Turbulence Hits County

High winds and rain swept down on the Dickens and Afton communities Wednesday afternoon, knocking down power and phone lines.

Dickens received about one inch of rain shortly after 5 p. m. Some hail is reported to have fallen. A large tree limb was snapped from a tree on the Court House lawn and lightning struck phone wires. County Judge W. H. Hindman is reported to have received a slight electrical shock as he sat by the telephone in his office in the Court House. Phones were out of order in both Dickens and Afton at press time.

Mrs. Maurice Goodwin, East Afton, called the Texas Spur to report that a small twister had ripped off the end of her garage, about 4 p. m. The family car and the house also received some damage according to her report. She also said rain was falling. However, the Texas Spur tried to make further calls in the Afton area a short time later and all phones were reported out.

ASC Ready For Applications In Soil Bank Conservation Reserve

The ASC office is ready to receive applications for the 1959 Conservation Reserve, (feed land in Soil Bank for five or more years) according to office manager, W. W. Gunn.

Applications should be signed and received by the ASC not later than September 26, Gunn says. Any farmer interested in adding land or any new farmer who wishes to sign up land may do so until September 26. The applications are not binding.

The County committee will assign each applicant a rate of pay—after the rate of pay has been assigned, the farmer may then sign a contract if he so desires. The $5,000 limit is still in effect along with a five year minimum and a ten year maximum. No conservation reserve land can be grazed or a crop harvested therefrom Gunn stresses.

A special program concerning the Soil Bank Program will be delivered at Spur in the East Ward Auditorium, Thursday at 8 a. m. (today); in Dickens at the Court House at 8 p. m. August 22; McAdoo at the School Auditorium August 25 at 8 p. m. and at Patton Springs School in Afton on August 26, at 8 p. m. Anyone interested in the Soil Bank, or anyone who has questions concerning the Soil Bank is invited to attend one of these meetings.

Morris Middleton Gins First Bale Cotton In County

Morris Middleton, Spur Negro who farms 4 miles southwest of town, brought in the first bale of cotton ginned in Dickens County at about 6 p. m. Tuesday afternoon.

The bale is on display on the corner of Burlington and West Harris, near the Spur Security Bank.

Middleton collected $245 in premiums, and received $244 for his cotton from Massey Gin Co. He also received $26 for the seed, making the bale worth a total of $515. Jim Wyatt brought in the first bale last year on September 5. He received a check for $250 in premiums plus $200 for his cotton.

Middleton's bale came from 2,410 pounds of seed cotton. It ginned out 610 pounds of lint, leaving 1,940 in seed. The gin baled the cotton free. It was classed by Arner Watson as middling grade 29-32. Watson paid 40 cents a pound for the cotton, representing about a 7 cent premium. Middleton is reported to have another bale ready to pull.

Contributors to the premium money were the following:

Spur C of C	$100
Spur Security Bank	25
Buzbee Butane	10

West Texas Utilities 10
Gins contributing $25 each were Massey Gin, Farmers Co-op Gin, Spur Gin and Nickels Gin, Dickens

In order to be eligible, Middleton had to comply with the following rules set up by the Chamber of Commerce:

- a. Or cotton must be grown on farm from which cotton was ginned with participating gin last year.
- b. Must be grown within the area generally considered as Spur Trade Territory.

c. Must be grown during the current season.

2. Bale must weigh 450 lbs. or more.
3. Bale must be delivered to corner of Burlington and Harris Streets in Spur.
4. Bonus to be given solely to operator.

6. A gin representative from each participating area will compose the governing body to make final eligibility of first bale.

Bulldogs Begin Two-A-Day Drills For Season Opener In Abernathy

Coach Bill Henry, Head Coach at Spur High School, has returned from coaching school in Houston and reports that two-day football workouts will begin on Monday, August 25th.

There will be a meeting of all High School boys who are interested in playing football this year at the "mule barn" Saturday morning at 10 a. m. All boys are requested to see their family physician for a physical check up and should bring a certificate or notice signed by the doctor saying such examination has been completed. These notices may be turned in either Saturday morning or Monday morning.

Coach Henry, who acted as press representative for his district, reports that the consensus of the coaches was that either Slaton, Tahoka or Floydada should ride in the favorites role this year. Spur was picked to finish fourth ahead of Post.

