

Bulldogs To Meet Matador Friday

The Spur Bulldogs will meet the hard fighting team at Matador on the Matador field Friday (tomorrow) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This is expected to be another very hard fought battle as Matador has been showing up in fine condition. Last Friday Matador played at Plainview against Plainview High School, a class A team, and held Plainview to only 12 points. Matador made 7 points off Plainview. That signifies air-tight playing when any class B team can sold a class A team to that kind of game.

The battle at Matador tomorrow afternoon between the Bulldogs and Matador is going to be a high one. In all probability Spur will have one of their hardest games at Matador as the Matador team has made great gains the past two weeks.

Coch Wadzeck reports that the Bulldogs are in good condition at this time and will put up a strong fight to win the game. The starting lineup will be about as it has been in other games with the exception that probably Billy Hahn will be in the starting line-up.

The only undefeated teams in District 4B at this time are Lockney, Floydada, Paducah and Spur. The schedule for this week of games to be played are:

Lockney at Floydada, conference. Paducah at Wellington, non-conf. Spur at Matador, conference.

After Friday there will probably be not more than three undefeated teams left in the district, and the number could be cut to two teams.

The Bulldogs want the people of Spur and Spur school district to go with them to Matador Friday afternoon and help them win the game. The pep squad and the Spur school band will accompany the team, and it is hoped that many others will go along. No one knows just how strong Matador is and it is going to take much boosting to help the Bulldogs. Let's go with them and see them through.

Bryant-Link Co. Improving Store

The large department store of Bryant-Link Company is going on the improvement line this week. The front awning is getting a new coat of paint of that Sherwin-Williams type that makes it look very beautiful. J. R. (Red) Laine is doing the work and he knows how to do it.

The shoe department has received a new lighting system which adds greatly to its appearance. The lights are of an indirect type which makes them soft and even all over that section of the store.

The front of the new implement department has been worked over. The door on the north has been enlarged, and new face brick have been put in. The awning at this part of the building has been newly painted which makes the front very attractive.

A fine display of implements such as tractors, gang plows, disc plows and grain drills may be found in the display room. Also, a system of shelves have been arranged for implement parts and a complete line of parts have been installed.

LADIES TO CONDUCT ANOTHER RUMMAGE SALE

The ladies of the Home Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church of Spur will conduct another rummage sale next Saturday, Oct. 16, in the Love Building just south of Sanders-Chastain Pharmacy. The sale will be conducted about as it was last Saturday with a great number of articles to select from. Your patronage will be appreciated.

Spur Ginners Report

The heavy rains the past several days has put a check to the cotton picking. Indications are that the weather will clear up within a few days and work will be resumed.

There has been 3972 bales of the present crop ginned in Spur according to reports turned in at noon Wednesday by the different gins. Cotton was slow on the market, selling at around $7.75 middling basis. Seed was bringing $17 per ton.

True Value Week At Riter Hardware Company Is Success

Mr. John King of Riter Hardware store tells us that so far National True Value Week has been more successful than his greatest expectations. He contributes it to the fact that people in this community recognize a bargain when they see one.

Riter Hardware is one of the hundreds throughout the nation that is participating in this tremendous selling event. The wide spread cooperative effort of these stores is backed by the huge buying power of one of the world's largest hardware wholesale houses.

Months have been spent selecting articles for this sale in order that the people of this community might profit by the quality of these offerings at such special exceptionally low prices.

Mr. King urges you to check over your needs and visit his store at once inasmuch as True Value Week lasts only until Saturday night, Oct. 16.

Local Grange Met Monday Night

The local chapter of National Grange held their regular meeting at the East Ward school auditorium Monday evening. There was a good attendance although the weather was very unfavorable. Mr. Gaultrap, a national worker, was present and explained much of the ritualistic points of the chapter.

A membership and nominations committee was appointed. This committee is composed of Chapel Reese, G. J. Lane and Cecil Ayers. The committee is outlining a membership campaign and it is hoped that many farmers in the community will go into the organization.

There is another meeting called for next Monday night. There seems to be some unfinished business to be attended to at that time. All farmers should be present. The time is 7:30 o'clock.

Another meeting will be held Monday night, October 25. At that time all officer will be installed. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological College, will address the meeting. Dr. Knapp is much interested in farmers organizing and cooperating for their own benefit. He will bring out some good points, and the people are invited to be present.

RECITAL IN PIANO TONIGHT

Miss Crystelle Scudder, teacher of piano in Spur schools, will present her pupils in recital at the East Ward auditorium tonight (Thursday). The program will start about eight o'clock and will be a very interesting program.

Miss Scudder is doing very fine work in her department this year, and she is adequately capable of taking care of all the work. The following is the program outline for this evening's program.

