New Church Directory Published Last Week

A 1935 "Directory of the Church of Christ of Spur, Texas," was delivered by the Times Saturday. The book was compiled, edited and published by G. Earle Woods, local minister.
 The book is a complete directory of the Spur Church of Christ giving the motto and goal of the church, a list of ministers that have served the church, a short history of the organization over the past twenty-five years, the present church of officials and a complete list of members.
 A list of ministers who have served the church are: E. M. Borden, C. R. Nichol, Foy Wallace, Sr., F. L. Young, W. A. Schultz, J. W. Chism, Foy Wallace, Jr., W. A. Kerchville, W. E. Moore, R. C. Jones, H. P. Cooper, Wright Randolph, John T. Smith, Albert Smith and E. Earle Woods, who is serving his first year.
 The church in Spur was organized by T. A. Tidwell, J. V. McCormick and A. T. Odeneal. A tabernacle was erected which served as the meeting place a number of years, then an old school building was purchased which was used until about ten years ago when the present building was erected by the members.

 The book was published through cooperation of Spur merchants and he minister.

Washington's Madam Mayor Representative Mary Teresa Norton, of New Jersey, is "Madam Mayor" of Washington, D. C.

"Being Mayor of Washington, as the chairmanship of the District of Columbia Committee is popularly known, is a job in itself," said Mrs. Norton, as reported in The Literary Digest.
 Her life work has been in behalf of the less fortunate. She wrote $1,500,000 from the PWA for a new tuberculosis hospital for the Capital. Another achievement since she became "Mayor of Washington" was the enactment of legislation to wipe out the alley-slums. Her first outstanding act was the passage of the bill permitting the merger of Washington's two street-railway companies—a plan which had been under consideration for thirty years. She recently appointed a subcommittee to investigate crime conditions in the District, and is working for pensions for the needy blind.

DEMONSTRATORS STUDY TABLE SERVICE

To serve a company or a family meal with Family Style Table service is the simplest easiest way for the hostess and the guest to enjoy the meal, the farm food supply demonstrators learned in a meeting of that group at the home of the home demonstration agent Saturday. At this meeting the women drew for places at the table and then served a meal where all the food except the dessert were on the table when the guests were seated. Later the hostess and son removed the plates and served the dessert.

The Farm Food Supply demonstrators will give a similar demonstration in their clubs in May in the program on serving leafy vegetables.

Demonstrators present were: Mrs. Wylie Ball, Espuela; Mrs. R. C. Alexander, Prairie Chapel; Mrs. John Bachman, Soldier Mound; Mrs. Frank Orbis, Chandler; Mrs. G. E. Kissinger, Friendship Club; Others present were Mrs. R. C. Crockett, Mrs. L. Hagins, Mrs. Clark Forbis, Mrs. Paul Braddock, Mrs. Vaughn White, and Mrs. Donnie Pace.

CLUB MEMBER DOES WELL WITH CHICKENS

"We raised 194 chickens from the 198 we received February 6. The temperature of the brooder house was too low the first night or we probably would never have lost any. Common sense, good feed, pure water, and clean quarters mean dollars in the pocket when growing chickens," says Mrs. J. L. Hagins of the Duck Creek Home Demonstration club.

"The temperature should be 90 to 95 degrees for the first week; then lower 5 degrees weekly until the temperature is 70 degrees. The brooder house should be kept the same temperature day and night. The thermometer should be on the floor about two and a half feet from the brooder so that you know the temperature where the chicks stay."

"Two thirds of the floor of our brooder house is covered with hardware cloth tacked on 1 x 4's set edge-ways. This makes it easy to keep the house clean. Sharp sand covered the remainder of the floor. The cleaner the house is kept the healthier the chicks will be. The water fountains were washed and scalded every day."