Coach Henry reports that Tahoka probably has the edge in lettermen, but that either Slaton or Floydada could cop the district crown. He added that he hoped Spur would have a voice in determining the district title winner.

Running over the Bulldog schedule, Coach Henry states that Abernathy is rated to win their district; Anson and Hamlin are picked to finish behind Stamford in their district; Matador is picked to win their district while Quanah is supposed to have one of the most powerful teams in this area and is rated a state contender. Crosbyton has always been a strong Spur rival.

The complete schedule follows:

- Sept. 5, Abernathy, there;
- Sept. 12, Hamlin, here;
- Sept. 19, Anson, there;
- Sept. 26, Crosbyton, there;
- Oct. 3, Matador, here;
- Oct. 10, Quanah, there;
- Oct. 17, Tahoka, there;
- Oct. 24, Slaton, here;
- Oct. 31, Post, there;
- and Nov. 7, Floydada, here.

Spur drew an open date to wind up the season.

Commissioners Court Announces Resignation Of County Agent

This assistantship will involve study and research which will lead to a Master's Degree in Plant Physiology and Pathology.

In announcing Berry's resignation, J. G. Simmons, District Agent, Extension Service, and the Dickens County Commissioners court stated that Berry had made a fine contribution to agriculture and 4-H club work in Dickens County.

R. S. Conner, Assistant County Agent in Fort Bend County since February, 1956, has been appointed Dickens County Agricultural Agent to succeed Berry, according to a joint statement by J. G. Simmons, District Agent, Extension Service, and the Dickens County Commissioners Court.

Conner received a BS Degree in Animal Husbandry from Texas Technological College in 1955. He was reared on a ranch in Coryell County, and his parents are still active in ranching in that county. He was a member of the Coryell County 4-H Club.

Conner has assisted in conducting a fine Extension program in Fort Bend County. He worked with 307 4-H club boys, and also worked with cotton, grain sorghum, insect control and other phases of the Extension program.

Second Primary Election Is Set

Polls for the Second Democratic Primary will open at 8 a. m. Saturday, August 23. Polls will close at 7 p. m.

Voting Boxes will be placed in the same voting places as in the first Primary Election. West Spur will vote at Chastain Implement Co., and East Spur at the City Hall.

Interest in the election has not been running too high on a general scale. On the State level, there is one run-off, between Robert W. Hamilton, Midland County, and J. Edwin Smith, Harris County. The two men are competing for Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place No. 1. Hamilton carried Dickens County by a wide majority in the first primary, 760 to Smith's 82.

In the County precinct run-offs, Jack V. Lawson and incumbent E. J. O'Field are in the race for Commissioner, Precinct 2. Charlie Gage and Henry C. Edwards are in the run-off for Commissioner, Precinct 4.

Election officials said that they expected a light turnout, generally. However, the vote may be heavy in precincts 2 and 4 where interest in primary centered. Both precincts total around 500 voters.

Dickens County Keeps Polo Title

The Dickens County Sheriff's posse successfully defended their World Championship Palmetto Polo crown last week in a tournament held in Spur, August 15, 16 and 17.

Jim West, of the Fritch Saddle Club, was named the outstanding player of the tournament. He received a trophy and a $25 gift certificate. Guard Pee Wee Bentley of the Lubbock Rodeo Association team was named runner-up. He received a $25 gift certificate.

The Dickens County team defeated Fritch Saddle Club in the first game Friday, 11-4. In the second game, Lubbock dropped the El Reno, Okla., Wranglers, 15-5.

In the three games played Saturday, Fritch defeated El Reno 12-7; Dickens County defeated Lubbock 17-7 and Lubbock defeated Fritch 11-7.

In the final game of the tournament, Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m., Dickens County defeated Lubbock 8-7 to retain the championship.

Although attendance was reported as the best the tournament has ever had here in Spur, the total gate receipts were only $185. Referees were paid from these receipts.

Last year gate receipts were reported at about $500. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eslinger, New Smyrna Beach, Fla., were here for the tournament, sponsored by the American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs. They were honored by the sponsoring group with a luncheon at Dyess Hall Sunday.

