LAW ENFORCEMENT UNDER WOOD PLATFORM

All Laws to Be Enforced By Law Officers, Not By Volunteer Bands If He Should Become President

Strict and impartial enforcement of all the laws of the land, by the officers charged with that duty, and not by unofficial organizations of any character, in the event of his selection as chief magistrate of the nation, was pledged by Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, today...

PICTURE SHOWS TO REMAIN CLOSED IF LAW IS ENFORCED

MANAGERS OF SHOWS STATE THEY ASK ONLY EQUAL PRIVILEGES. TRUST SHERIFF WILL NOT PUT MEN IN JAIL

Business Men of City Still Undecided What Action to Pursue.

If the sheriff in fact does enforce all the Sunday laws next Sunday without showing any discrimination, the picture shows of the city will not open, according to a statement issued by the managers of the theaters.

In the statement issued by the picture show men, they state that if all places are closed next Sunday, which are not excepted under the Sunday law, their theaters will not be opened. In the same signed statement they express the hope that the sheriff will not place any alleged violators of the Sunday law under arrest and that he will not throw them in jail and not permit them to make bond.

The business men of the city who have been accustomed to keeping their places of business open on Sundays for the past year, without being molested or undisturbed as to what course of action they may pursue.

The question now stands, whether the picture shows will be closed today or will be open as usual. The statement issued by the theater managers follows: "To the picture show patrons of Wichita Falls: We note the declaration of the sheriff that he will strictly enforce the law throughout Wichita county next Sunday, including all places of business which are not excepted under the Sunday law, which includes all amusements, filling stations, candy shops, cold drink and cigar stands, shoe parlors, cleaning and pressing establishments, etc., and we are now advising that if in fact the sheriff enforces said laws, we shall not open our places of business."

"We want our position to be thoroughly understood to you, without the same privileges under the law and by the officials that are extended to another citizen of the city."

"We trust that if any persons should violate the law on Sunday that the sheriff's department will not molest or molest any persons, but that their legal right of making bond for their appearance in a court of competent jurisdiction will be maintained."

"Our picture shows will not be open Sunday nor on any other Sunday so long as the sheriff actually enforces the law against all violators, impartially and without favor. Yours very truly, OLYMPIAN THEATER, H. Ford, Manager. STRAND THEATER, F. W. Day, Manager."

INVESTIGATION OF KUKLUX KLAN IN OKLA. IS ASSURED

SENATE ADOPTS HOUSE RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR COMMITTEE. ARE EXPECTED TO BEGIN INQUIRY WITHOUT DELAY

Supreme Court Hears Arguments in Contest Over Office of Governor. The senator's address Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock was his first formal speech on Texas soil. He arrived in Wichita Falls from Dallas at 10 o'clock, after a long trip, and received the public at an informal reception at the Kemp Hotel until 5 o'clock, following which he retired for a brief period of rest before the citizens' banquet at 8 o'clock, which taxed the capacity of the ballroom. At the close of the banquet he proceeded immediately to the Palace Theater, where the great audience was awaiting for a brief period of rest before he boarded the train for Fort Worth, en route to Dallas, where he spoke at the Texas State Fair Thursday.

Remedy For Law Enforcement. Deploying the present widespread lack of law enforcement, Senator Underwood demonstrated that the remedy for this condition lies in the hands of the individual citizen, who must organize a committee and elect men to office who will enforce the laws and who will appoint subordinate officials courageous and honest enough to enforce the laws.

"Organizations outside the law to perform the duties that are neglected by the law enforcement officers are not the remedy for the lack of enforcement," declared Senator Underwood. "It is our duty as citizens to organize a committee and elect men to office who will enforce the laws and who will appoint subordinate officials courageous and honest enough to enforce the laws."

A strong rebuke to the present federal administration was delivered by the senator when he referred to the recent conference of President Coolidge with the governors of the several states at Washington on the question of declaring martial law in Tulsa "when no cause, reason or ground existed therefor."

"We are before in the history of this country," asserted the speaker, "has it ever been deemed necessary to summon the governors of the states to Washington to discuss whether they would support the constitution."

He described run running vessels as pirates and declared that they should be stopped by solid shots amidships, whether they flew the flag of England, France, or any other country, and whether there were three miles or 13 miles off shore.

"They are violating the law of the land and should be treated as pirates," he declared. Hearty applause from the assembly greeted this declaration by the senator.

Text of Address. Senator Underwood's address in full follows: "Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: I am proud to face this great audience in the great state of Oklahoma, the greatest state in the Union, the man whose place I now occupy in the senate of the United States was a soldier back in the 1860's, when the 'Tobacco' commander in chief called for volunteers to retake a vital battle."

A Texas regiment volunteered to a man and an Alabama colonel volunteered to lead them. Handkerchiefs were waved on the march of each soldier's face in order that they might know each other in the dark. Under the leadership of the 'Tobacco' commander in chief, they were ordered to retake a vital battle."

NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—October cotton today rose to 80 points above last night's close, settling at 21 1/2, and indicating a new high level for the season. The increase was due to the fact that only about 4,500 bales were tendered on the October contract, whereas nearly twice as many had been accepted. Later months were 11 to 20 points net higher.

HIGHEST COTTON MARKET THIS SEASON. Spot cotton closed at 29 1/2 cents on the Wichita Falls market Thursday, the highest since the war, and the highest since last winter and is the peak of this year's record to date.

According to local cotton men, the advance was caused by the short crop, indicated by the destruction of much cotton in the southwest by rains and cold weather.

STOCK DIVIDEND OF THREE HUNDRED PER CENT. NEW YORK, Oct. 25. (AP)—The Congoleum Company, Inc., today declared a stock dividend of 300 per cent, thus increasing the common stock from 250,000 to 1,000,000 shares.

Battle Staged In Oklahoma House When Member Is Attacked During His Arraignment of Grand Dragon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 25. (AP)—A dozen or more house members today fiercely attacked Representative Callahan of Latimer, smashed a chair and threw Callahan to the floor in a bitter arraignment of the Ku Klux Klan.

Callahan's words hardly fell in the house chamber before one member shouted "that's a black lie." One member sprang at Callahan's throat and the other members in a scuffle. Twelve or fifteen other members rushed toward Callahan, most of them endeavoring to place their hands on his shoulders at arms and virtually all other members of the house rushed to the corner where the scuffle was taking place. Clenched fists were waving in the air as Callahan was forcibly ejected into a cloak room just outside the house chamber. Callahan stood guarded by two members after the sergeant at arms had ordered other members back into the chamber.