THINKS IT'S WORTH THE MONEY

At least one student at Texas Technological College is sold on the benefits of the annual physical examination required of every registrant. Homer Harold Hanna, freshman engineering student from Breckenridge, reporting for physical examination at the Lubbock sanitarium, explained he had been "hard of hearing" since he was a small child.

Probing by the examining physician disclosed a wad of cotton as large as the end of a foundation pen lodged tightly against the drum of each ear. The youth's hearing was fully restored with the removal of the cotton. A similar obstruction of cotton was found in another boy's ear.

Examination of over three thousand students resulted in the finding of a long black bug in a young lady's ear where it had been lodged for 6 or 8 months, a glass bead in a boy's ear, a piece of crayola from another boy's ear, and a piece of lead from a pencil in another boy's ear.

In addition to these articles taken from the ears of Tech students an assorted collection of beans, peas, cottonseed, and other particles add to the extensive exhibit. Doctors explained that very often when children have an earache parents may place a piece of cotton in the ear and forget to take it out.

CITY JAMMED SATURDAY FALL TRADING BEGINS

The business district of Spur was crowded throughout the day last Saturday as people from the Spur trade territory thronged the street making fall purchases.

Reports from merchants indicate the best business since the last Christmas buying rush. The crowd, mostly rural people, started coming early in the morning and continued until late afternoon. Many coming in Saturday night.

The crowd was not merely sight-seeing, they were buying things they seemed to need.

"People are buying more and better grade of goods than they have bought in a number of years," declared a leading merchant Monday.

To meet the expected demand retailers have stocked their stores with a large variety of merchandise, and anticipating the fall business to run well past the first of the year.

The cotton crop is good this fall, and the pickers are free spenders, purchasing needed supplies. Now is the proper time for retail merchants to offer special inducements to the buying public and there is no better way than the columns of your local paper.

Contract Highway 18 Now Completed

Dickens County has another paved highway entirely across it now. The final finishing touches on Highway No. 18 from Spur east to the Kent County line were completed Saturday morning and the road was opened to the public. This is a very fine road, smooth, broad and on good grade. It is a piece of highway that has been needed to be paved for a long time and the traveling public will be glad of this work being completed.

The work on Highway 18 in Kent and Stoneall counties is progressing nicely and it will not be long until the public will have a fine road through to Stamford. The highway in Stoneall and Kent counties have only the first and second sections of construction work on it. The paving program is expected to be contracted sometime in 1938.

A "One-Variety" cotton committee from McAdoo, headed by J. Walter Grist, vocational agriculture teacher, and including R. C. Nickels, Earl Van Meter, R. R. Wooten and Chas. McLaughlin, visited the Anderson Clayton breeding farms at Aiken Monday, Oct. 4. The purpose of the visit was to obtain information which would be helpful in the selection of a "one-variety" cotton for the McAdoo community.

The committee, after looking over the several different varieties of cotton which are on the breeding farm, then interviewed the manager of the company's cotton oil mill at Plainview relative to securing a sufficient quantity of planting seed.

Kent County Fair Boosters Visited Here Last Week

A number of cars loaded with boosters from Jayton came to Spur last Thursday to let the people up here know that Jayton was having a fair Friday and Saturday. The boosters were accompanied by the Jayton band who played several numbers, while circulars were being distributed, reminding folks that they were expecting them to come down and help make their fair a success.

From reports the fair was a success having big crowds both days and able speakers on the program as well as a good feed Saturday, consisting of barbecue and everything that went with it.

Local FFA Chapter Holds Meeting

The local chapter of FFA held a meeting Tuesday morning in the agricultural department of the Spur high school at 11:30 o'clock. About the first thing the members did was to plan a fine barbecue to be held in the near future. Another decision was that members will secure khaki shirts with the FFA emblem on them.

The boys are starting to feed out some pigs as projects. Their aim is to get the pigs ready for the spring livestock shows and for early spring markets.

The agriculture classes expect to place several sheep on feed within the next two weeks. Most of the sows and gilt at this time are grades, but there will be some pure bred animals placed into projects as early as possible. Mr. Ayer is new to the field here and the boys have not been working with him long enough to get a number of projects started yet.

The agriculture classes are taking their first term examinations this week. Quite a lot of lecture and review work will follow and the knotty problems will be explained again.

Meeting Whole Farm Demonstrators Tues.

The whole farm demonstrators of the county held a meeting in Dickens Tuesday afternoon. In explaining what it meant by a "Whole Farm" demonstrator, County Agent Lane said that in this work everything relative to the farm is to be included in this work, beginning at the front gate of the farm and going over the whole farm. The purpose of the work is to have one farm in each community that might be exemplary for that particular community.

At the meeting were K. J. Edwards, district agriculture agent; S. A. McMillan, Farm and Ranch economist; E. M. Regenbrecht, swine specialist; all of the extension department at College Station. In addition to these County Agent Lane and Miss Day, county home demonstrator, sat in at the meeting.

