FLETCHER AND WIFE ON WITNESS STAND IN ARCHER CITY TRIAL

GERMAN OFFICIALS CONCERNED RESULT SAXONY SITUATION

By Staff Correspondent. ARCHER CITY, Oct. 18.—Robert Fletcher, on trial in the 30th district court here for the murder of his father-in-law, W. M. Saylor and the latter's daughter on the night of May 25, 1932, went on the stand in his own behalf Thursday morning and related the details of the tragedy.

Fletcher denied each of the grand jury's charges specifically. He told his father-in-law and daughter, Miss Edna Saylor, who was also a victim of the tragedy, were returning with him on the road in Wichita Falls on the Windthorst road. According to his story, the father and daughter occupied the front seat; he sat in the back seat with some bird dogs and a quantity of merchandise which the family had purchased in the city. He also testified that a small can of gasoline was in the floor of the car in front.

struck a match to assist him in removing them from the wreckage, he said. From this point his memory is hazy and he claims to remember nothing. He remembers a flash, but is positive in his denial of any further record of what occurred.

Wife Testifies

He was followed on the stand by his wife, Mrs. Robert Fletcher, who told of the friendly relations which she said had always existed between her husband and her family. She also told of Fletcher being brought home at about 3 o'clock on the morning after the tragedy by some men whom she claimed not to have known. He was badly burned and his ankle was sprained, Mrs. Fletcher testified. She was on the stand about 15 minutes.

Both Fletcher and his wife were calm and showed the utmost composure. Only once did Fletcher show any emotion; Mrs. Fletcher resented the exhibiting of the skulls which were brought into the court room and testified that they were removed without her permission or knowledge.

Dr. Everett Jones of Wichita Falls took the stand for the state as the first witness Thursday morning and corroborated the testimony of Dr. Hooper who testified Wednesday afternoon. Both physicians testified that in their opinion, it was impossible for the fracture which appeared in the skulls to have been caused by the accident. Dr. T. J. Strong, a local physician, was called to the stand and gave a conflicting opinion in regard to the possibility of the fracture occurring from the accident.

Frank Huffman, former deputy sheriff and H. A. Murrer, two of the first men to visit the scene of the tragedy, were called Wednesday afternoon to the witness stand. Both testified that they examined the bodies closely shortly after the occurrence and there was no evidence of a fracture at the time.

H. B. King and Bob Shackelford were introduced by the defense as character witnesses.

The court room was crowded to its capacity again Thursday morning. Many women and children were present at the trial. The morning session was marked with numerous objections on the part of the defense attorneys.

The defense was expected to rest shortly after noon Thursday and it is believed that the case will go to the jury Thursday afternoon. Only a few more witnesses are scheduled for examination by the defense before

ARGHER CITY, TEXAS, Oct. 18.—

Reaching the skull of W. M. Taylor, who with his daughter, Miss Anna, alleged to have been killed by Robert Fletcher, his son-in-law, the night of May 1922, when the automobile in which they were riding jumped off a bridge on the Windthorst-Wichita Falls road and caught fire, badly burning both bodies, occupied most of the time of the trial Wednesday afternoon before Judge H. R. Wilson of the thirteenth district court. No motive for the tragedy had been stated, but an insinuation by the state in the cross examination was to the effect that Taylor was murdered and his daughter killed for the property.

A venire of 50 was summoned to form a special jury for the trial and selecting the jury was finished Tuesday afternoon. The court was called to order Wednesday morning and more than a score of witnesses were sworn. Examined during the day, County Attorney R. S. Morrison is being assisted in the prosecution by C. C. McDonald and H. F. Weidon, both of Wichita Falls, and the defense is represented by Judge R. E. Taylor and Ben O'Neal of Wichita Falls and Judge W. E. Fargy of this city.

The sensational evidence of the day took place during the examination of Dr. J. M. Hooper who examined the bodies and testified that the skull was fractured on the left posterior and the smaller skull had been fractured on the top. In his opinion, he declared, both of the people were dead before their bodies were charred. This conclusion was reached by the physician because of a blood clot and its condition immediately under the fracture on the larger skull.

The doctor stated that the blood clot was caused by a ruptured blood vessel caused by violence, as an external blow on the head. The doctor declared the result of the blow which would have caused a like fracture would be instant unconsciousness or death. Only a depression in the skull was noticed by the doctor when he removed the dirty, stony skull from the casket, he testified. He declared that a fall of six feet from a bridge, as was the case in the tragedy, could possibly have caused the fracture.

When questioned by Mr. Taylor for the defense after seeing the wrench used as an exhibit and which, according to witnesses, was found near the car, the doctor declared that a blow from a wrench that size could possibly have caused both of the fractures on the skulls.

The doctor declared that the daughter's death was caused also by violence and that both she and her father were dead before their bodies were charred by the fire which destroyed their automobile after it had run off a bridge into a bar pit six feet below. Judge Taylor, Mr. Weidon and County Attorney Morrison questioned the doctor. A Wichita Falls physician, who also viewed the body, will take the stand Thursday morning.

M. A. Lee, Formerly Justice of the Peace, Viewed the Bodies of the Deceased

The court room was crowded all during the trial Wednesday and many women and children were present. Apparently not concerned or moved by the testimony, Fletcher sat between his attorneys and watched all proceedings closely. His wife and their three small children and his brother also were unmoved by testimony and sat behind him. Fletcher seems cheerful and most optimistic. Judge Wilson several times had to rap for order in the court room as the crowded condition hindered the sheriff and his deputies in their effort to maintain order.

The grand jury indictment charges Fletcher with hitting Taylor with a blunt instrument causing the automobile to run off the bridge and strapping his body with shackles which caused the fracture. The grand jury convened in April, 1923. Fletcher plead not guilty. The death penalty has been asked.

The first witness called was C. R. Conner of Scotland, who visited the scene the morning after the tragedy. He was followed to the stand by M. A. Lee, the justice of the peace, who held the inquest and stated that he found a five gallon oil can in the burned automobile.

Henry Hargrett, who took the stand for the state and he was followed by H. A. Murrer, who explained the position of the two bodies on the machine and the about the tracing of the automobile tracks to the edge of the bridge and in the creek bottom. He also stated that he saw tracks where a large man jumped off the bridge.

W. B. Skelton declared that a dog in his machine was bleeding from the results of an encounter with another canine and that the dog walked on the bridge. He also testified of the depression in the larger skull. F. L. Copeland and R. A. Lee next testified. The oil can was exhibited and also a monkey wrench, some glass and torn clothes. J. C. Baggott and Green Baggott, both formerly of this county, testified in regard to the exhibit. Joe McDonald, former sheriff, whose present address is unknown, did not appear Wednesday as a witness.

Dick Garrett, who visited the scene, declared he did not see any blood. Mrs. Ben W. Garvey and Mrs. W. C. Jones testified as to the clothing of the girl, samples of which were shown as exhibits. Frank Esler, who took Fletcher home the night of the tragedy, stated that he did not discuss the matter but that Fletcher was weeping and crying while in his car and did not seem to mind his own wounds. Ernest Smith, brother-in-law of the defense, stated that Fletcher had asked him about the possible division of property in case of Taylor's death more than a year before the tragedy. Following the death the property was divided and Mrs. Fletcher was awarded the home place of 125 well improved acres.

Dr. T. C. McCurdy testified in regard to Fletcher's wounds which consisted of burns about the face and hands and sprained right ankle and deep scratches on his left leg and right arm. Sheriff Ed Goovin, W. L. Andrews and C. C. Conner, county clerk, also took the stand for the state.

The court adjourned at 4:30 o'clock until 9:30 a. m. Thursday.

Alleged Fugitive Being Returned To Oklahoma City

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 18. (AP)—Riley Dixon, arrested at Deming, N. M., 75 miles west of El Paso, as a fugitive from justice in connection with a train holdup August 29 at Okem, Okla., was taken through this city last night by officers en route to Oklahoma City.