Callahan's bitter attacks on the Klan, the first which have been made in the house during the extraordinary session, occurred after a long debate over whether the house should vote for impeachment of Governor Walton on article 10, which concerns his declaration of martial law in Tulsa county. Callahan's declaration of martial law in Tulsa county, Calverley in the state legislature, in this state were members of the Ku Klux Klan.

"People in this state have been tried in the house during the extraordinary session, occurred after a long debate over whether the house should vote for impeachment of Governor Walton on article 10, which concerns his declaration of martial law in Tulsa county. Callahan's declaration of martial law in Tulsa county, Calverley in the state legislature, in this state were members of the Ku Klux Klan."

He related how Governor Walton declared war on the Klan and how the Klan force during the attack knocked Callahan into a chair behind him, crushed it, and he and another legislator were surrounded almost immediately by a group of indignant house members.

Here he was interrupted by shouts from all over the house chamber and members sprang at Callahan. The force during the attack knocked Callahan into a chair behind him, crushed it, and he and another legislator were surrounded almost immediately by a group of indignant house members.

Testimony tending to link R. L. Maxwell, a co-defendant, with the activities of the Petroleum Producers' Association, was introduced by the government today through C. L. Warren of Shreveport, La.

Warren testified that he held stock in the Homer Consolidated Oil Company, of which Maxwell was secretary-treasurer, and that he transferred it to Cook's association. He identified letters relative to the transfer of the stock which he said he received from Maxwell and Dr. Cook.

J. C. Leach, former employe of R. E. J. Cox, described the drilling of a well on the Corbett lease in Stephens county, Okla., which was made between 10 and 12 o'clock one time there was a showing of oil. On cross examination he stated that the temperature in the well was 215 degrees, that the Jack Dalton well, the discovery well in that county, got 200 barrels a day for nearly a year.

David Boaz, vice president of the Fort Worth National Bank, identified a man who had been identified by Cook in advertising sent to prospective stock buyers.

STARTING TODAY. A New Serial Story. CHAPTER I. The knocking was here and there above the roofs and gables, eaves and steeples that are the skylights of New York. Borealis, Tinsel and trinkets weighed its boughs. A young girl, a woman, dressed too modestly in a strand of silver on already overladen branches, then sat down awkwardly on one of the steps.

A woman, dressed too modestly in a strand of silver on already overladen branches, then sat down awkwardly on one of the steps. The Church of the Nativity holds its annual Christmas Eve service from a snug, sleek, soft hat. An habitude of New York's most fashionable club women, feet still at home in the Church of the Nativity. There is the same rich simplicity in both the same warm comfort, and above all the same exclusiveness. But a breadwinner man would be as self-conscious in one institution as in the other.

A fleeting winter sun, homeward bound on Christmas eve, peered through stained-glass windows upon a scene of disorder not in keeping with the promise it usually found in the rich shadows of these stately walls.

Jumped paper, boxes and wood shavings were scattered everywhere. Bits of abandoned string scarred strange figures on the floor.

"THE FOOL"

Mr. Gilliam says "I'm far too good" only yesterday. I give 400 pounds of coffee and sugar to the Salvation Army. "And today," interrupted the incorrigible Dilly, "I have jumped the price of sugar to 25 cents!" Mr. Gilliam saw the futility of further argument. "One gets precious little reward, I can tell you," she said with rising emotion. "I sent helpful thoughts to the girls to all Mr. Gilliam's employees. Now they're on strike, and the man that got 'em content with your wages' is leading the strike."

She rummaged in the toy box to conceal her agitation. "Where's the Star of Bethlehem?" she asked absently. "It doesn't work, mother," explained Dilly. "Are these your husband's men on the front steps?" Mrs. Thornbury asked after a moment's pause. "Oh, no," said Mrs. Gilliam. "Those are people from the sweat shops. They're starving. I hear, and Mr. Gilliam says it serves 'em right."

GIVEN FIVE YEARS SUSPEND SENTENCE ARCHER CITY CASE

Special to The Times.
ARCHER CITY, Texas, Oct. 23.—A verdict of guilty and a penalty of five years suspended sentence, was returned by the jury in the case of M. J. Martin, who pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary before Judge E. H. Wilson in the 21st district court here this morning. The jury was out 15 minutes. Martin pleaded guilty to the charge and his attorney, Ernest Thorburn of Wichita Falls, asked the special consideration of the jury and for a suspended sentence on account of the defendant's age and the facts in the case. The state was represented by Assistant District Attorney J. V. Allred.

Two minor cases which were called were postponed on account of the absence of witnesses. The cases will be called again Friday morning.

RECESS IS TAKEN AT HEARING OVER VETERAN'S BUREAU

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Having heard a rather startling story from Elias H. Morison, president of the veterans bureau, while he was seeking a contract from the bureau last year for the construction of a hospital, the senate committee investigating the bureau was in recess today until next Monday. Meantime its counsel will prepare to present further disclosure regarding the activities of the bureau. Before adjourning on Monday the committee decided to give opportunity next Tuesday or Wednesday to Mr. Morison to reply to Morison's story, which contained charges of intrigue, debauchery and corruption in connection with the awarding of a contract for the building of a veterans' hospital at Northampton, Mass.

Not "Gift" and Notes Purchased As Investment

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 23.—E. W. Marland, president of the Marland Oil and Refining Company, who purchased $20,000 worth of notes given by Governor J. C. Walton on his residence here, told the investigating committee of the Oklahoma house of representatives that he did not consider the purchase of the notes as a "gift" and that he did expect to get his money on them.

Traction Company Will Operate Cars For Band Concert

In answer to the many inquiries that come to me daily about getting out to the band concert at Maskat Temple, I want to say for the benefit of those who wish to attend, that through the kindness of Mr. Albritton the street cars will run to the fair grounds on the night of the concert, starting at 7 o'clock. Another question that is being asked is: "Why are you having the concert so far out?" The answer to this question is: Maskat Temple is the only practical place we have for a concert of this kind. The Thru Band is an organization of fifty people, including singers, ballet and members of the band. Then, too, Maskat Temple is the only building that will accommodate the great number of people who want to hear this concert. I believe you can readily understand that we must have a building of the size of Maskat Temple not only to care for the organization and its performers, but the volume of tone that a band produces, and Maskat Temple can do that. The loudest and most delicate passages will be heard perfectly and the stage is being so arranged that all can see every movement of both conductor and dancers; also both see and hear the splendid singers in all parts of the temple.

This is the opening concert of the season of 1923-24, and I am hoping to create an enthusiastic interest in the community in the concerts that are to follow during this season and others to follow.

