of 712 East Oak; Kenneth and Darwin Cheatham, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cheatham of Route 4; Hank Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bailey of 214 West Cardwell, and Alton Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Nicholson of 708 East Reppito. Adults with the boys were Price; Billy Moore, who was coach this year; Walter Cheatham, father of two of the players, and Coot Arnold, team manager. The Giants slept on the patio of the Price cabin, and lost the battle to the night insects. Highlights were swimming and motor-boating in the Price twin-motor job. In the pictures: Upper left: Newsom and Moore angle for fish, with no luck. Middle left: Nicholson does same night fishing, with no luck. Lower left: The Giants in the Price out-board. From left front, they are Newsom, Nicholson, Farrar and Darwin Cheatham. From left middle row, they are Purtell, Porter, Choate, Moorhead and Rod Moore. TO FREDDY R. SHIPLEY

Miss Margaret Walls Becomes Bride Here

Miss Margaret Gail Walls, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Walls, became the bride of Freddy R. Shipley, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shipley of Tahoka, in a 6 p.m. ceremony read in the bride's home Friday. The bride's father, pastor of Foursquare Church, read the double ring rites before a background of greenery and palms flanked with baskets of white gladiolus and tapers in branched candelabra.

Wedding music, "Whither Thou Goest," the wedding marches and the "Lord's Prayer" were recorded.

Uncle Escorts Bride

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, M. O. Walls of Fredrick, Okla., the bride wore a waltz-length gown of white satin overlaid with lace and net with tulle ruffles extending below the escalloped lace peplum. The front of the square neckline was detailed with seed pearls and rhinestone and the lace fitted bodice had escalloped cap sleeves. With this she wore long lace gauntlets. Her elbow length veil of tulle fell from a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones.

The bride carried two white gardenias atop a white Bible, showered with feathered carnations and satin streamers tied in love knots. For something old, she carried a hankie belonging to her paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. L. U. Walls. Her wedding ensemble was new and she wore borrowed hoops and a blue garter.

Attendants in Aqua

Miss Vinita Shipley of Tahoka, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Miss Sue Walls. Another sister, Judy Walls, was flower girl. They wore identical gowns of aqua crystalline over tafeta, fashioned on princess lines with boat necklines and bouffant waltz length skirts.

Miss Shipley and Miss Sue Walls carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and the flower girl carried a basket of pink rose petals.

John Jeffries of Olton served as best man and Earl Akin of Brownfield ushered.

Reception At Home

A reception honoring the couple followed the ceremony. The couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and members of the bridal party.

The bridal table was laid with white lace over pink and featured the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The bride and groom, Miss Ray Ann Ross, cousin of the bride from Morton, poured punch and Miss Martha Johnson of Lubbock served cake.

Trip to Colorado

For a trip to Denver and other points in Colorado, the bride wore a pink polished cotton sheath dress with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. After today, the couple will be at home at 1710 Main Street in Lubbock.

Both are graduates of Brownfield High School. The bride will attend Draughton's Business College in Lubbock, and the bridegroom will continue his studies at Texas Tech in business administration.

Will Fitzgerald is recovering in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock from major surgery and a heart ailment. Visiting him are his sisters, Mrs. C. G. Mahaffey of Mount Vernon and Mrs. W. W. Pollard of Carlsbad, N.M. They are also visiting another sister, Miss Olga Fitzgerald, this week.

SEVEN TOASTMISTRESSES AND A MISTER — Pictured, left, are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Priest of 1005 East Lake, who attended the International Toastmistress Clubs convention in Dallas earlier this month. The women in the picture, with the exception of Mrs. Priest, are all telephone company employees in various states. States represented are Illinois, Ohio, Oklahoma, Washington, Pennsylvania and California. At least 15 states were represented by telephone company employees. Telephone companies all over the nation encourage employees to participate in Toastmistress club work. A work of the organization is training in the use of the language and developing the voice. "The voice with a smile" is no accident. Women from all walks of life are members of the 18-year-old international organization.