Mr. McMillan was in charge of the meeting and made a very practical talk. He described the work and what it is intended to do, outlined the procedure, describe how to take inventory, to keep the expense accounts and other features of the work. It seems that few farm owners or farm managers ever take time to check up on their work. The purpose of Mr. McMillan's talk was to get them interested in this part of the farm projects.

A number of the whole farm community demonstrators were present.

The whole farm community demonstrators are: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Wooten of McAdoo, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Sharp of Dickens, and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Forbis of Chandler community.

Since the work includes both farm projects and home activities of improvement, a man and his wife are selected as demonstrators. There is a demonstrator in each of the four commissioners precincts.

Grass Cover Best Control

Experiment stations throughout the country have found that a good cover of grass affords the best erosion control to be obtained in West Texas. Information released from the Texas sub-experiment station here shows that over a period of years soil losses from land planted in cotton were 3.3 times as much as from land covered with buffalo grass. On the federal experiment station at Guthrie, Okla., measurements made during four rains indicate that it would take 2,595 years for land with a 7.7 per cent slope covered with Bermuda grass to lose as much soil as was lost in one year from similar land planted in cotton.

Turkey Enterprise Gets New Boss

According to a report in the Crosbyton Review of last week, Hubert Curry took over the reins of directing the news string and general management of the Turkey Enterprise. He is a son of Editor and Mrs. W. M. Curry, of the Crosbyton Review, and according to his father's own statement the young man has been in a newspaper shop since he was one year old, at which age he spent his time in a box while his mother worked the brayer over a G. Washington hand press as his father run the press.

For the past seven years Young Curry has been operator and feature writer for the Crosbyton Review, and his string of news each week has drawn quite a lot of comment from his home people and from various newspaper men all over this section of Texas.

This is Mr. Curry's first experience at managing a newspaper, but we are willing to pledge our hat that he will give Turkey a good sheet and the people of that hustling little city will be proud of him. The Enterprise is owned by Willis Walker who was in charge of it for several years. Just what he expects to do has not been revealed but probably his hardest task will be to keep out of the shop while the paper is in progress of being produced.

Here is wishing the best of luck to the owner, to the new editor and to the people of Turkey.

Gerald Mann Refuses Position

By Walter C. Hornaday
When Gerald C. Mann was offered a Dallas County judgeship this week by Gov. James V. Allred he faced a difficult decision.

Here was a position of honor paying $7,500 a year that a young man of 30 could have had by merely saying yes. He had not asked for it and, in fact, had previously stated he was not interested.

On the other hand, was the possibility of being elected Attorney General next year, after long months of hard campaigning. The judgeship was a certainty until Jan. 1, 1939. Mann would have had to run for election next year, but there was no reason to believe he would not have won. The Attorney General's office is distinctly a gamble.

Mann's decision was reached after through consideration and conversations with a number of friends. It was similar to situations that faced him many times when he was playing quarterback for Southern Methodist University. He evidently decided in favor of the hazard of a long pass and a score that would win the game to playing safe and coming off with a tie score.

Friends of Mann says he would not have been content to remain on the District Judge's bench more than one elective term. His ambition is to be Attorney General. If he had taken the judgeship he would have been a candidate in 1942 for the State office.

The Dallas attorney has been working for more than a year in his campaign for Attorney General. He has a skeleton organization in almost every county. He has made many speeches, supposedly nonpolitical but all useful in establishing contacts. Most of this work would have been lost if he had gone on the bench. His present supporters would have turned to other candidates and if later ran for Attorney General he would have to start his organization over again.

Incidentally, Governor Allred first offered Mann the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals place, but Mann was ineligible not having practiced law the required seven years.

The suspicion has been aroused that Allred, in offering Mann the judgeship, had in mind helping not only Mann, but other friends. There are four men in the Attorney General's race who are close to the Governor—Mann, Speaker of the House Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro, District Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin and Everett Looney of Austin. Mann's withdrawal undoubtedly would have helped Calvert, Yarborough and Looney by tossing votes that will go to Mann into their laps in Dallas County, however, Lieut.

Trench Silos Prove Valuable In N. W. Texas

Northwest Texas farmers declare injured from dust and old age as is safe from danger of fire, weevils and rats, and that the feeding value is not injured from dust and old age as is the case of feed stored in barns or stacked in the open. They are demonstrating their belief by refilling old trench silos and digging new ones, according to county agriculture agents in the territory.

All of the 70 silos filled last year in Childress county that have been opened and fed out this year brought a profit to the owners. Those that were not opened have been inspected and were found in perfect condition. These silos had a capacity of approximately 10,000 tons. The silos that were emptied this year have either been refilled or will be filled this fall. More than 10 new silos have been dug, and indications are that there will be more than 200 trench silos in the county before the year is over.