Rhineland Republic Means That France Will Dominate Europe Is Opinion of Special NEA Writer

Bob Dorman recently returned from the territory which is now the new Rhineland Republic. He was there as a correspondent and observer for NEA Service. He observed with officers and enlisted men of both the French and German armies. He returned with a full picture of the attitudes and aspirations of all who are now directly influenced by the founding of a new political state. Probably no writer in America is better qualified to tell what it all means.

By BOB DORMAN
NEA Service Staff Writer.

With the establishment of the Rhineland Republic an accomplished fact, the primary aim of the French occupation of the Ruhr is attained. Premier Poincare of France officially denies any such aim, such as the prevailing idea. I found, among the officers of the army of occupation when I was with them recently.

First, the establishment of a Rhineland Republic establishes a buffer state between France and a revenge-seeking Germany. Second, payment of reparations becomes a visionary dream, with the richest part of the German Reich separated from Germany. A Rhineland Republic will always lean toward the French rather than toward the Reich, because of their fear of reconquest by the German government.

WAGE INCREASE IS GRANTED EMPLOYEES M. K. & T. SYSTEM

PARSONS, Kan., Oct. 23.—A wage increase totalling $226,860 annually for the six mechanical crafts on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad was announced today by M. G. Thompson, general manager of Shop Employees. According to Shop Employees' Association, the increase was granted by the railroad yesterday and is retroactive to October 14. It means an increase of $120,000 annually to the payroll of this city.

NEWMAN WELL IN YOUNG GOOD FOR 50 AT 900 FEET

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 23.—H. J. Newman et al have brought in a 54-well, their No. 1 Beacon, north of Graham near Jean at 900 feet. At one foot in the sand it is flowing by heads and looks good for 50 barrels. The Monroe Production Company's well three miles east found 30 feet of sand at this depth.

COMPLETE FAILURE GREEK REVOLUTION IS NOW ASSURED

ATHENS, Oct. 23.—Government troops have occupied Corinth and complete failure of the Greek revolution is assured, according to advice received from the Peloponnese this morning. Multitudes estimated that 1,500 men were under command of Gen. Metaxas at Corinth. Prior to their capture the government announced that 1,500 mutineers in the city of Prame and Karthi had surrendered and that the city of Caralia had been reconquered, eradicating the movement in Thraee.

SIXTEEN TO ONE FOR FORD

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Henry Ford, according to Lloyd's, is a sixteen to one candidate for the presidency of the United States. For the first time in the annual election of the sporting proposition of an American gambler, who wished to wager $2,400 pounds ($12,000), against $27,000 pounds ($135,000) that Mr. Ford would be elected president of the United States by December 1, 1924. The reason for the delayed date is that it would enable Lloyd's to await any possible recount in case of a close result.

LAW ENFORCEMENT UNDERWOOD PLAN

most redeemed the day and took the salute.

For this great deed the colonel was honored by being promoted to the rank of general, but this was not the highest honor bestowed upon him—at the end of the fight the Texas regiment elected the Alabama colonel a Texan.

It would be a proud moment to me if the great citizenship of Texas would honor me by electing me a Texan.

"I come here tonight—first let me thank my friends for the kind words of introduction which are greatly appreciated by me. I come here tonight to talk to you about things of the hour and which people in times of peace honor by neglect. I will say a few words about the government and the enforcement of the law.

"How many of you people in this splendid audience take law enforcement as a matter of course or with indifference, or treat it as if of little concern. Yet in the continents across the waves we have seen governments fall and homes ruined, and in the wake of the destruction of business, scores of years of progress wiped out, farms gone, homesteads destroyed because stability is not there.

People's Indifference.

"Can it fall with us, shall the heritage of our revered fathers call in indifference, or treat it as if of little concern. Have we forgotten the fundamental principles on which our government was organized? and haven't we cried for democratic rule by the American people. The American people have always ruled from the time of Washington's inauguration, except when they themselves were too indifferent to take the reins of government in their hands. Never since Washington's inauguration has the time been when the people have not been able, except by their own indifference, to govern by the will of the majority.

"My friends, your government was not organized that the majority should rule and the government without my saying spells freedom. Even before the adoption of the constitution of the United States, the American people were assured liberties and freedom under the federation of states. The primary purpose of government is to guarantee to the individual citizens certain rights that protect the freedom of government and personal liberty of the individual citizen. Protection of property, homes, and happiness by the friends is not gained by a rule of the majority. The rule of the majority is not always just, nor fair, and in some instances it is cruel.

"True, we must have rule by the majority for a free government. In the organization of the great government of Madison, Jay, Hamilton, Washington, Jefferson and others, men enlightened on the subject, did not guarantee a rule by the majority, but did protect individual rights of citizens against the brutal rule of a majority.

"Jefferson did not approve of the constitution until the bill of rights had been added. This bill guarantees liberty of activities, freedom of the individual as long as you obey the laws of the country. Under the laws of the country, the United States we are entitled to say 'ea or nay' as long as we obey the laws. Then the constitution is challenged to challenge, except the law itself and the machinery created by the law. That is your government, a government of free independent liberty loving people and it is a government worth having and the best that has ever been inaugurated.

"Jefferson said to the people of the United States, that that government governed best which governed least. Not meaning because of neglect or lacking adequate provisions, but a government should not intrude upon the individual rights of citizens during the time of peace. The prosperity of a community in general depends on the individual citizen and he should be given the liberty to live and engage in business which he deems best for himself and family and to allow the government at Washington to grow, grow, and grow. Penalties and restrictions should only be in effect in time of war, because at that time all become soldiers and must take orders from the commander in chief. During times of peace the government should rest on us, and taxation and details in matters of business should be attended to by the people.

"Liberty has been almost lost in the clouds that the government creates has it not? It is time for us to harken back to the principles of the fathers of the constitution of this country, the sentiments of democracy, the battle cry of Thomas Jefferson, 'government that governs best is that which governs least.'

"It was necessary at the time of the drafting of the constitution to delegate certain powers to the government of the states and these questions can be better handled by the state governments than an assembly can handle them from a national standpoint. The commander in chief must have the power from a nation. He must have the power to make peace and protect us against foreign foes and to protect interstate and foreign trade. Certain other great powers for the federal government are necessary. The state governments have a balance of power in the commonwealth, or states, but the laws made at Washington must be uniform and the same law that applies to Texas must apply to California and the same law for Florida must also apply to Maine.

Police Regulations.