Hurds Entertain Club Members At Lake Home

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hurd of 1008 East Tate entertained members of their couples bridge club in their cabin at Lake Thomas Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday night's bridge was preceded with water skiing and swimming. Charcoal steak dinners were served to Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Finley, George O'Neal, Curtis Sterling, Dip Pemberton, Bill Anderson and Johnny Kendrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick were high couple and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were low couple. Mrs. Finley binged.

Frosty Soup Is Gourmet Fare

For a cool beginning to summer meals, try canned condensed frozen soups served icy cold. One great favorite is cream of potato soup, beaten until velvety smooth, served cold as mountain snow. Even better than the most deluxe Vichyssoise.

Shown here is chilled potato soup, enriched with sour cream, and lightly laced with chopped scallions and sliced radishes. Truly elegant soup, beautiful to behold, soothingly cool, and matchless in flavor. Simple to prepare, too.

At serving time, keep this soup frosty cool to the last spoonful by giving the soup bowls a quick chill in your freezer. Or, for a dress-up touch, serve the bowls surrounded by crushed ice.

CHILLED POTATO SOUP GOURMET

1 can (1 1/2 ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup

1 soup can water

1/2 cup sour cream

1/2 cup sliced radishes

1 to 2 tablespoons finely chopped scallions

Heat soup and water until soup is melted; beat in sour cream with a rotary beater until smooth. Add radishes and scallions; chill. Before serving, thin soup to desired consistency with cold milk. Makes 3 to 4 servings. Delicious!

NOTE: If you prefer, make your soup with milk rather than sour cream, add chopped cucumber and chopped onion. For this equally good variation, simply heat the can of frozen condensed cream of potato soup with 1 1/2 soup cans milk until soup is melted; add 1/2 cup chopped, unpeeled cucumber and 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion; chill. Thin as desired. This makes 2 to 3 servings. PHS

Mariners Lay Plans For Toy Repairing

The "Prairie Schooner" Mariners Club of First Presbyterian Church met Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Plans were made for collecting toys which are to be repaired by members for distribution at Christmas.

Following the regular meeting a program was presented by Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson on the 19th annual Mariners Cruise held at Estes Park, Colorado which they attended as Brownfield delegates. Color slides taken by the Wilsons during the cruise were shown.

Homemade ice cream was served to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bendler, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goldston, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hedrick, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kehoe, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lidzy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maple, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Perry,

Mr. and Mrs. Delwin Stults, Mr. and Mrs. John Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Terrell.

Visitors last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Mitchell 1211 East Lons, were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Williams of Camptonville, Calif., and Miss Audrey Kinsey and Hayden, Ariz. They all visited last Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hunter at Petersburg.

The Rev. Jimmy Rickles, former pastor of Church of God, 406 South Third, will be here Saturday and Sunday for services at the church. He invites all his old friends to attend.

Mrs. J. W. Randolph and son, Larry Joe, arrived Monday for an extended visit in the home of her mother, Mrs. Theola Wheeler and family.

THAT not all farmers are in favor of subsidies in the form of "parity" support prices, payments for fertilizing, and conservation, is evident by the following paragraph contained in a letter received recently from Mr. L. E. Countryman of Rockford, Illinois:

"I do not know of a single farmer who would not gladly give up any handout from government in exchange for a really free economy right across the board. No subsidies to anybody, no special privileges to business, no one being able to get what they get by force."

Here is a dirt farmer with ample experience and wide observation who has weighed the whole government-intervention program as applied to agriculture and has come up with the intelligent answer that freedom in the market place, with subsidies and special favors for none, is best for us all, including those who get the biggest subsidies.

President Eisenhower added fuel to the already hot farm program controversy by his decision to continue with Ezra Taft Benson as his Secretary of Agriculture.

The Secretary has both strong supporters and sharp critics because of his insistence on lowering price supports and reduction of farmer dependence on government programs that farm and congressional groups will be divided into two hostile camps when farm legislation is taken up by Congress next year. A long bitter fight is probable.

The decision to keep Benson means that farm and congressional groups will be divided into two hostile camps when farm legislation is taken up by Congress next year. A long bitter fight is probable.