Dixon, who signed a waiver of extradition, was said to be one of the two men yet sought for the holdup of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas train. Frank Nash, the other man, is said to be in Mexico. Seven men were implicated in the robbery and six are now in custody with the arrest of Dixon, officers said.

Officers in charge of Dixon said he has served two terms in the Oklahoma state penitentiary and also is wanted on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of the son of the chief of police at Muskogee, Okla., several months ago.

TEAPOT DONE NAVAL OIL RESERVE FAILS TO DEVELOP AS EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Results of a recent survey of the oil-bearing Teapot Dome naval oil reserve showing a loss attributed to drainage which has reduced the indicated deposits for one-fourth of the original estimate have been disclosed on the eve of the senate committee investigation of the lease of the property to the Sinclair oil interests.

That this condition reported by geologists of the interior and navy departments after a study of the surprisingly low yield of wells already drilled on the property, will greatly influence the trend of the investigation undertaken after a bitter row in congress over its lease is regarded as certain. The leasing of the Wyoming reserve brought charges from Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, and others that the interior and navy departments had handed over to private control a government property of immensely rich petroleum deposits.

A separate survey made by geologists for the senate public lands committee has not yet been laid before the committee, but executive department officials expect it to be in general agreement with the survey just disclosed, which estimated the probable yield of the property at only $6,000,000 barrels. When set aside for the navy it was estimated to contain upwards of 200,000,000 barrels.

GOOSE LAKE IS ALMOST DRAINED BY CRACKS AND HOLES IN THE BOTTOM

STEVENSON, Wash., Oct. 18. (AP)—Goose Lake, noted for an abundance of large-trout and beautiful scenery surrounding it in the Columbia national forest reserve, Skamania county, almost became dry last week by disappearance of the water through cracks and holes in the bottom that have appeared lately.

When the lake became a pond and thousands of fish were about to perish an investigation showed the water rushing through holes in the bottom. Game warden and forest rangers worked back of dirt and stopped the leaks. There are four mountain streams flowing into the lake and the rain the last few days has greatly increased the water supply.

It is thought recent disturbances in the earth opened up the holes in the lava rock.

It is at Goose Lake that the marks of an Indian's moccasined feet and hands are imbedded in solid lava rock.

Governor of Florida Gets Ovation With Statement Before Conference That Heart of the Nation Is Dry

By CHARLES N. WHEELER, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 18.—Governor Cary A. Hardee, of Florida, drew the first ovation of the governors' conference last night when he declared that regardless of the activity of a "minority of our people" he was absolutely certain that the "heart of the nation is dry."

Pinchot is on the program for the big talk on the subject of "great power." Those in charge of the program announce that it is merely tentative, and that he may yet decide to let loose another blast at the federal government.

Corinne Griffith Granted Divorce At Mineral Wells

PORT WORTH, Oct. 18. (AP)—Arriving in Mineral Wells unannounced with very few persons knowing of her presence Mrs. William M. Campbell, known in the movie world as Corinne Griffith, appeared in district court at Palo Pinto Monday and was granted a divorce from her husband, William M. Campbell, a moving picture director, it was learned here today.

Governors to Discuss Agricultural Problems

WEST BADEN, Ind., Oct. 18.—The farmer is to have his hearing today before the conference of governors from all sections of the country gathered here to discuss state and national questions. Discussions of agricultural problems occupy the greater part of the program.

May Add Another Plank. Meanwhile, close friends of the Pennsylvania governor say he will embrace this opportunity to lay before the country a comprehensive plan of "white coal" and general development of the nation's natural resources. Having already made his bow as the champion of the church federation in the banishment of demon rum at once, it is now considered a good move on Pinchot's part to add another plank to a national platform that might do yeoman service in a presidential campaign next year should he finally decide to seek the Republican nomination.

It would not surprise some of them if the Pinchot presidential boom should be launched here with some eclat. He is easily the outstanding figure coming to the conference. Meanwhile friends of President Coolidge will be on the ground to watch developments of a national character. Both Governor Bone, of Alaska, and Immigration Problem.

Mr. Farrington, if called to the platform, probably will discuss the immigration problem as it relates to the Hawaiian group. The labor shortage there, however, Mr. Farrington said tonight, had been solved by the importation of thousands of Filipinos.

TOCCA—O dolci mani (Oh, Gentle Hands) Benjamin Gliss
Two numbers of intense and thrilling beauty. The first depicting a few moments of sad, sweet love-memory. Then in the second number, a few moments of false hope.
(The Juggler) Sergei Rachmaninoff 943 1.50
Etude in F Minor Sergei Rachmaninoff
In this remarkable piano record, hear Mouskowsky's "Juggler" throw silver balls in the air, and finish off with a whirl. Then hear the subtle and tremendously difficult Etude of Erno Dohanyi. Both played with splendid virtu power.
Light Vocal Selections
(Honey, Dat's All) Olive Kline 45367 1.00
(Laddie o' Mine) Lucy Isabelle Marsh
Two songs for the heart of Woman, however mute and however deeply hidden. "Honey, Dat's All" has wonderfully soft, smooth cadences. "Laddie o' Mine" is in waltz time. Both songs have orchestral interludes.
(My Sweetie Went Away) Billy Murray—Ed. Smalls 19144 .75
(I'm a Lonesome Cry Baby) Allen Stanley
These three favorite Victor artists are appearing this week as blues artists. Murray and Smalls have a weepy number you already know as a fox trot. Miss Stanley is an excellent cry-baby in her home.

"Roses of Picardy" was first made famous in song form by John McCormack. It yields a smooth beautiful dance. "Marcheta" has delicate whistlings and shivery xylophone tremolos. Both ideal for the present fashion of waltzing.
(Last Night on the Back Porch—Fox Trot) Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra 19139 .75
(If I Can't Get the Sweetie I Want—Fox Trot) Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra
Paul Whiteman is back from his European triumph. He has been crowned "King of the Jazz." In the first number he has a jolly fox trot with vocal refrain. In the second there are new effects. Brilliant, richly-colored, perfect records.

STUDY CLUBS MEET WEDNESDAY; OTHER CLUB ACTIVITIES

Adequate Playground Equipment For the Travis School Children

Adequate playground equipment is to be purchased at once for Travis school children, it was decided by the members of the Travis Parent-Teacher Council at the business meeting Wednesday afternoon. Among other matters considered was the selection of a president to take the place of Mrs. G. W. Russell, who has been obliged to resign on account of her health. Mrs. S. Steele, vice-president, was elected to fill the office, and a committee to nominate a succeeding vice-president has named to report at the next meeting. The committee comprised Mesdames Webb, Massey and Terry.

A talk on playground equipment was a feature of the afternoon. The attendance was especially good.

MRS. BURNSIDE HOSTESS TO BORISIS WEDNESDAY

Mrs. A. W. Burnside was hostess to the Borisis Club members Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1414 Polk, when Mrs. E. E. Scannell was the study for the week.

Mrs. Burnside presided over the discussion, and there were several interesting papers, her own being "The Social Problems Presented in the 'Doll's House'." Mrs. E. E. Scannell, "Ibsen's Use of Social Conditions as Materials for Drama," and Mrs. Burnside, "Ibsen's Method of Exposition."

During the social hour the hostess served a salad course to Mesdames H. E. Bachman, Vera Farrell, Joe D. Harris, O. R. Haynie, R. E. Hillburn, I. W. Karrenbrock, E. E. Scannell, Burk Taylor and Ernest Archambault.

Mrs. Scannell entertains the club next week at her home, 3015 Pearl, when the study of "Ghosts" by the same dramatist will be taken up.

"HISTORY OF MOORS" IS FEATURE WEDNESDAY CLUB

"A History of the Moors," given in an interesting original manner, by Mrs. W. W. Cook, was the feature of the Wednesday Study Club lesson Wednesday after the regular weekly feature of the famous lesson as led by Mrs. C. W. Wallace.