"We can easily realize the importance of state government if we come down to police regulations and it would be difficult to pass such laws for a nation. In Maine there is a law which requires citizens to clean the snow from the sidewalks and streets, because if the snow is deep it hinders commerce, prevents children from attending school and people from going to church and men from attending their business. The people accept the law as made by their state, but if the same law were passed in Texas the citizens of the state would probably enlarge the state insane asylums for the legislators. It is intended that the question of local government rest in your hands without infringement by the federal government of Washington. That fine example of democracy has survived from the days of Thomas Jefferson to this time. Local people should govern themselves as far as is permitted by the federal constitution.

"When the Eighteenth Amendment referring to prohibition and the Nineteenth Amendment in regard to woman suffrage came before the congress of the United States, I voted against both. Not because I opposed temperance, but because I believed that all of the laws of temperance should be handled by the legislature. No law which goes further than the jury box in analyzing the sentiment of the people has ever made good, and it is best that it be determined by the people of the several states and in their own way and time. So far as woman suffrage is concerned, it is a matter of the land and it is no longer a question, but is a matter of history, which will never again come before the American people.

Assassination of Texas.

"One of the most important questions ever before the United States was the annexation of Texas and after an agreement was finally reached, and one minute after the stars and stripes floated over the capitol at Austin, Texas was a part of the union and there was room for no more arguments. Texas was in the union immediately after the senate of the United States had ratified the treaty of annexation and it seemed to be a question of the former questions are like the annexation of Texas. Woman suffrage is no longer a theory, the women have the vote and no man can take this privilege away from them.

"When it comes to the other question I have no apologies to offer, and must stand on the principles and in the free law of the land and the law of the country it must stand like the bill of rights. It is a law and guarantees by the foremost law of the land.

"No man can be president and nullify the constitution of the United States. It can not be done. You can not be half white and half black. Lincoln said the country could not be half free and half slave and we can not be half way for the constitution and half way against the constitution.

"We either stand for its integrity or for rebellion against the government.

"There is but one position to take—those invested with the high authority can act and the enforcement of the law must be by the laws of the government.

Will Enforce Prohibition.

"Now it may be true under the Eighteenth Amendment prohibition went faster theoretically than sentimentally, but now it is our duty to act according to the constitution, as it is the decree of the nation. When three-fourths of the states wrote the decree into the fundamental law of the land it became a part of the constitution.

"Many complaints are received to the effect that the law is not enforced. There is always a difference in the enforcement of laws, more especially the prohibition law at present. It is better to accept the law than to attempt to tear down the constitution that protects liberty and happiness. That is what I stand for.

"I don't want any citizen, because I voted against the eighteenth amendment, to be for one minute that if power is ever put in my hands, I will not enforce the law.

"Some men in high office are not trying to enforce the law. It is a matter for the commander in chief of the United States to be able to select honest, courageous men to enforce the laws of the land. Only last week we had a travesty enacted on the political boards of Washington when the president of the United States summoned governors of the states of the nation to the capitol and demanded to know why they had not enforced the law. They would—in the talk of the street, if I may employ it, 'passing the buck.' And then the several governors asked the president if he would enforce the law. Was there ever known before such a condition that necessitated a meeting of the president with the governors to find out if the chief executives stood for law enforcement and upholding the constitution of the United States?

Citizen's Duties.

"If you believe in law enforcement and you know about a crime, it is your duty to report it to the grand jury. Don't pass the buck. Your duty as a citizen is to help the officers of the government to enforce the laws of the land. It is the duty of officers of the government to appoint honest men that can not be bribed, bullied or intimidated to enforce the law. You know this is not always done. I do not say that all government officers are guilty of corruption, but many officers are. Many others are courageous, but a good many are corrupt, dishonest and cowardly, or the newspapers would not every day tell where they had been broken down and some officer arrested for corruption.

"If you are going to the government fall or are you going to put men with courage in offices to enforce the law. You can go to the files of your daily newspaper and find it remarkable if you find one issue that does not convey news of some officer of the government who has been found to be corrupt and arrested or reprimanded for his failure to do his duty. That is why the laws are not enforced. We should elect men who will put honest men in office. Has the day come when we can't find enough honest citizens out of the 100,000,000 people in the United States who can fill these positions without the danger of corruption?"

"Not only is the prohibition act not being enforced, but the first act passed by the first congress is also being ignored. The first act was the act for the collection of customs to prevent smuggling into this country and collection of duty on all articles is to be made at custom houses. It provided for the payment of penalties aggregating millions of dollars on goods smuggled across the line. In 136 years of government at home passed when this law was not violated. Increased enforcement has been had every hour as years went by and revenue cutters have been placed in service, not under the control of the navy except in time of war, to enforce the act.

Enforcement Up to President.

"During times of peace the revenue cutters are under the command of the president of the United States and it is up to the president to enforce the laws of this country. And yet after four years experience with the constitutional amendment which prohibits the importation of alcoholic liquors into this country (Continued on Page 4, Column 1.)

Citizenship Department Studies "Uniform Marriage and Divorce Provisions" at Thursday meeting

"Uniform Marriage and Divorce Provisions" formed the interesting study of the Citizenship Study Department of the Civic League Thursday morning in the regular bi-weekly meeting at Kemp library.

A general discussion brought out many of the evils resulting from the present varied marriage and divorce laws in the forty-eight states, it being cited that a child could be of legal birth in one state and illegal in another; a marriage could be valid in one state and invalid in another; divorce could be granted in one state, valid as long as there was no second marriage in another, and absolutely invalid in another.

A feature of the meeting was the talk by Miss Suzanne Schenmayer of the Texas University Child Welfare division, under the auspices of the local Red Cross chapter. Miss Schenmayer had splendid charts and posters and gave individual advice to the mothers on questions of nutrition and health.

I never will be able to understand, dear little Marquise, what malignant fairy made me tell Mr. Cooran that Karl had given me the pearls. The moment the words were out I would have given anything if I could have taken them back. But, alas, words once spoken are of the few things in this world that cannot be taken back or changed or made over. They must stand and we must abide by them.

I could hardly confess to Mr. Cooran that I had told him a lie especially as seemingly I had no excuse for doing it, and having told him the lie I, of course, had to bring many other untruths to bolster it up.

Down in my heart I didn't believe that Mr. Cooran thought I was telling the truth and quickly my brain tried to form a plan by which I could make him think that a young man, even as rich as Karl, would give me as beautiful a present as the pearls.

After a little hesitation I said, "You know Karl Whitney and I have been like brother and sister all our lives. Ever since I was a little girl and admired pearls in a shop window Karl said to me he would see that I had some when I married. I am sure that neither he nor I had any idea what that promise entailed as neither of us knew the value of the milky white jewels. But when I married, as you see, he kept his childish promise."