"Our chickens weighed 1 1/4 pounds when six weeks old and 2 1/2 when two months old. Of course they were of good stock for we paid fifteen cents for the chicks. There aren't any culls among the 94 pullets and we are keeping all of them for layers this fall. We have sold the 100 roosters as fryers, except a dozen we kept for our own use, for 40 and 50 cents. The money received from the sale of the roosters has more than paid for the feed for all of them. The value of the pullets, we would not sell them for 75c each, is more than double our original investment so we feel that it has been worth the while to raise them. After a few weeks laying this fall the pullets should clear their feed bill from now until then and their first cost."

GIRL MAKES SLIP BY HAND

Carolina Ornelas, 13 year old member of the Espuela 4-H Club, is not going to let a little thing like the lack of a sewing machine to use, keep her from achieving the goals in clothing work. Carolina has completed her collar and slip making both articles by hand. Her stitches are neat and even and the slip is as well made as if it had been stitched on the machine. She plans to start her school dress, the last goal in the clothing program right away so she will have it completed for the club style show.

"I made two dresses by hand last summer," she smilingly reported.

Carolina has two brothers and her mother does much of their sewing by hand.

CLUB HAS COTTON PROGRAM

"After hearing this program on the cotton situation in the leading cotton producing counties of the world and learning that foreign countries can not quickly increase their cotton acreage as we decreased ours, I don't believe we need to fear the foreign countries taking the cotton supremacy from the United States," said Mrs. Paul Braddock in the meeting of the Prairie Chapel home demonstration club Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Alexander.

Final plans were made for the social for Saturday evening when the members whose birthday comes during the first six months will be entertained by the others. This meeting will be at Mrs. T. D. Hales.

Members present were Mrs. Vaughn White, Mrs. C. W. Van Cleve, Mrs. F. Alexander, Mrs. R. C. Alexander, Mrs. Paul Braddock, Mrs. Johnnie Hale and Mrs. Leslie Peak.

Affairs Of The Southwest

(By Col. Clarence Ousley) C. O. Moser of Texas, who rose to national prominence during the development of co-operative marketing by farmers is now president of the Institute of American Fats and Oils which is an agency of information and education in promotion of the larger use of American fats and oils in food products. It is sustained by organizations of livestock producers, organizations of cotton farmers and manufacturers of oleomargarine who have a common interest in the objectives of the institute.

Livestock producers and cotton farmers especially have reason to appreciate the excellent work he is doing in this new field. College trained in dairy husbandry, experienced in practical and successful breeding of livestock, with demonstrated ability of leadership first in college extension work and later in farm organization, he brings to his new venture a seasoned mind which enlightens and persuades all amenable to reason. He is doing much to dispel the prejudice which long has persisted against the use of margarine as a table spread, to compose the strife between classes of producers of fats and oils and to increase consumption of American fats and oils and thereby enhance their value to producers.

His latest outgiving is a letter to Chester C. Davis administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, in which he recites facts in support of the bills introduced in Congress by Representative Kleberg, one to discourage by taxation the use of foreign fats and oils in margarine and the other to fix the fat standard of the product. An all-embracing reason is a statement by Congressman Kleberg that "we must determine as a national policy whether we are going to give the American farmers preferential consideration in the domestic market or whether we will give that consideration to oriental producers."

This is nationalism of a sort, but it is the nationalism that underlies the whole theory and practice of tariff protection to American industry, and it is in keeping with the theory and practice of the emergency measures for agricultural adjustment.

Some Telling Facts

Some telling facts are cited which should appeal to the practically minded. Here are examples: "American fats and oils are essentially food fats. If consumed as such they yield a higher return to the producers than when they are forced into incredible channels. Beef fats do not store well, hence are forced into the soap kettle unless there is a ready and effective demand for them in the food industry. The difference between the current price of beef fats in the form of oleo oil, when used in the manufacture of margarine, or when used as soap stock is at present approximately 7c per pound, making a difference of $2 to $3.50 per head in the value of a 1,000 pound steer." The case of cotton seed is presented in a striking chart from which says Moser, "you will observe the value of cotton oil in cotton seed represents about 60 per cent, while cotton seed represents about 20.4 per cent of the value of the entire crop. Stating it another way, an increase of 1 cent per pound in the price of cotton oil increases the value of the seed $3 per ton. During the last year the increased value of seed as the result of the improved price of cotton oil is responsible for $20 to $25 per ton increased value of seed.

