NEW LOW PRICES FEATURE TRADING IN STOCK MARKET

OIL AND PAPER SUFFER THE LARGEST DECLINES

Government's Attitude on Reparations Conference to Weigh Influence.

By BROADWAY WALL
Universal Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Last week witnessed new low prices for the year. Eight groups of stocks changed hands at the low point—oil, copper, coal, leather, machinery, paper, textile and rail.

The oil and paper stocks suffered the largest decline since last March, but six groups are still above the high point of 1933.

The oil stocks, electrical equipment, auto accessories, equipment, food, telegraph and cable, and textile, gas, and power.

As a result of this severe liquidation the principal topic in professional trading ranks is whether the market has not discounted the reaction in trade, which, based on surveys, is not expected to be as drastic as in 1931.

Professionals believe that if the situation could be cleared up it would create a greater demand for American products.

Another factor is a reduction in federal taxes, regarded as a stimulant to business and a help to the investment market, where funds are flowing into tax exempt securities.

The national debt has been reduced approximately $7,000,000 in the last 15 months, or 2.5 per cent, which compares with an ordinary reduction of 2 per cent annually.

Depression in market values has been helped by the little public interest in the market and the present weakness is attributed more to a lack of support than to an excessive extension.

With the general feeling of caution and the uncertainty as to what the December congress will do in passing surplus funds to be placed in bonds and the high grade stocks.

The bond market has shown decided improvement in recent weeks. The recent proposals for reductions in coal and wheat export rates on the railroads is believed responsible for the selling of some of the railroad stocks.

The coal carriers have not been reporting earnings which could stand a cut in rates and the carrier roads income is still below the return fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Bankers believe that were it not for the political aspects, earnings and prospects would warrant higher prices for railroad stocks.

Car loadings are still running above the million mark a week. October is normally the peak month in railroad traffic and larger loadings for the year have not been seen for some time.

Competition is being felt in the tire and rubber industry. Tire shipments in the first eight months of the year have not been up to normal.

White production figures indicate an over supply. It is figured that tires and other products carry a heavy surplus which cost the manufacturer approximately 15 cents more than last year, which has materially reduced profits on sales.

POLITICS HAS EFFECT ON LONDON STOCK MARKET
By Universal Service.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Political considerations were largely responsible for the dismal condition prevailing in the stock markets here during the week.

A flood of oratory poured out in the House of Commons during the week, but the impression created continues to prevail, particularly abroad. This resulted in a tumbling of the exchange so that a change in the bank rate was feared at one time.

The pound sterling continued to wobble after the Treasury's ground on balance and marks went to fantastic levels. Toward the end of the week sterling recovered.

On the other hand, sympathy for the League of Nations was shown.

Governor Pinchot Submits Plan to Secretary Mellon

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 28.—Governor Pinchot, who in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon last night, declared the federal government had failed to see all its powers to combat with means of the prohibition laws, today awaited a reply to suggestions which he submitted Mr. Mellon for federal cooperation with the state.

Forecast Increased Democratic Representation On Committees New House of Representatives

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Increased Democratic representation on the committees of the new house of representatives is forecast as a result of the reduction of the Republican majority in the house from 179 to 148.

In the last congress the Republicans fixed the ratio at two majority members to one of the minority, but the Democrats claim and the Republican leaders appear inclined to concede that there should be a reapportionment.

In the 48th congress in which the Democrats had a plurality of two the ratio was 15 to 9 and the Democratic leaders are expected to ask for the same division in this congress.

The Republicans, particularly if they have to make concessions to the progressives in their party in making their committee assignments, probably will insist, however, that the ratio of the 48th congress, in which their plurality was around 50.

The number of places on each committee which is to be allotted to the majority and the minority will be decided at a conference of the majority members of the house, which will be held on Sunday, December 1, two days before the convening of congress.

Assignments are expected to be made by each state delegation on members to committees then will be made by the committee on committees, which will consist of one member from each state with Republican representation. The selections for this committee will face a laborious task.