Mrs. Eslinger originated the game of Palmetto Polo and had rules copyrighted in 1953. She stated that the players from West Texas had given a style to Palmetto Polo typical of this region, by displaying good horsemanship, hard playing and sportsmanship.

Lubbock Rodeo Association received the runnerup trophy, and Fritch Saddle Club was awarded a third place trophy. Larry Boothe announced all the games. Referees for the tournament were Crate Snider, Ropesville; Glenn Webb, Roby and Steve Blevens, San Angelo. Miss Kelley Visits On Danube; Spends Three Days In Salzburg

While in Vienna, there were two main attractions! The Blue Danube runs through the city and the famous Vienna Woods are only a few miles from the city. One hot sultry afternoon we boarded a sight-seeing boat and spent the next three hours riding down the Danube. When I think of the Danube, I think of the "Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, but Strauss must have seen it at another season of the year because the "Blue Danube" is as green as my eyes are! Really, the ride was beautiful even though 26 of us were down in a glassed boat with only one air hole! We all but smothered, to say the least! Next time I will cruise at night when it is cool and perhaps I will see the "Blue" Danube!

Strauss' Tale of the Vienna Woods is truly beautiful about a more beautiful woods. We went up on a hill in the woods and from it we could see the whole city of Vienna in the valley. But the most enchanting sight to me was when three of us took a narrow path into the woods and soon saw a little house surrounded by flowers and of course, trees (probably some rich man's summer house) but I thought how nice it would be to live in it for a while with the story book surroundings and romantic atmosphere.

From Vienna our group went to Salzburg. When I hear the word "Salzburg" I think of Mozart, the famous musician who was born there. Salzburg is a tourist town famous for its summer music festival. We spent three days in Salzburg. On Friday afternoon we went sight-seeing up to this fortress or castle at the edge of the city. The hill is so steep, that a little train goes up the side which is nearly a 45 degree angle. Three of us saw the steps that wound through the woods up to the fortress, we were feeling game, so we walked up. Honestly, I never thought I could make it. When we were nearly to the top and could hardly put one foot in front of the other, we discovered that it was easy to go backwards up a hill. The only thing is that one can't see who he is bumping into. Even though we looked rather odd, we did get to the top.

While looking around we discovered a restaurant in one part of the castle. On the program for that night "Friday" was "Austrian Folk Music." Four of us girls got one boy

Jerry Wald Produces Another Hit In Faulkner's, 'The Long, Hot Summer'

Jerry Wald's production of William Faulkner's "The Long, Hot Summer," a Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color presentation which premieres Sunday at the Palace and Hi-Ho, examines human problems and passions with a probing eye and that special sort of insight which has become a Wald trademark. The producer of the much acclaimed "Peyton Place," Wald chose a brilliant and unparalleled cast for his story of love, hate and violence in the Deep South: Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Orson Wells.

The picture is the story of the Varner family of Frenchman's Bend, Mississippi, and particularly of the effect of a brutal "strongman" on the lives of his family and their friends. This man is played by Orson Wells, as Will Varner.

Paul Newman, brilliant graduate of the famed Actor's Studio, plays the opportunistic Ben Quick and Joanne Woodward, another Actor's Studio graduate and Paul's recent bride, plays Clara Varner, an intense and troubled daughter to Will.

Filed against the lush backdrop that characterizes the South, "The Long, Hot Summer," under the supervision of and we made reservations for 8:30 p. m. That night on the way up (in the little train this time) we met a boy from Sydney, Australia. He was alone and one of our girls stayed home so we asked the Australian to join us, since he didn't have a reservation. He was the most robust fellow and a "jolly old chap" as the British would say. It turned out that at our table for eight, that the other three were English speaking since they were two Canadian women and a Chicago girl. The music was good and entertaining, but the music is not what I remember about this particular night. Something else happened!

We Americans had not eaten dinner so we were going to eat while we watched the festival. It took an hour to get a menu and then there was no one at our table to interpret for us. We could read only one word on the menu and that was "beef steak." We had eaten German beefsteak more times than we could count so we knew it was surely the safe choice! It ordinarily is ground beef cooked with onions and gravy! Very delicious! We each ordered "beefsteak." Only one thing was different! The menu said "beefsteak tartari." We didn't pay any attention to the "tartari" part. Finally the waiter came! We were all so hungry we could hear each other's stomachs growl. When our plate was put before us we were horrified! Around the edges of the plates were several onion rings containing peppers, paprika, chopped pickles, onions and German Mustard. (It is too awful smelling to taste!) Right in the middle was a big fat mound of RAW ground meat with a big RAW EGG sitting on top! We were supposed to eat that!