"Of course, Leslie," said Mr. Cooran, "I have no idea what pearls of this kind cost, but I imagine they are very expensive. Does your mother know about this?"

"Oh yes, I answered. Karl has also given Alice a string since she went to England. You don't think I could take them if she hadn't approved, do you?"

Again it was some evil spirit speaking through my lips, for certainly I should never have allowed Mr. Cooran to think that my dear mother would do such a thing.

Mr. Cooran, however, seemed to think if mother approved it was all right. He said no more, but gave me a note to a friend of his who was a jeweler and I got out of his office as soon as possible.

When I told the man my business and showed him my pearls, it seemed to me he was greatly astonished. "My dear young lady," he said after a little examination, "do you realize what these beads, as you call them, are worth today?"

"I have no idea of their value," I said, "but I would like to sell you three or four of them." Mr. Cooran said that you would deal honestly with me.

"Of course I will, and as it happens I will, and as it happens I will."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

We see them that are wise in their own eyes and prudent in their own sight. He who thinks he can find in himself the means of doing without others is much mistaken; but he who thinks that others cannot do without him is still more mistaken.—La Rochefoucauld.

TAXATION A PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

If President Coolidge could lead his party in economies of administration and bring about a reduction in taxation his defeat in 1934 would be made doubly difficult.

And Senator Smoot says that taxes can be reduced $500,000,000 annually, while Senator Borah declares it ought to be done.

Reduction of expenditures and taxation is the obvious thing to be done, but as President Coolidge lead his party in doing it? We are afraid not.

But better it were to have patience to wait and little by little to grow to be great.

Be honest, be cheerful, be kindly, be brave, be willing to work and be willing to save; it is fine to be clever, but take this from me, there are numberless things it is better to be.

Now clever's a word that is sweet to the ear; it flatters our pride and misleads us, I fear. It tells the young fellow who's tempted to work that if he is clever he won't have to work.

It tells the young fellow unwilling to wait, that if he is clever he needn't go straight; Full many a wrong deed it tempts him to do By saying if clever he needn't be true.

Be honest, be cheerful, be kindly, be brave, Be willing to work and be willing to save; It is fine to be clever, but take this from me, There are numberless things it is better to be.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

No matter how many excuses you may offer for your failure to rise to the heights you most desire, one fact remains—you rise no higher than you desire to rise.

Even when you are so fortunate as to have something handed to you, you have to reach to take it. Nestled and warmed, there lies in every human heart some sort of desire—a desire to rise above mediocrity, a desire to surpass present effort, a desire to be strong and able and fit, ready for emergency or the call of a fortunate hour.

But desire must be fed. You cannot have a desire and then leave it alone. It will die.

Move with your desire, give it clothes, take it out into the world and introduce it to the activities and affairs of moment.

Talk to your desires. Each one is surrounded with some one or many chances. So that if your desires are fed and led aright, all that you are takes on growth and strength.

The desire in your heart is what you are, what you hope to be, what you determine to be.

You must carry about with you mental pictures of the thing you most desire and then that thing shall come to pass. And you must keep stepping toward it. You must keep wrapping it with your dreams—and then with actual deeds.

It is much easier to rise than it is to fall. Every time you make an effort you accumulate new strength. But every time you let yourself fall you lose strength.

Desire stimulates. And it is born within us all, in greater or less degree. The more you desire, the more you are able to get what you most desire.

Back of your will is your imagination. Back of your imagination is your desire.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON

THE VANISHING HORSE.

We sometimes see a patient horse go totting on its way; such animals we don't indorse in this brisk modern day. They block the traffic here and there, their progress is so slow, and chaffers grind their teeth and swear, and speed fans writhe in woe.

When now the stately steed changes into a horse in line; the poor man drove his spavined plug, the plait his trotter fine. It is not long since autos first appeared upon the roads, and wretched farmers ragged and cursed, would run away and smash the running gear; the things the drivers used to say will not be printed here. But they were one and all agreed that statues should be framed which would protect the useful steed from dragon-cars go-blimmed.

The motorist, in bygone days, flew in the face of fate, and ever, as he went his way, men sang their hymn of hate. And now the driver of a steed is he who gives offense; men curse him for his small-like speed, and say he has no sense. So mundane things adjust themselves, so work out human plans; we place our horses on the shelves, and wind 'em in sedans.

ONE EXPERIMENT IN PRICE FIXING.

Out in Washington a few weeks ago a Democratic candidate for congress was elected over a Republican. The Democrat appears to have won because he proposed a more radical program. Among other things he proposed a government fixed minimum price for wheat at $1.75 per bushel.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the Argentine republic has been attempting to fix the price which packers in that country must pay for cattle. As there are more cattle raisers than meat packers, in whatever measure the government has been susceptible to political influence in fixing the price for cattle has doubtless been in favor of the cattle raisers. However this may be, the packers have refused to pay the price fixed and as a result the Argentine herds are running off their fat at added costs to the cattle raisers of that country.

Chicago's first claims a conductor squeezed her. It will improve street car traffic there.

FORD ADHERENTS TO HOLD CONFERENCE.

A conference of "Ford For President" clubs has been called to meet in Detroit December 12, 13 and 14, at which it is expected steps will be taken for the organization of a new political party.

It begins to look as if a new party must be organized if Ford is to become a candidate. It is pretty certain that the Republicans don't want him and the two-thirds rule will keep him out of the Democratic nomination. And perhaps, after all, Ford wouldn't want to be a candidate of either of the old parties. Maybe he would rather start off with a clean slate.

Ford as the candidate of a third party would make things interesting in the 1934 campaign. Altogether it begins to look like 1934 might be an eventful year in political history.

AN IMPRESSION OF UNDERWOOD.

"God pity the bootlegger if that man is elected president," one in the audience was heard to exclaim when Senator Underwood ended his talk at the Palace theater Wednesday night.

There were several matters upon which the Alabamian left no doubt as to his attitude. One of these was law enforcement. The hearer was impressed with the sincerity of the speaker and could not help but feel that here was a sturdy, honest, somewhat old fashioned American who, if placed in authority, would not temporize with those whose acts would nullify the supreme law of the land.

Goodbye, reparations. If Bismarck niet kaiser. News samples. Mark, the wizard.

By ARTHUR SHERRARD (Copyright, 1932, The Star Co.)

With a loaf of bread in Germany costing five billion marks—which would have been $50,000,000 in the old days—the intellectual allies are beginning to set aside all question of reparations. They are wondering whether they can hold Germany together and prevent the appearance of another and worse "Russia." France says she'll pay us when Germany pays her. Uncle Sam will charge five billion to reparations.