T. W. Gabbert of Crosby county has filled two 250-ton trench silos this month. He plans to feed 100 steers this fall. "One-hundred acres of feed put in a trench silo is worth as much as 200 acres dry. I have been feeding ensilage for 20 years and I would not try to feed cattle for the market on dry feed," he says.

Nine trench silos with a total capacity of 1,800 tons have been filled during this month by five farmers and ranchmen in Stonewall county. The smallest holds 40 tons and was filled by Tom Speck. The largest holds 400 tons and was filled by Houston Ward. Last year, Ward stored approximately 400 tons of ensilage in an upright silo and a trench silo. This year he has filled these and also three new trench silos. He has stored a total of 1,450 tons.

Now is the time to fill your trench silo while the feed products are green as they will hold their lusciousness and protein value until used.

We are getting out a new brand of feed.—W. M. Hazel. 1tc

Gov. Walter Woodull probably would have been helped more than any other candidate by Mann's withdrawal.

Belief is growing that Woodull faces a difficult assignment in winning out over the four young men mentioned, and other expected to enter. Observers recall that Edgar E. Witt of Waco was highly popular with the voters as a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, but failed to meet a responsive chord when he was a candidate for Governor. Observers figure at this stage that Woodull will be in a runoff with either Mann, Calvert, Yarborough or Looney.

Friends of Gerald Mann have picked a slogan for him. They say "Mann's the man."—Dallas Journal.

KARL A. CROWLEY,
For Governor

Increasing discussion is being heard throughout Texas of the possibility that Karl Crowley of Fort Worth may enter the race for Governor of Texas in the 1938 Democratic Primaries.

One of the original Roosevelt men in Texas, Mr. Crowley was active in swinging the Texas delegation for President Roosevelt, at Chicago in

Good Roads Cause Bad Water

Increased use of tar on roads throughout the country is causing the water supplies of hundreds of cities to take on objectionable tastes and odors, reports the American Institute of Sanitation. Road tar contains small amounts of phenolic chemicals which are reached out by the rain and carried along to the lakes, rivers and reservoirs from which cities obtain their water supplies.

The chemicals washed out from tarred roads by the rain are usually present in very small amounts and ordinarily are unnoticeable to the taste. But when the water is chlorinated the phenolic substances are turned into pungent compounds having a pronounced medicinal taste. Just a few drops of the phenolic leachings from tarred roads will render a million gallons of water undrinkable after chlorination. Since a majority of cities chlorinate their water to remove harmful bacteria, and since thousands of miles of roads in this country are being tarred each year, continues the institute, the problem of medicine tastes developing in water supplies is very common. Chlorination also emphasizes the various other disflavors in water caused by algae, industrial wastes, etc.

Fortunately it is now possible to remove the objectionable tastes and odors in public water supplies that arise from tarred roads and other causes, says the institute. Scientists have perfected a remarkable purifier, activated carbon, which takes out such disflavors in water. Its action is not chemical, but mechanical like a magnet, attracting and holding the undesirable tastes and odors. It does not dissolve in the water and adds nothing to it. More than 1000 cities in the United States are now using activated carbon to keep their water sparkling, sweet and palatable, and the use of the substance is extending to Europe. The cost of safeguarding the palatability of a city's water supply is very small, amounting to only about 3 cents per capita per year.

We invite you to try our crusher and mill.—W. M. Hazel. 1tc

The patrons of the Girard School as well as the children have demonstrated much interest in the local school programs. Between four and five hundred people attended the Friday night and with the ticket sales of the week the total weekly revenue amounted to $93.10 which makes a total of $145.95 all of which has been credited to the transportation fund of the Girard School. So far the Legislature of the State of Texas has appropriated only 45 per cent of the amount needed to maintain the transportation of the schools of Texas. This is not a local problem. All schools share alike in transportation aid and all are confronted with the same deficiency.

The program for Friday night will be "The Return of Casey Jones" with a three reel comedy, a cartoon and the Girard News reel. The program in the gymnasium will begin promptly at 7:30 and in the auditorium at 7:45. All of the buses will run in time to reach the school ground at 7:30 P. M. There will be 15 minutes of boxing in the gymnasium which will enable both shows to get through at the same time.

We appreciate your support of our programs and will do our best to entertain you. Thanks—Girard School Board.

SIXTEEN VARIETIES OF SHRUBS GROWING IN YARD

"I have sixteen varieties of shrubs growing in my yard, and sixteen shade trees, all of which were planted in the spring," said Mrs. Leonard Joplin, of the Soldier Mound community. "None of these shrubs or trees have had any water except the rains, but I have managed to keep them alive and growing by keeping the ground around them thoroughly mulched and pulverized. This helps to retain the moisture in the ground and gives the plants a chance to absorb it."

the west and north sides of her yard by planting a thick row of salt cedars. The Chinese elms, which were small shoots in the spring, have now reached a growth of from four to five feet. Mrs. Joplin also has an annual bed with eight annuals that have bloomed during the summer and fall. Planting the yard to Bermuda grass is the next step in the improvement of this yard, and this Mrs. Joplin has already begun.