Well, after we got over the shock of it and discussed sending it back to be cooked, but decided it wouldn't be smart as they never would understand what we wanted, we began trying to decide to eat it! We dumped the pickles, onions, spice pepper and even the German mustard, on top of the raw egg on top of the raw meat. Then we stirred! The Britisher from Australia nearly fell out of his chair laughing, but we finally got it mixed up. It looked just like my meat loaf looks before I cook it except for the mustard. You know, it smelled very good to me. We looked at each other to see "who would be first". We each got a piece of German bread in one hand and our fork and a coke in the other and began to eat. Soon we were saying, "This isn't so bad." We commented, "This is very delicious." At the end of the hour, I discovered that with the aid of three cokes and 3 pieces of bread that I had eaten it all! We paid the bill which was enormously high, listened until the music ended and walked back to our hotel.

When I think about it now I can remember reading a book called "Mutiny on the Bounty" which was about some men who got so hungry that they ate raw fish right out of the sea—and I remember thinking "how awful." But I guess that raw fish out of the sea is not any worse than raw out of the grinder—and just think what a story I can tell every time I sit down at a table with meat loaf on it!

Farmers and motorists are warned by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council to be extra careful as they travel the highways and byways during the coming months. The Council points out that this is the season when much farm machinery must move over highways and they urge farmers to take no machinery onto a busy road unless it is properly flagged or lighted for night travel. Motorists are warned to be on the alert for slow moving farm machines. Records show that collisions between farm tractors and automobiles very often result in death for the tractor driver.

Local Farm Equipment Dealer Visits New Equipment Showing In Chicago Recently

O. L. Kelley, International Harvester dealer in Spur, was in Chicago several days last week attending an introductory showing of the new line of International Harvester tractors just off the production line.

In addition to six basic power sizes and many different models of Farmall and International tractors, Kelley saw a number of new McCormick farm implements also introduced at the company showing, attended by most of the 8,500 Harvester dealers and sales personnel in the United States and Canada.

The new line of tractors is in keeping with the trend towards larger and more productive operations, both on the farm and in industry. There are six-cylinder engines on the big tractors; advanced styling; increased power in most models; a host of new operating features; and wider selection of gasoline, LPG, distillate, or diesel engines, and new power steering on more than ever before in the history of tractor manufacturing.

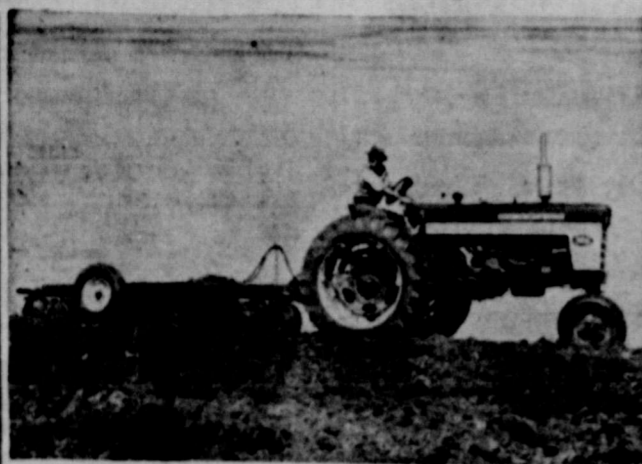

New tractors are being shipped to district III sales offices and soon can be seen in dealer show-rooms. In the meantime, Kelley announces that Edwards-Kelley will join with other Harvester dealerships and the district sales office in presenting a big public IH Field Demonstration Day to show the new tractors and equipment Saturday, August 23, near Snyder. Anyone desiring to attend the demonstrations can get complete information from Edwards-Kelley Farm Equipment Co.

After the business was completed, the group went to the home of Mrs. Roberson where Mrs. Charles Nickels joined the group and a new project was discussed and plans started. After the meeting watermelon was served in the backyard.