Smuts, able premier of South Africa, wants the British empire to interfere with France and decide on some definite course for Germany to prevent chaos there.

England wants a prosperous Germany with which she may trade. France wants a ruined, broken Germany which she need not fear. If she can have, as Marshal Foch planned, a Protestant north Germany and a Catholic south Germany, separated and hating each other, she can keep the peace. Germans hate Germans. Frenchmen may sleep peacefully.

Yesterday's latest news must have pleased the French. The Palatinata, rich, important section of Germany declares itself free of the German republic. What is more important, it agrees to defend the safety of France and pay its share of German reparations.

If Bismarck could come back and call on the former kaiser in England, he would have some things to say to him.

That kaiser, reading the news, must remember the day when he threw Bismarck overboard, convinced that he, the kaiser, without Bismarck, could lead the empire that Bismarck established.

What a big man creates, needs a big man as caretaker.

What's the news? All kinder: The French government is negotiating for business dealings with Russia. And Russia is modifying her statement that she will never pay her debt to France.

An American lady gets from an American jury five thousand dollars for business dealings with the former kaiser. The lady, Mrs. Alice Mercer, asked for fifty thousand dollars.

Chinese bandits were beaten in attempt to hold up another train. Princess Harmina, wife of the ex-kaiser, is busy in politics, hoping to become empress. Such a lady she has standing as a housekeeper in the middle of the Johnston flood.

This country with untold millions of tons of coal below the ground, is importing 100,000 tons from Wales, and incidentally half a dozen middle men get the share of profits on the hard coal mined here.

There seems to be real hope for asthma and hay fever victims. No one surgeon in Chicago tells the other surgeons gathered there, "Whoever cures asthma, hay fever, and poison ivy will deserve a monument as high as Pike's Peak."

Imperial Wizard Evans of the Ku Klux is worried, because in this country only a "little more than a third" of native Anglo-Saxon stock. Would the distinguished wizard have kept out Christopher Columbus as the result of a drop of Anglo-Saxon blood in his veins, although he did have, on his mother's side, a good supply of Jewish blood.

Wizard Evans objects to the Jew "because he is unblendable." Yet Bismarck, in England, "bleeds" well enough to make Victoria empress of India.

Gambetta, in France, "bleeds" to the extent of the establishment of French republic following the stupidity of Napoleon Third after 1870. He "bleeds" pretty well with the best literature this earth has produced.

And Spinoza, another Jew, is "bleeding" to the extent of the excess of every philosopher, Jew, Gentile.

Without questioning the sincerity of Wizard Evans, it might be appropriate to suggest careful analysis and proof, as for instance, when he says "in Catholicism the presidency at Washington is subordinate to the priesthood at Rome."

This news will interest more Americans than anything that could happen in Europe.

A carpenter named Clemens took out a claim in the Colliet region. On Tuesday, perfunctorily working at it, in accordance with law, he dug up a "chunk," practically a pound of silver, weighing 1,300 pounds. The dullest imagination can imagine how it feels to find as many silver dollars as that in one single lump.

The news will set many prospecting for precious metals.

They will forget that more money has been sunk in the ground looking for silver than has ever been taken out of gold mines.

A PUZZLE A DAY

During the spring of 1914, two chess players held a game by mail, each sending his move by letter. Each sent two letters a week for 13 weeks. Two years later, in 1926, another game was played, each sending one letter a week for 26 weeks. In 1927 they used postal cards, and each sent two cards a week for 13 weeks. In which year did they spend the most for postage, and in which year the least?

CHAPTER II.

Mrs. J. Emma Tice.

Mrs. J. Emma Tice went into the leaden shadows of the darkening church in such a manner that she had just entered midday when she felt the door behind her.

"Hello, everybody," she said in airy greeting, which "everybody" returned. "Who are those people on the church steps? A lot of dirty foreigners blocking the sidewalk."

"It's the grating Mrs. Tice," explained the chronically apologetic Mr. Barnaby. "The furnace room's underneath and they're trying to keep warm."

"Well, let 'em try somewhere else," said Mrs. Tice, brushing herself in unpleasant recollection. "I don't mean to be unkind, you know, but there must be millions or something."

A PROBLEM

By MORRIS

Me and my black and white dog Yardo was taking a walk, me feeling proud of me and him looking in back of me and him looking as if he was proud of the way I was walking in front of him, and some girl started to go past with her dog on a chain, and Yardo started to wag his tail at him and she back and either do I wag his tail or she wag his tail, Come hear, Princess, how dare you associate with that dog.

He's as good as yours, you awt to be proud of him, I sed, and the girl sed, She's not a him, and anyway, kindly allow me to inform you she's a thoroughbred King Charles spaniel and she's got a pedigree.

Well wot of it, my dog has 2 of all I know, my dog is did did, and she said, That's impossible and I don't even believe I believe yours has, let's see it, I sed, and she sed, It's not something to see, her pedigree means her father was Chillingworth Bouncer the 3rd and her mother was Nottingham Lady Fingler and her grandfather was Chillingworth Bouncer the 2nd and Queen Bee the 3rd.

Making me feel miserable on account of not knowing anything about my dog, but I sed, Aw, that's nothing, G wiss, my dog's father was the King of Spain the 4th and his mother was the Empress of Jerusalem the 4th and his grandfather was the Count of Monty Crisco the 10th and his grandmother was the Queen of Ireland the 18th.

G your best making that up, she sed, and I sed, Aw go on, your jellias.

And I wagged away feeling better instead of worse and Yardo quick kissed her dog good by on the nose and keep on following me.

HAVE VIRTUALLY ABANDONED SEARCH FOR LOST CHILD

WALDRON, Ark., Oct. 23. (AP)—The search for Pearl Turner, three year old daughter of a mountaineer, who disappeared from her home nearly a week ago, was virtually abandoned last night when the posse of approximately 100 men came down out of the wilds of White Oak mountain and went to their homes for rest.

It was announced that a smaller posse would reenter the forest today, although leaders of the army of searchers had little hope that the child would be found alive, if at all.

It was his favorite pose, restful and at the same time man-about-town. Jerry was 35, having had everything he wanted had left him bored or jaded. On the contrary, he was well pleased with things in general, and himself in particular.

"We didn't hope to see you here, Mr. Goodkind," said Mrs. Thornbury graciously.

"I met him in front of Tiffany's," explained Mrs. Tice.

"New York?" Jerry said knowingly, with a smile. He was always smiling, and his eyes seldom joined in the smile.

"I lured him here by mentioning that Clara Jewett was helping us," Mrs. Tice said.