YARD DEMONSTRATION PROVES SATISFACTORY

"My greatest achievement from the yard improvement demonstration is that I have learned what to do and can have the satisfaction of seeing results from my efforts," Mrs. Fred Arrington of Dickens told her co-operators at her yard achievement event last week.

Mrs. Arrington's yard, with its well-sodden lawn, the foundation shrubs, the trees, and flowers, is a tribute to the fact that careful planning and study preceded the actual labor of landscaping it.

The method of watering trees and shrubs is one of the most important factors in the success of growing them, continued Mrs. Arrington, "and it does not mean that there must be a lot of water. When shrubs and trees are watered, they should be thoroughly soaked — not just sprinkled — and then used as soon as possible, the ground around them should be mulched. This mulching, or loosening of the soil, is very important in keeping the water from evaporating, and it helps form good strong roots."

How Is Your Cotton Grading?

According to a report release last Saturday by the U. S. department of agriculture on District No. 3 in which Dickens County is located, reveals some good information. The class of staple and the type of grades for cotton in this section should be of interest to the farmers in the 35 counties included. While cotton grades and staple are running a little higher than the state as a whole, yet it is under that of District No. 4 which includes the Plains counties just west of us. District No. 3 extends from Shackelford and Wichita counties on the East to the Plains territory and from Wheeler County on the north to Runtels County on the south inclusive.

The following is a list of grades and the percentage of each on the basis of 100 per cent:

Extra White	00
White G. M. and above	3.4
White S. M.	32.6
White Middling	19.1
White S. L. M.	4.1
White L. M.	.8
White S. G. O. and G. O.	.1
Spotted G. M.	3.2
Spotted S. M.	25.9
Spotted Middling	9.0
Spotted S. L. M. and L. M.	1.7
Tinged Stained and Gray	1.1

It will be observed that this district has practically every grade of cotton in it except the extreme best. However, all cotton in the district grades.

Relative to staple classes, the following list is given:
Shorter than 7-818.8 per cent

7-8 and 29-32	63.8
15-16 and 31-32	16.3
1 inch and 1 1-32	1.0
1 1-16 and 1 3-32	.1

The cotton varies in different sections caused by climate and rainfall and also methods of harvesting. If the cotton in Dickens County is not grading up to the classes and grades given above, it might be well for the farmers to find out why. Probably if the condition could not be remedied this year, that it might be made better by another year.

Game and Fish Laws Numerous in Texas

A sportsman so inclined wouldn't have much trouble landing in jail in Texas.

In addition to the general laws applicable to the entire state, there are 145 applications of special county laws on game, fish and trapping, according to a compilation made today by J. G. Burr, director of research of the Texas game, fish and oyster commission.

"That doesn't mean there are 545 separate county laws; one special law may be applicable to several counties. But the applications are the same as laws, so that there are 545 ways of getting in jail, not including the general laws," Burr explained.

There are 212 applications of local laws affecting game, including 20 on squirrels, 20 on quails, 64 on turkeys, 121 on deer and nine on doves, Burr said. A total of 218 applications of local laws affect fresh water fishing, two affect the taking of oysters and 97 govern trapping.

Virtually all of the state's special county laws have been passed since 1925, Burr said. In that year there were no special laws and only seven relating to fish. Most of the present special laws have been passed since 1930. The last regular and special sessions of the legislature contributed 47 special county laws relating to game and fish and one general trapping law.

Many of the special county laws provide closed seasons for various species. Four counties have closed seasons on doves, 15 on quails, 45 on wild turkey, 54 on deer and 57 on foxes.

The game commission, under present statutes, does not have power to regulate open seasons on any species except ducks and geese.

Fair Ass'n. Help Farmer-Laborers

LUBBOCK, Oct. 12.—In order to overcome the difficulties South Plains farmers have had in securing cotton pickers, the officials of the Panhandle South Plains Fair Association have announced a plan whereby both cotton pickers and farmers will be saved considerable trouble and expense.

Working in cooperation with the farm labor division of the department of labor, association officials sent out an announcement to farmers to come to the fair grounds in Lubbock, the concentration point, where farm labor division agents will be stationed to assist in securing the needed labor and dispatching it at once to the farm. Cotton pickers in this section have been notified of this plan, and already quite a number are camped on the grounds. Here the farmer will be able to contact the pickers and hire them, and if additional ones are needed the farm labor division agents will be on hand to attend to the securing of the needed labor.

This plan should prove valuable to the busy farmer, saving him the time of hunting the labor and the expense of traveling to another section of the country in order to secure sufficient help. Fair association officials want to make it plain that this applies to farmers throughout the entire South Plains counties, and not only to Lubbock County.