The lesson was on Scene One of Act Three of Othello, and was exceptionally interesting. The members present Wednesday, meeting at Kemp Library, included Mesdames C. N. Alexander, J. C. Humphrey, Bert Bean, Strib Moore, E. B. Carter, N. B. Chenault, O. E. Nichols, Mark Moore, Mrs. E. E. Scannell, Davis, B. L. Fain, I. W. Grayson, A. H. Brittain, C. W. Wallace and C. W. Stevenson.

COTIERE STUDY CLUB WITH MRS. ALDERSON

The Cotiere Study Club took up two of Joseph Hergeshimer's books, "Java Head" and "The Bride's Shawl" at their Wednesday afternoon meeting with Mrs. W. W. Anderson, with Mrs. E. B. Bailey leading.

A round table discussion brought out many interesting opinions on the two stories and their author. Those who took part, and were later served dainty refreshments during the social hour for which the hostess invited them to remain included Mesdames Bailey, Ed Howard, A. A. Bleakley, T. B. Couch, W. P. Ferguson, S. M. Goss, Hubert Harrison, James H. Martin and R. E. Strange.

The club was invited to hold its next meeting with Mrs. Bailey at her home, 1701 Huff.

In this space will be printed each Sunday, or oftener if necessary, and without charge, notes from people who are in need of something that it is possible some other person has, and would be glad to give, and notes from people who have things they know other people might make good use of, but do not know who they are, and would be glad to give. The names and addresses of those who send these notes will be published, only the requests and the offers. The addresses will be printed in the notes only, in each case, when there is a response to the request or the offer. Only the woman's page editor will know the names, and they will not in any case be made known to any other person except those concerned.

"Please, will some mother help me? I have seven children, four boys and three girls. My oldest is a girl, 16, in need of dresses and underclothing and a coat. One boy, 15; twins, 13, all in need of underwear and coats for winter. Anything will do for a boy seven, a girl five and a baby girl 18 months old; anything will help her. I would not ask for help at all if the grasshoppers hadn't eaten all of our cotton up."—Mrs. M. H.

If some of the mothers will help, we will furnish this address.

"Will you please help me get some clothing for three boys, 16, 11 and 7. They need a coat, a sweater and a sweater for the 18 year old might be bad. I am a widow and can do with some help."—Mrs. A. W.

We have one or two things that will help one or two of the boys. If some of the mothers who have coats will phone us, we will be very glad.

"I would be so glad to have some quilt scraps to make bedding for the winter."—Mrs. N.

There is another call for quilt scraps from the grandmother in the country, who makes and sells them as her contribution to the expenses of a big family. Anyone who can send quilt scraps to an address is asked to call.

"I have a coat for a girl 14 to 16, and another for a little boy seven or eight."—Mrs. W. E. H.

Thank you very much.

"I have two good comforts I would be glad for some of the mothers in the Neighborhood to have."—Mrs. B.

Thank you very much. We have had many calls for bedding since the cold came. In fact, we have had many calls for everything!

Through the kindness of Mrs. E. F. G. yesterday, the families were supplied with bedding which she got from several addresses furnished in the column. And through the kindness of Mrs. F. G. D. this morning, another family with several children is being looked after with clothing from other addresses. The little new baby, who has got a better job in a drug store now, has new shoes, a good coat, a sweater, and we are sending him a good suit tonight. Volunteer help in going after and delivering things is always deeply appreciated.

FLORAL HEIGHTS M. E. MISSION MET WEDNESDAY

Floral Heights M. E. Mission, Circle Four, met at the home of its leader, Mrs. O. W. Harvey, 1801 Taylor, Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Jeff Waggoner assistant hostess.

The meeting opened with a song, and a devotion conducted by Mrs. W. A. McGee, who took for her subject, "Jesus the Healer," with a Scripture reading from John 1:1-14.

The study for the afternoon was "Orientals in America," discussed by Mrs. J. D. Dickson, while Mrs. M. J. McCalister talked on an interview with the conference missionary superintendent.

Little Miss Ruth Johnson told in her childlike manner the interesting story of the discovery of America by Columbus, with incidents of the perilous voyage and the landing; Miss Viola Sutton gave a dramatic reading, "The Old Maid," and responded to the applause with an encore, "Movin' In the Best Society."

During the business meeting roll call was answered with the report of 52 visits, 19 flower offerings, $11.10 worth of garments distributed, and $5 in cash for relief among the needy. $42.80 was reported on the pledge money.

Mrs. H. H. Davidson and Mrs. Louis De Mont invited the circle members to meet with them in November, after which the hostess served a dainty refreshment plate of brick ice cream with coconut macaroons to the following: Mesdames John Ballinger, F. L. Bronson, L. E. Cowling, J. A. Curtis, H. H. Davidson, Lois Bristol, J. D. Dickson, W. McGee, K. C. Spall, L. E. De Mont, F. A. Newell, Joseph Stephenson, E. E. Newby, Harold Murph, J. Waggoner, M. J. McGuigan, Lester Jones, H. T. Moore and O. W. Harvey, with Mrs. Milton Johnson and little daughter, Ruth. Miss Viola Sutton, and Mrs. J. T. McNamara guests.

ADDITIONAL PLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. FEDERATION

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 12. (AP)—Additional plans of federation were ready for presentation today to the constitutional convention of the Y. M. C. A. here. The first, which provides for the creation of an international council of not more than 200 members and for an independent judiciary, was presented by Judson G. Roseberry of Appleton, Wis., yesterday. No less than 10 proposed constitutions will be submitted.

The convention was called by a committee of 23 appointed at the Y. M. C. A. international convention at Atlantic City last November to set up a central government for the 2,000 local associations which at present are autonomous.

The Tangle

Letter from Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton to Mrs. John Alden Freeman.

My Dear Leslie:

I am hastening to write you a little note to tell you some news that will shock you greatly, Leslie.

I think your father is very ill. Yesterday he had some sort of seizure in the office and after he was brought home he lay in a kind of stupor for quite a while.

The doctor seemed very much afraid of a paralytic stroke, although your father still has the use of his limbs and has no trouble in talking. Of course we had the best specialists in town and they finally decided it was entirely a nervous trouble that affected him. He has been isolated from every one. Even I am not to be allowed to see him except for about five minutes a day, just long enough, the doctor said, for me to smile and nod to him and say everything is all right and he is just as usual.

Just as soon as he is able to be moved we are going to take him to a camp in the Adirondacks. One of your father's partners has offered his beautiful place up there.

I will telegraph or telephone you every day. Should have telegraphed yesterday, only the doctor said it was foolish for me to do it, as there probably would be no change in him for a few days and I could give you only the bare facts which might worry you inexpressibly and in a letter I could tell you everything.

Leslie, your father has been working beyond his strength. Ever since the president of the steel mills died your father has taken upon himself his duties as well as his own and it has proved too much for him.

However, today, 24 hours after his seizure, he is perfectly conscious and able to speak, although the doctor has told him that he must not do so. This, of course, we take as great encouragement.

I haven't cabled Alice, as I do not want her to be worried and of course we can get a cable to her very quickly if necessary.

Don't worry more than you can help and don't try to come because we have two nurses on the job and you could do nothing that could not be done much better by this trained service, or by my corps of servants, who, you know, are all devoted to your father.

I am rather worried about you and Jack, for I see by the paper that Ellington's failure and subsequent elopement with Edith Chapman is extremely sensational in its later developments. I am very sorry for your friend Ruth, but more than all I am much concerned to know if Jack lost any money through this scandalous person.

Kiss the baby for its grandmother and be sure that I will let you know if there is any change in your father. Your very anxious MOTHER.

Facts about Child-birth

An eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which normally experience for months, right up to the moment when the Little One arrives!

Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Hargrave Regulator Co., Box 72, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all good druggists.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my little girl was born and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have had as I had to bring my two boys up on the bottle. I was very nervous and I still sometimes have and remember it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. Wm. Kington, 109 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs.

haunted. His breadth of head is responsible for this. He has a fever for motion and has never learned the "gentle art of loafing."

His largeness of vision, through his active sublimity, is another remarkable feature of his mind. He quickly grasps all sides of a subject while others are pondering over one side of it.

He has the courage of his convictions and is a true born political fighter. He is ever ready with an answer to his assailants and answers his assailants with intelligence and wit.

People First. Through his large benevolence he shows one of the most admirable traits of his character—his sympathy for the people.

Good Pickers. His insatiable capacity is particularly strong, and it has helped him in his strategic work in selecting men as colleagues to work with him in a coalition cabinet.

His ingenuity, through constructiveiveness, has helped him to come to quick decisions. He is able to bring to a focus all the knowledge he possesses on a subject.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Appointments For Insurance Office Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people.

Members of the high school athletic association have refused to play more than $10 a game, and it was announced today that new officials would be employed to take the "circles" place.

Valuable Diamond Ring Given Away Last Day of Sale. KRUGER JEWELRY CO. "WHERE TRADING IS A PLEASURE"

From a Budapest Palace to a Canadian Farm!

All their lives Count Michael Karolyi, former Premier of Hungary, and his beauty-famed wife, "the Red Countess," have been accustomed to ease and luxury—now they are to be humble, unpretentious Canadian farm-folks.

"I AM going to Canada to settle on a little farm, where some of my friends have purchased for me. I shall raise vegetables, work in the garden, educate my children in the spirit of the democratic Western world, and live a quiet life. My political career is over."

That is what Count Michael Karolyi, aristocrat, republican, dreamer, exile, said, sitting in a shabby, furnished room, in a dingy village hotel, in Marburg, Jugoslavia, not long ago. And now England has granted him a visa, and he is on his way to Canada, to the life of nature and quiet in the New World.

With him goes his wife, renowned European beauty, familiar of the salons of Vienna, Budapest and Paris, a tall, low exile with her husband, who, when she married him eight years ago, had the brightest prospects of any of his countrymen. They take with them their three daughter children, one born in a feudal castle, one in a royal palace and one in a dingy room in exile. These youngsters, who might have inherited hundreds of thousands of acres, lovely castles and one of the finest palaces in Central Europe, will run barefoot in the fields, go to the public schools and do without servants.

The contemporary history of Europe is full of such reversed careers. Camille Castiglione, who eight years ago had only his weekly pay envelope, now occupies one of the handsomest Vienna palaces, makes political intrigues in half a dozen countries and receives his friends in Renaissance rooms, the furnishings of which are estimated to be worth 4,000,000 Swiss francs, while the ex-empress of Austria-Hungary lives modestly in a Spanish village. Yet, even in this topsy-turvy Europe, the history of the Karolyis is unique. Rita is exiled because her dynasty made and lost a war, but Count and Countess Karolyi are called because they made peace, accepted the treaty of the Allies and approved a republic. Among all the tragic figures in modern Europe there is none more tragic than the Hungarian aristocrat whose only sin was his belief in the people—this Dun Quirato, who divided his land among his peasants and proclaimed the fall of his own class, of which he was the proudest member.

MICHAEL KAROLYI has been on trial for high treason during the last two years. The trial dragged on for months while the prosecuting attorney tried to prove that Karolyi was responsible for Hungary's "shameful peace." The world saw the trial go on, and in all the world only the British Labor Party officially protested against a procedure which was in violation of the treaty. But the British Labor Party's protest passed unheeded. Karolyi, then a refugee in Ragusa, was condemned, and his estates confiscated. Countess Karolyi could have saved a portion of them for herself and her children had she been willing to accept the terms actually offered and desert her husband. But this she refused to do. Although Budapest calls her, falsely, "The Red Countess," she is a republican in politics, and in her heart an aristocrat. She scorned the offer of her relatives, her husband's enemies, and is on her way to Canada with him, a poor emigrant, looking hopefully toward the New World, just as thousands of poor peasants from her father's feudal estates have done, in every generation since America opened her portals.

This is the last scene in a drama lasting over five years; years in which the Karolyis have passed from feudal castles to a royal palace, from which as Prime Minister and First Lady they have directed the affairs of state. They have lived in danger of their lives under bolshevism and suffered exile at the hands of their own relatives. They have lived in one room at Prague, been arrested in Italy and granted a haven among broken-down aristocrats and Russian adventurers in Jugoslavia. They have been subjected to all kinds of calumny, their personal letters have been stolen and published and forged letters have been given out, mixing with low scandal.

Michael Karolyi was responsible, as much as any one man is responsible, for the 1918 revolution in Hungary, which banished the Hapsburgs and established a republic. The story of that revolution differs in the telling, whether you hear it from the lips of its friends in Vienna or Prague, or of its enemies in Budapest. Its enemies, who now hold the Hungarian reins of state, will tell you that when the great war broke out Michael Karolyi was in America. That he came home by way of France, instead of through Italy or

From the royal palace in Hungary's capital to the humble environment of a Canadian farm—this is the fate meted out to Count Karolyi and his beautiful wife Katinka, who were forced to flee Budapest when the ruthless Bolshevik uprising overthrown the democratic form of government set up with Karolyi as Premier.

Count Michael Karolyi and His Beautiful Wife, the Famous "Red Countess Katinka," Exiles From Their Native Hungary, Seek Refuge in Humble Northland Setting of New World

The most thrilling moment in the life of Count Karolyi was when he stood on the steps of the royal palace in Budapest and proclaimed the inauguration of the new Hungarian republic.

he should have done, and was arrested, and that while in prison he conspired with Russian agents to bring about the fall of the monarchy and to deliver his country into the hands of its enemies.

His friends will tell you that Karolyi, like Kerecseny, was the man of the moment who saw clearly the inevitable trend of events, and his lot with the rising democracy and the critical moment was too weak to hold firm. Certain it is that Michael Karolyi, returning from America, and going to the front as a private soldier, found the ranks shot through and through with the defeatist spirit. The frivolity of the Hungarian officers; the country's faithlessness to her common soldiers—men in shabby uniforms and peasant clothes had stood at guard frozen in death in the Carpathian passes in 1918—had undermined all enthusiasm. Karolyi, say his friends—was full of faith and confident that a generous peace would be the reward of a revolution and the establishment of a democratic regime. It was this confidence that inspired him to take the leadership in an already waning and defeatist country, demand his own appointment as Prime Minister, reverse the whole regime and establish a republic upon the basis of universal free and equal suffrage. It was his faith that gave him hope to declare a program of radical land reform, based upon the redistribution of the vast feudal estates—of which his own was one—and the division of the soil among the peasants, whose unfortunate lot had led them, in the past, to emigrate in vast droves to the coal mines in Pennsylvania and the fields of the Northwest.

FRIENDS of the Karolyis will tell you that the reason he was unable to hold the state against the advance of Bela Kun and the Bolsheviks, operating with funds from Moscow, was because of the treachery of the Entente. Friends will tell you that not Bela Kun, but the announcement of the peace—the new boundaries, cutting from Hungary two-thirds of her territory, and that the richest and best—delivered the country into the hands of Bela Kun, who came with the watchword, "The restoration of all the lost provinces and help from Hungary's Allies."

