Halloween Carnival Plans Discussed at P-TA Meeting

Hico Parent-Teacher Association met Monday evening, Oct. 2 in the school auditorium. Mrs. J. C. Braune, president, called the meeting to order, and Principal Jimmie Ramage voiced the opening invocation.

Members of the fourth grade class presented the room program. The students presented two skits, one pertaining to safety; the other a "Bird Space Trip." The safety program served as a reminder for Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14. Mrs. Sybil Jernigan is fourth grade teacher.

Plans were discussed for the Halloween Carnival to be held Tuesday evening, October 31. Glenn Ross is chairman of the Ways and Means committee, in charge of the carnival.

Mrs. B. C. Dayton, chairman of room mothers, will be in charge of the foods booth and may be contacted for class booths. Mrs. Braune appointed the following to a committee to suggest suitable projects for the money obtained from the Halloween Carnival: Jas. Cryer, chairman, Harold Walker and Glenn Ross.

The P-TA voted to sponsor a Cub Scout organization in Hico provided parent sponsors could be obtained. The Cub organization includes boys from 7 to 10 years of age.

Mr. O. C. Cook reported plans for Homecoming, and extended an invitation to everyone to attend. He thanked the P-TA group for cooperating with the one-way traffic in front of the school and for parking in the designated parking spaces.

Texas State Teachers Association representative Curtis H. Nixon was featured speaker. Mr. Nixon presented some of the problems schools face concerning drop-outs. He pointed out that the United States has a better average of student attendance than any other country. Mr. Nixon felt that schools needed more individual instruction with teachers working closely and showing interest in the students. He encouraged parents to cooperate and help the people connected with schools—administration, teachers, and schoolboard—rather than being fault-finders.

Room count was won by the 4th and 10th grades.

At conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

GIVE YOUR CHILD A GOOD STUDY LAMP

The school years are critical ones for your child's eyesight. Homework is hard work for young eyes. Improper light can lead to eyestrain, hindering concentration and productive study. To make sure your child's study area is properly lighted, see that the light source is shaded from the eyes and that the light is distributed evenly over the work surface. A good table lamp with a 150-watt bulb and diffusing bowl should do the job, providing the lamp is of the correct height and properly positioned. Remember, it's up to you to help protect your child's eyesight until he has the vision to do it for himself.

"TO GO OR NOT TO GO"

The Homemaking II Class conducted a Dating poll last week to find out the different views of various age levels on dating. Opinions were collected by handing out questionnaires to the 9th through 12th grade classes, and the results tabulated.

The class was divided into equal groups. Linda Flowers, Sandra Patterson, Rebecca Martin and Carolyn Doty surveyed the senior class. Nancy Davis, Lupe DaHoya and Judy Donley conducted the junior class survey. Brenda Rainwater, Liz Williams, Kathy Roberts and Vicki Poik issued the questionnaires to the sophomore class, while Bobbie Boyd, Barbara Bailey and Lavern Busby surveyed the freshman class.

The following questions were asked:

1. How old should you be before dating?
2. Do you go steady?
3. How long have you gone steady?
4. Do you believe in going steady?
5. What do you like about going steady?
6. What do you dislike about going steady?

The freshman class survey revealed that the average age for dating is 14. Only 2 out of a class of 22 did not believe in going steady. The freshman class listed the main disadvantages of going steady as "breaking up was difficult and one was too tired down."

In the sophomore class, closely related views were expressed. In the class of 25 only one boy did not believe in going steady. From the eight male class members, the survey showed that only one had ever gone steady. Several sophomore girls have been going steady for a year or more. Two years was the longest any had steady-dated, while one month the shortest period.

Five out of 22 students in the junior class are going steady. Most of the students commented that the things they liked best about going steady were the security of always having a date, building a close relationship, and a true friendship. The class also disliked several things: not being able to associate with your own friends, being ruled, or belonging to one person, and not meeting enough people.

The senior class survey revealed that only one girl and four boys go steady in a class of 22—ten girls and 12 boys. Six boys and three girls had never gone steady. Most of the senior class liked steady dating because of the security and the reassurance of knowing that they would always have a date. The main reasons for disliking steady dating, the seniors concluded, were it cost too much money, one's taken for granted, one cannot date other people, and it is hard to break up.

The Homemaking II Class stated that not only was the poll interesting but that it helped the entire high school know how each other felt concerning dating questions.

PERSONALITY PLUS

This week's personality is a senior—a great one, of course. She is very active in most school functions and puts her best foot forward. Her greatest wish, which has come true, is to be FHA president, and she also makes an excellent drum major who keeps our band on its toes. Other than her many talents, she is a very pretty senior. Her blond hair and striking blue eyes prove this. If you haven't guessed by now, it's our very own Mary Beth Martin. She truly has a personality to write about.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

Tuesday night some of the seniors went to Stephenville for a class party. They met at 6 p.m. at the school and several took their cars. After eating pizza, they enjoyed the movie "Barefoot in the Park."

SPORTS

Hico Junior high football team played their third game last Tuesday week at Evans. Hico won the game 12-6. Gaen Lindsey made both touchdowns for Hico. The Hico team was penalized on just about every other play of the game but still came through to win.

Olefin, the polypropylene fiber used on patios, at pool side and on outdoor walkways, moves indoors to cover action spots there.

The quality of being able to "take it" in all sorts of wear and weather is the reason olefin is being chosen for rough indoor wear. Olefin is soil and spot-resistant and has the essential quality of withstanding heavy wear. Also, it has low static buildup, is mildew-proof and has the lowest water absorbency level of all fibers.

Olefin originates from a petroleum product. Manufacturers say it is made largely of ethylene, propylene or other olefins that are chemically similar to common paraffin.

Although the product has been around for several years, it is one of the newest fibers on the carpeting market. When first introduced,

Haven't you said that yourself? It's pure common sense.

Fractured 'Filosophy'...

By J. Rayford Wooton

"Depression Problems"

If you are too young to remember the big depression of the 1930's then you are too young to have really lived. Those were the days when we learned to get along without any money. I did not know of any who went hungry, but we had to raise what we had to eat, and those things that cost money we learned to make for ourselves, or do without. Ninety percent of the people lived on the farm, and we were no exception.

In my farming effort, I had completely worn the harness out for my team of mules. It was a very necessary item to have harness to use the team. They provided farm power, transportation to town, and innumerable other tasks.

The one instance I experienced where rawhide is not the best material to have your harness made of happened one summer day while I was hauling wood. I drove to the woods about a mile from where we lived, and began cutting and loading the wagon with wood for cooking fuel.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By BILL McCUTCHEON

Those missing the Beef Cattle Short Course Sept. 25-27 missed some informative and interesting meetings, good refreshments, and some stimulating discussions.

A Soil and Water Conservation Supervisor Election will be held October 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Baptist Church at Fairy. The purpose is to elect a supervisor in Sub-division No. 4 of the Hamilton-Coryell SCD.

The program will not be all business. An interesting film will be shown and refreshments served. Anyone over 21 years of age owning land in this area and residing in Hamilton County is eligible to vote.

The size of next year's small grain crop may well depend upon the kind and amount of fertilizer used at planting time.

Currently soil moisture is much better in the county and proper fertilization of small grains can play an important part in turning this moisture into forage and grain.

For maximum production, use a soil test to determine fertilizer needs and fertilize at planting time, including some nitrogen especially if the crop is to be grazed.

If you have small grains up presently I would suggest checking it frequently for the presence of Fall Armyworm. I have received numerous reports that they are active in the county. I have chemical control recommendations available in my office.