Happenings Around The School Buildings

Pupils and teachers at the East school are very busy this week preparing reports on the work for the past six weeks. This is the close of the first six weeks term and parent will know within a few days how their children have done in school up until now.

There have been five new pupils enrolled in the East Ward this week. This brings the number on the active roll up to 280.

Work is progressing nicely in regard to the interscholastic league programs. Quite a lot of ability is being demonstrated on the part of many pupils in regard to story telling.

Grammar School. Pupils at the grammar school are taking their tests on the work they have done the past six weeks. One little girl remarked that "you can tell the world these tests are plenty hard." Probably she waited too long to start in on them.

A number of pupils in the grammar school are complaining about the leaks in the roof of the building. Especially did a complaint come from the band members since they have just received some improvements made on the band room and the water leaked through two stories to stain the nice white ceiling on the band room. Probably the school board will do something about the roof on the grammar school building as there are a number of leaks in it.

High School. The first term examinations are in full swing at the high school. No pupils are excused from term examinations. Report cards will be sent out next week for inspection by parents.

The junior class and speech department have purchased a new popcorn popper and will sell popcorn at the schools and at the various school games including the football games. Miss Vera Jo Dane enrolled this week as a member of the sophomore class. Miss Dane is a former student of Spur schools.

The FFA, the Artaban Club and the Rowel staff held meetings Tuesday from 11:30 o'clock, until 12:00 o'clock noon. All other students reported to home rooms for interesting programs. According to information received this week Miss Billie Burk Hisey has been enrolled as a student in the Corpus Christi junior college. A transcript of her work in Spur high school was sent to the Corpus Christi school Wednesday. Miss Hisey is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hisey and was a prominent student in Spur schools.

About one-third of the high school students were out of school Tuesday on account of the heavy rains which prevented school buses from making their routes. Both attendance and interest have been excellent up until this time.

A faculty committee composed of Miss Thelma Logan, Mrs. O. M. McGinty and David Sisto are working out a new form of report cards. There will be some changes made this year in the methods of reports.

Fletcher Ballard, a member of the sophomore class, left for Dallas Tuesday where he will enter a hospital for treatment of his arm which has been giving him trouble for sometime.

Four new megaphones have been received by the pep squad to be used by their leaders. Another megaphone of larger type has been ordered to be used by the announcer at the football games.

To keep your engine running smoothly, the oil you use must really do a job! Must cling to metal like the paper on the wall. Must supply a friction-fighting film that is tougher than tough.

That's where Phillips 66 Motor Oil comes in. It has high-degree oiliness. Its heat-resistant film does not thin out or squeeze out. It stays put in the bearings and on all moving surfaces. Stands up amazingly. Lasts longer. Holds your oil level high. All because it is specially refined from a costlier 100% paraffin base crude.

We are nearing the close of our conference year, and we urge all the points on the circuit that has not paid their benevolences in full to make a special effort to pay them out at conference Sunday. Two points are

This is our last conference for the year and we urge all to be present.—E. C. Armstrong, pastor.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

We had an increase of more than fifty in Sunday school last Sunday over the Sunday before. The auditorium was practically filled for the morning preaching services and a good crowd for the evening services. The B. T. S. has 52 members, being built to that number in two weeks, there being no organization before that time.

Our regular services will be held next Sunday as follows:

THE METHODIST CHURCH

We often hear this statement made about the church, "What's wrong with the church? or the church is not what it once was." What is the church who makes the church? The church is "a religious assembly selected and called out of the world by the doctrine of the gospel, to worship the true God in Christ, according to His word." See 1 Cor. 1-2. For this church Christ gave himself. (Eph. 5-23.)

Now if the church is not what it once was, then we who are part of the church should ask—am I doing all that I can do for the church? And then be satisfied in doing nothing for the church.

The Dickens Baptist Church enjoyed a good day last Sunday. All services were well attended and enjoyed. The pastor, Rev. B. B. Huckaby, and family have moved on the field, and the work is making rapid progress.

AFTON METHODIST CHURCH

There are many people in our communities who seemingly take little or no interest in religious affairs. Their names are on the rolls of the church somewhere, in many cases back in the communities where they were reared. They have changed their locations. A new home has been established. The furniture has been moved. In some cases superstition has been laid aside and even the cat has been moved. Nothing has been left behind except their church relations. Perhaps some have done as the little girl said in closing her prayer on the last night before they left the old home. "Good bye, God, we are moving to West Texas tomorrow!"

Others have moved their membership to the new location. They were active for a time. They were in their places in the sanctuary. They seemed happy in the work. Later there was a lessening of interest. Other things seemed to be more attractive. Their attendance grew less regular until finally they stopped entirely or just came occasionally. This group of people are like the little boy who fell out of the bed one night. When he was asked how it happened, replied, "Cos I stayed too near where I got in!"