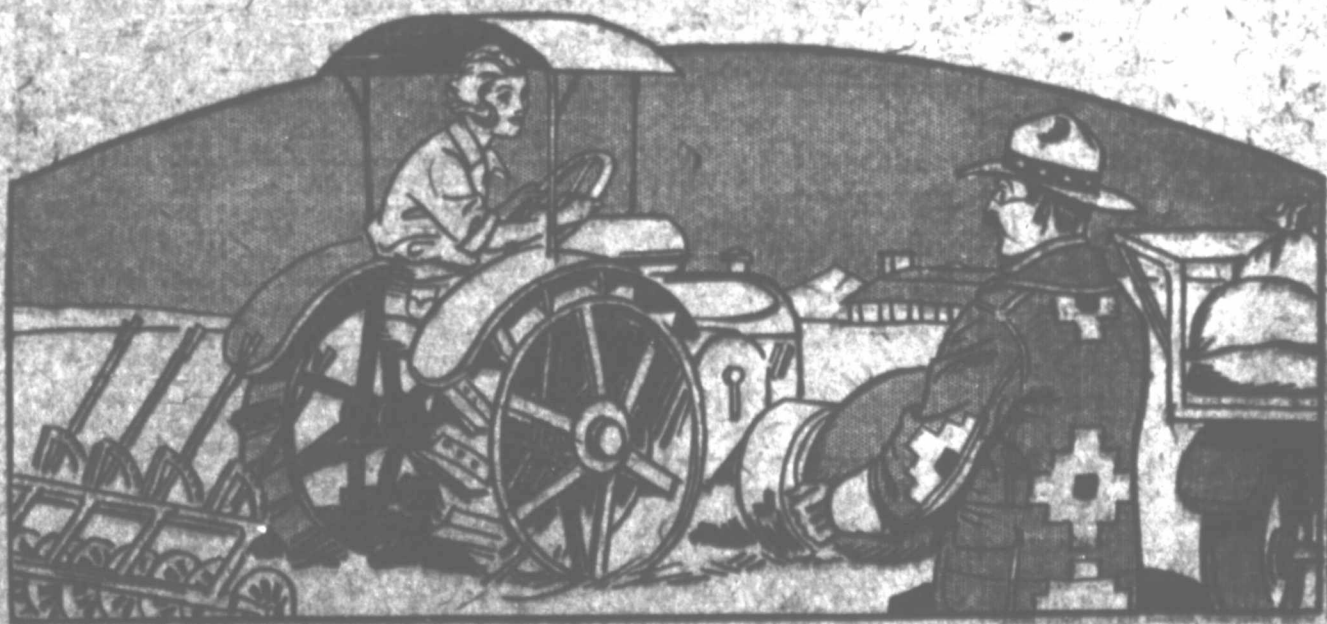

But as far as present Hungary is concerned—though we must except a certain section of the peasants who believe in Miklos Karolyi to this day—the Count and Countess are held responsible for most of the woes which beset the nation. But it is not with Hungarian history we are concerned, as with the personal history and character of the Countess Karolyi.

Without question, she urged her husband to the stand he took, and her stock by him through all its disastrous consequences. Yet it is doubtful whether she is radical, or even democratic. She is an Andrassy, aristocratic and hostile to the core.

Katinka Karolyi is the daughter of Count Theodore Andrassy and the Countess Zichy. You may still get a picture of her uncle, Count August Zichy, from some of the old light-colored photographs of the Ambassador, the Morillo Brown and other Hungarian royalties. Count Zichy and his wife were, in their day, the most famous Don Juans of Europe. Tales of their extravagance, their romances, their high good humor, can be scattered in every city from Budapest to Paris.

Occasionally, during the exile she has returned to the land from which she is not forbidden. She returned, eventually, to fight for the recovery of her husband's estates, but in vain. In these brief visits she has lived in her old home, where her uncle and grandfather, Count Julius Andrassy, welcomed her tenderly, as his favorite descendant, even though centuries separate their points of view. But nowhere in her own class does she find any one who condones her or even explains her husband's conduct. She must not even mention his name. So she prefers to share her husband's exile, and shares with him the fortune hunt that she says they may both be returned back to Hungary.

"I am going to Canada to settle on a little farm, where I shall raise vegetables, work in the garden and educate my children in the spirit of the democratic Western world," says the Count.

Getting Things Back

That is what The Times Classified Ads do in many instances—get things back; return lost articles to their owners.

The wonderful efficiency of the Times Lost and Found Ads has brought about the conviction that nothing is really lost until a Times Lost Ad fails to bring about its return.

The first thought of the loser is, "I'll make use of the Times Lost and Found columns."

They provide the quickest means of heralding the loss of an article of value—either for its intrinsic worth or through its association.

Times Lost and Found Ads perform mighty useful services in the community.

Lynch Well Makes Extension Of Swastika Field

What looks like an extension of about one mile of the Swastika field in a southeasterly direction is the showing being made in the No. 1 test of Lynch and associates on the Swastika tract in Archer county. The top of the sand was reached at 1216 feet and was covered one foot, showing considerable oil. The casing is being set and the well will be bailed in the next day or two.

CREIGHTON TEST NEAR OLNEY EXPECTED TO MAKE SMALL PRODUCER

Creighton and associates on the Vernon tract, about one mile north of Olney, have started bailing the well which was announced at the depth of 1100 feet and which is showing some oil. The test is expected to show up for a small producer when the hole, which has considerable mud in the bottom, is cleaned out.

SMALL WILDCAT WELL COMPLETED AT MORAN

MORAN, Texas, Oct. 11.—In a race against time, there has just been completed in the north field a wildcat well within its limit of time. In section 41, Blind Aratum lands, R. A. Elliott, by a syndicate composed of Biggs, Ferguson, Garner and Boggs, estimated at about 12 barrels, and as it is several miles to the nearest shallow production in the Redwood pool it was a rank wildcat.

The lease on which this wildcat is located, which was originally a five-year lease, was an offer of one of its term so in a last desperate effort this well was put down in four days, and they claim to have put oil in the tank at 1235 ft. when the lease expired at midnight. Under its terms, unless production was found within its limit of time, the lease would expire at midnight. As the lease of 120 acres adjoined the Parish farm, which the Humble-Parish No. 1, wildcat discovery well was brought in about two months ago, at about 2100 feet, as a result of which this lease had become very valuable, and if it failed to show, there was an offer of $25,000 cash bonus for it, so the bringing in of the well at the eleventh hour was being closely watched and timed by all of the parties interested. The location is about seven miles northeast of Moran and it is between the Humble-Parish well and the Deaf field.

NO. 2 SAUNDERS SEEM LIKELY TO BE PRODUCER

Bailing commenced on the No. 2 Saunders of the McDuff Oil Company, in the Clara pool, offsetting the (Hammond) John O'Neil No. 1 to the east, and from the showing made so far the well has every indication of becoming a good producer.

WICHITANS TO MAKE TEST IN YOUNG COUNTY

Richardson and Gatewood of Wichita Falls have made a location on the west side of Young county, in the northwestern part of Young county and will put down a test within the next thirty days. The well, which is in a wildcat territory, is located in section 1511 T. E. & L. survey.

DR. GRAFTON RETURNS FROM SYNOD MEETING HELD IN LOUISIANA

Dr. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, returned Wednesday night from Haynesville, Louisiana, where he attended the annual Texas synod of Presbyterians, churches of Texas and Louisiana. Dr. Grafton was moderator of the 1934 synod and preached the opening sermon to more than 100 ministers from the two states who were in attendance. While away Dr. Grafton suffered an attack of pneumonia, but had almost entirely recovered on his return here Wednesday night. He will fill his pulpit at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning and will give a report of the Louisiana meeting.

FEAR AN ATTEMPT TO REMOVE BODY OF PENN

LONDON, Oct. 11.—During the recent agitation over the remains of General Oglethorpe it was repeatedly suggested that the removal of the founder of Georgia would be immediately followed by an attempt to take the bones of William Penn to America.

FRUIT COMPANY STEAMER IS BEACHED IN RIVER

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 11.—The steamship Niagara of the Cuyamel Fruit Company which left dry dock last night after an overhauling, lay beached today with a heavy list to starboard on the west bank of the Mississippi River below the naval station at Algiers. The vessel was saved from sinking in mid-stream only after a diving battle.