The Secretary, backed by the powerful Farm Bureau, and a minority of Farm Bloc congressmen, will seek modifications in present farm laws. The main objective will be to get legislation permitting lower price supports.

Farmer cooperatives and the National Grange, backed by a majority of Farm Bloc congressmen, will seek a major overhauling of present programs, with primary emphasis on commodity programs, including two-price plans and marketing agreements.

Benson will have the big advantage of the President back of him. He has reason to expect that Mr. Eisenhower would veto any program not in line with his thinking. That happened in 1956, when a high price support bill was vetoed.

Dr. Paarlberg gave Secretary Benson added weight when he sent the nomination of Dr. Donald Paarlberg to the Senate to be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture. Dr. Paarlberg, a former college professor, has been chief economic advisor to Benson since early 1953.

Dr. Paarlberg drew fire from critics of Benson's farm program when, in a speech, he told farmers that parity was a "dream world" they should never expect to see again.

Farm income has declined by 20% during four years of Benson's farm program administration. He contends that this was unavoidable because of huge surpluses built up under the previous Administration.

Critics, on the other hand, charge him with following a policy of lower supports that resulted in lower prices. They say his only proposal is that Congress give him authority to put into effect still lower price supports next year.

About all you can be certain of is that Benson will occupy one of the hottest spots in Washington during the next 12 months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackburn and family of 102 North Cedar, spent the weekend in Jal, N.M.; in the home of her brother, Vernon Huntington and family. Both families went through Carlsbad Caverns Sunday.

Blasting Caps Can Maim, Kill Children

Blasting caps sometimes are lost or stolen and fall into the hands of boys and girls, injuring scores of children annually warns J. O. Musick, general manager of Texas Safety Association.

"There is no such thing as playing safely with a blasting cap," he said as he explained the danger.

Blasting caps are short, shiny, pencil-size cylinders, about one and a half inches long.

They are made of aluminum or copper and often exposure to air and moisture will dull the metal tube. But, the sensitive explosive inside is still dangerous.

A blasting cap may or may not have a fuse attached, or it may have plain or colored covered wires leading from one end.

The metal tube is loaded with a powerful explosive needed to explode dynamite in mining, highway and railroad construction, clearing farm land and other jobs that cannot be done without blasting.

"A child picking up a blasting cap is in danger," Musick concluded, urging anyone finding a cap to report it to the police or other law enforcement officer immediately. They know how to dispose of them safely.

The TSA Manager, who is pressing this safety drive at the request of the Institute of Makers of Explosives, has posters which show what the various kinds of caps look like. He will be glad to make them and other blasting cap safety material available to schools, youth groups and others interested in protecting the lives of children.

Resolution To Ban Speed, Horsepower Advertising Noted

A significant step towards increased traffic safety was taken recently when the Automobile Manufacturers Association adopted a recommendation that the automobile industry should stop using speed and horsepower in promoting the sale of their cars.

In essence, the association stated it believed the manufacturer should stress the useful, efficient and safe features of their product.

J. O. Musick, general manager of Texas Safety Association and one of the state's leading traffic safety experts, said, "This move, if complied with, could be one of the biggest boons to traffic control in many years."

"Safety is largely dependent on the individual's attitude," Musick said. "If the manufacturer emphasizes a car's speed and horsepower in his sales talks, then the public is bound to utilize what they've paid for. The same will hold true in a reverse approach to a large extent."

The resolution of AMA Directors, who are the heads of the major auto manufacturers, urged member companies to:

"Not participate or engage in engage in any public contest, competitive event or test of passenger cars involving or suggesting racing or speed, including acceleration tests, or encourage or assist employees, dealers or others, or furnish financial, engineering, manufacturing, advertising or public relations assistance, or supply 'pace cars'

Angela Michaels, 10-year-old San Francisco college student, set a good "June is Dairy Month" example by pouring herself a glass of refreshing milk. Angela is pictured in an American Can Company plant, where she helped produce special "June is Dairy Month" milk containers like the one she holds.

or 'official cars' in connection with any such contest, event or test, directly or indirectly."