The Christian work in other lines of endeavor requires that one be active if there is to be growth and interest.—Eugene L. Naugle, pastor.

MR. AND MRS. DAWSON WERE VISITORS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dawson, of Copperas Cove, were guests of relatives and friends in our city Monday. They are in charge of the Society for Friendless Children, a nice home for orphan and deserted children, located just a few miles out from Copperas Cove. The home is located on a nice 500 acres ranch and offers practically every modern convenience for the accommodation of children entrusted to their care.

In speaking of the work Mrs. Dawson stated that the children are taken into the home and cared for. Those who be so unfortunate as to have any kind of disease are treated in a hospital outside of the home and when their health is restored they are taken into the home where they are kept until some one desires to adopt them. The adoption procedure is the work of the child welfare department of the state of Texas.

Competent instructors and attendants look after the children. Any employee of the home must have at least two years of college training or its equivalent. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson are giving their time to the work and receive just their expenses.

Mrs. Dawson will be remembered by many as being the first pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in Spur. She and Mr. Dawson came to our town in 1927 and she did the preaching in a revival meeting. A church was organized at the close of the meeting and she remained the pastor of the church. During the fall of 1927 a church building and a pastoral were erected, the church being paid for in full and the parsonage was about two-thirds paid out before Mr. and Mrs. Dawson. Rest Cottage at Pilot Point offered Mrs. Dawson the position as field secretary and she accepted. Later she resigned and took up child welfare work which she had wanted to do so long.

Mrs. Dawson is a sister to Mrs. W. A. Bell of our city and paid her a visit while here.

about as good. Quite a large number of people attended the singing convention at Dickens last Sunday. Everybody enjoyed a good time, and there was lots of good singing.

DICKENS P. T. A.

The Dickens Parent-Teachers Association met Tuesday night with Mrs. J. L. Koonsman, presiding. A short business meeting was tended to and then the time was turned over to a "P. T. A. School of Instruction" conducted by Mrs. W. R. Weaver, president of the 14th district P. T. A. and Mrs. E. F. Laverty, corresponding secretary of District P. T. A. This was a good school and all present received excellent points for the coming year in this work. These ladies are to be commended for the good that they are doing to all parents that will give the time. We deeply appreciate them coming. We are sorry that all parents in the Dickens school district was not present to hear their instructions.

McADOO

Held Over From Last Week—

The McAdoo Eagles met the Ralls teams Friday afternoon, Oct. 2 on the McAdoo field. The Eagles defeated the Jackrabbits 6 to 0 with Nuge Rose as an outstanding player. This was the third game for the Eagles.

McAdoo school continues to progress nicely as they get well underway with the 1937-39 term. The school has a total enrollment of 243 pupils. Ninety-nine of these students are in high school and the remaining one hundred and forty-four in primary and intermediate grades. The freshman class has 37 students which is the largest class in the school. The second grade is second in number, consisting of 27 students. The senior class of 1938 and fourth grade class each have 24 classmates, however, there are 24 ex-seniors in school which makes the senior class outnumber the fourth grade by only two students.

Katherine Ross, teacher in Ralls school spent the week-end at home.

Ginning in McAdoo up to Saturday night, Oct. 2 had reached 609 bales for this season. 334 bales has been ginned at the Farmer's Gin and 275 at Nickel's Gin.

Some of the cotton is late and picking has not begun yet in the late crops. If the clean sunshine weather continues the gins will be kept busy during the day and most of the night, if not all night from now on throughout the cotton picking season.

Some of the farmers are still wanting pickers. The pickers seem to still be on the drift or wanting to move from place to place. Some stop to pick for a few days and then leave for some other place.

Two new places of business, a cafe and a meat market opened up in McAdoo the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Starley Dennis are owners of the market.

Church services were held in the new Baptist Church Sunday, Oct. 3 for the first time. Rev. Branamie delivered the sermon. There was estimated number of 75 present for the services.

Rev. S. D. Dennison, pastor of the Matador Methodist Church preached at the Methodist Church or in the school auditorium where services are being held until the new church building is completed, Sunday night.

At a recent meeting of McAdoo farmers who met to discuss the one variety of cotton movement which is being sponsored by the extension service a committee was selected as follows: R. R. Wooten, Walter Grist, Earl Van Meter, Robert Nickels and Chas. McLaughlin. These men were elected to select the variety of cotton best adapted to this community.

Special singing was done by Jim Edmondson, T. B. Edmondson, Randall Whitworth and Frank Jameson of Matador accompanied by Miss Mabel Jamison of Matador who furnished the music. There was a total number of 130 present for the services. We enjoyed having these Matador people with us and invite them back at any time.

Rev. Frank Beauchamp, pastor of the local Methodist Church preached at Matador while Rev. Dennison preached here. This was done as a surprise for the congregations.