COTTON MARKET

Lead Cotton Market. Receipts, nominal; middling 24 1/2. New York Cotton. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The cotton market was unsettled and nervous during today's early dealings. Liverpool was better than due and very unsettled weather conditions were reported from the south. These features seemed to be offset by a disposition to take profits on advances, continued complaints from the goods trade, and a less favorable view of European political conditions. The market opened irregular at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 2 1/2 points at 10:15 a.m. and then advanced to 25 1/2 at 11:15 a.m. The latter was more active than recently and doubtless contributed to reactionary sentiment.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—There was a fair accumulation of overnight buying orders today's stock market and opening prices displayed a firm tone. Davison Chemical and Tobacco Products & such advances about 1/2 points. Most of the rails and other improved fractionally on short covering.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE

Local Grain Market. Wheat: Hard No. 1, 81; basis No. 2, 87 cents. Receipts: Hard No. 1, 50 cents. Receipts: nominal. Chicago Grain Market. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Assertions that leading British firms had concluded arrangements with Russian cooperative associations to handle the export of Russian grain had some bearing on the market today during the early dealings. A decline in Liverpool quotations about 1/2 point, a weakening factor. On the downward side in prices, however, commission houses buying increased. Opening, which varied from 1/2 to 1/4 cent higher to 1 1/2, was followed by a moderate setback all around.

ARREST TWO IN CONNECTION WITH FIRE IN BROOKLYN

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—A sensational aftermath of a fire which early last Monday destroyed a Brooklyn home and caused the death of six persons came today with the arrest of William A. Ford, a real estate broker, and son-in-law of one of the fire victims, and Raymond Anderson, on charges of murder and arson.

A third man, James R. Lynch, an accountant, was held as a witness and a fourth is being sought as an accomplice.

Ford is the son-in-law of George Keim, playwright, whose death in the fire came on the eve of the production of his first play after years of endeavor.

Fire Marshal Brophy declared he had obtained a confession from Anderson. His feeling between Keim and his son-in-law was said to have existed for several years, according to Brophy, and Keim was understood to have appeared in court to testify against Ford in an assault charge the day of his death.

Anderson, according to Brophy, accused Ford and the unidentified man, also a stranger to him, of having driven to Keim's home early Monday morning after they had spent the Sunday evening with two girls, and with having fired the house, Keim, three women and two other men perished in the flames.

Ford and his father-in-law, formerly partners in a Manhattan theatrical enterprise, were said to have broken business relations after a quarrel several years ago.

Ford, Brophy said, denied Anderson's story.

SECRET FORMULA FOR MAKING DYE CARRIED TO GRAVE BY PAUPER

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP)—A secret formula for making dye was carried to the grave by a pauper, it is said to have required but a fraction of the usual cost has been carried to the grave by a pauper.

Robert Culver, learned the secret from a German relative many years ago and brought it to England where he organized a company for manufacturing dyes.

The company, however, failed through dishonesty of some of the officials and Culver was reduced to poverty. He continued to live in the hope that better fortune would one day come his way and that he would be able again to manufacture the dyes. He was ill last winter and taken to a poor house where he died recently without telling any one of the secret process.

At the time of the war his German relatives died or were killed and this left him in sole possession of the formula.

REPORT DECREASE IN COTTON SEED CRUSHED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The cotton seed products industry monthly report of the bureau issued today shows 286,000 tons of cotton seed were crushed during the two-month period August 1 to September 30, compared with 279,341 in that period last year and that there were 419,330 tons of cotton seed on hand at the close of September 30 compared with 409,443 a year ago.

Cotton seed products manufactured in the two-month period and the quantity on hand September 30 were as follows:

Crude oil manufactured 54,522,618 pounds, compared with 118,918,252 in that period last year, and on hand 24,697,269 pounds, compared with 24,961,024.

Refined oil produced 52,127,719 pounds, compared with 28,271,921, and on hand 41,581,923 pounds, compared with 54,522,330.

Cake and meal produced 126,417 tons, compared with 171,674, and on hand 47,606 tons, compared with 72,670.

Linters produced 24,894 bales, compared with 27,422, and on hand 23,440 bales, compared with 45,720.

Export of linters for the two-month period were 7,567 bales, compared with 7,292.

Dramatic Club to Present Series One-Act Plays

A series of one act plays to include "The Omen Road," "Will o' the Wisp" and a number of other equally attractive productions, will be an added feature of the work of the Community players during the coming season. This decision was reached at the second regular luncheon of the club at the Kemp Hotel Wednesday. The one-act plays will be invitational, open to the membership and their friends; the Episcopal parish house has been secured for the staging of the plays. Mrs. Bruce Dixon-Ruffner and Miss Lurline Turner were appointed directors of the first two one-act productions.

Booth Tarkington's "The Man from Home" was decided upon for the second public appearance of the players. Rehearsals will commence soon after the "Daddy Long Legs" production.

Miss Lurline Turner, who has recently returned from Northwestern University, where she was a student in the drama department, spoke briefly on the one-act drama and related some of her experiences in this line. Her address contained a number of suggestions which will prove valuable to the club program for the coming season.

Mrs. E. Fulton, stage director, presided at the luncheon in the absence of Paul Barnett, club president.

True Christians Take Active Part, Says Dr. Leavell

"Supposing" was the subject of Dr. James B. Leavell's sermon at the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening. The singing was led by William Young of this city. A large crowd heard the address.

Dr. Leavell said that in a way churches were without a true religion. He stated that so many people took Christianity for granted and let this condition slip along, getting a preacher to do all the praying. He said that true Christians would not forget the church, but would take an active part in its working and the salvation of souls.

Dr. Leavell is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Houston and is at present conducting a two weeks' revival at the First Baptist Church. Preaching the beginning of the services at 7:30 o'clock each evening, thirty minute sectional Bible study and prayer meetings are held one hour each day, beginning at 10 o'clock.

REGULAR MEETINGS OF "YELLOW DOG CLUB" TO BE HELD SEMI-MONTHLY

The first real business of the "Yellow Dog" Club for members of the local chapter of the Order of De Moly was brought under way at a stated meeting of the club at the Masonic Temple Wednesday night. About fifty members attended.

It was voted to set the regular meetings of the "Yellow Dog" Club for every first and third Friday night in the month. It was also decided to adopt yellow as the official color of the organization, and to support all football games and functions. At the coming game with Electro, to be played at the ball park Saturday afternoon, members of the organization will occupy a special section and will wear the yellow ribbon.

As a clause in the constitution requires that every member know the first two obligations of De Moly work, since only about ten boys know the secret work, classes will be organized with the ten boys as instructors.

Man Killed and Officer Wounded In Train Battle

PANA, Ill., Oct. 18. (AP)—A man said to be from St. Louis was shot and killed and a police officer wounded on a Chicago & Eastern Illinois passenger train here today. Two men said to be companions of the dead man were arrested, but declined to make a statement or give their names.

The trio, it was said, boarded the train at St. Louis and were enroute to Chicago. Members of the train crew asserted the three had caused a disturbance throughout the trip and when the train arrived here L. C. Resnaby, conductor, asked police to quiet them.

When officers boarded the train one of the men drew a revolver. In the scuffle that followed Ed Snider was wounded in the right hand and the unidentified man was shot, dying almost instantly.

Puffed Rice The finest breakfast dainty ever served

The queen of breakfast dainties is these rice grains steam exploded. The grains are puffed to airy morsels, 8 times normal size. And those thin, flaky grains are given a nut-like taste. The food cells are broken to make digestion easy. So this is ideal food.

Quaker Puffed Wheat in milk is the supreme dish for suppers or at bedtime. It is airy puffs of whole wheat, savory and flaky, fitted to digest.

Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals growing children must have. Also their need of brain. Milk is rich in all three vitamins.

This is how millions are induced to eat more wheat more milk. The dish is made delightful. Every day should bring its portion of Quaker Puffed Wheat and Rice.