"Not participate or engage in, or encourage or assist employees, dealers or others to engage in, the advertising or publicizing of (a) any race or speed contest, test or competitive event involving or suggesting speed, whether public or private, involving passenger cars, or the results thereof; or (b) the actual or comparative capabilities of passenger cars for speed, or the specific engine size, torque, horsepower or ability to accelerate or perform in any context that suggest speed."

In discussing this new move for safety, Musick said, "Of course a resolution is not binding, but it is a step in the right direction and the AMA should be applauded for their interest in the public's welfare."

Kitchen Of The Future Featured At State Fair

A remarkable remote control kitchen which electronically takes over housekeeping duties at the wave of a hand will be demonstrated in the Electric building at the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20.

The RCA Whirlpool Miracle Kitchen will show possible future mechanical kitchen innovations being developed in the Whirlpool Seeger engineering and research laboratories.

The kitchen's master control panel makes meal planning and preparation, and the tiresome chore of cleaning up afterwards, as easy as twisting a dial.

In the spotless, filtered, air-conditioned kitchen, a self-propelled serving cart detaches itself from a dishwashing mechanism in the wall, moves to the dining table, delivers complete table service or receives soiled dishes, then returns to its nest in the wall to dispose of waste and do the dishes.

A "mechanical maid" mobile floor cleaner scrubs, dries, waxes or polishes the floor, functioning automatically on its own.

At the wave of a hand, a refrigerator moves down from a wall cabinet to convenient reach-in level. The frost-free unit dispenses an inexhaustible supply of clear ice in sizes from large cubes to fine powder.

Meal preparation is simplified by self-cleaning, automatic cooking facilities. A completely automatic meal maker activated by a menu selection control moves foods from cold storage to cooling, warming or cooking compartments.

A canned food dispenser delivers a can intact or opens it automatically, releases contents and destroys the can. Combination cooking and serving utensils are made so the exterior remains cool while foods heats.

The planning center, which is the heart and brain of the Miracle Kitchen, has touch controls for food selection, recipe selection, the mobile dishwashing cart, the floor cleaner and the automatic meal maker.

Here a rotating TV monitor shows at a glance activity at the front door, nursery, game room or any other location in the house.

Land Board Begins Mailing Fee Refunds To Texas Veterans

AUSTIN—More than $16,000 in fee refunds soon will be in the hands of Texas veterans, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said Friday.

The fees were collected by the Veterans' Land Board from ex-servicemen buying land through the Veterans' Land Program. Some transactions were not completed, but until now fees could not be returned.

Commissioner Rudder recommended to the Legislature, during its last session, that the law be changed to authorize refund of these fees.

"I want to commend the Legislature for giving the veterans the just refunds of their money," remarked the Land Commissioner.

A total of $16,271.80 will be returned to 229 veterans who have submitted fees since the program reopened in October, 1955, but who did not complete their transactions.

This is an average of $71.06 per veteran. The largest refund will be $100, the amount each veteran must pay in fees. Several will receive the full amount.

Half of the $100 covers closing expenses, $25 is appraisal fee and $25 is a contract service fee.

The Veterans' Land Board began mailing refunds this week. Most will be mailed within several weeks, Commissioner Rudder said.

Forestry Programs Increase In Texas

Wood-using industries of the United States now employ 7,400 professional foresters in a continuing effort to keep timber growth a head of removal, George W. Stanley, chairman of the Texas Forest Industries Committee, said this week.

The nation's progress in forestry in recent years has been phenomenal, said the industry spokesman, who is chief forester for a Houston lumber corporation.

"During the past five years, foresters employed by wood-using industries have more than doubled," said Stanley. "This shows the seriousness with which our industries are tackling the problem of maintaining an adequate wood supply."

The latest government appraisal shows that, for the first time during this century, the country is growing timber faster than it is being removed from the forests and lost to insects, fire and disease.

As chairman of TFIC, Stanley serves as a member of the national advisory committee of American Forest Products Industries, which sponsor the American tree farm system and the Keep American Green fire prevention education campaign.

Texas stands near the top among Southern states in the number of foresters employed by wood-using industries.