The Woman's Missionary Society meets weekly at the parsonage on Monday afternoon at 2:30.

Prayer meeting is held each Wednesday night at the parsonage.

An Epworth League rally of the Plainview district will be held at Olton, October 9 and 10. McAdoo hopes to send a number of delegates to this meeting.

"TRUE VALUE MEANS MORE FOR YOUR MONEY"

County Committee On Farm Purchase To Be Named Soon

A county committee for loans under the Bankhead-Jones tenant act, will be named in November, it was reported by Allen A. McKinney, county supervisor, for the farm security administration, who has been receiving numerous inquiries from farmers wanting to buy land under this new act.

"As only ten million dollars was appropriated for such loans during the remainder of 1937 and the first half of 1938, less than one farm to the county, on the average, will be financed during this period," the supervisor said. "However, the appropriation authorized for the second year is two and one-half times as great, and five times as great for the third year."

A state committee will be named within the next week or two, and county committees will be named soon thereafter. It is expected that the first applications can be acted upon by November 30, the supervisor said.

The county committee will be composed of three farmers. Their duty will be to receive and pass upon applications and also to pass upon the value of the farms which the applicants propose to purchase. No land owned by a committee member or a relative of his, may be approved. Those eligible for loans include only tenants and farm laborers who are now receiving, or have until recently received, their chief income from farming.

The FSA supervisor said that as soon as the committee for this county is named, it will be published, and further details given as to making application. Until that time, no action can be taken by would-be applicants.

"Because of the small number of loans that can be made for purchase of land, chief work of FSA will continue to be making and supervising farm and home plans for low-income farmers and loans with which to buy livestock and equipment," the supervisor said. "Such loans, however, can be made only to farmers who are unable to obtain financing from any other source."

NORTHWEST TEXAS HOMES IMPROVED FOR COMFORT

Women in Northwest Texas find pleasure in improving the interior of their homes to make them more comfortable, convenient and attractive, reports from county home demonstration agents show.

Running water, improved woodwork and floors, and a new electric refrigerator are among the improvements made in the kitchen of Mrs. Roscoe Eubanks, demonstrator for the West Side home demonstration club in Foard County. A cabinet was built which extends to the ceiling, and a short window was added above the sink to give light and ventilation. Window curtains and a figured spread for the table added an attractive note to the kitchen. Mrs. Eubanks reports that her husband is so pleased with the result of her efforts that he is going to help her improve a living room next.

A worn linoleum rug was utilized by Mrs. B. F. Little, bedroom co-operator of the Cramer home demonstration club in Howard County, in making her clothes closet dust proof. Mrs. Little's clothes closet allowed the sand and dust to sift in freely, so she lined the walls and ceiling of it with a rug which she could no longer use as floor covering. She then papered over the linoleum with a light paper, so now the closet both protects her clothes and is light and attractive inside.

"Some women do not realize the importance of and improvement to be found in providing one slat for each row of coils in the bedspreads," Mrs. N. I. Jackson, bedroom co-operator for the Tarzan home demonstration club in Martin County told the members of the club in a recent meeting. Often there is scrap lumber enough around the house to make extra slats for all the beds without extra cost and the expense is very low when they are bought from a lumber yard.

ent G. J. Lane and E. C. Robertson, who is a prominent farmer of McAdoo community, selected the "Paymaster" variety of cotton. This is the result of crossing Boiquene Mebane and the Ferguson 406, which is also a very high type of Mebane, and many years of scientific culture of the cotton. Records on breeding farm indicate that "Paymaster" staples within the range of 15-16 to 1-3-16 inches in length. The planting seed can be kept pure by renewing them each year at a very reasonable cost.

In a meeting Friday night where there were about 50 farmers with County Agent, R. A. Butler, AAA supervisor and J. Walter Grist, vocational agriculture teacher for McAdoo school, the different varieties of cotton were discussed and the merits and demerits pointed out in each type. The various farmers were asked to indicate which type of cotton they felt would be best for the community and 40 of them voted in favor of "Paymaster" and each one of them stated the approximate amount of seed they would need for planting purposes next spring.

Arrangements were made at once to secure the seed and they will be delivered to McAdoo community and be available to the farmers about October 15.

It appears that McAdoo community has made a bold step toward improving their cotton production for another year. It is understood that the cotton next year will be harvested in order to secure the best staple, and that the gins in the community will take special interest in ginning this new high grade type of cotton.

It is hoped other communities in the county will make their selections of a "one-variety" before long, and all the county will start now to make arrangements to produce an improved type of cotton in 1938. All communities probably will not select the same type of cotton and there is a great variation of soils in the county.

—J. T. Cozby, of White River community, was in our city Saturday looking after business matters and greeting friends. He remembered the editor and family with some nice musk-melons which helped greatly with the Sunday dinner. He will read the Times a while longer at least, field.