"Dilly saw a chance to tantalize," Mrs. Tice said.

"Page Mr. Gilchrist," she called to a waiter, and Dilly turned to make church-going attractive.

THE FOOL

By this time she had found the object of her search—a large, brilliant star-shaped ornament. "What's the matter with the Star of Bethlehem?" she inquired.

"Oh, the usual," said Dilly. "Whoever heard of the lights working on a Christmas tree?"

"But this must work," Mrs. Gilchrist declared firmly. "Mrs. Tice had it made to order—of Parisian diamonds. It cost $100."

"All right, it's better than nothing," said Dilly, taking it from her mother and clambering up the shaky ladder.

"Well, I'm half dead and there can't be any more presents," drolled Mrs. Thornbury, reaching for her cigar. "I'd give my left hand for a cigar."

(AP)—The daily average gross crude oil production of the United States increased 138,100 barrels for the week ended October 20 totaling 2,323,450 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. An increase of 78,000 barrels in the daily average production of the Powell field in Texas, together with the resumption of normal producing conditions in Wyoming accounts for substantially all of the increase. The daily average production east of the Rocky mountains was 1,422,850 barrels, an increase of 138,600. California production was 220,500 barrels, a decrease of 500. Oklahoma shows a daily average production of 359,650 barrels, an increase of 1,250; Kansas 73,200, increase 250; North Texas 69,200, increase 1,450; central Texas 211,150, increase 27,250; North Louisiana 55,550, decrease 1,450; Arkansas 122,100, increase 4,150; Gulf coast 94,450, decrease 4,300; eastern 107,900, decrease 500; Wyoming and Montana 159,050 barrels, increase 62,400. Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports were 221,871 barrels compared with 222,000 for the previous week. There were no changes reported in crude oil prices for the major districts—midcontinent being quoted from 90 cents to $1.75 a barrel according to the gravity of the oil; Pennsylvania crude, Bradford district, $1.75 and all other grades $2.50 a barrel, and gulf coast $1 a barrel.

Loses His Life In Daring Rescue of Fellow Workman

ST. JOHNS, Kan., Oct. 25. (AP)—George Clowers, 28, a section hand, lost his life before a passenger train in a daring rescue of a fellow workman in the Santa Fe railroad yards here yesterday. Clowers and George Roberts had been working several yards away from other section hands and had momentarily stopped their work and engaged in conversation when the train pulled into the yards. Roberts was standing in the center of the tracks and Clowers was standing at the side. Neither heard the approaching train and other workmen further down the track, thinking they had seen it, did not call to them. Slipping the engine and a few yards away, Clowers seized Roberts and threw him from the path of the onrushing train. But as Clowers leaped from the track the engine pilot struck him in the side of the head, crushing his skull. He died almost instantly. Roberts was not hurt. Clowers is survived by a wife and seven year old daughter. Some darters are only an inch and a half long and are the smallest spiny-rayed fish known. The Tower of London, covering an area of 18 acres within the garden walls, forms a precinct in itself.

How to Revitalize Wornout Exhausted Nerves

Your nerve power depends on plenty of good, rich, red blood of the kind that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—helps make. Nuxated Iron is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while metallic iron is just as it comes from the action of strong acids on iron filings. Nuxated Iron does not injure the teeth nor upset the stomach; it is an entirely different thing from ordinary metallic iron. It quickly helps make rich, red blood, revitalizes wornout, exhausted nerves and gives you new strength and energy. Over 4,000,000 people annually are suffering with Nuxated Iron. Always insist upon having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists in tablets only—never in liquid form.—adv.

LOW PRICE PAID FOR HOGS RESULT OF FALSE ALARM

CHICAGO, Oct. 25. (AP)—The present low price paid for hogs on markets of the country are directly attributable to "a false alarm of dollar corn and five cent hogs." Everett C. Brown, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange, declared last night in a statement in answer to an announcement of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that an investigation is being conducted to determine the reason for a drop in values at a time when corn prices were increasing. The livestock exchange president directed an attack on badly informed "farmers' advisers" in corn belt agricultural circles. He pointed to the department of agriculture announcement indicating a loss of approximately 250,000 head of hogs marketed during the period of the slump and suggested that "some influence" may have been the cause. "These badly informed advisers have succeeded in stampeding the country into throwing young hogs overboard at an opportune and critical moment, flooding every livestock market in the country with the stock of the kind killers can not utilize advantageously and creating a temporary excessive supply that will be reflected in scarcity and high prices a few months hence," Mr. Brown said. "Before long a run of new corn will start, permitting readjustment and then an opportunity to realize the status of livestock will be realized. There is no logic to the present situation at the livestock market. Meat consumption is enormous, stocks are low and European demand for hog products unprecedented. The time for orderly marketing is right now and the most effective method of accomplishing this is creating assurance that corn will not be stored in fire and burglar proof sales or that cattle and hogs can not be probably led to a reasonable stage of maturity. When the corn market has been readjusted we will be in a position to comprehend the abnormality of this blunder."

ELECTRA, Oct. 25.—A number of minor accidents have taken place in and near Electra within the past few days. The injuries sustained by the victims have been painful, but none of them of a serious nature. E. M. Reardon, an employee of the Rowe Drilling Company, is suffering from a severely crushed right hand, which was caught between the spider and bit on the rig where he was working. The accident took place Sunday night. Mr. Reardon received surgical attention at the Electra hospital. At first it was thought that it would be necessary to amputate the injured member, but later developments indicate that he will not lose his hand. Kenton Polly was treated in the local hospital for an injured eye. The work of picking was delayed a few days by the recent rains, but the cotton in the fields was not greatly damaged. G. T. New and Effective Contrasts Contrasts in leather and color are much liked and it is easy to understand why. Shoes of brown ooze and camel suede, for example, are equally effective with camel tinted hose or koko chiffon hose that gleam through the suede cut outs in striking contrast. Such two-toned shoes exhibit other new features, such as straps of kid leathers or alligator skin. This mode was launched at the ultra-fashionable Longchamps Races, and quickly adopted by smart American women.

with has back to the wall to seem the tide of impeachment already sweeping him.

Rising in his seat was the announcement of a legislative investigating committee that it would present to a grand jury all of the impeachment charges against him and while the executive awaited the outcome of his court challenge, the committee would continue its work in the upper house of the state legislature holding its first meeting as a court of impeachment prepared to see in action the machinery for his trial.

Having already approved seven of the twenty-two charges contained in the committee report and forwarded them to the senate as separate bills of impeachment, the lower house went into session this morning to consider the remaining counts of the indictment. Observers considered it significant that but seven out of the 44 members of the house have voted consistently against acceptance of the charges. In each case the majority of the ayes has been overwhelming.