Because of the reapportionment that is to be worked out and the unusual number of vacancies in committee chairmanships and places the committee on committees will face a laborious task.

The result of its labors will be subject to approval first by the party conference and then by the house. Democratic places on the various committees will be filled by the ranking Democrats on the ways and means committee of this party.

There are 17 vacancies in committee chairmanships due to the retirement, voluntary or enforced, of the former chairmen. These committees include the most powerful in the house, among them, ways and means, judiciary, post office and insular affairs. There also are a number of Republican places vacant in each of these committees, but if there is a reapportionment, the situation may be different.

BOTH MEN WOUNDED IN NEW YORK PISTOL DUEL TWO WOMEN GET AWAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Thomas Gillick of Philadelphia, identified by the police as the notorious "Rigger" Gillick, who escaped last July from the Pennsylvania state penitentiary with five other convicts, today got the worst of a pistol duel fought on the upper floors of the Hotel Langwell with Joseph F. McLean of Brooklyn, who described himself as a jockey. Both were taken to Bellevue hospital, Gillick apparently mortally wounded.

The police at first believed the duel had been fought over women, but later switched to the theory that the two men were fighting because he had given information regarding James Brown, a fellow fugitive, who was arrested in Brooklyn last week with Thomas Finn, accused of knowingly having sheltered an escaped convict.

RAINS HINDRANCE TO FARMERS, SAYS AGENT GUY JONES

The incessant rains of the past two weeks have proved a big hindrance to the progress of the farmers in the county, according to County Agent Guy J. Jones. The cultivated lands are entirely too wet to permit of plowing. In those instances where the land has not been plowed prior to the rains, Mr. Jones stated that it would require probably an entire week before the ground would be in condition to permit cultivation. The rains have also prevented the picking of late cotton and consequently a part of the crop has been ruined.

The rain did not deter a good sized crowd from attending the lecture on Madame Butterfly, given by Mrs. Frank Van Enden, in the second floor of the Perkins-Timberlake store, Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Van Enden's discussion of the famous opera met with marked appreciation and the Victoria selections from the opera, which accompanied the singing, were an added attraction. Madame Butterfly will be presented here by the San Carlo Opera Company November 8 and it is believed that Mrs. Van Enden's lecture will add much to the appreciation and interest of local people in the presentation.

SENATOR CHARLES CURTIS SAYS BONUS LEGISLATION WILL PASS U. S. CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Congress could reduce taxes at the forthcoming session, even though soldier bonus legislation is enacted, Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip of the senate and member of the finance committee, said today after a call at the White House. The senator added that he fully expected bonus legislation to be passed. "The difficulty in passing a bill to reduce taxes, Senator Curtis said, would be in obtaining agreement by the various groups in congress on a reduction program. Unless such a program can be agreed to, he said, nothing probably will be done. "There is a strong demand the country over for a reduction in taxes," the senator said. "It is the duty of congress to take steps to further wipe out the war taxes. Something was done along that line by the last congress in reducing the tax burden by approximately $500,000,000, something more should be done by congress at the forthcoming session."

WOMAN'S PAGE

Thy Neighbor

IRVING DAVIDSON, Phoea 331.

In this space will be printed each day, without charge, notes from people who are in need of something that some other person may have, and notes from people who have something they are willing to give. The names and addresses will not be used; only initials. The addresses will be furnished the writers only in such cases, and only the Women's Page editor will know the names. We ask that only those in real need, and only those who have something which will be of real use, write or phone us.

"I have a coat for a 14-16 year old girl, and an old coat, about 34, that a woman could wear about the neighborhood. I would be glad for you to have them, if you wish. Thank you very much. We will send you an address."

"I have three or four good suits of underwear for a boy about 12."—Mrs. M. J. B. "I have the boy 12 who needs them very badly, and will call in a day or two."

"I have clothing for a boy, two, a baby girl about three, and a girl about nine. I would be glad to give you."—Mrs. Mel. "We will send you an address or send somebody to you in a day or two. Thank you."