More Than 10,000 Chicago People Hear David Lloyd George Urge Moderation In Reparations Plan

By JAMES E. NOURSE, Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Moderation in collecting reparations from Germany was urged by David Lloyd George last night in a speech before the greatest audience which has greeted him since he crossed the Atlantic.

More than 10,000 people were crowded into the international amphitheater situated in the stock yards district to hear the address, which according to advance promises was to have been one of the most important in the series which Lloyd George came to America to deliver.

The audience was not disappointed. It was a masterly address. As it proceeded Lloyd George's treatment of a fallen foe, so it was delivered in a moderate voice, which was carried by amplifiers to every nook of the great building.

The address was a severe rebuke to France's invasion of the Ruhr and the adoption of other methods which have defied Germany's purpose to pay the reparations account. "Vengeance is justice without wisdom, and that is what we want to avoid," he said.

Lloyd George's entire address was based on the theme that before further steps are taken to force reparations from Germany there should be an examination by a commission of experts to determine Germany's ability to pay. He endorsed the suggestion for Springfield, Ill., where Hughes for the appointment of such a commission, and said that until this is done no nation in the world will be able to know whether Germany is paying as fast as she can, or is merely shamming.

"The first obvious step toward collecting the debt from Germany is to restore the value of her currency," Lloyd George said, "and then let her pay in that currency. Great Britain is greatly interested in the collection of reparations, because one-fifth of the whole amount allocated to the allies belongs to her. Therefore, it is not as a disinterested party that Great Britain takes this moderate view. The war cost Great Britain more than any other nation. Therefore, our taxation is higher than that of any other country. And why? Because we started out to pay our way and to pay our debts. And we have 1,200,000 unemployed whom we must support at a cost of $400,000,000 a year.

"Therefore, why do we not join the procession into Germany to collect the gold? Because we know that is not the way to get it. You get plenty of trouble but no cash. Stripped of Resources. Lloyd George declared that because of France's action in invading the Ruhr, in taking the coal valley from Germany and taking her phosphate industry, Germany has been stripped of the natural resources which would have made it possible for her to pay the reparations account.

"You cannot balance budgets with bayonets," he exclaimed. "If Germany can pay more she ought to. It is to her interest to get done with it. If she is able to pay more let us find it out and if she can pay more then the allies will join in a procession to force her to pay it."

Contrasting the action of France with that of Great Britain, Lloyd George asserted that England was always opposed to imposing humiliating terms upon the vanquished. For this reason, he said, when Great Britain today debates the policy of France, and urges a moderate view of the reparations problem, she is following her traditional policy.

"Predicting dire consequences to the peace of Europe if the crushing plans of France toward Germany are carried out, Lloyd George declared the alternative to a policy of moderation will be nothing but force and violence.

"It is a fatal mistake," he declared, "to drive 60,000,000 Germans into despair. We want reparations. Reparations is not the way to get them. That is going to be the fate of Germany if she is pressed beyond the limit without examination and without reason. That is not what you want. It is the surest road to ruin in Europe."

An indirect rebuke to the policy pursued by Premier Poincare was contained in the statement that Millerand, Briand and Clemenceau, all of whom preceded Poincare in the premiership, looked into this question of invasion of Germany to collect reparations, and dismissed it as the wrong way. He added that he was sorry their advice was not followed.

"The skies are full of menace," Lloyd George said. "Storm clouds are gathering over Europe, and it will need all the wisdom, all the courage of the men who are guiding our ship of state to steer it 'way from the rocks.' Graphic Picture. Lloyd George figuratively drew a graphic picture of conditions in Europe by saying: 'Europe is like a ragged man standing in front of a plate glass window of a well-stocked store. His need of clothing is infinitely greater than that of the well-dressed man who is making extensive purchases inside. His need of food is more urgent than that of the well-fed gentleman who is coming out after a good meal, but he can buy neither food to satisfy his hunger, nor clothing to cover his nakedness. Until European prosperity is restored, that continent cannot be relied upon as a customer for world products.'

Germany already has paid on the reparations account two thousand million dollars, said Lloyd George, and only a commission of experts is competent to determine whether she is paying all she can.

Because of the condition of his throat and the fear of exhaustion from the strain of reception, Lloyd George remained in his room all day. Dame Margaret and Miss Megan went shopping. The former cannot be relied upon to be in good shape and he spoke with his usual vigor.

The party leaves at 10 o'clock tomorrow for Springfield, Ill., where Lloyd George will lay a wreath on the tomb of Abraham Lincoln and make a brief address.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Sunday Laws Not Religious. Editor The Times: The Sunday closing laws are again under the fire of your correspondent George Spies. Whenever men in this community resolve to disregard the Sunday closing laws Mr. Spies comes to their defense and goes gunning after the Sunday closing laws. The worst thing he has said about these laws is that they are religious laws, and that is the worst thing that can be said about any law. But it is greatly over-stating the case to say that they are religious laws. The Sunday closing law is in fact not a religious law. It was put on the statute books for the benefit of humanity and not to help any church. It was made to insure men one rest day in seven; in other words, to keep spectators from exacting a seven-day week. Mr. Spies himself has said that "the demand for one rest day in seven is written in man's very being." What is wrong, then in declaring one day in seven a holiday?

Of course, there are some, as in the case of Mr. Spies, who may prefer to worship on Saturday. That is his privilege. The law makes provision for those who prefer to rest or worship on another day of the week. That being true, who does the law wrong? If Mr. Spies can persuade nine-tenths of the people to worship or rest on Saturday the law will not be offended in the least; and the remaining tenth may go on keeping Sunday, as now.

Religious people and many other people not so pious, acting together as citizens, recognizing that a rest day is a necessity, have secured the passage of this law. The greatest statement of the world, generation after generation have advised it. Every student of sociology recognizes the necessity of a rest day. Labor leaders demand it. Workers strike for it. Then why denounce it as a religious law and work for its abolishment?

The Seventh Day Adventists, whom I greatly respect, have themselves contributed no little toward the literature of the past half century in favor of a rest day. They have been responsible in a large degree for the dissemination of the knowledge of the benefits of a rest day and for the sentiment in its favor that has resulted in laws.

Mr. Spies objects to the law further because of its seeming inconsistencies; it allows the selling of milk, ice cream, newspapers and drugs and forbids selling dry goods, cold drinks, candy, chewing gum and gasoline. This can easily be understood. Courts have held that ice cream is really frozen milk, and no law could hold that forbade the selling of so perishable a commodity as milk. Newspapers have been held to be perishable because of being useless after 24 hours. It does not take a jurist to tell us that drugs are a necessity, for emergencies may occur at any time when they would be required.

There is evidence in some quarters that religious laws are being sought in the form of laws placing the Bible in the public school. There is plenty of reason for non-believers to object to this because it robs people of religious liberty to tax them to teach a thing that they may not believe in nor wish their children to be brought up in. But the Sunday closing laws must stand so long as "a demand for a rest day is written in man's very being."

CITY IS PASSING THROUGH "POISONED RABBIT" SCARE HEIDELBERG, Germany, Oct. 18. (AP)—Heidelberg is passing through a "poisoned rabbit" scare. Stewed rabbit, formerly a popular dish at the student boarding houses and also among the professors of Heidelberg University, is for the time being banned everywhere and rabbits hereabouts are feared more than rats.

All this results from the act of hungry thieves who broke into the medical laboratories of the university the other night and made away with two cages of rabbits which had been inoculated with typhoid and other germs. The police have been instructed to shoot at sight any rabbit seen at large.

REDUCE NUMBER WHO DRAW STRIKE BENEFITS INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 18. (AP)—Figures on the strike of commercial printers for the 44-hour week which has been in progress for more than 29 months, show that 1,956 union members drew strike benefits in the last month as compared with 1,166 in the preceding month, it was announced here today from the office of Charles F. Howard, acting president of the International Typographical Union.

Since the strike has been in progress it was stated $16,000,512.42 had been collected by the union for strike purposes, and of that sum $1,824,197.21 has been expended. The union report shows that only 68 cities continue to be affected by the strike.