The state supreme court this afternoon will hear an application for a permanent injunction restraining Governor Walton from interfering with Lieutenant Governor M. B. Trapp, as acting governor. The writ was granted by the court after the governor, refusing to relinquish the executive chair under the provisions of the state constitution which suspended him during the impeachment proceedings, had obtained an injunction in district court barring the lieutenant governor from the office.

The senate impeachment court, presided over by Chief Justice John T. Johnson of the state supreme court, will convene this afternoon and possibly set a date for the trial after hearing a report from its committee on rules and procedure. It

MUNICIPAL GOLF CLUB PLANS FOR 1924 FORMULATED

Plans for the operation of the Municipal Golf Club for 1924 were formulated at a meeting of the directors Wednesday night and the active membership drive, with at least 150 members as the goal, was launched.

Members of the membership committee were enthusiastic over the report made by the secretary that 27 applications for membership had been received voluntarily without any solicitation.

Directors of the club are of the opinion that the suggested number of members, the club can be operated on a scale which will allow the operation of five more holes to the course.

Interest which has been created here among the members of the club is in sight for another season.

Time Has Come for Southern Man to Be Democratic Standard Bearer Declares Underwood at Banquet

"This cry that has prevailed for many years that it is inexpedient to nominate a man from the Southland to carry the banners of the Democratic party in a presidential race is nothing more than the cry of some politician who is in politics for his own gain."

The man from the south who raises this cry of inexpediency dishonors the south and dishonors the dead of the south who fought on the battlefields of nations in the world war."

It was in this manner that Senator Oscar W. Underwood in Wichita Falls Wednesday answered the cry of politicians and some few individuals that it was not expedient to select a man from the Southland as standard bearer in a presidential campaign.

More than 250 men and women gathered at the Kemp at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening to attend the banquet given in Senator Underwood's honor. Walter D. Cline, president of the chamber of commerce, presided.

Sam Beattie, commander of Pat Carrigan Post American Legion, was called upon to speak. He told that the American flag that adorned one of the walls of the banquet hall was the same flag that the boys of the 142nd Infantry followed on the plain blank at the meeting Wednesday night and it is expected that the full number of members required for the operation of the club in 1924 will be registered before the end of November.

In order for the directors to make plans for the operation of the club for another year, it is essential that the necessary number of players sign application blanks.

UNLIMITED SUPPLY OF GAS AVAILABLE AFTER WEDNESDAY

An unlimited supply of fuel will be available for Wichita Falls gas consumers after next Wednesday. H. T. McLaughlin, district manager of the Municipal Gas Company, declared Thursday morning. Officials reports from the Lone Star Gas Company officials at Petrolia, received by Mr. McLaughlin, were to the effect that the work of repairing the four broken mains across the Red River near Byers would be started immediately and the lines would be in operation by next Wednesday.

Two days ago when the Red river went on a rampage, the gas mains bringing gas to the Petrolia pumping station from Oklahoma fields were broken. At the time cool weather was being experienced and it was necessary for the Municipal Gas Company to curtail the supply of fuel to several large consumers in Wichita Falls.

Most of the gas used in Wichita Falls now is received from Fort Worth, the company there being able to supply a small amount to this city. The gas lines that supply Fort Worth come from Oklahoma and cross the Red river near Gainesville, and were not damaged by the flood waters.

Work on the Wichita Falls supply lines will be rushed and by Wednesday an unlimited supply of gas will be available to consumers in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Neel Gains 17 Lbs. By Taking Tanlac

"While taking the Tanlac treatment I went up from ninety-eight pounds to one hundred and fifteen pounds in weight, after several years of completely run-down health."

"Tanlac built me up in a few weeks, banishing every ailment I had, and put me back on my feet so I could do my housework, giving me a renewed interest in life."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold."

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills—sleeping, and, last but not least, an alarming decrease in weight, with weakness that compelled me to give up my housework, which left me almost in despair.

Lubbock Pastor Drops Dead at Fair at Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 25. (AP)—The body of Rev. J. Fred Baker, pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Lubbock, was shipped to Lubbock today for burial. He dropped dead suddenly while inspecting a live stock exhibit at the state fair yesterday.

Rotten Row, the fashionable equestrian promenade of London, is one and a half miles long.

In a few well-chosen words Senator Underwood thanked the men for the introduction given him. Mentioned before for President. Then he said, "You know why I am here. This speech shall be brief, for I have a lengthy one to make at the public meeting which is to follow."

"Last winter, just before congress adjourned, the Alabama legislature asked me to become a candidate for president on the Democratic ticket. I asked that I be given time to decide this question and accordingly I went to Europe."

"I know it is no pleasant matter to be in the race which elects a man to the highest position in the world. I know of the trials and tribulations and the serious hard labor. He who attains this highest honor pays the price. He is nothing more than a slave in the treadmill of a nation. His life is not his own, but his country's."

"And so it was while in Europe that I gave the matter the most serious consideration. I studied it from every angle and finally I decided. The determining factor was the fact that the Southland, south of the Tennessee line, has never had a president."

"It has been 49 years since a man who lived in the Ohio and Potomac rivers was nominated and elected by the Democrats."

"This has become a government of compromise. It is composed of compromises which determine questions which are vital to business and vital to the fringe and home."

"On the various occasions at Washington there are more than 100 men and yet there are only four or five miles of the Potomac and Ohio rivers. These men determine questions from their own viewpoint. The majority of the members of the committee are from points within a radius of 150 miles of New York, the point of consumption."

"I have no criticism to offer to the commission members or of the men who appointed them to office. But the cry of expediency has bowed the plume of the south and has caused it to surrender its right to representation on these business commissions."

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS WILL BANQUET SENIORS LATTER PART NOVEMBER
Arrangements are being made for a Junior-senior banquet to be held in the latter part of November, when the Juniors of the Wichita Falls High School will entertain the seniors, according to Sam Bashara, president of the Junior class.

A committee composed of Misses Marjorie Bright, Elizabeth Weldon and Iris Francis was appointed to handle the arrangements for the banquet.

The finance committee is made up of Loebert Catter, Clifton Clay, Shumaker Baber and Miss Dorothy Skene. On the decorating committee are Ridesey Austin, Guy Hawkins and Kathleen Stocks.

Miss Marjorie Bright was appointed chair of the meeting Tuesday and J. R. Martin was elected yell leader of the Junior class.

Plans for a home talent play are underway and the class expects to give the play in December. The play and the date of the presentation will be announced later.