"I have five little children; the two oldest are little girls seven and eight; two little boys, five and three, and a baby girl three months old. I have no winter clothing for the children, and need bed clothing very bad. I have been sick for a long time and am not able to fix up about the one decent, that one of the mothers or anyone else would help me. I would appreciate it so much. The little girls even don't have any stockings or winter underwear. They have coats and one dress apiece and a pair of slippers. If you have anything that will help me I will be glad."—Mrs. C. "Mrs. C. needs so much help that we would be glad for each of the Sunday school or church classes to phone us for the address. Please do it quickly; it is cold weather for five little children under nine to be without stockings and underwear, to say nothing of winter top clothing."

"We have finally moved and I am so anxious to keep my girl in school. She has had to stay home these bad days. We will be very thankful for whatever you may have for the children."—Mrs. G. "Mrs. G. has a little girl 3 1/2 and a boy three. One of two people have asked for the address, and have sent one or two things. A coat is going out today for the little girl, but she needs dresses for school, and shoes and stockings. We have her address."

PRISONERS NOT CREDITED WITH TIME IN SCHOOL. AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—Time spent in prison schools or in teaching in these schools will not operate in shortening the sentence of state prisoners, according to a ruling of Attorney General Keeling announced today. The opinion is a reply to many questions from inmates of the state penitentiaries that their sentences be shortened because of attendance at schools. Assistant Attorney General W. W. Cava, who wrote the opinion, said the statutes are very plain that prisoners can not be allowed credit for this form of work.

Note My Special Message from Walter Burke to Mrs. Ruth Ellington

I know when I am beaten. The moment I saw Leslie Prescott enter the restaurant I knew it was all over with me. Ruth I have loved you I do love you and honestly if I had not thought I could bring my little happiness into your saddened eyes I would not have proposed the trip abroad. But I know now that you never could have been happy under the circumstances.

Your Puritanical ancestry and education would have made happy another any joy that you might snatch surreptitiously from me. I am going to go abroad tomorrow. It was selfish of me to want you before you could come to me in honor. Good-bye with Leslie, Ruth and free yourself from that cur who never appreciated you.

Enclosed please find the tickets. The train goes at eight o'clock sharp. My girl you are a friend of Leslie's. She is a nice little woman.

The Best Foods

Children ever get—Puffed Grains

Quaker Puffed Rice seems a food confection. Each grain is an airy, nut-like puff, 8 times normal size. It is fascinating in its texture and its taste. There is no breakfast dainty ever served that children like so well.

Each grain steam exploded

Quaker Puffed Wheat is whole wheat steam exploded. Over 125 million steam explosions are caused in every kernel. They are made by Professor Anderson's process to fit each food cell to digest.

These airy morsels, flaky and flavorful, make whole wheat enticing. They make the milk dish tempting. Quaker Puffed Wheat in milk is the finest night dish, and the greatest people ever get.

Minerals—vitamins—bran

Remember these essentials. Whole wheat supplies 12 minerals which growing children must have. It supplies their need of bran. And milk is rich in vitamins.

These are factors which people should get daily and in plenty. They serve in this delicious way.

All will revel in Quaker Puffed Grains—eat them morning, noon and night.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1933.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY. When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.—Prov. 29:2.

Authority intoxicates, and makes mere sots of magistrates; The signs of it invade the brain; And make men sots and proud as vains; By this the fool commands the wise; The noble with the base complies; The sot assumes the role of wit, And onwards make the base submit.—Butler.

IN 1933. Women 30 years from now will not be doing any housework, predicts Professor Ernest Groves.

However, our jazz era may have a reaction in the form of a general desire to get back to nature and the simple life.

Our backs are straight, our muscles strong. Our laughter still is just as gay. As 'twas upon our wedding day. Add yet, somehow, we've come to feel That age is very close and real.

THE WORLD AT LARGE. We have a son who goes to school! This sign post, written first with tears, Now stands to mark the passing years.