All cubs in Den 5 and their families are invited to an ice cream supper at the park at 7:00 p. m., Friday, August 22.

O. L. KELLEY, farm equipment dealer in Spur, recently joined approximately 8,500 dealers and company sales personnel from every part of the United States and Canada for the introductory showing of Harvester's new line of farm and commercial wheel tractors. Changes in styling and design of the new tractors is indicated by this five-pow, six-cylinder Farmall 560, largest in the line.

Teacher, Six Students Attend Tech Workshop

Mrs. George L. Stanford, faculty adviser, and six members of the 1959 La Espuela Staff are attending a workshop at Texas Tech this week. The one week session is sponsored by the Texas Tech Journalism Department and the West Texas High School Press Association.

Participating teachers and students will have practical experience in working together on high school publications problems. Special attention will be given photography, layout, design, advertising, and script writing.

Although there have been regular college courses for journalism teachers offered in past summers, this is thought to be the first course offered in this part of the nation for both teachers and students, according to W. E. Garrett of Texas Tech.

Those attending the workshop with Mrs. Stanford are Mary Ann Gregory, 1959 Editor; Ja Ann Foreman, Linda Waggoner, Johnnie Moss, Derrill Howell and Kent Morgan.

What's Kindergarten?

Kindergarten is the first year of your child's school life. When your child enters Kindergarten, he comes not to learn the 3 R's, but to build habits and share experiences which will help him learn the skills when he is old enough to do so.

In kindergarten your child learns to get along with other children and with his teacher. He will improve in physical co-ordination.

He will learn to work and play in a group and wait his turn when many want to use the same apparatus or tool.

He will learn to follow simple and reasonable directions, to share common property, and to tell about his experiences before a group.

Your child will learn to look at books, to love them, and to realize that printed words convey meanings.

He will begin to appreciate fine music and will be introduced to self expression through singing, speaking, drawing, and painting.

Your children will learn to look at books, to love them, and to realize that printed words convey meanings.

He will begin to appreciate fine music and will be introduced to self expression through singing, speaking, drawing and painting.

Kindergarten is not a "play class", because the child is engaging and developing. As he engages in dramatic play in the playhouse, he gains information about home and family. Such material forms a major part of the subject matter in the first grade readers. As he draws and hammers, or works clay, he is developing the use of arm and hand muscles which he will later use in handwriting.

In building houses or stores within the room he needs to consider size, proportion, and number, which later may make arithmetic seem more sensible.

"Play", as adults term it, is really "work" to the child. He pursues it as seriously as his daddy approaches his daily work, and his mommy her duties.

Kindergarten is an adventure for your child. It is the beginning of an exciting new phase of life... the school years.

I am limiting my class to twenty pupils. If you would like to have your child enrolled in kindergarten this year call CR2-4230. Pupils will register, Monday Sept. 1st in the kindergarten room in the Primary Building at nine o'clock.

Mrs. Dunwoody, who has taught kindergarten in Spur for the past eleven years, is moving to Kermit, to teach kindergarten there. I will take over her class in Spur. If you have registered your child with her, and wish for them to enroll in my class, please call me at CR2-4230, so that I may place them on my list.

Angeles, Calif. At 12:30 the guests were assembled in the spacious dining room of the Spur Inn. Pink and white were the predominant colors throughout the occasion. The table was lovely, centered with a profusion of varied colored snapdragons. The soft glow of the candle light was an added beauty. Attractive place cards showed the guests to their respective places. Melon cocktail, chicken omelet, Olives, potato croquettes, pickled pineapple, butter, iced tea, corn a la southern, cream peas, rolls, lemon sherbert, chocolate cake, and coffee. At the conclusion of the luncheon, Mrs. Jones showed her guests upstairs, where three tables were arranged for bridge.

Vases containing dahlias, zinnias, and marigolds were very effectively placed around the room.

At the close of the games, high score prize, a pretty hand embroidered linen guests towel, was awarded Mrs. Zachry.

Mrs. Jones' guest list included Mmes. Doug Harrison, Jack Rector, H. O. Everetts, W. L. Gibbs, Jr., Thurman Harris, Tanner, Leland Campbell, Joe Zachry, and Miss Sue Bryan of A. Stotts, Faust Collier, D. H. Lubbock.