CLEVELAND WILL NOT GO AFTER CONVENTION NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Cleveland has withdrawn as a contender for the next Democratic national convention, according to John R. Young, secretary of the committee which is seeking to bring the gathering to New York. Chicago withdrew several weeks ago. Mr. Young said, declaring the two withdrawals appeared to leave this city alone in the field as a contender.

THREE DIFFERENT STORMS RAGE IN GULF OF MEXICO

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP)—With three different storms in the Gulf of Mexico or its vicinity, the local weather bureau today continued its warning to shipping to proceed to sea with caution.

Storm signals hoisted yesterday on the Louisiana coast for the disturbance reported approximately 200 miles south of New Orleans were ordered lowered last night after advice from Washington stated the storm was central off the Mississippi coast and moving north-northeast. Warnings were displayed from the mouth of the Mississippi river to Apalachicola, Fla.

The message added there were evidences of another disturbance over the central gulf and a third one in the western Caribbean sea. PRESSURE REMAINS LOW OVER GULF OF MEXICO WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Tropical disturbance apparently central some distance southeast of Swan Island and moving north-northeast. Caution advised for vessels bound for western Caribbean sea. Pressure also remains low over central Gulf of Mexico, but apparently without definite center of disturbance." Miss Belle Kinney of Nashville, Tenn., has been commissioned to do the heroic figure for the Tennessee memorial building to be erected in that city. Kemp Hotel lunch room.—adv.

LAMAR STREET PAVEMENT SOON READY FOR TRAFFIC The new concrete pavement on Lamar street on the east side of the court house block will soon be open for traffic, as a gang of workmen were engaged Thursday morning in removing the dirt which had been placed on it immediately after the concrete was laid. As soon as this street is opened it will give the court house block pavement on all four sides. Mrs. S. J. Roberts, 66 years old, is a student in the class of journalism at Mercer University, Georgia.

FINEST FOODS—LOWER PRICES

The system whose overhead is less than six per cent can give a larger value than the system whose overhead expense is from fifteen to twenty-five per cent.

In the retail distribution of food products there are certain costs which must be added for which the consumer must pay. None of these costs add to the intrinsic merit of the products.

The system, which can eliminate some of these costs and lessen others, can and does give better values.

The Piggly Wiggly system eliminates certain costs and lessens others, therefore, it can and does give the public greatest values.

COUNTY HEALTH OFFICER TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

OTHER BUSINESS CONNECTION CALLS DR. J. FRANK CLARK FROM THE COUNTY.

COUNTY JUDGE SARTIN NOTIFIED WEDNESDAY

County Commissioners to Choose Successor Monday; Many Applicants.

Dr. J. Frank Clark of Iowa Park, who was appointed county health officer on January 1 and who served as such up to six weeks ago, tendered his resignation to County Judge B. D. Martin Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Clark has formed other business connections, it is understood, which keep him out of the county to become effective at once.

Next Wednesday evening Mrs. Coke Jones will make the subject of "Vaccination of chickens for chicken pox."

It has been understood for several days that Dr. Clark would tender his resignation and soon after this report was circulated a large number of physicians in the county made application for the position.

The county commissioners will consider these applications for appointment as Dr. Clark's successor at the meeting Monday and it is quite likely that a selection will be made at that time.

Organization Is Perfected For a Big Poultry Show

At a meeting of poultry breeders and fanciers, held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the chamber of commerce, an organization was perfected and a decision reached to hold a mid-winter poultry show in this city in December. It was decided to have the opening day some time between December 15 and 16, and to hold a four-day show.

A board of directors was elected by those present and is composed of: Guy R. Jones, O. P. Maricle, Floyd Billingsley, E. H. Carver, Ira Mika, F. R. Kelm, F. A. Foster, L. R. Norton, R. Hartman, Miss Georgia Lanford, W. Dixon, H. C. Scott and E. E. Mallory.

The board of directors elected the following officers and committees: President, O. P. Maricle; vice-president, F. A. Foster; Ira Mika, and E. R. Ludolph; secretary, G. R. Jones; treasurer, Floyd Billingsley; superintendent of show, E. H. Carver; publicity committee, L. R. Norton, W. Dixon, Mrs. Coke Jones and Guy R. Jones; finance committee, M. Baber, Frank Kelm and F. A. Foster; building and arrangements committee, Ira Mika, Joe Young and E. H. Carver.

The exact date will be decided upon at one of the regular weekly meetings, which will be held from this time on. A meeting will be held each Wednesday evening, at which time a program will also be rendered.

Next Wednesday evening Mrs. Coke Jones will make the subject of "Vaccination of chickens for chicken pox."

It has been understood for several days that Dr. Clark would tender his resignation and soon after this report was circulated a large number of physicians in the county made application for the position.

The county commissioners will consider these applications for appointment as Dr. Clark's successor at the meeting Monday and it is quite likely that a selection will be made at that time.

DENVER REDUCES EXPORT OIL RATE TO NEW ORLEANS

A rate of twenty and one-half cents on export oil from all points on the Fort Worth and Deaver to New Orleans and New Orleans export stations will be established by the Denver road at an early date.

The reduction comes as a surprise to local oil men, since there has been no special pressure brought to effect the reduction. Denver officials announced the reduction after a series of investigations into the amount of shipments and the present rate. It was explained, "The exact date when the newly established rate will become effective will be announced soon, Mr. Smith said. No announcement has yet been made of other roads meeting the rate set by the Denver."

Army Recruiting Officer Visits Local Offices

Major George C. Charlton, Eighth Corps Area Recruiting Officer, accompanied by Captain R. L. Hammond, arrived in this city late Wednesday afternoon and made an inspection of the local recruiting office, located in the court house and in charge of Sergeant E. H. Burke.

The officers left the city early Thursday morning. Major Charlton stated that although recruiting was going on satisfactorily throughout the state, the army could use many more recruits than are enlisting and urged that more young men be made interested in army life and its opportunities.

Sergeant Burke accepted another applicant Thursday morning. Raymond G. Carter of this city enlisted and chose the Infantry Tank Corps at Camp Meade, Md. He will leave Thursday night for his post.

An effort is being made by Sergeant Burke to secure other offices more centrally located.

LIST OF SUBJECTS GIVEN FOR NEXT ADDRESSES OF EVANGELIST R. G. BAUCOM

"Sold out to the devil, look, stock and barrel, ram rod, shot, each, powder horn, powder cap and all," will be the subject of the sermon by Evangelist R. G. Baucum for Friday night's service in the big tent on the lot next to the Southside Baptist Church on Holliday street.

The subject for Thursday night will be "A Democratic Baptist With His Horns Sawed Off."

Saturday night the evangelist will speak from the theme, "A Great Question." Sunday morning, "Hell Fenced In."

The services have been interrupted because of the rain, but the regular services were begun again Wednesday night under the tent. At the time of the interruption caused by the rain, large crowds were hearing the evangelist each night.

The song service begins each evening at 7:30 o'clock.

SPECIAL TRAINLOAD OF EASTERN STAR DELEGATES TO ARRIVE HERE SUNDAY

The two local chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star are making preparations to entertain a special train of delegates from Fort Worth, who will spend several hours in the city Sunday, October 21, enroute to Amarillo, where they will attend the forty-first annual convention of the order.

A detachment from the local chapters will join the party here for the trip to Amarillo. The train provided by the Fort Worth and Deaver will be made up in Fort Worth and consist of four sleepers through from San Antonio, and seven sleepers originating in Fort Worth for the central and east Texas delegations. In addition extra cars will be operated on all regular trains, it was announced.

The special train will stop in Wichita Falls for dinner at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and will spend four hours in this city. They will be entertained by the local delegation during their stay here. The train will leave here Sunday night and arrive in Amarillo Monday morning at 7 o'clock for the opening day of the convention.