Equally impressive are authoritative statements from numerous experts and health officials in support of the wholesomeness of oleomargarine. For example the United States Department of Agriculture declares "Except for the fat soluble A, there is no difference in the food value of different kinds of fat. All yield equal amounts of energy and are digested with practically the same ease and completeness." Dr. Walter E. Eddy of Columbia U. an eminent authority on nutrition, makes substantially the same statement and specifically commends oleomargarine as an acceptable table spread for those who can not afford to use butter.

Need For More Fats The need for more fats in consumption is shown on the testimony of the health authorities to the effect the average adult should consume 36 pounds of fat a year, while American consumption in 1933 was only 13.3 pounds of butter and 1.7 pounds of margarine. Last year we consumed 8,000,000 pounds of butter more than we produced hence the deficiency in our butter supply requires the supplement of margarine.

Moreover, the United States Department of Labor estimates 42 per cent of our population is living below the poverty line and is able to buy only the most essential foods. They can not afford dairy butter and if they could there is not enough to go around even upon our present inadequate rate of consumption. Therefore the increased use of oleomargarine is not only demanded for the sustenance of underprivileged but its consumption can be increased without competing with butter. As Moser says:

"There is no greater delusion than the idea of some butter producers that the expanded margarine industry would be at the expense of the consumption of butter. Practically all northern European countries in the same latitude as our own consume larger quantities of butter than we do, while at the same time they consume from four to 25 times as much margarine. The obvious explanation is that those who have the money to buy butter continue to do so, while those unable to buy butter supply their needs in the way indicated."

It is high time we composed the quarrel between butter and oleomargarine and addressed our energies to providing an ample supply of wholesome fats and educated the people in the use of them for the sake of their own health and for the benefit of our agricultural producers.

SMITTY'S CLEANERS

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and good for nothing. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our life juice can't digest it. What is the life juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 1/2 of our food decays in our 23 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes. When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whelped pup, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the liver of your life juice. Don't let "bad breath" be suffered by you, don't buy it, but it may be a colored (temporary) pill, which doesn't taste, gripes and sends the medicine in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you get. See 4-54. ©1934, C.L.C.

Washington News Letter

Congressman George Mahon last week called on Secretary Ickes of the Department of Interior for an allotment of $100,000 from the public works appropriation for making a survey of the Underground Water Resources of the high plains region. These funds would be used by the Geological Survey in completing the work on this problem, a preliminary survey having been made last year. This preliminary report indicated some doubt as to the presence of sufficient underground water for extensive irrigation over a wide area.

He also conferred with Dr. Mead of the Bureau of Reclamation in an effort to secure funds for making irrigation loans to individual farmers. Mr. Mahon has already secured an interpretation from the Federal Housing Administration officials that would allow that agency to insure loans made by local bankers for this purpose. Dr. Mead is of the opinion that loans may be made possible through an allocation of funds from the Public Works Appropriation. However, nothing definite may be determined at this time because the President has not announced his plans for administering the new appropriation.

In discussing this problem Mr. Mahon said: "I believe that the two greatest natural resources of West Texas are its soil and its water supply. With a record of the extent of this water supply that would prevent exploitation, and with a properly directed irrigation program, conservation of the soil resources would be possible, and West Texas could look forward to a more stable prosperity."

Mrs. Jim Cloud was visiting relatives in Post the last of the week. Dudley Wooten, student at Texas Tech, spent the week end at McAdoo with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wooten and visiting friends in Spur.

Mr. and Mrs. Koonsman will make their home East of Dickens.

T. Crop suffered the loss of a thumb last week while assisting in the drilling of a well on the Bud Morrison ranch. He is feeling much better and the wound is beginning to heal.