What though we shun when strangers smile, And practice little tricks of guile. To show the world we still are young, We cannot check time's tell-tale tongue.

No proud deception can detract From this sure witness to the fact, Our age is known by one fixed rule: We have a son who goes to school!

FRANCE RECOGNIZES THE RHINELAND REPUBLIC. The haste in which France has recognized the Rhineland republic points the origin of the separatist movement in the French government itself.

The separatist movement has shown every evidence of having been coached and fostered and but for the interference of the French authorities would have been promptly suppressed if it had gone so far as to have gotten under cover.

Even with the support of the French and their intercession appeared without vigor or vitality or spontaneity and was doomed to certain failure.

This Rhineland republic is an artificial thing that can't endure. It marks another step in a policy of "divide and conquer."

THE TEXAS DECLINING LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY. Texas point with pride to many facts and figures about this great state. But there is one set of figures that can't be pointed to with much feeling of satisfaction.

The number of "Many Marriages" has asked for a divorce in Reno. New York woman hit a cop's thumb. Must be had to be so heavy.

YOUR TIME. Doctors notice a steady increase in the number of men who break down between 40 and 50 years of age.

Why do so many men break down prematurely? The answer is partly that civilization is constantly becoming more complex with each year bringing more and more demands on the individual's spare time.

Each year it becomes harder for a man to carry a good living for himself and family. He goes through his workday at high nervous tension, speeded up, giving his last ounce of strength.

But so-called "social duties" crowd in. Father finds he is expected to dress up and go calling on friends. Or maybe it's to a movie. Or to a lodge.

Before he realizes, it's around midnight when he yawns into bed, exhausted, with an hour or two less for sleep than he should have. A man can stand this for a while. But in a matter of years even a strong constitution begins cracking under the strain.

Too many social duties. Too much gadding about. Too little leisure time devoted to relaxation and rest. The candle has been kept burning at both ends. Father weakens, falters, fades out prematurely.

TODAY

Valuing a Good Morning. Amusing Two Women. Roosevelt and Luther. Food and the Old Soldier.

With Germany at the point of annihilation and collapse, the allies will meet the United States to discuss reparations—the amount of money Germany can be made to pay.

It's like discussing the price that a man should bring on the home lies dying. European nations, however, have something more in mind than Germany's reparations.

Now can our remaining resources be tapped to rebuild Europe—while Europe continues to fight and build war equipment in the old way? That is the question.

The French, logical, persistent, long to time go straight on with their program for German disintegration, most important, the European market, than any amount of money.

Americans seem to enjoy shipping their surplus wheat to Europe. Americans seem to enjoy shipping their surplus wheat to Europe.

Perhaps if the United States can be brought into the affair persuaded to accept a sort of general European market and responsibility, things would be better.

THOUGHTS ON HIS GOING TO SCHOOL. Time takes his toll in various ways. And every man must leave behind Sign posts for all who come to find.

Take us today, a youthful pair Who'd pass for young folks anywhere; Our backs are straight, our muscles strong. Our laughter still is just as gay.

As 'twas upon our wedding day. Add yet, somehow, we've come to feel That age is very close and real. The world at large we cannot fool, We have a son who goes to school!

AMERICANISM. The next question is, who shall represent the United States at this conference? Mr. Pierpont Morgan has been suggested, but to send him would be hardly fair to Mr. Morgan.

It would be, if chosen, to represent the United States with complete fidelity. It might be hard for him to keep his London and Paris branches in his mind, for months at a time, and think only of his New York branch and the country surrounding it.

But you can't go out without a coat. It's cold. She glanced at her wrist watch. "Ah, that's a taxi man to come at half past four. That's the worst of not having a car. Well, we may as well get married, it's a beautiful idea, but it won't do you, Dan," she said at length.

"Nothing important," he said, dodging her eyes. "There will be if you insist on going around without an overcoat." She looked at him narrowly. "You're too generous. How are we going to be married, if you go on giving things away?"

"In generosity a fault in a husband?" she laughed. "That depends," she returned. "I'm not sure."
